BY WILLIAM F.ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON, FEB. 28-(AP)-THE HOUSE MERCHANT MARINE COMMITTEE TORE UP A SUBPOENA FOR SECRETARY OF STATE MARSHALL TODAY BUT SPURRED ITS DRIVE TO "PERSUADE" BRITAIN AND RUSSIA TO RETURN AMERICAN MERCHANT SHIPS.

CHAIRMAN BRADLEY (R-MICH), SAID HE WILL ASK THE COMMITTEE NEXT WEEK TO APPROVE LEGISLATION CALLING FOR THE IMMEDIATE RETURN OF APPROXIMATELY 306 MERCHANT VESSELS LEND-LEASED TO THE BRITISH AND 96 OTHERS STILL IN RUSSIAN HANDS.

THE COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN CONCEDED THERE IS NOTHING CONGRESS CAN DO TO FORCE RETURN OF THE VESSELS, BUT HE SAID THE WEIGHT OF CONGRESSIONAL ACTION MIGHT INFLUENCE THE TWO POWERS AND SPUR STATE DEPARTMENT NEGOTIATIONS.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT INFORMED BRADLEY'S COMMITTEE YESTERDAY THAT IT HAS SENT SEVERAL NOTES TO RUSSIA SEEKING AN ACCOUNTING FOR THE SHIPS BUT HAS RECEIVED NO REPLIES TO THE LAST THREE. EARLIER, UNDERSECRETARY DEAN ACHESON SAID, MOSCOW INDICATED A WILLINGNESS TO DISCUSS THE MATTER PROVIDED THE TALKS WERE COUPLED WITH A GENERAL LEND-LEASE SETTLEMENT. ACHESON MADE PUBLIC THE CORRESPONDENCE DEALING WHT THE SHIPS.

THE NEXT MOVE, HE ADDED, IS UP TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

ACHESON MADE HIS HURRIED VISIT TO THE COMMITTEE LATE YESTERDAY AFTER REP. WEICHEL (R-OHIO), CHAIRMAN OF A SUBCOMMITTEE INVESTIGATING THE LEND-LEASE SHIP SITUATION, HAD ISSUED A SUBPOENA FOR MARSHALL.

WEICHEL SAID THE COMMITTEE HAD BEEN UNABLE TO OBTAIN DETAILS OF CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN RUSSIA AND THE UNITED STATES CONCERNING THE SHIPS BECAUSE UNDERSECRETARY WILL CLAYTON INSISTED THE CORRESPONDENCE DEALT WITH OTHER MATTERS WHICH SHOULD NOT BE MADE PUBLIC.

THE SUBPOENA WAS NOT SERVED AND FINALLY WAS RESCINDED BY BRADLEY, WHO CENSURED WEICHEL FOR HAVING ISSUED IT IN THE FIRST PLACE.

MARSHALL, BRADLEY ASSERTED, "HAS A LOT OF OTHER THINGS ON HIS MIND MORE IMPORTANT THAN THOSE DAMN SHIPS."

WHEN WEICHEL INTERJECTED TO NEWSMEN THAT THE ACTION WAS NO REFLECTION ON THE CABINET OFFICER BUT ONLY "A FORMAL PROCEDURE" TO OBTAIN INFORMATION, BRADLEY PUT IN:

"IT'S A FORMAL WAY OF MAKING HEADLINES, TOO."

AFTER ACHESON'S VISIT LATER IN THE DAY, BOTH THE MICHIGAN AND OHIO LAWMAKERS AGREED THERE WAS NO NEED FOR MARSHALL TO COME BEFORE THE COMMITTEE.

"THE STATE DEPARTMENT NOW HAS GIVEN US THE INFORMATION WE WANTED," WEICHEL ADDED.

ONE RESULT OF THE SUBPOENA FLURRY WAS AN EDICT FROM THE REPUBLICAN HIGH COMMAND IN THE HOUSE THAT HEREAFTER NO SUBPOENAS SHALL BE ISSUED EXCEPT OVER THE SIGNATURES OF COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN AFTER APPROVAL OF SPEAKER MARTIN (R-MASS).

BRADLEY TOLD REPORTERS THE COURSE WAS DECIDED ON BY MARTIN "AS A MATTER OF POLICY."

FIRST LEAD ATOMIC

BY HOWARD W.BLAKESLEE

ASSOCIATED PRESS SCIENCE REPORTER

BROOKHAVEN, N.Y., FEB. 27-(AP)-CREATION OF MATTER, BY CHANGING ENERGY INTO SOLID SUBSTANCE, EXACTLY THE REVERSE OF THE ATOMIC BOMB, WAS ANNOUNCED AS ONE OF THEIR GOALS TODAY BY TRUSTEES OF THE BROOKHAVEN NATIONAL LABORATORIES.

THE LABORATORIES, 65 MILES FROM NEW YORK ON A 6,000-ACRE SITE OF CAMP UPTON, WHICH IS BEING TAKEN OVER ENTIRELY FOR ATOMIC SCIENCE, IS A FEDERAL GOVERNMENT INSTITUTION, DIRECTED UNDER CONTRACT BY TRUSTEES FROM NINE EASTERN UNIVERSITIES. THE TRUSTEES MET TODAY TO CONSIDER PLANS.

HITHERTO UNDREAMED-OF MACHINES THAT WILL PRODUCE TWO BILLION TO THREE BILLION ELECTRON-VOLTS ENERGY IN THE FORM OF PROTONS OR OTHER PARTICLES EACH AS HEAVY AS AN ATOM OF HYDROGEN, ARE PROJECTED. THESE VAST ENERGIES ARE EXPECTED TO CHANGE ENERGY INTO PROTONS, WHICH ARE ONE OF THE UNIT MASSES OF MATTER THAT SUPPLY PART OF THE MASS OF ALL CHEMICAL ELEMENTS, AND MOST OF THE MASS OF SOME OF THEM.

THE GREAT MACHINES WILL BE LIKE THOSE ALREADY IN SCIENTIFIC LABORATORIES. THE START WILL BE WITH MACHINES OF HALF A BILLION TO ONE BILLION ELECTRON VOLTS. AS A SECOND STAGE THE GREATER MACHINES AND CREEATION OF MATTER ARE EXPECTED.

MAR 1947

THIS NATIONAL LABORATORY IS TO HAVE NOTHING TO DO WITH MILITARY AIMS OR BOMBS. EDWARD REYNOLDS, VICE-PRESIDENT OF HARVARD AND PRESIDENT OF THE ASSOCIATED UNIVERSITIES, THE DIRECTING ORGANIZATION OF THE LABORATORIES, SAID:

"I WANT TO MAKE IT COMPLETELY CLEAR THAT IN UNDERTAKING TO ESTABLISH AND OPERATE BROOKHAVEN NATIONAL LABORITIES UNDER CONTRACT WITH THE ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION, WE ARE SEEKING PEACETIME USES OF ATOMIC ENERGY WHICH WILL PROLONG LIFE AND RAISE THE STANDARD OF LIVING OF MANKIND."

THE NINE UNIVERSITIES ARE HARVARD, YALE, COLUMBIA, CORNELL, ROCHESTER, JOHNS HOPKINS, PENNSYLVANIA, PRINCETON, AND MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY.

THE LABORATORY IS EXPECTED TO BE THE GREATEST ATOMIC PEACE LABORATORY IN THE WORLD.

CONSTRUCTION IS SET TO BEGIN ON THE FIRST ATOMIC PILE AND ON A "HOT" LABORATORY WHERE SPLIT ATOMS AND TRANSMUTED ATOMS WILL BE TESTED. THESE ALL ARE RADIOACTIVE.

MEDICINE, BIOLOGY, INDUSTRY AND CHEMISTRY ALL ARE REPRESENTED IN THE WORK THAT WILL BE TESTED WITH THESE "HOT" PRODUCTS.

TWO ATOMIC PILES OR OVENS ARE TO BE BUILT AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. A SMALL ONE MAY BE READY BY THE END OF THIS YEAR. A LARGER ONE WILL BE MADE TO EXPERIMENT WITH ATOMIC HEAT AND POWER.

ALTHOUGH THE FIRST PILE IS SAID TO BE "SMALL" IT REPRESENTS SO MUCY ADVANCE OVER WARTIME THAT IT WILL BE EQUIVALENT TO A MUCH LARGER ATOMIC OVEN OF THE 1945 VINTAGE. IN IT MUCH GREATER HEAT WILL BE CONCENTRATED IN EACH CUBIC INCH OF URANIUM OR PLUTONIUM.

19 Killed in Palestine As Bombs Rock British Buildings in Two Cities

MARTIAL LAW ANTICIPATED IN HOLY LAND

'Important Government Announcement' Expected Soon

Jerusalem, March 1 (AP)—Nineteen persons were killed and at least 23 wounded by bomb and gunfire today in terrorist raids extending from Jerusalem to Haifa and the Holy Land appeared tonight to be rushing toward complete British Military rule.

British soldiers, declaring they were on a "martial law footing," searched Palestine in full military might for the heavily-armed terrorists who led off their attacks with the bombing of a British officers' club in Jerusalem in which sixteen persons were killed and seventeen wounded.

Curfew In Jerusalem

The Government tonight imposed a curfew in the Jewish sections of Jerusalem and restricted all residents of Tel Aviv, Petah Tiqvah and Ramat Gan to house curfew. British military patroled Jerusalem streets with armored cars and gun carriers, while other troops marched out of the city toward the north.

In the worst day of terror in the Holy Land in almost nine months, the terrorists blasted the Jerusalem club, staged an artillery and machine gun raid on a British Army camp in Beit Lid, near Nathanya, in which one soldier was killed and two wounded, and mined a jeep on the Carmel road near Haifa in which two persons were killed and two wounded.

Army Camp Raided

The raiders also mined a truck near Talkarm, twenty miles east of Nathanya, wounding British soldier; raided an army camp at Kfar Iona, near Nathanya, where casualties were not reported; bombed a naval car parking lot near the Haifa waterfront, wrecking several vehicles, and exploded a mortar shell at Hadera, on the coast between Haifa and Nathanya.

Police reported late tonight that a water-pumping station at Ras et Ein was "now under fire."

Gen. G. H. A. MacMillan, British Army commander in Palestine, went by armored car tonight to the home of Sir Alan Cunningham, the high commissioner. The move led to speculation that the two highest ranking Holy Land officals had scheduled an emergency conference.

While the meeting was in session, the public information office announced that "an important Government announcement" was due soon.

Irgum Blamed For Attack

Adding to indications that open war between the terrorists and the Government was breaking out was an announcement from a clandestine radio, purportedly that of Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground resistance organization, which declared that Irgun was responsible for all the day and night's attacks.

The broadcaster said Irgun would "welcome the war which is bound to come before we can gain our freedom."

Later Irgun posted notices in Tel Aviv calling for a "civil protest strike" of all Jews "against the murders of our brothers at Haifa." Then within the next few minutes the main power trunk at Kfar Sirkn was cut, throwing all the coastal area north of Tel Aviv into darkness.

Blasts Near Haifa Port

Irgun said the bombing was in retaliation for British attacks "on our brothers yesterday at Haifa in which some of our people were killed" and also to prove to British forces that they "cannot escape our soldiers in their fight for freedom no matter what elaborate precautions they take."

British sailors earlier this week intercepted a Jewish refugee ship which ran aground near Haifa. The would-be immigrants were removed to British deportation ships, but there were no reports of casualties to the immigrants.

Decision Expected Tuesday

It was officially announced tonight that some passengers on the refugee ship had been transferred to Cyprus despite pending litigation to keep them in Palestine. A communiqué said the transfer was necessary because available ships in the Haifa harbor "lacked room to accommodate all 1,370 refugees."

Those moved to Cyprus, the communiqué said, will "be afforded the same consideration with regard to habeas corpus proceedings as those detained aboard ships in territorial waters." A decision in Palestine courts is expected next Tuesday.

Explosions Set Up Fires

The British Information Office first announced that four explosions had rocked the Haifa oil dock area, but later withdrew the announcement saying it was based on an erroneous police report.

Six armed men overpowered guards in the naval car park and set off the blasts under the machines, destroying them, the British said.

Previously an army official had said the British Seamen's Institute at Haifa was the site of one of the explosions. Private informants said fires set by the Haifa blasts could be seen from Mount Carmel.

A Hit-And-Run Affair

The attack on the army camp near Nathanya was a hit-and-run affair. The attackers opened fire with machine guns and mortars, but did not attempt to engage the British in any prolonged battle.

The explosion in the officers' club in the heart of modern Jerusalem was the greatest in the Holy Land since the bombing of the King David Hotel last July which killed 60 persons. It was the first to occur on the Jewish Sabbath in recent Palestine history.

Three of the dead, two policemen and a civilian, were slain in a barrage of protective gunfire under which the attackers drove their truck of explosives along side the building and threw suitcases through its windows.

Eleven Of Dead Identified

The latest official casualty list at the club said the sixteen dead included one British officer, a British civilian, eight Palestinian employés of the officers' club and a Polish girl. She had been previously reported as Jewish. No others were identified.

Of the seventeen injured, fourteen were described as "seriously hurt" and three "dangerously hurt."

There was no reference in the latest report to any missing. At first the missing was estimated at 24, but later ten were found to have been away from the club at the time of the explosion. Rescue workers continued tonight to comb through the wreckage. (AOO) twenty minutes after the blast. Rescue crews clawed through the debris seeking the others.

An eyewitnes said a number of armed men surrounded the three-story club a few minutes before the explosion and "began shooting at guards." It was not immediately learned whether the bomb was carried into the building or hurled from a passing car.

Blast Shatters Sabbath Quiet

The explosion, shattering the traditional quiet of the Sabbath, occurred as nearly 1,400 uncertified Jewish immigrants waited in three Birtish ships off Haifa for a final court decision on whether they would be shipped to Cyprus and detention.

A police officer at the scene, on fashionable King George avenue, said "casualties must be heavy."

Ambulances whirred through the streets in activity reminiscent of the King David Hotel explosion of last July, when more than 60 persons were killed.

Windows in the Jewish Agency headquarters directly across the avenue were shattered and debris filled the streets.

The club has living quarters for bachelor officers on three floors, with a bar, lounge and restaurant on the ground floor.

Area Cordoned Off

Immediately after the explosion, British police cordoned off the area, and police launched searches in several all-Jewish quarters of the city. All cars were brought to a standstill and searched.

An officer at the scene said he believed there were at least 30 officers and a staff of twenty in the building at the time of the blast.

Sirens wailed throughout the city, and all traffic except that of the military was halted.

Never before in recent years has violence disturbed the Sabbath in the turbulent Holy Land.

The Jerusalem blast came as 1,400 immigrants waited off Haifa for a final court decision on their status, expected Tuesday.

Immigrants Transferred

The immigrants had been taken from the refugee ship Haim Arlosoroff, which still lay aground off suburban Bat Galim, near Haifa. The passengers were taken last night aboard three British transports—858 on the Ocean Vigor, 285 on the Empire Lifeguard and 255 on the Empire Comfort. Twenty of the immigrants on the Ocean Vigor were stretcher cases.

If the ruling, asked by the Jewish Community Council in Palestine's high court, goes against them they will be taken to detention camps on Cyprus aboard British troop transports to join thousands of other such refugees who have sought to run the blockade.

Deportation Restrained

The high court, on petition of the community council, granted a restraining order yesterday preventing the British from deporting the immigrants taken from the beached refugee ship, Haim Arlosoroff until final ruling of the court.

The city of Haifa itself was quiet this morning, but two Jewish civilians were dead and four persons were in hospitals as a result of yesterday's bomb explosion which wrecked two floors of Barclay's Bank.

The Haim Arlosoroff still lay aground off suburban Bat Galim, at the point where British sailors removed her passengers yesterday amid angry demonstrations ashore. The vessel, rumors in Haifa said, left from a Swedish port, but her passengers apparently were from eastern Europe.

An American consular official investigating reports that the refugeen ship had an American captain and crew said last night that of ten crewmen identfied, only two claimed to be American. Passengers said they had been at sea five weeks and without water for two days when intercepted by British naval craft.

Armed Raiders Shoot At Guards Before Explosion

MAR 1947

J. Goodwin

Jerusalem, March 1 (AP)—A terrific Sabbath blast wrecked a three-story British officers' club in the heart of modern Jerusalem today and an official casualty list said 15 persons were killed, 15 were injured and 24 were missing.

Among the dead was a Jewish girl, employed as a receptionist at the club. DAY

Twelve survivors were removed in ambulances within

London, March 1 (AP)—An official British Government source said today the new British-French treaty of alliance contained "provisions to meet any failure by Germany" to pay her war reparation.

The official declined to say whether the provisions bound Britain and France to take aggressive military action in case of a German failure to pay off.

Other clauses in the 50-year pact which Foreign Ministers Ernest Bevin and Georges Bidault planned to sign at Dunkerque next Tuesday will, the source said:

1. Bind each nation to go to the "armed assistance" of the other in the event of attack by Germany. DAY

2. Bind each to assist the other in case of "any threat resulting from a German policy of armed aggressibn."

3. Prevent either nation from concluding an alliance hostile to the other.

4. Provide for close British-French economic collaboration "for the advance of each nation's prosperity."

Fits In With Disarmament

The informant said the treaty was drafted to fit in with any four-power agreement to keep Germany disarmed.

He noted that such a plan was on the agenda for the forthcoming meeting of Foreign Ministers.

The treaty's preamble, the official said, "takes note of the parallel agreements between Britain and Russia and France and Russia."

Britain Would Violate Rights, Poland Says

London, March 1 (AP)—Poland protested today that legislation now before the British Parliament would violate her sovereign rights.

The legislation would empower Britain to punish expatriate Polish soldiers who refuse to join the Polish Resettlement Corps, an Army unit which Britain is establishing to train emigré troops for British civilian life.

U.N. CONFRONTED BY FRANCO ISSUE

Assembly Assailed For Giving I.C.Of C. Voice In Affairs

D. HARRELSON

Lake Success, N.Y., March 1 (AP). Sir Ramaswami Mudaliar, president of the United Nations Economic and Social Council, declared today the General Assembly had ignored its own stand against Franco Spain by voting to give the International Chamber of Commerce a voice in United Nations affairs.

The Franco issue was raised by Jan Papanek, representative of Czechoslovakia, during debate on an Assembly resolution directing that four nongovernmental organizations be permitted to submit items for the Economic and Social Council's agenda.

NIGHT

Four Organizations Included

These organizations were the World Federation of Trade Unions, the American Federation of Labor, the International Co-operative Alliance and the International Chamber of Commerce. The Assembly had included the latter in the list despite charges that Franco Spain was a member of the I.C. of C.

Papanek did not mention the I.C. of C. specifically. He merely called attention to the Assembly's resolution barring United Nations dealings with any organization in which Spain held membership, and asked how this ruling would affect the Economic and Social Council's relationship with the four organizations in question.

Sir Ramaswami declared that the Assembly evidently had made an exception in the case of the I.C. of C., since it knew when it acted "whether any of these nongovernmental organizations had Spanish membership or not."

A Disagreement

"When the same body passes two resolutions," he said, "it must be taken for granted that whatever inconsistency one may see in the adoption of both resolutions, that inconsistency was known to the General Assembly and was ignored by the General Assembly.

"We must take it that the General Assembly passed these resolutions with its eyes and ears quite open."

The Economic and Social Council finally decided that all four organizations would be permitted to offer items for the agenda after more than three hours of debate in which Russia and the western powers clashed over whether these questions would be screened before acceptance by the Council.

Alexander P. Morozov, Soviet delegate, contended that they should be placed on the provisional agenda automatically, but Hector McNeil, British delegate, and Leroy Stinebower, United States delegate, backed by New Zealand and Canada, wanted the proposed items screened by a steering committee.

Russian Objection Futile

Morozov also expressed regret that the General Assembly had refused to give the W.F.T.U. permission to have a greater voice in the Economic and Social Council's affairs and reserved the right to bring up later Russia's original proposal which would permit the labor organization to take part in Council discussions.

The Economic and Social Council voted, over Russian objection, to set up an eleven-nation committee to draft new rules laying down procedure for handling the items proposed by the nongovernmental organizations and to decide whether the proposals should be screened to determine which items would be accepted.

Sir Ramaswami announced that the delegates would begin debate Monday on their No. 1 problem, the question of creating a permanent economic commission to help rehabilitate the war-damaged countries of Europe.

FRANCE SEEMS TO BE BACKING BYRNES'S IDEA

MAR 1947

Support For Big 4 Mutual Aid Guarantee Against Germans Seen

J. O'Brien

Paris, March 1 (AP)—France has decided, it appeared today, to agree to the principle of the proposal made almost a year ago by James F. Byrnes, United States Secretary of State, for a Big Four mutual-aid guarantee against future German aggression.

NIGHT

As French and British diplomats polished the final few phrases of the Anglo-French alliance to be signed on Tuesday at Dunkerque, this deduction was given substantial credence in official quarters as a result of Foreign Minister Georges Bidault's statement to the national assembly.

First Indication Of Measure

In announcing the impending pact with Britain, Bidault told the deputies that France would offer each of its clauses to the other "great allies" and, also, to the Netherlands, Belgium, Czechoslovakia and Poland.

This was the first indication in an official French statement of such a measure, since Byrnes suggested a similar multilateral treaty to the Foreign Ministers' Council here last spring.

Byrnes urged a 25-year agreement later raised to 40 years among the Big Four to prevent any future threat of German aggression.

The British have said they will support Byrnes's proposal.

Similar To Byrnes's Idea

Observers were quick to note the similarity between Byrnes's idea and the terms of the British-French accord, which pledges both nations for the next 50 years to common measures to enforce Germany's observance of the peace settlement.

As in the proposal outlined by Byrnes, France and Britain are agreeing to act jointly to crush any nucleus of German war potential and in the event Germany defaults on any treaty obligations such as reparations.

Seen Quitting Mediator Role

Britain is expected to recognize France's claim to greater coal allotments from the Ruhr Valley and to support France's proposal for international economic control of the Ruhr's resources for the benefit of all western Europe.

Both these matters, it is believed here, will come under consideration at the forthcoming Moscow conference, where Byrnes's 40-year pact proposal also will be on the agenda.

It is expected here that on these and other issues France will be found more often voting with the Western powers than trying to straddle the gap between the Soviets and the British-Americans, Bidault apparently having determined to cast France's lot with the Western powers rather than continue to attempt the role of mediator.

Stassen Sees Ramadier, Bidault

PARIS, March 1 (AP).—Harold E. Stassen completed his visits to high French officials today with calls on Premier Paul Ramadier and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault. The former Minnesota Governor, now on a European tour, saw President Vincent Auriol yesterday.

U. N. R. R. A. to Carry on Activity There for Next 3 Months

PARIS, March 1 (AP).—United Nation Relief and Rehabilitation Administration's care of 750,000 displaced persons throughout Europe will be carried on from Paris for the next three months, or until the work of the U. N. R. R. A. is turned over to the agency that will eventually succeed it, an official announcement said today.

The former U. N. R. R. A. mission to France, concerned largely with the procurement and movement tof Army stores to the various supply missions throughout Europe, ended yesterday.

Abolish Prussian State Under New Allied Edict

BERLIN, March 1 (AP)—An Allied Control Council law was published today, abolishing the state of Prussia which it said "from the early days has been a bearer of militarism and reaction in Germany."

In dissolving the Prussian state, its central government and all its agencies the control council said it was "guided by the interests of preservation of peace and security of peoples and with the desire to assure further reconstruction of the political life of Germany on a democratic basis."

The law sanctioned the breakup of Prussia into German lands (states), a step which has already been undertaken by the occupying powers. It also transferred the Prussian state and administration, "subject to such agreements as may be necessary and made by the Allied control authority."

German Papers Say Reds Hold Women 'Slaves'

Quote Churchmen's Report of 20,000 Germans Sick or Dying in Work Camps

R. Gregan

BAD SALZSCHLIRF, Germany, March 1 (AP).—German newspapers in the western occupation zones quoted German church welfare leaders as saying this week that 20,000 sick and dying German women were "slaves" in Russian prison camps.

The women were captured female personnel of the German Army and "deported" refugees, the newspapers said. A Catholic official who asked not to be quoted by name said the women were treated "worse than the men."

NIGHT

No Data On Prisoners

The assertions could not be checked with American or British Army authorities, who said "the Russians never give us any information about prisoners."

Five emaciated German "WACs" released from Russian camps volunteered the statement today that "hundreds" of women working in Soviet mines and blast furnaces were dying from disease and starvation. They said German girls were treated "worse than the men" prisoners and said the Russians "handled their own woman as badly." Russian girls, they said, worked with them in the mines.

The five admitted, however, they were released by the Russians "because of our sickness."

Freed after up to two years of incarceration, the five women recently stumbled wearily into a German hospital in this old resort town.

Forced To Do Heavy Work

Rested and fed along with about 1,000 invalid Russian-liberated German prisoners of war who cram the broken-down hotels here, the women said:

They were "forced" to work in blast furnaces, on collective farms and in coal mines, sometimes knee-deep in frigid water, and were treated "as equals of the German soldiers."

Russian soldiers captured by the Germans during the war and released at the war's end also were "forced" to work under guard along with German prisoners as "punishment for capture."

Four of the women interviewed here were taken by the Russians while working as air-force communications girls at Bucharest, Romania. The fifth was a nurse.

American Y.M.C.A. officials in Germany said the churchmen's claims agreed with what returning German prisoners of war reported. United States Army headquarters said "the allegations may be true, but we have no idea. We estimate 3,000,000 German prisoners of war in Russia, but the Russians never tell us."

Offer Italian Law Against Propaganda

Rome, March 1 (A. P.).—A communique announced today that the Italian Cabinet would send "defense of the republic" legislation to the Constituent Assembly calling for suppression of "apologists for Fascism and propaganda for the restoration of the Savoy Dynasty." The leading Rome monarchist newspaper, Corriere Della Nazione, immediately said this was "the end of freedom of thought."

The proposed law would make criminal "Fascist activity or the formation of any party aimed at restoration, through violence, of the Monarchy."

Prayers for Italian Republic

VATICAN CITY, March 1 (AP).—Worshippers in churches throughout Italy will offer prayers every Sunday and Feast Day for the Italian republic and its President, under a modification of an article of the Lateran Pact announced today by the Congregation of Rites. In the past, under this article, prayer was offered for the kingdom and the King.

Poles Reopen Phone to U. S.

WARSAW, Poland, March 1 (AP)—Poland re-established telephonic communications with the United States today for the first time since the war. Several hundred Americans flooded the exchange with calls home.

Tells How Austria Sought Aid

VIENNA, March 1 (AP)—Former Austrian Premier Guido Schmidt today asserted that he had visited Paris and London in 1937 to determine how far Britain and France would go in helping Austria maintain her sovereignty, and that he received friendship and sympathy but no promise of aid. On trial charged with treason, he said the attitude in the two foreign capitals was that Germany must by no means be offended.

GREEK REBEL TIES ALBANIA TO CLASH

Tells U. N. Commission He Made 19 Trips to Escort Armed Guerrillas Across Frontier

L. S. Chafole

SALONIKA, Greece, March 1 (AP)—A Greek witness told the United Nations investigation Commission today that he had made nineteen trips into Albania and had personally escorted numerous members of guerrilla bands into Greece.

Christos Velianidis, a 22-year-old carpenter who lives less than a mile from the Yuogslav frontier, said he had been a liaison man between the station in Monastir, Yugoslavia, operated by the National Liberation Front and Albania.

He told the commission that he had received a military escort from his village to Salonika because "I was afraid the Communists might kill me."

His testimony, similar to that of other Greek witnesses at the hearing, wound up a full month's work for the commission, which was appointed to inquire into the factors responsible for strife in northern Greece.

Representatives of Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria have been questioning the Greek witnesses closely. These three states were believed to be planning a vigorous rebuttal.

NIGHT

Four Main Points Seen

Testimony thus far has emphasized four major factors presented as contributing to present turbulence in Greece.

They were:

(1.) Existence of two closely-coordinated organizations—the National Liberation Front and another movement opposing what it describes as the present "Monarcho-Fascist" Greek Government. The Liberation Front wants autonomy for Greek Macedonia and a section now in Bulgaria, with eventual attachment to the Federated Peoples Republics of Yugoslavia.

(2.) Existence of communications systems from Greece to Rubig, in Albania, and Bulkjes, in Yugoslavia, where the Opposition movement was described as training guerrillas for fighting in Greece.

A team from the commission is expected to make contact next week with "General Markos," self-styled commander in chief of the guerrillas. The Commission said he would be examined purely as a witness who might have information useful to the Commission and not as the commander of guerrilla forces.

Greek Tells U.N. Inquiry He Guided Guerrillas

SALONIKA, Greece, March 1 (AP).—A young Greek carpenter today told the United Nations commission investigating Greek border incidents that he had served as a liaison man between Albania and a Yugoslav organization, and personally had escorted numerous guerrillas across the Greek frontier.

Christos Velhadidis, twenty-two, who lives less than a mile from the Yugoslav frontier, said he had been a liaison man between the station at Monastir, Yugoslavia, operated by the N. O. F. (National Liberation Front) and Albania.

His testimony, similar to that of other Greek witnesses at the hearing, wound up a full month's work for the Commission. It was indicated today that Bulgarian, Yugoslav and Albanian representatives planned a strong rebuttal of Greek testimony and might even challenge the identity of some witnesses.

Greek Guerrillas Kill 53 Gendarmes

Athens, March 1 (AP)—Press dispatches said today that a Leftist guerrilla band killed 53 Greek gendarmes yesterday in a bloody ambush near the village of Domoko, between Trikkala and Lamia.

The dispatches said a contingent of 66 gendarmes left Lamia yesterday morning for Domoko, to the north, and was surprised at a bend in the road by a band which opened deadly machine gun and rifle fire on the gendarmes' two trucks.

Survivors who escaped, the dispatches said, declared the guerrillas killed gendarmes who were wounded in the first onslaught after stripping them naked.

Other press dispatches quoted military sources as saying that 22 guerrillas were killed and seventeen were captured yesterday in continuing moup operations in the Vermion mountains. One of those captured was said to be a woman leader of a guerrilla band.

One press report said a band of 500 persons had entered Greece from Yugoslavia, near the point where the Greek, Bulgarian and Yugoslav borders meet.

HUNGARIANS SEE 'PLANT'

Say One of Alleged Plotters Was 'Agent Provocateur'

BUDAPEST, Hungary, March 1 (AP)—Several Smallholder Deputies charged today that one of thirteen persons being tried on charges of having attempted to overthrow the Hungarian Republic was an "agent provocateur" planted by Communists in the circle of men accused of having plotted a counter-revolution.

One Deputy said that "although we do not have conclusive evidence we are reasonably sure from his actions that Istvan Szenntmiklossy acted as 'agent provocateur.'"

Asked why they did not make public their charge, this Deputy said:

"We are not foolish—we do not wish to fall into the hands of the Communist-controlled political police."

Mr. Szenntmiklossy, the man they accused, was questioned today by the court, the third defendant called since the trial began Feb. 22. He entered a plea of guilty.

BOOST YIELD 345%, RUSS PLANTS TOLD

31,600,000 Workers Estimated Need For '47 Output

Moscow, March 1 (AP)—The Soviet Council of Ministers called upon Russia heavy industries to increase their 1947 output by as much as 345 per cent over last year and estimated that 31,600,000 workers would be needed to accomplish the task.

The call for the 345 per cent hike was for farm cultivators, and it emphasized the need for increased food production cited by the Central Committee of the Communist party yesterday. The Communists asked for a boost of almost 30,000,000 acres of land to be cultivated in the next two years.

Holds Back Economy

A lag in coal production was blamed for delaying the nation's economic development, and the Council of Ministers—the Russian Cabinet—asked miners to get sixteen per cent more coal out of the ground this year.

The announcement said that the coal industry, hampered by the war, was "lagging behind, thus holding up the development of other branches of heavy industry, railway transport, and the whole national economy."

"The grave consequences of the war, and also the backwardness of individual branches of the peoples' economy, and crop failures have created a number of hardships," the announcement added.

Leadership Improvement

"The Council of Ministers draws the attention of ministers of the Union republics to the fact that the task of fulfilling and overfulfilling the five-year plan requires radical improvement in leadership in industry and production planning."

Among needs cited was an increase of 188 per cent in the production of prefabricated homes.

Industries described as "most backward" included coal, oil, housing, agricultural machinery, consumers goods, electrical equipment. Other production targets set up for this year with the increases in percentages over 1946 included:

Pig iron, 21; steel, 19; rolled metal, 21; tracks, 44; copper, 17; lead, 32; oil, 18; gasoline, 34; coal gas, 137; natural gas, 18; electric power, 16; main road locomotives, 188; railway cars, 108; passenger cars, 316; trucks, 55; busses, 74; metalurgical equipment, 66; steam turbines, 242; tractors, 187; tractor plows, 170; threshing machines, 199; rubber, 59; dressed timber, 27; cotton goods, 42; woolens, 30; shoes, 42; meat, 17; butter, 12; vegetable oils, 17; fish, 33; sugar, 94; soap, 28.

Coal Production Goal Increased In Russia

Moscow, March 1 (AP)—The Russian Council of Ministers (Cabinet), blaming a lag in coal production for delaying the nation's whole economic development, today called for a sixteen per cent increase in coal output as it set goals for 1947 under the five-year plan.

The council, listing "shortcomings" of 1946, said:

"The coal industry . . . experiencing the greatest difficulties as a result of the consequences of the war, is lagging behind, thus holding up the development of other branches of heavy industry, railway transport and the whole national economy."

The announcement said "a number of hardships" had been created by consequences of the war, crop failures and "backwardness of individual branches of the people's economy."

It added:

"The Council of Ministers draws the attention of Ministers of the Union Republics to the fact that the task of fulfilling and overfulfilling the five-year plan requires radical improvement in leadership in industry and production planning."

The council noted that the 1946 housing program had not been fulfilled and that production was behind demand in electrical and agricultural machinery, sheet steel for automobiles, rails, train wheels and building materials.

The council estimated that 31,600,000 workers would be needed this year and that they would draw 280,000,000,000 rubles.

[The official exchange rate is 5.3 rubles to the dollar; the diplomatic rate is 12 to the dollar.]

The council said 1,060,000 persons would be called into factory, craft and railway schools and 790,000 of them should be graduated.

Increases In Output

It called for increases in production of upward of 35 items ranging from 19 up to 345 per cent above the 1946 level. It said the armed forces should be supplied with "the most modern military equipment."

The council proposed that house construction be doubled and that the proportion of housing to all capital works be upped from 10 to 18 per cent. It sought a 188 per cent increase in prefabricated house construction.

It asked for 188 per cent more locomotives, 108 per cent more railroad cars and 316 per cent more passenger automobiles, 187 per cent more tractors, 170 per cent more tractor plows, 199 per cent more threshing machines and 345 per cent more cultivators.

More Steel Sought

In heavy industry, it demanded 19 per cent more steel, 21 per cent more pig iron, 21 per cent more rolled metal and 44 per cent more tracks.

Other percentage increases sought above last year's production included:

POWER—Electric current 16, steam turbines 242.

RAW MATERIALS—Rubber 59, dressed timber 27.

TEXTILES AND LEATHER—Cotton goods 42, woolens 30, shoes 42.

FOOD—Meat 17, butter 12, vegetable oil 17, fish 33, sugar 94, soap 28.

VEHICLES—Trucks 45, busses 74.

Only yesterday, the Communist party's central committee in Moscow, urging a drive for more bread, indicated that Soviet grain production was so far below the prewar level that at least three years would be needed to regain that level.

Where Big 4 Will Meet

Moscow Conference To Be in House of Aviation Industry

MOSCOW, March 1 (AP).—The Big Four council of foreign ministers which will convene here March 10 will hold its meetings in the House of Aviation Industry on the famous Leningrad highway. An official source said also that the Soviet government will furnish transportation for the delegates.

The two previous meetings of the foreign ministers held in Moscow were at Spiridonovka Palace. The House of Aviation Industry is a much bigger building, which includes large meeting rooms, conference halls, an auditorium and restaurants. It is two miles from the center of the city.

Skyscrapers Gain Stalin's Approval

By The Associated Press.

MOSCOW, March 1—D. Chaculin, Moscow's chief architect, disclosed today that Prime Minister Stalin had proposed the erection of a number of skyscrapers in the Russian capital.

Accordingly, he said, the Soviet Council of Ministers had decided to construct the following:

Three thirty-two-story buildings on the Lenin Hills, in the center of the great curve of the Moscow River. They will include a hotel and apartments.

Two twenty-six-story buildings, one on the Leningrad Highway, the other near the Kremlin.

Several sixteen-story buildings near the city's center.

All the buildings will contain living quarters, one of the capitals' greatest needs.

SHAH SAID TO SEEK GHAVAM'S OUSTER

Iranian Military Men Reported Pressing Their Ruler to Dismiss Premier

TEHERAN, Iran, March 1 (AP)—Reports circulated in Teheran today that Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, Shah of Iran, under heavy pressure from his military advisers, was seeking a way to dismiss Premier Ahmed Ghavam before the new Majlis (Parliament) convened.

"Pressure upon the Shah from his influential military advisers is so strong," one well-informed diplomatic source said last night, "that it may result in a blow-off at any moment."

"The Shah believes," he continued, "that Premier Ghavam used his influence and engineered the whole recent election campaign. Thus Deputies in the coming Majlis will all be Ghavam's men.

"The Shah, having constitutional authority in the absence of the Majlis, would very much like to dismiss Ghavam before the Majlis is formed."

One of the main items of business facing the new Majlis is consideration of a draft agreement for Russian oil exploitation in northern Iran, under which the Soviet Union would control 51 per cent and Iran 49 per cent of a Russian-Iranian oil development company.

The agreement was announced last April when Russia pulled the last of her wartime occupation troops out of Iran.

The Rightist weekly newspaper Tehrani Mosavvar said yesterday that the Soviet Union was rushing a stream of immigrants into Iran by every means of transport.

The diplomatic informant said the situation was coming to a head as a result of army decisions to disarm all nomadic tribes in Iran. The tribesmen, he said, were fearful of the treatment they might receive from the army and turned to Premier Ghavam for support.

"So," he added, "the Shah and his army stand at one side, with Ghavam and all the nomadic tribes of the country on the other."

Premier Ghavam has held office since Jan. 26, 1946. He visited Moscow a year ago, just before the oil agreement was announced.

SOONG RESIGNS UNDER FIRE IN CHINESE UPSET

Quits Premiership After Cabinet Critics Assail Fiscal Policies.

OPPORTUNITY FOR MINORITIES

Chiang May Invite Other Blocs to Enter Government—Takes Over Office.

Nanking, March 1 (AP)—China's Supreme National Defense Council today approved the resignation of Premier T. V. Soong and named Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek as concurrent president of the executive Yuan pending appointment of a new premier.

Chiang, with the final break with the Communists already accomplished through orders to Communist liaison groups to leave Government territory by March 5, appeared to be heading his people toward all-out war to settle the Communist question once and for all.

Soong resigned dramatically today, stirring speculation that Chiang might revamp his whole Cabinet and bring in minority party members for the first time.

Soong, criticized by political foes for his handling of China's financial crisis, made his announcement before a critical legislative Yuan (council) which had summoned him to defend his fiscal policies.

Before stepping aside, Soong, who is the Generalissimo's brother-in-law, declared that the Communists, by destroying communications, were responsible for the chaotic state of China's economy.

Reshuffle Expected

Political observers thought it likely that Chiang would also take on the premiership and then reshuffle the executive Yuan (Cabinet), which is now loaded with

30. 24- 8203

Soong's friends.

Some also thought it possible that Chiang would take advantage of the opportunity to bring in minority parties.

Two liberals of Chiang's Kuomintang party—Sun Fo, son of the late Sun Yat-sen, and Gen. Chang Chun, who served on General Marshall's truce committee—were offered the premiership and declined it, these sources said. Either might become vice premier.

Soong gave no reason for his resignation.

Civil War Blamed

Soong told the legislative Yuan that inflation went unchecked after the war with Japan because "the people of China plunged into a civil war cumulatively more exhausting than the war with Japan."

"The truth can be told in one sentence," Soong said. "The present economic crisis is the cumulative result of heavily unbalanced budgets carried through eight years of war and one year of illusory peace, accentuated to some degree by speculative activities."

Soong, who said he was the "watchdog of the treasury" during his years as Finance Minister, said a managed currency system enabled China to withstand eight years of war with Japan. But, he said, it "contained the germs of poison from which the country is now suffering" for "when expenditures outran receipts, the only recourse was the printing presses."

Export-Subsidy Plan

The recent dizzy drop of the Chinese dollar was blamed on Soong's export subsidy plan, which he was forced to junk as unworkable.

Some sources said he might be given a diplomatic appointment or a special mission to Washington.

Shanghai expected an intensive Government drive there to root out the Communist underground, accused of fomenting recent labor unrest.

In this connection, Communist relief officials charged that Tung Pi-wu, Communist elder statesman, and Gen. Wu Yun-fu, Communist representative to the Chinese National Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, had been placed under house arrest in Shanghai.

No reason was given and the Communists protested to UNRRA officials.

Chiang Girds For Conflict Against Reds

Takes Over as Premier

After Soong Resigns Under Fire

MAR 2 1947

NANKING, March 1 (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek took over the premiership of China tonight and appeared to be heading his people toward all out war to settle the Communist question once and for all.

NIGHT

Chiang assumed the premiership eight hours after his brother-in-law, T. V. Soong, suddenly resigned in the face of sharp criticism in the Legislative Yuan of his economic policies.

With Communist delegates under orders to get out of government territory before Wednesday and the armies of both factions maneuvering for decisive battles on fronts stretching from Central China to the heart of Manchuria, Chiang thus assumed complete powers in the government at a time when China's future appeared to be at stake.

Many quarters predicted a major shakeup in the government, possibly an anti-Communist coalition including minority parties.

The Supreme National Defense Council, with Chiang presiding, appointed him acting premier 'until such time as Soong's successor is selected."

Chiang already is president of the republic.

He is expected to announce shortly the appointment of Gen. Chang Chun as vice premier. Chang returned recently from the United States, where he obtained medical treatment, visited President Truman and indulged his fondness for ice cream.

Informed sources said that both Chang and Sun Fo, president of the Legislative Yuan, had declined the premiership.

The same sources said Chiang had determined on Soong's replacement several days ago because of steadily mounting complaints against Soong's ineffective measures to combat the mounting inflation. Soong, who had held high government offices since 1922, had been premier two years.

While Chiang was premier several times durin gthe war with Japan, his resumption of the post at this time—giving him direction of economic as well as political and military affairs—strengthened a growing conviction in Nanking and Shanghai that the civil war, long on a restricted level, was at last moving toward a finish fight.

Despite the strength of the government armies, the Communist leaders professed themselves confident of ultimate victories. (AOD)

China Reds Pound Tsinan On 4 Sides

Peiping, March 1 (AP)—The battle for Tsinan, capital of Shantung province, reached a critical stage today as Chinese Communists pounded the unwalled city from four directions.

So grave was the situation that for a time reports swept Peiping that the Communists actually had entered the city. This was denied by Peiping's mayor, Ho Sze-yuan, a former governor of Shantung. He said he had received a telegram saying that it was "quiet" within the provincial capital.

DAY

May Attack Tsingtao Railway

There was conjecture that the Communists had withdrawn from southern Shantung to seek bigger game—the Tsinan-Tsingtao railway.

The Government admitted withdrawal from Chowtsun and Changtien, on the railway east of Tsinan, and from Laiwu and other rail towns as the Reds made what were interpreted as diversionary assaults.

A Nationalist general discounted reports that Changchun, capital of Manchuria, was endangered by Communist forces which had driven to within ten miles of the city.

Believes Changchun Secure

Gen. Hsiung Shih-hui, director of Chiang Kai-shek's Manchurian office, said in Peiping that he felt the city was secure.

The Government concentrated its troops within the city for greater effectiveness, he said, referring to reports that Nationalist forces had been pulled back from Changchun's suburbs.

CHINESE REDS NAB TWO U.S. OFFICERS

Major And Captain Reported Seized In Manchuria

Washington, March 1 (AP)—The War Department reported today that two American Army officers have been seized by Chinese Communists in an area of Manchuria where heavy fighting is going on between Communist and Nationalist troops.

NIGHT

A brief message from the American military attaché at Nanking said, without further explanation, that the officers were "captured" by the Communists on March 1 (February 28, United States time).

The two—Major Robert B. Rigg, of Chicago, and Capt. John W. Collins, of Evanston, Ill.—are both assistant military attachés at Nanking.

Full Report Expected

The preliminary notification to the War Department, which said a full report would follow, reported the men were captured in the vicinity of the village of Chialunchieh, a few miles northeast of Changchun. Communist forces were reported yesterday to be operating in that area, where a battle was underway.

This led to unofficial speculation that the two may have been accompanying Nationalist forces as neutral observers and taken prisoners in a Communist advance.

Parleys On for Their Release

NANKING, Sunday March 2 (AP)—The United States Military Attaché here, Brig. Gen. Robert Soule, said today negotiations had begun with the Chinese Communists for the release of the two assistant attachés reported captured yesterday by Communist troops nine miles northeast of Changchun, Manchuria.

General Soule said the captured officers, Major Riggs and Captain Collins, were attached temporarily to the office of the United States Consul at Changchun and had been observing a dawn attack by Communists on Chinese Government positions on the outskirts of that capital.

NIGHT

Major Riggs' wife and 7-year-old daughter remain at Changchun, where they have been residing for several months, General Soule said, and United States Consul Oliver Clubb is attempting to arrange with Communist headquarters in Manchuria for the officers' release.

Major Riggs was held by the Communists once before. He was with four American corrospondents when they were detained by invading Chinese Reds several months ago, but was subsequently freed with the newsmen and allowed to return to Mukden.

U. S. AID TO CHINA SEEN

Russian Says Arms Still Arrive at Tientsin

LONDON, March 1 (AP)—A Russian commentator said today that United States armaments "continue to arrive in Tientsin."

"The evacuation of American troops from Tientsin has, for some unknown reason, been held up," said a review of international affairs in Izvestia, broadcast by Moscow radio. "Nor is it a secret that American military advisers will continue to instruct Chinese troops, supplied with American arms."

NIGHT

"The withdrawal of American troops in China," the article said, "is not the least important reason for the civil war that prevents China from bending its efforts to peaceful construction."

INDIA PRINCES DIVIDED OVER NEW REGIME

Major Leaders Prefer To Take Part Regardless Of League Stand

New Delhi, March 1 (AP)—A rift developed tonight in the Indian chamber of Princes when Maharajahs of the larger native states reported they intended to enter the Constituent Assembly without awaiting a possible Congress Party-Moslem League agreement that would bring the league into the constitution drafting body, also.

NIGHT

Previously, it had been understood among the native rulers that they would not join the Assembly unless the League also participated, but that no formal announcement of that decision would be made until the outcome of Congress-League negotiations was known.

Adds To Complications

The split among the princes added complications to the already intricate situation in which the predominantly Hindu Congress party is attempting to reach accord with the Moslem League and bring it into the Assembly devising India's future government.

The smaller states faction in the Chamber of Princes, led by the Nawab of Bhopal, chancellor of the chamber, wants to see settlement before it makes an commitment.

A representative of one of the most powerful princely states said tonight, however, that the major Maharajahs believed that a union government for India is inevitable and, there fore, would not hang back, no matter what course the Moslem League took.

U.S. Ship Drops Attempt to Run Java Blockade

Ship Had Taken On Cargo at Port Under Control of Indonesian Republic

BATAVIA, Java, Sunday, March 2 (AP).—The American Liberty ship Martin Behrman, escorted by a Dutch destroyer, arrived in Batavia harbor at dawn today after abandoning a plan to run a Dutch naval blockade with a multimillion dollar cargo of rubber, sugar and quinine for the United States.

NIGHT

The ship had been loading at Cheribon, a port under control of the Indonesian Republic, for several days. An Indonesian Republic spokesman said the craft awaited orders at Cheribon from its operator, the Isbrandtsen Company of New York, whether to follow the Dutch destroyer to Batavia or ignore the Dutch commands.

The Dutch have ruled that "estate products" such as those on the vessel may not be exported from the Netherlands East Indies, even the section controlled by the Republican government of Java, without a Dutch permit.

The case was the first test as to whether American or British ships could defy this ban and load cargoes of raw materials produced in the Indonesian Republic.

Priok, Batavia's harbor, under her own steam and would arrive tomorrow.

He said the cargo would be unloaded and held at Batavia pending court ruling as to ownership.

The Netherlands East Indies Government announced yesterday that force would be used, if necessary, to make the Martin Behrman conform to the NEI ban on export of estate products from Republican territory without a Dutch permit.

Consular Advice Obeyed

The case was the first test as to whether United States or British ships could defy this ban to tap rich stock piles of raw materials bottled up in republican Indonesia.

An informed American source said Foote instructed the Martin Behrman's master, Capt. Rudy Grey, of Southport, N.C., to obey the Dutch Navy's order to come here because the United States recognized only NEI sovereignty in Indonesia and the consulate wanted to avoid the danger of loss of American lives.

Grey, this source said, had wirelessed Foote last night that the ship was fully loaded and that, while the Navy told him to come here, the local representative of the Isbrandtsen Company of New York, the ship's operator, insisted that the vessel either stay at Cheribon or go straight to the United States.

Joint Approval Proposed

A. K. Gani, Indonesian Republican Economics Minister, said that a Dutch-Indonesian subcommittee on economic affairs would consider an application for a joint sailing permit from James W. Ryan of the Isbrandtsen Company.

Gania made this announcement while handing the Dutch a formal proposal that the Netherlands and nationalist governments set up immediately a joint organization to develop Indonesian foreign trade.

He proposed to H. J. Van Mook, acting Dutch governor general, that this organization push "the export of estate products (rubber, sugar and similar items and the import of needed goods on a cooperative basis as equal partners.

U.S. Consul Says Ship Yields To Dutch Order

MAR 1947

Batavia, Java, March 1 (AP)—An American consulate official said today the U. S. Liberty ship Martin Behrmann had abandoned its attempt to run a Dutch blockade with a multimillion-dollar cargo of rubber, sugar and quinine, but an Indonesian Republic spokesman immediately denied it.

The spokesman, who asserted he had telephoned the Republican port of Cheribon two hours after the consulate's announcement, said the ship was still in Cheribon harbor then, awaiting orders from her operator, the Isbrandtsen Company, of New York, whether to follow the Dutch destroyer Kortenaar to Batavia or to ignore Dutch commands.

Ship Sailed, Says Consul

Earlier, Walter A. Foote, United States Consul General here, said he had been notified officially that the crew had agreed to leave Cheribon peaceably and that the Martin Behrmann had sailed for Tandjong

SAYS INDONESIA WILL DEFEND RULE

Malang, Java, March 1 (A. P.) — Indonesian Premier Sutan Sjahrir told the Republican Provisional Parliament today that if the Dutch sought to reimpose their rule over Indonesia by force, they would be met by national resistance, which would make the destruction wrought by Nationalists in French Indo-China seem small by comparison. Sjahrir said Indonesia was larger, more densely populated and farther along the road to national unity than Viet - Nam.

"The Indonesian State could not be vanquished," Sjahrir said in a keynote speech which Indonesian sources said was intended to answer hints from the Netherlands that the Dutch might finally resort to force, if the deadlock in Dutch - Indonesian relations continued.

Sjahrir said the republic was willing to sign the Cheribon draft agreement initialed last November 15, but not the later Hague interpretation, which the Dutch have insisted also must be considered binding, if the Netherlands Government is to sign the pact.

8 KOREANS KILLED IN NATIONAL FETE

Riotious Activities Mark Independence Day Observance

Seoul, Korea, March 1 (AP)—Riotous observances of Korean independence today caused at least eight deaths, six serious injuries and 75 lesser injuries in southern Korea, American military intelligence reported.

Greatest violence was in Seoul, where homeward-bound Leftists and Rightists, who had separate celebrations, clashed near the city's south gate. The milling crowd was estimated by American authorities to total 100,000.

American and Korean police said 150 shots were fired at Korean policemen trying to maintain order, and that the police fired into the air to disperse the crowd.

All told, 191 reported injuries and four of the deaths occurred here.

American intelligence authorities said they had expected some disorders but regarded the casualties as mild considering the number of persons involved.

Mass Meeting In Tokyo

The other deaths were reported in clashes in Pusan and Chongju. There were no details.

The celebrations were in commemoration of the signing of Korea's declaration of independence in 1919, a document which the Japanese overlords ignored.

Koreans in Japan similarly held mass meetings marking the date. In Hiboya Park, Tokyo, 10,000 Koreans adopted resolutions demanding that Russian and American occupation of Korea cease and that Koreans in Japan be exempted from the new Japanese property tax.

The crowd then marched past occupation headquarters, waving banners and shouting slogans.

8 Slain On Korean Independence Day

Seoul, March 1 (AP)—American Army Intelligence listed eight reported dead in southern Korea's Independence Day celebration today.

Four were reported killed in Seoul, where an estimated 100,000 leftist and rightist sympathizers, homebound from separate celebrations, collided in the heart of the city. Some 150 shots were fired as truckloads of police tried to disperse the crowds.

Two other deaths were reported at Pusan and two near Chongju. Intelligence officers said they assumed the victims were killed by police gunfire.

8 Injured in Seoul

The Seoul casualty list included two known to be seriously injured, four others reported seriously injured and 75 known to be slightly injured.

American and Korean police said shots were fired at Korean police attempting to maintain order, but that it was not known who was responsible. Police fired into the air to break up the crowds. An undetermined number of persons were wounded, the police reported.

Leftists had observed the anniversary of the signing of the Korean Declaration of Independence in 1919 at a former Shinto shrine on South Mountain, overlooking the capital city.

Rightists Meet At Stadium

The rightists observed the event at Seoul University stadium. The crowd met near the ancient South Gate in mid-Seoul.

[Independence Day was observed by 10,000 Koreans in Tokyo. At a mass meeting they urged the United States and the Soviet Union to withdraw occupation troops from Korea as soon as a unified government could be set up.]

Koreans Ask Withdrawal

Tokyo, March 1 (AP)—An estimated 10,000 Koreans, jamming Hibiya Park in central Tokyo, called upon the United States and the Soviet Union today to withdraw occupation troops from Korea as soon as a unified government can be set up.

The Koreans met to observe the 1919 Korean Declaration of Independence.

They adopted resolutions asking President Truman, Premier Stalin, General MacArthur and the Allied Council for the Far East to end ocupation of Korea. Then they paraded with banners past MacArthur's headquarters building.

34 Cannibalistic Japs Seized In Mindanao

Manila, March 1 (AP)—Thirty-four cannibalistic Japanese have been captured in the isolated jungles of north-central Mindanao, the Philippine Department of Interior was advised today.

The report came from the military police command at Bukidnon, Mindanao. The command said the band of Japanese stragglers, including four officers, admitted they had eaten 40 civilians.

Manila Battles Harbor Pirates

MANILA, March 1 (AP)—Police announced today that eight heavily armed harbor pirates had been arrested after a gun battle with port police. The men were caught last night after boarding the freighter Arcadia Victory from four native fishing boats. Police said the pirates had been stealing copra cakes.

U.S. Pays Debt to Philippines

MANILA, March 1 (AP).—The United States Navy's Philippine contract settlement commission came to an end today. The final transaction was the presentation of a check for $2,350,000 by Vice-Admiral E. G. Morsell, of the commission, to Commander Charles Parson, general manager of the Luzon Stevedoring Company, for ships, tugs and equipment commandeered by the Navy at the beginning of the war.

ALASKAN B-29 CRASH PROBED

14 Rescued From Search Plane Quizzed About Accident

Anchorage, Alaska, March 1 (AP). Fourteen members of an army Superfortress crew, taken from the Alaska Peninsula's snow in the Far North's second rescue this week, were quizzed today in an effort to learn what caused their big bomber to crash near Naknek, Bristol Bay fishing village, yesterday.

The B-29 crashed while hunting for another Superfortress, missing with a crew of thirteen and last reported in the Mount Katmai area. It disappeared last Monday, the day eleven other Alaskan army flyers were rescued from Greenland's northwestern ice cap by an Air Transport Command pilot.

Rescued Civilian Flyers

All fourteen of the officers and men who parachuted from the plane were rescued by four civilian flyers who saw the plan crash and reported its engines were flaming seconds before it struck with "an explosion like Bikini."

Four of the men were flown to Kanakanak for hospitalization. Six were taken to Naknek. The four others were flown here, some for hospitalization.

Army spokesmen declined to permit the surivivors here to be interviewed pending formal questioning on the mishap. They said they had not determined the plane was afire.

Missing Planes Hunted

Meantime, a widespread search, in which the crashed plane was engaged, continued today the missing B-29. Weather conditions were excellent, but searchers described the terrain to be scanned as difficult because it is so rugged.

The army and navy and civilian search planes were instructed to keep watch for all signs of planes, including a civilian plane missing with two men en route here from Yakutat since February 16.

The civilians who rescued the crew of the plane that crashed yesterday were all veteran commercial "bush pilots"—Orville Tosch, Dennis Fenno, Myron Moran and Bill Smith.

Tosch and Fenno, en route to and from Dillingham in small land planes, saw the plane crash in flames. The two landed quickly a mile and a half fro mthe wreck, and began rounding up the fourteen army flyers.

Two More Come To Aid

Moran and Smith landed their planes near by shortly afterward, and assisted in transporting the B-29 crew to settlements for treatment of undisclosed hurts.

The B-29 was commanded by Lieut. B. M. Johnson, Mason City, Iowa, and was piloted by Lieut. F. C. Oliver, Sandpoint, Idaho.

Others aboard were:

Capt. E. V. Halpin, Richmond Hill, N.Y., observer; Capt. F. W. Elliott, Charlotte, N.C., observer; Lieut. J. A. Kulenguski, Glendale, Cal., navigator; Lieut. N. F. Repp, Julesburg, Col., engineer.

Mast. Sergt. R. Middleton, Marthaville, La.; Sergt. C. D. Harris, Covington, Ky.; Sergt. G. C. Combs, Raton, N.M.; Mast. Sergt. L. Hogan, Choudrant, La.; Sergt. P. R. Benedict, Stockton, Cal.; Mast. Sergt. J. C. Barnes, Manchester, N.H.; Staff Sergeant P. T. McWilliams, Portsmouth, N.J., and Mast. Sergt. A. Schmolt, Waterloo, Iowa.

14 Are Rescued as Third B-29 Crashes Over Arctic Wastes

Flyers Bail Out of Burning Plane and Are Rescued by 3 Amphibians—Craft Was Hunting Lost Superfortress.

Anchorage, Alaska, March 1 (A. P.).—Fourteen Army flyers, whose blazing B-29 crashed with an "explosion like Bikini" after they had parachuted to safety, were rescued by four daring civilian pilots yesterday from the snow-covered tundra wastelands of the Alaska Peninsula over which the Superfortress crew had been flying in search of thirteen lost comrades.

Four of the airmen was hospitalized with undisclosed injuries at the small settlement of Kanakanak, six others were taken to the fishing village of Naknek on Bristol Bay, near where the plane went down, and the remainder were flown back to their base at Elmendorf Field near Anchorage.

The Alaskan Air Command, which has lost three B-29's in a week, said an engine of the giant bomber burst into flames during the hunt for another Superfortress which disappeared in the Mount Katmai region Monday.

Abandon Ship Ordered.

An abandon ship order was given by the commander, Lieut. B. M. Johnson of Mason City, Iowa, when it became apparent the big craft could not be saved.

The hazardous, dramatic rescue of the stranded B-29 airmen was the second this week from the bleak wastes of the arctic. Eleven other flyers were snatched from the northwestern Greenland ice cap Monday by an Air Transport Command pilot who risked his life and the lives of his crew to bring the men to safety.

Veteran bush pilots who flew out the fourteen flyers from the Alaska Peninsula were Orville Tosch of the Ray Petersen Flying Service, Anchorage; Dennis Fenno, owner of the Dillingham Air Service; Myron Moran of Dillingham, and Bill Smith of the Pacific Northern Airlines.

Tosch, who was en route to Anchorage from Dillingham, and Fenno, who was flying from Egegik to Dillingham, both saw the airmen parachute from their flaming Superfortress. They said the smoke, flames and explosion from the crash of the huge ship resembled pictures of the atomic tests at Bikini.

Round Up Flyers.

Tosch and Fenno put their small amphibious planes down on a lake a mile and one-half away and quickly began rounding up the fourteen flyers. They were joined soon afterward by Moran and Smith, who put their craft down on the ice-rimmed lake and aided in bringing the B-29 crew to its edge. From there the heavily loaded amphibians were lifted off the water's surface without mishap and the airmen taken to the settlements.

Two amphibian planes, flying over the area where the lost bomber vanished on Monday with thirteen men aboard, saw the flyers parachuting from their stricken ship, which crashed at 7 P. M. (Eastern standard time) with an "explosion like Bikini."

One of Many in Search.

The B-29 which crashed was one of the many Army planes comprising the aerial armada which has been searching for the B-29 that disappeared on a training mission, last reporting it was near Bruin Pass on the mainland peninsula north of Kodiak. The area is sparsely inhabited, and is near the famed Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes between 300 and 350 miles southwest of here. Bad weather has hampered the search.

On the day the plane is believed to have gone down the crew of a Superfortress based at Ladd Field, Fairbanks, was saved from the northern Greenland icecap in a daring rescue. Their big ship had been blown far off its course and crash-landed when its fuel supply was exhausted.

The pilot of the rescue ship, Lieut. Bobbie Joe Cavnar, 22 years old, of Okmulgee, Okla., and his five crew members were decorated at Washington by Gen. Carl Spaatz, head of the Army Air Forces.

Sub 'Torpedoes' Iowa In War Game

With Naval Task Force 38, Central Pacific, March 1 (AP)—Racing eastward for a "battle" with task fleet one from the West Coast, this force won a big initial advantage today with announcement that one of its daring submarines theoretically had knocked out the battleship Iowa.

Ranging hundreds of miles ahead of this fast carrier force, the submarine pomfret was credited with a ten-torpedo attack on the battleship before dawn Friday, drawing first blood in the Navy's biggest postwar Pacific maneuvers.

The only capital ship on either side, the Iowa was ruled out of action and will tag along only as an observer. The Pomfret escaped.

The West Coast defense force still is a powerful contender, however, with three cruisers, ten submarines, 20 destroyers, the carrier Boxer and another theoretical carrier. Either the Shangri-La or Antietam had been scheduled for assignment, but both are undergoing overhauls.

The rival forces are scheduled to meet somewhere west of Hawaii in the next couple of days in an all-out "battle." Then they will join for mock attacks on Johnston Island and Pearl Harbor.

Expecting "enemy" submarines to strake at any time, Task Force 38 has been on anti-submarine alert for the past two nights, zigzagging and blacked out.

Canada Meat Ration Put Ahead Of Export

Ottawa, March 1 (AP)—J. G. Gardiner, Canadian Minister of Agriculture, told the House of Commons last night that Canadians would get three pounds of meat ration of about two pounds a person a week, even if it means a decline in deliveries to Britain.

He said agreements call for sending all surplus meat to Britain and added that "we've attempted to put into figures what we think the quantity is we'll be able to deliver and we do attempt to reach that figure."

ed to Lord Inverchapel, the British ambassador, at a 25-minute conference at the State Department this morning with Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson, held at the latter's summons.

The informants described the U. S. reply as "favorable in principle." It is understood to be conditioned upon Britain's retaining her 10,000 troops in Greece to help uphold the government, with the United States—subject to congressional approval—helping to bear most of the cost.

The undertaking may entail advancing some $250,000,000 this year, by authoritative estimate, with further but smaller outlays later. Exact estimates remain to be worked out, along with details of any legislation which may be necessary besides the appropriations.

A next step apparently would be for President Truman to make public the program. He would have an opportunity to do this next Thursday, when he is scheduled to deliver an address at Waco, Tex., en route home from Mexico. Officials have described it as a "major speech" on both domestic and foreign affairs. It already has been drafted.

U. S. IS REPORTED WILLING TO HELP BRITAIN IN GREECE

But England Must Keep Her Troops There—Opposition Is Voiced in the House.

Washington, March 1 (A. P.).—Under-Secretary of State Acheson today handed British Ambassador Inverchapel a reply which responsible sources termed "favorable in principle" to a proposal that the United States assume a big part of Great Britain's obligations in Greece. The full contents of the note were not disclosed.

But persons familiar with its text told a reporter that it was predicated in part on Britain retaining her troops in Greece to help preserve stability there.

The United States reply was handed to Lord Inverchapel as Representative Engel (R.-Mich.), chairman of a House military expenditures sub-committee, voiced blunt opposition to pulling Britain's "fat out of the fire" in Greece.

"I simply say that Great Britain must meet her obligations or we'll step out," Engel told newsmen shortly after he returned from a conference with former President Hoover, who recently made a survey of conditions in Germany and Austria. Engel emphasized that the views he expressed were his own.

Responsible officials told newsmen that the American reply to the British note on the Greek problem was handed to Lord Inverchapel by Under-Secretary of State Acheson during a twenty - five - minute conference they held at the State Department. Inverchapel made the call at Acheson's request. State Department and British Embassy spokesmen declined to comment on the nature of their conversations. The contents of the American note were not disclosed.

Cost Put at 250 Million.

Any decision by the United States to assume wavering British commitments in Greece may possibly necessitate the expenditure of $250,000,000 this year to maintain that nation as a democratic bastion.

Authoritative informants gave this estimate to reporters today, basing it on their familiarity with details of the new diplomatic crisis discussed by President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall with congressional leaders at a top secret White House conference Thursday.

The British will be expected to maintain in Greece their reduced force of 10,000 or more troops should the United States decide to support that nation economically, informants said. British Government sources have said Foreign Minister Bevin is planning to withdraw the remaining 10,000 British security troops within the next three months.

New Study by U. N. Urged.

The tentative proposal advanced to congressional leaders is that a new American commission be dispatched to Greece to supervise expenditures. The current mission headed by former OPA Administrator Paul Porter is merely surveying longtime requirements.

Further but smaller outlays may be necessary later, aside from this year's proposed aid. The United States also may be called on to support Turkey to some extent, with loans and surplus arms, the congressional leaders have been told, or risk seeing the collapse under Soviet pressure of the entire democratic frontier from Europe to the borders of India.

It was because of the clash of the proposed new commitments with the current domestic economy drive, as well as the gravity of the diplomatic decision involved, that the Greek problem was submitted to leaders of both parties.

Some new legislation may be required. Details of this and exact estimates of funds are still being worked out. Any new gifts or credits to Greece must be dovetailed with emergency food needs and other aid contemplated as that country's share in the $350,000,000 foreign relief appropriation already under consideration.

The United States already has given Greece nearly $400,000,000 directly or indirectly in all forms of post-war aid, including the American share of shipments by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

A Question Mark After Turkey.

The future of the Greek Government, as well as the present regime in Turkey, appeared at stake in reports that the British have informed this country they no longer can bear the financial burden of maintaining troops and relief organizations in Greece and aiding the Turks militarily. Last year alone Britain gave Greece a $40,000,000 credit and wiped off a Greek debt of $184,000,000 in addition to providing an army force which stiffened the Government against internal disorder and the pressure of leftist guerrillas from across the borders.

Senator George (D.-Ga.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told a reporter that if the British pull out he has little doubt communists soon will seize control in Greece and may exert new and more powerful influence over the Dardanelles.

U. S. Is Reported Willing To Aid Britain in Greece If British Troops Stay

MAR 1947

Cost of New Departure In Foreign Policy at 250 Millions

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—The United States has agreed in principle, diplomatic sources said today, to help impoverished Britain shoulder the load in Greece—a move which may bring an historic change in American foreign policy.

The decision was reported made by the administration after a canvass of key congressional figures notwithstanding opposition voiced by some congressmen of both parties.

NIGHT

The American reply to a British note requesting the action, diplomatic informants said, was handed to Lord Inverchapel as the British ambassador conferred with Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson.

For the United States to step directly into the internal affairs of Greece would constitute a departure from long - standing American policy, and apparently would be designed to bulwark Britain in a stand against the spread of Russian influence throughout southern Europe.

The United States has interested itself in the past in the affairs of European countries, but this has been confined largely to relief and to insistence that some liberated and ex-enemy countries hold free elections.

DAY

U.S. PREPARED TO ASK RUSSIA TO PAY DEBTS

Marshall Due To Leave Soon For Lend-Lease Talks In Moscow

Washington, March 1 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, takes off for Moscow Wednesday prepared, if circumstances permit, for face-to-face talks with Russian leaders on a lend-lease settlement and other touchy issues aside from those involved in the German and Austrian peace treaties.

The United States delegation of 84 includes more than a score of top advisers fully informed on such points of controversy as:

1. Settlement of Russia's $11,298,000,000 lend-lease account.

2. The 95 ships turned over to the Russians in wartime which the United States wants the Soviets to return or pay for.

Many Other Issues

3. Execution of the Potsdam agreement to destroy damaged German warships, including the uncompleted aircraft carrier Graf Zeppelin which the Russians seized at Stettin. Moscow has acknowledged delay in carrying out the agreement to destroy the vessel.

4. Distribution of Italy's seized warships.

There are many other issues as well.

Those stemming from clashes of interest in the Far East appear barred from consideration because of the absence of advisors on Pacific affairs from the American delegation. Disarmament and atomic are United Nations problems, although they could bob up behind the scenes at Moscow.

Korean Discussion Unlikely

Marshall has said that whether he consults with Premier Stalin and Vyacheslav M. Molotov, Foreign Minister, on matters other than those directly involved in the peace settlement will depend upon circumstances. He has said also that he does not expect the dispute over administration of Korea to come up.

He was urged to try to get action on the lend-lease ships by Chairman Weichel (R., Ohio) of a House merchant marine subcommittee who stirred a row by issuing a subpoena for Marshall, later canceled. Weichel said after a telephone call that the Secretary "didn't say he would and didn't say he wouldn't."

On the basis of previous meetings of the foreign ministers, the Moscow Conference is expected by diplomatic authorities here to last three to eight weeks, depending chiefly on the degree of Russian co-operation.

Molotov Inclined To Disagree

Molotov at past meetings has shown a marked disinclination to depart from the program adopted in advance. However, under a provision of the 1945 Potsdam agreement, Marshall is in a position if he desires to insist upon a meeting with Molotov and Ernest Bevin, Britain's foreign minister, to take up any issues.

At Potsdam, it was directed that three foreign ministers should convene every three months. James F. Byrnes, former Secretary of State, took advantage of this to get away from the fixed program at an earlier Paris conference and thus break an existing deadlock.

The Moscow program is concerned strictly with considering peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

Foreign Travel Will Be Freed Of War Excises

Tax on Some Fur-Trimmed Coats Also Dropped as Conferees Agree on Bill

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 1.—House and Senate conferees agreed today on a revised bill providing for indefinite continuance of the war-time luxury taxes on liquor, furs, jewelry and other items.

The House members of a joint committee agreed to two Senate proposals—one, to remove the extra taxes on low and medium-priced fur-trimmed coats, and the other, to lift the extra tax on tickets for travel to areas far enough away to be somewhat out of competition with American resorts.

The tax still would apply on tickets southward within the Western Hemisphere this side of the Equator, except South America. Eastward the tax would apply as far as the thirtieth meridian, almost to the Azores. Westward the limit would be the International Dateline, past Hawaii.

Thos provisions would keep such spots as Bermuda, Nassau and Havana in the tax-paying territory.

House concurrence in the committee's action would continue the other high excise taxes in effect beyond July 1. Representative Harold Knutson, Republican, of Minnesota, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, said action will be sought Tuesday.

The full scale of excise taxes provide $1,300,000,000 to the Treasury annually. The exceptions on fur-trimmed coats and foreign travel tickets, Representative Knutson said, will reduce that amount by some $35,000,000 to $40,000,000.

Removal of the tax on fur-trimmed coats would apply only to those in which the fur was valued at less than three times the cost of the cloth.

The State Department sponsored the exemption for foreign travel tickets to encourage tourist trips abroad and thus stimulate foreign trade by providing other countries with dollar exchange.

The high war-time excise rates, originally scheduled to go off July 1, call for such taxes as these:

Liquor—$9 a proof gallon, compared with a pre-war $6.

Furs, luggage, jewelry and toilet preparations—20 per cent at retail, instead of 10 per cent.

Admissions to theaters, etc.—one cent for each 5 cents, instead of one cent for each 10.

Night clubs—20 per cent, instead of 5 per cent.

On another tax front, Republican Senate leaders were seeking today to rally their majority behind a limit of $2,600,000,000 on public debt reduction in order to leave a good margin for tax cuts in the fiscal year starting July 1.

A hasty week-end adjournment after the leadership's first setback of the Eightieth Congress carried over to Monday the final decision on this issue and a proposal to cut $4,500,000,000 out of President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget.

Democrats engineered the upset late yesterday when they caught the Republicans with only forty-three of their fifty-one members on the floor.

The setback came on an amendment to the Senate resolution, previously adopted, to apply $2,600,000,000 to debt reduction in the next fiscal year. The amendment, offered by Senator Kenneth S. Wherry, Republican, of Nebraska, provided that all proceeds from surplus-property sales be applied to the public debt. Senator Robert A. Taft, Republican, of Ohio, proposed adding a clause which would make it clear any such proceeds would be part of the $2,600,000,000.

With the help of five Republicans, the Democrats defeated the motion 39 to 38.

The Republican leadership quickly adjourned the Senate, leaving Senator Wherry's original amendment still hanging.

Bridges Foresees Defeat Of Lilienthal

Washington, March 1 (AP)—Senator Bridges (R., N.H.) claimed today the signs are against confirmation of David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Referring to a 7-to-5 vote by the Senate Public Works Committee to recommend rejection of Gordon Clapp's nomination as a director of the Tennessee Valley Authority, Bridges declared:

"It is the shape of things to come."

Lilienthal, as TVA chairman, and Clapp as general manager, were intimately associated on the project.

Similar Testimony

Both came under fire from Senator McKellar (D., Tenn.), and much of the testimony in both hearings came from the same witnesses and followed the same general line.

Although the Lilienthal hearing has been held before a different group of senators—the Senate panel of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy—Bridges said he considers the Clapp vote yesterday indicative of the Senate's final decision on Lilienthal.

Votes Are Cited

He noted that four of the six Republican first-termers on the Public Works Committee voted against Clapp.

There are sixteen Republican senators who first took the oath last January. They are considered the unknown factor in the Lilienthal struggle.

Regardless of the committee vote, Democratic leaders announced they will try to push Clapp's confirmation through on the Senate floor.

U. S. TO AID 600,000 REFUGEES AND D.P.'S

Washington, March 1 (A. P.).—Secretary of State Marshall today informed Congress that assistance for some 600,000 war refugees and displaced persons in the American zones of Germany and Austria is part of his foreign relations policy. He asked speedy congressional approval of American participation in the International Refugee Organization set up by the United Nations last December to take over many assistance and repatriation activities heretofore handled by the UNRRA.

DAY

Marshall's views were presented to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in a letter read by Dean Acheson, Under-Secretary of State. The committee is considering a resolution offered jointly by the chairman, Senator Vandenberg (R.-Mich.), and Senator Connally (D.-Tex.), which would authorize participation in the IRO and provide an unspecified amount of funds for that purpose.

Marshall wrote the committee that the I. R. O. would "enable displaced persons to subsist while it actively effects their repatriation or resettlement," and that it will also "relieve the Army of its part in the present divided and difficult responsibility."

Vandenberg Gives IRO Issue Stand

Washington, March 1 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee will agree to United States participation in the new International Refugee Organization provided President Truman gets no authority to bypass immigration laws or quotas, Chairman Vandenberg (R., Mich.) said today.

The Senator made this known after a hearing at which several Government leaders urged that this country become a member of the new organization.

NIGHT

The issue of possible bypassing of the nation's immigration statues had been raised by Chairman Wiley (R., Wis.) of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

He told the Foreign Relations Committee he believes the IRO charter and participating legislation delegate immigration powers to the President.

Earlier Vandenberg said no change in this country's immigration laws or policy toward admitting refugees is planned or intended. President Truman gave similar assurance in asking Congress to approve United States participation.

By participating in the International Refugee Organization, Government officials told the committee, this country would save approximately $57,000,000 annually.

The cost of caring for 600,000 refugees in the American-occupied zones in Europe now averages about $130,000,000 each twelve months.

This country's share in IRO, for its first year of operation, would be $73,000,000.

FOR EASING IMMIGRATION

Mrs. Roosevelt Urges Admitting More Displaced Persons

DETROIT, March 1 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt made an appeal today for modification of immigration laws to permit displaced persons to enter this country.

As guest preacher at Temple Beth El she spoke to a capacity crowd of 2,400 at the invitation of the Jewish Welfare Fund, which is campaigning nationally for $170,000,000 to aid displaced Jews. Hundreds of persons were turned away.

Mrs. Roosevelt conceded that some displaced persons might be Fascists or Communists but insisted they would be in the minority.

"I cannot believe this would hurt our economy as some people say," she said. "The record of refugees we have accepted in years just past has been a very good record."

Senate Group Approves Nomination of Douglas

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today gave prompt approval to the nomination of Lewis W. Douglas, former director of the budget, to be ambassador to Great Britain.

Asked whether any objection had been raised, Chairman Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican, of Michigan, replied, "No. Quite the contrary."

The Senate is expected to approve the nomination next week.

Mr. Douglas, president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company since 1940, was nominated Wednesday by President Truman. Mr. Douglas split several years ago with President Roosevelt and resigned as budget director.

O. Max Gardner, former North Carolina Governor, was preparing to assume the post at the time of his death. It last was held by W. Averell Harriman, now Secretary of Commerce.

The committee also approved without objection the appointment of Warren R. Austin, delegate to the United Nations, to assume the additional duties as United States Representative on the U. N. Armaments Commission.

New Navy Test Site For Guided Missiles

North Carolina Coast Has 22-Mile Firing Range

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP).—The Navy revealed today that it has a new testing ground for its guided missiles on the coast of North Carolina, near Wilmington.

Among the first units to be tested on the firing range, extending twenty-two miles along the sand at Holly Ridge, will be the Navy's 1,500-miles-an-hour ram jet engine.

Cameras, radar and other scientific instruments will be installed at eight stations to clock and record the roaring missiles as they go by.

The ram jet, dubbed "the flying stovepipe" from its appearance, is the most promising engine developed so far to power guided missiles at supersonic speeds. It is still in the experimental stage and has not been incorporated in a weapon, but has produced tremendous thrust for very brief test flights.

The new center will use buildings and facilities from a former Army and Marine Corps base, Camp Davis, which adjoins the range.

Holly Ridge will be operated by Kellex Corporation, a subsidiary of M. W. Kellogg Company, of New York, under contract from the Bureau of Ordnance. Kellex built a gaseous diffusion plant at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

May 18 Is Proclaimed 'I Am American Day'

Washington, March 1 (AP)—President Truman today proclaimed Sunday, May 18, as "I Am an American Day" and called on Federal, state, local and private agencies to hold commemorative exercises.

The ceremonies, he said, will be to "help our citizens better to understand their privileges and responsibilities as participants in our representative democracy, to the end that world peace and domesticity may be attained and perpetuated."

The celebration is an annual affair to honor those who have become naturalized and those who have become of age during the year.

SALTONSTALL URGES BIGGER WORLD ROLE

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Senator Leverett Saltonstall, Massachusetts Republican, and Representative Frances P. Bolton, Ohio Republican, said in a broadcast tonight that Britain's diminishing role in world leadership meant that the United States must assume world responsibilities or other nations would look to Russia for assistance.

Neither referred to Britain's request to the United States to assume her financial commitments in Greece.

"We must demonstrate to the world," said Mr. Saltonstall, "that we realize at home that we are one of the two strongest nations on the face of the earth and that we are willing to assume the responsibilities that go with that position.

"If we bury our head in the sand like an ostrich, obviously other nations will look to Russia and any other country where they think they can get assistance when they need it and backing for their own undertakings."

Mrs. Bolton said that if the United States did not "meet the needs of the suffering countries, could we blame them if they turn to the only other country that has strength?"

AWAITS VIEW ON DRAFT

Congress May Get Statement From Truman Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Congress may be told Monday whether President Truman and the military heads want the draft act extended or are willing for it to die March 31.

There were indications at the White House that a statement was to be issued today, but later plans were made to send a message to Congress.

Mr. Truman has declined to indicate what the decision may be, but the general expectation has been that the Administration is willing to abandon the draft and press for Congressional approval of a universal training plan. There have been no draft calls since Oct. 15.

House Vote on Cashing Of G. I. Bonds Is Sought

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP).—Representative Dwight L. Rogers, Democrat, of Florida, drafted today a "discharge petition" to force a speedy House vote on cashing now the $2,150,000,000 worth of bonds being issued to former enlisted men in the armed forces for terminal leave pay and predicted strong Republican support.

Bills by Representative Rogers and others are pending in the House Armed Services Committee which has taken no action so far. The petition, if signed by 218 House members, would discharge the committee from considering Representative Rogers's bill and bring it directly to the floor for action.

"I may file the petition next week," Mr. Rogers told reporters. "There will be no trouble obtaining the 218 signatures because all of us recognize the unfairness of the 1946 requirement for payment in bonds, which the Senate wrote into the law over House opposition."

The terminal leave payments already have been taken account of in the budget—$1,900,000,000 listed for the fiscal year ending June 30 and another $250,000,000 for the next fiscal year. Thus their immediate redemption would make no change in the budget estimates on paper, but it would affect the cash position of the Treasury.

BETTER MEALS RECOMMENDED FOR NAVY MEN

MAR 1947

Report By Civilians Also Asks Moral Guidance, Wider Education

Washington, March 1 (AP)—Five civilian groups reported tonight that the Navy should give its enlisted men:

Better food in better quarters.

Careful moral guidance.

Broader education.

Treatment by doctors qualified by ability rather than seniority.

The reports were in reply to a request by James V. Forrestal, Secretary of the Navy, last April for advice from 65 prominent churchmen, writers, lawyers, doctors and educators on how to make the sailor's life "as interesting, instructive, and attractive as possible."

There was no overall report from the whole advisory committee, but instead the findings of five subcommittees.

Details Of Report

Reports from the subcommittees included:

HEALTH—There is a need for more nutrition experts, eating quarters are too often unattractive, and navy doctors should be promoted "less by seniority than by superior professional qualifications."

RELIGION AND MORALS—Officers should enforce official directives against immorality.

ART—The popularity of libraries and museums demonstrates "the need for free recreation which follows after first few days of shore leave. . . ."

EDUCATION AND TRAINING—There is a need for teaching non-technical subjects.

Use Of USO Favored

COMMUNITY RELATIONS — USO facilities should be used through 1947. Beginning with 1948, arrangements should be worked out with the Army-Navy YMCA's, the National Jewish Welfare Board, and the National Catholic Community Service.

Members of the subcommittees cruised on Navy ships, visited naval establishments, poked into messhalls and hospitals, asked questions and displayed a critical attitude that one escorting officer called "refreshing and valuable."

The subcommittee on health suggested more personnel be trained in the science of nutrition and said the manner of serving bluejackets their meals does not aid morale.

Food Check Suggested

The health committee suggested that the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery plus some civilian nutrition experts check up on the Navy food; that the surgeon general be selected with the advice of officers of the Medical Corps itself, and that punishment not be restored for men who get venereal disease. Before the war, victims were fined or jailed, but this lead to concealment of disease, doctors declared.

The subcommittee on health also suggested "dissemination of facts concerning the nutritional involvements and other damage attendant upon excessive drinking."

GOP Is Rallying Votes To Limit Debt Cutting

Washington, March 1 (AP)—Republican Senate leaders sought today to rally their majority behind a limit of $2,600,000,000 on public debt reduction in order to leave a good margin for tax cuts.

A hasty week-end adjournment after the leadership's first setback of the Eightieth Congress carried over to Monday the final decision on this issue and a proposal to cut $4,500,000,000 out of President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget.

Democrats engineered the upset late yesterday when they caught the GOP with only 43 of its 51 members on the floor.

Surplus Sales Involved

The Senate already had voted, 82 to 0, to cut the debt $2,600,000,000—a compromise between the $3,000,000,000 proposed by Senator Knowland (R., Cal.) and the $1,000,000,000 suggested by Senator Taft (R., Ohio).

Then Senator Wherry (Neb.), the GOP whip, offered an amendment providing that all proceeds from surplus property sales be applied to the debt. Taft proposed adding a clause making it clear that such proceeds would be part of the $2,600,000,000.

With the help of five Republicans, the Democrats defeated the motion 39 to 38.

The GOP leadership quickly adjourned the Senate, leaving Wherry's original amendment still hanging.

Could Add Billion Dollars

Taft estimated that surplus property proceeds next year will be a billion dollars. Wherry's amendment "plainly has a cumulative effect," he said later, and would fix the debt reduction at about $3,600,000,000.

"I think we could correct it in conference," Taft said, "but on Monday we should have the votes to do it here."

The object of every Democratic move was to prevent any tax reduction.

The House has voted a $6,000,000,000 budget slash. Taft has predicted a House-Senate conference committee compromise of $5,000,000,000.

Home Prices Dip For First Time In 8 Years

Washington, March 1 (AP)—A sharp drop in the volume of home sales and a "definite trend to lower prices" for the first time in eight years were reported today by the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

The residential home turnover has declined in 64 per cent of the 475 cities covered by its semi-annual market survey, the association said. The drop is most general in the larger cities.

Noted Most In Large Cities

"The survey showed a trend to lower prices for residential property in about one city of four, although a majority of the cities—54 per cent—still recorded prices higher than they were a year ago," the report said.

"Price trends are downward in 47 per cent of the largest cities, but only 18 per cent of the smallest cities (those under 10,000 population) have felt the drop."

Price have risen so far that the sales price of the average dwelling is higher than the cost of building a similar house in 43 per cent of the cities studied.

Commercial Sales "Slow"

Store and other commercial property sales are "relatively slow" for lack of offerings, but prices have risen since early 1946 in 62 per cent of the reporting cities.

Downtown rents for business property have climbed in 85 per cent of the cities, with less than half of one per cent showing any decline. The upsurge was general in cities of 100,000 to 500,000 population.

Volume of farm sales is slightly lower than a year ago, with prices still rising in 45 per cent of the areas, about the same in 46 per cent.

Commodity Prices Hit Peak Levels in American History

Hogs and Grains Lead Sharpest Weekly Advance Since December, 1946; Metal Prices Join in General Upsurge

CHICAGO, March 1. (AP)—Most commodities smashed through to higher price levels on the nation's markets this week for the sharpest weekly advance since early in December, 1946.

Grunting porkers in livestock pens featured the advance in the upward price swirl. In the nation's packing center at Chicago, hogs were worth $30 a hundred pounds on Tuesday, highest in history, and the river markets on the Mississippi and those of interior Iowa reported the same story of fabulously priced pigs.

A scramble developed for wheat at Kansas City and Minneapolis, while wheat for future delivery on the Chicago Board of Trade soared to the highest level in 27 years today at $2.62. The Agriculture Department decided to make a study of the market.

Although hogs and wheat held the center of interest in the price spectacle, other commodities provided a large supporting cast. Corn, oats, barley, cotton, cattle, butter, eggs, flour and lard were higher.

Metals joined in the upswing. Lead surged to an historic high at 14 cents a pound in New York.

Copper was higher. And silver, after remaining stationary for five weeks, advanced 9½ cents to 80¼ cents an ounce, with Belgian buyers providing an international touch to the rise.

The Associated Press average of 35 wholesale commodities, advancing for the fifth consecutive week, reached an all time high of 175.92. A year ago the average was 113.67. This week's gain was the largest since early in December.

Reasons for the advance were varied.

Hog supplies of 48,000 head for the week were the lowest at Chicago since October, 1946, and livestock men said arrivals were scarcer than anticipated. Buyers turned to cattle to make up the volume deficiency in pork, but receipts of 39,300 cattle were the lowest since Christmas.

In grains, large exports to foreign countries to meet food shortages were considered by traders as major factors in the upturn. Other food commodities were higher in sympathy with the meat and grain advance. Lead was a critically short metal which buyers wanted with little regard for price.

FINDS SUGAR RING HALF-NATIONWIDE

Chicago, March 1 (A. P.).—Testimony in the black market sugar stamp ring investigation before a Federal Grand Jury has increased the apparent scope of the racket to most of the Eastern half of the nation, a Government prosecutor said today.

Nathan M. Cohen, Assistant United States District Attorney, said the investigation "is still turning up new information" and predicted the Grand Jury would vote additional indictments next week. Forty-four indictments have already been returned. Cohen said that estimates of the amount of sugar diverted into illegal channels, based upon the number of stolen and bogus sugar stamps sold have been revised to 7,000,000 pounds, a figure he called conservative.

Federal attorneys said there has been no information uncovered as yet tying purported members of the old gang of the late Al Capone to the sugar ring. "We do expect to get the 'brains' or leaders in the conspiracy, but we can't discuss that yet," Cohen said. He added that most of those indicted thus far were comparatively small operators.

Hartford, Conn., March 1 (A. P.).—Described by Government agents as a major move in a drive to catch up with alleged Connecticut black marketeers, the Treasury Department today filed a $211,000 attachment against the properties of John Levine of Meriden, twice convicted of violating OPA slaughtering regulations.

Internal Revenue Collector Frank E. Kramer, who said the attachments also affect the property of Levine's wife, Mary, asserted that Levine failed to account for $130,526 in his 1944 income tax return. In addition to this, the Government seeks $65,263 in penalties and interest of $15,268. The Government also charges Levine failed to file returns in 1942, 1943 and 1945.

Federal Agents Seize Arms Destined For Latin America

New Orleans, March 1 (AP)—Treasury Department agents today announced the arrest of five men in connection with a cache of guns, ammunition and grenades which the officers said were destined for shipment to Latin America.

F. C. Farrell, district supervisor of the Treasury Department's alcohol-tax unit, listed those arrested as William I. Marsalis, 42, former AAF lieutenant colonel; Claude R. Eatherly, former AAF major and B-29 pilot; Alfred Sage, 46, ex-captain of the Quartermaster Corps; A. R. St. Philip and George W. Rappleyea.

Weapons Listed

Farrell said they were charged with conspiracy to violate the National Firearms Act by illegal possession and transportation of the weapons. This law, he explained, forbids transportation of firearms in interstate commerce except by licensed dealers and prohibits possession of automatic weapons which have not been registered with the alcohol-tax unit.

Lennis R. Mashburn, group head of the tax unit in Gulfport, Miss., where the arms were seized, said the weapons included six 45-caliber Reising machine guns, several dozen pistols, revolvers, rifles and shotguns, 50 aerial bomb cases, six cases of high explosive powder, several thousand rounds of ammunition and 22 tear gas grenades.

The officers said the arrested men declared the weapons were to be used for protection of personnel on work for which they had contracted in Latin America. Mashburn reported Marsalis and Sage said the work was to be done in Cuba and British Honduras.

The five men are connected with the Marsalis Construction Company of Gulfport and New Orleans. Marsalis is president, St. Philip vice president and Rappleyea secretary-treasurer.

Two Vessels Being Loaded

Mashburn said the company had two tank landing craft, registered under the Honduran flag, which were being loaded with construction equipment at Gulfport. The officer reported Marsalis had been applying for clearance by the customs service for the vessels.

Farrell said the company also owned four P-38 fighter aircraft, based at a New Orleans air field, and had several former army pilots in its employ.

Marsalis and Sage were arrested in Gulfport, Mashburn said, and all five were charged there. The others were arrested in the company's New Orleans office. They appeared before R. H. Carter, Jr., United State Commissioner, and waived a hearing, agreeing to face the charges in Gulfport. Bond was fixed at $5,000 for each.

Rappleyea said in Commissioner Carter's office that he had no knowledge of the weapons or their type, but had "heard some of the boys got some guns to do some hunting in South America where we have a contract."

Eatherly said he and Marsalis had purchased "a few dozen automatic pistols" in Dallas and had them shipped to Gulfport, "for protection of the men on the job."

Eatherly said he piloted a B-29 which accompanied the one that dropped the atomic bomb on Hiroshima.

Rappleyea was counsel for John Thomas Scopes in the famous "evolutio ntrial" at Dayton, Tenn., more than a score of wears ago. In recent years he has been connected with the enterprises of A. J. Higgins, New Orleans industrialist and builder of wartime landing craft.

During the war, Rappleya was in charge of plant protection at Higgins' Industries.

Farrell said St. Philip had been employed as a guard captain at a Higgins plant, and identified the machine guns in the arms cache as some previously used for protection at the plant.

Farrell declared most of the arms had been found in a house leased by Marsalis at Gulfport, and some were found in the railway express office there, addressed to one of the five men, but undelivered.

He said the tip on the presence of the arms had come from John Payne, chief of Gulfport police. He added that the FBI had worked on the case in Gulfport.

Occupation Of Japan By U.N. Said Favored By MacArthur

Boston, March 1 (AP)—Erwin D. Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor, said today General Douglas MacArthur believes occupation of Japan should be turned over to the United Nations "as a test case for collective security as soon as possible after the peace treaty with Tokyo comes in effect."

Canham, back from a recent 25,000-mile War Department tour with a party of editors and publishers, wrote in the Monitor that MacArthur advanced "this striking proposal" during a Tokyo interview with Canham and Carroll Binder, editorial-page editor of the Minneapolis Tribune.

"I asked General MacArthur," Canham said, "if we might write for publication this and other important ideas he expressed. He replied: 'You are the editors of great newspapers. Therefore I leave to you what you regard as proper to write.'"

"In view of this instruction," Canham wrote, "I would add at once my own belief that in discussing a United Nations occupation, General MacArthur was both completely serious and also 'thinking out loud.' I am not sure how well-developed or final the project is in his mind."

Canham said he did not ask MacArthur specifically whether he would remain as supreme commander for a United Nations occupation "but I got the very strong impression that he believes he has accepted an obligation in Japan and that he wishes to carry it through to the very end."

"Intense Sense Of Mission"

The Monitor editor said he believed MacArthur has an "intense sense of mission" and for that reason he did not think the general "is in the least interested in a Presidential nomination."

Canham said "at least three years" would have to elapse before the responsibilities of occupation could be turned over to the United Nations. He pointed out there must be a peace conference. "Long and difficult negotiation, and finally liquidation of the American occupation.

"Naturally enough," he wrote, "the United States would remain an important part of any United Nations occupation of Japan. Civilian Americans, at least, and probably many members of the armed forces now engaged in military government tasks there doubtless would be retained."

Canham said he thought MacArthur advanced his suggestion regarding occupation so that it might give "the United Nations an opportunity to prove itself and gain strength."

REICH KIN JOIN SCIENTISTS

Families of Germans Aiding U. S. Army Reach El Paso

EL PASO, Texas., March 1 (AP)—Families of thirteen German scientists who are working at Fort Bliss laboratories in connection with the V-2 rocket tests at the White Sands Proving Ground arrived today from Germany.

The scientists, armed with flowers, were waiting at the Southern Pacific station as the train pulled in. Some of the smaller children wept as they embraced their fathers, from whom they had been separated for two years.

Dr. Herbert Axseer, who met his wife and two children from Bavaria, said the families arrived in New York Monday. Dr. Herman Langer of Dresden was joined by his wife, three children and his father-in-law, Anatole Koulikof.

The scientists, including Wernher von Braun, 34, rocket inventor, have been contributing their knowledge and experience to the Army Ordnance Department's experiments at White Sands for more than a year.

SIXTH NIGHT LEAD PALESTINE

JERUSALEM, SUNDAY, MARCH 2-(AP)-THE BRITISH ANNOUNCED THAT STATUTORY MARTIAL LAW WAS IMPOSED IN THE MEASHEARIM SECTION, JERUSALEM'S BIGGEST AND OLDEST JEWISH DISTRICT, EFFECTIVE AT 8 A.M. LOCAL TIME (1 A.M., EST) TODAY. 1947

THE ANNOUNCEMENT WAS MADE IN OFFICIAL COMMUNIQUE NO.110 FROM LT.GEN.SIR ALAN G.CUNNINGHAM, HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR PALESTINE.

THE COMMUNIQUE SAID THAT GOVERNMENT OFFICES AND COURTS WOULD BE CLOSED AND THAT "BANKS MAY BE CLOSED BY ORDER OF THE MILITARY, TELEGRAPH AND POSTAL SERVICE MAY BE DISCONTINUED AND THE MOVEMENT OF PERSONS AND VEHICLES MAY BE PROHIBITED."

THE DECLARATION OF MARTIAL LAW IN THE SECTION CAME AFTER THE DEATH OF 19 PERSONS AND THE WOUNDING OF AT LEAST 23 OTHERS IN ATTACKS OVER PALESTINE FOR WHICH IRGUN ZVAI LEUMI, JEWISH UNDERGROUND ORGANIZATION, TOOK THE RESPONSIBILITY.

OBSERVERS HERE EXPRESSED BELIEF THAT SIMILAR COMMUNIQUES AFFECTING JEWISH TOWNS IN NORTHERN PALESTINE WERE BEING ISSUED IN THOSE TOWNS.

THE ARMY AT 4 A.M. OCCUPIED TEL AVIV, PETAH TIQVAH AND RAMAT GAN, JEWISH COMMUNITIES ON THE COASTAL PLAIN 30 TO 35 MILES NORTHWEST OF HERE.

THIS MOVE AND STRICT CURFEWS IMPOSED IN OTHER COMMUNITIES WERE REGARDED AS THE FIRST IMPLEMENTATION OF MARTIAL LAW IN THE AFFECTED AREAS.

THE SECTION OF JERUSALEM PUT UNDER MARTIAL LAW COVERS ALMOST ALL THE CITY NORTHEAST OF HISTORIC JAFFA ROAD IN MODERN DOWNTOWN JERUSALEM AND EXTENDS ACROSS THE CROWDED OLD JEWISH SETTLEMENT.

SIXTEEN PERSONS WERE KILLED AND AT LEAST 14 (CORRECT) WOUNDED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON AS THE TERRORISTS OPENED PALESTINE'S BLOODIEST SERIES OF ATTACKS SINCE LAST JUNE BY BOMBING A BRITISH OFFICERS' CLUB IN JERUSALEM. THROUGHOUT THE REST OF THE DAY AND NIGHT OTHER ATTACKS FOLLOWED IN RAPID SUCCESSION ALONG THE NORTH PALESTINE COAST.

A108

IRGUN ZVAI LEUMI, THE UNDERGROUND JEWISH RESISTANCE ORGANIZATION, BROADCAST A STATEMENT THAT IT WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR ALL THE ATTACKS AND DECLARED THAT IRGUN WOULD "WELCOME THE WAR WHICH IS BOUND TO COME BEFORE WE CAN GAIN OUR FREEDOM."

MUCH OF THE BRITISH MILITARY ACTIVITY--THE SOLDIERS THEMSELVES SAYING THEY ALREADY WERE ON "MARTIAL LAW FOOTING"--WAS CLOAKED IN DARKNESS AS THE TERRORISTS CUT A TRUNK POWER LINE AT KFAR SIRKN LAST NIGHT, THROWING ALL THE COASTAL AREA NORTH OF TEL AVIV INTO BLACKNESS.

THE ATTACKERS MINED A JEEP ON THE CARMEL ROAD NEAR HAIFA, KILLING TWO PERSONS AND INJURING TWO; STAGED AN ARTILLERY AND MACHINE GUN RAID ON AN ARMY CAMP AT BEIT LID, NEAR NATHANYA, KILLING A BRITISH CORPORAL AND WOUNDING TWO OTHER SOLDIERS, AND WOUNDED A SOLDIER IN A TRUCK MINING NEAR TULKARM, 20 MILES EAST OF NATHANYA.

FOUR OTHER PERSONS WERE WOUNDED WHEN TRUCKS STRUCK MINES AT UNDISCLOSED PLACES. AN ARMY CAMP AT KFAR IONA, NEAR NATHANYA, WAS ATTACKED, BUT CASUALTIES WERE NOT REPORTED; SEVERAL VEHICLES WERE WRECKED IN THE BOMBING OF A NAVAL PARKING LOT NEAR THE HAIFA WATERFRONT; A MORTAR SHELL EXPLODED AT HADERA, ON THE COAST BETWEEN HAIFA AND NATHANYA, AND A WATER PUMPING STATION AT RAS ET EIN WAS PUT "UNDER FIRE."

THE ISSUING OF THE MARTIAL LAW DECREE WAS GENERALLY EXPECTED THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY FOLLOWING AN EMERGENCY CONFERENCE LAST NIGHT BETWEEN GEN.G.H.A.MACMILLAN, BRITISH ARMY COMMANDER IN PALESTINE, AND SIR ALAN CUNNINGHAM, THE HIGH COMMISSIONER, IN JERUSALEM.

IRGUN, WHICH POSTED NOTICES IN TEL AVIV YESTERDAY THE BOMBING OF THE STRIKE" BY ALL PALSTINE JEWS, SAID YESTERDAY'S ATTACKS JERUSALEM OFFICERS' CLUB WAS IN RETALIATION FOR BRITISH ATTACKS OUR BROTHERS YESTERDAY AT HAIFA IN WHICH SOME OF OUR PEOPLE WERE KILLED" AND ALSO TO PROVE TO BRITISH FORCES THAT THEY "CANNOT ESCAPE OUR SOLDIERS IN THEIR FIGHT FOR FREEDOM NO MATTER WHAT ELABORATE PRECAUTIONS THEY TAKE."

EARLIER THIS WEEK BRITISH SAILORS INTERCEPTED A JEWISH REFUGEE SHIP WHICH RAN AGROUND NEAR HAIFA. ALTHOUGH THE UNCERTIFIED IMMIGRANTS WERE REMOVED TO BRITISH DEPORTATION SHIPS, THERE WERE REPORTS OF CASUALTIES AMONG THE DEPORTEES.

IT WAS OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED LAST NIGHT THAT SOME PASSENGERS ON THE REFUGEE SHIP HAD BEEN TRANSFERRED TO CYPRUS DESPITE PENDING LITIGATION TO KEEP THEM IN PALESTINE. A COMMUNIQUE SAID THE TRANSFER WAS NECESSARY BECAUSE AVAILABLE SHIPS IN THE HAIFA HARBOR "LACKED ROOM TO ACCOMODATE ALL 1,370 REFUGEES." (MAR 1947)

THOSE MOVED TO CYPRUS, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID, WILL "BE AFFORDED THE SAME CONSIDERATION WITH REGARD TO HABEAS CORPUS PROCEEDINGS AS THOSE DETAINED ABOARD SHIPS IN TERRITORIAL WATERS." A DECISION IN PALESTINE COURTS IS EXPECTED NEXT TUESDAY.

IN THE JERUSALEM OFFICERS' CLUB BOMBING, THE ATTACKERS CRASHED THROUGH A BARRIER IN A TRUCK LADEN WITH EXPLOSIVES AND TOSSED BOMBS INTO THE BUILDING WHICH IS IN THE HEART OF MODERN JERUSALEM.

THE DEATH TOLL IN THE BLAST WAS THE GREATEST SINCE LAST JULY WHEN THE KING DAVID HOTEL, CENTER OF MUCH BRITISH MILITARY AND CIVIL ACTIVITY, WAS BOMBED AND 60 PERSONS WERE KILLED. IT WAS THE FIRST TO OCCUR ON THE JEWISH SABBATH IN RECENT PALESTINE HISTORY.

THE ATTACKERS, PROTECTED BY A BARRAGE OF GUNFIRE, DROVE THEIR EXPLOSIVES TRUCKS ALONGSIDE THE CLUB AND THREW SUITCASES THROUGH ITS WINDOWS. THREE OF THE DEAD--TWO POLICEMEN AND A CIVILIAN--WERE KILLED BY THE GUNFIRE.

THE DEAD INCLUDED ONE BRITISH OFFICER, A BRITISH CIVILIAN, EIGHT PALESTINIAN EMPLOYES OF THE CLUB AND A POLISH GIRL, THE LATEST OFFICIAL CASUALTY LIST SHOWED. THE OTHER DEAD AND THE WOUNDED WERE NOT IDENTIFIED. OF THE WOUNDED, ALL WERE DESCRIBED AS "SERIOUSLY HURT," AND THREE AS "DANGEROUSLY HURT."

ALTHOUGH FIRST REPORTS OF THE EXPLOSION LISTED 24 PERSONS AS MISSING, THE LATEST OFFICIAL REPORT DID NOT MENTION ANY MISSING AND IT WAS ASSUMED THAT ALL PERSONS IN THE BUILDING AT THE TIME HAD BEEN LOCATED, ALTHOUGH RESCUE SQUADS CONTINUED THROUGHOUT THE NIGHT TO COMB THE WRECKAGE.

THE BOMBING OF THE HAIFA CAR PARKING LOT, WHICH EVIDENTLY RESULTED IN NO CASUALTIES, OCCURRED WHEN SIX ARMED MEN OVERPOWERED GUARDS AND SET OFF THE BLASTS UNDER ABOUT 15 AUTOMOBILES.

THE ATTACK ON THE ARMY CAMP AT BEIT LID WAS A HIT-AND-RUN AFFAIR IN WHICH THE ATTACKERS OPENED FIRE WITH MORTARS AND MACHINE GUNS, BUT DID NOT ATTEMPT TO ENGAGE THE BRITISH IN ANY PROLONGED BATTLE.

WITH JERUSALEM EXPLOSION (140)

JERUSALEM, MARCH 1-(AP)-SEVEN BRITISH OFFICERS, SUNBATHING ON THE ROOF OF THE GOLDSMITH OFFICERS CLUB, MIRACULOUSLY ESCAPED WITHOUT SERIOUS INJURY WHEN THE THREE-STORY BUILDING WAS WRECKED BY EXPLOSIVES THIS AFTERNOON.

"WE WERE BLOWN STRAIGHT UP INTO THE AIR AND THE NEXT THING WE KNEW WE WERE LYING ON TOP OF THE TUBBLE," SAID A ROYAL ENGINEER CAPTAIN, ONE OF THE THREE WHO TOBOGGANED DOWN THE WRECKAGE.

CAPT. MICHAEL GIBBS, INTELLIGENCE OFFICER WHO CAME DOWN BY LADDER FROM A SECTION OF THE ROOF STILL RELATIVELY INTACT, SAID HE HEARD MACHINE GUN FIRE BEFORE THE BLAST.

PALESTINE

JERUSALEM, MARCH 1-(AP)-THIRTEEN HUNDRED UNCERTIFIED JEWISH IMMIGRANTS--TAKEN OFF A REFUGEE SHIP AT HAIFA YESTERDAY DURING A TENSE DAY IN WHICH A BOMB BLAST KILLED TWO PERSONS-- CRUISED IN PALESTINE WATERS TODAY, AWAITING A FINAL COURT DECISION AS TO THEIR STATUS, EXPECTED TUESDA.

IF THE RULING, ASKED BY THE JEWISH COMMUNITY COUNCIL IN PALESTINE'S HIGH COURT, GOES AGAINST THEM THEY WILL BE TAKEN TO DETENTION CAMPS ON CYPRUS ABOARD BRITISH TROOP TRANSPORTS TO JOIN THOUSANDS OF OTHER SUCH REFUGEES WHO HAVE SOUGHT TO RUN THE BLOCKADE.

THE HIGH COURT, ON PETITION OF THE COMMUNITY COUNCIL, GRANTED A RESTRAINING ORDER YESTERDAY PREVENTING THE BRITISH FROM DEPORTING THE IMMIGRANTS TAKEN FROM THE BEACHED REFUGEE SHIP, HAIM ARLOSOROFF, UNTIL FINAL RULING OF THE COURT.

THE CITY OF HAIFA ITSELF WAS QUIET THIS MORNING, BUT TWO JEWISH CIVILIANS WERE DEAD AND FOUR PERSONS WERE IN HOSPITALS AS A RESULT OF YESTERDAY'S BOMB EXPLOSION WHICH WRECKED TWO FLOORS OF BARCLAY'S BANK.

THE HAIM ARLOSOROFF STILL LAY AGROUND OFF SUBURBAN BAT GALIM, AT THE POINT WHERE BRITISH SAILORS REMOVED HER PASSENGERS YESTERDAY AMID ANGRY DEMONSTRATIONS ASHORE. THE VESSEL, RUMORS IN HAIFA SAID, LEFT FROM A SWEDISH PORT BUT HER PASSENGERS APPARENTLY WERE FROM EASTERN EUROPE.

AN AMERICAN CONSULAR OFFICIAL INVESTIGATING REPORTS THAT THE REFUGEE SHIP HAD AN AMERICAN CAPTAIN AND CREW SAID LAST NIGHT THAT OF 10 CREWMEN IDENTIFIED, ONLY TWO CLAIMED TO BE AMERICAN. PASSENGERS SAID THEY HAD BEEN AT SEA FIVE WEEKS AND WITHOUT WATER FOR TWO DAYS WHEN INTERCEPTED BY BRITISH NAVAL CRAFT.

THE AREA WAS CORDONED OFF IMMEDIATELY WHILE RESCUE WORKERS SEARCHED THE WRECKAGE FOR INJURED AND POLICE COMBED THE NEIGHBORHOOD, INCLUDING THE YESHURON SYNAGOGUE AND THE JEWISH AGENCY BUILDING JUST ACROSS FASHIONABLE KING GEORGE AVENUE FROM THE CLUB, FOR TRACE OF THE ATTACKERS. ADD JERUSALEM (AL-BIOT) XXXWRECKAGE

A CURFEW BEGINNING AT 7 P.M. WAS ORDERED FOR THE GREATER PART OF JERUSALEM. A LARGE SECTION OF THE CITY WAS WITHOUT ELECTRIC LIGHT BECAUSE THE EXPLOSION DAMAGED A POWER LINE. (DAVIDSON)

THREE OF THE ATTACKERS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN WOUNDED AND CAPTURED, BUT THERE WAS NO CONFIRMATION FROM POLICE.

A JEWISH-OWNED TRUCK EMPLOYED RECENTLY IN THE VICINITY TO HAUL BUILDING MATERIALS WAS FOUND PARKED ABOUT 50 YARDS FROM THE WRECKED CLUB AND OFFICERS SAID IT MIGHT BE THE VEHICLE USED IN THE ATTACK.

THE CLUB, A JEWISH OWNED BUILDING LEASED BY THE ARMY, NORMALLY HOUSES 35 OFFICERS AND SIX EMPLOYES OF THE NAAFI (BRITISH EQUIVALENT OF THE U.S. ARMY POST EXCHANGE). IT IS ON THE FRINGE OF THE JEWISH BUSINESS SECTION AND ABOUT 200 YARDS FROM THE AMERICAN CONSULATE GENERAL.

THE BLAST SHATTERED WINDOWS FOR BLOCKS AROUND.

A POLICE REPORT SAID ABOUT 30 OFFICERS AND 20 OTHER PERSONS WERE IN THE BUILDING WHEN THE EXPLOSION OCCURRED. SEVERAL OFFICERS SUNBATHING ON THE ROOF MIRACULOUSLY ESCAPED INJURY WHEN THEY WERE STRANDED ON A CORNER WHICH DID NOT COLLAPSE WITH THE REMAINDER OF THE STRUCTURE.

TWELVE SURVIVORS HAD BEEN REMOVED TO HOSPITALS BY AMBULANCES WITHIN 20 MINUTES AFTER THE BLAST.

THE CLUB HAD BACHELOR OFFICERS' LIVING QUARTERS ON THREE FLOORS AND A LOUNGE, BAR AND RESTAURANT ON THE GROUND FLOOR. THERE WAS NO ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE NUMBER OF OFFICERS KILLED OR INJURED OR OF THE NUMBER OF CIVILIANS, EMPLOYES OR GUESTS, WHO WERE VICTIMS.

IN HAIFA 1,350 PASSENGERS FROM A JEWISH REFUGEE SHIP HAD BEEN TRANSFERRED ABOARD THREE BRITISH TRANSPORTS WHICH WERE HELD OFFSHORE AWAITING DECISION OF THE PALESTINE HIGH COURT ON WHETHER THEY SHOULD BE DEPORTED TO CYPRUS.

SOVIET INDUSTRY (400)

LONDON, MARCH 1--(AP)--THE SOVIET COUNCIL OF MINISTERS (CABINET) SAID TODAY THAT A LAG IN RUSSIAN COAL PRODUCTION WAS DELAYING THE NATION'S WHOLE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT UNDER THE CURRENT FIVE-YEAR PLAN.

THE COUNCIL LISTED ECONOMIC "SHORTCOMINGS" OF 1946 AND "FUNDAMENTAL TASKS" FOR 1947 IN A DECREE BROADCAST BY THE MOSCOW RADIO TO REGIONAL LISTENING POSTS FOR PUBLICATION THROUGHOUT RUSSIA. THE SOVIET MONITOR PICKED UP THE BROADCAST HERE.

"THE COAL INDUSTRY, XXX EXPERIENCING THE GREATEST DIFFICULTIES AS A RESULT OF THE CONSEQUENCES OF THE WAR, IS LAGGING BEHIND, THUS HOLDING UP THE DEVELOPMENT OF OTHER BRANCHES OF HEAVY INDUSTRY, RAILWAY TRANSPORT AND THE WHOLE NATIONAL ECONOMY," SAID THE MONITOR'S ABSTRACT OF THE DECREE.

ONLY YESTERDAY, THE COMMUNIST PARTY'S CENTRAL COMMITTEE IN MOSCOW, URGING A DRIVE FOR MORE BREAD, INDICATED THAT SOVIET GRAIN PRODUCTION WAS SO FAR BELOW THE PRE-WAR LEVEL THAT AT LEAST THREE YEARS WOULD BE NEEDED TO REGAIN THAT LEVEL.

TODAY'S DECREE, AS RECORDED BY THE SOVIET MONITOR, SAID "RESUMPTION OF THE PRODUCTION OF CONSUMER GOODS IS SLOWER THAN WARRANTED. THE 1946 HOUSING PROGRAM IS NOT FULFILLED AND THIS IS CAUSING A HOLDUP OF LABOR PRODUCTIVITY. XXX."

MAR 1947

LISTED AS "SERIOUSLY LAGGING BEHIND" RUSSIA'S NEEDS WERE ELECTRICAL AND AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERING AND THE PRODUCTION OF RAILS, ROLLING-STOCK WHEELS, PIPES FOR THE OIL INDUSTRY AND EQUIPMENT FOR THE TIMBER INDUSTRY.

"DESPITE THE FACT THAT PRODUCTION OF BUILDING MATERIALS INCREASED IN 1946," CONTINUED THE REPORT, "THE INCREASE, WHERE DEVELOPMENT OF THE TIMBER INDUSTRY IS CONCERNED, DOES NOT MEET THE NEEDS OF THE NATIONAL ECONOMY."

THE DECREE, THE MONITOR SAID, INCLUDED AMONG 1947 GOALS:

(1) "AN ALL-AROUND RISE IN FUEL-INDUSTRY PRODUCTION--IN THE FIRST PLACE GREATER COAL AND OIL OUTPUT XXX."

(2) "GREATER DEVELOPMENT OF CONSUMER-GOODS INDUSTRIES," INCLUDING A 27 PERCENT PRODUCTION BOOST IN THE TEXTILE AND OTHER LIGHT INDUSTRIES.

(3) "THE ENDING OF BACKWARDNESS IN THE MECHANIZATION OF LABOR, PARTICULARLY IN THE MINING, BUILDING AND TIMBER INDUSTRIES AND IN LOADING AND UNLOADING WORK IN TRANSPORT."

(4) "TRADE TURNOVER, STATE AND COOPERATIVE, TO THE SUM OF 325 BILLION RUBLES AT CURRENT PRICES ALONG WITH ALL-AROUND DEVELOPMENT OF STATE AND COOPERATIVE TRADE AS WELL AS TRADE IN THE TOWNS."

THE OFFICIAL EXCHANGE RATE IS 5.3 RUBLES TO THE DOLLAR; THE DIPLOMATIC RATE IS 12 TO THE DOLLAR.

THE MONITOR'S REPORT GAVE NO DETAILED PRODUCTION STATISTICS.

BY ROBERT HEWETT

(ADVANCE) LONDON, MARCH 1--(AP)- BRITONS SAID GOODBYE WITHOUT REGRET LAST WEEK TO A FATEFUL FEBRUARY--28 HARSH, CRISIS-SCARRED DAYS THAT MANY CONSERVATIVES AND LABORITES AGREE WELL MAY BE MARKED AS THE CROSSROADS IN THE GREAT BRITISH SOCIALIST EXPERIMENT IN "PEACEFUL REVOLUTION."

IN ONE SHORT MONTH, THE WORST COLD WAVE IN HALF A CENTURY RIPPED AN UGLY CRACK THROUGH AN INDUSTRIAL SYSTEM WORN OUT BY TWO WARS AND A WORLD DEPRESSION. WITH THE ECONOMIC BREAKDOWN CAME THE LABOR GOVERNMENT'S SHARPEST CHALLENGE OF 18 MONTHS IN POWER.

FACTORY SHUTDOWNS, SUDDEN UNEMPLOYMENT AND ELECTRICITY CUTS IN EVERY HOME BROUGHT MR. AVERAGE CITIZEN FACE TO FACE WITH THE HARD, UNPLEASANT TRUTH THAT HAD BEE SIGNALLED FOR MONTHS: WAR-STRAINED BRITAIN WAS IN A BAD WAY AND ONLY HARD WORK BY EVERYBODY WOULD GET HER OUT.

"HARD-WORK"--THOSE TWO WORDS-CAME FROM BRITAIN'S LEADERS, REGARDLESS OF POLITICS, AS THE STRONGEST REMEDY FOR HER DESPERATE ECONOMIC ILLNESS.

NO ONE PREDICTS THE LABOR GOVERNMENT'S BIG MAJORITY IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS WILL BE TOPPLED BY THE ANGRY STORM OF CHARGES AND COUNTERCHARGES THAT ACCOMPANIED THE FEBRUARY COAL SHORTAGE CRISIS. THE CONSERVATIVE CHARGED THAT SOCIALIST PLANNERS HAD MUDDLED.

LABOR COUNTERCHARGED THAT THE NATION WAS SIMPLY REAPING A HARVEST OF CONSERVATIVE NEGLECT BEFORE THE WAR. CONSERVATIVE LEADER WINSTON CHURCHILL HIMSELF QUENCHED HASTY TALK OF A COALITION GOVERNMENT.

BUT TO PRIME MINISTER ATTLEE FELL THE UNPOPULAR MAR 1947
TASK OF DEMANDING FROM THE WORKERS WHO VOTED FOR HIS LABOR GOVERNMENT STILL HARDER WORK AND STILL MORE SACRIFICES AFTER SIX YEARS OF WAR. ON THEIR RESPONSE DEPENDS THE FUTURE OF HIS GOVERNMENT AND ITS PLANS FOR MODIFIED SOCIALISM.

"THE TASK IS CERTAINLY A HEAVY ONE," ATTLEE DECLARED IN SUBMITTING HIS HARDER AND WORK-LESS LEISURE PROGRAM TO PARLIAMENT. "BUT (THE PEOPLE) CAN ACHIEVE VICTORY IN THE ECONOMIC FIELD AS IN THE SIX YEARS OF WAR THEY TRIUMPHED OVER THE ENEMY."

THE ALTERNATIVE, AS PICTURED IN A SPEECH BY CHANCELLOR OF THE EXCHEQUER HUGH DALTON, WAS "YOU WILL ALL HAVE LESS TO EAT AND LESS TO SMOKE, AND FEWER CLOTHES AND BOOTS AND SHOES TO WEAR, AND FEWER HOUSES AND LESS FURNITURE, AND LESS EMPLOYMENT IN MANY INDUSTRIES X X X THAT IS THE DANGER WE HAVE TO DEFEAT."

A146

GOVERNMENT LEADERS SAW ONE BRIGHT SPOT IN THE CRISIS-- THEY CLAIMED, THE ECONOMIC BREAKDOWN HAS BROUGHT HOME TO THE AVERAGE WORKER THE NEED FOR INCREASED PRODUCTION, AND HAS SOLIDIFIED SUPPORT BEHIND THE SOCIALIST PROGRAM. ATTLEE DECLARED "WE ARE GOING AHEAD WITH OUR WHOLE PROGRAM."

DEPUTY CONSERVATIVE LEADER ANTHONY EDEN SPOKE FOR HIS PARTY WHEN HE CALLED ON THE GOVERNMENT TO "PUT FIRST THINGS FIRST" AND HALT ITS SOCIALIZATION PROGRAM DURING THE ALL-OUT DRIVE FOR RECOVERY.

BRITAIN'S INDUSTRIAL MANPOWER SHORTAGE HAD REPERCUSSIONS ON ITS FOREIGN POLICY.

ATTLEE CREATED A SENSATION WITH HIS ANNOUNCEMENT BRITAIN WOULD QUIT INDIA BY JUNE, 1948 AND A GOVERNMENT SPOKESMAN LATER EXPLAINED THAT THE EMPIRE SIMPLY COULDN'T PHYSICALLY MAINTAIN RULE IN INDIA AFTER NEXT YEAR.

FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN ANNOUNCED BRITAIN WOULD END HER 30-YEAR-ATTEMPT TO SETTLE THE PALESTINE PROBLEM AND TURN IT OVER TO THE UNITED NATIONS. THE DECISION POINTED UP GROWING PROTESTS IN LABOR'S OWN RANKS AGAINST MAINTAINING 100,000 TROOPS IN THE HOLY LAND WHILE BRITISH PRODUCTION LINES ARE UNDERMANNED.

THE GOVERNMENT'S DECISION TO KEEP 1,087,000 IN THE ARMED FORCES UP TO 1948, COMPARED WITH 1,427,000 STRENGTH IN DECEMBER 1946, HAS ALREADY STIRRED UP OPPOSITION FROM LEFTWING LABOR SUPPORTERS WHO WANT MORE DRASTIC DEMOBILIZATION.

CHIEF TEST OF THE ATTLEE CABINET'S CONTROL OVER ITS OWN LABOR SUPPORTERS, HOWEVER, WILL COME IN REACTION OF THE TRADE UNIONS TO THE GOVERNMENT PROGRAM FOR INCREASED PRODUCTION, INCLUDING A TRADITION-BREAKING PROPOSAL TO PUT SEVEN MILLION FACTORY WORKERS ON NIGHT WORKING SHIFTS.

THE GOVERNMENT'S DECISION TO PRESS FOR WIDESPREAD NIGHT WORK-- BITTERLY FOUGHT FOR YEARS BY BRITAIN'S STRONG TRADE UNIONS-- WAS ANNOUNCED THIS WEEK IN COMMONS AS THE "ONLY SOLUTION" TO PREVENT THE NATION'S DILAPIDATED ELECTRICITY SYSTEM FROM BREAKING DOWN. BRITAIN'S ELECTRIC PLANT CANNOT GENERATE SUFFICIENT POWER TO CARRY THE PEAK LOAD- HERETOFORE CONCENTRATED DURING DAYLIGHT HOURS - OF BOTH INDUSTRIAL AND DOMESTIC USERS.

WORKERS ALSO MUST BOOST INDIVIDUAL PRODUCTION BY WORKING HARDER, THE GOVERNMENT SAID IN ITS 1947 ECONOMIC PROGRAM. POINTING OUT THAT THE MAN-HOUR PRODUCTION WAS DOWN FROM PRE-WAR LEVELS IN MANY INDUSTRIES, THE PROGRAM CALLED FOR INCREASED INDIVIDUAL EFFORTS PENDING INSTALLATION OF MORE LABOR -SAVING MACHINERY.

A147

"SPEED UP" PRACTICES DEMANDED BY THE GOVERNMENT RUN DIRECTLY CONTRARY TO HARD-WON TRADE UNION TRADITIONS IN BRITAIN. IF TRADE UNION LEADERS, RELUCTANT TO URGE DISAGREEABLE PRACTICES ON THEIR MEMBERS, BALK AT JOINING ATTLEE'S "VOLUNTARY" PROGRAM THE WHOLE LABOR GOVERNMENT, AS WELL AS THE NATION, IS BOUND TO SUFFER.

THE INFLUENTIAL TIMES SUMMED IT UP THIS WAY:

"ONLY SHEER PHYSICAL EFFORT CAN HOLD THE LINE. X X X "IN THIS SENSE THE TRADE UNION LEADERS HOLD THE FATE OF THIS COUNTRY IN THEIR HANDS AS THE R. A. F. HELD IT SEVEN YEARS AGO."

LONDON MAR. 1-(AP)-A GOVERNMENT SPOKESMAN WARNED TONIGHT THAT BRITAIN, READYING FOR MONDAY'S RETURN TO FULL PRODUCTION, "MAY EASILY GET BACK INTO A POSITION OF CRISIS."

RETURNING ELECTRIC POWER TO IDLE INDUSTRIES IS CONDITIONAL ON CONTINUED SAVINGS OF CURRENT BY HOME OWNERS AND OTHER NON-INDUSTRIAL ELECTRICITY USERS SIR GUY NOTT-BOWER, DEPUTY SECRETARY OF THE FUEL MINISTRY, TOLD A NEWS CONFERENCE.

"IF THERE IS ANYTHING LIKE A LET-UP ON THE PART OF THESE NON-ESSENTIAL CONSUMERS, WE MAY EASILY GET BACK INTO A POSITION OF CRISIS," HE SAID.

HOMES AND NON-ESSENTIAL INDUSTRIES STILL REMAIN UNDER A FIVE HOUR DAILY BAN ON THE USE OF ELECTRICITY THROUGHOUT THE KINGDOM. BUT SMALL AMOUNTS OF ELECTRICITY WERE FREED TODAY TO INDUSTRIAL PLANTS FOR PREPARATIONS TO GET BUSY AGAIN MONDAY, WHEN MOST OF THE 2,000,000 BRITISH WORKERS MADE IDLE BY A DRASTIC LACK OF FUEL WILL GET BACK TO WORK.

SIR GUY ANNOUNCED TOTAL SAVINGS OF COAL SINCE THE SHUTDOWN BEGAN FEB. 10 WERE 513,692 TONS--UNOUGH TO RUN ALL THE NATIONS ELECTRICITY GENERATING PLANTS FOR MORE THAN SIX DAYS. BRITISH (200)

LONDON, MARCH 1-(AP)-NEW FALLS OF SNOW AND RETURNING COLD WEATHER THREATENED COAL TRANSPORT ANEW TODAY ON THE HEELS OF A GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCEMENT THAT BRITAIN'S INDUSTRIAL "BLACKOUT" WOULD END MONDAY, AFTER THREE WEEKS OF WIDESPREAD FACTORY SHUTDOWNS WHICH CAUSED UNEMPLOYMENT FOR MILLIONS.

DESPITE THE ENDING OF THE DRASTIC POWER EMBARGO IN HALF OF ENGLAND'S FACTORIES, PRIME MINISTER ATTLEE'S OFFICE ANNOUNCED THAT THE NEED TO SAVE COAL AT THE POWER GENERATORS WAS "AS URGENT AS EVER" AND SAID THE PRESENT FIVE-HOUR-DAY ELECTRICITY CUTS IN ALL BRITISH HOMES AND OFFICES WOULD CONTINUE.

ELECTRIC POWER WILL BE RESTORED FOR ALL INDUSTRY IN LONDON AND IN NORTHEAST AND SOUTHWEST ENGLAND MONDAY, THE GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCEMENT SAID. IN THE MIDLANDS, FACTORIES REOPENED LAST MONDAY AFTER A TWO-WEEK SHUTDOWN.

ATTLEE TOLD THE HOUSE OF COMMONS THAT THE INDUSTRIAL POWER EMBARGO IN 38 WELSH AND ENGLISH COUNTIES AND THE FIVE-HOUR CUTS FOR DOMESTIC USERS HAD SUCCEEDED IN BUILDING UP THE COAL RESERVE AT POWER STATIONS TO A 16 AND A HALF DAYS SUPPLY, COMPARED TO THE NINE DAY RESERVE WHEN THE SHUT-DOWN WAS ORDERED FEB. 10.

"DURING THIS PAST YEAR," ATTLEE DECLARED, "WE HAVE ALL EXPERIENCED SOME DEGREE OF DISAPPOINTMENT WITH UNO. WE HAD HOPED FOR GREATER PROGRESS AND GREATER UNITY IN THE ASSEMBLY AND THE SECURITY COUNCIL.

"I SHARE THAT DISAPPOINTMENT. BUT OUR OTHER ACTIVITIES (IN THE U.N.) GIVE US GREAT CAUSE FOR HOPE."

HE LISTED THESE ACTIVITIES AS THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL, EDUCATIONAL, SCIENTIFIC AND CULTURAL ORGANIZATION, FOOD AND AGRICULTURAL ORGANIZATION AND COMMISSIONS DEALING WITH EMPLOYMENT, TRANSPORT, HUMAN RIGHTS AND OTHER SUBJECTS.

(ADVANCE)-NEW YORK, MARCH 1-(AP)-TRYGVE LIE, SECRETARY-GENERAL OF THE UNITED NATIONS, DECLARED TODAY THAT AS LONG AS THE GERMAN AND JAPANESE PEACE TREATIES REMAIN UNSIGNED "THERE WILL REMAIN SERIOUS ISSUES BETWEEN THE VICTORIOUS POWERS."

IN A SPEECH BEFORE THE LEAGUE FOR INDUSTRIAL DEMOCRACY, LIE DECLARED THAT THESE ISSUES WOULD IN TURN BE REFLECTED IN ALL THE RELATIONS BETWEEN THE POWERS AND IN THE DELIBERATIONS OF THE VARIOUS ORGANS OF THE UNITED NATIONS.

"WE ALL REALIZE," HE SAID, "THAT THESE TREATIES WILL NOT BE EASY TO CONCLUDE. ALL OF THE POWERS HAVE VERY DEFINITE IDEAS REGARDING THE SCOPE OF THEIR OWN NATIONAL INTERESTS, IMMEDIATE AND LONG-TERM. THESE IDEAS WILL HAVE TO BE FITTED TOGETHER, AND IN SOME CASES IT WILL BE HARD TO FIND A COMPROMISE."

STRESSING THE FEAR OF WAR WILL REMAIN IN THE MINDS OF PEOPLE THROUGHOUT THE WORLD UNTIL "COMPLETE PEACE" IS ACHIEVED, HE ADDED:

"THE ONE THING WHICH WE ARE ENTITLED TO EXPECT IS THAT THESE COMPROMISES WILL BE SEARCHED OUT AND FOUND IN A SPIRIT OF AGREEMENT. AGREEMENT SIMPLY MUST BE REACHED AND I MAY ADD, WITHOUT HESITATION, THAT THE WORLD GROWS IMPATIENT."

HE SAID THAT MUCH OF THE FEAR NOW PREVALENT COULD BE REMOVED BY THE EXERCISE OF COMMON SENSE.

"COMMON SENSE TELLS US THAT THE GREAT NATIONS OF THE WORLD ARE DEEPLY INVOLVED IN THEIR OWN DOMESTIC PROBLEMS OF RECONVERSION AND RECONSTRUCTION," LIE SAID. "WE KNOW THAT NONE OF THE GOVERNMENTS OF THESE COUNTRIES LOOKS TO WAR AS THE ANSWER TO THESE PROBLEMS. EVERYBODY IS ENTITLED TO HIS OWN PRIVATE OPINION OF THE LEADERS OF THE WORLD, BUT NOBODY CAN BELIEVE THAT THEY ARE SUICIDAL MANIACS.

"WE ALL KNOW FROM FIRST HAND EXPERIENCE THAT MODERN WAR IS TOO SWEEPING IN ITS EFFECTS, AND TOO DEMANDING IN ITS REQUIREMENTS OF EVERYBODY, TO BE A PAYING PROPOSITION FOR ANYBODY WHO DELIBERATELY PLANS IT."

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 1-(AP)-THE UNITED NATIONS PREPARED TODAY TO GO TO THE ECONOMIC AID OF THE WAR-RAVAGED NATIONS OF EUROPE.

BEFORE THE U.N. ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL WAS A BRITISH APPEAL TO GIVE TOP PRIORITY TO THE CREATION OF A PERMANENT ECONOMIC COMMISSION WHICH WOULD HELP EUROPE GET BACK ON ITS FEET.

HECTOR MCNEIL, BRITISH MINISTER OF STATE, TOLD THE COUNCIL AS IT OPENED ITS FOURTH SESSION YESTERDAY THAT IN HIS OPINION THIS WAS THE MOST IMPORTANT ISSUE BEFORE THE 18-MEMBER BODY.

IT APPEARED LIKELY THAT THE COUNCIL WOULD BEGIN DEBATE ON THE QUESTION OF CREATING THE COMMISSION NEXT WEEK.

DELEGATES WERE GENERALLY AGREED THAT SUCH A COMMISSION SHOULD BE CREATED, BUT RUSSIA AND THE WESTERN POWERS WERE EXPECTED TO CLASH OVER THE EXACT DUTIES OF THE PROPOSED AGENCY.

MEANWHILE, GREAT BRITAIN--UNDER PRODDING FROM THE AMERICAN STATE DEPARTMENT TO CLARIFY ITS IMMEDIATE INTENTIONS IN PALESTINE--EXPRESSED WILLINGNESS TO ACCEPT ANY OBLIGATIONS LAID DOWN BY THE UNITED NATIONS FOR LIQUIDATION OF THE HOLY LAND MANDATE.

MCNEIL, AT A SPECIAL NEWS CONFERENCE, EMPHASIZED HOWEVER THAT HIS COUNTRY HAD "NOT YET" MADE A FORMAL REQUEST FOR A SPECIAL SESSION OF THE U.N. ASSEMBLY TO DEAL WITH PALESTINE.

HE INDICATED THAT FINAL DECISION ON WHETHER TO CALL FOR A SPECIAL SESSION MIGHT BE MADE BEFORE BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN LEAVES LONDON FOR THE MOSCOW FOREIGN MINISTERS' MEETING MARCH 10.

CONCERNING STYMIED BRITISH-EGYPTIAN TREATY NEGOTIATIONS, MCNEIL SAID THE NEXT MOVE WAS UP TO EGYPT, WHICH HAS INDICATED AN INTENTION TO BRING THE DISPUTE BEFORE THE SECURITY COUNCIL BY THE MIDDLE OF MARCH. MCNEIL SAID BRITAIN WOULD NOT OBJECT TO SUCH A COURSE, BUT ADDED:

"WE WOULD BE GLAD TO RESUME THE TALKS IF EGYPT HAS ANYTHING NEW TO OFFER. WE WANT TO BE SURE THE SUDAN HAS THE RIGHT TO DETERMINE HER OWN FUTURE. THAT'S THE ONLY POINT OUTSTANDING."

THE NEGOTIATIONS BROKE DOWN OVER BRITAIN'S INSISTENCE ON SELF-DETERMINATION OF RULE OVER THE ANGLO-EGYPTIAN SUDAN AND EGYPTIAN CLAIMS WHICH WOULD PLACE THE SUDAN UNDER EGYPTIAN SOVEREIGNTY.

U.N.-LANGENHOVE

BY FRANCIS W.CARPENTER

MAR 1947

NEW YORK, MARCH 1-(AP)-FERNAND VAN LANGENHOVE OF BELGIUM DECLARED TODAY THAT THE ABSENCE OF ANY VETO DURING THE PAST MONTH OF IMPORTANT SESSIONS OF THE UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL WAS "TRULY ENCOURAGING" FOR THE FUTURE OF THE WORLD PEACE AGENCY.

THE SLIM, GREY-HAIRED BELGIAN SUMMED UP HIS OPINIONS TODAY IN AN INTERVIEW WITH THE ASSOCIATED PRESS AS HE YIELDED THE COUNCIL PRESIDENCY TO DR.OSWALDO ARANHA, OF BRAZIL. HE BREATHED A SIGH OF RELIEF THAT HIS MONTH'S ASSIGNMENT WAS COMPLETED--AND A SIGH OF SATISFACTION THAT POSITIVE ACCOMPLISHMENTS HAD BEEN RECORDED.

THE SECURITY COUNCIL, IN ONE OF ITS BUSIEST MONTHS, SET UP A COMMISSION FOR CONVENTIONAL ARMAMENTS TO INITIATE STEPS TOWARD WORLD ARMS LIMITATION; GOT DOWN TO BRASS TACKS ON THE ATOMIC ENERGY CONTROL ISSUE BETWEEN RUSSIA AND THE UNITED STATES; TOLD ITS BALKANS COMMISSION NOT TO INTERFERE IN INTERNAL AFFAIRS IN THE COUNTRIES IT IS INVESTIGATING, AND NAMED A SUB-COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE FACTS IN BRITAIN'S CHARGES OF MINE-LAYING AGAINST ALBANIA.

THIS PROGRESS WAS REGARDED WITH SATISFACTION BY SEVERAL DELEGATES.

BUT THE WIRY BELGIAN, AN OLD HAND AT INTERNATIONAL GATHERINGS FROM HIS EXPERIENCES IN THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS AND THE BELGIAN FOREIGN OFFICE, WAS PARTICULARLY DELIGHTED THAT NONE OF THE FIVE GREAT POWERS TOSSED IN A VETO DURING HIS TERM AS PRESIDENT.

SEATED IN HIS SKYSCRAPER OFFICE IN DOWNTOWN MANHATTAN, HE SAID:

"TRUE, IT HAPPENED THAT DIVERGENT OPINIONS WERE EXPRESSED BY THE PERMANENT MEMBERS OF THE COUNCIL ON POINTS OF PROCEDURE OR OF SUBSTANCE. BUT DESPITE THE FACT THAT THESE OPINIONS WERE VOICED WITH ALL THE VIGOR NECESSARY, THOSE IN THE MINORITY WHILE ABSTAINING FROM VOTING, YIELDED GOOD-NATUREDLY TO THE MAJORITY. THIS IS A PROGRESS WHICH IS TRULY ENCOURAGING FOR THE FUTURE."

THE MINORITY IN THIS INSTANCE WAS ANDREI A.GROMYKO, WHO CONTENDED THAT APPOINTMENT OF THE SUB-COMMITTEE ON ALBANIA WAS A MATTER OF SUBSTANCE (AN ESPECIALLY IMPORTANT MATTER) WHICH HE COULD KILL BY VETO. BUT, HE TOLD THE COUNCIL HE WOULD NOT GO CONTRARY TO THE MAJORITY.

VAN LANGENHOVE RULED THE QUESTION WAS NOT SUBJECT TO THE VETO AND GROMYKO DID NOT CHOOSE TO PRESS THE ISSUE FURTHER THAN TO STATE HIS CASE.

(MORE)

"THE DEBATES IN THE COURSE OF FEBRUARY HAVE ALSO MANIFESTED A NOTABLE AMELIORATION IN THE FUNCTIONING OF THE SECURITY COUNCIL," VAN LANGENHOVE SAID. "THE DISCUSSIONS NOT ONLY TOOK PLACE IN DIGNITY BUT WERE ALL ALONG OF A CONCRETE NATURE. THERE WERE PRACTICALLY NO STATEMENTS MADE FOR THE SOLE PURPOSE OF PROPAGANDA OR FOR INTERNAL CONSUMPTION ONLY.

"BEFORE THE LAST ASSEMBLY STARTED MANY WERE ENTITLED TO FEAR THAT THE ACTIVITY OF THE SECURITY COUNCIL MIGHT BE PARALYZED BY THE EXERCISE OF THE VETO. THIS DANGER, HOWEVER, DID NOT OCCUR IN THE COURSE OF THE RECENT DISCUSSIONS. WHAT'S MORE, POSITIVE DECISIONS COULD BE REACHED IN SUCH FIELDS AS: DISARMAMENT, INVESTIGATION IN CONNECTION WITH THE GREEK FRONTIER INCIDENTS, THE ANGLO-ALBANIAN DISPUTE." MAR 1947

BERLIN, MARCH 1-(AP)-THE RUSSIAN LICENSED NEWSPAPER NACHT EXPRESS SAID TODAY THAT THE AIRING OF ALLIED DISAGREEMENTS OVER THE ADMINISTRATION OF GERMANY BY THE RUSSIAN, AMERICAN AND BRITISH MILITARY GOVERNORS" WAS NOT PLEASING TO US GERMANS."

LT. GEN. LUCIUS D. CLAY AND SIR SHOLTO DOUGLAS YESTERDAY DENIED ALLEGATIONS BY SOVIET MARSHAL VASSILY D. SOKOLOVSKY A DAY EARLIER THAT THE AMERICANS AND BRITISH WERE VIOLATING THE POTSDAM AGREEMENT AND PARTITIONING GERMANY BY MERGING THE ECONOMIES OF THEIR ZONES.

MOSCOW, MARCH 1-(AP)-THE SOVIET PERIODICAL NEW TIMES SAID TODAY THAT "GENUINE COMPLETE MILITARY, AS WELL AS ECONOMIC, DISARMAMENT MUST BE THE CORNERSTONE OF THE PEACE TREATY WITH GERMANY."

THE WEEKLY, WHICH CONCERNS ITSELF LARGELY WITH FOREIGN POLICY MATTERS, SAID THAT "ONLY UPON SUCH A FOUNDATION IS IT CONCEIVABLY POSSIBLE TO AVERT A RELAPSE INTO GERMAN AGGRESSION, AND TO TURN GERMANY INTO A A PEACEFUL DEMOCRATIC STATE."

THIS HAS BEEN DONE IN THE SOVIET ZONE, THE EDITORIAL SAID, BUT IT ADDED THAT THE BRITISH AND AMERICANS WERE "IN SHARP CONTRADICTION WITH THE DECISIONS OF THE BERLIN CONFERENCE."

IN ANOTHER NEW TIMES ARTICLE, COMMENTATOR D. ORLOV, DISCUSSING THE BRITISH-AMERICAN ECONOMIC AGREEMENT IN GERMANY, SAID IT WAS "DIRECTED AGAINST THE ECONOMIC UNITY OF GERMANY, AND THE REAL PURPOSE IS THE SUBORDINATION OF THE ECONOMY OF WESTERN GERMANY TO SELF-SEEKING INTERESTS OF ENGLISH AND AMERICAN MONOPOLIES."

THE ARTICLE ALSO CHARGED THAT THE OCCUPATION AUTHORITIES IN THE WESTERN ZONES WERE "NOT ONLY NOT HELPING TO SPEED UP REPARATIONS DELIVERIES, BUT ON THE CONTRARY SABOTAGING THEM."

IT SAID THE POTSDAM DECISIONS AS TO GIVE 25 PERCENT OF THE ENTERPRISES IN THE WESTERN ZONE TO THE SOVIET UNION, POLAND AND OTHER ALLIED COUNTRIES, BUT THAT UP TO THE PRESENT "ONLY 3 PERCENT HAS BEEN UNLOADED. ONLY 18 ENTERPRISES, NINE IN THE AMERICAN ZONE, EIGHT IN THE BRITISH AND ONE IN THE FRENCH HAVE BEEN DISMANTLED IN THE WESTERN ZONES."

MOSCOW, MARCH 1-(AP)-THE MAGAZINE NEW TIMES TODAY RENEWED ITS ATTACK ON JOHN FOSTER DULLES, ONE OF THE AMERICAN DELEGATES TO THE FORTHCOMING FOREIGN MINISTERS COUNCIL MEETING HERE, CALLING HIM ANTI-SOVIET AND A SLANDERER OF THE SOVIET PEOPLE.

IT IS ENOUGH TO READ HIS ARTICLE IN LIFE MAGAZINE LAST JUNE WHEREIN HE PERSISTENTLY PROPOSES A POLICY OF MILITARY, ECONOMIC AND OTHER PRESSURE ON THE SOVIET UNION. NANKING, SUNDAY, MARCH 2-(AP)-GENERALISSIMO CHIANG KAI-SHEK ASSUMED CHINA'S PREMIERSHIP TONIGHT BUT AUTHORITATIVE SOURCES PREDICTED HE SOON WOULD ASK A GENERAL FROM THE FAR WEST TO TAKE OVER.

THESE QUARTERS SAID GEN. CHANG CHUN, GOVERNOR OF SZECHWAN PROVINCE, HAD BEEN COMMISSIONED BY CHIANG TO REORGANIZE THE GOVERNMENT SO THAT THE GENERALISSIMO COULD BE RELIEVED AS SOON AS POSSIBLE OF HIS DUTIES AS PREMIER.

THEY PREDICTED THAT GENERAL CHANG, WHO SERVED ON GENERAL MARSHALL'S TRUCE COMMITTEE, WAS A LIKELY CHOICE FOR PREMIER BECAUSE HE HAD CHIANG'S CONFIDENCE AND HAD MAINTAINED COMPARATIVELY CLOSE RELATIONS WITH LEADERS OF THE YOUNG CHINA AND DEMOCRATIC SOCIALIST PARTIES.

THEY EMPHASIZED CHIANG WOULD NOT BE PREMIER IN A REORGANIZED GOVERNMENT BECAUSE THAT WOULD GIVE THE IMPRESSION THAT HIS KUOMINTANG PARTY WAS RELUCTANT TO END ONE-PARTY RULE.

THEY INSISTED THAT THE GENERALISSIMO ACCEPTED THE PREMIERSHIP ONLY AS AN EXPEDIENT TO SAVE THE TROUBLE OF SELECTING AN INTERIM PREMIER TO SERVE DURING A PERIOD OF TRANSITION.

THESE QUARTERS PREDICTED THAT THE GOVERNMENT WOULD BE REORGANIZED TO INCLUDE NON-MEMBERS OF THE KUOMINTANG BY MARCH 15, WHEN THE KUOMINTANG HOLDS ITS PLENARY SESSION.

THERE WERE INDICATIONS THAT BEHIND THE WHOLE QUESTION OF GOVERNMENT REORGANIZATION WAS A DETERMINATION BY THE GENERALISSIMO TO HEAD TOWARD ALL-OUT WAR TO SETTLE THE COMMUNIST PROBLEM ONCE AND FOR ALL.

NEW DELHI, MARCH 1-(AP)-CONGRESS PARTY AND MOSLEM LEAGUE LEADERS WERE SCHEDULED TO MEET TODAY TO DISCUSS THE POSSIBILITY OF A COMPROMISE WHICH OBSERVERS AID MIGHT LEAD TO THE LEAGUE ENDING ITS BOYCOTT OF THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY.

THE MEETING TOOK ON ADDED SIGNIFICANCE FOLLOWING RELIABLE REPORTS LAST NIGHT THAT THE LEADERS OF INDIA'S CHAMBER OF PRINCES HAD REFUSED TO ENTER THE ASSEMBLY UNLESS THE MOSLEM LEAGUE ALSO JOINED THAT BODY, NOW IN RECESS.

MAR 1947

ONE SOURCE SAID THE CHAMBER PLEDGED ITSELF TO WORK UNDER PROVISIONS OF THE BRITISH CABINET MISSION PLAN FOR CREATION OF AN INDEPENDENT INDIAN GOVERNMENT BUT THAT ITS LEADERS MAINTAINED THAT IF THE MOSLEM LEAGUE DOES NOT PARTICIPATE IN DRAWING UP THE NEW CONSTITUTION, PRIME MINISTER ATTLEE'S STATEMENT MAKES IT CLEAR THAT BRITAIN WOULD NOT ACCEPT THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY'S PRODUCT.

THE CHAMBER IS COMPOSED OF THE LEADERS OF THE SO-CALLED "NATIVE," OR PRINCELY, STATES.

FINANCE MINISTER LIAQUAT ALI KHAN, OF THE INTERIM CENTRAL GOVERNMENT, SUBMITTED TO THE CENTRAL ASSEMBLY YESTERDAY A PROPOSED BUDGET WHICH WOULD RAISE INCOME TAX EXEMPTIONS, IN THE LOWEST BRACKET, ABOLISH THE SALT TAX AND DOUBLE THE TEA EXPORT DUTY. FOR THE PAST FOUR MONTHS, GANDHI HAS BEEN HIKING THROUGH THE MOSLEM TERRITORY OF EASTERN BENGAL, WHICH, ALONG WITH BIHAR, WAS THE SCENE OF BLOODY CLASHES BETWEEN MOSLEMS AND HINDUS LAST FALL.

GOVERNMENT AUTHORITIES ESTIMATE THAT DURING THE OCTOBER COMMUNAL RIOTS IN EASTERN BENGAL, WHERE THE POPULATION IS 80 PE

GOVERNMENT AUTHORITIES ESTIMATE THAT DURING THE OCTOBER COMMUNAL RIOTS IN EASTERN BENGAL, WHERE THE POPULATION IS 80 PER CENT MOSLEM, 300 PERSONS, NEARLY ALL OF THEM HINDUS, LOST THEIR LIVES. THEY ALSO ESTIMATE THAT 5,000 MOSLEMS WERE KILLED DURING THE NOVEMBER RIOTS IN BIHAR, WHERE THE HINDUS HAVE A MAJORITY OF ABOUT 86 PER CENT.

THE 77-YEAR-OLD MAHATMA, WITH A BAMBOO STAFF AS A WALKING STICK, HAS TRAMPED ABOUT 125 MILES BAREFOOT OVER HARD DIRT ROADS, WINDING FOOTPATHS AND SHAKY BAMBOO BRIDGES. HE AND MASSES OF HIS FOLLOWERS REGARD THE MISSIONARY WORK HE HAS BEEN DOING AS HIS "GREATEST EXPERIMENT" IN NON-VIOLENCE. GANDHI VOWED HE WOULD ACHIEVE HIS PURPOSE OF ESTABLISHING ACCORD BETWEEN RELIGIOUS COMMUNITIES "OR LEAVE MY BONES IN EAST BENGAL."

HE ADMITS THAT ONLY TIME CAN TELL WHETHER HE HAS BEEN SUCCESSFUL.

MOSLEM PREMIER H.S.SUHRAWARDY AND OTHER MOSLEM LEADERS HAVE NOT BEEN ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT GANDHI'S PROLONGED STAY IN BENGAL. SUHRAWARDY SAID THAT GANDHI WAS "CAUSING GREAT DISCOMFORT IN THE MINDS OF MOSLEMS" AND EXPRESSED A WISH THAT THE MAHATMA'S "INNER VOICE" MIGHT LEAD HIM TO BIHAR TO SEE FOR HIMSELF THE COMMUNAL SITUATION IN THAT PROVINCE.

GANDHI WAS QUOTED TODAY BY HIS FOLLOWERS AS STATING HE WAS GOING TO BIHAR NOT FOR RELIEF OF THE MOSLEMS THERE, BUT TO CHANGE THE HINDU MENTALITY AND INSTILL HIS DOCTRINE OF NON-VIOLENCE.

IN BENGAL, HE HAS OPPOSED THE SCHEME ADVANCED BY ONE GROUP OF HINDUS TO PARTITION THE PROVINCE BETWEEN HINDUS AND MOSLEMS, SAYING HE DOES NOT BELIEVE IN AND CANNOT CONDONE ESTABLISHMENT OF A STATE RELIGION WHICH WOULD BE THE CONSEQUENCE OF THAT PLAN.

RANGING HUNDREDS OF MILES AHEAD OF THIS FAST CARRIER FORCE, THE SUBMARINE POMFRET WAS CREDITED WITH A TEN-TORPEDO ATTACK ON THE BATTLESHIP BEFORE DAWN FRIDAY, DRAWING FIRST BLOOD IN THE NAVY'S BIGGEST POSTWAR PACIFIC MANEUVERS.

THE ONLY CAPITAL SHIP ON EITHER SIDE, THE IOWA WAS RULED OUT OF ACTION AND WILL TAG ALONG ONLY AS AN OBSERVER. THE POMFRET ESCAPED.

THE WEST COAST DEFENSE FORCE STILL IS A POWERFUL CONTENDER, HOWEVER, WITH THREE CRUISERS, TEN SUBMARINES, 20 DESTROYERS, THE CARRIER BOXER AND ANOTHER THEORETICAL CARRIER. EITHER THE SHANGRI-LA OR ANTIETAM HAD BEEN SCHEDULED FOR ASSIGNMENT, BUT BOTH ARE UNDERGOING OVERHAULS.

THE RIVAL FORCES ARE SCHEDULED TO MEET SOMEWHERE WEST OF HAWAII IN THE NEXT COUPLE OF DAYS IN AN ALL-OUT "BATTLE." THEN THEY WILL JOIN FOR MOCK ATTACKS ON JOHNSTON ISLAND AND PEARL HARBOR.

EXPECTING "ENEMY" SUBMARINES TO STRIKE AT ANY TIME, TASK FORCE 38 HAS BEEN ON ANTI-SUBMARINE ALERT FOR THE PAST TWO NIGHTS, ZIGZAGGING AND BLACKED OUT.

ONE OF ITS SUBMARINES, OPERATING HUNDREDS OF MILES AHEAD, INTERCEPTED THE BATTLESHIP IOWA BEFORE DAWN FRIDAY AND THEORETICALLY FIRED 10 TORPEDOES AT THE DREADNAUGHT. THE SUBMARINE POMFRED ESCAPED.

THE IOWA WAS WITHDRAWN FROM ACTION BUT WILL CONTINUE WITH THE WEST COAST FORCE AS AN OBSERVER.

CHURCHILL, MANITOBA, MARCH 1-(AP)-SIX FOREIGN MILITARY ATTACHES AND 15 NEWSMEN OF FOUR COUNTRIES MADE AN EIGHT-HOUR SURVEY YESTERDAY OF THE CHURCHILL ARCTIC EXPERIMENTAL BASE, WHERE THE CANADIAN GOVERNMENT IS COOPERATING WITH THE UNITED STATES IN TESTS SUBJECTING ARMY PERSONNEL AND EQUIPMENT TOLPUBZERO TEMPERATURES.

THE VISITORS FOUND THE BASE TO BE TESTING WEAPONS SUCH AS WERE IN USE IN WORLD WAR II, CLOTHING AND TRANSPORTATION EQUIPMENT.

THE MILITARY ATTACHES WERE FROM RUSSIA--WHOSE NEWSPAPERS HAVE CLAIMED TO SEE A THREAT OF AGGRESSION IN U.S. ARCTIC MOVEMENTS--THE U.S., BRITAIN, FRANCE, NORWAY AND MEXICO; THE REPORTERS FROM THE U.S BRITAIN, CANADA AND FRANCE.

THE MOST MYSTIFYING THING THEY SAW WAS A PAIR OF BELOW-THE-KNEE PANTS WITH SHORT ROPES HANGING FROM ONE LEG BUT NOT FROM THE OTHER. THEY LEARNED THAT THE OBJECT WAS TO FIND OUT WHETHER THE ROPES CUT OFF DRAFTS.

CAPT. BRIAN O'CONNELL OF MONTREAL SHOWED A 480-POUND SLED PACK CONTAINING FOOD, HEAT AND SHELTER TO LAST FIVE MEN THREE AND A HALF DAYS.

SOMETIMES THE TEMPERATURE AT THE BASE GOES TO 40 DEGREES BELOW ZERO. YESTERDAY IT WAS WELL ABOVE FREEZING.

WASHINGTON,MARCH 1-(AP)-SEN.LEVERETT SALTONSTALL (R-MASS) AND REP. FRANCES P.BOLTON (R-OHIO) SAID IN A BROADCAST TONIGHT THAT ENGLAND'S DIMINISHING WORLD LEADERSHIP MEANS THE UNITED STATES MUST ASSUME WORLD RESPONSIBILITIES OR OTHER NATIONS WILL LOOK TO RUSSIA FOR ASSISTANCE.

NEITHER, HOWEVER, MADE DIRECT REFERENCE TO REPORTS THAT BRITAIN HAD ASKED THE UNITED STATES TO ASSUME THE FORMER'S FINANCIAL COMMITMENTS IN GREECE.

IN AN (NBC) "OUR FOREIGN POLICY" PROGRAM THE TWO LEGISLATORS WERE ASKED IF THEY BELIEVED THAT "THE LESS WE ASSUME LEADERSHIP IN WORLD AFFAIRS THE MORE NATIONS WILL TURN TO RUSSIA?"

"WE MUST DEMONSTRATE TO THE WORLD," SAID SALTONSTALL, "THAT WE REALIZE AT HOME THAT WE ARE ONE OF THE TWO STRONGEST NATIONS ON THE FACE OF THE EARTH AND THAT WE ARE WILLING TO ASSUME THE RESPONSIBILITIES THAT GO WITH THAT POSITION.

"IF WE BURY OUR HEAD IN THE SAND LIKE AN OSTRICH, OBVIOUSLY OTHER NATIONS WILL LOOK TO RUSSIA AND ANY OTHER COUNTRY WHERE THEY THINK THEY CAN GET ASSISTANCE WHEN THEY NEED IT AND BACKING FOR THEIR OWN UNDERTAKINGS."

MRS.BOLTON SAID THAT "IF WE FAIL TO X X X MEET THE NEEDS OF THE SUFFERING COUNTRIES, COULD WE BLAME THEM IF THEY TURN TO THE ONLY OTHER COUNTRY THAT HAS STRENGTH?"

SALTONSTALL SAID THE "GREAT UNSOLVED PROBLEM" IN FOREIGN AFFAIRS WAS MAKING IT POSSIBLE "FOR THE JAPANESE PEOPLE TO BE ECONOMICALLY SELF-SUFFICIENT.

"I DO NOT BELIEVE," REPLIED REP.BOLTON, "THAT WE CAN DEMOCRATIZE JAPAN, OR GERMANY. ALL WE CAN DO IS TO EXPOSE THEM TO DEMONSTRATIONS OF WHAT WE MEAN BY THE DEMOCRATIC WAY OF LIFE OVER A LONG ENOUGH PERIOD TO GIVE THEM A FEELING OF COMPREHENSION OF THE BENEFITS WE BELIEVE ACCRUE FROM IT. BUT THE ULTIMATE CHOICE MUST REMAIN IN THEIR HANDS."

MRS.BOLTON TERMED IT "IRONICAL" THAT WITH ENGLAND RECOGNIZING THAT SHE CANNOT CONTINUE HER WORLD LEADERSHIP, "MANY OF THOSE WHO HAVE SHOUTED THE LOUDEST AGAINST HER 'IMPERIALISM' ARE NOW ACCUSING HER OF ABANDONING HER RESPONSIBILITIES."

WE ARE NOW DOING IT, HE COMMENTED.

ATLANTA, MARCH 1-(AP)-SEN. RICHARD RUSSELL (D-GA) PROPOSED TODAY THAT ENGLAND, IRELAND, WALES AND SCOTLAND ACT TO BE ADMITTED AS MEMBER STATES OF THE UNITED STATES, THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION REPORTED IN A COPYRIGHTED STORY.

IN A WASHINGTON INTERVIEW WITH RALPH MCGILL, EDITOR OF THE CONSTITUTION, THE GEORGIA SENATOR WAS QUOTED AS SAYING HIS PROPOSAL WAS PREDICATED UPON A THREATENED BREAKUP OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE AND ITS PROBABLE INABILITY TO CARRY OUT WORLD COMMITMENTS.

MANY OF THESE COMMITMENTS, THE SENATOR TOLD MCGILL, WILL INEVITABLY BECOME THE OBLIGATIONS OF THIS COUNTRY IN ANY CASE.

THE JUNIOR SENATOR ALSO PROPOSED THAT THE COMMONWEALTHS WITHIN THE EMPIRE--CANADA, AUSTRALIA AND SOUTH AFRICA--CONSIDER SOME FORM OF ASSOCIATION WITH THIS NATION IF GREAT BRITAIN ACTS TO BECOME A PART OF THE UNITED STATES.

SEN.RUSSELL TOLD MCGILL HE REALIZED THAT THE FIRST REACTION WOULD BE ONE OF REJECTION AND THAT HIS PLAN WOULD BE REGARDED AS FANTASTIC AND SO DENOUNCED.

"NEVERTHELESS," HE WAS QUOTED BY MCGILL, "LET US LOOK AT THE RECORD. THE BRITISH WENT INTO GREECE, PALESTINE AND EGYPT TO PROTECT THE LIFELINE OF THE EMPIRE WHICH EXTENDS THROUGH THE MEDITERRANEA AND THE SUEZ. THEY ARE NOW UNABLE TO DEFEND THAT LIFELINE X X X.

"WE ARE NOW CALLED UPON TO TAKE OVER THE BRITISH POSITION IN GREECE. IF WE SHOULD DO SO OUR FIRST STEP WOULD HAVE TO BE TO REMOVE THE GREEK KING SO TRAGICALLY FORCED UPON THE PEOPLE X X X.

"THE BRITISH HAVE ANNOUNCED THEY CANNOT SOLVE THE PALESTINE PROBLEM AND THERE IS EVERY INDICATION THEIR POSITION THERE IS PRECARIOUS IN THE EXTREME.

"THIS PROPOSAL OF MINE," RUSSELL CONTINUED, "WILL BE REJECTED AS FANTASTIC. YET I PREDICT IT WILL COME IN THE YEARS AHEAD. THE ATLANTIC OCEAN IS NO MORE A BARRIER TODAY THAN WAS THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER WHEN WE ADDED THE STATES WEST OF THAT RIVER."

"IT WOULD REMOVE THE ECONOMIC COMPETITION AND CREATE WORLD TRADE. I VERY MUCH DOUBT, WITH EGYPT, INDIA AND BURMA ALREADY IN THE PROCESS OF BEING MADE INDEPENDENT STATES, THAT BRITAIN'S ECONOMIC SYSTEM OF BRINGING IN RAW MATERIALS FROM COLONIAL SOURCES, MANUFACTURING THEM AND SELLING THEM TO THE WORLD CAN BE MAINTAINED.

"BRITAIN'S INDUSTRIAL SYSTEM IS NOT EQUIPPED FOR THE MODERN MACHINE AGE OF INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION. HER PRODUCTION OF COAL IS STILL IN THE PICK AND SHOVEL MANNER.

"UNDER MY PROPOSAL, BY JOINT ACTION, SCOTLAND, WALES, ENGLAND AND IRELAND WOULD COME IN AS SEPARATE STATES, EACH WITH TWO SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES BASED ON POPULATION.

"CANADA AND AUSTRALIA, BEING INDEPENDENT UNITS, WOULD BE INVITED TO CONSIDER UNITING THE ENGLISH SPEAKING PEOPLES. CANADA'S TEN MILLIONS MIGHT BECOME SEVERAL STATES. SO MIGHT AUSTRALIA'S. IN THIS RESPECT I CALL ATTENTION TO THE FACT THAT WE ALREADY ARE RESPONSIB FOR AUSTRALIA'S DEFENSE."

SEN.RUSSELL SAID HIS PROPOSAL, IF CARRIED THROUGH, "WOULD COST THIS COUNTRY FAR LESS THAN THE COMMITMENTS NOW PROPOSED AS OUR OBLIGATIONS. IT WOULD MEAN A COORDINATED ECONOMY AND DEFENSE INSTEAD OF THIS COUNTRY NOW BEING CALLED UPON TO ASSUME THE BURDEN.

"I DO NOT BELIEVE AT ALL IN THE PROPOSED 'UNION NOW' SCHEME BUT FOR THEM TO COME IN AS FOUR NEW STATES. X X X GREAT PROBLEMS DEMAND GREAT DECISIONS."

SEN.RUSSELL SAID THAT AS FOR THE DISPOSITION OF THE KING AND QUEEN THEY WERE QUITE ABLE TO RETIRE ON THEIR INCOME AND HOLDINGS. "THE KING," HE CONCLUDED, "COULD, IF HE WISHED TO REMAIN IN POLITICS, RUN FOR THE SENATE--AS COULD WINSTON CHURCHILL."

"EVIDENTLY GREAT BRITAIN IS ATTEMPTING TO DELEGATE TO THE UNITED STATES THE JOB OF KEEPING RUSSIA OUT OF THE MEDITERRANEAN," JOHNSON SAID. "I DO NOT SEE ANY GOOD REASON FOR OUR UNDERTAKING THIS ENTERPRISE."

JOHNSON TOLD A REPORTER HE BELIEVES THE DIPLOMATIC SITUATION HAS BEEN BROUGHT TO A HEAD AT THIS TIME IN AN EFFORT TO FORCE CONGRESS TO REFRAIN FROM CUTTING MILITARY AND FOREIGN RELIEF APPROPRIATIONS.

"I THINK ONE OF THE MAJOR OBJECTIVES OF THIS WHOLE MOVE UNDOUBTEDLY IS TO HIJACK MORE MONEY OUT OF CONGRESS FOR WAR EXPENDITURES," HE DECLARED. "THE SUPPORT THAT ENGLAND HAS BEEN GIVING TO GREECE AND THE SUPPORT SHE INTENDED TO GIVE ALL COMES OUT OF OUR FEDERAL TREASURY, SO THERE IS NOTHING NEW IN THE SITUATION."

HE CITED THE $40,000,000 LOAN TO GREECE LAST YEAR BY BRITAIN AND THE CANCELLATION OF A $185,000,000 DEBT THE GREEKS OWED THE BRITISH WHILE THE UNITED STATES WAS GRANTING ENGLAND A HUGE LOAN.

ENGEL TOLD A REPORTER HE IS "TIRED OF PULLING THEIR FAT OUT OF THE FIRE," REFERRING TO THE BRITISH.

"I SIMPLY SAY THAT GREAT BRITAIN MUST MEET HER OBLIGATIONS OR WE'LL STEP OUT," HE SAID. "I REFUSE TO SUPPORT ANY PROGRAM UNLESS I KNOW WHAT IS GOING TO BECOME OF THE TAX DOLLARS."

SENATOR SALTONSTALL (R-MASS) SAII IN A STATEMENT THAT CONGRESS OUGHT NOT TO BE ASKED TO "SIGN ANY BLANK CHECKS."

"IF THE PRESIDENT SENDS A RECOMMENDATION TO CONGRESS FOR ACTION ON AID TO ANY FOREIGN COUNTRIES," HE SAID, "WE CERTAINLY SHOULD CONSIDER IT PROMPTLY AND MOST CAREFULLY. TO ACT ON THESE QUESTIONS OF AID TO OTHER COUNTRIES, WE MUST KNOW THE DETAILS OF HOW IT IS PROPOSED TO SPEND THE MONEY AND WHO WILL ADMINISTER IT."

WHILE THE AMOUNT REGARDED AS NECESSARY TO PICK UP BRITAIN'S COMMITMENTS IN GREECE WOULD BE ABOUT $250,000,000 THIS YEAR, SOME LEGISLATORS FEAR THIS MIGHT BE ONLY THE BEGINNING OF AN ASSUMPTION OF WIDESPREAD BRITISH RESPONSIBILITIES.

BECAUSE OF THIS AND OTHER UNCERTAINTIES, SENATOR O'MAHONEY (D-WYO) TOLD A NEWSMAN HE THINKS CONGRESS OUGHT TO PUT OFF FINAL ACTION ON A PENDING RESOLUTION TO PLEDGE AT LEAST A $4,500,000,000 CUT IN PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S $37,500,000,000 BUDGET FOR THE GOVERNMENT YEAR BEGINNING NEXT JULY 1.

Martial Law Is Clamped On Wide Palestine Area

MAR

British Army Seizes Scores in Hunt for Terrorists Who Took 21 Lives in Series of Bomb and Gun Attacks.

EC. DAVIDSON

Jerusalem, March 2 (AP)—More than 250,000 Palestine Jews were put under martial law tonight as the British Army arrested 60 persons in the first screening of suspects after yesterday's series of bomb and gun attacks claimed 21 lives.

The Palestine Government imposed military rule on the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv and its suburb of Ramat Gan; near-by Petah Tiqva, the oldest modern Jewish community of Palestine; Benei Beraq, and numerous other communal settlements in the area and the Mea Sherim section of Jerusalem, where 15,000 Jews reside.

Main Objective Declared

Maj. Gen. R. N. Gale, the newly appointed military governor of Tel Aviv, said the main objective of the martial law decree was to "paralyze and eradicate" the Stern gang and Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground resistance groups.

The death list in yesterday's terrorist campaign rose to 21 today when a British lance corporal died in a Haifa hospital from injuries suffered in the blowing up of a jeep on the Mount Carmel road in Haifa that had killed two other soldiers outright.

A 4-year-old girl, Ketty Shalom, died of bullet wounds suffered in Jerusalem in an undisclosed manner.

NIGHT

Sixteen persons died yesterday in Jerusalem, and fourteen others were wounded when attackers, under a protective cover of gunfire, bombed a British officers' club.

300 Screened In Search

Screening more than 300 persons in Jerusalem today to find suspects in the officers' club bombing and the other attacks on the Palestine coastal plain, the British held 60 of them for further questioning. An intensive military search was made of the Shaare Zedek quarter of Jerusalem.

The communique decreeing martial law said the action was taken because the Jewish Agency and the Vaad Leumi (National Council) had not complied with a British ultimatum ordering them to co-operate in stamping out terrorism.

The Agency and Vaad Leumi replied, after a special meeting tonight, that in long negotiations they had failed to obtain from the Government any help in solving the question of immigration of Jews to the Holy Land.

Would Undermine Gangs

The two organizations issued a joint statement expressing "horror" at the new outbreaks of violence, and declared "disciplined" Jews would intensify efforts to undermine terrorist organizations.

"These murderous and senseless crimes have come as a numbing shock to the entire Jewish community and its leaders," the statement said.

"For some considerable time past, the disciplined elements in the Jewish community, hampered though they have been by the lack of adequate powers, have been making efforts to combat the terrorist groups and to undermine their organization. These efforts are continuing and will be intensified, for the Palestine community is determined that the shedding of innocent blood shall play no part in its national struggle."

Groups Accuse British

The statement accused the British of "steafastly refusing concessions of any kind" to the Jewish community and declared "the Government is now retaliating against the Jewish community as a whole for crimes of a few desperate gunmen, and is seeking by the imposition of martial law, which is unlikely to deter the terrorists, to punish an entire community."

Approximately 7,500 troops of the veteran 1st Infantry Division took over control of the coastal area, sealing off a rectangle 4 miles wide and 10 miles long. Troops patrolled the interior of the rectangle and surrounded the perimeter.

Under military rule all motorcar and train traffic was halted, no one was permitted to enter or leave the affected area and the post office, telegraph and telephone facilities have been cut off.

"Dislocation Inevitable"

The Army, General Gale said, is accepting "liability for the maintenance of life in the area, and the first problem is food."

He added that "We have no quarrel or difference of opinion with the communities as a whole, but it is inevitable, if we are to eradicate these terrorists, that an enormous dislocation of life will occur."

Referring to Irgun Zvai Leumi, which claimed responsibility for all yesterday's attacks, and the Stern gang, General Gale said he was convinced Tel Aviv was the operating center for "a majority of those chaps that go about murdering and destroying other people's property."

Report Weapons Found

A usually reliable, unofficial source said tonight that soldiers had found several pistols, British army uniforms and Arab garments in a basement during today's fine-combing of Tel Aviv.

The government announced officially that beginning Tuesday the house curfew would be lifted for three hours daily, between 10 A.M. and 1 P.M., in the military rule area in Jerusalem. General Gale said the house curfew would be lifted in the Costal plain area as soon as the confusion of the establishment of military law passed.

An official government statement said warning shots were fired today as martial law was being clamped down on Jerusalem's Mea Sherim quarter. Shots were heard briefly in a Tel Aviv suburb, but otherwise both localities were quiet.

Loudspeaker Gives Order

In Petah Tiva Palestine police toured the city in an armored car and announced over a loud speaker in Hebrew, "curfew until further notice—curfew until further notice. Don't leave the houses—don't leave the houses."

The British invited Rabbi Isaac Herzog, one of the chief Palestine rabbis, to name a representative to accompany army search parties operating in Jerusalem.

The communiqué establishing martial law made clear that the action carried out the warning of the British of a month ago to Jewish officials that unless they co-operated with the British in steps against Jewish extremists severe steps would be taken.

Recalls Bid Turned Down

"A month ago the Government invited the Jewish Agency and Vaad Leumi (the National Council) to call upon Yishuv (Jewish community of Palestine) to co-operate in bringing to justice members of terrorist groups," said the communiqué.

"These institutions refused their co-operation. Renewed warnings were therefore given of serious consequence which any further outbreaks of terrorism would entail. Severe measures now necessary are the result of the lack of co-operation against bloodshed and terrorism which these institutions themselves condemned."

Jewish Agency and National Council leaders in refusing the British request for co-operation had said they would not inform on fellow Jews.

527 Sent To Deportee Camp

Nicosia, Cyprus, March 2 (AP)—An official communiqué said 527 uncertified Jewish immigrants to Palestine disembarked today at Famagusta and were transferred to the Xylotymbou deportees' camp without incident. Although the communiqué did not further identify the group it was presumed it was composed of persons who tried unsuccessfully last week to enter the Holy Land.

BRITAIN PRESSES ALBANIAN CLAIM

HAUCK

NEW YORK, March 2 — (AP) Great Britain prepared today to intensify her battle to force a decision in the United Nations Security Council on the long-hanging mine-laying complaint against Albania.

A council sub-committee goes into closed session at 11 a.m. tomorrow to begin sifting evidence on British charges that Albania sowed mines in the Corfu Channel, where two royal navy warships were damaged last Oct. 22 with the loss of 44 lives.

British Seek Action

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, will appear before the subcommittee to elaborate and clarify London's complaint, and will attempt to block any move to detour the case to the international court of justice without a prior council finding against the Tirana government.

Poland, one of the members of the three-nation sub-committee, already has served notice of intent to offer a resolution on the council floor calling for reference of the case to the Hague court. The other members are Australia and Colombia, and the latter also has shown interest in the court plan.

The British do not oppose eventual reference of the case to the court for legal opinion, but demand that the council take some action on this specific complaint against what Cadogan has termed "a crime against humanity." London seeks an apology from Albania and compensation for loss of life and property.

After the sub-committee hears Cadogan and Hysni Kapo, Albanian representative, a controversy likely will develop over whether the group should make specific recommendations to the council in its report due March 10.

Poland Lines Up With Reds

Poland is likely to plump for a summary of evidence without findings. This would clear the path for introduction of the court resolution.

The Polish delegate has voted closely with Russia on all major questions since the council started and observers speculated that such procedure would be the line taken by Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko.

Electric Power Switched On After 3-Week, Coal-Shortage Shutdown

London, Monday, March 3 (AP)—Electric power was switched on today for all British industrial plants after a drastic three-week shutdown crippled the nation's export drive but allowed the restocking of power-house coal bins.

The switch-on, which came one minute after midnight, was expected to affect 2,000,000 workers made idle by the shutdown at the height of the country's worst winter since 1880-81.

Approximately 1,000,000 workers went back to their jobs a week ago when factories in eight of the 38 affected counties resumed production.

NIGHT

Have Best Week End Of Winter

While the new order authorizes full production for all industries, some automobile plants short of component parts and twelve Blackburn cotton mills without sufficient coal planned only skeleton production.

Housewives still must conserve electricity five hours a day.

The islands had their best weekend weather of the winter, and priority coal trains flowed across the nation. Coastal coal ships entered the port of London at the rate of one an hour.

513,692 Tons Of Coal

The fuel and power ministry estimated 513,692 tons of coal were saved during the brownout which started February 10.

Government officials, religious leaders and newspapers all strove to rally Britons from the gloom of the industrial setbacks.

The Archbishop of Canterbury said in a sermon: "There is no room for despair, but it will take all the unity and honest labor we put into it to see us through."

J. R. Clynes, former Cabinet Minister and once chairman of the Trades Union Congress, said in a statement that "Britain can effect an economical revival which will stagger the world" despite the crisis. Editorials echoed the sentiments.

London Gets U. S. Note

LONDON, March 2 (AP).—A Foreign Office spokesman said tonight that the United States' reply to the British note on the future of Greece has been received at London.

He declined to make public its contents, saying "it has not yet been studied." The usually authoritative British Press Association said it is understood the note "asks Britain to maintain a garrison force in Greece in return for financial aid."

Earlier, a Foreign Office spokesman, commenting on rumors here that American troops would replace British forces now in Greece, said he had "no information that any such move is contemplated." He said "it has been announced officially that British forces in Greece will be reduced in the spring, but there has been nothing on the future of those who will remain."

The Foreign Office spokesman said there has been no confirmation of reports in the British press that Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin had told a closed meeting of Labor members of Parliament British troops would leave Greece within three months after March 1 or March 31.

At Athens, American Ambassador Lincoln MacVeagh said the embassy had "absolutely no information" on a report that Greece had advised the United States and Britain that Greece is agreeable to replacement of British troops by American, Stylianos Gonatas, member of the Greek inner Cabinet, described the report as "absolutely wrong."

ATHENS IS JUBILANT OVER U. S. AID REPORT

ATHENS, March 2 (AP)—Official and unofficial circles in Athens were jubilant today over the report that originated in Washington yesterday that the United States had agreed to help Britain financially in supporting the present Greek regime.

Several observers expressed the opinion that such American aid would go far to weaken the Communist position, "which feeds on poverty and discontent."

Nicholas Zachariades, secretary general of the Communist party, was critical of the reported plan. He was quoted in the Communist organ Rizospastis as saying:

"North American establishment in Greece had a favorable repercussion among Greek Monarcho-Fascist circles, who thought America's economic power and its bare aggressive spirit would suit their plans best.

"No pseudo-democratic or pseudo-philanthropy or demogogy will deceive us."

Red Paper Scoffs at Senator

LONDON, Monday, March 3 (AP)—The Daily Worker, London's Communist newspaper, said today an American Senator's proposal that England, Ireland, Wales and Scotland become member states of the United States was "what some people here mutter ironically." The Daily Worker said Senator Richard Russell, Democrat, of Georgia, suggested that England, Ireland, Wales and Scotland become the forty-ninth, fiftieth, fifty-first and fifty-second states—then asked, "and perhaps Greece the fifty-third?"

French Open Fight In Hanoi Region

Paris, March 2 (AP)—French forces began military operations west of Hanoi at dawn today and were making progress along a 15-mile front, according to late French dispatches from Hanoi.

The entire area between the circular highway route near Hanoi and Sontay was being mopped up.

The Viet Nam radio heard at Saigon today said the fighting had spread to some parts of Cambodia, centering around Stungtrang, about 60 miles northeast of Pnompenh, Cambodian capital. The broadcast also reported fighting near Kratie, 60 miles north of Stungtrang, and in Kompongcham, 50 miles southeast of Kratie.

Viet Nam Plea Reported

The announcer said Cambodian insurgents were fighting with the Viet Nam forces against the French.

A Hanoi dispatch to the French Press Agency said the Viet-Nam radio had broadcast a plea to the French Government and people to end what it termed "this useless war."

The dispatch added that the French had received no official written offer from the Viet Nam Republic.

The broadcast was quoted as saying that "to much French and Viet Nam blood has been shed" and that "the Viet Nam people want their independence in the frame of the French Union only."

French Doctors Demand Autos

Paris, March 2 (AP)—Press dispatches today reported medical doctors demonstrating in Lille, Toulouse, Nice and Versailles to get bigger allocations of automobiles, tires and gasoline. The report said that in each of the cities yesterday, doctors in groups of 100 to 250 march through main streets to submit written protests to local prefects.

GERMAN GANGS SEIZED

Russians Capture 28 Germans Organized Into Robber Bands

BERLIN, March 2 (AP)—Soviet authorities in Thuringia announced today the capture of four gangs accused of robberies and attacks on political meetings.

The announcement, distributed by the official Soviet news bureau, said the gangs consisted of twenty-eight Germans, most of whom had been members of the Nazi party or the Hitler Youth. One gang, the announcement reported, claimed links with a similar group in the United States and British occupation zone.

The Russians said one group had concentrated on "fighting the work of democratic parties" and had broken up political meetings, beating Germans who attended.

They reported that in two months the gangs had staged fifty robberies around Erfurt. The robbers, they said, ranged in age generally from 17 to 24 and sometimes disguised themselves in Russian uniforms "for provocation."

Russo-British Dispute May Delay Hess Transfer

BERLIN, March 2 (AP).—A British official said tonight that a controversy with the Russians over treatment of prisoners might delay the transfer of Rudolf Hess and six other major German war criminals from Nuernberg to Spandau prison, at Berlin.

The official said the British were holding out for a "humanitarian" prison code, and the Russians were demanding that the Germans be subjected to completely solitary confinement and denied religious services other than private ministrations of the prison chaplain.

SNOW ADDS TO BERLIN WOES

BERLIN, March 2—(AP) Berlin was enveloped today by a snowstorm which further crippled a city already heavily paralyzed by a prolonged cold wave and shortages of coal and power.

'EXPECTANT' GI'S MAY BE SENT HOME

Army Can't Take Care Of Prospective Parents In Reich

Frankfurt, Germany, March 2 (AP)—The United States Army, plagued by severe housing shortages, soon may send home hundreds of soldiers and their wives about to have their first children in Germany.

Army medical authorities said today the Army's plans, still to be approved finally by Washington, were necessary "because there aren't enough family quarters in Germany."

The plan, Army officials said, will apply to all personnel in Germany—officers, enlisted men, and civilian War Department employés with newly pregnant wives.

Told They Must Return To U.S.

Dozens of married War Department women who have become pregnant in the last few weeks already are being told they must return to the United States before their sixth month of pregnancy.

Many of these women, army officers said, are living with their husbands in one and two-room billets and not in family billets.

"Most of them are either not entitled to family quarters, or there just aren't enough quarters to go around," a medical officer explained.

The officer said that because of the "growing number of births," the return-home order probably would be issued soon to all women about to have their first child—and also to their husbands, whether or not the men had completed their tour of duty or their War Department contract.

Lammers And Hitler

MAR

Nuernberg, Germany, March 2 (AP)—American prosecutors said tonight that Dr. Hans Heinrich Lammers, whom they rated as one of Adolf Hitler's three most important assistants, would be given a separate war crimes trial before an American court.

Red-haired Lammers was chief of the Reich Chancellory. Officials said they had new evidence showing he played such an important role that if the evidence had been known at the time, he probably would have been included among the top Nazi leaders tried last year by the International Military Tribunal.

Not Just "Messenger Boy"

Lammers insisted he was "only a messenger boy" for Hitler and his ministers. The frequency of his appearances in the records of high policy making affairs aroused American investigators. They charged they had uncovered this data on his status:

1. That even before Hitler came to power, Lammers used his position as an administrative official of the Weimar Republic to spy for the Nazis.

2. That Hitler made him chief of the Reich Chancellory and used him as a right-hand man, paying him more salary than any other administrative official.

Tricks Laid To Lammers

3. That Lammers rated with Martin Bormann, the missing Hitler deputy, whom the international court sentenced to the gallows, and with Heinrich Himmler, suicide Gestapo chief, as a member of the triumvirate to whom Hitler entrusted broad powers in internal policy making and administration.

American officials said the trial would destroy the legend that Hitler ruled Germany single handed and might also destroy the notion that Hitler worked so hard and long he had no time for relaxation.

Although his official power was great, Lammers was said to have enhanced his influence even more by tricks which often enabled him to make decisions in Hitler's name without even consulting his superior.

The prosecutors said that sometimes when Hitler was absent, Lammers would pretend to consult him, even feigning a loud conversation with him behind locked doors. Then he would return to the visitor and tell him Hitler had issued a certain order.

Dr. Robert M. W. Kempner, of Philadelphia, of the war crimes staff, personally will prepare Lammers's indictment. John Lewis, a Brooklyn lawyer, will assist.

GREEK ARMY CLAIMS GAIN

Reports Mop-Up of Guerrillas on Chalcidice Peninsula

ATHENS, March 2 (AP)—Dispatches from Salonika said today that Greek Government forces inflicted heavy losses on guerrilla bands in large-scale mopping-up operations on Mount Kerdylla and in the Chalcidice Peninsula, respectively east and southeast of Salonika.

Four hundred guerrillas attacked Mouzaki, in Thessally, after mining roads and occupying strong positions dominating the village, the dispatches said. Government relief troops fought their way to the village, the reports added, and dispersed the guerrillas, killing fifteen, capturing sixteen and wounding seven.

Thanks U. S. for Food

Romania Minister of Health Acts to Distribute It Without Bias

BUCHAREST, Romania, March 2 (AP).—Mrs. Florica Bagdasar, Minister of Health, yesterday thanked the American people for their recent gift of food to Romania.

Speaking at a meeting sponsored by the American and Romanian Red Cross societies and government agencies, Mrs. Bagdasar appealed for co-operation in distribution of the 7,000 tons of supplies which President Truman on Feb. 17 ordered diverted from the American Army to meet Romania's food crisis.

"As the Americans understood our plight, so let us Romanians satisfy the American desire understandingly and distribute this food without any political, racial or any other discrimination," she said.

Sweden Eyes Big 4

Stockholm, March 2 (AP)—The little nations of Europe are looking to the Big Four conference, opening in Moscow a week hence, with almost desperate hope for signs of improving relations between the United States and Russia.

Feeling is especially strong in Sweden, with responsible officials evidently convinced their country would have little chance of maintaining neutrality in the next war as it did in the last.

In a diplomatic conflict between the Soviet Union and Western powers, Sweden's policy is to steer a middle course. That actually means tightening relations with Russia, especially in trade.

Despite criticism by American officials, obviously fearing growth of Russian influence here, Swedish Government authorities profess themselves highly pleased with last year's trade pact and report steady improvement in Moscow-Stockholm relations.

Sweden Shuns Satellite Role

They express a determination that Sweden must avoid becoming a satellite of any great power. But if East and West continue to pull apart the task will prove difficult for various countries, such as this, with western traditions and Eastern geography. That's why diplomatic authorities here agree the fate of Europe's small nations hangs in the balance between Washington, London and Moscow.

The susceptibility of people to jitters was illustrated by last summer's ghost rocket scare, which authorities now discount almost entirely.

Reports which were and still are widely accepted in the United States had upwards of 800 mysterious rockets over Sweden, but competent authorities say exhaustive investigations of military experts showed no possible basis for more than three to five per cent of that number of cases, and even in those there is no conclusive proof that any rockets were over Sweden because no pieces were ever found.

However, scare stories gave the Swedes a preview of what a push-button war might be like. This, together with knowledge of the terrific destructive power of atomic weapons, has gone far to persuade them that the only effective neutrality now is in world peace.

Preview Of Push-Button War

Meanwhile, they are officially trying to persuade Russia of a friendly policy. Some of their efforts here pain American authorities, who contend that there is potential danger in Sweden's drifting slowly into the Russian orbit.

Swedish officials deny this and express hope for expanding commercial relations with the United States, saying that they have no major American political problems.

timism over the prospects of the meeting. Last Sunday, the Communist party organ Pravda declared that "with the presence of good will, harmonious decisions may be reached."

Today Pravda urged the Allies to be on constant guard against Fascists in defeated countries, and said the existence of die-hard Nazis in the British and American zones of Germany—as demonstrated by widespread arrests last week—"serves as a serious warning to freedom-loving peoples."

Schwarzkopf's Gendarmerie

In another article, Pravda said that Iran's gendarmerie, under Brig. Gen. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, "became a long time ago an American instrument." (Schwarzkopf, former head of the New Jersey State Police, with a United States Army commission, is under contract to train the gendarmerie for Iran.)

"New plans of the General indicate that some sort of 2d Army is being formed in Iran under his immediate leadership," the newspaper said. "Hence along with the regular army there exists in Iran an independent armed force—a second army—under the guise of a gendarmerie.

Hopeful Note In The Bolshevik

Moscow, March 2 (AP)—The newspaper Moscow Bolshevik sounded a hopeful note today on the chances of success of the four-power Foreign Ministers Council, which will meet here a week from tomorrow to write peace treates for Germany and Austria.

The article said that "certain forces" had attempted to place a stumbling block in the path of the ministers, but added:

"Experience in the solution of complicated international problems, realized by the Foreign Ministers Council during the months of work on peace treaties with Italy and Finland, allows one to realize that decisions may be arrived at which correspond to a sound and lasting peace."

Second Note Of Optimism

The article was the second in Russian newspapers expressing optimism.

36 U. S. Correspondents to Get Visas for Moscow Big 4 Parley

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, March 2.—American Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith said today the Russian government had informed him thirty-six American correspondents would get visas to the Conference of Foreign Ministers this month.

The United States originally requested visas for seventy-three newspaper and magazine writers, radio commentators and photographers. The original Russian estimate was for twenty.

The official American delegation has been reduced to between eighty and ninety experts, who will help write treaties for Germany and Austria.

Smith suggested that the cut in the American delegation would mean more rooms for the reportorial group. He offered to accommodate a number of members of the official American delegation at his residence, Spasso House.

The British delegation numbers at least 111. British sources at Moscow said they felt that the British should have as many correspondents as the United States or France and that the size of the official delegation should have no connection with the size of the reportorial group.

The Russians have maintained that a shortage of housing was the main reason for limiting reporters and have asserted that the three visiting nations could have as many correspondents as could be accommodated.

Saud Calls Truman Palestine Neutral

President Promised To Be 'Impartial,' Arab Says

CAIRO, March 2 (AP).—Crown Prince Saud of Saudi Arabia said at a press conference here today that President Truman had promised him to be "impartial" in his attitude on the Palestine question and "not to support either Jews or Arabs."

The Prince, who arrived this afternoon from London after touring the United States, praised the President's attitude on the Holy Land and said he was "moved by Truman's generosity."

"There is no doubt that American feelings toward all Arabs are good," Prince Saud said. "Americans are beginning to see what the Arabs' rights in their own countries are. Some Americans are still ignorant of the situation, but they are beginning to learn."

The Prince said: "Egypt is an Arab state, and whatever she needs from us she will get. Egypt has our complete support."

India Princes Agree On Assembly Seats

But Maharajahs Will Wait on Constitution Making

NEW DELHI, India, March 2 (AP).—An agreement between India's maharajahs and the Constituent Assembly on the allocation of the princes' ninety-three seats in the Assembly was announced jointly today by negotiating committees for the two groups.

The announcement said the agreement was subject to ratification by a general conference of rulers and representatives of princely states, to be called "at an early date."

Delegates from the princely states would be elected by either legislatures or electoral colleges.

A split in the maharajahs' ranks over whether to join with the predominantly Hindu All-India Congress (Nationalist) party immediately in constitutionmaking or to wait and see whether the Congress party and the Moslem League achieve an agreement was revealed tonight at a meeting of the states' constitutional advisory committee.

An official report issued by the Chamber of Princes said the chamber chancellor, the Nawab of Bhopal, won his argument favoring a waiting policy.

Eighteen princes and twenty ministers attended the session.

Dutch Escort U. S. Ship Into Batavia Port

Hold Behrman for Check of Cargo as Indonesian Move to Pierce Blockade Fails

TANDJOENGPRIOK, Java, March 2 (AP).—Captain Rudy Grey, whose American Liberty ship Martin Behrman arrived under Dutch escort today at this port of Batavia, said he was caught in an undeclared war between the Dutch and Indonesians.

Ten Dutch marines were on his ship when it arrived at dawn in company with a Dutch destroyer. Netherlands authorities have asserted that the vessel, which loaded a valuable cargo at the Indonesian-held port of Cheribon, cannot sail for the United States until it receives a Dutch export permit.

Captain Lists Cargo

Grey, a veteran of twenty-eight years in the American merchant marine, said his cargo included rubber, sugar and cinchona (quinine-bearing bark).

Dutch port authorities notified him that the New Orleans ship must be available for inspection tomorrow and Tuesday.

"I finally sailed from Cheribon fifty-two hours after the loading was completed, and after protesting in writing to the destroyer captain about being forced to leave without the ship's papers, which the Indonesians held ashore," Grey said.

"I was unable to go ashore because the Dutch Navy said one of its launches had been fired upon when it came too near the quay, and the Dutch thought the Indonesians might try to hold me to prevent the ship from sailing to a Dutch port. We had gone into Cheribon under orders, in the belief permission would be granted to take out cargo. Now it appears both sides are making propaganda out of the fact an American ship is involved."

Grey said he had received no orders from the ship's owners and didn't know what he would do next.

Told to Obey Rules

[In Washington, the State Department on Feb. 21 instructed an American consul in Java to warn Grey against attempted violation of Dutch regulations governing the purchase of cargoes in ports held by Javanese insurgents. The Martin Behrman was identified as a 9,000-ton vessel owned by the Isbrandtsen Line.]

The arrival of the Behrman at this Dutch-controlled port spelled the failure of the Indonesian Republic's first major effort to move its huge stockpiles of rubber, sugar and other raw materials through the Dutch blockade. Under Dutch regulations, the ship's cargo can be confiscated unless it is clearly proved that it came from native holdings and not from estates formerly owned by Europeans and now occupied by Indonesians.

U.S. DEMANDS RELEASE FOR TWO IN CHINA

MAR 1947

Calls On Chinese Communists To Free Captured Officers

Nanking, March 2 (AP)—The United States pressed through three channels today for release of two American Army officers who fell into Communist hands in Manchuria.

"Capture" of the officer observers near dawn yesterday confirmed that a Communist offensive was hammering at the gates of Changchun, Manchurian capital.

Official reports to the American Embassy said Major Robert B. Riggs, of Chicago, and Capt. J. W. Collins, of Evanston, Ill., were in uniform and riding in a plainly marked American jeep 9 miles north of Changchun with a Chinese driver and interpreter. They sighted a sentry and stopped.

One Shot Fired By Sentry

The sentry fired one shot and Communist troops surrounded the jeep. Riggs and Collins, assistant military attaches assigned to Changchun, alighted. Their chauffeur suddenly drove off with the interpreter amid a shower of shots from the Communists.

Brig. Gen. Robert Soule, Nanking military attaché, said Consul Edmund Oliver Clubb, of St. Paul, had begun negotiations for the release of the Americans.

The Emabassy also called upon Wang Ping-nan, Communist spokesman in Nanking, for their release, and American planes which took a party of Communists to Yenan today also carried a note making the same demand.

Detained For Time Last Year

Major Riggs, 33, and four American correspondents were detained for a time by the Communists who captured Changchun last year. They were released shortly before the Communists lost the city.

Riggs's wife and 7-year-old daughter are in Changchun.

The five-plane American flight to Yenan took 25 Communist dependents and substantial medical supplies for a Friends (Quaker) ambulance group with the Communist armies. The Embassy extended to Friday the deadline on its pledge to help the remaining Communists get out of Government territory. The Government has ordered them to leave by Wednesday.

Predicts Order Within Year

Meanwhile Tang Wen-ti, Government Defense Ministry official in Peiping, predicted the Communists would be routed from the Tientsin-Pukow railway in a month or two, from the Peiping-Hankow line in four or five months, and that order would be restored to all North China within a year.

The Government's Central News Agency also quoted an unnamed commander in Changchun as predicting "good and exhilarating news" for the Government side within three days.

Authoritative quarters in Nanking forecast a total reorganization of the Government by March 15 and intimated that Gen. Chang Chun might become Premier, a title that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek assumed Saturday when T. V. Soong quit.

Japan Cutting Sum Allotted to Imperial House

BRINES

Emperor and Family Will Have to Get Along on Third of Normal Income

TOKYO, March 2 (AP).—The Japanese imperial family—placed on the public pay roll for the first time—will have to get along this year on probably a third of its normal income, the government's final budget, as presented to the Diet (Parliament) shows. The imperial purse was barred from public scrutiny in the past and the court spent its money as it wished.

The budget provides for 23,000,000 yen ($1,533,000 at the fixed exchange rate) for "expenses of the imperial family." An additional 15,000,000 yen ($1,000,000) is allotted the Imperial Household Ministry, which handles imperial affairs.

This is supposed to be the court's total income. The emperor's extensive stock, bond and land holdings have been turned over to the state and the proceeds will go into the national treasury. Formerly, these assets brought the imperial family an income which Japanese now conservatively estimate amounted to "many tens of millions" of yen. No one knew for sure.

The emperor and his immediate family reported assets of 3,000,000,000 yen ($200,000,000) recently in making returns under Japan's new property tax law.

Under the new budget, it will cost Japan more to keep the imperial family in funds than to establish the necessary organs for enforcement of the Constitution. The latter item, lowest on the budget, totals 17,000,000 yen.

The budget itself totals 114,503,000,000 yen. For the first time in history, the new budget is supposed to be complete in that it includes all contemplated government expenditures in one document. In the past, a general and several special budgets were presented to the Diet at different times. Militarists used this device to cloud actual expenditures.

The size of the current budget shocked many Japanese who want an economical peace. It is nearly double the Finance Ministry's first announced estimates. Consequently, there may be considerable lamenting in the Diet about the cost of the occupation as the government attempts to placade angry legislators with a scapegoat.

Expenditures connected with "the termination of the war," including occupation costs, are listed at 27,000,000,000 yen. Japan's last announced military expenditure was 85,000,000,000 yen.

MAC ARTHUR PROBES KOREAN 'CORRUPTION'

TOKYO, Monday, March 3—(AP) Charges of corruption, bribes and illegal favors in the occupation of Southern Korea are under constant investigation, General MacArthur said today in his monthly report for November.

Two American officers convicted of dishonest administration have been sent to the United States to serve prison terms, the supreme allied commander noted. They were not named.

MacArthur reported that the joint Korean-American conference appointed to investigate conditions which led to rioting and bombings last fall had checked into complaints against police, problems of Japanese collaborators and corruption of certain Korean officials.

Navy Starting Exercises In Japanese Waters

Tokyo, Monday, March 3 (AP)—United States naval forces in Japan will begin a two-month program of fleet exercises in Japanese waters today—starting with an attack on the disabled army merchantman Edwin C. Eckles, which will be sunk in Tokyo Bay.

The Eckles was pronounced unsalvageable; she lost her rudder and was abandoned at sea 300 miles east of Tokyo last fall, then was towed to Yokohama.

During the two months of maneuvers, anti-submarine attacks and gunnery will be practiced.

UNRRA Funds Approved

Caracas, Venezuela, March 2 (AP). The National Constituent Assembly yesterday authorized President Romulo Betancourt to appropriate funds to consider new grants. Various deputies critized the UNRRA administration charging much of the organization's supplies were going into the black market.

ACCORD SEEN NEAR ON ISLAND BASES

MANILA, March 2—(AP) A highly-placed, well-informed Philippines official source said today that signing of a military-base agreement with the United States was "imminent," and that these—subject to last-minute changes—would be the bases which American forces would man:

NIGHT

Navy: A $10,000,000 base at Guiuan, Samar Island—which, this source said, the Navy has now asked to retain after once preparing to abandon—plus its Subic Bay base for submarines and medium-sized war vessels, and its Sangley Point air base.

Army: Clark Field, in the Zambales foothills north of Manila, to be its major development; plus Ferry-Route fields at Tacloban, on Leyte island, and at Laoag, Ilocos Norte (North Luzon). Its current Manila installations would be abandoned, with the possible exception of Fort McKinley, now the 13th Air Force headquarters.

Nichols Field, near Manila, would be developed by the Philippines as an international airport.

Both Army and Navy would also retain their best camps at Baguio, summer capital in northern Luzon.

This source, who declined use of his name, said only one issue remained to be settled: Whether U. S. soldiers in the Philippines would be granted extraterritorial rights (untouchable by Philippines law).

Slew With Sledgehammers

30 Pro-Japanese Filipinos Being Tried for War Killings

MANILA, March 2 (AP).—The Makapilis, a pro-Japanese force of saboteurs and spies organized by the puppet government during the American liberation of the Philippines, executed captives by knocking them on the head with sledgehammers, it was disclosed at a trial now in progress at near-by Pasig.

NIGHT

The trial of thirty accused Makappiis is arousing passion among the townspeople, many of whom lost relatives in the war. Shouts of "They don deserve a trial!" and "Let's get 'em!" frequently disturb the proceedings.

Manila May Buy Gas Works

MANILA, March 2 (AP).—The office of President Manuel A. Roxas reported today that the government was considering purchase of the Manila Gas Corporation from American and Swiss interests.

Philippine Aids Coming to U. S.

MANILA, March 2 (AP).—Twelve members of the Philippines Foreign Ministry staff are en route to the United States on board the ship General Gordon to take courses at the State Department at Washington preparatory to assignment to new Philippines diplomatic posts abroad.

U.S. FLEETS CLASH TODAY IN CLIMAX OF MANEUVERS

D. LOVELACE

WITH NAVAL TASK FORCE 38, Central Pacific, March 2—(AP) Two powerful U. S. fleets, speeding toward each other tonight, are expected to be within striking distance of each other at dawn tomorrow for a test of the postwar navy's fighting capabilities.

Less than 800 miles separated the two forces at noon today. By dawn Monday they should be within 300 miles of each other.

That distance will enable Task Force 38, moving in from the western Pacific, to throw its most powerful weapons at the opposing force, which is theoretically protesting America's western coast. Scores of Task Force 38 planes, possibly as many as 200, will be launched from flight decks of the Princeton and Tarawa.

Seek "Crippling Blow"

They will attempt to deliver a simulated crippling blow to the opposing surface fleet.

Strategists of Tast Force 38 fear most that the west coast force might make surface contact with this fast carrier task force before the carrier planes can do their work.

But the west coast fighting ships have already lost their biggest surface weapon, the battleship Iowa, which the submarine Pomfret was credited by umpires with putting out of action early Friday in a simulated torpedo attack.

Task Force 38 has theoretically lost one submarine and several long-range search planes, based on Oahu, to the west-coast force.

The battle maneuvers by the two forces are nearing their climax about 600 miles southwest of Pearl Harbor. After the current operation, the two units will join forces for a mock attack on that mid-Pacific navy base.

Marshall's Blueprint For Germany

MAR 1947

Washington, March 2 (AP)—A United States blueprint for postwar Germany calling for speedy self-sufficiency took final form today—with two major details blank—as Gen. George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, wound up preparations for the Moscow conference.

In advance of the foreign ministers' effort to arrange a peace treaty for Germany, there is no information for Russia on the line Marshall will take toward:

1. Poland's permanent western boundary. It now includes an area which formerly produced much of Germany's food.

2. Future control of the key Ruhr industrial area.

Soviet Opposition Foreseen

Soviet opposition to whatever Marshall puts forward on these issues is deemed a virtual certainty by American delegates, in view of Russia's running fire of criticism at other proposals for German settlement already advanced by American officials.

Marshall and those advisers not already in Europe are scheduled to leave Wednesday by air, after his appearance before congressional committees tomorrow and Tuesday on foreign relief legislation and the Italian and other treaties. His stops en route have not been disclosed but he hopes for a chance to talk in Berlin with Lieut. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American occupation commander.

Russia Holds The Key

Russia will hold the key to the extent of progress made toward final treaties with Germany and Austria.

The avowed American objective of getting Germany back on her feet and on a basis of self-support as soon as possible is shared by Britain if not altogether by France. Whether Russia would prefer to continue European uncertainty remains a question.

Diplomatic authorities here, who estimate the conference will last from four to eight weeks, privately share some of the pessimism voiced in London over resolving all major German issues but retain hope that the Austrian treaty may be drafted.

Other Planks In Platform

Aside from the Polish frontier and Ruhr planks, the American platform for Germany was largely advanced by former Secretary James F. Byrnes at Stuttgart last fall in accord with the 1945 Potsdam agreement. It calls for:

POLITICAL ORGANIZATION — A Federalized state of limited powers with a constitution accepted by popular vote. Russia is advocating a strong central government, but the United States will oppose a regime "dominating the German people instead of being responsive to democratic will."

ECONOMIC UNITY—Internal barriers wiped out except as Allied securiety zones. The Federal Government must have central agencies for finance, transportation, communications, postal services, agriculture, industry and foreign trade.

Reparations And Territorial

REPARATIONS—To be obtained from removal of war potential and reduction of heavy industry. None from current production, as demanded by Russia and already taken from the Soviet occupation zone.

TERRITORIAL—Give the Saar industrial area to France and Koenigsberg to Russia and make some revisions of the eastern frontier in Poland's favor. But no separation of the Rhur and Rhineland, nor other major divisions not desired by the people concerned. This position stands in the way of a major acquisition by Luxembourg.

INTERNATIONAL SECURITY — The United States is ready to join with wartime allies in a treaty for 25 years or more to prevent renewed German aggression.

Ready To Merge Zones

The United States and Britain are ready to merge their occupation zones into a German whole. Failing an overall settlement, they are prepared to continue joint economic administration of their two zones.

On the Polish frontier issue, the United States has made clear it considers the existing boundaries provisional and subject to revision. Russia has backed Poland's opposition to change. Where this Government considers the boundary should be has not been disclosed.

On the future of the Ruhr, the United States has made its view evident only in general terms.

The proposed underwriting of British commitments in Greece is reported authoriatively to call for $250,000,000 for this year.

Any American armament that would be required for Greece or for Turkey, however, probably could be supplied readily from army surplus stores, much of it already overseas. In the overseas stockpiles are jeeps, light trucks and other vehicles. Greece's requirements probably would include some types of planes, small arms and medium and small caliber artillery with ammunition.

Both Going Through, Says Taft

Taft, asked whether the proposed $250,000,000 outlay would interfere with budget and tax cutting, replied "not at all," and said both reductions will be put through. The Senate is expected to adopt tomorrow its resolution for a $4,500,000,000 pruning of the President's $37,500,000,000 estimates and send it to conference with the House, which voted a $6,000,000,000 slash.

Representatives Cannon (Mo.) and Vinson (Ga.), ranking Democrats on the House Appropriations and Armed Forces Committees, were among those insisting that the military estimates be left untouched in view of the Greek situation. Cannon told an interviewer any cut would be "plain idiocy" at this time; Vinson held it would "jeopardize the national security."

Marshall's Prospective Report

The prospective State Department report, based upon first-hand material from official observers now in Greece, is expected to spell out the information given key congressmen at the White House on Thursday of the dangers arising from a British decision to abandon her military and economic obligation in Greece unless given large-scale American aid.

Although there has been no official disclosure of the details of that briefing, informed diplomatic and congressional sources reported that Marshall cautioned that:

1. Withdrawal of British aid probably would lead to a Communist Government in Greece, working in close collaboration with the Soviet Union.

2. It would place a Russian-dominated country astride Britain's lifeline to the Far East.

3. Similarly, it would flank the strategic Dardanelles and increase Soviet pressure upon Turkey, which thus far has successfully resisted Russian demands for border changes and a share in defending the straits.

4. It would pierce the chain of nations stretching along the Mediterranean to the near East which have cast their lot with the Western powers, and remove their hope of counting upon the democratic countries for support against Communist encroachment in any future dispute—inside or outside the United Nations.

Then, there had been no decision.

"Favorable In Principle"

But Dean Acheson, Under Secretary of State, yesterday handed British Ambassador Lord Inverchapel a reply which reliable diplomatic informants described as "favorable in principle" to the British request for American aid—conditioned upon congressional assent and agreement that Britain keep its troops in Greece.

The imminence of a new appropriation request for Greece raised the possibility that the House Foreign Affairs Committee, meeting tomorrow, would delay action on a measure authorizing $350,000,000 for foreign relief until it could obtain the full picture. Greece is among five European countries which would share in the relief.

Marshall and James F. Byrnes, former Secretary of State, are to appear before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee tomorrow on the peace pacts for the three Axis satellites and Italy. Some senators may take the occasion to question Marshall about the Greek situation.

Prospects Of Aid To Greece Add To Worry Over Budget

MAR 1947

Washington, March 2 (AP)—The prospect of American aid to Britain in maintaining Greek stability and southern Europe's democratic frontier brought renewed protests from Democratic congressmen today against any cuts in the military budget.

Senator Taft (R., Ohio), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, declared, however, that it will affect neither the GOP plans for budget slashes nor those for income tax reductions.

Taft, like most legislators, declined to commit himself for or against the shift of traditional policy which an active role in Greece would spell for this country, pending further information.

Truman Speech Awaited

An official announcement of the proposal may be made this week in a major speech President Truman is to deliver Tuesday en route home from Mexico or in a statement by Gen. George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, to be issued after he leaves Wednesday for the Foreign Ministers' meeting at Moscow.

There probably will be also a presidential message to Congress requesting the necessary funds when the estimates are completed and further details worked out.

It probably will come up on the floor Wednesday.

Wiley said the Senate measure is confined "with minor exceptions" to the portal problem, while a bill approved by the House last week, 345 to 56, "spreads its effort over a much wider field."

If the Senate passes its own measure, both bills will be referred to a conference committee. Wiley said he would continue to press there for acceptance of the Senate version.

Wiley's criticism of the House measure as being too broad in scope was, in turn, directed against the Senate measure by Senator McGrath (D., R.I.), a member of the Judiciary Committee.

Budget Cut Action Today

The Senate tomorrow probably will pass a resolution calling for a $4,500,000,000 cut in President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget, sending the question to a conference committee. The House has approved a $6,000,000,000 slash.

In the House the Foreign Affairs Committee will consider tomorrow a $350,000,000 appropriation to provide relief for liberated countries, including Greece.

On Tuesday, the House is expected to accept Senate amendments to legislation continuing the wartime luxury taxes. The Senate eliminated luxury levies on moderate and low-priced fur-trimmed coats and certain foreign travel. These were accepted yesterday by the House conferees.

Lilienthal Approval By Senate Group Is Expected This Week

Washington, March 2 (AP)—A decision by the Senate Atomic Committee this week on the nomination of David E. Lilienthal to head the Atomic Energy Commission shaped up today as a decisive factor in his acceptance or rejection by the Senate.

Senator George (D., Ga.) predicted the committee action will have "great weight" with senators who are still undecided. As one of those, he said:

"I think I will follow the lead of the committee in voting on the nomination."

Most senators feel the nine-member committee will approve Lilienthal.

Portal Pay Bill In Senate

The bitterly contested appointment shares immediate Senate attention with a bill to crush nearly $6,000,000,000 in portal-pay suits. Chairman Wiley (R., Wis.), of the Senate Judiciary Committee said he will press for early enactment.

U. S. TO TIGHTEN FOREIGN LOANS

WASHINGTON, March 2—(AP) The Export-Import bank announced tonight it will lend no more money to other countries for "emergency reconstruction."

The $3,500,000,000 government institution for foreign lending said its decision would apply especially to countries in position to seek loans from the World Bank, to which the U.S. has subscribed $8,175,000,000.

All countries holding membership in the World Bank may apply to it for loans, although it has not yet begun lending operations. Its 40 member countries include most principal nations except Russia and Australia.

The Export-Import bank's declaration, contained in its third semi-annual report to Congress, apparently reflected determination that the U.S. would cease taking the sole risk in financing "emergency reconstruction" in other lands.

The bank explained, however, that countries undergoing reconstruction could still apply to it for credit trade so as to "facilitate the exchange of commodities" with this country.

RUSSIA TO TRAIN SCIENTIST 'ARMY'

5-Year Plan Calls for Million Experts to Recoup Wartime Losses.

WASHINGTON, March 2 — (AP) Russia's five-year plan for science contemplates the training of 1,280,000 technicians and 700,000 laboratory specialists with scholastic degrees.

Details of the tremendous effort Russia is making to recover from wartime losses of research institutions and to come abreast of other nations in the field of science are disclosed in official Soviet publications and other papers dealing with the program which became available here today.

A recent "Soviet Information Bulletin" reported that the Germans destroyed 605 research institutions and stripped others of equipment and libraries. However, actual restoration or reconstruction of a substantial amount of that loss is well under way and the new program is directed primarily at a vast expansion in the whole field of science.

Research directly connected with military subjects, including atomic energy, is only one phase of the program.

On the basis of available information, here are some of the phases of the integrated program to accelerate Russia's race in research in addition to the training of the scientists:

Establishment of a ministry for precision instrument manufacture.

Special inducements for Soviet scientists, including not only salary factors but extra rations, housing accommodations and other facilities. Cash and honorary awards carrying prestige are added inducements.

The usual Russian demand for production quotas from factories has been modified to allow factories to turn aside from routine production and fulfill promptly orders for research equipment.

World Food Setup Is Slightly Better

Washington, March 2 (AP)—The world food situation is only slightly better than last year in spite of a seven percent increase in production, the Agriculture Department reported tonight.

It said serious shortages exist in continental Europe, particularly in Romania, Germany, Austria, Italy and the Soviet Union, and in the Far East.

"But there are still several countries where the present low level of rations will have to be severely reduced unless large imports are received before the next harvest," the department said.

Food Supplies Used Up

Domestically-produced food supplies in some shortage areas were used up rapidly because imports were small during the last half of 1946.

Looking beyond present supplies, the department said the condition of fall sown crops in several European countries and in North Africa is somewhat lower than at this time last year. Severe winter weather in several western European countries is reported to have caused serious damage to winter grains and oil-seed crops.

"There is growing concern," the department said, "that the 1947 crop in that area may be even less than the below harvest of last year. In North Africa, where yields last year were unusually good, winter rainfall has been below average."

CHECKUP ASKED FOR VETERANS

Administration Notes Number Using Up Jobless Benefits

Washington, March 2 (AP)—The Veterans Administration said today it has asked the states to intensify their check-ups on veterans claiming GI unemployment payments with a view to tightening-up.

The action was prompted by figures showing that more than 38,000 veterans exhausted their jobless benefits in December, more than in any month since the GI Bill of Rights took effect, bringing the total to more than 159,000. The VA estimated the number of veterans exhausting their benefits may exceed 200,000 by the end of this month.

The GI Bill permits unemployed World War II veterans to draw $20 a week for 52 weeks. For self-employed veterans who report earnings of less than $100 a month, it provides payments which, with the veteran's own earnings, if any, will give him $100 a month, these benefits running for 10 2-5 months.

Reviews For Ten-Week Claims

The state agencies administering the payments were requested to adopt special review procedures in the case of all veterans claiming the benefits for ten consecutive weeks.

Such veterans are to be interviewed and given job counseling, and a special report is to be prepared on their case. Every time the veteran applies for another ten consecutive weeks' benefits, a more intensive check is to be made.

A special procedure adopted last August providing for a check of veterans on the rolls for twenty consecutive weeks was credited in a VA report with "strengthening administrative practices" and leading to "some reduction in the number of claimants on the rolls."

$2,000,000,000 Total

Total payments for unemployment and self-employment allowances since the start of the program had approximated $2,000,000,000 by the end of January. Unemployment payments totaled nearly $82,000,000 in December, compared with a 1946 low of $74,000,000 in November.

"Seasonal factors affecting employment conditions appear to explain much of the upturn in claims during December and January," a VA official observed.

Weekly continued claims for unemployment allowances averaged 1,149,000 in January, an increase over December's 988,000 but below the peak last March of 1,800,000.

Rise In Initial Claims

The number of initial claims, which indicate for the veterans involved the beginning of a period of unemployment, increased in January to an average of 146,000 per week, highest weekly level since last June. The peak volume of initial claims was reached a year ago, 252,000 in the week ending January 26, 1946.

During December, latest month for which such figures are available, the number of veterans returning to the rolls, after a period of employment, rose to 394,000, an all-time high.

The number of veterans filing claims for the first time was 188,000, a slight rise from the 123,000 low in October. New claims generally have decreased steadily as demobilization tapered off, the maximum having been 924,000 in January, 1946.

NOTES VANISH IN HESSE CASE

MAR 1947

Army Reveals Loss Of Afternoon's Testimony

Washington, March 2 (AP)—The Hesse crown jewels case took another bizarre twist today with disclosure that the Army has lost part of the voluminous record in the trial of Col. Jack W. Durant for theft of the treasure.

A member of the court-martial staff disclosed privately that the record of a whole afternoon's testimony, taken two weeks ago, vanished in the Army's vast Pentagon Building headquarters.

The missing testimony includes the stories of two Washington jewelers that Colonel Durant, 38-year-old air force officer, sold their store some diamonds alleged to be part of those taken from the Hesse castle at Kronberg, Germany.

Notes Discarded

A stenographer's recording machine, containing notes of the testimony was "appropriated by an army officer who wanted to use the machine for a while," the informant said. The trial notes were unwittingly discarded and lost.

This is the latest episode in the three-month long trial that began in Frankfurt, Germany, and was transferred to this country lock, stock, and barrel, with the glittering fortune in Hesse family gems and heirlooms brought along for evidence.

Prosecution Hopeful

The prosecution hopes it can get the missing testimony back into the record either by persuading the defense to agree to its substance, or by getting permission to call the witness back again.

Meanwhile the prosecution neared an end of its side of the case. It intends to call both Durant's brother and sister-in-law as witnesses tomorrow.

The sister-in-law, Mrs. James E. Durant, stalked from the courtroom last Wednesday, complaining of illness after repeatedly refusing to answer questions on the ground that she might incriminate herself or her husband.

Threats Alleged

Her attorney complained to the military court Friday that Major Joseph Robinson, trial prosecutor, had threatened her that her husband would be prosecuted and lose his Government job.

Robinson, who has charged that James Durant acted as a "coconspirator" in allegedly helping Colonel Durant dispose of some of the Hesse gems, denied he had made any threat.

There are no charges against James Durant.

One of Major Robinson's aides said today that Mrs. Durant's physician had said she would be ready to resume her testimony tomorrow morning.

Capper Says War Ended European Rule of Asia

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP).—Senator Arthur Capper, Republican, of Kansas, said today he feels assured Western Europeans are "definitely out of Asia, politically and probably economically."

In a speech prepared for a broadcast from Topeka, Kan., Senator Capper said: "When Britain grants independence to India . . .the next step is inevitable. That inevitable next step is that France and Holland also are going to give up their holdings in the Orient. In other words, World War II ended the reign of the white European man in the Orient."

The Senator said America's withdrawal of "a few diplomats and a comparatively few armed forces from China was, in my judgment, a good move, all things considered. If the Asiatics prove themselves capable of running their own affairs, we are in a position to deal with them on equal terms, politically and economically."

He added: "If, as many persons believe, Soviet Russia attempts to move into the supposed vacuum created by our voluntary withdrawal and Europe's compulsory withdrawal, then our moves in the Orient are less likely to be viewed with suspicion than if we were regarded as abetting the continuance of Western European domination of the Orient."

DROP IN MEAT PRICES SEEN

Decline In Fall Forecast By U.S. Agency

Washington, March 2 (AP)—The Agriculture Department tonight renewed its forecast that some meat prices will drop by fall.

Prices of hogs and lambs are expected to continue near current levels, it said, but prices of better-grade slaughter cattle probably will decline, at least moderately.

Buying Power Declines

Reporting a steady decline in the purchasing power of salary and wage earners during the past several months, the department said "this and other important economic forces suggest a downturn in general business activity during the latter part of 1947" and a weakened demand for meats.

Prospects still point, the department said, to a larger output of meat this year than last, with beef constituting a larger than usual proportion of the total supply during the spring and summer.

Declines in prices of grain-fattened cattle—a source of quality beef—were said to be in prospect this spring. A near-record number of 4,300,000 head of cattle were on grain feed January 1.

More Hogs And Pork

The department said the outlook is favorable for an increased supply of hogs and pork by the latter part of the year. Current high prices reflect the fact that last year's pig crops were reduced rather sharply from the previous year because of a grain feed shortage.

Reports from farmers indicate, the department said, that this spring's pig crop—which will go to market as fattened hogs next fall and winter—will be considerably larger than a year ago.

Welles's Views on German Pact

WASHINGTON, March 2 (UP).—Former Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles said tonight that unless the German problem is settled there can be no real promise of peace in Europe or in the world. In his weekly broadcast he said: "The German treaty is, in truth, the key to international order."

Reviewing the German situation in the light of the forthcoming Big Four conference at Moscow, he said the German peace treaty must embody these basic items:

1. "The treaty must provide for armed international control of certain strategic points in Germany for many years to come. . . .

2. "It must provide, as France is so rightly demanding, for political decentralization and for the establishment of a German federation of politically autonomous states. . . .

3. "Finally, the treaty must provide for a permanent international control over those mineral and industrial resources within Germany which a centralized German government has in the past been able to utilize for war purposes."

Georgian Offers British Empire Refuge As States Of The U.S.

Atlanta, March 2 (AP)—Senator Richard Russell (D., Ga.) proposes that England, Ireland, Wales and Scotland act to be admitted as member states of the United States, the Atlanta Constitution reported in a copyrighted article today.

In a Washington interview with Ralph McGill, editor of the Constitution, the Georgia Senator was quoted as saying his proposal was predicated upon talk of a threatened break-up of the British Empire and of its probable inability to carry out world commitments.

Many of these commitments, the Senator told McGill, will inevitably become the obligations of this country in any case.

A Tip To The Commonwealths

The junior Senator also proposed that the commonwealths within the Empire — Canada, Australia and South Africa—consider some form of association with this nation if Great Britain acts to become a part of the United States.

Senator Russell told McGill he realized that the first reaction would be one of rejection and that his plan would be regarded as fantastic and so denounced.

"Nevertheless," he was quoted by McGill, "Let us look at the record. The British went into Greece, Palestine and Egypt to protect the lifeline of the Empire which extends through the Mediterranean and the Suez. They are now unable to defend that lifeline. . . .

Britain, Greece And Palestine

"We are now called upon to take over the British position in Greece. If we should do so our first step would have to be to remove the Greek King so tragically forced upon the people. . . .

"The British have announced they cannot solve the Palestine problem and there is every indication their position there is precarious in the extreme.

"This proposal of mine," Russell continued, "will be rejected as fantastic. Yet I predict it will come in the years ahead. The Atlantic Ocean is no more a barrier today than was the Mississippi River when we added the states west of that River.

"It would remove the economic competition and create world trade. I very much doubt, with Egypt, India and Burma already in the process of being made independent states, that Britain's economic system of bringing in raw materials from colonial sources, manufacturing them and selling them to the world can be maintained.

"Britain's industrial system is not equipped for the modern machine age of industrial production. Her production of coal is still in the pick and shovel manner.

"Under my proposal, by joint action, Scotland, Wales, England and Ireland would come in as separate states, each with two senators and representatives based on population.

"Canada and Australia, being independent units, would be invited to consider uniting the English speaking peoples. Canada's ten millions might become several states. So might Australia's. In this respect I call attention to the fact that we already are responsible for Australia's defense.

Let The King "Run For Senate"

Senator Russell said his proposal, if carried through, "would cost this country far less than the commitments now proposed as our obligations. It would mean a coordinated economy and defense instead of this country now being called upon to assume the burden.

"I do not believe at all in the proposed 'union now' scheme but for them to come in as four new states. . . . Great problems demand great decisions."

Senator Russell said that as for the disposition of the King and Queen they were quite able to retire on their income and holdings.

"The King," he concluded, "could, if he wished to remain in politics, run for the senate—as could Winston Churchill."

Pepper for Open-Door Policy

TRENTON, N. J., March 2 (AP).—Senator Claude D. Pepper, of Florida, said today that the United States should take the lead in the solution of the displaced persons problem and "set an example to the world" by admitting a "large number" of European Jews into this country.

Addressing the New Jersey State Conference of the United Jeewish Appeal, Senator Pepper, a Democrat, listed the need for American initiative and the admission into Palestine of "at least 100,000" displaced persons as the "basic prerequisite for the positive solution of the mounting dilemma of the Jewish survivors in Europe."

BRUSSELS, MARCH 2-(AP)-INTERIOR MINISTER AUGUST BUISSERET TOLD BELGIAN NEWSMEN TODAY THAT A GOVERNMENT COMMUNIQUE, ISSUED FOLLOWING WEDNESDAY'S RIOT BY APPROXIMATELY 50,000 FORMER PRISONERS OF WAR, "MUST HAVE DESTROYED ALL EXAGGERATED ALLEGATIONS FROM SOME CORRESPONDENTS."

BUISSERET SAID THE GOVERNMENT WAS INVESTIGATING THE ADVISABILITY OF ISSUING A "STRICT DENIAL" ON REPORTS CARRIED BY NEWS AGENCIES.

THE COMMUNIQUE DID NOT REFER TO THE MOMENT DURING THE DEMONSTRATION WHEN ARMORED CARS MOUNTING MACHINEGUNS OPENED FIRE AS RIOTERS BROKE THROUGH A BAYONET AND SWORD WIELDING CORDON AROUND THE BELGIAN PARLIAMENT BUILDING. THE SOUND OF GUNFIRE WAS HEARD CLEARLY IN THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BUREAU ONE BLOCK FROM THE SCENE.

FIRST UNOFFICIAL REPORTS FROM EYE-WITNESSES PLACED THE DEAD AT 12 WITH UP TO 100 INJURED. A GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL, HOWEVER, SAID AT THAT TIME THAT ONLY ONE PERSON WAS DEAD AS THE RESULT OF A HEART ATTACK AND ONLY 40 WERE INJURED.

THE OFFICIAL COMMUNIQUE ISSUED BY THE MINISTRY OF THE INTERIOR:

"IT IS ESTIMATED BY THIS MINISTRY THAT THE NUMBER OF PARADERS HAVING TAKEN PART IN THE FORMER PRISONERS OF WAR DEMONSTRATION AMOUNTED TO 40,000 TO 50,000.

"AFTER THE PARADE BROKE UP SEVERAL PARADERS WENT TO THE NEUTRAL ZONE.

"THE POLICE FORCE WAS ABLE TO FACE THE FIRST PUSHING OF THESE DEMONSTRATORS, THEN WAS OVERWHELMED BY NUMBER.

"AT THIS MOMENT VIOLENT ACTION TOOK PLACE. FOUR MOTOR CARS WERE OVERTHROWN AND TWO OF THEM SET ON FIRE.

Bombay, March 2-(AP)-Bombay stock exchange authorities decided today to close the institution Monday until new tax proposals and the central government's "socialist" budget plans are clarified.

Business interests expressed hostility to the new taxation proposals. Indian merchants alleged that the tax changes would kill all initiative and enthusiasm and act to dampen industrialization.

A. W. Percy, president of the Bombay Chamber of Commerce, mainly a European organization, said the budget would cramp industry and lead to more extensive tax evasions. Other commercial organizations in Bombay and Ahmedabad sent telegraphic protests to New Delhi.

FIRST LEAD WAR TRIAL

BY FRANK L.WHITE

TOKYO,MONDAY,MARCH 3-(AP)-THE INTERNATIONAL WAR CRIMES COURT TODAY REFUSED TO ADMIT INTO EVIDENCE DEFENSE DOCUMENTS SEEKING TO SHOW THAT RUSSIA, THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN ALL WERE TREATY VIOLATORS--RUSSIA IN DEALINGS WITH BALTIC STATES, THE UNITED STATES IN GREENLAND AND ICELAND, AND BRITAIN IN IRAN.

CHIEF JUSTICE SIR WILLIAM WEBB OF AUSTRALIA SAID THE RULING, ANNOUNCED AFTER AN ENTIRE MORNING OF ARGUMENTS, WAS "THE DECISION OF A MAJORITY" OF THE ELEVEN ALLIED JUDGES. SUCH ISSUES, HE SAID, WERE HELD TO BE "COLLATERAL ISSUES," NOT AFFECTING THE WAR CRIMES CHARGES AGAINST FORMER PREMIER HIDEKI TOJO AND THE 25 OTHER JAPANESE ON TRIAL.

THE DEFENSE CONTENDED THAT WORLD COLLECTIVE SECURITY HAD BROKEN DOWN IN PREWAR DAYS, BECAUSE MANY NATIONS VIOLATED MANY TREATIES. IT ARGUED THAT RUSSIA'S THRUST INTO FINALD, BRITAIN'S INTO IRAN AND U.S. ESTABLISHMENT OF BASES IN GREENLAND AND ICELAND VIOLATED THE 1928 KELLOGG-BRIAND (PARIS) TREATY. THE JAPANESE DEFENDANTS ARE CHARGED WITH CONSPIRING TO VIOLATE THIS TREATY BY AGGRESSIONS IN CHINA AND MANCHURIA.

DEFENSE ATTORNEY BEN BRUCE BLAKENEY, OKLAHOMA CITY, SAID THE TRIBUNAL SHOULD CONSIDER THE ACTS OF OTHER NATIONS, BOTH TO SHOW WHAT CONSTITUTED INTERNATIONAL LAW, AND IN MITIGATION OF ANY PUNISHMENT WHICH MIGHT BE METED OUT TO THE JAPANESE ON TRIAL. OTHERWISE, HE ARGUED, THE COURT WOULD COME "PERILOUSLY CLOSE TO ESTABLISHING A DOUBLE STANDARD," PUNISHING JAPANESE BUT LETTING OTHER OFFENDERS GO FREE.

"THE CONDUCT OF GREAT NATIONS" MOULDS INTERNATIONAL LAW, HE TOLD THE COURT.

THE CHIEF JUSTICE INTERRUPTED TO SAY THAT THE COURT WOULD TAKE JUDICIAL NOTICE OF "ANY BREACHES OF THE PACT OF PARIS" WHICH WERE THE SUBJECT OF ACTION BY THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS OR ANY OTHER BODY "OF EQUAL STATURE."

ASSOCIATE PROSECUTOR ARTHUR COMYNS-CARR OF BRITAIN REPLIED TO THE DEFENSE ARGUMENT BY TERMING ITS DOCUMENTS "COUNTERCHARGES AGAINST THE PROSECUTING NATIONS, WHICH THE CHARTER OF THIS TRIBUNAL PROHIBITS." THE FACT SOME NATION MAY CHOOSE TO BREAK A TREATY DOES NOT AFFECT THE VALIDITY OF THAT TREATY, HE ADDED. HE ASKED THAT THE DEFENSE EVIDENCE BE EXCLUDED "SQUARELY ON THE GROUND" OF IRRELEVANCY.

DEFENSE ATTORNEYS CONTENDED THE JAPANESE COULD ONLY BE JUDGED FAIRLY IN THE LIGHT OF BEHAVIOR OF OTHER NATIONS.

TRUMAN IN MEXICO RENEWS POLICY OF NON-INTERVENTION; ALEMAN LEADS IN WELCOME

Stands Ready to Protect Smaller Nations from Oppression, He Declares.

CHEERED BY THRONGS

State Dinner Opens 3-Day Goodwill Visit to Sister Republic.

E. YACCARO

MEXICO CITY, March 3—(AP) President Truman, welcomed to Mexico with pomp and ceremony, declared tonight that the United States stands squarely behind its commitments to protect weaker countries the world over from oppression.

NIGHT

Speaking in the national palace after a thundering, joyful greeting as his own ambassador of goodwill to this sister republic, the American chief executive warned that his country, pledged to non-intervention, can not be indifferent "to what goes on beyond our own border."

Defines "Non-Intervention"

He defined his interpretation of the doctrine of non-intervention to mean that "a strong nation does not have the right to impose its will by reason of its strength, on a weaker nation."

Mr. Truman spoke after Mexican President Miguel Aleman, extending his warmest welcome, asserted at the conclusion of a state dinner honoring the American visitor.

"The voice of the Americas is heard in the choral strain of the countries of the world with ever more distinct and greater clearness."

President Aleman welcomed United States investments "with a proper respect" for Mexican laws because "we have economies that can complement one another fruitfully" and "a mature understanding of your own interests could not oppose the program of our industrialization."

Without specifying conflicts in the past, the Mexican chief executive said:

"If prejudices have been an obstacle (to inter-American harmony) let us make the education of our children and of our youth a liberation from that inexcusable obstacle."

Three-Day Visit

Mr. Truman flew in from Kansas City at 10:58 A. M. (EST) for a three-day good-will visit. His trip got off auspiciously with cheering crowds throwing flowers in his path as he drove to the U. S. embassy.

At tonight's banquet-reception Mr. Truman said that events in one country may have such a profound effect in other countries that a violation of accepted principles of national behavior is of concern to the whole family of nations.

Wholehearted acceptance of the doctrine that the strong can not impose on the weak is "a part of the basic international law recognized by all the American republics," Mr. Truman continued, and added:

"My own country will be faithful to the letter and to the spirit of the law."

Lawlessness among nations can no more be tolerated than lawlessness among individuals, he added.

Cheered by Throngs

President Aleman and high dignitaries of the Mexican government shared top spots in the greeting that followed Mr. Truman's arrival. However, thousands of laborers and humble farm workers turned out with their wives to cheer as the American president rode through two miles of flag-bedecked streets to the embassy.

Mexican soldiers with fixed bayonets guarded the national palace tonight as they did the central airport when the presidential plane, the "Sacred Cow" taxied to a swift landing after a seven-hour flight from snow-covered Kansas City.

Truman In Mexico City For Three-Day Visit

MAR 1947

Mexico City, March 3 (AP)—President Truman arrived by plane here today, the first United States Chief Executive ever to pay a visit to this capital.

DAY

He is here for a three-day official visit.

A 21-gun artillery salute greeted the President when he landed at 10.37 A.M.

Troops formed a line before the airport building. The plane left Kansas City at 3.59 A.M.

From Cold To Sunshine

President Truman was welcomed by President Aleman, his cabinet, the governor of the Federal District, Fernando Casas Aleman, not a relative of the president, and other dignitaries.

Truman arrived in seven hours from the cold and snow of Kansas City into the summer warmth and sunshine of Mexico.

The airport was transformed for the visit. A great platform flanked by high columns was erected for the unprecedented official session of the Consultative Council which made President Truman a "guest of honor" of the city. Gov. Casas Aleman presented the President with an inscribed gold medal and a parchment.

First To Leave Plane

The plane circled the field for five minutes before landing. Then it taxied toward the buildings and stopped before the platform and the balcony where the receiving party was assembled.

Truman was the first man out of his plane. He was met near the bottom of the steps by United States Ambassador Walter Thurston. They talked a few minutes while President Aleman and Foreign Secretary Jaime Torres Bodet, head of the Mexican party, stood twenty feet away for photographers to get the scene of the meeting.

As artillery saluted, the two presidents advance and shook hands. Introductions among the several score officials and the United States Embassy staff followed.

Presentation Of Medal

Then the two Presidents advanced to the platform for the presentation of the medal.

President Truman, replying to President Aleman's welcome and the presentation of the medal, addressed himself to both of them.

"I deeply appreciate the cordial welcome," he said, "to the ancient and noble city of Mexico."

"Full Understanding"

He spoke of the growing familiarity with Mexico through tourists and of the "full understanding" between the two peoples.

"We are the inheritors of a great civilization," he added, "and it is the task of the democracies of America to nurture their political and intellectual heritage until democracy has achieved its full fruition in world peace, justice and brotherhood."

As President Truman finished, the military band began the two national anthems, everyone standing at attention.

Troops Line Highway

When the music stopped, the two Presidents, followed by their parties, left the field and started the drive to the United States Embassy, where President Truman will stay.

The newly finished boulevard to the main highway was lined on both sides by troops at attention.

Back of them the crowds were six feet deep. People cheered and President Truman smiled and waved his hand repeatedly.

After a mile along the boulevard the road to the city goes on the Puebla-Mexico highway. Along it were detachments of troops and police. Inside the city, police in great numbers guarded the route and Mexican Secret Service men were in each house and on roofs.

The Chief Executives rode in President Truman's car, brought here by air, with the United States President on Aleman's right.

Uninterrupted Cheering

Thousands lined the route of the procession. Girls threw blossoms at the car, children waved flags and there was uninterrupted cheering.

President Aleman left President Truman at the Embassy where the American flag was hoisted as a sign of the President's residence there.

Truman has no event on his program today until 5.30 P.M. when he will call formally on President Aleman at the latter's home, a little more than a mile away. Tonight, there will be a state dinner at the national palace and a reception later to which about 1'500 persons have been asked.

The arrival of President Truman was broadcast throughout Mexico.

The Government instructed all of Mexico's radio stations and the army's shortwave network to broadcast the ceremony for pickup over loud-speakers set up even in the tiniest Mexican villages.

The decoration consisted of a symbolic Mexican eagle holding a tri-colored bar inscribed "Guest of Honor"; a ribbon suspended from the bar, and, hanging from the ribbon, a disk a little larger than a silver dollar picturing the Aztec calendar and the Federal district coat-of-arms and etched with President Truman's name.

Left After Visit to Mother.

Kansas City, March 3 (A. P.).—President Truman headed toward Mexico by plane today to give a sister republic renewed assurances of United States friendship.

DAY

The President took off before dawn in his big C-54 plane after visiting his 94-year-old mother, confined to her home at Grandview, Mo., with a fractured hip. During his brief Missouri stay he received assurances of her steady improvement.

During the President's Missouri visit yesterday, his mother, Mrs. Martha E. Truman, confided to Brig.-Gen. Wallace Graham that she prayed for her son's health and that he will be "the greatest President" in history. Graham, the President's personal physician, said Mrs. Truman explained that she had prayed similarly for all the Presidents whose careers she has followed during her long life.

Text of Truman Speech at Mexico City

MAR 1947

MEXICO CITY, March 3 (AP).—The text of President Truman's address tonight follows:

My presence here today as the guest of the great Republic of Mexico is one of the truly happy occasions of my career. I have wanted to return to Mexico ever since November, 1939, when I visited this city and enjoyed the memorable hospitality of the Mexican Congress. To my good friend, President Miguel Aleman, and to all the people of Mexico, I say from the bottom of my heart: Thank you for your gracious welcome.

It is a common failing to many people to complain of hardships and overlook their good fortune. In the international sphere, many people emphasize the disagreements that separate nations and forget the large areas of agreement that bring nations together in mutual understanding. I would be foolish to pretend that fundamental differences in political philosophies do not exist. The task of achieving permanent peace and security for all mankind is not easy, but I am certain that permanent peace and security are the goal of all peoples everywhere, whatever their language, or nationality, race, or creed. Because of my belief that the peoples of the world have peace as a common objective, I refuse to be discouraged by apparent difficulties. Difficulties are a challenge to men of determination.

If a realistic view of the world takes full account of the differences that separate nations, it must also take full account of the common beliefs that unite nations. Nowhere is this element of unity—unity of heart and mind—more evident than in the neighborly community of the American republics. Here we recognize clearly that, as you have stated so concisely and eloquently, Mr. President, "together we must live and together we must prosper."

Basis of Co-operation

Here we have already achieved in substantial measure what the world as a whole must achieve. Through what we call our Inter-American System, which has become steadily stronger for half a century, we have learned to work together and to solve our problems by friendly co-operation and mutual respect.

We have a Good Neighbor Policy in common and, as a result of the sincere application of that policy, we form a good neighborhood. Our example has a salutary effect on the whole world. The success of our cherished Inter-American System is a source of inspiration for the developing system of the United Nations, of which we are all members.

We are united by more than the common procedures and agencies of inter-American cooperation. All our peoples have a common belief which we call "democracy." Democracy has a spiritual foundation because it is based upon the brotherhood of man. We believe in the dignity of the individual. We believe that the function of the state is to preserve and promote human rights and fundamental freedoms. We believe that the state exists for the benefit of man, not that man exists for the benefit of the state. Everything else that we mean by the word "democracy" arises from this fundamental conviction. We believe that each individual must have as much liberty for the conduct of his life as is compatible with the rights of others. To put this belief into practice is the essential purpose of our laws.

Defines Democracy

We know that the maximum freedom and dignity of the individual cannot be attained under a dictatorship. Freedom and dignity of the individual can be attained only under a system of law which protects the rights of individuals, and through a govment made up of freely elected representatives of the people. When we have this, we have a democratic government — one that is suited to a democratic way of life. This is a simple, fundamental truth.

The Good Neighbor Policy, which guides the course of our inter-American relations, is equally simple. It is the application of democracy to international affairs. It is the application of the Golden Rule.

The Good Neighbor Policy applies to international relations the same standards of conduct that prevail among self-respecting individuals within a democratic community. It is based on mutual respect among nations, the respect that each accords to the rights of others, without distinction of size, wealth or power. It is an expression of that bond of common belief which we call democracy. It is the only road into the future that will lead us to our goal of universal peace and security. Along that road we shall persevere.

Non-Intervention

The Good Neighbor Policy specifically includes the doctrine of non-intervention. This assures each nation freedom for its own development. My country, in common with all the American republics, pledged itself at the Conference of Montevideo in 1933 and the Conference of Buenos Aires in 1936 to observe the doctrine of non-intervention. What it means is that a strong nation does not have the right to impose its will by reason of its strength, on a weaker nation. The wholehearted acceptance of this doctrine by all of us is the keystone of the Inter-American System. Without it we could not exist as a community of good neighbors. It is a binding commitment under the Good Neighbor Policy. It is part of the basic international law recognized by all the American republics. My own country will be faithful to the letter and to the spirit of that law.

Non-intervention does not and cannot mean indifference to what goes on beyond our own borders. Events in one country may have a profound effect in other countries. The community of nations feels concern at the violation of accepted principles of national behavior by any one of its members. The lawlessness of one nation may threaten the very existence of the law on which all nations depend.

In our domestic civil life we long ago recognized that the alternative to the rule of the strong was law established by the community. For some years now we have been seeking, with increasing success, to apply this basic concept to international relations. It is no coincidence that the effort to achieve collective world security has been concurrent with the growing acceptance of the doctrine of non-intervention.

He Notes Progress

It is inspiring to note the progress we have made toward establishing a community of nations with authority to enforce the law on delinquents. The Charter of the United Nations specifically invests the world community of nations with a measure of such authority. Within the good-neighbor community of the twenty-one American republics we have witnessed and are witnessing a similar constructive development, beginning at Buenos Aires in 1936 with unanimous acceptance of the principle of consultation. The development of the Inter-American System was accelerated by the great work done in this city at the 1945 conference on problems of war and peace, where the plan of a reorganized and strengthened system was created.

International relations have traditionally been compared to a chess game in which each nation tries to outwit and checkmate the other. I cannot accept that comparison with respect to relations between your country and mine, Mr. President. The United States and Mexico are working together for the mutual benefit of their peoples and the peace of the world. You have made me feel, what I could not have doubted in any case, that I stand here, in the midst of the great people of Mexico, as a trusted friend and a welcome guest.

To you and to the people of Mexico I bring a message of friendship and trust from the people of the United States. Though the road be long and wearisome that leads to a good neighborhood as wide as the world, we shall travel it together.

Our two countries will not fall each other.

Greece Relies On U. S. Aid to Increase Army

Says 30,000 More Men Are Needed to Keep Order; Greek Reds Indignant

LONDON, March 3 (AP).—Alexander A. Pallas, spokesman for the Greek Embassy, declared today that American aid to Greece would enable that country to boost by 30,000 its present army of 100,000 and restore order to the northern frontier regions, now beset by near civil war.

A spokesman here for the Greek Left Wing EAM (National Liberation Front) said United States "intervention" in Greece would "prolong civil war and will mean more victims and more bloodshed."

He quoted Nicholas Zachariades, general secretary of the Greek Communist party, as saying the Greek people were "determined to maintain their independence, and will strongly oppose replacement of British occupation by an American one in any form."

Britain Forecast

Pallas made his statement in an interview as Ernest Bevin, British Foreign Secretary, and his advisers were "considering urgently" an American note which Government informants said promised financial and economic aid for Greece, provided Britain kept troops in Greece to maintain order.

These informants said Britain would "almost certainly" accept the condition if the number of troops involved was not too high. The United States note was handed to Lord Inverchapel, British Ambassador, in Washington Saturday.

Pallas declared that the Greek Army needed "everything from machine guns, aircraft and artillery to boots and uniforms." He said an additional 30,000 troops would be enough margin to enable the Government to maintain order along the entire frontier, from the Adriatic Sea to the Turkish border.

Fears Major Crisis

Pallas said that if British aid was withdrawn and no American help was forthcoming, Greece would plunge almost immediately into a major crisis. He said British money and equipment had made it possible for the Greek forces to remain in the field against the guerrilla bands in the north, and added:

"If that help ceases on March 31, as the British have indicated, and is not replaced from some quarter there certainly will have to be a collapse of the front. We can control the situation internally, but we simply do not have the resources to withstand constant pressure from abroad."

Pallas asserted the only alternative to aiding the Greek government financially would be for the western powers to "warn those governments under Russian influence that provision of arms to the rebels must stop."

Pallas maintained that a majority of the Greek people would welcome a token occupation of the border region by American troops, but that most Greeks in official positions regarded direct United States military support as unlikely.

He said Greek leaders did not believe that British troops now in Greece or any Americans who might be sent in would become involved in fighting with the guerrillas.

Pallas said that assistance during the past 27 months had cost the British about $24,000,000. He estimated that financial aid would be required for the next three to five years if Greece was to withstand pressures from the north and east. He viewed the financial aid as small in terms of modern finance.

Turkey Also Involved

Meanwhile British government sources said that British moral and political commitments to Turkey were examined also in the Anglo-American discussions which began over Greece.

Informants said the Turkish government had sent notes to Britain and the United States on "certain questions" affecting Turkey which might be discussed at the four-power Foreign Ministers Conference in Moscow.

Presumably these questions would include revision of the Montreaux convention governing use of the Dardanelles Straits. Russia has called upon Turkey to enter bilateral discussions over revision of the convention and has proposed certain changes which would give Russia a share in defense of the Straits.

U.S. Arms Aid 'Peace, Greeks Say

London, March 3 (AP)—Alexander A. Pallas, spokesman for the Greek Embassy, said today that if the United States provided arms to Greece, a full offensive would be launched against guerrilla forces in the northern frontier provinces.

Pallas said in an interview that Greece appealed to Britain several months ago for more arms and equipment for a strengthened army, but received no positive answer.

Two Suggestions

He said there were two ways of avoiding a "chronic state of rebellion" along the entire length of the 700-mile northern frontier. One was for the United States or Britain to give Greece weapons to suppress the guerrillas with a strengthened army.

The other, he said, was for the "western powers to warn those governments under Russian influence that provision of arms to rebels must stop." He mentioned Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania.

Greeks Pleased By Aid Plans

Athens, March 3 (AP)—Sources close to the Government expressed satisfaction today with reports from Washington that the United States had agreed to help Britain financially in supporting the present Greek regime, providing the British do not withdraw their forces from the country.

Premier Demetrios Maximos called on King George II twice yesterday to keep him abreast of developments, and there seemed to be confidence in Government circles that negotiations for desired American help would be consummated.

London Receives U.S. Reply

Foreign Minister Constantin Tsaldaris or Minister of Co-Ordination Stephenos Stephenopoulos were said to be prepared to go to the United States if necessary to arrange details.

[A British Foreign Office spokesman announced last night receipt of the United States reply to a London note on the future of Greece, but said the message had "not yet been studied."

[Although the contents of the American note were not officially disclosed, the usually authoritative British Press Association said it was understood that it "asks Brtain to maintain a garrison force in Greece in return for financial aid."]

Fighting Continues

Reports from Northern Greece, meanwhile, told of continued widespread fighting.

The largest single engagement was reported from Western Macedonia, where a guerrilla band 2,000 strong was said to have been thwarted in an attempt to capture the Village of Naoussa.

Greek Army Kills 120 Guerrillas In Surprise Attack

Athens, March 3 (AP)—More than 120 Greek guerrillas were reported killed and their military supply column captured today in heavy fighting near the western Macedonia city of Niaousta (Naoussa).

The battle took place only 50 miles west of Salonika, northeastern Greek seaport where a United Nations commission is investigating Greek accusations that her Balkan neighbors are aiding the guerrillas.

Press dispatches said the casualties were inflicted on a band of more than 2,000, which was routed by Greek army troops. The advices quoted military authorities as saying they caught the band by surprise while it was sweeping down from a hideout on Mount Paikon, in an attempt to capture Niaousta.

The army attack, the dispatches said, had wrought havoc among the guerrillas, who fled in disorder after abandoning 100 pack animals and many mortars, tommy guns and rifles.

The Ministry of Public Order announced that guerrillas were active elsewhere in northern Greece, and were stepping up their compulsory conscription of villagers.

Ten guerrillas were killed and four captured at Gavros, near Trikkala, in a fight with gendarmery, the Ministry said, and seven gendarmes were taken prisoner when a military truck was held up near Tsotyli in western Macedonia.

GREEK AID PLAN STIRS WARNINGS

U. S. Must Make Clear It Is Not Backing British Policy, Says Sen. George.

WASHINGTON, March 3—(AP) Senator George (D-Ga) declared today that if the United States takes over hard-pressed Britain's commitments in Greece it should make clear that it is supporting its own, not British, foreign policy.

Moreover, George told reporters, this country must act in such a way that "we do not invite any open opposition from our friends the Russians in that area."

His comments came as senators awaited an appearance before the Foreign Relations Committee tomorrow by Secretary of State Marshall.

Marshall and his predecessor, James F. Byrnes, will explain four Balkan peace treaties, but Marshall may face some questioning about the Greek situation.

The United States already has sent Britain a note which was said in informed quarters to approve in principal a proposal that this country take over the British economic commitments. This supposedly would entail underwriting the cost of keeping 10,000 British troops in Greece to support the government in its contest with armed opposition.

George said he thinks the American people want to help the Greek people.

"But we can's afford to identify ourselves with British policies," he added. "It is up to our government to satisfy itself that the Greek people are supporting their present government and then to carry out our policy of helping maintain democratic governments."

Stalin Resigns as Defense Head, Bulganin Is Appointed Minister

'Pressure of Main Work' on Soviet Premier Is Reason for the Change

London. March 3 (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin, after six years as commander of the vast Russian military organization, resigned his post as Minister of the Armed Forces today because of the "excessive pressure of his main work," the Moscow radio said tonight.

He handed the job to politically astute Marshal Nikolai Alexandrovich Bulganin, the radio said.

The change in the top military command came as the Soviet Union gradually was de-emphasizing military activities and demobilizing millions of soldiers to enter industry and speed up the nation's current five-year plan. Stalin stepped out of the military office only a week before the four power Foreign Ministers' Conference was scheduled to open in Moscow.

Reported Very Tired and Ill

The brief radio announcement, recorded here by the Soviet Monitor, gave "pressure" of other work as Stalin's only reason for relinquishing one of his many state posts.

However, the tremendous task of guiding Russian military forces through the war with Germany undoubtedly tired the 67-year-old Stalin, who has repeatedly been reported ill since the end of the war.

He was away from Moscow when the Soviet Union celebrated his sixty-seventh birthday last December 21, but when he returned from his vacation it was said he was in normally good health for a man of his age.

Continues In Other Posts

Stalin, who retains his post as Prime Minister, also will continue as a member of the Presidium, general secretary of the central committee of the Communist party, head of the powerful Politburo and of the Orgburo, the latter the supervising organization of the Communist party.

Bulganin, the new Minister of the Armed Forces, was named the chief Vice Minister of the Armed Forces a year ago when the Russian military machine was reorganized under a unified command with four branches—land, navy, air and rear.

Bulganin is a former vice chairman of the Council of People's Commissars, actually vice premier of the U.S.S.R., and rose spectacularly in the army during the war. He is regarded as a skilled negotiator and administrator rather than a great soldier.

Headed Moscow City Soviet

As head of the Moscow City Soviet during the war he specialized in public affairs, although he was a member of the military council of the city when the Germans were repulsed almost at the city's gates during the bitter defense of the capital in 1941. The following year he was appointed a lieutenant general in the Red Army.

Unofficial Russian sources in London said they believed there was no unusual significance attached to Stalin's resignation and that they believed the announcement meant just what it said—that pressure of other work forced Stalin to lay aside one of his tasks.

Reported Down To 3,000,000

At one point during Stalin's sole stewardship of Russia's wartime military organization it was estimated that the Soviet Union had 20,000,000 men and women under arms. However, the semi-official United States Army publication, Armored Cavalry Journal, said last October that Russia had only 3,000,000 persons remaining under arms at that time.

Last November Red Star, official organ of the Soviet Army, hailed the greatly increased demobilization of the army as a great aid to the Soviet Union's greatest project, the five year plan, by adding to the nation's labor supply.

Russian sources in London pointed out that the German problem will receive close scrutiny at the Moscow Foreign Ministers' session and that Stalin probably wished to have ample freedom to study the preparation of the German peace treaty.

In addition, they said, Stalin has been concerned personally about the matter of renewing the British-Soviet twenty-year treaty of mutual assistance.

Another indication that Russian military affairs were taking a back seat to domestic affairs was the fact that last month the Soviet military budget for 1947 was set at $13,400,000,000—a decrease of $1,120,000,000 from the 1946 figure.

Nevertheless, Stalin, in speaking at the observance of the Soviet Army's twenty-ninth birthday less than two weeks ago, urged the army to "new and greater successes in military training."

The text of the Moscow radio broadcast:

"The Presidium of the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R. has acceded to the request of J. V. Stalin, chairman of the Council of Ministers of the U.S.S.R., to be released from his duties as Minister of the Armed Forces of the U.S.S.R.

"Generalissimo Stalin made the request in view of the excessive pressure of his main work. The Presidium has appointed Army General N. A. Bulganin Minister of the Armed Forces of the U.S.S.R."

Soviet Denounces Report On Recruiting of Koreans

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, March 3—The Moscow radio tonight described as "ridiculous fabrications" reports "alleging that the Soviet Union is recruiting 500,000 inhabitants of northern Korea for the Soviet Army."

The broadcast said the reports were circulated "by The Associated Press agency and some American newspapers, referring to a statement by the commander of American troops in southern Korea, General Hodge [Lieut. Gen. John R. Hodge.]"

The Soviet news agency Tass, the broadcast added, has "been authorized to state that such reports are completely without foundation and are ridiculous fabrications."

General Hodge said in Washington on Feb. 24 that the Russian radio itself had carried reports that Koreans from 17 to 25 years of age were being drafted. Based on a population of 10,000,000 to 11,000,000 in the northern zone of Korea, he said, this could mean an army of 500,000.

Bulgaria Honors Molotov.

London, March 3 (A. P.).—The Moscow radio reported today that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had been voted an honorary citizen of Sofia by the Bulgarian Popular Assembly.

BRITAIN RENEWS PLEA FOR FUEL ECONOMY

LONDON, March 3—(AP) Britain's labor government issued a fresh appeal tonight for rigid economy in the use of electricity by non-industrial consumers to avoid a further interruption of the nation's industrial production.

The appeal came after the government lifted the last phase of its ban on electricity-powered factory production and hundreds of thousands of workers returned to their jobs after three weeks of idleness. The shutdown resulted from a coal shortage.

The central electricity board announced that nation-wide power cuts may be necessary tomorrow between 8 and 9 a.m. unless the public voluntarily reduces consumption during this period.

British Power On But Plants Feel Strain

London, March 3 (AP)—Britain lifted the last phase of her ban on electricity-powered factory production today and hundreds of thousands of workers returned to their jobs after three weeks of idleness.

But even on the first day of "normalcy," overstrained generating plants stalled production in some key areas, imposing a 45-minute "load shedding" that cut power by fifteen per cent in southwest England, ten per cent in the southeast and central parts of the island, and five per cent in the mideast.

Government leaders warned that coal reserves were still desperately low. Compulsory daily five-hour electricity cuts in homes and offices remained in effect and the street-lighting blackout will be maintained.

Loss May Reach 500 Million

Official quarters awaited detailed reports before estimating the cost of the economic breakdown, but some business circles said the loss in production would run over $500,000,000. Nearly 3,000,000 workers were unemployed during the crisis, according to Government estimates.

All industries, except those essential to public health and welfare, had electric power shut off in 38 English and Welsh counties on February 19 because power-station coal stocks had fallen to nine days' reserve.

Electric power was restored to industry in 30 counties, including London, just after midnight. Last Monday, factories in eight midlands counties resumed work after a two-week shutdown.

17 Days' Stocks On Hand

A Government spokesman, reporting that power stations now had nearly seventeen days stocks on hand, warned that the crisis might recur unless restraints on the domestic use of electricity were retained.

Although fines up to $2,000 and two years in prison were prescribed by the Government for violators of the electricity ban, no prosecutions were made during the three-week period.

Householders and other domestic users still are subject to penalties, but they have been "put on their honor" to co-operate in the five-hour-per-day switchoffs.

Many factories were unable to open today despite the restoration of power because of the shortage of coal or lack of parts from subsidiary plants.

Ford Plant Stays Closed

The Ford Motor Company plant at Dagenham, with 14,000 workers, was unable to open because of lack of coal.

A few plants announced that they would respond to Government appeals for the running of night shifts to cut down the drain on power generators during the peak daytime periods, but most of them awaited the results of a Government consultation with industry on the tradition-upsetting measure.

The Firestone Tire Factory in London, with 2,000 employés, was one of the first to announce a changeover to night work.

Laborite Victory In Commons

London, Tuesday, March 4 (AP)—The Labor Government's preponderant majority in the House of Commons won its fight early today to speed up the nationalization of business and industry, ignoring Winston Churchill's cry that "liberties and the free life of Britain are in great danger" from Socialism.

Amid boos and cries of "Gag! Gag!" from the Conservative party benches of the house, Labor members carried a motion to force two major pieces of social legislation out of committee by April 2. The vote was 289 to 150.

The bills would nationalize transport—railroads, trucks and busses—and put all future real-estate development under close Government supervision. Both already have passed a second reading, and when the committee reports them out on April 2 they will be put to the final vote.

CHURCHILL ASSAILS SOCIALIST LEGISLATION

LONDON, March 3 — (AP) Winston Churchill declared angrily in the House of Commons tonight that "the liberties and free life of Britain are in great danger" under the socialist regime of Prime Minister Attlee.

His conservative followers shouted cries of "reichstag," "fuehrer" and "come on Hitler" in the austere chamber as the labor government sought to force two major pieces of socialist legislation out of committee by April 2.

The bills would nationalize transport—railroads, trucks and buses—and put all future real estate development under close government supervision. Both already have passed a second reading, which amounts to approval in principle, and await only formal passage after they have been received from standing committees.

Former Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, seldom given to strong language, joined Churchill in the criticism, urging the government to "revise these monstrous proposals and give the house an opportunity to be something other than merely a rubber stamp."

British Communists Ask Policy Change

London, March 3 (AP)—Communists of the British Empire declared today that the United States would absorb Great Britain's "richest prizes" overseas unless the Government in London abandons its "imperialistic policies and commitments."

A declaration, drafted jointly by Communists from eleven British countries, said Great Britain was being dragged along as a "junior partner" to American policies, which would lead eventually to "another world war aimed at the Soviet Union."

"The United States, now the dominant world imperialist power with huge material and strategic resources, is out to dominate the world and to absorb British Empire countries," the declaration added.

The statement was issued at the conclusion of a six-day session of delegates representing about 200,000 Communists scattered over the empire.

Britons Not Even Amused

Russell Proposal to Become Part of U. S. Leaves Them Cold

LONDON, March 3 (AP).—A proposal attributed to Senator Richard Russell, of Georgia—to admit England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales as members of the United States—was dismissed with slight comment today by spokesmen for Britain's leading political parties.

"The Labor party is not interested in pursuing any policy that might lead to that sort of thing," a spokesman for the government party said. "The Labor party is pursuing its own independent foreign policy. We in the Labor party do not think it is a point worth discussing."

Professor Harold Laski, former chairman of the Labor party, said curtly: "I think that speculation in a vacuum as distant as that vacuum is something that need not concern this generation."

A Conservative party spokesman said: "I do not think it is a thing that deserves comment."

Man Sentenced For Hoax

London, March 3 (AP)—Alfred Gilbert, 48, a decorator, was sentenced to a month in jail or pay a $40 fine today for a hoax telephone call to Scotland Yard reporting that the residence of Prime Minister Attlee would be bombed.

Noted Woman Flyer Dies in Childbirth

London, March 3 (A. P.).—Pauline Gower, pioneer British woman flyer and wartime commandant of the Women's Section of the Air Transport Auxiliary, died last night after giving birth to twin sons. The babies were reported "doing well."

Miss Gower, who retained her maiden name, was the wife of Wing Commander William Fahie and the daughter of Sir Robert Vaughan Gower, a former Member of Parliament. Part of her work with the Air Transport Auxiliary was the organization of a group of women, including Americans, to serve as ferry pilots in Britain, thereby releasing men for combat flying. Since 1943 she had been a Government Director of the British Overseas Airways Corporation.

UN COMMISSION MAPPED TO SPEED EUROPE RECOVERY

By Harrison

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 3—(AP) The United Nations economic and social council voted unanimously today to set up machinery immediately to assist in the economic recovery of war-wrecked Europe.

The vote came after a three-hour debate in which Soviet Russia and Czechoslovakia withdrew the opposition they had expressed to the creation of such machinery when the issue came before the council last September.

Specifically, the 18-nation economic body agreed to accept a recommendation of the General Assembly that it create an economic commission for Europe to coordinate the efforts of the individual countries in their struggle toward recovery.

Duties Defined

The council did not immediately define the functions and duties of the new commission but agreed to turn that question over to a special committee of nine members with instructions to submit recommendations as soon as possible.

Although the delegates were agreed on the general purpose of the commission, it was apparent during debate that the special committee might run into difficulties on some points, particularly on the composition of the commission.

One of the points on which there appeared to be unanimity was that the commission would absorb three organizations now engaged in economic work in Europe—the European coal organization, the emergency economic committee and the European central inland transport organization.

It also appeared to be agreed that the United States would be given a place on the commission, which otherwise was expected to be made up of European members of the United Nations.

In voting to set up the economic commission for Europe, the delegates agreed that a similar commission should be created for Asia and the Orient but decided to postpone action on this until it received the recommendations of a working committee which has been studying this question for some months.

The question of setting up a special commission to aid Europe's recovery was proposed originally by the United States, Great Britain and Poland. Russia objected to the plan at that time on the ground that it envisaged a long-range program and did not provide for enough emergency assistance.

Gromyko Ready To Air Trieste Governorship

MAR 1947

By Harold Hinds

Lake Success, N.Y., March 3 (AP). Andrei A. Gromyko has unofficially advised several other Security Council delegates that Russia will be ready to take up the problem of a governor for Trieste late this week, it was reported authoritatively today.

Some sources expected Gromyko to plump for a man from eastern Europe.

The Council has held up any formal discussion pending Soviet readiness to comment on suggested candidates or make nominations. With Gromyko now about to state his choice, it was expected that the Council would move toward an early selection for the $20,000-a-year post.

DAY

Language Qualification

Under terms of the Italian Peace Treaty, which still needs to be ratified, the governor must be able to speak Italian or Slovene, the two official languages of the free territory of Trieste, Italy or Yugoslavia.

No other qualifications were stipulated, but delegates from the United States, Russia, Great Britain and France agreed at a recent informal session that he should not come from their countries.

One potential candidate apparently has eliminated himself. Alberto Lleras Camargo, former President of Colombia, was said to prefer the post of director general of the Pan-American Union, a position to be filled early this month.

Spaniard Proposed

Pablo de Azcarate y Flores, prewar Spanish Ambassador to London, was viewed in some circles as a compromise candidate. A Spanish Republican but without any official connection with the government in exile, he was put forward by the French. It was considered possible that he would be agreeable to Russia.

The British were reported leaning toward Leif Egeland, South African Minister to the Netherlands. Others mentioned included Gen. Henri Guisan, former commander in chief of the Swiss Army; Lieut. Gen. Bengt Gustafsson Nordenskiold, chief of the Swedish Air Force, and Alfred Emil Frederick Sandstrom, chairman of the bureau disposing of Axis holdings in Sweden.

Reporting directly to the Council, the governor will hold office five years but will be subject to removal for cause.

Indo-China Peace Move Foreseen

Paris, March 3 (AP)—A high Government official said today that Admiral Georges Thiery d'Argenlieu would be replaced in the near future as high commissioner in Indo-China as the step toward political settlement with insurgent nationalists.

DAY

The official said the Government had not decided upon a successor for d'Argenlieu and that his resignation would be announced as soon as this decision was made.

D'Argenlieu was recently recalled from Saigon for consultations in Paris.

New Tactics Needed

The French official, who has recently returned from a visit to Indo-China, declared that a person with considerable political ability was needed to restore peace to the war-torn colonies.

He said the French were in control of the situation momentarily, but added that new tactics were needed to master the situation politically. He expressed confidence that with a new approach, settlement could be made with the responsible Viet Nam leaders.

This source said that consultations were proceeding among Government authorities on a successor to d'Argenlieu and an accord could be expected before the end of next week.

TWO FLYERS ARRESTED

Frankfurt, March 3 (A. P.).—A United States Army investigation of military currency counterfeiting took a new turn today with the arrest of two American Air Force officers based in Italy and the reported finding of a set of engravers' plates in Naples. Although based in Italy, the Air Force officers were arrested in Germany. One, a captain, was picked up in Berlin and the other, a lieutenant, in Munich. Their names were withheld. The Provost-Marshal's office said the captain had $1,510 in counterfeit scrip.

DAY

The two officers said they did not know the money was counterfeit, insisting that it had been given to them by friends in Italy to buy travelers' checks which can be bought only in limited amounts with scrip in Italy.

The finding of the engraving plates in Naples was reported by the Army newspaper, Stars and Stripes. The Provost-Marshal's office here said that it had no official confirmation of that report.

Military Police Probe Shooting Of Americans

Heidelberg, Germany, March 3 (AP)—American military police authorities disclosed tonight that they were investigating two gun attacks on Americans near Stuttgart.

Murrell Drury, a civilian from Monahans, Texas, was shot in the thigh as he stepped off a streetcar.

Tech. 5/g James C. Farris, of Eccles, W. Va., a constabulary trooper, was shot in the left arm while he was walking on a street.

Both Drury and Farris said they believed their assailants were displaced persons.

Hamburg Utilities Are Virtually Halted

Hamburg, March 3 (A. P.).—The British Military Government today announced the virtual cessation of public utilities in Hamburg as a result of the fuel shortage. Only 500 tons of coal will be allotted daily to keep the water works, four mills, bakeries and perhaps the telephones operating. All electric current for lighting was cut off indefintely this morning.

NIGHT

Army Gives Warning On Recurrence Of VD

Frankfurt, Germany, March 3 (AP)—Soldiers who repeatedly contract venereal disease were warned by United States Army headquarters today that their repeated infections may result in their being discharged from the service.

Headquarters said that one out of every 47 American soldiers in the European theater had contracted a venereal disease during January and that thirteen per cent of those infected were repeaters.

Italy Expects Marshall To Aid Treaty Revision

ROME, March 3 (AP).—Foreign Ministry sources said today Secretary of State George C. Marshall has confirmed that the United States will give limited support to Italian demands for softening the terms of the Italian peace treaty.

The Constituent Assembly has sent messages to the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia asking for revision of the pact. Italian ratification of the treaty depends upon the Assembly.

The Foreign Ministry informants said Marshall assured Alberto Tarchiani, Italian Ambassador, that the United States will back Italy's request for representation on the United Nations committee scheduled to study disposition of Italian colonies. The Secretary was quoted as saying he also favors either letting Italy be the U. N. mandatory power for the colonies or allowing her to share in the mandate.

NIGHT

Marshall was represented as favoring the destruction of America's part of the forfeited tonnage of the Italian fleet, but as pointing out that the question of the fleet involves other powers.

Kesselring Says Badoglio And King Betrayed Him

VENICE, March 3 (AP).—German Field Marshal Albert Kesselring testified in a bitter, contemptuous voice today that former King Victor Emmanuel III and Marshal Pietro Badoglio committed "unbelievable treachery" in swinging Italy to co-belligerency with the Allies.

NIGHT

Kesselring, who is being tried on war crimes charges, said that after the fall of Benito Mussolini in July, 1943, the King and Badoglio, Mussolini's successor as Premier, "repeatedly gave us their absolute assurance that they would continue the war on our side to the very end."

Kesselring said an air attack on his headquarters at Frascati, southeast of Rome, "almost eliminated me and caused heavy losses among my staff officers." He added: "I am almost certain that the attack was well known beforehand to the Italian government and the Italian King."

The Viet Nam government's envoy to India is to be Dr. Nguyen Luan, it was reported today.

Poles Doom 3 Nazis to Die

WARSAW, March 3 (AP).—A Polish People's Court today sentenced to death the former Nazi Governor of Warsaw, Dr. Ludwig Fischer, and two underlings who were found responsible for the deaths of more than 1,000,000 Polish Jews and for the destruction of the Warsaw ghetto. Former Gestapo Chief Josef Meissinger and former Police Chief Max Daumb were sentenced with Fischer. The date for their executions was not announced.

SPITSBERGEN PLAN BALKED

MAR 1947

Norway Refuses To Grant Russia Military Bases

Oslo, March 3 (AP) — The Norwegian Parliament, in a secret session on February 15, turned down a Russian request for military bases on the Arctic Archipelago of Spitsbergen, an official statement said tonight. The vote was 101 to 11, with the opposition all Communists.

The Communists suggested that Parliament abide by an understanding reached between Norway and Russia in April, 1945, in which the Norwegian Government in exile expressed the view that defense of Spitsbergen was a matter between the two nations, the statement said.

NIGHT

The majority voted for a resolution by the Parliament's Foreign Committee saying that the situation today differed from the Spring of 1945, the statement added.

However, the majority decided that it was reasonable to renegotiate with other signatory powers of the Spitsbergen treaty on the basis of special Russian privileges. The powers that fought for the Axis during the war would be exempted from such negotiations.

36 U. S. REPORTERS GET SOVIET VISAS

Moscow, March 3 (A. P.).—The number of American correspondents who will be permitted to visit Moscow for the Big Four Council of Foreign Ministers this month has been boosted from twenty to thirty-six by the Russian Government. United States Ambassador Walter B. Smith announced yesterday that the Russians had advised him that visas would be issued for thirty-six newspaper and magazine writers, radio commentators or photographers. The United States originally had requested visas for seventy-three, but had been advised that the number would have to be held to twenty because of a housing shortage.

DAY

Reds Free 145,000 Japanese

MOSCOW, March 3 (AP).—Soviet repatriation officials said today that 145,000 Japanese had been moved from Russian and Russian-controlled territory to Japan by Feb. 15. The statement said the repatriation was with the agreement of American occupation authorities, and that monthly quotas of Japanese prisoners of war and civilians would be removed to Japan.

BRITISH QUARTERS IN HAIFA BOMBED

Terrorists Warn That 'Open Warfare Exists in Palestine.'

By J. Goodwin

JERUSALEM, March 3—(AP) Five hand grenades were hurled into a British military office at Haifa tonight, shortly after the Jewish underground organization Irgun Zvai Leumi proclaimed that "open warfare exists in Palestine."

A British announcement said there were no casualties in the grenade attack.

NIGHT

Irgun claimed that it had successfully attacked British army camps at Petah Tiqva and Hadera, in retaliation against the imposition of martial law on more than a third of Palestine's 600,000 Jews.

There was no confirmation by the British of these claims. Petah Tiqva, seven miles east of the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv, is in one of the martial law zones. Hadera, 25 miles north of Tel Aviv, still is free from military rule.

Warns of Open Warfare

Pamphlets signed by Irgun telling of the purported attacks said "all our soldiers returned safely from recent operations, and we now declare that open warfare exists in Palestine." The pamphlets reiterated that Irgun accepted the responsibility for the explosion Saturday at a British officers club in Jerusalem.

The Palestine Post, Jewish owned newspaper here, said it had received an anonymous telephone call saying Irgun "soldiers" would attack two British security zones in Jerusalem.

Lt. Gen. G.H.A. MacMillan, commander of British troops in Palestine, told his headquarters staff tonight that "there is no question of the army in Palestine being at war, with the Jewish population or anyone else."

In his first address to the staff since he assumed command last month, the general added "the function of the army is to assist the police in maintaining law and order, as the police force alone is insufficient in present circumstances."

Meanwhile the Jewish Agency, warning of the possibility of "absolute anarchy and chaos," demanded that Britain define terms of martial law imposed yesterday.

With approximately 250,000 Jews isolated from the rest of the world, Jewish and British sources agreed that indefinite continuation of the military rule would result in financial ruin for the areas affected.

British Maj. Gen. R. N. Gale, military governor of the Tel Aviv area, said martial law "inevitably would spell economic disaster to the community as a whole if it continued for long, as business is going to be hamstrung."

Hagana, armed force of the Jewish Agency, accused Britain of "deliberately destroying the Jewish economy." The agency itself said military law had brought "economic damage to hundreds of thousands of people who have nothing whatever to do with terror and crime."

The Palestine Government, apparently smarting under recent attacks by the Jewish Agency, said tonight in an official statement that 21,000 Jewish immigrants "over and above" the quota had been admitted to Palestine.

The agency, indignant over the slaying of two Jews by British authorities within the last 24 hours, asked whether such killings were considered "right" under terms of martial law.

Jewish Girl, 4, Killed

One of those killed was a 4-year-old girl, Ketti Shalom, who was shot last night while standing with her mother on the balcony of a house in the martial law area of Jerusalem. The mother also was wounded. British officials said the girl's parents apparently had quarreled, and that soldiers opened fire when the father tried to leave the house.

Isaac Poli, 30-year-old Jewish war veteran, was killed in Tel Aviv today when he failed to heed an order to halt. The two deaths boosted the fatality total from violence in the last three days to 22.

"We believe we have a right to know the regulations governing martial law," a Jewish Agency spokesman said. "Was it right for a soldier to take a shot at a little girl? Was it right for soldiers to shoot at cars in Tel Aviv? Unless it is made known what martial law actually does entail in terms of responsibility, then there will be absolute anarchy and chaos."

Business At Virtual Standstill

The question heard most frequently was how long the military rule—imposed over the Jewish Mea Shearim section of Jerusalem and a 40-square-mile coastal area including Tel Aviv—would last. Brig. E. F. Davis, British security officer, said it might be days, weeks or longer, depending on the success of a campaign to wipe out terrorists.

Other British officials insisted that the aim of the martial law was to bring peace to the Holy Land, and denied it had been imposed "in retaliation" for the bombing of the officers' club in Jerusalem.

Business was at a virtual standstill in the areas affected, although a few shops were allowed to reopen to sell milk and food.

The curfew in Tel Aviv was lifted at dawn, and residents of the Mea Shearim district of Jerusalem were allowed to leave their houses from 10 A.M. to 1 P.M.

General Gale said residents of the Tel Aviv area "must remain cut off from the rest of the country and world.

Plant For Making Bombs Found

"There will be no traffic in and out of the zone, no mail, no telephones and telegraph," he said.

The army will send food trains into Tel Aviv, Gale added, but the harbor will be closed and "there will be no commerce—industry and business of necessity will be paralyzed."

Members of the 9th Brigade Infantry searched the cluttered alleys and rabbit-warren homes of Mea Shearim, "the place of a hundred gates," where some 15,000 Jews live. Sixty persons were held for questioning.

Troops discovered a plant for making bombs in Tel Aviv, and confiscated three bombs weighing 100 pounds each, 25 sticks of gelignite, eight electrical detonators and other material.

Palestine Toll Reaches 22

DAVIDSON

Jerusalem, March 3 (AP)—Deaths by violence in Palestine mounted to 22 in three days with the shooting of a Jewish curfew violator in Tel Aviv today as the British Army maintained martial law over a third of the Holy Land's 700,000 Jews.

British officials reported that Isaac Poli, 30-year-old Jewish former service man, was shot and killed while bicycling in Tel Aviv when he failed to obey a soldier's order to halt.

His death was the second traceable to control measures imposed to facilitate a hunt for Jewish underground fighters. Ketti Shalom, 4-year-old Jewish girl, died in a hospital yesterday. Officials said she was hit in the back of the head, and her mother was wounded in the leg by bullets fired at Ketti's father, leaving the house in violation of the curfew. The two were standing on a balcony at the time. The officials reported Shalom walked out after a quarrel with his wife.

250,000 Under Martial Law

Martial law was in force for more than 250,000 Jews in Jerusalem's oldest and biggest Jewish district, the Mea Shearim section, and in a northern coastal-plain area measuring some four by ten miles and embracing Tel Aviv, Ramat Gan, Peth Tiqva, Benei Beraq and other Jewish communities.

A curfew, keeping residents to their homes, was lifted at dawn today in the coastal section. In the Jerusalem martial-law area inhabitants were allowed out for the first time since 7 P.M. Saturday, as a daily three-hour suspension of the curfew became effective at 10 A.M.

Ninth Brigade infantrymen began a search for Jewish extremists today in the poverty-ridden vicinity of Mea Shearim, "the place of a hundred gates."

The army reported that soldiers searching Tel Aviv had found a "considerable quantity" of arms and ammunition last night.

Bomb Plant Discovered

Troops discovered a plant for making bombs in Tel Aviv. Materials seized included three bombs weighing 100 pounds each, 25 sticks of gelignite, eight electric detonators, twenty drums of fuse wire, a land mine, an electrical exploder, an acid controler and a large quantity of grenades, arms, ammunition, tools, wire, electric plugs, military uniforms and caps.

Persons in the restricted area said one of the most urgent problems was an insufficient water supply in a number of houses. Several Jews told reporters that water tanks atop the houses had been tampered with by soldiers looking for arms and that the water ran out and no repairs were made.

Persons inside the martial-law area were anxious to know how long the military rule would last.

The British said martial law had been imposed to further a manhunt for Irgun Zvai Leumi and the Stern Gang, Jewish underground groups. Jewish official organizations charged it was retaliation against "the Jewish community as a whole."

Nineteen of the 21 killed died Saturday—sixteen in a bomb-and-gun raid on a British officers' club here, two in an army jeep blown up by a land mine near Haifa and one in an artillery and machine gun sally against an army camp near Natanya.

Yesterday a lance corporal died of injuries suffered in the mining of the jeep and a Jerusalem hospital.

Travel, Communication Banned

In the coastal-plain martial-law district, about 7,500 troops of the veteran 1st Infantry Division under Maj. Gen. R. N. Gale, newly named military governor, isolated the inhabitants by cutting off all automobile and train travel and postal, telephone and telegraph service.

Newspapers were allowed to publish, and police and civil courts to function. Gale said the Army would see that the people got food.

British Pledge To Back Force In Holy Land

London, March 3 (AP)—Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech Jones told the House of Commons today the Government would give "full support" to its authorities in Palestin "in any further action which may prove necessary" to eradicate anti-British violence.

Winston Churchill, opposition leader, inquired:

"How long do you think this state of squalid warfare, with all its bloodshed at the cost of £40,000,000 ($160,000,000) and occupying 100,000 Englishmen away from our other military forces, will go on?"

The House did not hear Creech Jones reply. The Secretary said the Labor Government approved the declaration of martial law for parts of Palestine to cope with "these murderous outrages," such as the explosion at the Jerusalem officers' club.

"We are fully alive to the serious condition in Palestine and every step will be taken to end this tragic situation as rapidly as possible," he said.

200,000 CHINESE REDS TRAPPED, NANKING REPORTS

H. MILES

NANKING, March 3. — (AP) Nearly 200,000 Communists driving towards Changchun have been trapped in a smartly-executed government pincers movement and already have suffered 20,000 casualties, the ministry of information reported late today.

This claim of a major victory on the snowy plains north of the Manchurian capital coincided with information from a reliable source that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and his top-ranking officers have agreed to plans to wipe out the Communists throughout China and Manchuria before the end of the year.

Tactics Described

(Encirclement, a favorite Chinese military maneuver, often has been claimed by both sides in the past, though rarely on so grand a scale. In most cases, in keeping with Chinese tradition, the trapped enemy has found an escape corridor.)

The Ministry of Information spokesman gave this account of the Manchurian operation:

On Feb. 23 the Communists, led by 21 tanks, crossed the Sungari River, long a tacit boundary, and headed south towards Changchun.

The offensive reached the town of Wanpaoshan, 15 miles north of Changchun, before the government forces—believed to be led by the American - equipped First Army—sprang the trap.

Government columns moved northwest along the Changchun railway and north overland from points east of Changchun, between Changchun and Kirin. They met north of the Communist main body.

The spokesman had no other details and said he did not know whether the trapped Communists included those who were holding two American military observers.

The Americans, Maj. Robert B. Raggs of Chicago, and Capt. J. W. Collins of Evanston, Ill., fell into Communist hands Saturday when their Chinese jeep driver deserted them nine miles north of Changchun. This would indicate that the Communists had reached much closer to Changchun than the information ministry spokesman conceded.

[Chinese press reports from Peiping said 80,000 Communists had attacked Changchun's outer defenses Saturday in a violent battle. It was not clear whether this was before or after the Government trap was reported sprung.]

Chiang Reported In Peiping

There was supporting evidence for the report that the Government leaders had at last decided on a war of annihilation.

Chiang was reported to have gone to Peiping February 26 and received first-hand reports from his top commanders.

Decisions taken there were said by well-informed sources to have included establishment of a new overall operations headquarters for Manchuria and North China.

Generals Hu Tsung-nan and Tang En-po were reported due to take major places in this headquarters at some unspecified place.

Hu has been keeping the Communist region around Yenan under a loose surveillance for many months, while Tang is commandant of the Nanking garrison. It was said that a major portion of the garrison would move north to join the offensive.

Spoken Of As Rebellion

Dispatches direct from Peiping said that Gen. Tu Li-ming, commandant for Manchuria, was in personal charge of the Changchun operations and that Generals Pai Chung-hsi and Fu Tso-yi had flown to Kalgan and would go on to Jehol, recently quiet.

Pai is Cabinet minister of national defense, and Fu is governor of Chahar and conqueror of Kalgan.

The generals mentioned have opposed previous efforts at compromise.

Indicative of their ascendancy, pro-Government newspapers for the first time have begun to speak of the Communist fighting as a rebellion. This word has been avoided heretofore, but recently was used by the Minister of Information.

200,000 China Reds Reported Encircled

Nanking, March 3 (AP)—A sweeping Government counteroffensive which trapped nearly 200,000 Communist troops threatening Changchun, Manchuria, was announced by a Government spokesman today as well-informed sources reported a supreme command decision to crush Communists on all fronts by the end of the year.

A spokesman for the Ministry of Information said Government troops encircled Red forces north of Changchun, capital of Manchuria, with the Reds losing 20,000 casualties almost immediately.

The Communist offensive, led by 21 tanks, reached Wanpaoshan, fifteen miles north of Changchun, before the Government struck back, the spokesman said. He said one Government column drove along the Changchun railroad and the other moved from the Changchun-Kirin railroad.

All-Out Conflict Might Imperil Chiang Reign

Shanghai, March 3 (AP)—The clearing of Communist representatives from Government areas of China is expected to open the way for a new, more tragic chapter in China's civil strife, with all pretense of hope for a peaceful settlement abandoned in favor of military settlement.

The shift to all-out war might even imperil Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's future.

Already pro-Government newspapers have followed the lead of Minister of Information Peng Hsueh-pei and speak of a rebellion. It's possible that when the Government is reorganized the Communists will be officially proclaimed rebels—a term which Nanking so far has avoided.

Two Americans' Release Sought

As for actual developments today, the United States Embassy in Nanking sought release of two American Army officers captured by Chinese Communists at Changchun, Manchuria, Saturday.

The two Americans, Major Robert B. Riggs, of Chicago, and Capt. John W. Collins, of Evanston, Ill., were unhurt at the time they were taken into custody by the Communists, Changchun reports said.

The Government is expected to press its own reorganization without Communist participation, by March 15, authoritative quarters in Nanking said. Some said Gen. Chang Chun would become Premier, succeeding the Generalissimo, who took over the title Saturday when T. V. Soong resigned.

The intensified fighting brought the Government's Manchurian commander, Gen. Tu Li-ming, by air from Szepingkai to Changchun to direct the capital's defense, it was reported from Peiping.

Rape Conviction Of Marine Upheld

Peiping, March 3 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Samuel Howard commanding the First Marine Division, has approved the conviction of Corporal William G. Pierson of raping a Chinese girl, it was announced today.

It was disclosed that Pierson, who was convicted by a court martial January 22 of the attack Christmas Eve, was sentenced to fifteen years at hard labor and to dishonorable discharge. He is from Sumter, S.C.

The incident was the occasion of widespread anti-American demonstrations in China.

Moslem League Attempting to Form Ministry—Proposed India Budget Criticized

LAHORE, Punjab, India, March 3 (AP)—The Punjab Moslem League today announced acceptance of an invitation to form a new Provincial Government to replace a coalition Cabinet that resigned last night.

The attitude of the Hindu-led Congress party toward this move was uncertain. Party sources said today that they were waiting for orders from the Congress party executive, meeting in Delhi this week.

Sikh legislators, however, adopted a resolution saying they would oppose the Moslem League "with all our strength both inside and outside the Legislative Assembly * * * so long as its objective is Pakistan or Moslem domination in the Punjab." [Pakistan is the name for a separate Moslem State.]

DUTCH HOLD U. S. SHIP

Tandjong Priok, Java, March 3 (A. P.).—Dutch authorities detained the American Liberty ship Martin Behrman here today pending inspection of the valuable cargo of rubber, sugar and cinchona (quinine-bearing bark), which she loaded at the Indonesian port of Cheribon. Netherlands authorities said that the vessel, which was escorted here yesterday by a Dutch destroyer, could not sail for America until she received a Dutch permit.

Under Dutch regulations, the ship's cargo can be confiscated unless proved to have come from native holdings, and not from estates formerly owned by Europeans and now occupied by Indonesians.

Capt. Rudy Grey, master of the Behrman, said he was "caught in an undeclared war between the Dutch and Indonesians."

Court Upholds Atom Bombing

Military Tribunal Rejects Japanese Plea That Blast Violated The Hague Convention.

Tokyo, March 3 (A. P.).—A defense attempt to show the United States used the atomic bomb against the Japanese with knowledge it was a violation of the Hague Convention was rejected today by the International Military Tribunal trying twenty-six of Japan's wartime leaders. The nine Allied justices will pass upon another important defense point tomorrow—the question of responsibility of individuals for violations of treaties.

The tribunal refused to accept a series of defense documents dealing with alleged violations by the United States, Great Britain and Russia, of the 1928 Kellogg-Briand Treaty outlawing war as an instrument of policy. However, the documents were placed in the record for the purpose of appeal.

Evidence regarding use of the atomic bomb consisted of a reprint in the Nippon Times, English-language Tokyo newspaper, of a recent article by former Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson in an American magazine on the decision to use the bomb as "America's least abhorrent choice."

Defense attorney Ben Bruce Blakeney argued that he would show the United States had no hesitancy in violating the Hague Convention against attacks upon civilians if it would mean shortening the war and saving other lives. He said the evidence was offered to justify use by the twenty-six Japanese defendants of any retaliatory measures.

Tribinual President Sir William Webb observed that "retaliation follows, not precedes."

At day's end Blakeney offered the United Nations Charter and said it did not anywhere attempt to fix responsibility on individuals for violations by nations of the charter or of treaties. Introduction of the charter in evidence will be ruled on tomorrow.

Japan's Whalers Report Catch

TOKYO, March 3 (AP).—Japanese whalers, operating in the Antarctic for the first time since the end of the war, have realized more than 37,000 tons of meat, oil and by-products, reports received by Allied Headquarters' natural resources said today. One of the two fleets is en route home after catching 486 whales. The second fleet will sail for Japan March 15.

94,833 Tons of Food Sent Japan.

Tokyo, March 3 (A. P.). — The United States sent 94,833 metric tons of food to Japan during February, largest amount since August, when 212,651 metric tons were shipped, Allied Headquarters said today.

Two Transports Sail From Yokohama

Yokohama, March 3 (A. P.).—The transport Wisteria arrived today with six United States Army officers, 101 enlisted men and fifty-nine dependents. The hospital ship Mercy sailed for San Francisco with 155 patients and the transports Blatchford and Eltinge departed for San Francisco with forty-six officers, 2,248 enlisted men, forty civilians and one dependent.

Navy to Begin Drills Off Japan

Tokyo, March 3 (A. P.).—United States naval forces in Japan will begin a two-month program of fleet exercises in Japanese waters today—starting with an attack on the disabled Army merchantman Edwin C. Eckels, which will be sunk in Tokyo Bay. The Eckels was pronounced unsalvageable; she lost her rudder and was abandoned at sea 300 miles east of Tokyo last fall, then was towed to Yokohama.

The heavy cruiser Fall River and the destroyer Hollister will use the cargo vessel for a long-range gunnery target. During the two months of maneuvers, anti-submarine attacks and gunnery will be practiced.

NAVAL PLANES STRIKE BLOW IN MANEUVERS

Aggressors' Bombers Hit Hard At Pacific Coast Defense Force

With Navy Task Force, 38, Central Pacific, March 3 (AP)—Planes of this aggressor force found and dealt a theoretically punishing blow to the West Coast defense forces 400 miles southwest of Pearl Harbor today in the Navy's biggest postwar Pacific maneuvers.

The umpires had not totaled up the score, but a 100-plane force of fighters and torpedo bombers located and made a mock attack upon three cruisers, a carrier and fourteen destroyers of the main West Coast force at 8.22 A.M.

A second air striking force of 49 planes took off 90 minutes after the first.

Task force 38 itself, by an end-run tactic, escaped detection by planes of the West Coast defenders.

Submarine Gets Fix

One of the defenders' advanced submarines located this striking force shortly before dawn. Unable to get close enough to strike a theoretical blow, it nevertheless was able to fix the position for guidance of airmen from the West Coast defensive force's carrier Boxer.

Task Force 38 already has drawn first blood with the theoretical knockout of the battleship Iowa by the submarine Pomfret last Friday. Another submarine was listed by the umpires as "lost," the only loss for the attacking force thus far.

Army 'Frigidette' Unit Advances Over Snow

Field Headquarters, Task Force Frigid, Alaska, March 2 [AP—Delayed] — As the aurora borealis danced in the sub-Arctic sky, the mobile army unit, Frigidette, reformed at darkness and pushed farther south tonight after lying hidden from aerial observation in maneuvers testing men and equipment under field conditions in the Far North.

By dawn today, Frigidette's 325 men, commanded by Lieut. Col. Walter J. Preston, Fayetteville, N.C., had reached a point near the Wood River buttes, more than 35 miles from Ladd Field, whence they set out last night.

The path through otherwise trackless wastes was in 47 inches of snow blanketing the muskeg and was traversed with astonishing ease by 100 tanks, tractors, weasels.

Wheat Supply Lowest Since '40, Canada Says

Ottawa, March 3 (AP)—The Canadian Bureau of Statistics said today the world's wheat supply would be "considerably below the abnormally large world import requirements for bread grains."

In its monthly review of the world wheat situation, the bureau reported the combined wheat supply of the United States, Canada, Argentina and Australia as of last January 1 at 1,353,000,000 bushels—the smallest since 1940 and "somewhat less than the low level of January 1, 1946."

Most of the reduction occurred in the United States and Australian supply, with Canadian stocks showing little change and the Argentine supply a slight increase.

Senate Votes, 64 to 20, For 4 1-2 Billion Cut In President's Budget budget slash and Speaker Martin (R-Mass) announced the House leadership will insist on a $6,000,000,000 cut.

The Senate resolution was passed 64 to 20 with every Republican on the floor supporting it except Senator Morse of Oregon. The Senate adopted its lower figure principally with a view to safeguarding the military estimates. President Truman proposed $37,500,000,000 for all the government spending in the year starting July 1.

NIGHT

House Favors Bigger Slash

But Martin promptly issued a statement authorized by the House Republican steering committee declaring that the $6,000,000,000 cut which the house voted can be made "without endangering national defense or security or sacrificing other essential services of government." The statement also reemphasized a determination to cut income taxes 20 percent.

The Senate resolution bore a commitment to apply $2,600,000,000 of any surplus revenue to reduce the national debt.

The house promised to apply only an unspecified "portion" of surplus revenues on the $259,000,000,000 public debt. Neither did it vote, as the Senate did, to turn all money received from the sale of surplus war goods into debt reduction.

This latter provision, approved by the senate in adopting an amendment by Senator Wherry (R-Neb), left the amount of debt cutting in doubt. Wherry said he intended these receipts to fall within the $2,600,000,000 figure, but a coalition led by Senator Tydings (D-Md) killed off an amendment that would have spelled this out.

Tax Cut Figures in Doubt

The amount of possible tax cuts also remained in doubt, although Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told reporters he thinks there will be room between expected revenues and expenses for both a $2,600,000,000 payment on the debt and the use of $3,500,000,000 to slice individual income taxes an average of 20 percent.

However, Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill), calling the senate's action "a curious piece of business," said in the house that the smaller cut in the budget might "jeopardize a reduction in taxes."

The next step will be for the house to accept or reject the senate provisions. Rejection is expected, and the matter then will go to a senate-house conference committee for compromise.

Baldwin in Warning

Before the senate voted, Senator Baldwin (R-Conn) told his colleagues they can expect large expenditures abroad, under present world conditions. But he said that unless government costs are cut at home, this country may not be financially strong enough to aid other nations.

"We have to take some action that will establish the fact that we can not be bled white," he added.

But Senator Fulbright (D-Ark), who voted against the resolution, declared public reaction would be that "we are not going to undertake any obligations" in the critical situation in Greece.

Only one Republican, Senator Morse of Oregon, joined with 19 Democrats in opposing the resolution. Senator McMahon (D-Conn) who had explained previously he opposed setting any budget reduction figure at this time, voted "present."

Names Of Notables On Tax-Refund List

Washington, March 3 (AP)—The names of Hollywood celebrities, big-time politicians and giants of the industrial world studded a list of tax-refund recipients made public today by the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Upward of 50,000 individuals and corporations are on the list, which the bureau sends to Congress annually. It enumerates all refunds of $500 or more during the last fiscal year.

Chairman Clare E. Hoffman (R., Mich) of the House Expenditures Committee, to which the report was submitted, is on the list.

The Deweys And Bilbo

So are the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball team, the Bank of England, the Democratic National Committee, a British warship, and William Shakespeare.

Hoffman was shown to have received an income-tax refund of $1,556.

Others in politics include Governor and Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, $577.83; Senator Theodore G. Bilbo (D., Miss.), $852.52; Representatives Katherine St. George (R., N.Y.), $1,104; Alvin Weichel (R., Ohio), $520; Thomas A. Jenkins (R., Ohio), $1,449; Senator E. H. Moore (R., Okla.), $1,125, and Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R., N.J.) of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, who with Mrs. Thomas received a $1,754 refund.

The "Daffy Dodgers" were credited with a refund of $18,412 during the year ended last June 30; the Bank of England, as agent for the British Government, $3,843; the Democratic National Committee, $1,074 in employment taxes; H.M.S. Saker, $1,467 in miscellaneous taxes, which weren't explained further, and William Shakespeare, of Mount Vernon, N.Y., $596.

Alcoa Leads Firms

The larger refunds in the estimated total of $3,035,877 made during the year went to industrial concerns. The top was the $47,168,578 returned to the Aluminum Company of America. This company's total included $44,567,939 in excess-profits taxes and $487,098 in income taxes paid in Pennsylvania, in addition to $5,113,541 paid to the company and its affiliates through Iowa tax-collection districts.

The stage and screen colonies are represented by such figures as: Canada Lee, $1,200; Brian Aherne, $16,923; Louise Albritton, $859; June Allyson, $1,241; Thomas Mitchell, $14,654; Harry James, $18,586; John Wayne, $16,514; Ann Harding Janssen, $1,595; Sabu Dastagir, $15,014; Gracie Fields Banks, $7,090; Joseph Pasternak, $9,437.

ARMY TO RELEASE 100,000 DRAFTEES BY LAST OF JUNE

President Tells Congress to Let Draft Law Die March 31.

ALL-VOLUNTEER FORCE

Truman Hopes Recruiting Will Keep 1,641,000 Men Under Arms.

WASHINGTON, March 3—(AP) President Truman told Congress today to let the draft law die March 31 but gave notice a renewal will be sought later if voluntary recruiting fails to keep 1,641,000 men under arms.

The army announced simultaneously that it will discharge the 100,000 draftees remaining in its ranks—those in this country by May 15, those overseas by June 30—making it an entirely volunteer force. The navy already has released all its draftees.

Actually no men have been drafted since last October, but the expiration of the act March 31 will mean:

NIGHT

What Decision Means

1. Young men no longer will have to register upon reaching their 18th birthday.

2. The 40,000,000 oldsters already registered can tear up the registration cards they have been required to carry in their pockets.

3. The 6,442 local draft boards probably will go out of business entirely, although their status was not made clear immediately, and many of the 7,641 full-time and 1,457 part-time employes on the selective service payroll will be released.

4. Any incentive to enlisting which the mere existence of the draft law provided, with its latent threat that young men might be drafted, will be removed.

The army's strength is to be 1,070,000 after June 30. The president's message said that losses through separations will be 30,000 a month and that the army "can count with a fair degree of certainty on an average of 20,000 enlistments" monthly. This would make a deficit of 120,000 one year hence, the message continued, but "there is a reasonable expectation that better results may be obtained."

"Logical Time to Take Risk"

"With a recent brightening in recruiting prospects, this appears to be the logical time to shoulder the risks involved," Mr. Truman wrote.

"Therefore, I recommend that no extension of selective service at this time be made, but with the understanding that:

"First, the War and Navy departments will request the re-enactment of a selective service act at a later date if they are unable to maintain the Army at a strength of 1,070,000 men and the Navy at a strength of 571,000 through voluntary enlistments.

"Second, the Army and Navy be authorized from appropriated funds to employ temporarily the necessary civilian personnel over and above those specifically authorized and appropriated for by the Congress to the extent necessary to balance any shortage of enlisted personnel when strength may fall below the required levels."

This apparently will require legislation by Congress. The services now employ some civilians with funds earmarked for that purpose, but are not permitted to divert funds voted for soldiers' pay or other military purposes to hire civilian workers.

The recommendation against continuing the draft act, however, removes that controversial issue from the shoulders of the Republican-controlled Congress. Any request for its continuance was certain to meet strong resistance from both Republicans and Democrats. It was only after a long fight last year that Congress voted the continuance to March 31. In doing so it raised the minimum draft age to 19, although still requiring 18-year-olds to register.

"The recommendation is based upon the conviction that the strength of the Army and Navy is to have reasonable assurance of security. These requirements are absolute and we must not divest the War and Navy Departments of the means of meeting any material shortages.

Personnel Losses Computed

Personnel losses from the Army through separation during fiscal year 1948 can be computed with a reasonable degree of accuracy. They will reach a total of 360,000, or an average of 30,000 per month. Gains, on the other hand, cannot be so accurately determined. A recruiting campaign for volunteers for the Army was initiated in September, 1945, but shortages in recruiting have heretofore forced the War Department to fill the gap through selective service. The last two months of 1946 provided an average of 18,000 recruits per month. During January, 1947, however, they rose to some 35,000 enlistments and during the first two weeks of February were about 13,000.

Giving weight to the fact that past records prove January to be the best recruiting month of the year, it is estimated by the War Department that if present efforts to obtain volunteers are continued, it can count with a fair degree of certainty on an average of 20,000 enlistments and re-enlistments per month during the coming fiscal year. If only 20,000 recruits per month are obtained, the deficit in required strength will be about 120,000 by July 1, 1948. However, there is a reasonable expectation that better results may be obtained.

The War Department is now engaged in reducing the Army to the strength of 1,070,000, on June 30, 1947, provided for in the budget. In effecting this reduction, it will shortly direct the discharge of all non-volunteers.

Navy Recruitment Uncertain

The Navy Department is also reducing the Navy to the strength provided for in the budget for the next fiscal year. To maintain an average strength of 571,000 during the fiscal year 1948, the Navy will require approximately 150,000 recruits. Without the incentive of selective service it is not certain that this number of recruits can be obtained.

The Army and Navy are still reducing their forces and the Army is not using inductees for

MAR 1947

Truman Draft Message

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Following is the text of President Truman's message to Congress on expiration of selective service, March 31:

The Selective Service and Training Act will expire on March 31, 1947. The only assured way of maintaining the Army and the Navy at their required strengths during the fiscal year 1948 is through resort to selective service. I have decided, however, after most careful consideration and consultation with the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy, and with the earnest desire of placing our Army and Navy on an entirely volunteer basis at the earliest possible moment, that I should not recommend an extension of the act at this time. In order that my position may be better understood, the following facts are submitted:

The strength of the Army, including the Air Forces, must be maintained throughout the next fiscal year at 1,070,000, and the Navy, including the Marine Corps, must be maintained at a strength of 571,000 if this nation the full term the law allows; consequently, an extension of Selective Service at this time would be solely on the basis of predicted shortages during the next year. With a recent brightening in recruiting prospects, this appears to be the logical time to shoulder the risks involved.

Therefore, I recommend that no extension of Selective Service at this time be made, but with the understanding that:

First, the War and Navy Departments will request the re-enactment of a Selective Service Act at a later date if they are unable to maintain the Army at a strength of 1,070,000 men and the Navy at a strength of 571,000 through voluntary enlistments.

Second, the Army and Navy be authorized from appropriated funds to employ temporarily the necessary civilian personnel over and above those specifically authorized and appropriated for by the Congress to the extent necessary to balance any shortage of enlisted personnel when strength may fall below the required levels.

The efforts of the War Department to reach the desired goal by an entirely volunteer Regular Army are worthy of the maximum support on the part of the Administration, the Congress and the people.

SENATE HEARINGS ON LILIENTHAL TO CLOSE TODAY

WASHINGTON, March 3 — (AP) The Senate Atomic Energy committee voted late today to close the David E. Lilienthal confirmation hearings tomorrow.

Senator McKellar (D.-Tenn.) will be given an hour and a half to complete presenting evidence in opposition to the nominee for chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Then the hearings, which started Jan. 27, will close.

Chairman Hickenlooper (R.-Iowa) made the announcement after a closed session of the committee. McKellar still was asking Lilienthal questions as today's hearing recessed to permit the members to attend a Senate session.

May Reach Vote Tomorrow

The committee plans a closed meeting with Lilienthal and the other AEC nominees to the commission tomorrow afternoon. Hickenlooper said matters involving security and liaison will be discussed then.

He said he thought the committee could reach a vote by Wednesday or Thursday.

During today's committee session, McKellar subjected Lilienthal to a grilling which brought protests from Hickenlooper and the exclamation from Senator Vandenberg (R.-Mich.) that "this is outrageous."

At one point McKellar recalled Lilienthal's statement that he had done his "damndest" to keep from accepting President Truman's nomination.

"It now looks to me," the senator observed, "like you're doing your damndest to get confirmed."

With some heat, Lilienthal replied that he is "not here as an applicant for a job" and declared:

"I want to make it clear that it will by no means break my heart if the Senate gives me an honorable discharge."

McKellar Halted In Questioning

Washington, March 3 (AP)—In the interest of national security, David E. Lilienthal was instructed today not to answer questions concerning further research into atomic-energy development by the University of Chicago and other educational institutions.

Chairman Hickenlooper (R., Iowa), of the Senate Atomic Energy Committee, issued the instructions to the former TVA head, who is up for confirmation as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Senator McKellar (D., Tenn.), who is opposing Lilienthal's confirmation, asked how much money the University of Chicago was going to receive under a contract with the Atomic Energy Commission, and how much of the "secret."

Cautions On Security

Before he could answer, Hickenlooper broke in to caution Lilienthal against divulging anything which might endanger "or even affect" national security.

Lilienthal replied that it would not be dangerous to say that some 25 mid-Western universities, including the University of Chicago, have organized an association to further atomic research, and that the Chicago institution had been acting as the contracting agency.

When McKellar wanted to know how much the arrangement was going to cost the United States, Hickenlooper clamped down.

"The committee takes responsibility for not permitting him to state such details at this moment," he said.

McKellar Revives Old Statement

Earlier, McKellar had recalled Lilienthal's testimony weeks ago that he had done his "damndest" to keep from taking the atomic-energy post. The Tennesseean said: "It now looks to me like you're doing your damndest to get confirmed."

"I'm not here as an applicant for a job," Lilienthal said, adding that he had respect for the constitutional duty of the Senate to examine presidential appointments submitted to it for confirmation.

"I want to make it clear," he added, "that it will by no means break my heart if the Senate gives me an honorable discharge."

Discusses 2-Salary Charge

Prior to this Lilienthal showed the committee a contract which he contended proved that he received no pay from a Chicago firm for current services while he was a Wisconsin public-utilities commissioner.

Capehart Opposes Nominee

Lilienthal began his testimony shortly after Senator Capehart (R., Ind.) had issued a statement saying he would oppose Lilienthal's nomination as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission because he "has held and continues to hold to the philosophy of the New Deal."

Lilenthal told the committee it was "ironic" to face charges that he had violated Wisconsin law by receiving outside compensation while he was on the State pay roll.

Calls Imputation "Ironic"

"The imputation made now, sixteen years later, that I violated the letter or the spirit of a law which requires a commissioner to 'devote his entire time to the duties of his office' and not to 'pursue any other business or avocation' seems a bit on the ironic side to me, Lilienthal testified.

The witness read a contract under which the Commerce Clearing House, a subsidiary of the Corporation Trust Company, agreed to pay him $240 weekly while he was a Wisconsin commissioner.

The contract stipulated that he was to "render no personal services and receive no compensation" for such services, but was to be paid for the expenses of maintaining his office and staff. This staff was to continue to put out a loose-leaf reporting service on legal opinions, a service for which the then 31-year-old Lilienthal had been paid $385 weekly for editing.

"For Past Services"

The contract said that an additional margin of payments would be made to Lilienthal for past services he had performed in setting up the reporting service. It said these payments would average $2,000 a year.

It was only after he showed Philip La Follette, then governor of Wisconsin, the contract and the governor had passed upon it that he was appointed to the utilities commission, Lilienthal said. La Follette has already told the committee that Lilienthal filed such a statement with his office.

DURANT TRIAL HEARS 'SILENT' WITNESSES

Hesse Jewel Defendant's Brother And Sister-In-Law Refuse To Testify

Washington, March 3 (AP) — James E. Durant, a Falls Church (Va.) councilman, refused to testify today when asked if he helped bury part of the stolen Hesse crown jewels, including a gold ball, and $28,000 cash in glass fruit jars in the near-by Virginia woods at midnight.

Appearing as a reluctant witness in the trial of his brother, Col. Jack W. Durant, 38, who is accused of complicity in the $1,500,000 gem theft, James Durant repeatedly claimed constitutional immunity against testifying.

Major Joseph Robinson, chief prosecutor, told the court that both James Durant and his wife were using their immunity plea "as a shield to avoid answering questions."

Refuses To Answer

Major Robinson said the husband and wife had given signed statements to Army investigators regarding "situations" which they now declined to discuss on the witness stand.

Among other things, Robinson asked the Durants whether they had helped Colonel Durant "squeeze uncut diamonds from toothpaste tubes." Each gave the same response: "I decline to answer," contending that any answers they might give might be used against them in separate prosecutions. Neither is under any charges now.

At one point, Major Robinson waved a $28,000 bundle of greenbacks under Durant's nose and demanded:

"Have you ever seen this money before?"

Durant, a Government accountant who was suspended when the gem case broke into the open, made no answer.

Attorney "Withdraws" Sneer

Durant acknowledged he had received five packages at his home from Colonel Durant in Germany, but declined to say what they contained. He kept silent, too, when pressed for details on previous testimony that he received proceeds from a check given to Colonel Durant in the sale of diamonds to a Washington jeweler, and that he helped the colonel sell other diamonds to buy a new car.

At one point defense attorneys protested that Major Robinson was "using a reprehensible sneer."

"Very well," Robinson said. "I withdraw the sneer. I'll keep a poker face from now on."

Mrs. Durant barely restrained her tears as she accused Robinson of "blackening my family's name."

TEARS ARE SHED IN DURANT TRIAL

Two Witnesses Refuse to Give Testimony.

Washington, March 3 (A. P.).—Two key witnesses in the Hesse jewel theft trial sought to avoid testifying against defendant Col. Jack W. Durant today, in a hearing marked by tears and short tempers.

The witnesses were Mrs. James E. Durant of Falls Church, Va., and her husband, a Government accountant recently suspended from his job and a brother of Col. Durant.

Mrs. Durant, the first witness, tearfully read a typed statement from the stand in which she declined to answer any questions on the ground it might "incriminate me or my husband."

When Major Joseph Robinson, chief prosecutor, persisted in his questioning, Capt. Glenn V. Brumbaugh, defense counsel, interrupted heatedly to tell the military court:

"I want the court to stop the trial judge advocate from asking these questions with a reprehensible sneer on his face."

Robinson was directed by the court to continue his questioning in a "more dignified manner," but shortly afterward excused Mrs. Durant, explaining that "he was not getting anywhere."

Then, Robinson called James Durant but before he could appear, Frank J. Ball Jr., attorney for both Mrs. Durant and her husband, challenged the court's right to call him. He said the court lost its jurisdiction to subpoena witnesses when it moved here from Frankfurt, Germany, and further that the subpoena for James Durant was dated February 6 but served on February 5.

Question of Jurisdiction.

Robinson insisted the court had retained its jurisdiction when it moved to the United States to receive testimony of American witnesses and said the mix-up dates on the subpoena "obviously was a typographical error."

The court took Ball's motion to quash the subpoena under advisement.

Robinson has charged that James Durant helped the accused officer dispose of part of the $1,500,000,000 to $7,000,000,000 Hesse fortune after it was taken from Kronberg Castle in Germany and smuggled into this country.

Today's scene with Mrs. Durant was touched off when she told the court:

"I decline to answer any further questions propounded to me by or under the direction of your honorable body. I do so decline because of my sincere belief in the lack of right on the part of your body to require me to answer questions, the effect of which may intend to incriminate me."

She said further that Robinson had contended her husband was a "full-fledged conspirator" and, "I believe any such basis of prosecution of my husband may also be the basis of a prosecution against me." Neither she nor her husband is under any charges in the case.

The court ruled that she could refuse to answer any question she desired, but had to claim immunity on each particular question as it came along.

Foreign-Relief Curb Urged

Washington, March 3 (AP)—Representative Dirksen (R., Ill.) declared today an "economic heresy persists that we can rehabilitate the world."

"It is the arithmetic of folly to suppose," he declared, during a House foreign affairs and spending debate, "that 60,000,000 American producers can carry the burdens of the whole world.

"Certainly we can supply some food and medicine to alleviate hunger and suffering. But the economic heresy persists that we can rehabilitate the world."

Greece Called Democracy's Hope

Representative Merrow (R., N.H.) referred to Greece as "the only hope of democracy in the Balkan area." But Representative Hoffman (R.,Mich.) cautioned that America should devote more attention to its domestic business.

"The next thing," Hoffman added, "United States youths will be sent abroad to settle these troubles in Greece, the Balkans and China."

Representative Buffet (R., Neb.) told the House a proposed loan to Greece raises a question whether the United States "is continuing to play into the hands of Stalin" through economic commitments.

He said that in the past few years this country has poured hundreds of millions of dollars into France, Yugoslavia and China. Who can say, he asked, that these countries are "farther away from Communism" than they were two years ago?

Tobey Wants Marshall Report

Prior to the House debate, Senator Tobey (R., N.H.) suggested that Secretary of State Marshall tell Congress behind closed doors the exact status of the Mediterranean and Near East problems before the lawmakers are called upon to vote for bigger cash outlays abroad.

Tobey, who heads the Senate Banking Committee, charged with passing on foreign loans, said he thinks the crisis presented by possible withdrawal of British military and economic aid to Greece can be "met only by an informed Congress."

"I think General Marshall ought to come before Congress in an executive (secret) session and tell us the actual situation in all of its grave aspects," the New Hampshire Senator said.

Wants Frank Discussion

Senator Wherry, of Nebraska, the Republican whip, said that, in his view, if any "political loans" are to be made "they should be discussed frankly on the floor of the Senate."

Marshall outlined the State Department's financial needs for the next fiscal year at a closed-door session today of a House Appropriations subcommittee.

Chairman Stefan (R., Neb.) told newsmen the committee called General Marshall out of turn to permit the Secretary to present the department's needs before leaving this week for the Moscow conference.

To Testify Tomorrow

Marshall and former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes are listed to testify before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee tomorrow on four Balkan peace treaties.

Marshall and Byrnes might take advantage of this opportunity to discuss privately with committee members the current Mediterranean crisis. But Marshall is due to leave Wednesday for Moscow.

FOR MONTEREY NAVAL SCHOOL

House Subcommittee Backs Shift From Annapolis.

Washington, March 3 (A. P.).—A House Armed Services subcommittee approved today a bill authorizing the Navy to establish a naval post-graduate training school independent of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

DAY

The sub-committee will consider later today a bill to authorize the construction of such a school at Monterey, Cal. The legislation recommended favorably to the full committee would authorize the appointment of a superintendent of the post-graduate school with authority to employ civilian teachers. That authority now rests with the Superintendent of the Naval Academy, of which the post-graduate school has been a department since 1909.

Navy Favors Plan.

Secretary Forrestal of the Navy told the committee that the establishment of an independent post-gradute school fits into the patern of a comprehensive training plan formulated by the Navy. "The Navy has long felt the need of having a post-graduate school concentrated at one place," he asserted.

The cost of building the school at Monterey, with a capacity for about 3,000 officers, is estimated at $28,750,000. Replying to Chairman Andrews (R.-N. Y.) of the Armed Services Committee, Forrestal said he feared that the item would be questioned when it comes to carrying out the $6,000,000,000 budget cut voted by the House for the fiscal year beginning on July 1.

"I hope it won't be cut, but I am afraid it will be challenged," said Forrestal, who added that the approval of the Monterey site would permit the Navy to start training personnel there almost immediately.

The Del Monte Hotel, which will be a part of the school under the proposal, can accommodate about 500 students, he said. The only alternative, the Secretary explained, is to "do what we are doing now on a makeshift basis, which is not satisfactory."

Weather Is Unique.

Representative Kilday (D.-Tex.), a committee member, asked if the Navy could use any of its stations temporarily for post-graduate training and build the new school later. Forrestal replied that the Navy had considered that, but decided that other stations did not have the weather advantage available at Monterey for year-round training.

"The combination there is unique in the country," he asserted.

Rear Admiral T. L. Sprague, Chief of Naval Personnel, said that all line officers would be required to take at least one year's training at the post-graduate school. Capt. H. A. Spanegel, head of the post-graduate school at Annapolis, told the committee that there is room for a maximum of 530 officers there. At the new school proposed for Monterey, there would be ultimate capacity for 1,220 line officers and 1,747 engineering and technical officers, he said.

RAILROADS WIN HUGE JUDGMENT IN HIGH COURT

MAR 1947

Supreme Tribunal's Ruling Awards 'Large Amounts' for Wartime Hauls.

Washington, March 3 (A. P.).—In rulings which may net many railroads large checks from the Federal Treasury, the Supreme Court drew a line today between what are military and what are civilian supplies.

Justice Douglas delivered the court's opinions in two cases which held that the controlling point is the "dominant purpose" for which they are intended.

The effect will be to permit railroads to collect full commercial rates for wartime hauling of some lend-lease supplies on which the Government contended a lower, military rate should apply.

Neither the Treasury nor the Association of American Railroads would estimate how much money is involved, but AAR officials said it is a "large amount."

ENDS EXPORT CURBS ON COTTON FABRICS

Commerce Department Step on Broad Woven Goods Is Made Effective March 15

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP) — All broad woven cotton textiles will be freed from export controls effective March 15, the Commerce Department announced today.

This will permit free shipment abroad of some forty items now under export license control, including shirts and cotton woven piece goods.

Wiping out these license requirements constitutes the biggest control removal of cotton textile items made at one time since the easing of controls began.

It was made possible, the Commerce Department said, by rapidly increasing textile production in this country and expectation of increased output during the year by such pre-war producing countries as Japan, Germany, France and Italy.

The increase in supplies obtainable from these countries is expected to lessen foreign demand that might otherwise drain United States supplies.

Licenses expiring after Feb. 15 are automatically extended to March 15 so that licensees need not make application for extension to the decontrol date, the department said.

U. S. Eases Trade Curbs For Japan and Germany

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP).—Official regulations for trade with occupied Germany and Japan were relaxed tonight by canceling the need for a Treasury Department license for any transaction.

A joint announcement by the Treasury, State, War and Justice Departments stressed, however, that a permit for any contract must still be obtained from military government authorities, whose rules apply equally to all foreign nationals.

American business men may communicate directly with German or Japanese firms only up to the point of fixing terms and closing contracts.

The United States action followed similar orders for the combined British and American zones issued last week by Great Britain.

Byrd Cites Subsidies Costing U.S. 13 Billion

Washington, March 3 (AP)—Senator Byrd (D., Va.) told Congress today that Federal subsidies to business, agriculture and the states totaled $13,000,000,000 from 1943 to 1946.

He submitted the report as chairman of the Senate-House committee on reduction of nonessential expenditures.

The report indicates conclusively that the need is urgent for a thorough study of all Federal subsidies now existing, particularly in regard to their effect upon basic economic maladjustments," Byrd commented in a statement.

He added that the report shows that "the States are now able to carry a greater proportion of the expenditures for their own functions which heretofore have been shared with or secured exclusively from the Federal Government."

'Loop' May Add To Auto Power

Washington, March 3 (AP)—The Commerce Department today displayed a device which its German inventor says is capable of doubling the power output of the conventional automobile engine.

A department report credited the invention to Dr. Adolph Schnuerle and described it as a "loop scavenging" system of blowing out exhaust gases from combustion engines. Schnuerle told a department investigator, the report said, that it eliminates need of engine valves.

It could be used, the department added, on an automobile engine or any other of internal combustion type.

Twice As Powerful

Dr. Schnuerle claims, the report continued, that tests had shown a two-stroke, two-cycle engine with loop scavenging could produce twice as much power per cylinder as a conventional four-cycle engine.

To produce a specfic amount of power, therefore, loop scavenging would permit use of half as many cylinders as would otherwise be required, he was quoted as saying.

The loop-scavenging system has ports in the cylinder walls arranged in such positions and at such angles that the blast of scavenging air makes a loop inside the cylinder, cleaning out the burned gases.

The department's report was prepared for the Office of Technical Services by A. M. Madle, an engineer of Briggs and Stratton Co., Milwaukee.

Office of Technical Service investigators have combed German scientific and industrial reports and made thousands of them available to American industry. The loop-scavenging device probably will be turned over to American engineers for further research.

Freedom's Lovers Are In Minority

Washington, March 3 (AP)—People whose ideas about self-government and freedom agree with the American concept are outnumbered by an even billion, Dr. Frederick Osborn of New York, declared today.

What's more, the director of the Social Science Research Council told the Science Talent Institute, the ratio is growing wider.

"If we are going to spread the American way of life, which we so much believe in, we are going to have to do some pretty fancy missionary work," he asserted. "Otherwise we will be swamped by quite alien cultures in which life is held very cheap and in which the individual and his right to the pursuit of happiness are negligible."

Dr. Osborn set the balance right now at about 600,000,000 persons sharing a tradition of "self-government and freedom"; the rest number about 1,600,000,000—a billion more. Taking the Osborn figures, the odds in 25 years will be 600,000,000 to 2,060,000,000.

Veteran-Loan Bids Lowest Since April

High Realty Prices Cited as One Reason

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP).—The Veterans Administration said today the demand for veterans' loans has declined to the lowest level since April, caused in part by inflated real-estate prices.

During January, the V. A. said, there were 49,619 applications for loans for veterans for businesses, farms and homes, 5.4 per cent less than during the preceding month and a fourth less than the August, 1946, peak.

The V. A. approved, during January, loans totaling $282,000,000, of which the government guaranteed or insured $131,000,000, a decline of 4.5 per cent from December commitments. Since enactment of the veterans' service act in September, 1944, the V. A. has approved $3,421,098,627 in veterans' loans, of which it has guaranteed $1,584,847,177.

The V. A. said "the downward trend in the demand for loans, which has been in progress since August, is accounted for in part by restrictive seasonal influence in the building industry and the inability of veterans to obtain desired assets, especially homes, under existing conditions."

It added that there is "a growing reluctance on the part of many veterans to acquire real estate or other assets at prevailing high prices."

GI's Relieved in Void Marriages

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—The House passed legislation today relieving service men whose marriages were declared void from repaying dependency benefits their wives later received. It also approved a bill authorizing service men to accept awards from nations that were neutral during the war.

House Body Named For Hawaii Inquiry

Washington, March 3 (A. P.).—Senator Wiley (R.-Wis.), chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, today named a subcommittee to consider legislation which would require an investigation of martial law set up in Hawaii following the Pearl Harbor disaster.

Members of the subcommittee are Senators Ferguson (R.-Mich.), Moore (R.-Okla.) and McCarran (D.-Nev.). McCarran is the author of a resolution calling for an investigation.

EDUCATORS FEAR FASCISM

German And American School Systems Criticized

Atlantic City, March 3 (AP)—American educators heard today that German "authoritative-teacher" methods could lead to World War III and that in this country "future Fascists" were developed where high-school student council members were selected because of racial, religious or class feeling.

Dr. Agnes Snyder, of New York, told elementary-school principals of the National Education Association that she left Germany recently "with the complete conviction" that unless mass education there is changed "the seeds of World War III are being sowed."

Stanley E. Dimond, director of citizenship education study for the Detroit public schools and Wayne University, told the National Association of Secondary-School Principals that some student councils "are nothing more than political machines."

"Developing Fascists"

"Where council members are selected because of racial, religious or class feeling in a school, that school is developing future Fascists and not citizens for our democracy," Dimond said.

Dr. Howard Wilson, of New York, former deputy secretary general of the United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organizations, said in an interview there were not enough qualified Germans to carry out democratizing education in that country.

"The old German tradition on teacher domination in classrooms is older and even stronger, than straight Nazi teaching," Wilson said.

Teacher Seen As Leader

Miss Snyder said she visited elementary schools during a six-month tour of Germany and found mass education "depending upon the teacher as a leader."

Children, she said, had little opportunity to do things for themselves, to work or play together. They followed the teacher leaders, she said, and "unless we can change it, the seeds of World War III are being sown in that schoolroom today."

As a result of screening by American occupation authorities, Miss Snyder said, only 20 to 25 per cent of German teachers were found to be free of Nazi affiliation.

Search For Teachers

Miss Snyder said American authorities sought persons in concentration camps and "from the highways and byways" to fill in teacher needs. The latter, she said, were given from three to six months' training, "just enough to get them back into the schools."

Wilson said that in Germany "many military restrictions and regulations interfere with the best kind of education." He agreed with Miss Snyder that the United States seemed "to be in danger of overemphasizing German re-education to the neglect of educational rehabilitation in countries which were and are our allies."

Praises Method

Dimond said student participation in the government of a school was the best method for development of good citizens.

"In actual practice, however, student councils have not been effective," he said. "Some student councils are nothing more than political machines. These student councils teach boys and girls to be hypocrites and develop boys and girls who look upon the student council as a sham."

Dimond said principals and teachers should have enough faith in youth to allow them to solve their own problems.

Camden, March 3 (A. P.).—Russia's seafaring men "all love America and Americans," says Capt. Elizbar Gogitielza, skipper of the first Russian luxury liner to enter the Delaware River port since before Pearl Harbor.

The vessel docked here yesterday with a cargo of licorice and its crew of ninety-eight men and fifty-five women hit the mainland bent on seeing American movies.

"I haven't been ashore enough to speak for the Russian people," said Gogitielza. "But I can speak for every Russian seafaring man when I say we all love America and Americans. Your people are always friendly to us, and we'll never forget what you did in the war."

Offers World Trade Plan

CHICAGO, March 3 (AP).—The Illinois Manufacturers Association today recommended that a nation's voting strength in the proposed international trade organization be based upon that nation's percentage of international trade. Gaylord C. Whipple, of Chicago, chairman of the I. M. A.'s international trade committee, made the suggestion as one of four recommendations presented to an informal hearing on the proposed I. T. O. charter. The executive committee on economic foreign policy of the State Department sponsored the session.

U. N. PALESTINE

NEW YORK, MARCH 3--(AP)--THE POSSIBILITY THAT A SPECIAL TEMPORARY COMMITTEE OF THE 55 MEMBERS OF THE UNITED NATIONS MIGHT BE APPOINTED TO CONSIDER THE TURBULENT PALESTINE QUESTION WAS DISCUSSED IN U. N. CIRCLES TONIGHT.

THIS POSSIBILITY WAS ADVANCED AFTER [redacted] SECRETARY-GENERAL TRYGVE LIE CONFERRED DURING THE AFTERNOON WITH THE HEADS OF VARIOUS DELEGATIONS STATIONED HERE.

MAR 1947

LIE AND HIS LEGAL ADVISOR, A. H. FELLER, GENERAL COUNSELLOR OF THE U. N., MADE A BRIEF TOUR OF DELEGATION HEADQUARTERS IN THE EMPIRE STATE BUILDING. THEY WERE NON-COMMITTAL ON THE PURPOSE OF THEIR VISIT, BUT INFORMED SOURCES SAID PALESTINE CERTAINLY WAS ON THE LIST OF DISCUSSIONS.

IT IS KNOWN THAT LIE WAS IN TOUCH DURING THE DAY WITH SIR ALEXANDER CADOGAN, BRITISH DELEGATE TO THE [redacted] SECURITY COUNCIL, BUT THEIR TALKS WERE SAID TO HAVE BEEN INCONCLUSIVE.

MEANWHILE, IN LONDON WINSTON CHURCHILL ASKED THE GOVERNMENT IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS IF IT WERE POSSIBLE TO EXPEDITE UNITED NATIONS CONSIDERATION OF PALESTINE. COLONIAL SECRETARY ARTHUR CREECH JONES REPLIED THAT "APPROPRIATE STEPS" WERE BEING TAKEN TO "SEE WHETHER THIS MATTER CAN BE EXPEDITED." HE SAID HE HOPED HE COULD MAKE "SOME ANNOUNCEMENT OF PROGRESS WITH THESE INQUIRIES WITHIN A WEEK."

IN THIS CONNECTION, U. N. SOURCES POINTED OUT THAT INITIAL ACTION ON BRINGING THE PALESTINE ISSUE BEFORE THE UNITED NATIONS MUST COME FROM THE BRITISH.

MAR 1947

THE POSSIBILITY OF THE [redacted] GENERAL ASSEMBLY'S POWERFUL POLITICAL COMMITTEE TAKING THE CASE WAS ALSO SAID TO HAVE BEEN DISCUSSED HERE. THIS COMMITTEE USUALLY IS COMPOSED OF THE HEADS OF DELEGATIONS TO THE ASSEMBLY OR

342-8-2-43

THEIR CHIEF ASSISTANTS.

BUT WHETHER THIS COMMITTEE--WHICH HERETOFORE HAS ONLY OPERATED WHEN THE ASSEMBLY WAS IN SESSION--COULD BE CALLED TO OPERATE WHEN THE ASSEMBLY IS NOT IN SESSION WAS UNDERSTOOD TO BE A QUESTION THAT LIE WAS CONSIDERING WITH HIS LEGAL ADVISOR.

HOWEVER, AT THIS TIME THERE IS NO INDICATION THAT ANY FINAL METHOD OF HANDLING THE HOLY LAND SITUATION WITHOUT CALLING A SPECIAL SESSION OF THE ASSEMBLY HAS BEEN AGREED UPON.

MAR 1947

SOME SOURCES SAID THERE POSSIBLY WOULD BE OPPOSITION TO CALLING A SPECIAL SESSION OF THE ASSEMBLY SINCE IT WOULD COST THE UNITED NATIONS CLOSE TO $2,000,000 WHICH THE PRESENT BUDGET COULD NOT STAND.

IN VIEW OF THE NEW OUTBREAK OF VIOLENCE IN PALESTINE, IT WAS EVIDENT THAT LIE IS CONCERNED OVER THE HOLY LAND ISSUE AND IS ATTEMPTING TO INVESTIGATE ALL POSSIBLE METHODS OF DEALING WITH THE CASE.

Frankfurt, Germany, March 2--(AP)--The U.S. Army, plagued by severe housing shortages, soon may send home hundreds of soldiers and their wives about to have their first children in Germany, ~~it was learned today.~~

Army medical authorities said the army's plans, still to be approved finally by Washington, were necessary "because there aren't enough family quarters in Germany."

MAR 1947

The plan, army officials said, will apply to all personnel in Germany--officers, enlisted men, and civilian War Department employes with newly pregnant wives.

Dozens of married War Department women who have become pregnant in the last few weeks already are being told they must return to the United States before their sixth month of pregnancy.

Many of these women, army officers said, are living with their husbands in one and two-room billets and not in family billets.

"Most of them are either not entitled to family quarters, or there just aren't enough quarters to go around," a medical officer explained.

The officer said that because of the "growing number of births," the

...e issued soon to all women about to have
...ir husbands, whether/the or not
...their first child--and also to their husbands, whether/the man had completed
...their tour or duty or their War Department contract.

"Under the plan," he said, "if an officer,enlisted man or civilian ...employe is somewhere near going home, then his contract or overseas duty will
...be terminated before his wife is six months pregnant."

Army authorities said the only exception under the plan would be if the husband were scheduled to stay in Germany more than three to six months after the birth of his child.

MAR 1947

They said the army felt that ~~pregnant mothers~~ could not be sent home when they were more than six months pregnant and that mothers and their children should not travel until the baby was three months old and then only by hospital ship.

The forecaster [redacted] long-range prediction [redacted] stated the capital would be having generally colder weather "soon."

The heavy snowstorm which swept the city over the week-end kept 100 special workers busy all night last night and this morning, but the main streets are now clear.

It is still going to be cold in Moscow, and if Messrs. Marshall, Bevin and Bidault want to keep warm, they had certainly better bring heavy underwear.

MAR 1947

As a survivor of the Russian winter, this native Alabaman can attest to the fact that heavy underwear is more important than furlined boots, a heavy overcoat or a fur hat.

Ret. Maj. Gen. Pat Hurley once said, "It changes one's entire point of view." Winds sweep into the capital from the great Muscovite plain this time of year, and drafts have a mean habit of running up trousers legs and coat sleeves. They're real weather demons.

Cairo, Egypt, March 3--(AP)--Premier Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashi Pasha today accused Britain of inciting the Sudan to secede from Egypt and said the Sudanese could express their views freely "only when British troops have evacuated the Sudan."

In a long statement read in Arabic and English to a special news conference, the premier expressed confidence that Egypt would be accorded justice by the United Nations in her dispute with Britain.

Two points on which he said the Egyptian people were unanimously agreed were:

"1. Evacuation of British troops from Egypt. This evacuation must be immediate, complete, and not conditioned by a treaty.

"2. Maintenance of the unity of Egypt and the Sudan, self-government for the Sudanese, and restoration to Egypt of her rights in the administration of the Sudan in order to further the preparation of the Sudanese for self-government."

Egypt and Britain were unsuccessful in reaching an agreement on revision of the 1936 treaty. Among Egyptian demands is the ending of British-Egyptian condominium over the Sudan and union of that territory with Egypt. The Egyptians announced they would submit their case to U.N.

JERUSALEM, MARCH 3-(AP)-THE PALESTINE GOVERNMENT, APPARENTLY SMARTING UNDER RECENT ATTACKS BY THE JEWISH AGENCY, SAID TONIGHT IN AN OFFICIAL STATEMENT THAT 21,000 JEWISH IMMIGRANTS "OVER AND ABOVE" THE QUOTA HAD BEEN ADMITTED TO PALESTINE.

THE GOVERNMENT'S COMMUNIQUE SAID IN PART:

"WITH REGARD TO THE STATEMENT OF JEWISH AUTHORITY THAT THE GOVERNMENT HAVE STEADILY REFUSED CONCESSIONS OF ANY KIND X X X IT IS POINTED OUT THAT THIS CAN ONLY BE CONSTRUED AS A DELIBERATE MISREPRESENTATION OF THE FACTS.

"WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF THE 1,500 CERTIFICATES A MONTH LAID DOWN BY HIS MAJESTY'S GOVERNMENT IN DECEMBER, 1945 AS THE RATE OF IMMIGRATION PENDING A FINAL DECISION ON FUTURE POLICY MANY CONCESSIONS HAVE BEEN MADE IN RESPONSE TO REQUESTS BY THE JEWISH AGENCY AND VAAD LAUMI (JEWISH NATIONAL COUNCIL) IN REGARD TO THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE QUOTA.

"IT MUST BE REMEMBERED THAT THE CONTINUANCE OF THE IMMIGRATION RATE OF 1,500 A MONTH IN THE INTERIM PERIOD WAS ITSELF A CONCESSION SINCE THE QUOTA OF 75,000 JEWISH IMMIGRANTS PERMITTED BY THE POLICY IN FORCE, AS LAID DOWN IN THE WHITE PAPER OF 1939, HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

IT HAS IN FACT ALREADY RESULTED IN THE ADMISSION OF 21,000 IMMIGRANTS OVER AND ABOVE THAT QUOTA.

"FURTHERMORE X X X THE PROPOSALS PUT FORWARD BY HIS MAJESTY'S GOVERNMENT AT RECENT TALKS IN LONDON OFFERED THE JEWS NOT ONLY AN INCREASE IN MONTHLY QUOTS TO 4,000 FOR A PERIOD OF TWO YEARS, BUT CONTINUED IMMIEGRATION INTO JEWISH AREAS AFTER THE TWO YEAR PERIOD SUBJECT ONLY TO ECONOMIC ABSORPTIVE CAPACITY." MACMILLAN, WHOSE TROOPS NOW ARE MAINTAINING MARTIAL LAW IN SECTIONS OF PALESTINE IN AN ATTEMPT TO WIPE OUT DISORDERS, SAID THE WORD "TERRORIST" WOULD, IN THE FUTURE, BE BANNED FROM THE ARMY VOCABULARY BECAUSE THE "WORD NOW HAS ACQUIRED A CERTAIN GLAMOR AND THE MEN SO DESCRIBED ARE IN A POSITION COMPARABLE WITH CHICAGO GANGSTERS."

"IN OTHER WORDS," HE DECLARED, "THROUGH THE CONSTANT USE OF THIS TERM TO DESCRIBE THEM, CRIMINALS WHO WERE MEMBERS OF THE STERN GANG AND IRGUN ZVAI LEUMI (JEWISH RESISTANCE GROUPS) NOW REGARD THEMSELVES AS A SPECIAL CLASS OF PEOPLE, INVESTED WITH SPECIAL ATTRIBUTES."

IN THE JERUSALEM MARTIAL-LAW ZONE, HOUSING SOME 15,000 JEWS, THE BRITISH ANNOUNCED THAT A LIKE CURFEW WOULD BE LIFTED FROM 10 A.M. TO 1 P.M. DAILY BEGINNING TOMORROW. THE ROYAL IRISH FUSILIERS WERE IN FULL CONTROL THERE.

GALE, VOICING BRITISH DETERMINATION TO "PARALYZE AND ERADICATE" UNDERGROUND EXTREMIST MOVEMENTS, SAID HE WAS CONVINCED THAT TEL AVIV, ALL-JEWISH CITY ON THE MEDITERRANEA, WAS A CENTER FOR "A MAJORITY OF THOSE CHAPS THAT GO ABOUT MURDERING AND DESTROYING OTHER PEOPLE'S PROPERTY."

AN UNOFFICIAL SOURCE, ORDINARILY DEPENDABLE, REPORTED LAST NIGHT THAT SEVERAL PISTOLS, BRITISH ARMY UNIFORMS AND ARAB GARMENTS HAD BEEN FOUND IN A TEL AVIV BASEMENT.

THE BRITISH PUT A CURFEW ON MANY JEWISH SECTIONS AT 7 P.M., SATURDAY, MOVED TROOPS INTO THE COASTAL AREA EARLY YESTERDAY AND THEN CLAMPED ON MARTIAL LAW--IN THE MEA SHEARIM DISTRICT AT 8 A.M., AND ON THE COAST AT 1:15 P.M.

A COMMUNIQUE FROM LT. GEN. SIR ALAN CUNNINGHAM, PALESTINE HIGH COMMISSIONER, SAID "SEVERE MEASURES" WERE NECESSARY BECAUSE THE JEWISH AGENCY, ADVISOR TO THE BRITISH IN THE GOVERNMENT, AND THE JEWISH NATIONAL COUNCIL (VAAD LEUMI), ADMINISTERING PURELY JEWISH AFFAIRS, HAD "REFUSED THEIR COOPERATION X X X IN BRINGING TO JUSTICE MEMBERS OF TERRORIST GROUPS."

THE COMMUNIQUE LISTED "48 OUTRAGES" SINCE THE BRITISH SOLICITED SUCH COOPERATION A MONTH AGO.

GEN. GALE SAID MARTIAL LAW WAS "NOT A PUNITIVE MEASURE" BUT WAS DIRECTED ONLY AT "BAD ELEMENTS."

HOWEVER, THE JEWISH AGENCY AND NATIONAL COUNCIL DECLARED LAST NIGHT THAT THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT WAS "SEEKING BY THE IMPOSITION OF MARTIAL LAW, WHICH IS UNLIKELY TO DETER THE TERRORISTS, TO PUNISH AN ENTIRE COMMUNITY" FOR "CRIMES OF A FEW DESPERATE GUNMEN."

THEIR STATEMENT SAID THAT "DISCIPLINED ELEMENTS IN THE JEWISH COMMUNITY, HAMPERED THOUGH THEY HAVE BEEN BY THE LACK OF ADEQUATE POWERS," HAD BEEN TRYING TO "COMBAT THE TERRORIST GROUPS AND TO UNDERMINE THEIR ORGANIZATION" AND WOULD INTENSIFY SUCH EFFORTS.

"THESE MURDEROUS AND SENSELESS CRIMES HAVE COME AS A NUMBING SHOCK TO THE ENTIRE JEWISH COMMUNITY AND ITS LEADERS," SAID THE TWO INSTITUTIONS, WHICH HAD TURNED DOWN THE ORIGINAL BRITISH REQUEST FOR JOINT ACTION AGAINST EXTREMISTS ON THE GROUND THAT JEWS COULD NOT INFORM AGAINST JEWS.

THEY REPORTED THEY HAD BEEN UNABLE TO GET FROM THE BRITISH "ANY MEASURE OF HELP IN SOLVING THE BURNING QUESTION OF IMMIGRATION" OF JEWS INTO PALESTINE, LONG-TIME OBJECT OF THE ZIONIST MOVEMENT. THE BRITISH ALLOW ONLY 1,500 JEWS TO ENTER MONTHLY.

THE WEST COAST FLEET WAS ASSUMED TO HAVE ONE OTHER CARRIER (ACTUALLY, IT HAD ONLY THE BOXER) BUT THE SECOND FLATTOP ALSO WAS DECREED TO HAVE BEEN HIT.

British to Cut Troops in Greece Despite U. S. Offer of Credits

Concede Decision on Eventual Withdrawal May Affect American Position—

London, March 4 (AP)—Government sources said today Britain would carry out a program of reducing her forces in Greece—aimed eventually at complete withdrawal—despite United States offers of financial aid to Greece.

The British decision against keeping the Greek occupation force at its present strength, estimated at 15,000, came after study of American offers of both credits and surplus arms and stores to Greece if the British would continue efforts to maintain order, the sources said.

The exchanges began when Britain informed the United States she could not bear the burden of her economic commitments in Greece after March 31.

Withdrawal When "Practicable"

A Foreign Office spokesman, declaring reductions would be carried out according to plan, said final withdrawal would take place when it was "practicable." He did not elaborate.

NIGHT

The spokesman confirmed that a new British note was en route to the United States replying to the State Department's reported offer. He declined to comment on the contents of the note, but other sources said the decision at Cabinet level apparently was Britain's last word on policing Greece, regardless of the American attitude.

The presence of British troops in Greece has been a sore subject in Parliament during recent months. Leftists and the so-called "rebels" within the Labor party have demanded repeatedly that the soldiers be brought back home, and Ernest Bevin, Foreign Secretary, has replied that the troops were in Greece on the invitation of the Greek Government.

One Brigade By May 1

There was no definite word on whether the Cabinet had fixed a definite date for the withdrawal of all troops. However, Greek sources in London said the British strength would be reduced to one brigade, or about 3,000 men, by May 1.

Bevin and Gen. George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, are expected to discuss the Greek question and the entire strategic situation in the Middle East and eastern Mediterranean when they meet next week in Moscow for the Foreign Ministers' Conference, Whitehall sources said.

Air Secretary Philip Noel-Baker, in a statement prepared for Parliament on recent cuts in Britain's air force, said that operational squadrons have been withdrawn from Greece, but that a Royal Air Force mission was "advising the Greek Government about the re-establishment of the Greek air force."

GREECE IN URGENT PLEA FOR SPEEDY AMERICAN RELIEF

Wants Funds for Present Crisis, Also Economic, Technical Experts.

APPEAL IS STUDIED

Marshall Stresses Importance of Issue on Eve of Departure for Moscow.

E. Bomar

WASHINGTON, March 4—(AP) The Greek government in an urgent plea for American aid asked the United States today for funds to meet immediate needs, and also for American economic and technical experts.

The State Department published the text of the note which said Greece now is "without funds to finance the import even of those consumption goods that are essential for bare subsistence."

NIGHT

The note from Prime Minister Maximos and Foreign Minister Tsaldaris said Greece needs funds to make immediate purchases to enable civil and military forces to restore security and to create means of self-support for the future. No specific sums were mentioned.

Earlier, Secretary of State Marshall had said aid to Greece is "a matter of primary importance to the United States."

In his first formal statement by the administration since last week's top secret White House conference, Marshall said the issue had received President Truman's urgent attention, and confirmed that it had been discussed with congressional leaders.

The President, he promised, will give very soon a full explanation what action this government contemplated to bolster the anti-Communist Athens regime.

The 250-word statement was issued by the State Department as Marshall prepared for his departure tomorrow for the Moscow peace conference.

U. S. "Disposed" to Help

It made clear that "in the light of the world situation, the United States was disposed to help." It set the stage for a decision—which congress must share—on large scale aid.

Meanwhile, there have been consultations with Britain, which has "likewise been bending every effort to help."

The note of crisis was heightened last week by a note from Britain reportedly pleading inability to continue financial support of Greece as a postwar bulwark against the further spread of Soviet dominance.

Congressional leaders were reported to have received an estimate at the White House that taking over British commitments would involve possibly $250,000,000 in relief outlays and credits this year.

Government sources in London said today Britain would carry out a program of reducing her forces in Greece—aimed eventually at complete withdrawal — despite United States offers of financial aid to the strife-torn kingdom.

The British decision against keeping the Greek occupation force at its present strength, estimated at 15,000, came after study of American offers of both credits and surplus arms and stores to Greece if the British would continue efforts to maintain order the sources said.

public statement would be made soon when a study by the State Department and other executive agencies had been completed.

"Urgent Need" For Funds

"The problems involved are so far-reaching and of such transcendent importance that any announcement relating to them could properly come only from the President himself," Marshall said.

He added that the final decisions on what further steps the United States might take to bolster Greece's stability would rest with Mr. Truman and Congress.

Shortly before Marshall's statement was issued, Greece was reported to have directed an "urgent appeal" to the United States for financial help.

The Greek plea was contained in a note delivered yesterday to Under Secretary Acheson by Paul Economopoulos, chargé d'affaires.

Greek Aid 'Vital To U.S.'

Washington, March 4 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall said today that aid to Greece was "a matter of primary importance to the United States."

In his first formal statement on pleas of the Athens Government and Britain for assistance to Greece, Marshall said the matter had received the "urgent attention" of President Truman and had been discussed with congressional leaders.

Marshall promised that a full

Text of Greek Note to U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP).—The complete text of a note from Greek Prime Minister Demetrios Maximos and Foreign Minister Constantin Tsaldaris to President Truman and George C. Marshall, Secretary of State:

Owing to the systematic devastation of Greece, the decimation and debilitation of her people and of the destruction of her economy through four invasions and protracted enemy occupation, as well as through disturbances in the wake of war, and despite the valuable assistance rendered by our allies during and after the war for which the Greek people feel profoundly grateful, further and immediate assistance has unfortunately become vital.

It is impossible to exaggerate the magnitude of the difficulties that beset those survivors in Greece who are devoting themselves to the restoration of their country. Such means of survival as remained to the Greek people after the enemy withdrew have now been exhausted so that today Greece is without funds to finance the import even of those consumption goods that are essential for bare subsistence.

In such circumstances the Greek people cannot make progress in attacking the problems of reconstruction, though substantial reconstruction must be begun if the situation in Greece is not to continue to be critical.

The Greek government and the people are, therefore, compelled to appeal to the government of the United States and through it to the American people for financial, economic and expert assistance. For Greece to survive she must have:

1. The financial and other assistance which will enable her immediately to resume purchases of the food, clothing, fuel, seeds and the like that are indispensable for the subsistence of her people and that are obtainable only from abroad.

11. The financial and other assistance necessary to enable the civil and military establishments of the government to obtain from abroad the means of restoring in the country the tranquillity and feeling of security indispensable to the achievement of economic and political recovery.

III. Aid in obtaining the financial and other assistance that will enable Greece and the Greek people to create the means for self-support in the future. This involves problems which unhappily cannot be solved unless we surmount the crisis immediately confronting us.

IV. The aid of experienced American administrative, economic and technical personnel to assure the utilization in an effective and up-to-date manner of the financial and other assistance given to Greece, to help to restore a healthy condition in the domestic economy and public administration and to train the young people of Greece to assume their responsibilities in a reconstructed economy.

The need is great. The determination of the Greek people to do all in their power to restore Greece to a self-supporting, self-respecting democracy is also great; but the destruction in Greece has been so complete as to rob the Greek people of the power to meet the situation by themselves. It is because of these circumstances that they turn to America for aid.

It is the profound hope of the Greek government that the government of the United States will find a way to render to Greece without delay the assistance for which it now appeals.

571 LEFTISTS SEIZED, DEPORTED BY GREECE

ATHENS, March 4 (AP)—Greek police said tonight that 571 Leftists arrested today on charges of aiding Greek guerrillas had been tried immediately by security committees, convicted and sentenced to one year's deportation on the island of Nicaria in the Aegean Sea.

The Leftist National Liberation Front (EAM) said it had telegraphed a protest against the deportations to the United Nations commission now conducting an inquiry into Greek border incidents.

Police said that those ordered deported were being removed to the port of Piraeus for embarkation.

NIGHT

Press reports today said that planes and big guns had been brought into action to disperse a strong band of guerrillas that attacked a military unit at Rymnion, about fifty air miles northwest of Mount Olympus.

Only the prompt arrival of reinforcements saved the day for the garrison, which had been under siege for fifteen hours, the dispatches said.

Another press report said that one passenger was killed and three were wounded when guerrillas opened fire on a train near Kirki, about twenty miles from Dede Agach in Western Thrace.

Athens Police Seize 350 In 'Rebel Ring'

Athens, March 4 (AP)—Police announced today the arrest at dawn of 350 persons, accused of recruiting for guerrilla forces and sending arms to the irregulars for use against the Government in northern Greece.

A spokesman for the Left-wing EAM asserted that 530 had been jailed. The police chief said the number might increase or decrease from 350.

Gen. Napoleon Zervas, Minister of Public Order, declared:

"I am perfectly satisfied that the arrested persons were members of a ring whose headquarters was in Athens and whose job was to supply guerrilla bands with arms, uniforms, supplies and intelligence and to conscript young men to join the guerrilla forces. I have not the slightest doubt that the guerrilla warfare is inspired and directed by Communist leadership from Athens."

DAY

The EAM spokesman said that the arrests were "unjustified and unexpected" and that a delegation from the organization had asked for an audience with the Prime Minister to protest.

BRITAIN GAINS IN EXPORT AIM

January Figure Shows 12 Per Cent Rise Over 1938

London, March 4 (AP) — Impoverished Britain, counting on sales abroad to rebuild her war-shattered economy, gained ground in the January phase of her "battle of exports", despite moderate fuel shortages, a Government statement showed.

NIGHT

Trade and navigation accounts disclosed January exports totaling $36,480,000, or twelve per cent more than the 1938 total. The increase in December over the corresponding month in 1938 was only three per cent.

40 Per Cent As Target

The Government's target for 1947 is an export rate 40 per cent greater than 1938.

Exports ultimately must be increased by 75 per cent over prewar totals to maintain living standards, an economic "white paper" published early this year declared.

Fuel shortages forced some factories to curtail production or close briefly during January but there was no widespread shutdown until last month.

Lower Than November

Exports in January were about three per cent lower than November and seven per cent lower than last July, but were higher than any other month of 1946.

The January figure of $364,800,000 covered 27 working days. Taking 26 days as a normal working month, figures for the last seven months were:

July, $356,000,000; August, $312,000,000; September, $296,000,000; October, $350,000,000; November, $378,00,000; December, $360,000,000; January, $352,000,000.

Retained imports in January totaled $465,200,000. The Government's goal is a "much narrower gap" between exports and imports by the end of 1947.

AIR FORCES TO BE HALVED BY BRITAIN

Reduction Announced On Heels Of Drastic Cut In Army

London, March 4 (AP)—Britain announced today she was cutting her Air Force by approximately one half, just three days after an even more drastic reduction operation was announced for the Army.

White Papers prepared by the Air Ministry and War Office visualized an Air Force cut from 760,000 officers and men in 1946-47 to 370,000 in 1947-48 and an Army reduced from 2,950,000 to 1,210,000.

The Air Ministry estimated its 1947-48 budget would be $164,000,000 less than the year before, while the War Office budget estimate showed a reduction of $1,760,000,000.

NIGHT

Total Outlay Lower

However, both Philip Noel-Baker, Air Secretary, and Frederick J. Bellenger, War Secretary, in statements accompanying their budget estimates, declared that actual expenditures for their respective forces were reduced much more sharply than these figures indicated. This was because new bookkeeping methods shifted supply purchases from other ministries to the Air Force and Army.

"By the end of the current financial year," Noel-Baker said, "just under a million men and women will have been released and discharged from the Royal Air Force and Women's Auxiliary Air Force since V-E day."

Air Forces Maintained

In Germany, Japan, Austria and Venezia Giulia (Trieste area), the Minister said, "substantial air forces of occupation and support have been maintained, and this commitment will, of course, continue for Germany and Japan."

He said the RAF had withdrawn operational squadrons from Greece but that a mission was advising the Greek Government on the establishment of a Greek air force. In Palestine, he said, the Air Force had co-operated with Army and civilian authorities.

Shaw Links Hitler, Jefferson Davis

London, March 4 (AP)—George Bernard Shaw came up with a typically cryptic reply today when asked to comment on a proposal attributed to Senator Russell, of Georgia, that England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales be admitted as members of the United States.

The 90-year-old playwright made his reply on one of his famous postcards, mailed from his home at Ayot St. Lawrence.

"The breakup of empires is highly desirable if they break up into commonwealths," he wrote.

"Senator Russell as an American ought to know this as well as I, an Irishman.

"The fight does not begin until and unless the commonwealths are bungled and try back to Jefferson Davis, Napoleon, the Kaiser, Mussolini and Hitler."

Apparently Shaw omitted some words from the final clause.

But perhaps he knew that such a linking of the name of the President of the Confederate States with those of the dictators of World War II would start an argument in Russell's Southland.

And Shaw always enjoyes starting arguments.

Brazil's Reported Stand On Pound Held Surprise

LONDON, March 4 (AP).—The British Treasury and the Brazilian Embassy said today they both lacked official details of a reported decision by Bank of Brazil to stop buying sterling. Financial circles described the reported decision as a "surprise."

The Brazilian cruzeiro has been deleted from the list of official rates on the London Exchange quotations.

Meantime, official and financial circles speculated on the reasons for the Brazilian bank's measure, which some thought was linked with Brazil's need to fix her new exchange rates in accordance with the Bretton Woods agreement.

BRITAIN MAY HAND PALESTINE CASE TO THE UN TODAY

J. P. MacLEOD

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 4 —(AP) Authoritative sources said tonight that Britain may toss the Palestine case into the lap of the United Nations tomorrow.

This was disclosed as UN officials were reported to have taken preliminary stps to expedite an immediate inquiry into the Holy Land problem when, and if, the big five powers give the go-ahead.

Sources close to Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate to the UN Security Council, said Britain was only awaiting word from Secretary General Trygve Lie on results of his conferences with other members of the big five before placing the Palestine case before the United Nations.

NIGHT

Today

These sources said it was possible that Sir Alexander would place the case before the United Nations tomorrow.

"If not tomorrow," one highly reliable source said, "then he will do so within the next day or so. The British are anxious for action."

Although Great Britain has not yet placed the case before the UN formally, informed quarters said Arkady Sobolev, assistant secretary-general in charge of political affairs, already had directed his aides to begin "pulling together basic, factual material."

This preparation was started immediately after Secretary-General Trygve Lie, in informal talks with representatives of the big powers, advanced a proposal that a UN fact-finding commission to be set up to study the problem and draft recommendations before the general assembly meets in September.

Secretariat sources said Lie's future action would depend largely on two factors:

1. Whether the big five unanimously accepted his proposal.

2. Whether Britain would formally request the creation of a fact-finding commission. (ADD)

Palestine Probe Being Planned By U.N.

J. PARRIS

Lake Success, March 4 (AP)—The Unitaed Nations secretariat section under Assistant Secretary General Arkady Sobolev is already engaged in spade work for a United Nations commission of inquiry on Palestine, it was learned today, although Britain has not yet formally turned the problem over to the United Nations.

The work undertaken by Sobolev's staff, which is normally concerned only with Security Council affairs, was described as a preparatory phase to speed the duties of a special commission likely to be set up as the result of exploratory talks with the delegations by Secretary General Trygve Lie.

DAY

Political Problem

The task was handed to Sobolev, the ranking Russian on the Secretariat, as a political problem and did not imply that the Palestine mandate would be laid before the Security Council for a solution, an informed spokesman said.

Sobolev's staff was described as "pulling together the basic, factual material" thrat would be needed by a fact-finding commission Lie is trying to set up, with British acquiesence, to report to the 55-nation General Assembly next September and obviate the necessity for a costly special Assembly session at this time.

The British delegation confirmed that it was in touch with the Secretariat and said that, although nothing had been formally submitted on Palestine, a memorandum could be expected from London "within a few days."

Without Precedent

The procedure for setting up a commission without a prior meeting of the parent body would be unprecedented in the United Nations. Lie is now trying to work out the difficulties by personal consultation with representatives of the 55 member nations through delegations here or embassies in Washington.

Under present plans, with the British in agreement, the commission would be a "fairly small preparatory body," whose recommendations would go to the Assembly in September. It would meet here and probably would not make an on-the-spot inquiry in Palestine under its limitations as a committee without administrative powers.

Secretariat sources said they felt certain the Big Five would be represented on the proposed commission and expressed belief that there would also be some representation from among the five Arab League states that are members of the United Nations.

British Viewpoint

The British, through Minister of State Hector McNeil, a delegate to the Economic and Social Council, have said they hoped the paramount solution would be provided by the parties mainly concerned —the Jews and Arabs of Palestine. McNeil said further that Britain hoped the stateless Jews would find a way through procedural barriers to be heard by the United Nations.

One informed source offered the suggestion that the United States, if represented on the commission, might open the way for hearing the Jewish side of the question.

Authoritative sources said Lie discussed the "fact-finding" commission idea with British United Nations Delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan last week. Sir Alexander was said to have told Lie that Britain was not unsympathetic to the idea, since the London Government desires speed on the question.

Conferences With Lie

The possibility of creating such a commission was given new hope after Lie and his legal adviser, A. H. Feller, general counselor of the United Nations, conferred yesterday with the heads of various delegations.

Both Lie and Feller were noncommittal on the purpose of their visit to delegation headquarters at the Empire State Building in New York, but informed sources said Palestine was certainly on the list of discussions.

Sir Alexander was understood to have reported to the London Government on his talk with Lie, and some sources believed the British Cabinet was studying the suggestion of establishing a United Nations special "fact-finding" commission. (ADD)

PALESTINE COURT ASKED TO RULE ON ADMITTING JEWS

JERUSALEM, March 4—(AP) Attorney David Goitein pleaded before the Jerusalem High court today for "a judgment of historic importance" in asserting the court had power to rule that 1,378 uncertified Jewish immigrants who arrived on a refugee ship off Palestine last week "should be allowed to land in their homeland".

Although the court has ordered Palestine government authorities to show cause why a writ of habeas corpus should not be issued to prevent deportation of the would-be immigrants to Cyprus, 540 of them have been sent to the Cyprus detention camp.

NIGHT

The government explained that the transfer was ordered "pending determination of habeas corpus proceedings and since there is no other government accommodation available for them in Palestine." The remaining 838 arrivals are being held aboard the British transport Ocean Vigour in Palestine waters.

New Violence Flares

The only violence reported in the Holy Land today was the wounding of three British soldiers in the explosion of a military truck and destruction of a Royal airforce truck by a road mine in which three Arab R.A.F. employes were injured.

Searchers were in progress constantly in the martial law area of Jerusalem, the military commander in the area, Brig. E. F. Davies reported.

He said "small and intense" searches would continue "until the operation is completed." Davies declined to disclose the number of arrests made.

Food Supplies Moving

The commander said food supplies began moving into the cordoned area in volume today and that "a sufficient supply of essentials" would be in shops by tomorrow.

Water service has been resumed, and the Jewish cooperative dairy plant was expected to return to full production by tomorrow.

A Jewish welfare committee permitted to tour the area today planned immediate installation of milk kitchens for 3,000 needy children and welfare centers for persons unable to buy food or pay for medical attention.

Jewish community leaders said industries within the martial law areas were operating at close to 100 per cent capacity despite the government-imposed restrictions. (ADD)

'OPEN WAR' SET BY EXTREMISTS IN PALESTINE

Underground Admits All Attacks as 9 More Are Injured by Blasts.

MILITARY OFFICE BOMBED

Gen. MacMillan Says Army Is Only Assisting Police to Maintain Law and Order.

Jerusalem, March 4 (AP)—Anti-British violence claimed new victims in Palestine today as the Jewish underground proclaimed the existence of a state of "open war" in the Holy Land.

Five British soldiers were wounded—two seriously—when a military truck was wrecked by an explosion near Rishon le Zion this morning, and four Arabs were injured when an RAF vehicle was blown up by a road mine near Ramle.

A British military office in Haifa was bombed during the night and an army camp near Hadera was the target of a "small-scale" attack, British authorities said, but no casualties were reported in these incidents.

Martial-Law Zones Quiet

In the sectors of Jerusalem and the coastal plain where the British proclaimed martial law over the week end the situation was reported quiet.

In the Jewish city of Tel Aviv, which is within the martial-law zone, all banks remained closed this morning and a joint statement said they lacked currency to operate. Approximately $4,000,000 was reported withdrawn yesterday by residents, who apparently feared an official closing.

The banks said they would reopen tomorrow if military authorities permitted currency to be brought from Jerusalem.

"Open Warfare" Denied

The Jewish underground's assertion that "open warfare" exists in Palestine brought from Lieut. Gen. G. H. A. MacMillan a quick statement that "there is no question of the Army being at war with the Jewish population or anyone else in Palestine."

[In London, a Foreign Office spokesman said a new British communication was on its way to the United Nations, but he would not disclose the contents.

[An informed Government source said the communication suggested that between now and the next scheduled session of the United Nations General Assembly, consideration could be given to the Holy Land problem by a commission of members nominated from states within the Assembly. The informant said Britain stressed that she wanted immediate action in any event.]

Report Industry Operating

Jewish community leaders in the coastal plain area told a party of touring newsmen that, despite all the difficulties under martial law, industry in the area was functioning nearly 100 per cent. The leaders said the authorities had been co-operative.

MacMillan, in an address to his headquarters staff, said, "The function of the army is to assist the police in maintaining law and order, as the police alone is insufficient in present circumstances."

Jews-Arabs Join To End 'Blood Feud'

Jerusalem, March 4 (AP)—Jews and Arabs in two small northern Palestine communities sat down together in amity today to wipe out blood feuds and exchange cheek kisses of friendship and peace.

In Beisan, southeast of Nazareth on the Transjordan frontier, three Bedouin tribes and the Jewish community of Kfar Ruppin assembled at a feast to wipe out a blood feud which began with a quarrel in which a Jew was slain in a date grove.

Three hundred sheep were slaughtered at the ceremony. A formal peace treaty is to be signed Saturday and the infant son of the slain man will be informed, when he comes of age, that the blood feud has been wiped out.

Kisses of peace also were exchanged between Ruemilat tribesmen and Bnei Geulin settlers at a ceremony near Nathanya, ending a feud which began with the kidnapping of a Jew in retaliation for the arrest of a Bedouin after a tribal attack on the settlement. The attack followed a dispute over grazing rights.

Beyrouth, Lebanon, March 4 (AP). Fourteen persons were killed today at Tripoli in a riot which broke out among crowds assembled to welcome Fawzi El Din Kawkji, one-time leader of rebel Palestine Arabs. Two political parties and police were involved in the fighting.

Troops finally were used to restore order.

Dubais Murr, Beyrouth newspaperman, said the head of the Tripoli gendarmerie had doubled his guards to prevent trouble from flaring between the rival political parties of Mokadem and Kerameh.

"Nevertheless, fighting started," he said.

"Tommy guns were used on the crowds," he added.

BRITAIN, FRANCE SIGN FIFTY-YEAR ALLIANCE TREATY

Pledge Joint Action Against Any Future Aggression by Germany.

MAP ECONOMIC AID

Pact Described as Possible Forerunner of Big 4 Agreement.

DUNKERQUE, France, March 4.—(AP) A treaty binding France and Great Britain to act jointly against any possible future aggression by Germany and pledging the two countries to a 50-year alliance was signed here today by Foreign Ministers Ernest Bevin and Georges Bidault.

The pact also calls for mutual action by France and Great Britain in the event Germany defaults in any of the economic obligations imposed in her surrender or in the forthcoming German peace settlement.

The two countries, under the treaty's terms, also will "take all possible steps to promote the prosperity and economic security" of each other.

Stands On Charter

All the pact's provisions, the text stated explicitly, are subject to the provisions of the charter of the United Nations.

Bevin and Bidault affixed their signatures to the pact in the tiny Dunkerque sub-prefecture building, the largest structure still standing in the devastated city where, in 1940, the Nazi army inflicted on Britain her greatest defeat of World War II.

A joint statement of the foreign ministers after the ceremony said:

"The Anglo-French treaty of alliance and mutual assistance defines the arrangements worked out between the two powers for establishing on a firm basis and within the framework of collective security as laid down by the charter of the United Nations, the reciprocal and special guarantees which they contemplate to prevent the recurrence of a German menace.

"On the occasion of the signing of this treaty, the foreign ministers of Great Britain and France may express the hope that these guarantees will soon be completed by the conclusion of a four-power treaty laying down conditions for the disarmament and demilitarization of Germany and the methods of putting them into effect."

"Not a Western Bloc"

Bevin, en route to the Moscow conference of the Big Four foreign ministers' council, said before the signing:

"I think that Russia realizes that this treaty is not a western bloc but only a step in the pattern of universal peace.

"We are now realizing that peace is really individual and must be re-established that way.

"We are trying to build a durable peace, step by step, and it is better to go slower and be patient, rather than to go quickly and make mistakes."

Bidault has announced that the same treaty provisions would be offered to "the other great allies" and to the Netherlands, Belgium, Poland and Czechoslovakia. The treaty also has been described as a possible forerunner of a Big-Four pact such as that proposed last year by former U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes to cement allied accord in relations with Germany.

ANGLO-FRENCH PACT SIGNED AT DUNKIRK

Fifty-year Mutual Defense Agreement Hailed by Bevin and Bidault.

Dunkirk, France, March 4 (AP)—Great Britain and France today signed a 50-year treaty of alliance designed to provide mutual protection against any future aggression by Germany.

The agreement was signed by Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain, en route to the four-power Foreign Ministers' meeting in Moscow, and by Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France, who planned to leave tomorrow to join him and the American and Russian representatives there.

The pact covered the transfer of a huge amount of military and naval material sold or loaned to France by Britain since France's liberation.

"Treaty Of Moscow"?

Similar accords are proposed with Holland, Belgium, Czechoslovakia and Poland, to ring Germany with a new entente.

In some quarters the alliance of Dunkirk was hailed as a precursor of a treaty of Moscow, in which the Big Four would bind themselves for 40 to 50 years against any resurgence of German might or war potential such as plagued the world twice in 25 years.

Supplementing military and territorial provisions of the pact, French and British statesmen were still working out details of an economic pact that would integrate France's four-year economic plan with Britain's economy.

Britain and France had already abolished visas for their nationals traveling between the two countries.

When Bidault announced the forthcoming pact, he told the French National Assembly that every clause of the treaty would be offered to the other "great allies" as well as to the smaller nations.

The treaty, if extended to other countries as expected, would lead to a loose confederation of western states of Europe.

"Better To Go Slower"

Bevin said before signing:

"I think that Russia realizes that this treaty is not a western bloc, but only a step in the pattern of universal peace. We are now realizing that peace is really individual and must be re-established that way. We are trying to build a durable peace, step by step, and it is better to go slower and be patient, rather than to go quickly and make mistakes."

Bevin referred to the United States and expressed pleasure that, "unlike in 1919, the United States is ready to develop further treaties and further commitments on behalf of world peace."

French diplomats during the preliminary discussions on the treaty pointed out that Soviet Russia and Great Britain were talking also of a new pact, similar to the Franco-British accord and to the mutual-aid pact between Russia and France.

Both governments temporarily withheld the actual text of the pact. It is known, however, to provide for prompt action to destroy any future threat of German aggression if and when it is detected, instead of waiting for actual aggression to start.

In addition, economic and political collaboration was agreed upon, with Britain recognizing France's claim to a large portion of the Ruhr Valley's coal production.

Choice Of A Site

Recalling that both France and Britain have alliances with the Soviet Union, Bidault said that the new treaty raised a third side of the European security triangle against German aggression. The announcement three days ago that treaty arrangements had been concluded brought cheers in the British Parliament and the French National Assembly.

Both nations hailed the selection of Dunkerque, where French Marines fought beside British soldiers to hold back the Germans while 300,000 Britons were evacuated in June, 1940, as the scene of the signing.

The room selected for the ceremony was a small hall in the sub-prefecture building, the only official structure left standing in the town, where 90 per cent of the buildings were destroyed during the war.

French Alliance

DUNKERQUE, France, March 4 (AP)—The official English-language text of the fifty-year French-British treaty signed here today:

His Majesty, the King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the seas, Emperor of India, and the President of the French Republic,

Desiring to confirm in a treaty of alliance a cordial friendship and close association of interests between the United Kingdom and France;

Convinced that the conclusion of such a treaty will facilitate the settlement in a spirit of mutual understanding of all questions arising between the two countries;

Resolved to cooperate closely with one another as well as the other United Nations in preserving peace and resisting aggression in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations and in particular with Articles 49, 51, 52, 53 and 107 thereof;

Determined to collaborate in measures of mutual assistance in the event of any renewal of German aggression, while considering most desirable the conclusion of the treaty between all these powers having responsibility for actions in relation to Germany with the object of preventing Germany from becoming again a menace to peace;

Having regard to treaties of alliance and mutual assistance which they have respectively concluded with the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics;

Intending to strengthen economic relations between the two countries to their mutual advantage and in the interests of general prosperity, have decided to conclude a treaty with these objects and have appointed as their plenipotentiaries;

His Majesty, the King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the seas, Emperor of India:

For the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, the Right Hon. Ernest Bevin, M.P., His Majesty's principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, and the Right Hon. Alfred Duff Cooper, His Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary at Paris;

The President of the French Republic:

For the French Republic, His

Text of Anglo-

Excellency, M. Georges Bidault, Minister for Foreign Affairs, and His Excellency, M. René Massigli, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the French Republic at London, who, having communicated their full powers bound in good and due form, have agreed as follows:

Article 1

Without prejudice to any arrangements that may be made under any treaty concluded between all the powers having responsibility for action in relation to Germany under Article 107 of the Charter of the United Nations, for the purpose of preventing any infringement by Germany of her obligations with regard to disarmament and demilitarization and generally of insuring that Germany shall not again become a menace to peace,

The high contracting parties will, in the event of any threat to the security of either of them arising from the adoption by Germany of a policy of aggression, or from action by Germany designed to facilitate such a policy, take, after consulting with each other and where appropriate with the other powers having responsibility for actions in relation to Germany, such agreed action (which, so long as the said Article 107 remains operative, shall be action under that article) as is best calculated to put an end to this threat.

Article 2

Should either of the high contracting parties become again involved in hostilities with Germany, either in consequence of an armed attack within the meaning of Article 51 of the Charter of the United Nations, by Germany against that party, or as a result of agreed action taken against Germany under Article 1 of this treaty, or as a result of enforcement action taken against Germany by the United Nations Security Council, the other high contracting party will at once give the high contracting party so involved in hostility all the military and other support and assistance in its power.

Article 3

In the event of either high contracting party being prejudiced by the failure of Germany to fulfill any obligation of an economic character imposed on her as a result of the instrument of surrender, or arising out of any subsequent settlement, the high contracting parties will consult with each other, and where appropriate with the other powers having responsibilities for action in relation to Germany, with a view to taking agreed actions to deal with the situation.

Article 4

Bearing in mind the interests of the other members of the United Nations, the high contracting parties will, by constant consultation on matters affecting their economic relations with each other, take all possible steps to promote the prosperity and economic security of both countries and thus enable each of them to contribute more effectively to the economic and social objectives of the United Nations.

Article 5

(1) Nothing in the present treaty should be interpreted as derogating in any way from the obligation devolving upon the high contracting parties from the provisions of the Charter of the United Nations or from any special agreement concluded in virtue of Article 43 of the Charter.

(2) Neither of the high contracting parties will conclude any alliance or take part in any coalition directed against the other high contracting party: nor will they enter into any obligation inconsistent with the provisions of the present treaty.

Article 6

(1) The present treaty is subject to ratification and the instruments of ratification will be exchanged in London as soon as possible.

(2) It will come into force immediately on the exchange of the instruments of ratification and will remain in force for a period of fifty years.

(3) Unless either of the high contracting parties gives to the other notice in writing to terminate it at least one year before the expiration of this period, it will remain in force without any specified time limit, subject to the right of either of the high contracting parties to terminate it by giving to the other in writing a year's notice of his intentions to do so.

In witness whereof the abovementioned plenipotentiaries have signed the present treaty and affixed thereto their seals.

Done in Dunkerque the fourth day of March, 1947, in duplicate in English and in French, both texts being equally authentic.

Baudouin Sentenced to Prison.

Versailles, March 4 (A. P.).—The High Court of Justice last night sentenced Paul Baudouin, foreign minister of the Vichy Government in 1940, to five years imprisonment at hard labor, national degradation and confiscation of property.

France Reaffirms Reich Aims

Wes Gallagher

Berlin, March 4 (AP)—On the eve of the Moscow Conference, an official French statement today placed France on record as opposing the establishment of a central German Government.

The French favor placing the Ruhr under foreign political and economic control and continuing capital reparations from Germany in the form of plant removals. They have indicated support of Polish claims to Poland's present western boundaries.

France's position was made clear in answer to questions submitted by the Associated Press to the highest French authorities in this four-power capital. Many of these authorities will go to Moscow to assist in the formation of a German peace treaty.

Aims Not Changed

Despite rumors that France would change her fundamental aims and align herself with Russia, the answers strongly showed that France has changed none of her aims for a weak and decentralized Germany nor any of her principles which have bocked decisions in the Allied Control Council in Berlin for months.

The official French statement declared that the establishment of a central German Government — which has been advocated by the United States, Britain and Russia in varying degrees — was "premature."

The statement also claimed that France wanted the Saar in her "economy" but not the French political "system." Original French demands for separation of the Rhineland from Germany apparently have been dropped in favor of a long military occupation of the Rhineland.

De-Nazification Claims

The answers gave the first official statement on how far de-Nazification had gone in the French zone, claiming the purge of German administrative "personnel has been terminated with the exception of a few rare cases."

Although purges in private industry still were being carried out, the statement said 18,963 Nazis had been senetnced to prison in the French zone and 445,015 cases have been examined.

MRS. GOERING TOO HAD LETHAL CAPSULE

Neuhas, Germany, March 4 (A. P.).—Frau Emmy Goering, soon to face de-Nazification proceedings before a German court, said today that she herself had carried a poison capsule similar to the one with which her husband evaded the gallows at Nuernberg.

The widow of Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering was interviewed in the two-room house she shares with her sister, her eight-year-old daughter Edda and a servant. She said that, when the end was in sight for the Nazi regime, "we all got small capsules." Hers, she said, was intended for use only if she had been severely injured "by an air raid or similar event."

Exchange Planes for Study

WIESBADEN, Germany, March 4 (AP).—An exchange of planes and crews between American and British air forces in Germany, for reciprocal "study of aircraft maintenance methods," was announced today by United States Air Force headquarters. Four fighter pilots, six ground crewmen and fighter planes from each army will be exchanged in two-week training periods.

Schacht Acquitted on Tie Vote

NUREMBERG, Germany, March 4 (AP)—Hjalmar Schacht's acquittal last October by the International Military Tribunal here was on a tie vote, the French and British judges voting for acquittal and the American and Russian judges voting for conviction, Robert M. W. Kempner, American assistant prosecutor at the trial, said today.

Partisan Brutality Charged By Kesselring

Venice, Italy, March 4 (AP)—Field Marshal Albert Kesselring testified today that Italian partisan fighters had used "barbarous brutalities" against his troops, and he accepted personal responsibility for reprisals exacted by the Germans.

Kesselring, on trial for war crimes before a British military court, listed his own complaints against the partisans after defending the ten-for-one massacre in the Ardeatine Caves as "the fairest" method of exacting retribution for the slaying of 33 German soldiers by partisans in Rome.

Kesselring said he hoped this trial would lead to an international convention to outlaw "such atrocities" as were visited upon his troops.

Poland Cultivating Flax

Warsaw, March 4 (AP)—Flax presently is being cultivated on 120,200 acres of land in Poland. By 1949, the Government plans to have 300,000 acres planted. The supply of flax and hemp presently meets only 25 per cent of the home demands.

Russ Press Attacks

Moscow, March 4 (AP)—Attacks on American and British administration in occupied Germany continued in the Soviet press today, but the Moscow News asserted there was no justification for the pessimism it said was expressed by "the reactionary press abroad" in advance of the Foreign Ministers' Conference.

The News quoted the London Daily Telegraph as saying Big Four agreement on Germany was "impossible" and the New York Herald Tribune as asserting that the Potsdam agreement had been "undermined" by events.

"It seems," the News commented, "that certain parties are trying to spread gloom into the future in order to cover their own deficiencies in the past."

Izvestia Attack

Izvestia denounced Anglo-American "machinations" in occupied Germany.

"The separation activities of the western administration zones," wrote S. Vitorov, Izvestia commentator, "are covered with a smoke screen of attacks on the Soviet Union, which is being accused of interrupting the carrying out of general measures of accord throughout Germany."

He accused the United States and Britain of attempting to "subordinate the economy of western Germany to the interests of Anglo-American capital," and listed the American and British objectives as:

Split the economic unification of Germany.

Establish the western zone against the eastern zone.

Subordinate German currency to the dollar and the pound.

Stabilize the basis of monopoly capital in Germany.

Subordinate all the economy of western Germany to the interests of Anglo-American capital.

The commentator declared that German capitalists, profiteers and speculators could not get their capital in the Soviet zone, but that they had full access to their funds in the western zones.

Black Market Secondary

"Therefore, it is natural that in the Soviet zone the black market plays but a secondary role, while in western Germany its economic significance is very great," Vitorov wrote.

In another attack on Anglo-American administration in Germany, B. Ilyn, Red Star commentator, said, "British and American taxpayers are being encouraged in the conviction that joining of the zones was being conducted in their interests, but actually it is everything different."

Aside from the reference in the Moscow News, the Soviet press was generally silent on the Conference of Foreign Ministers, which will open here Monday.

CHINA PRESS DANGER SEEN

Censorship Feared—Formosa Revolution Reported

Shanghai, March 4 (AP) — The Chinese Government, beset by civil war and economic troubles at home and by uprisings in Formosa that one observer termed a revolution, tightened its press policy today.

Foreign correspondents feared censorship of the Chinese press might follow and some predicted complete suppression of criticism of the Government. The Sin Min Wan Pao, Shanghai newspaper published by liberal interests of the Government's own party, the Kuomintang, was suspended for one day for publishing a poem, "Hymn of Hell," that criticized party leaders.

News men expressed fear that that was an indication of things to come in troubled China, where in the past few days President Chiang Kai-shek has taken over the premiership and had himself named chairman of a new National Economic Council.

Independent Paper

Rumors quickly circulated that the independent newspaper, Wen Hui Pao, which has been sincerely critical of the Government, would be suppressed.

The Associated Press, United Press, Reuter and Tass, the Russian agency, were among those instructed to apply for permission to continue issuing Chinese translations of their news. Such translations have been made without restriction since news services were re-established in Shanghai after the end of the war.

Some agency men expressed fear that the order might be a prelude to suppression of their Chinese translations, thus constituting a form of censorship of the Chinese press.

A number of members of the minority Democratic League, which for some time has refused to cooperate with the Government, went into hiding. They were quoted as fearing arrest.

Complete Suppression

Observers said they saw trends toward complete suppression of anti-Government criticism and activities as Nanking implemented measures to suppress "a Communist rebellion."

Mos news men feared censorship in one guise or another and some foreign correspondents went so far as to predict eventual censorship of news transmitted from China.

Arrival from Formosa reported several hundred persons have been killed there in the past several days in uprisings against Chinese administration of the island.

The disorders daily are becoming more acute and may force China to strengthen its second-class garrison there, said these informants, who demanded anonymity because of fear of reprisals.

They said the Formosans charged maladministration and interference with their security and livelihood by the Chinese. [Chen Yi, a personal appointee of Chiang, is administrator.]

The informants said the Formosan Peoples Council, a well-organized body representing interests throughout the island, plans to appeal to the United Nations to place Formosa under United Nations trusteeship.

They reported the Formosans originally welcomed the Chinese as liberators, but turned against them as incompetent administrators.

New Economic Council Set Up By Chiang

Nanking, March 4 (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek today abolished China's Supreme Economic Council, replaced it with another, and told his Cabinet that the nation's economic life depends upon the success of the Government's battle to surmount the growing financial and business crisis.

It was his first official action since assuming the title of Premier. Chiang becomes chairman of the new National Economic Council.

He is also president of the Chinese Republic, head of its Defense Council, director of its governing political party, and chairman of its planning board.

DAY

Military Change Hinted

Informed sources said Chiang, who has also found time for a series of conferences with military leaders, was considering creation of a new military structure of a mobile nature to replace the Suchow-Chengchow Pacification Headquarters, which is to be abolished.

The new structure, these sources said, would be especially designed to cope with guerrilla warfare adopted by the Communists to frustrate government attempts at reconstruction.

Its foremost job would be to localize fighting in certain areas to facilitate government "annihilation drives."

The Executive Yuan (Cabinet), on Chiang's motion, authorized creation of the new Economic Council without a dissenting vote. The membership will include the comptroller of the national treasury, high officials of the Ministries of Food, Social Affairs, Finance and Economic Affairs, as well as the mayors of Shanghai and Nanking, where its emergency economic remedies will be applied first.

The bulk of the new Council's work, the Cabinet indicated, will be undertaken by its price committee, of which Wong Wen-hou was named chairman.

Shanghai's booming stock market took a nose dive today when police moved in to check brokers' activities.

Shanghai police also announced the detention for questioning of a Dutch citizen, Frederick Mosberg, in connection with an alleged black-market operation in foreign money and in gold bars. (ADD)

SPEEDY RELEASE OF CAPTIVE U. S. OFFICERS SEEN

J. Roderick

CHANGCHUN, Manchuria, March 4.—(AP) An American investigator predicted tonight that Chinese Communists would release within 48 hours two captive U. S. officers rather than take them into northern Manchuria where they might observe Communist troop dispositions.

The officer, dispatched by Lt. Gen. Alvan C. Gillem, Jr., reported the captors were withdrawing toward the Sungari river, unofficial Communist-government boundary in Manchuria. The Communists are reported to have 100,000 troops deployed north of the river.

Not Harmed, Is Belief

The investigator said he has positive proof that Maj. Robert Rigg and Capt. J. W. Collins have not been harmed since they were seized Saturday while observing a civil war clash 12 miles northeast of here.

Gen. Tu Li-Ming, government commander in Manchuria, alerted his troops to watch for Rigg and Collins. There was speculation that they might be freed near Tehhui, scene of recent Communist siege.

MAR 1947

NIGHT

The investigator flew to Peiping to recommend to Gillem, U. S. commissioner at disbanded truce headquarters, that the United States set up a liaison office at Yenan, Communist headquarters.

Mrs. Rigg, whose husband once before was held by the Communists, and Mrs. Collins, an expectant mother, said they were cheered by the investigator's report. Both are in Changchun.

The jeep driver and interpreter who accompanied Rigg and Collins to the snowy battle front escaped under fire. They reported three bullets punctured the wooden top of their jeep and a fourth struck a rear tire, but they were not injured.

Both Carried Firearms

The driver, Liu Fung-chih, and interpreter, Chao Hsu-lin, told correspondents.

Both Rigg and Collins carried firearms. Their jeep was held up about 3 miles beyond Hsinglungchan by Communists whom they had assumed were Nationals.

They were ordered to raise their hands, but Collins kept one on the butt of his revolver, causing a sentry to fire into the air. That shot brought 30 or 40 Communists from a near-by village.

The interpreter, fearing he would be killed, crawled to the jeep and he and the driver sped away under fire.

Riggs and Collins were surrounded by bayonet-equipped Communists as the two Chinese fled.

Flying Small U.S. Flag

Liu and Chao said the Communists at no time indicated they knew their captives were Americans, although both wore regulation uniforms and the jeep was flying a small United States flag.

Collins, 25, formerly lived at Gallion, Ala., and his wife in Evanston, Ill. A West Point graduate, he was captured by the Germans in the Battle of the Bulge; escaped; was recaptured and later was released.

Rigg, 33, the first American to reach Manchuria after the war, was held in Changchun by the Communist last April when he escorted a party of American correspondents. He was assistant military attaché at Tehran 1943 to 1945. He arrived in China in November, 1945.

Reds May Release Captured Officers

Changchun, Manchuria, March 4 (AP)—Two American officers captured at gun point on a Manchurian battlefront today were reported hopeful of being released by Chinese Communists within 48 hours.

United States officers, detailed by Lieut. Gen. Alvan C. Gillem, Jr., to make an investigation, said they had positive proof that Major Robert Rigg of Chicago, and Capt. J. W. Collins, of Evanston, Ill., have not been harmed.

They said Rigg and Collins probably were not taken across the Sungari River as Communist troops withdrew into northern Manchuria.

Troops Alerted

At the request of Gillem, United States commissioner at Peiping truce headquarters, Chinese National Government troops were alerted to be on the lookout for Rigg and Collins should they be released.

Two Chinese tonight described the capture Saturday of Rigg and Collins.

Liu Fung-chih, a driver, and Chao Shu-lin, interpreter, said they had reached a point nine miles beyond this capital city of Manchuria when three bullets ripped at the wooden top of the jeep in which they were riding with the officers.

Sentry Fires Shot

The jeep was held up about three miles beynd Hsinglunchan. Thinking the soldiers were Government troops, the Americans, both wearing sidearms, stepped from the car with the interpreter.

The Americans asked to what unit the soldiers belonged. The soldiers replied "the democratic forces," and ordered the three to raise their hands.

Major Rigg and the interpreter did so, but Captain Collins left one hand on the butt of his revolver.

RIOTS END LAHORE CABINET'S RULE

Troops Alerted As 13 Are Killed In Communal Violence

Lahore, India, Wednesday, March 5 (AP)—The coalition government of the Punjab, which resigned Sunday night but continued temporarily in office pending the formation of a new provincial ministry, announced last night it was "no longer able to continue in office because of the riots occurring in Lahore."

NIGHT

Indian Army troops in the Punjab were alerted yesterday as continuing communal violence growing from Hindu and Sikh demonstrations against the Moslem League took the lives of thirteen persons and wounded 50.

Names Expected

Premier Sir Khizr Hyat Khan Tiwana said he had been informed by Congress party and Sikh ministers in the Punjab Government that they could no longer be responsible for the administration of the province.

It was considered likely the Moslem League would submit the names of ministers for a new government later today as a result of the withdrawal of Hindus and Sikhs.

Hindus and Sikhs clashed with Moslems in several sections of the city after police fired on a crowd of Hindu and Sikh students parading in protest against Moslem League demands for Pakistan, an independent Moslem state in India.

Pakistan would include the Punjab, where the Moslems have a majority of 57 per cent.

A curfew from 8 P.M. to 7 A.M. was ordered for an indefinite period, and armed police maintained constant patrols. (ADD)

Dutch in Java Seize U.S. Cargo Worth Millions

MAR 1947

NIGHT

The Martin Behrman's Load From Indonesia Republic Placed at N.E.I. Disposal

BATAVIA, Java, March 4 (AP).—The Netherlands East Indies government confiscated today the multi-million-dollar cargo of the American Liberty ship Martin Behrman, which was loaded at the Indonesian Republic port of Cheribon.

The ship was brought into Batavia harbor on Sunday with ten Dutch marines aboard and the Dutch destroyer Kortenaer in escort. She had entered Cheribon without a Dutch permit, but with the sanction of the unrecognized republic. Rubber, sugar and cinchona (quinine-bearing bark) were in the cargo.

J. E. van Hoogstraten, N. E. I. director of Economic Affairs, said the operators of the ship, the Isbrandtsen Lines, of New York, had ordered the entire cargo placed at the disposal of the N. E. I. government. It comprised 5,182 tons of rubber in sheets, 313 tons of crepe rubber, 450 tons of sugar, 550 tons of cinchona bark and 220 tons of sisal fibre.

Ownership of the cargo has been claimed by the Indonesian Republic, since the ship was loaded at the republican harbor. The Dutch previously have seized ten small British vessels under similar circumstances.

South African Natives Hail British Monarch

Kingwilliamstown, South Africa, March 4 (AP)—Nearly 10,000 natives of the Ciskei reserve led by seven chiefs today acclaimed King George VI as "Sozizwe"—a tribal name meaning Father of the Nations.

TOJO JUDGE BARS LAWYER

American Defending Japanese Says Court Unduly Curbed Him

TOKYO, Wednesday, March 5 (AP)—An American defense attorney was excluded from the International War Crimes Tribunal today when he declined to apologize for having complained of "undue interference by the tribunal with the ordinary examination of a witness." The court is trying former Premier Hideki Tojo and others.

MAR 1947

NIGHT

The tribunal president, Sir William Webb of Australia, offered the attorney, David F. Smith of Washington, the alternative of apologizing or withdrawing his remarks. This offer came after a recess during which the judges deliberated Sir William's charge that Mr. Smith was "offensive."

"With the utmost respect to the court," the attorney replied, "I have no intention of changing my position and I see no reason for changing it. Therefore, I shall assume I have been permanently excluded from the defense of Mr. [Koki] Hirota."

The clash occurred after the tribunal president had interrupted the examination of a political commentator, who was giving reasons for the fall of various cabinets. (ADD)

Tokyo, March 4 (AP)—Nine former Japanese thought police have been sentenced to death and four others to life imprisonment by the Southeast Asia Command Tribunal for beheading, torturing and illegally imprisoning war captives, allied headquarters' legal section said today.

Four American airmen among the prisoners were beheaded without trial and six Frenchwomen died as the result of torture, the announcement said.

2 KILLED IN RUSH TO SEE TRUMAN

Tragedy Mars Day in Which President Is Feted at Mexican Fiesta.

E. Yeccaro

MEXICO CITY, March 4.—(AP) President Miguel Aleman of Mexico described President Truman today as "the new champion" of hemispheric solidarity as the United States chief executive celebrated the second day of his goodwill visit at a colorful fiesta.

The ceremonies witnessed by the two presidents at the sun-baked national stadium were marred when two persons were killed and four injured in the crush of the crowd.

Rush to Stadium

Fifty-six children were separated from their parents as thousands sought to force their way into the stadium which was jammed to its 15,000 capacity. These children were being cared for tonight at Red Cross hospitals.

Responding to Mr. Truman's toast at a luncheon at the U. S. embassy, the Mexican chief executive asserted:

"You are the new champion of the solidarity and understanding among the American republics.

"We are at the beginning of a new era of sincere and solid friendship."

Aleman spoke after Mr. Truman toasted him as the "perfect host and great man."

Honors Mexico's Hero Dead

Before going to the fiesta, the United States president performed two solemn functions while applauding crowds looked on with approval.

He laid a huge wreath at the base of the Independence Monument, erected as a memorial to Mexico's struggle to throw off the Spanish yoke in 1810.

From there he drove with Aleman to Chapultepec palace where he placed another wreath on the monument to Los Ninos heroes, the Mexican cadets who fell in defense of the citadel against U. S. forces in 1847. (ADD)

Truman Honors Mexico Heroes Of U.S. War

E. YACCARO

Mexico City, March 4 (AP)—President Harry S. Truman went out of his way today to honor the "Ninos Hegoes" (heroic children) who were killed in Chapultepec Castle, which they defended against the invading troops of United States General Winfield Scott.

Forces under General Pillow stormed the castle, high on a hill, September 13, 1847. The next day the United States flag was hoisted over the national palace, where last night President Miguel Aleman referred to the 1847 war to emphasize how enemies have become friends.

Added To Program

President Truman in his address last night, replying to Aleman, emphasized that the United States always will "be faithful to the letter and to the spirit" of the non-intervention doctrine.

This visit to the monument to the "children" was not on the program. It was a gesture by President Truman to accentuate his assurances that friendship has replaced old conflicts.

Placing a wreath before the small stone record of the last stand made in the castle by the cadets, many only 12 to 14 years old, followed the announced placing of a wreath at the Independence Monument in the Paseo de la Reforma.

Full Scheduled For The Day

The President had a full schedule for the day, ranging from the laying of the wreath through attendance at a festival of native dances, to a luncheon and reception at the United States Embassy in the afternoon and an evening reception at the Mexican Foreign Office.

Speaking in the National Palace last night, the President declared nonintervention meant "that a strong nation does not have the right to impose its will, by reason of its strength on a weaker nation."

Brazil Minister Comments

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 4 (AP).—Correa Castro, Finance Minister, commenting on London reports, said today that Brazil has a large surplus frozen in England and would have to issue new money to make new purchases, aggravating national inflation.

Search In Vain for Flyers.

Anchorage, Alaska, March 4 (A. P.).—An extensive search of the Alaska Peninsula yesterday by Army and private planes failed to reveal any trace of the 13-passenger B-29 missing for more than a week, or of a flyer lost last Friday in the crash of a searching plane.

9 ARCTIC WEATHER STATIONS PLANNED

OTTAWA, March 4. — (AP) Canada has agreed to the joint establishment and joint operation with the United States of nine new weather stations in the Arctic, two of which are to be in operation this summer, it was announced today.

The stations, all on Canadian territory, are to be under control of the Canadian government, but it is understood most of the actual construction will be by the United States.

The new stations will fit into joint American-Canadian plans for defense of the northern hemisphere, as well as add materially to the resources of the meteorological departments of both countries.

"It is hoped to be able to interchange Arctic weather information with the U.S.S.R. and other neighboring countries in the north when possible," Reconstruction Minister C. D. Howe told parliament in making the announcement. "The U. S.S.R. has already a very intensive change of weather information with Canada and will be greatly benefitted by the additional reports which will be made available to them."

The most northerly of the nine new stations—one of the two to be completed this summer—is to be built in the vicinity of Eureka Sound on the northwestern side of Ellsmere Island off the northeast coast only 600 miles from the North Pole.

This will be the farthest north of any weather station in the western hemisphere in an area where there are no human inhabitants. Like the others, it is to be maintained throughout the year.

The second station to be built this summer will be at Winter harbor on Melville Island, at approximateiy Lat. 75 N., Long. 110 W., far to the west of Ellsmere Island.

"It is considered essential that these stations be operated for a minimum period of five years to enable accurate assessment of their value with a view to determining the advisability of continuing or expanding weather reporting operations in these arctic regions," Howe said.

The announcement capped negotiations opened first at the request of the United States last summer.

PAID FOR CRIMSON ROUTE

Canada Discloses $20,838,983 Was Given U. S. for Airport Work

OTTAWA, March 4 (AP) — The Department of Transport has disclosed that Canada paid the United States $20,838,983 for airport installations along the so-called Crimson Route across the Arctic to Europe—a wartime top secret air lane for ferrying new fighter craft from American plants to the war fronts.

The route was laid out to provide an alternate skyway to the more-traveled Labrador-Greenland-Iceland route. Routes for fighter craft require airports for shorter hops than those made by larger planes.

The sum paid by Canada was disclosed by the Department of Transport in reply to a question tabled in the House of Commons today. The locations of the installations and the price paid for each was listed as follows:

Le Pas, Man., $460,650; Churchill, Man., $6,889,548; Baffin Island, $7,584,840, and Southampton Island $5,903,945.

It was understood that the cost of building the installations was largely for labor.

Canada Defense Outlay To Be Cut 52 Per Cent

Ottawa, March 4 (AP)—Canada plans to cut her defense expenditures by 52 per cent including a $3,000,000 cut in atomic-energy spending for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1948, Parliament was told tonight.

Expenditures will be reduced from $501,345,000 for the current fiscal year to $239,741,000, D. C. Abbott, Finance Minister, disclosed in giving estimates for the coming year.

Grand Total Cut One Third

Money spent on atomic energy is to be cut from $8,869,000 to $5,838,000, of which $115,000 is for administration, $150,000 for "researches and investigations with respect to atomic energy," and $5,573,000 for capital and operating expenses of the top secret plant at Chalk River, Ontario, built to produce plutonium. The Chalk River plant represents Canada's main contribution to atomic-energy work.

The grand total of the estimates for normal purposes and for demobilization and reconversion is cut approximately one third to $1,995,878,634, a reduction of $906,000,000.

SPY CASE TERM INCREASED

Canadian Is Held in Contempt—Professor Is Acquitted

OTTAWA, March 4 (AP)—Judge A. G. McDougall today sentenced David Gordon Lunan, already serving a five-year term for espionage activity, to one year additional for his refusal to testify in the case of Israel Halperin, former Queens University professor charged with conspiracy to communicate confidential information to Soviet Russia. He held Lunan in contempt of court.

Professor Halperin, the seventeenth Canadian to be tried on espionage charges in this case, was speedily acquitted.

QUICK APPROVAL OF PACTS URGED

Action Would Speed Removal of Occupation Troops, Say Marshall, Byrnes.

WASHINGTON, March 4—(AP) Secretary of State George C. Marshall and James F. Byrnes testified today that quick approval of peace treaties with Italy, Hungary, Bulgaria and Roumania would speed removal of hundreds of thousands of occupational troops that the United States, England and Russia still maintain in Europe.

After former Secretary of State Byrnes had answered questions of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for nearly two hours, Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) told reporters:

"I see no substantial congressional opposition (to ratification of the treaties) but I do not like to return a jury verdict until the jury has has a chance to hear all the evidence."

Urges Prompt Ratification

Secretary Marshall stressed the "importance of prompt ratification" of these first postwar treaties as a "start on the road back to peace."

"The treaties were not dictated by the United States," Marshall said. "They were not dictated by any other power; they represent the composite judgment of the nations whose fighting made victory possible."

When ratified, Marshall said, the treaties "will result in the withdrawal of occupation forces from Italy and the ex-satellite states except for a limited number of troops necessary to guard the Soviet communication lines in Hungary and Romania to Austria."

Vandenberg, noting Marshall's heavy duties, warded off questions by his committeemen and wished the secretary success at Moscow, where he goes tomorrow to help work out the German peace treaty.

Byrnes, who took Vandenberg and Senator Connally (D-Texas) along as advisers at the conferences that produced the four treaties, then summarized these efforts in his quick, confident manner.

Byrnes said there would "be no return to normal conditions in Europe until armies of occupation were withdrawn." He termed the treaties an "important, although limited step in the direction of the restoration of peace."

The former Secretary estimated that Russia still had 500,000 occupational troops outside Germany, the United States some 200,000 in all of Europe, including Germany, and Great Britain another 250,000, also including Germany.

Once the treaties are ratified, Byrnes said, the former enemy nations may apply for a place in the United Nations. And when that happens, Byrnes noted, "revisions of some of the more onerous clauses might be achieved."

He told of the stubborn struggle between Italians and Yugoslavs over the important seaport of Trieste, with Russia backing the Yugoslavs and this country, England and France opposing.

The international status for Trieste has worked out better than expected, Byrnes said, but conceded it might prove a trouble spot, as might Balkan states beyond it.

"Element Of Stability"

"I believe that the agreements reached are as good as we can hope to obtain at this time or for some time to come," Byrnes summarized. "I believe that it is much better for us and the countries concerned, if we ratify these agreements, than if we have no agreements.

"The fact that agreements were possible even in this limited field will create an element of stability. It disposes of one source of international argument and discussion.

"It demonstrates that the nations that won the war can agree as to the peace, and should make it easier for us to agree on the other treaties."

Senator Wiley (R., Wis.) wanted to know if the American delegates had made every effort to whittle down Italy's reparations.

"I think we did some pretty good whittling," Byrnes replied, saying original claims against Italy were about $15,000,000,000 and that these had been shaved to under $400,000,000.

MARSHALL ASKS SENATE RATIFY 4 PEACE PACTS

Says 'We Make Beginning of Peace' With Italy and the Balkans.

'COMPOSITE' VIEW OF ALLIES

Byrnes Also Requests Speedy Action for Withdrawal of Army Forces.

Washington, March 4 (A. P.).—Secretary of State Marshall and former Secretary James F. Byrnes urged today speedy Senate ratification of peace treaties which would take occupation armies out of Italy, Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary.

Marshall told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the "important fact" about the pacts is that in them "we make a beginning of peace."

He did not belabor the point, but implicit in his statement was a plea for the Senate not to quibble over details of the treaties, but accept them as a start toward the final wind-up of world war II.

The treaties provide that occupation forces are to be withdrawn within ninety days after they become final. American and British troops occupy Italy. Russian troops occupy Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary.

'Composite Judgment.'

Marshall said that the treaties represent the "composite judgment" of the nations which fought on the Allied side during the war.

The terms, he said, were not dictated by the United States nor any other single country.

"It is never easy for allies to avoid serious disagreement among themselves when peace comes," Marshall added. "They find it difficult to realize that common sacrifice is as necessary to achieve peace as it was to achieve military victory."

The committee took up the treaties at a time when the Big Four Powers are turning to the matter of treaties for Germany and Austria. This comes up at the Moscow conference next week, which Marshall will attend.

Bidding Marshall godspeed, Chairman Vandenberg (R.-Mich.) told the Cabinet member that he felt he spoke for the nation and for Congress "when I tell you, Sir, that our hearts, our hopes, our prayers are your 'fellow travelers' when you depart tomorrow upon your vital mission, so fraught with destiny."

Byrnes Follows Marshall.

Taking the witness chair after Marshall had finished, Byrnes affirmed to the committee that a desire to get out the occupation armies weighed heavily in framing peace treaties with Italy, Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary.

He estimated that Russia has 500,000 troops on occupation duty in Europe, not counting those in Germany. The Soviets occupy Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary, while American and British troops occupy Italy.

Byrnes, who was Secretary of State when the treaties were drawn, was asked by Senator Connally (D.-Tex.) if it was not true that a "compelling notive" on the treaties was anxiety to "get rid" of occupation armies which the nations could not support.

That was true, Byrnes replied, adding:

"I guess the Soviet Government has outside of Germany some 500,000 troops. We have some 200,000 in Europe and the British some 250,000. The people of these countries can't sustain them."

Approves Trieste Plan.

In response to questions from Senator Smith (R.-N. J.), Byrnes expressed belief that any "future trouble" that sweeps Europe is likely to arise in the Balkans, but added that establishment of Trieste as free territory is working better than expected.

Certainly, he said, the Trieste plan seems a better solution than leaving it in Italy, as that country had sought.

To help Trieste get on its financial feet Byrnes suggested the United States sell shipping companies there some of the 2,000 Liberty ships, which he said must still be lying on this country's coasts.

Senator Wiley (R.-Wis.) asked whether the American delegation had made "every effort to whittle down the reparations" against the ex-enemy nations.

"I think we did some pretty good whittlin'," Byrnes replied. He recalled that total reparations claims against Italy had amounted to about $15,000,000,000, but had been scaled down to less than $400,000,000.

Byrnes said the Soviet and other nations will supply the raw materials for Italy to produce goods. He added:

"Since Italy got out of the war, the United States has contributed directly or indirectly, including UNRRA, some $900,000,000 to Italy."

DAY

Reverting to the tug-of-war between Russia and the other three major Powers over disposition of Trieste, Byrnes said that the final decision to make the contested area a free territory will "present many serious problems."

But it was a choice of that or having no agreement at all, he told the committee. Russia refused to leave Trieste as a part of Italy, and the United States, Great Britain and France were equally determined that this large Italian population should not go to Yugoslavia, he explained.

"I am reconciled to the compromise for another reason—my fears as to what would have happened had our proposal been agreed to and Trieste given to Italy," Byrnes said.

He speculated that rioting would have broken out after withdrawal of American and British forces, "Yugoslavia would declare it necessary to quell the rioting on its border and troops could be sent into Trieste."

"A disarmed Italy could not stop them," he added. "There probably would be an appeal to the Security Council. We can only speculate as to the result."

Jews Want Germany To Acknowledge Guilt

Washington, March 4 (AP)—The American Jewish Conference declared today that the German peace treaty should make Germany "acknowledge her guilt for her crime against the Jews" and require the payment of reparations to the Jewish people.

"Germany must punish those who were responsible and those who benefited," said Louis Lipsky, conference executive committee chairman, in a statement prepared for submission to Gen. George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, and the British, French and Soviet ambassadors.

Looking ahead to the Big Four meeting of Foreign Ministers, which will discuss peace treaties for Germany and Austria starting next Monday in Moscow, Lipsky said:

"Germany must indemnify Jews who were victims of Nazi persecution, and restore property taken from Jews."

Jewish Unit Asks Reparations

Washington, March 4 (AP)—The American Jewish Conference proposed today that the peace treaty with Germany require payment of reparations to the Jewish people.

"The Jews were the first victims of Nazi Germany's war of aggression," Chairman Louis Lipsky of the conference executive committee, declared in a statement prepared for submission to Secretary of State Marshall and the British, French and Soviet ambassadors.

"It would be a strange distortion of history if the German peace treaty were silent on this most barbarous crime and if it did not make provision, in so far as possible, to right past wrongs committed against the Jews and to insure their future security."

The Big Four Foreign Ministers will begin discussion of peace treaties for Germany and Austria on Monday in Moscow.

Backing up its request with an 850-page document reviewing German treatment of the Jews as disclosed at the Nuernberg trials, the conference asked that the German treaty include these major points:

1. Germany must acknowledge her guilt for her crime against the Jews and punish those who were responsible and those who benefited.

2. Human rights and fundamental freedoms must be secured for all, discriminatory legislation abolished and anti-Semitism outlawed.

3. Germany must pay reparations to the Jewish people, indemnify Jews who were victims of Nazi persecution, and restore property taken from the Jews.

4. Property of Jews who were murdered and who left no heirs must be turned over to an international Jewish body for the purpose of relief and resettlement of Jewish victims of Nazi persecution.

5. Jews must have the right to emigrate from Germany and to take their belongings with them, and Jewish persons now in Germany must have continued protection of allied or international authorities, but Germany must contribute to their maintenance.

BILL WOULD HALT EXPORTS TO RUSSIA

House Marine Committee Head Asks Cessation Till Russia Settles for 95 U. S. Ships

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Representative Fred Bradley, Republican, of Michigan, urged Congress today to cut off all United States exports to Russia until the Soviet Government makes "a satisfactory settlement" for ninety-five American merchant ships received during the war.

Mr. Bradley, chairman of the House Merchant Marine Committee, introduced a measure to prohibit the shipment of anything from this country to Russia until the ships are returned or purchased.

Last week Mr. Bradley's committee received from the State Department the contents of correspondence concerning the ships and several Coast Guard ice-breakers.

"No reply whatsoever has been received from Russia and the Russians have taken no steps to return the ships," Mr. Bradley said.

While the Bradley bill, which was referred to the Foreign Affairs Committee, ostensibly would embargo only Government shipments to Russia, Mr. Bradley told reporters he would change it to apply to all shipments, whether by Government or private agencies.

"Russia has not even deigned to give us the courtesy of a reply as to her intentions concerning the ninety-five American vessels which they are now using," Mr. Bradley said. "Certainly we do not intend to go to war to get them back. In view of the Russian Government's tacit refusal even to discuss the return of these ships, which probably approach $100,000,000 in value, our only alternative is to invoke economic sanctions to force their hand and require them to return this valuable property belonging to our taxpayers."

Mr. Bradley said that because the merchant ships were used by Russia to carry goods through Japanese waters to Siberia, it was necessary for the United States to transfer full paper title to the Soviet.

However, he claimed, it was understood "between the State Department and the Russian Government that this title was fictitious and that the vessels would be returned or otherwise accounted for as lend-lease material."

Patent 'Spying' Laid To Russ

Washington, March 4 (AP)—Chairman Thomas (R., N.J.) said today the House Committee on Un-American Activities has discovered that "an elaborate scheme of legal espionage operations is being carried on" in the United States by Russia.

In a speech prepared for delivery in the House, Thomas said:

"One phase of this legal espionage has been the tapping of the inventive genius of America's industrial and military development for the benefit of the Soviet Government."

Since 1943, he said, the Soviet Union, through its agencies in the United States, "has succeeded in obtaining practically every industrial, chemical and military patent from our patent office—hundreds of them—dealing with every phase of our technological development."

The Russians, Thomas said, have ordered as many as 60,000 patents from our Patent Office at one request.

Wallace Named

Thomas suggested that Henry Wallace, former Secretary of Commerce, under which department the Patent Office operates, "shoudl answer ot the proper committee of this House as to why such a policy was permitted."

"Through our coddling policy of giving Russia our patented knowledge," Thomas said, "she may well be on her way to the discovery of many, if not all, of the thousands of industrial processes and secrets which constitute the great secret of the atomic bomb.

"To my mind, it is no coincidence that Russia's sudden interests in all of our patents on industrial developments was simultaneous with our atomic research and development.

"If our Government is to survive," Thomas asserted, "such folly and legal espionage must cease."

Thomas said Russia has 3,696 official agents in this country now, "while in Russia we have approximately 210 people, including embassy employés, UNRRA, Red Cross, the Army and Navy, and their wives and dependents."

He suggested that Secretary of State Marshall "take a copy of my remarks with him to Moscow and cite it as an example of the type of co-operation we are receiving from Moscow."

"Dummy Agency"

Thomas said Russia has, since 1927, "refused to give us a single patent," but the Soviets obtained United States patents by having "one of their front agencies in the United States" flood the Patent Office with orders.

Thomas referred to it as "this dummy agency" and said it is "known as the 'Four Continent Book Corporation,' of 253 Fifth avenue, New York city, described on its letterheads as being "importers from the USSR of new, old and rare books.'

An order of April 20, 1944, Thomas said, called for patents on airplanes, parachutes, synthetic rubber processes, de-icing devices for airplane propellers, portable machine-gun emplacements, tanks, a bullet-resisting glazing unit, helicopters, a gyroscope system, repeating firearms, a ship torpedo protector and projectiles.

"Other orders requested such patents as bombsights, pilot directors, range-finding and flight-director apparatus," Thomas said.

Korea-Puppet Aims Laid To Russ

Washington, March 4 (AP)—Representative Shafer (R., Mich.) declared today the Russians plan to make Korea "another Communist puppet state."

"We all know how Poland was sold down the river in a power-politics deal that benefited no country except Soviet Russia," Shafer asserted in a speech in the House. "Exactly the same thing is now happening on the other side of the world—in Korea."

In their occupation zone, Shafer said, the Russian have "clamped on a totalitarian dictatorship."

"They have set up a puppet Communist administration which they claim allows self-government to the Koreans in their zone," he continued, "and they are using three methods to make Communists of as many as they can of the 10,000,000 Koreans who are captive north of the thirty-eighth parallel.

"These three methods are force, bribery and exile."

Shafer added:

"We agreed with them at Moscow in December, 1945, that Korea should be reunited and a Korean provisional government set up over the whole country. But this decision has never been put into effect.

Action Blocked

"When the Russian-American Joint Commission met last spring to try to put it into effect, the Russians blocked any action by insisting that only Communists should be consulted or permitted to have any part in the provisional government.

"Unless we are willing to sell Korea down the river just as Poland was sold, we had better take some positive action now. The time has come for us to tell Russia that the promises she has made must be kept."

SENATORS MAY BALLOT TODAY ON LILIENTHAL

Atomic Committee Ends 5 Weeks Of Hearings On Confirmation

Washington, March 4 (AP)—The Senate Atomic Energy Committee today wound up more than five weeks of open hearings on the nomination of David E. Lilienthal and got ready to vote on his confirmation, possibly tomorrow.

In addition to Lilienthal, President Truman's choice for chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, the nine senators will pass on W. W. Waymack, L. L. Strauss, Sumner T. Pike and Dr. Robert Bacher as members of the commission, and Carroll Wilson as general manager.

Virtually all the opposition, led by Senator McKellar (D., Tenn.), has centered on Lilienthal, former TVA chief.

McKellar Won't Predict

McKellar was granted an hour and a half to complete his questioning of Lilienthal but gave the committee back 65 minutes change. At 10.55 A.M. McKellar ended his examination, acting chairman Knowland (R., Cal.) declared the hearings closed.

McKellar said later he certainly hoped Lilienthal would be rejected, but he declined to make a prediction.

Earlier, a member of the committee said he would be surprised if more than one vote is cast against Lilienthal in the committee. A check of members indicates the contest will be much closer on the Senate floor, where a week or more of debate is in prospect.

Lilienthal, who has attended the hearings for five weeks and a day said:

"The committee showed great patience and fairness in the conduct of these hearings.

"The Important Thing"

"I'm sure the important thing, after the hearings are fully concluded and the Senate has discharged its constitutional function in confirming or rejecting the nominees, is that this commission or another commission, as promptly as possible, go on with the work of keeping this country in the forefront of atomic development."

For the second time in two days, the committee squelched a line of questioning by McKellar on the ground it might endanger national security.

Knowland told Lilienthal he did not have to answer a question about the kind or size of contract the Monsanto Chemical Company holds with the Atomic Energy Commission.

"International Bankers" Cited

Recalling the appearance of Charles Thomas, a Monsanto vice president, before the committee to recommend confirmation, Lilienthal told McKellar that if his question about the chemical firm was "directed at assailing the motives" of that witness, McKellar "gravely misjudges" Thomas's qualities.

At one point in the brief proceedings, the 78-year-old Tennessee Senator asked Lilienthal, "Why are all the international bankers so anxious to have you confirmed?"

The nominee said he wasn't aware that they are, after reminding McKellar he had asked the same question yesterday and got the same reply.

U.S. ATTORNEY WILL GET DATA ON J. E. DURANT

Brother Of Defendant In Gem Case Maintains His Silence

Washington, March 4 (AP)—Major Joseph Robinson, chief prosecutor in the $1,500,000 Hesse gem theft trial, said today "the facts relating to James E. Durant" will be turned over to the United States Attorney for prosecution.

Durant, a Falls Church (Va.) town councilman and suspended Government accountant, has repeatedly refused to answer questions in the court-martial of his brother, Col. Jack W. Durant, who is accused of complicity in the rich overseas jewel haul.

Immunity Claimed

Both James Durant and his wife have claimed constitutional immunity, saying that to reply to the questions might tend to incriminate them.

Today Major Robinson insisted that Durant explain his reasons for refusing to answer each question, so that "when this case goes to the United States Attorney the record will be clear."

Neither James Durant nor his wife are now under charge.

Major Robinson told the eight-man court that Durant had acknowledged in signed statements to army investigators having aided Colonel Durant sell some gems, bury others in near-by Virginia woods along with $28,000 in $50 and $20 bills, and squeeze uncut diamonds from tubes of shaving cream.

Excused From Stand

The brother was finally excused from the witness stand after Major Robinson, making no headway against noncommittal replies, protested that Durant was "hiding behind a stock answer."

Robinson indicated that the prosecution was near the end of its case.

Colonel Durant is charged with looting the Hesse royal jewels from Kronberg castle, in Germany, where he was stationed with United States occupation troops.

Hoover's Views Reported On Army in Germany

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP).—Former President Herbert Hoover, it was reported today, told a group of Senators at a private meeting that the United States has too many troops in Germany for police purposes and too few to offset any possible Russian military move.

A Senator who attended one of several conferences that the former President had with legislators told a reporter that Mr. Hoover reported that that was the view of military leaders with whom he had talked while on a European food inspection trip.

These military men told him, Mr. Hoover was represented as saying, that if Russia had any inclination to do so her forces could sweep all others off the European continent within twenty to thirty days and that on the other hand, if the United States is concerned militarily only with the policing of Germany, it could withdraw about 50,000 of its troops.

KIN OF GI DEAD TO BE QUERIED

Army Will Ask If Return Of Bodies Is Wish

Washington, March 4 (AP)—The Army this week will begin sending out more than 20,000 letters to relatives of American dead buried in military cemeteries overseas, asking if they want their boys brought home.

The questionnaires will be the first of a total of about 200,000 such letters to go out during the next eighteen months to the next of kin of each member of the armed forces who fell and was buried abroad in the war.

Pamphlets To Be Sent

The letters will be signed by Maj. Gen. D. B. Larkin, chief of the American Graves Registration Service. Each will contain pamphlets giving information on permanent military cemeteries in the United States and overseas and explaining that the dead may be:

1. Returned to the United States for burial in a private cemetery.
2. Returned for burial in a national cemetery.
3. Buried in a permanent American military cemetery overseas.
4. Buried in a private cemetery in a foreign country which is the homeland of the dead or of his next of kin.

Rosendahl to Get D. F. C.

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP).—The House passed today a bill to give the Distinguished Flying Cross to Rear Admiral Charles E. Rosendahl for his "heroic and distinguished service" as commanding officer of the Navy dirigible U. S. S. Shenandoah when it was destroyed in September, 1925.

900,000 Veterans Drop Schooling, Job Training

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP).—More than 900,000 veterans have dropped out of the G. I. job-training and educational program, the Veterans Administration disclosed today. School overcrowding and newly imposed college enrollment ceilings are among the reasons.

"Over one-fourth of all the veterans who have entered education or training since the inception of the programs had temporarily or permanently withdrawn by the end of January," a V. A. official told a reporter.

"Two-thirds of the withdrawals were from school courses. Job-training withdrawals were on a smaller scale."

Of 2,433,433 veterans still in the program at the end of January, 1,712,933 were in educational institutions and 720,510 on job-training projects.

"There are indications that some institutions are raising their academic standards in order to relieve the pressure created by the large veteran enrollment," the V. A. official said.

House Rejects Senate Slash In Budget

Washington, March 4 (AP)—The House refused today to accept the Senate's $4,500,000,000 budget slash limit.

On motion of Chairman Taber (R., N.Y.) of the Appropriations Committee, the House, insisting on a joint conference committee.

Speaker Martin (R., Mass.) reaffirmed the House Republican leaders' determination to reduce income taxes by twenty per cent.

No Debate On Transfer

Taber's motion to transfer the budget fight to a twenty-man conference committee—ten senators and ten House members—carried without objection and there was no debate.

Backed by his GOP Steering Committee, Martin declared that President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget could be trimmed to $31,500,000,000 "without endangering national defense or security or sacrificing other essential services of government."

Moreover, Martin asserted, "we House Republicans are determined to give the people a 20 per cent reduction in taxes." This would slice about $3,500,000,000 off Federal revenues.

U. S. Appeals Decision On Rationing of Sugar

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP).—The United States government appealed today to the United States Supreme Court a decision which Office of Price Administration officials fear may wreck the entire sugar-rationing program.

The high court was asked to pass on a United States Court of Appeals decision of Feb. 14 holding illegal the price agency's "historical use" formula for rationing sugar to producers of bulk sweetened condensed milk.

O. P. A. attorneys said filing of the review request automatically prevents the lower court ruling from becoming operative. The decision directs O. P. A. to discontinue the "historical use" method of granting sugar to condensed milk producers and to set up a new rationing system for the industry.

The case involves a suit brought by Moberly Milk Co., of Moberly, Mo. The firm was upheld in the United States District Court and again in the United States Court of Appeals.

Crop Held Overestimated

Estimates of a 5,500,000 short tons Cubar sugar crop this year, which apparently were the basis for second quarter allotments by the Office of Price Administration, are too optimistic, in the opinion of B. W. Dyer & Co., sugar brokers and economists.

Clark Takes Plane for Texas

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Attorney General Tom C. Clark left by plane for Texas today to make a series of addresses and to see President Truman when the President stops in Waco on Thursday. Mr. Clark a Texan, will address a joint session of the Texas Legislature at Austin tomorrow and speak before the Temple Chamber of Commerce and the Dallas Traffic Commission later in the week.

'Leaders' Indicted In Black Market

Chicago, March 4 (AP)—Eleven Chicago men, four of them described by a Government prosecutor as "ringleaders" in an alleged sugar black market, were indicted today by a Federal grand jury, bringing to 52 the grand total of indictments returned thus far in a Government sugar investigation.

Assistant United States Attorney Raymond McClory said the eleven named in today's eight new indictments "illegally possessed and transferred more than 1,000,000 counterfeit sugar stamps."

He named the following as "ringleaders in a gignatic black market in sugar": James (Big Jim) Winters, 35; Robert (The Mole) Bailey, 30; Auda (Abe) Miller, 48, and Yangey Bridgeforth, 46, a Negro.

Ten Millions Pounds

McClory said that the investigation into alleged black market sugar operations "is continuing and more indictments are coming."

He said estimates of the amount of sugar diverted into illegal channels was "upwards of 10,000,000 pounds and that figure is conservative."

He said fake sugar stamps had been peddled mostly by truck drivers, but said a wied variety of occupations was involved including butchers and bartenders.

15 P.C. Rent Hike Okay Is Seen By Buck

Washington, March 4 (AP)—Senator Buck (R., Del.) today predicted that Congress would write a fifteen per cent "across the board" increase into a bill extending rent control for six months.

"Personally, I would like to see it held at ten per cent," said Buck, chairman of a Senate Banking subcommittee which approved a measure specifying that figure. He added, however, that what he regards as the Senate's attitude in favor of the larger increase would prevail.

The subcommittee's bill will go before the full Banking Committee Thursday. Buck declined to forecast that body's action, but one member declared that the committee would be "freely divided."

The legislation calls for maintaining controls, with enforcement in the courts, until the end of this year. It would divorce administration from the OPA at once. The present rent-control authority will expire June 30.

U.S. Urged To Keep Draft Files Intact

Washington, March 4 (AP)—While President Truman has agreed to let the draft act die at this month's end, Congress may be asked to provide funds—possibly between $6,000,000 and $19,000,000 a year—for keeping selective service records intact.

Some administration leaders also are urging that a "standby" crew of manpower mobilization experts be set up for quick action in any possible emergency.

Government officials who reported this today said plans have been discussed to retain all of the 44,000,000 personal files of draft registrants under Federal supervision, preferably in their present cities or in state capitals.

One high Presidential adviser said: "There should be some kind of permanent file department—a small one, perhaps attached to the White House staff."

"In the atomic age," he declared, "we may have to mobilize a lot faster than we did in World War II. We should be training experts in the procurement of manpower and keeping our records up to date."

Selective service headquarters said only that the 6,442 local draft boards should await further notice.

The Army shortly will discharge the 100,000 draftees still in service. Young men reaching their eighteenth birthday will not have to register after this month.

Compulsory Military Training A 'Must' For U.S., Gurney Says

New York, March 4 (AP)—Senator Gurney (R., S.D.) chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, tonight declared "universal military training is a stark military necessity" for American security.

"It would be suicidal to assume that in future wars as in past there will be a time to train our men after the conflict starts," Gurney said in a speech for the Overseas Press Club.

"The Pearl Harbor of the future will be a fusillade of atomic bombs screeching earthward from planes traveling at supersonic speeds."

"But A Fragile Shell"

Consider, he said, "these stubborn facts:

"The United Nations cannot now guarantee our security. If there is to be another war it will begin by a surprise attack on the resources of the United States. Atomic warfare would demand large numbers of highly trained men; therefore they must be trained in peacetime, starting now. We will not maintain a standing army of sufficient size. Therefore, we must have compulsory peacetime training."

Today, Gurney declared, "our actual defense establishment is but a fragile shell" and as the veterans grow older the potential fighting strength dwindles.

"We simply must reinforce that fragile shell with an underpinning of young, vigorous, trained personnel who will be ready on a moment's notice," he counseled.

The first necessity of a security program is "a permanent agency of government — a national security agency—above the level of our War and Navy departments — to integrate the military and foreign policies of the United States with plans for complete mobilization of our scientific, industrial and manpower resources," the Senator declared.

Included in such a program would be "a world-wide intelligence system, a comprehensive plan for economic preparedness, supremacy in scientific research and development, and a properly unified army and navy."

With that would go a national guard, tripled over its old strength, for quick mobilization along with the reserves.

Opposition To 'Aerial Ostrich'

"Now comes the test," Gurney said. "Will our people support the organization necessary to maintain these forces and back them up? If they will, then they must accept universal military training.

"Without it, our citizens army will not be in a state of preparedness."

The United States has the responsibility of backing up the United Nations—"the only light in these fear clouds which engulf us," the Senator said. "Our nation alone can keep that light burning."

But, he added, "we cannot ask the nations of the world to follow the leadership of a military midget, an aerial ostrich, and a naval minnow."

Gurney noted that no major peace treaties have been signed.

"We know the embers of war smoulder in China. We know that Russia maintains a juggernaut of at least 4,000,000 soldiers which could overrun all of Europe. We know that mass starvation . . . is prevalent," Gurney said.

In the face of world conditions, he continued, our military forces "are pulled tight—like a thin coverlet of asbestos—over the inflammable areas of the world."

Sacrifice Held Necessary

Gurney expressed fear "that in our precipitous dash to a nebulous normalcy we are fleeing from a challenge as great, or greater, than we faced in December, 1941."

He said he is aware of the danger "of a military stranglehold on Government," but he expressed certainty "that we can be potent without becoming slaves to our military."

Gurney contended that Congress "tends to lag behind the people" on the issue of compulsory peacetime training. But, he said, "we simply cannot depend on covered-wagon methods in a jet-propelled world."

"We must be willing to sacrifice a part of our standard of living to guarantee liberty—we simply cannot remain an island of well-being in an ocean of misery, and expect to be both weak and unmolested," the Senator declared.

U.N. Charter Changes Urged

Robert R. Young, chairman of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, tonight urged that specific changes be made in the United Nations Charter to "halt the drift to a new earth-shattering war."

"All signs indicate that America and Russia are each resigned to this eventuality, although not one single convincing reason has been advanced why this should be so," he said.

Andrei I. Gromyko, permanent Russian delegate to the United Nations, was invited to speak but declined.

Austin Makes Forecast

Warren R. Austin, United States representative on the United Nations Security Council, predicted that the United States and Russia "sooner or later will reach agreement" on international control of atomic energy in their discussions within the United Nations.

But he said that the United States must use all processes of conciliation and organized co-operation within the world peace organization and must seek by our policies to remove fear in others and replace it by confidence."

Hector McNeil, British Minister of State and delegate to the United Nations, asserted that Great Britain is determined to use the machinery of the United Nations as the basis of her foreign policy.

He said that Europe, troubled and perplexed after the war, "looks westward toward Great Britain for guidance—for toleration in government, for a middle way in living, for a pattern of society in which consent is the basic sanction."

Admiral Tells How Sub Sank Self

New York, March 4 (AP)—The submarine Tang, holder of a navy record for destruction of Japanese shipping, was lost in battle in 1944 when the twenty-fourth—and last—torpedo in her arsenal reversed its course en route to a target and blew her up, a navy official said today.

Seventy-eight crew members lost their lives and only nine others survived the freak accident, which was described by Vice Admiral Charles A. Lockwood, Navy inspector general, at the annual convention of the Institute of Radio Engineers.

Survivors Captured

Survivors were captured by the Japanese and later released.

The Tang's self-destruction climaxed a 1944 raid off the China coast in which she sank 110,000 tons of Japanese shipping, "the highest sinking score on a single patrol of any submarine in the war."

Describing the accident, which happened at night, the Admiral quoted from the patrol-record account of the Tang, which was commanded by Commander Dick O'Kane.

O'Kane's account said:

"Fired our twenty-third torpedo from 900 yards, aimed just forward of the (transport's) mainmast. Observed the phosphorescent wake heading, as aimed, at our crippled target; fired our twenty-fourth and last torpedo at her foremast."

Tried To Elude

Then, the commander's account continued, the final torpedo was seen to be circling back toward the Tang itself. It could be followed easily through half of its circle because of its phosphorescent wake.

"Almost instantly I rang up emergency full speed," the commander said, continuing:

"It struck the Tang abreast the after torpedo room with a violent explosion about twenty seconds after it had been fired.

"The tops were blown off the after ballast tanks and the three after compartments flooded instantly. The Tang sank so rapidly that there was insufficient time even to carry out the last order to close the hatch.

Consolation: Saw Foe Sink

"One consolation for those of us who were washed off the bridge into the water was the explosion of our twenty-third torpedo against the last target, which immediately settled by the stern.

"Those who escaped from the forward torpedo room were greeted by the transport's bow sticking straight out of the water a thousand yards or so away." (AP)

COTTON MART STRIKE ENDED

Head Of N.Y. Mediation Board Announces Agreement

New York, March 4 (AP)—Arthur S. Meyer, chairman of the State Board of Mediation, announced late tonight that an agreement had been reached between union and management officials to end the strike of Cotton Exchange workers and that the exchange would open tomorrow morning.

Meyer made his announcement after a mediation session of nearly six hours.

The closing marked the first time any major exchange here had shut down because of a labor dispute. The New York Stock and Curb exchanges were not affected; both have contracts with the union involved—the AFL United Financial Employés.

Trading on the exchange averages about 300,000 bales of cotton daily—largest volume of business of any cotton exchange in the world.

Complete Surprise

Frank J. Knell, the exchange president, declared the strike came as "a complete surprise" and accused the union of not bargaining "in good faith."

He asserted the exchange was not able to meet demands for a closed shop or five-day week throughout the year, and added:

"Certain of the demands of the union would require the exchange to embark on a program that it would not have legal authority to engage in.

"For instance, one of the demands of the union was that, if the union had called a strike on a member firm of . . . the exchange or was picketing the same, the employés of the exchange would not be permitted to handle the business of such firm on the exchange."

Union's Statement

Spokesmen for the United Financial Employe's Local 205, which includes the exchange's 100 employés, said that wages were not the principal point at issue but that "the reason for the strike action is to force the Cotton Exchange management to end unfair practices."

A union representative said both sides had agreed to wage increases of about 15 per cent as a compromise on the union's demand for a 30 per cent boost, but added that the local also was seeking an "adequate" pension plan, job classification, union security, dues checkoff, profit-sharing compensation and the five-day week.

Clerks on the exchange floor would be raised from $48 to $58.50 a week and employés of the Exchange Building Company from $40 to $46.50 under the compromise wage agreement, the union said.

Cites Pay

As an example of an "unfair practice," the local said charwomen were paid $25 a week, although they did the same work as porters who received $40.

About 800 members of the Seafarers International Union (AFL) joined Local 205 members in maintaining a picket line about the 23-story financial-district building which houses the exchange on its nineteenth floor.

The picket line was respected by elevator operators, maintenance employés, barbers and telegraph operators in the building.

There was no trading in wool futures and wool tops here as a result of the Cotton Exchange shutdown. The cotton section of the Chicago Board of Trade and the New Orleans Cotton Exchange remained open for business.

Business Editors Back Trade Pacts

New York, March 4 (AP)—A majority of business paper editors indorse the reciprocal trade agreements program sponsored by the State Department, the National Conference of Business Paper Editors said today.

A majority of editors who expressed an opinion, the conference said, also urged a reduction of trade barriers on an international scale as a means of combating nationalism, promoting international prosperity and fostering world economic peace.

A minority, especially those editors representing the textile, chemical and paper industries, expressed strong opposition both to the trade agreements program and tariff reduction.

Opposition was based on the fear that volume imports from foreign countries where low wages prevail ultimately would destroy many established American industries, would lower production in several fields, create unemployment, and tend to lower American living standards.

Navy Interrupts Bay Search

Norfolk, Va., March 4 (AP)—The Navy tonight interrupted its search for an unidentified Navy flyer who is believed to have crashed into Chesapeake Bay today. The search, carried on by two planes and a Coast Guard crash boat, was called off as darkness fell.

Czechoslovak Day Proclaimed

ALBANY, March 4 (AP)—Governor Dewey today proclaimed Friday, March 7, as Czechoslovak Day and he urged residents of New York State to participate in ceremonies honoring the Republic of Czechoslovakia.

LONDON, MARCH 4—(AP)—BRITISH GOVERNMENT SOURCES SAID TODAY BRITAIN HAD NOTIFIED THE UNITED STATES SHE WOULD CARRY OUT PLANS FOR AN EARLY REDUCTION OF HER MILITARY FORCES IN GREECE.

THESE INFORMANTS SAID THE BRITISH DECISION NOT TO DELAY WITHDRAWAL OF MOST OF THE 10,000 TO 15,000 BRITISH TROOPS STILL IN GREECE MIGHT AFFECT THE UNITED STATES ATTITUDE TOWARD A UNITED KINGDOM REQUEST THAT AMERICA TAKE OVER BRITISH ECONOMIC COMMITMENTS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN.

ONE SOURCE SAID THE STATE DEPARTMENT TOLD BRITAIN LAST WEEK THE UNITED STATES WAS WILLING IN PRINCIPLE TO LEND ECONOMIC AID TO THE GREEK GOVERNMENT, PROVIDED THAT BRITISH TROOPS REMAINED IN GREECE TO ENSURE LAW AND ORDER.

A FOREIGN OFFICE SPOKESMAN CONFIRMED THAT A BRITISH REPLY WAS ON ITS WAY TO WASHINGTON.

IN REPLY TO A QUESTION, THE SPOKESMAN SAID FINAL WITHDRAWAL OF BRITISH FORCES FROM GREECE WOULD TAKE PLACE "AS SOON AS IS PRACTICABLE."

FOREIGN OFFICE SPOKESMAN CONFIRMED YESTERDAY THAT PREMIER GREEK GOVERNMENT SOURCES HERE DISCLOSED SOME TIME AGO THAT A BRITISH CONSIDERATIONS HAD BEEN AWARE FOR SOME WITHDRAWAL OF BRITISH FORCES TO APPROXINTENTION TO REDUCE THE STRENGTH OF THE BRITATELY ONE BRIGADE, OR ABOUT 3,000 MEN, BY MAY 1.

THE GOVERNMENT INFORMANTS SAID BRITAIN'S DECISION ON GREECE WAS TAKEN YESTERDAY AT CABINET LEVEL.

THE FOREIGN OFFICE SPOKESMAN SAID IN ANSWER TO ANOTHER QUESTION THAT BRITAIN'S REPLY COULD BE CONSIDERED "FINAL" UNLESS THE U.S. GOVERNMENT HAD ANY FURTHER COMMENTS TO MAKE ON IT.

FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN AND U.S. SECRETARY OF STATE GEORGE C. MARSHALL CERTAINLY WILL DISCUSS NOT ONLY THE GREEK QUESTION BUT THE ENTIRE STRATEGIC SITUATION IN THE EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN AND THE MIDDLE EAST WHEN THEY MEET IN MOSCOW, THE GOVERNMENT SOURCES SAID.

ONE SUBJECT FOR DISCUSSION, THEY SAID, WILL BE CONTINUATION OF MILITARY SUPPLIES AND ASSISTANCE TO TURKEY. AT PRESENT BRITAIN HAS A MILITARY MISSION IN TURKEY WHICH IS HELPING TO INSTRUCT AND MODERNIZE THE TURKISH ARMY.

WASHINGTON,MARCH 4-(AP)-THE TEXT OF A STATEMENT BY SECRETARY OF STATE MARSHALL ON THE GREEK SITUATION TODAY FOLLOWS. (ABOUT 300)

FOR SOME TIME THIS GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN ENDEAVORING IN VARIOUS WAYS TO ASSIST IN THE RESTORATION OF THE ECONOMY OF GREECE.

SPURRED BY APPEALS FROM THE GREEK GOVERNMENT, IT HAS BEEN STUDYING WAYS AND MEANS OF PROVIDING ADDITIONAL ASSISTANCE.

THIS STUDY IMPELLED THE DISPATCH OF THE ECONOMIC MISSION HEADED BY PAUL A.PORTER WHICH IS NOW IN GREECE.

Fol. LDW - GREECE

IT HAS ALSO INVOLVED CONSULTATIONS AND EXCHANGES OF IDEAS WITH THE GREEK GOVERNMENT AND THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT, WHICH HAS LIKEWISE BEEN BENDING EVERY EFFORT TO HELP GREECE.

RECENTLY REPORTS FROM OUR OWN REPRESENTATIVES AND FROM THE GREEK AND BRITISH GOVERNMENTS HAVE SHOWN THAT THE ECONOMIC CONDITION OF GREECE HAS DETERIORIATED TO THE VERGE OF COLLAPSE.

THE GREEK GOVERNMENT HAS RENEWED ITS REQUEST FOR HELP.

IN THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD SITUATION, THIS IS A MATTER OF PRIMARY IMPORTANCE TO THE UNITED STATES.

IT HAS RECEIVED THE URGENT ATTENTION OF THE PRESIDENT AND THE EXECUTIVE AGENCIES CONCERNED. IT HAS BEEN DISCUSSED WITH THE APPROPRIATE CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS.

I CAN NOT SAY ANYTHING TODAY REGARDING THE ACTION WHICH MAY BE TAKEN OTHER THAN THAT A FULL PUBLIC STATEMENT WILL BE MADE VERY SOON WHEN THE EXECUTIVE AGENCIES HAVE COMPLETED THEIR CONSIDERATION OF THE MATTER.

THE PROBLEMS INVOLVED ARE SO FAR REACHING AND OF SUCH TRANSCENDENT IMPORTANCE THAT ANY ANNOUNCEMENT RELATING TO THEM COULD PROPERLY COME ONLY FROM THE PRESIDENT HIMSELF. THE FINAL DECISIONS WILL REST WITH THE PRESIDENT AND THE CONGRESS.

COMMONS (230)

LONDON, MARCH 4-(AP)-THE LABOR-DOMINATED HOUSE OF COMMONS SWAMPED AN ANGRY CONSERVATIVE PROTEST AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT'S NATIONALIZATION PROGRAM TODAY BY VOTING FOR SPEEDY ENACTMENT OF TWO KEY SOCIALIST MEASURES--GOVERNMENT CONTROL OF TRANSPORT AND REAL ESTATE DEVELOPMENT.

OPPOSITION SHOUTS OF "REICHSTAG" AND "COME ON HITLER" MARKED THE TURBULENT DEBATE THAT ENDED EARLY THIS MORNING IN A VOTE OF 289 TO 150 TO FORCE THE BILLS OUT OF COMMITTEE HEARINGS BY APRIL 2 FOR FINAL PASSAGE BY EARLY SUMMER.

BOTH BILLS HAD ALREADY BEEN APPROVED BY THE HOUSE OF COMMONS IN PRINCIPLE BY TEST VOTES ON THEIR SECOND READING--AND SENT TO STANDING COMMITTEES WHERE ARTHUR GREENWOOD, LORD PRIVY SEAL AND ACTING FLOOR LEADER OF THE LABOR MAJORITY, COMPLAINED THAT PROGRESS WAS "TOO SLOW." THE BILLS WOULD NATIONALIZE RAILROADS, TRUCKS AND BUSES AND SET UP STRICT GOVERNMENT CONTROL OF TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING, INCLUDING LIMITATION OF LAND SALE PROFITS.

THE MOVE TO SPEED UP THE SOCIALIZATION PROGRAM WAS GENERALLY REGARDED AS THE GOVERNMENT'S ANSWER TO CONSERVATIVE LEADERS WHO HAD CALLED FOR SUSPENSION OF NEW GOVERNMENTAL CONTROL LEGISLATION DURING THE NATION'S ECONOMIC CRISIS, BROUGHT ON BY THE COAL SHORTAGE.

THE CONSERVATIVE FACTION WAS LED BY WINSTON CHURCHILL WHO DECLARED THAT THE GOVERNMENT WAS PLANNING THE "STRANGULATION OF PARLIAMENTARY DEBATE IN FORCING ILL-CONSIDERED LEGISLATION."

"THE LIBERTIES AND FREE LIFE OF BRITAIN ARE IN GREAT DANGER," CHURCHILL SHOUTED OVER JEERS FROM THE LABOR BENCHES.

GREENWOOD ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THE CURTAILMENT OF COMMITTEE HEARINGS WAS "A NEW EXPERIMENT," BUT SAID THAT THE GOVERNMENT "MUST AND WILL CARRY OUT THE PROGRAM TO WHICH WE ARE PLEDGED." HE SAID THAT SPEED WAS NECESSARY, BECAUSE THE GOVERNMENT WISHED TO AVOID AN AUTUMN SESSION OF PARLIAMENT.

STALIN

LONDON, MARCH 4-(AP)-PRIME MINISTER STALIN HAS STEPPED OUT AS MINISTER OF SOVIET ARMED FORCES BECAUSE OF THE "EXCESSIVE PRESSURE OF HIS MAIN WORK," THE MOSCOW RADIO SAYS, AND HAS HANDED THE JOB ON TO GEN. NIKOLAI A.BULGANIN, WHO IS REGARDED AS ONE OF RUSSIA'S MOST SKILLED ADMINISTRATORS.

UNOFFICIAL RUSSIAN SOURCES IN LONDON SAID THEY SAW NO REASON TO SUPPOSE THAT LAST NIGHT'S ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE CHANGE MEANT ANYTHING BUT WHAT IT SAID--THAT THE PRESSURE OF OTHER WORK FORCED STALIN TO LAY ASIDE THE JOB OF RUNNING THE ARMED FORCES, NOW IN THE MIDST OF DE-EMPHASIS AND DEMOBILIZATION.

IT WAS THE SECOND SUCH CHANGE IN THE MOSCOW GOVERNMENT WITHIN A WEEK. COL. GEN. ANDREI A.ZHDANOV WAS RELIEVED OF HIS POST AS CHAIRMAN OF THE COUNCIL OF THE UNION OF THE SUPREME SOVIET AT HIS OWN REQUEST LAST TUESDAY BECAUSE OF THE "PRESSURE OF WORK CONNECTED WITH HIS MAIN DUTIES." THE COUNCIL OF THE UNION IS THE SMALLER OF THE TWO HOUSES OF RUSSIA'S PARLIAMENT.

MAR 1947

STALIN CONTINUES AS PRIME MINISTER, AS HEAD OF THE POWERFUL POLITBURO AND OF THE ORGBURO--SUPERVISING ORGANIZATION OF THE COMMUNIST PPARTY, AS GENERAL SECRETARY OF THE PARTY AND AS A MEMBER OF THE PRESIDIUM OF THE SUPREME SOVIET--AN EXECUTIVE AND DIRECTIVE BODY OF THE PARLIAMENT.

THE MOSCOW RADIO BROADCAST ANNOUNCING THE CHANGE SAID:

"THE PRESIDIUM OF THE SUPREME SOVIET OF THE U.S.S.R. HAS ACCEDED TO THE REQUEST OF J.V.STALIN, CHAIRMAN OF THE COUNCIL OF MINISTERS OF THE U.S.S.R. (PRIME MINISTER), TO BE RELEASED FROM HIS DUTIES AS MINISTER OF THE ARMED FORCES OF THE U.S.S.R.

"GENERALISSIMO STALIN MADE THE REQUEST IN VIEW OF THE EXCESSIVE PRESSURE OF HIS MAIN WORK. THE PRESIDIUM HAS APPOINTED ARMY GEN. N.A. BULGANIN MINISTER OF THE ARMED FORCES OF THE U.S.S.R."

A TASS DISPATCH FROM MOSCOW DISTRIBUTED IN LONDON SAID STALIN HAD QUIT THE ARMED FORCES POST BECAUSE HE WAS "GREATLY OVERBURDENED WITH HIS MAIN WORK."

STALIN, WHO IS 67 YEARS OLD, HAD HELD THE POST FOR SIX YEARS--ALL THROUGH THE WAR -- AND HAS REPEATEDLY BEEN REPORTED ILL SINCE THE END OF HOSTILITIES. MOSCOW OBSERVERS, HOWEVER, HAVE DESCRIBED HIM IN NORMAL GOOD HEALTH FOR A MAN OF HIS AGE.

BULGANIN HAS BEEN THE CHIEF VICE MINISTER IN THE MINISTRY OF ARMED FORCES SINCE MARCH 22, 1946. HE WAS HEAD OF THE MOSCOW CITY SOVIET DURING THE WAR AND WAS A MEMBER OF THE CITY'S MILITARY COUNCIL WHEN THE GERMANS WERE REPELLED ALMOST AT THE CAPITAL'S GATES IN 1941. HE WAS MADE A LIEUTENANT GENERAL IN THE ARMY THE FOLLOWING YEAR.

A20

HE HAD SERVED AS VICE PRIME MINISTER OF THE SOVIET UNION AND ALSO AS PRIME MINISTER OF THE RUSSIAN SOVIET FEDERAL SOCIALIST REPUBLIC. HE IS A SUBSTITUTE MEMBER OF THE POLITBURO, MOST IMPORTANT OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY'S EXECUTIVE SUB-COMMITTEES, AND A MEMBER OF THE PRESIDIUM.

ESTIMATES OF THE SIZE OF THE RUSSIAN MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT AT ITS HEIGHT, UNDER STALIN'S SOLE DIRECTION, RANGED UP TO 20,000,000 MEN AND WOMEN. LAST OCTOBER, HOWEVER, THE SEMI-OFFICIAL U.S. ARMY PUBLICATION ARMORED CAVALRY JOURNAL SAID RUSSIA HAD ONLY ABOUT 3,000,000 PERSONS REMAINING UNDER ARMS AT THAT TIME.

DEMOBILIZATION HAS BEEN INCREASED GREATLY IN RECENT MONTHS, MOSCOW DISPATCHES DECLARE, TO GAIN MANPOWER FOR RUSSIA'S MAIN PROJECT NOW -- THE NEW FIVE YEAR PLAN FOR INDUSTRY.

RUSSIAN SOURCES IN THE BRITISH CAPITAL SUGGESTED THAT STALIN'S RESIGNATION FROM THE ARMED FORCES MINISTRY, COMING ONLY A WEEK BEFORE THE OPENING OF THE BIG FOUR FOREIGN MINISTERS' SESSION IN MOSCOW, MIGHT INDICATE THAT HE WISHED TO BE AMPLY FREE TO STUDY PREPARATION OF THE GERMAN PEACE TREATY AND TO WORK ON EXTENDING THE BRITISH-SOVIET 20-YEAR TREATY OF MUTUAL ASSISTANCE, WITH WHICH HE HAS BEEN PERSONALLY CONCERNED.

MOSCOW, MARCH 4-(AP)-THE SOVIET UNION GAVE FURTHER PROOF TODAY OF HER DECREASING EMPHASIS ON MILITARY AFFAIRS AS PRIME MINISTER STALIN RETIRED AS MINISTER OF THE NATION'S ARMED FORCES TO DEVOTE HIS FULL ATTENTION TO OTHER MATTERS.

STALIN HAD BEEN HEAD OF THE ARMED FORCES THROUGHOUT THE WAR. GEN. NIKOLAI A.BULGANIN, DEPUTY MINISTER OF THE ARMED FORCES, WAS APPOINTED IN HIS PLACE.

AN OFFICIAL STATEMENT SAID STALIN WAS STEPPING DOWN BECAUSE OF THE BURDEN OF HIS "MAIN WORK," THUS INDICATING THAT MILITARY AFFAIRS ARE NO LONGER THE CHIEF CONCERN OF THE RUSSIAN LEADER.

STALIN, OF COURSE, REMAINS AS CHAIRMAN OF THE COUNCIL OF MINISTERS OF THE U.S.S.R., AND APPARENTLY THIS WAS WHAT WAS MEANT BY THE REFERENCE TO HIS "MAIN WORK."

THE SOVIET PRESS PUBLISHED THIS MOVE BY STALIN ON INSIDE PAGES WITH NO COMMENT. THE RADIO LIKEWISE MADE NO COMMENT.

THE SOVIET UNION HAS HAD ONE DEMOBILIZATION AFTER ANOTHER, IS STRUGGLING HARD TO GET EVEN MORE MEN FROM THE ARMED SERVICES BACK INTO FIELD AND FACTORY AND WAS THE AUTHOR AT THE MEETING OF THE UNITED NATIONS GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN NEW YORK LAST FALL OF A WORLD DISARMAMENT RESOLUTION.

WITH NO MILITARY MATTERS TO OCCUPY HIS TIME STALIN NOW WILL BE ABLE TO DEVOTE HIMSELF TO THE FIVE-YEAR PLAN AND TO THE SOVIET UNION'S DRIVES TO BUILD UP AGRICULTURE AND INDUSTRY TO PRE-WAR LEVELS AND BEYOND.

STALIN WAS MORE THAN THE TITULAR HEAD OF THE ARMED FORCES. HE ACTUALLY DIRECTED ALL CAMPAIGNS OF THE RED ARMY, WHICH LATER BECAME KNOWN AS THE SOVIET ARMY.

DURING THE WAR HE VISITED THE FRONT ON NUMEROUS OCCASIONS. WHEN THE GERMANS WERE JUST OUTSIDE MOSCOW HE MET WITH HIS COMMANDERS IN A LITTLE WOODEN HOUSE WITHIN SOUND OF THE FIRING AND PERSONALLY LAID OUT PLANS FOR THE GREAT COUNTEROFFENSIVE WHICH THREW HITLER'S LEGIONS FROM THE CAPITAL.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 4-(AP)-ANDREI A.GROMYKO, SOVIET DELEGATE, WILL MAKE AN IMPORTANT DECLARATION ON ATOMIC ENERGY CONTROL TO THE UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL TOMORROW, RUSSIAN SOURCES SAID TODAY.

THE COUNCIL IS SCHEDULED TO MEET AT 3 P.M. E.S.T. TO CONTINUE DEBATE ON A UNITED STATES PROPOSAL THAT THE ATOMIC QUESTION BE SENT BACK TO THE U.N. ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION FOR AN EFFORT TO SETTLE DIFFERENCES BETWEEN RUSSIA AND THE UNITED STATES AND WRITE AN ATOMIC PACT.

THE COUNCIL IS WAITING TO HEAR GROMYKO'S VIEWS ON THE UNITED STATES PROPOSAL. HE ABSTAINED FROM VOTING WHEN THE ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION ADOPTED ITS REPORT, EMBODYING THE ESSENTIALS OF THE UNITED STATES PLAN FOR ATOMIC CONTROL. GROMYKO LATER PRESENTED RUSSIA'S DETAILED VIEWS TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL AND CONTENDED THAT THE COUNCIL SHOULD TAKE UP THE ATOMIC QUESTION ITSELF.

THE UNITED STATES AND RUSSIA DIFFER CHIEFLY ON A CONTROL AUTHORITY AND ON THE QUESTION OF APPLYING THE VETO ON ATOMIC MATTERS.

LAKESUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 4-(AP)-INFORMED QUARTERS SAID TODAY THAT PLANS FOR AN ECONOMIC COMMISSION FOR ASIA AND THE ORIENT WOULD BE LAID BEFORE THE UNITED NATIONS ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL WITHIN THE NEXT FEW DAYS.

SMALL GROUP OF EXPERTS, WHO HAVE BEEN WORKING ON THE PLANS BEHIND CLOSED DOORS FOR SEVERAL WEEKS, MET TWICE TODAY AND WERE SAID TO BE PLANNING TO SUBMIT THEIR RECOMMENDATIONS TO THE COUNCIL BY THURSDAY OR FRIDAY.

EARLY ACTION ON THE PROPOSED ASIATIC COMMISSION WAS FORECAST YESTERDAY DURING DEBATE ON A SIMILAR COMMISSION FOR EUROPE, BUT THE DELEGATES DECIDED AT THAT TIME TO APPROVE THE EUROPEAN PLAN WITHOUT WAITING FOR THE OTHER.

IT WAS CLEAR FROM YESTERDAY'S DISCUSSIONS THAT THERE WOULD BE NO OPPOSITION TO THE CREATION OF THE ORIENTAL AGENCY, SINCE MOST OF THE SPEAKERS SPECIFICALLY SUPPORTED THE PROPOSAL, WHICH ORIGINALLY WAS PUT FORWARD BY CHINA LAST SUMMER.

ALTHOUGH THERE UNDOUBTEDLY WILL BE IMPORTANT DIFFERENCES IN THE SCOPE AND TERMS OF REFERENCES OF THE TWO COMMISSIONS, THEIR GENERAL PURPOSE WILL BE THE SAME--TO ASSIST THE WAR DEVASTATED COUNTRIES IN COORDINATING THEIR EFFORTS TOWARD RECOVERY.

SIR RAMASWAMI MUDALIAR OF INDIA, PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL, EXPRESSED THE HOPE THAT THE REPORT OF THE ASIATIC GROUP WOULD BE CONSIDERED BY THE SAME SUB-COMMITTEE HE NAMED YESTERDAY TO DRAFT THE TERMS OF REFERENCE OF THE EUROPEAN COMMISSION AND THAT THE COUNCIL ITSELF WOULD BE ABLE FINALLY TO ACT ON THE TWO COMMISSIONS TOGETHER AT THIS SESSION.

ADDITIONAL QUESTIONS WERE EXPECTED TO BE SUBMITTED TODAY OR TOMORROW.

THE ALBANIANS, DENYING THAT THEY SOWED THE MINES, ISSUED A COUNTER-CHARGE THAT THE BRITISH INVADED ALBANIA TERRITORIAL WATERS AND THEREFORE THE TIRANA GOVERNMENT IS NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR WHAT HAPPENED.

WHILE THE SECURITY COUNCIL IS BUSY WITH ATOMIC CONTROL PLANS AND THE ALBANIAN SITUATION, THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL SET OUT TO ASSIST THE RECOVERY OF WAR-RAVAGED EUROPE.

BY UNANIMOUS VOTE, THE COUNCIL YESTERDAY AGREED TO ESTABLISH MACHINERY IMMEDIATELY TO AID THE COUNTRIES OF EUROPE WHICH ARE TRYING TO GET BACK ON THEIR FEET ECONOMICALLY.

THE VOTE CAME AFTER A THREE-HOUR DEBATE IN WHICH SOVIET RUSSIA AND CZECHOSLOVAKIA WITHDREW THE OPPOSITION THEY HAD EXPRESSED TO THE

IT ALSO REPORTED SUCCESSFUL ATTACKS AGAINST BRITISH ARMY CAMPS AT PETAH TIQVA AND HADERA IN RETALIATION FOR THE IMPOSITION OF MARTIAL LAW ON MORE THAN A THIRD OF PALESTINE'S 600,000 JEWS, BUT THERE WAS NO OFFICIAL CONFIRMATION OF THESE ATTACKS.

"WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF THE 1,500 CERTIFICATES A MONTH LAID DOWN BY HIS MAJESTY'S GOVERNMENT IN DECEMBER, 1945, AS THE RATE OF IMMIGRATION PENDING A FINAL DECISION ON FUTURE POLICY, MANY CONCESSIONS HAVE BEEN MADE IN RESPONSE TO REQUESTS BY THE JEWISH AGENCY AND VAAD LEUMI (JEWISH NATIONAL COUNCIL) IN REGARD TO THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE QUOTA," THE STATEMENT SAID.

"IT MUST BE REMEMBERED THAT CONTINUANCE OF THE IMMIGRATION RATE OF 1,500 A MONTH IN THE INTERIM PERIOD WAS ITSELF A CONCESSION, SINCE THE QUOTA OF 75,000 JEWISH IMMIGRANTS PERMITTED BY THE POLICY IN FORCE, AS LAID DOWN IN THE WHITE PAPER OF 1939, HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED. BERLIN, MARCH 4-(AP)-AMERICAN MILITARY GOVERNMENT HEADQUARTERS ANNOUNCED TONIGHT THAT THE UNITED STATES HAD LIFTED ITS TRADING WITH THE ENEMY ACT ON GERMANY, BUT THAT THE AMG RETAINED STRICT CONTROLS FOR LICENSING TRANSACTIONS AND COLLECTING ALL PROCEEDS OF FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

THE ACTION, WHICH FOLLOWED BY ONE WEEK A SIMILAR ANNOUNCEMENT FROM THE BRITISH, WAS DESCRIBED AS "A STEP FORWARD IN REESTABLISHING NORMAL TRADE RELATIONS BETWEEN GERMANY AND OUTSIDE WORLD."

THE RESTRICTIONS ON CURRENT TRANSACTIONS WITH GERMANS WHICH REMAIN IN FORCE ARE CONTAINED IN TWO MILITARY GOVERNMENT LAWS. BERLIN, MARCH 4-(AP)-THE GERMAN PEOPLE, MILLIONS OF WHOM ARE STILL NUMBED INTO APATHY BY THEIR SEVEREST WINTER IN YEARS, HEARD THEIR POLITICAL LEADERS RAISE AN INCREASING DEMAND TODAY FOR A VOICE IN THE FORTHCOMING DELIBERATIONS ON GERMANY AT THE FOREIGN MINISTER'S COUNCIL IN MOSCOW.

THE TWO LATEST REQUESTS CAME FROM BOTH LEFTIST AND RIGHTIST PARTY FUNCTIONARIES IN THE RUSSIAN OCCUPATION ZONE, AFTER SIMILAR REQUESTS HAD BEEN MADE BY LEADERS IN WESTERN GERMANY.

THE LEADERS ALSO SOUGHT TO AROUSE THE PEOPLE, WHO ARE MORE CONCERNED WITH THE THOUGHT THAT MARCH WILL BRING AN END TO THE BITTER WINTER THAN THAT IT MAY PROVE A "MONTH OF DECISION FOR GERMANY'S FUTURE."

DEPLORING THIS APATHY, ERNST LEMMER, VICE CHAIRMAN OF THE MIDDLE-OF-THE-ROAD CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC UNION, URGED THE PEOPLE TO LOOK BEYOND THEIR DAILY CARES AND "BE ATTENTIVE TO POLITICAL REALITIES."

"NOT ONLY THE FATE OF GERMANY IS AT STAKE AT MOSCOW, BUT ALSO A DURABLE WORLD PEACE CAN BE FASHIONED THERE," SAID LEMMER.

DR. WILHELM KUELZ, CHAIRMAN OF THE RIGHTIST LIBERAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY, TOLD A PARTY MEETING IN SOVIET-OCCUPIED SAXONY THAT "SETTLEMENT OF THE GERMAN PROBLEM WILL ALSO MEAN SETTLEMENT OF THE WORLD PROBLEM."

KUELZ DEMANDED THAT GERMANY'S SIXTY-ODD MILLIONS BE HEARD AT MOSCOW THROUGH LEADERS OF THEIR POLITICAL PARTIES, DECLARING THAT "WE COULD STATE OUR CASE CLEARLY AND FACTUALLY, NOT FOR AN ORIENTATION TOWARD THE EAST OR WEST, BUT FOR AN ORIENTATION WHOSE NAME IS 'GERMANY'."

ANTON ACKERMANN, BERLIN OFFICIAL OF THE SOVIET-SPONSORED SOCIALIST UNITY PARTY, DEMANDED THAT THE ORGANIZATION OF TRADE UNIONS IN EASTERN GERMANY BE PERMITTED TO SEND REPRESENTATIVES TO MOSCOW AND ALSO SUGGESTED THAT THE LEADERS OF THE POLITICAL PARTIES, INCLUDING DR. KURT SCHUMACHER, CHAIRMAN OF THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATS IN WESTERN GERMANY, BE INVITED.

ACKERMAN SAID THAT GERMANY "COULD SURVIVE" EVEN IF SHE SHOULD LOSE PERMANENTLY TERRITORIES EAST OF THE ODER AND NEISSE RIVERS ADINISTERED BY POLAND SINCE THE POTSDAM DECLARATION.

BUT THE ENTIRE COMMITTEE OF THE BERLIN SOCIAL DEMOCRATS, IN A SPECIAL PRE-MOSCOW DECLARATION, OBSERVED THAT TERRITORIAL DEMANDS UPON GERMANY IN THE WEST AND EAST HAD AROUSED THE "DEEPEST CONCERN." THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATS PLEADED FOR THE PRESERVATION OF A GERMANY "ABLE TO PAY HER REPARATIONS WITHOUT FORCING HER PEOPLE INTO SOCIAL MISERY."

THREE OTHER POSSIBLE COURSES, HE SAID, WERE DISCARDED.

THE FIRST POSSIBLE RETALIATION, HE SAID, WAS BURNING OF THE PART OF ROME WHERE THE ATTACK OCCURRED.

TWO OTHER NEWSPAPERS--THE GOVERNMENT ORGAN IZVESTIA AND THE ARMY NEWSPAPER RED STAR--ATTACKED BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES ON THE ECONOMIC UNIFICATION OF THEIR ZONES OF OCCUPATION IN GERMANY. THE FOREIGN MINISTERS' CONFERENCE, OPENING MARCH 10, WILL CONCERN ITSELF WITH FRAMING THE GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN PEACE TREATIES.

THE MOSCOW NEWS, BI-WEEKLY ENGLISH LANGUAGE NEWSPAPER, ATTACKED THE LONDON DAILY TELEGRAPH FOR SAYING THAT IT WOULD BE IMPOSSIBLE FOR BRITAIN, FRANCE, THE UNITED STATES AND RUSSIA TO AGREE ON GERMANY IN THE CONFERENCE.

ZTHE NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE GOES ABOUT IT A LITTLE MORE SUBTLY,"

THE NEWSPAPER ADDED. "IT SAYS THE POTSDAM DECISIONS, ATTRACTIVE AS THEY ARE BECAUSE OF THEIR SIMPLE LOGIC, HAVE BEEN 'UNDERMINED' BY EVENTS. ONE MIGHT BE SO BOLD AS TO ASK WHAT EVENTS. PERHAPS, FOR ONE THING, FAILURE TO LIVE UP TO THOSE DECISIONS. IN SUCH A CASE, IT IS HARDLY FAIR TO BLAME POTSDAM. IT SEEMS CERTAIN PARTIES ARE TRYING TO SPREAD GLOOM FOR THE FUTURE IN ORDER TO COVER THEIR OWN DEFICIENCIES IN THE PAST."

RED STAR'S COMMENTATOR, B.ILYN, SAID "BRITISH AND AMERICAN TAXPAYERS ARE ENCOURAGED IN THE CONVICTION THAT THE JOINING OF THE ZONES (IN GERMANY) IS BEING CONDUCTED IN THEIR INTERESTS," BUT THAT ACTUALLY THE REVERSE WAS TRUE.

IZVESTIA'S WRITER, S.VIKTOROV' SAID THAT WHILE THERE WERE CONTRADICTIONS IN THE INTERESTS OF THE BRITISH AND AMERICANS IN GERMANY, THEIR "PRINCIPAL OBJECTIVES ARE THE SAME." THESE, HE SAID, INCLUDE SPLITTING THE ECONOMIC UNIFICATION OF GERMANY, SETTING THE WESTERN ZONES AGAINST THE EASTERN ZONE, SUBORDINATING GERMAN CURRENCY TO THE DOLLAR AND POUND AND STABILIZING THE BASIS OF "MONOPOLY CAPITAL" IN GERMANY.

"THE SEPARATION ACTIVITIES OF THE WESTERN ZONE ADMINISTRATIONS ARE COVERED WITH A SMOKESCREEN OF ATTACKS ON THE SOVIET UNION," THE COMMENTATOR SAID. "IT IS NO ACCIDENT THAT THE WESTERN ZONE ADMINISTRATIONS SHOW HASTE IN MONETARY REFORM, YET NO HASTE IN ACCOMPLISHING DEMOCRATIC REFORMS."

FORMER DIET SPEAKER TADAHIKO OKADA, DEFENSE WITNESS IN THE TRIAL OF 26 OF JAPAN'S WARTIME LEADERS, TOLD THE COURT THAT PREMIER TANAKA RECOGNIZED MANCHURIA AS "THE SOURCE OF TROUBLE" IN ASIA AND IN 1927 SENT A CLOSE FRIEND, FUSANOSUKE KUHARA, AS A SECRET EMISSARY TO STALIN IN MOSCOW.

TANAKA'S PLAN, OKADA SAID, CALLED FOR RUSSIA TO CONTRIBUTE ALL OF SIBERIA EAST OF LAKE BAIKAL, JAPAN ALL OF KOREA, AND CHINA ALL OF MANCHURIA TO ESTABLISH A "NEUTRAL BUFFER STATE" IN WHICH ALL WOULD HAVE AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY FOR COMMERCE.

OKADA TESTIFIED THAT STALIN "HAPPILY EXPRESSED A SENSE OF AGREEMENT" AND KUHARA RETURNED TO TOKYO. TANAKA, OKADA WENT ON, "HAD REASON TO BELIEVE" CHANG TSO-LIN, THEN WARLORD OF MANCHURIA, WOULD AGREE.

THE WITNESS SAID THE PLAN FAILED BECAUSE FEELING AROSE IN JAPAN AGAINST RELINQUISHING KOREA AND CHANG TSO-LIN WAS KILLED THE FOLLOWING YEAR.

"ON BEHALF OF MY CLIENT, MR.HIROTA, I TAKE AN EXCEPTION TO THE UNDUE INTERFERENCE OF THE TRIBUNAL WITH THE ORDINARY EXAMINATION OF A WITNESS."

WEBB, HIS FACE PURPLING, LEADED ACROSS THE BENCH, POINTED A FINGER AT SMITH AND DECLARED: "YOU USE RESPECTUFL TERMS TO THIS TRIBUNAL. YOU WON'T USE SUCH TERMS AS 'UNDUE INTERFERENCE' OR YOU WILL LEAVE THIS COURTROOM AS COUNSEL. YOU WILL APOLOGIZE."

"I HAVE BEEN PRACTICING 20 YEARS AND I HAVE USED THAT TERM MANY TIMES," SMITH BEGAN, BUT WEBB CUT HIM SHORT, SAYING:

"YOU WILL WITHDRAW IT. I WON'T LISTEN TO ANOTHER WORD UNTIL YOU DO."

WHEN SMITH SAID HE DID NOT INTEND TO BE "OFFENSIVE" OR "IMPERTINENT" WEBB AGAIN ASKED HIM TO WITHDRAW THE REMARK. SMITH DECLINED.

AFTER A RECESS, THE JUDGES RETURNED AND WEBB ANNOUNCED THAT SMITH WAS BEING EXCLUDED UNTIL HE WITHDREW HIS REMARKS AND APOLOGIZED. #

MANILA, MARCH 4-(AP)-THE PHILIPPINE SUPREME COURT WAS ASKED BY TWO AMERICANS TODAY TO CLAIM CIVIL JURISDICTION OVER U.S. MILITARY RESERVATIONS IN THE ISLANDS.

A PETITION FILED ON BEHALF OF GEORGE L.TUBB AND WESLEY E.TEDROW ASKED THE COURT TO ORDER THEIR RELEASE. THE PETITION SAID THEY WERE HELD BY THE U.S. ARMY WITHOUT CHARGES AGAINST THEM AND HAD BEEN CONFINED SINCE LAST JANUARY ON A U.S. MILITARY RESERVATION. THEY ARE FORMER SOLDIERS, NOW CIVILIAN EMPLOYES OF THE ARMY.

UNTIL THEIR PETITION WAS FILED, NO ONE HAD ASKED THAT PHILIPPINE CIVIL LAW BE APPLIED INSIDE U.S. MILITARY AREAS. FILIPINO NEGOTIATORS ON A PROPOSED AGREEMENT PROVIDING FOR AMERICAN MILITARY BASES IN THE ISLANDS HAVE ASSERTED ONLY THAT PHILIPPINE LAW SHOULD APPLY TO AMERICANS WHEN THEY WERE OUTSIDE SUCH AREAS.

U.S. AMBASSADOR PAUL V.MCNUTT WAS TO RESUME DISCUSSIONS TOMORROW WITH PRESIDENT ROXAS AND VICE PRESIDENT ELPIDIO QUIRINO ON THE PENDING MILITARY BASE AGREEMENT AND OTHER MATTERS. AN EMBASSY SPOKESMAN SAID THE BASE AGREEMENT WAS EXPECTED TO BE "DISPOSED OF" BEFORE MCNUTT LEAVES FOR THE UNITED STATES BY MARCH 14.

A CORRESPONDENT FOR A MANILA NEWSPAPER REPORTED "PROSPECTORS" STARTED DIGGING OVER PARKS AND PRIVATE LANDS FOR JAPANESE LOOT AFTER WORD SPREAD THAT A CAN UNEARTHED BY AN IGOROT YIELDED $25,000 IN GOLD BUILLION AND THAT ANOTHER CONTAINER UNCOVERED AT THE SITE OF THE BURNED JAPANESE GARRISON QUARTERS HAD $5,000 IN PHILIPPINE CURRENCY.

ONE IGOROT TREASURE HUNTER PICKED UP AN OLD JAPANESE LAND MINE, WHICH EXPLODED AND KILLED HIM, THE CORRESPONDENT SAID.

OTTAWA, MARCH 4-(AP)-LOUIS ST. LAURENT, SECRETARY OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS, TOLD PARLIAMENT YESTERDAY THAT CANADA WOULD HAVE HER OWN FOREIGN POLICY AND NOT SPEAK THROUGH BRITAIN, EVEN THOUGH SHE MIGHT FAIL TO GET ALL SHE WANTS IN FOREIGN COUNCILS.

ST. LAURENT MADE HIS STATEMENT DURING AN ALL DAY DEBATE WHICH CENTERED AROUND CANADA'S FAILURE TO OBTAIN A FULL ROLE IN SHAPING THE GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN PEACE TREATIES, PRINCIPALLY DUE TO SOVIET OBJECTIONS.

AS A POSSIBLE WAY OUT OF THE DIFFICULTY, VETERAN CONSERVATIVE HOWARD GREEN PROPOSED THAT "WE SHOULD TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OUR MEMBERSHIP IN THE BRITISH EMPIRE" AND "SEND A REPRESENTATIVE TO MOSCOW WITH THE BRITISH FOREIGN MINISTER, BECAUSE CANADA IS A PARTNER IN THE BRITISH EMPIRE AND RIGHT FROM THE START THE REAL FACT HAS BEEN THAT THE THIRD GREAT POWER IS NOT GREAT BRITAIN, BUT THE BRITISH EMPIRE."

GREEN SUGGESTED THAT EMPIRE DISCUSSIONS SHOULD HAVE BEEN HELD ON THE GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN TREATIES, ADDING THAT "PROBABLY CANADA COULD HAVE GOTTEN AN AGREEMENT" TO HER PROPOSALS, WHICH THEN COULD HAVE BEEN PRESENTED AT MOSCOW AS CANADA'S SUGGESTIONS FOR THE PEACE TREATIES.

"IF WE CANNOT GET FULL PARTICIPATION IN ANY OTHER WAY, WE SHOULD FOLLOW THAT COURSE, LATER ATTENDING THE CONFERENCE AS A NATION," HE SAID. "WE FOUGHT AS AN EMPIRE, AND WE SHOULD MAKE PEACE TREATIES IN THE SAME WAY.

ST. LAURENT SAID THAT HE WAS "IN VERY SHARP DISAGREEMENT" WITH GREEN'S REMARKS.

"THE QUESTION HAS BEEN DISCUSSED MORE THAN ONCE IN THIS HOUSE," ST. LAURENT SAID, "AND WE'VE COME TO THE CONCLUSION THAT CANADA IS GOING TO HAVE A FOREIGN POLICY OF HER OWN AND NOT GOING TO BE MERELY THE INSTRUMENT TO CARRY OUT A FOREIGN POLICY MADE UP FOR US. I AM NOT PREPARED TO RECOMMEND THAT WE SPEAK WITH A COMMON VOICE."

WASHINGTON, MARCH 4-(AP)-THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON UNAMERICAN ACTIVITIES REPORTED TODAY THAT RUSSIA HAS OBTAINED HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF AMERICAN PATENTS BY A "LEGAL ESPIONAGE" SYSTEM AND MAY WELL BE ON THE WAY TO OBTAINING THE ATOM BOMB SECRETS.

THE REPORT WAS MADE VERBALLY TO THE HOUSE BY CHAIRMAN THOMAS (D-N.J.), WHO DEMANDED AN END TO WHAT HE CALLED "OUR CODDLING POLICY" UNDER WHICH RUSSIA WAS ABLE TO OBTAIN FROM THE PATENT OFFICE COPIES OF INDUSTRIAL, CHEMICAL AND MILITARY PATENTS.

THOMAS SUGGESTED THAT SINCE THE PATENT OFFICE IS UNDER THE COMMERCE DEPARTMENT, FORMER SECRETARY OF COMMERCE HENRY A.WALLACE "SHOULD ANSWER TO THE PROPER COMMITTEE AS TO WHY" RUSSIAN REPRESENTATIVES WERE PERMITTED TO OBTAIN COPIES OF PATENTS.

"THROUGH OUR CODDLING POLICY OF GIVING RUSSIA OUR PATENTED KNOWLEDGE, HE SAID, "SHE MAY WELL BE ON HER WAY TO THE DISCOVERY OF MANY, IF NOT ALL, OF THE THOUSANDS OF INDUSTRIAL PROCESSES AND SECRETS WHICH CONSTITUTE THE GREAT SECRET OF THE ATOM BOMB."

THE RUSSIANS, THOMAS TOLD THE HOUSE, ORDERED AS MANY AS 60,000 PATENTS AT A TIME IN THEIR PROGRAM OF "TAPPING THE INVENTIVE GENIUS OF AMERICA'S INDUSTRIAL AND MILITARY DEVELOPMENT FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT."

YET, SINCE 1927, HE ASSERTED, "RUSSIA HAS REFUSED TO GIVE US A SINGLE PATENT."

THOMAS SAID THE RUSSIANS OBTAINED THE PATENTS BY HAVING "THEIR FRONT AGENCIES" IN THE UNITED STATES ORDER THEM. ON JANUARY 2,1945, HE SAID, A "DUMMY AGENCY" KNOWN AS THE FOUR CONTINENT BOOK CORPORATION, 253 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK CITY, CALLED FOR ALL PATENTS FOR 1942 AND PART OF 1943.

"THEY DID IT BY HAVING THE AMTORG TRADING CORPORATION OF 210 MADISON AVENUE, NEW YORK CITY, OFFICIAL TRADING AGENCY OF THE U.S.S.R. IN THE UNITED STATES, PLACE ORDERS FOR THOUSANDS OF PATENTS IN EVERY FIELD," HE ADDED.

"THEY DID IT BY HAVING THE SOVIET PURCHASING COMMISSION OF 210 MADISON AVENUE, NEW YORK CITY, FILE HUGE ORDERS AND BY HAVING THEIR EMBASSY AND CONSULATE OFFICES IN THE UNITED STATES LIKEWISE PLACE ORDERS. THEY EVEN HAD THE SOVIET LEGATION IN OTTAWA, CANADA, PLACING ORDERS."

"THIS IS A SAMPLE OF HOW RUSSIA USES HER ALLIES," THOMAS COMMENTED. "THEY ARE MERE BIRDS TO BE PICKED CLEAN AND GET NOTHING IN RETURN."

HE SUGGESTED THAT SECRETARY OF STATE MARSHALL TAKE TO THE FORTHCOMING MOSCOW CONFERENCES "A COPY OF MY REMARKS" AND "CITE IT AS AN EXAMPLE OF THE TYPE OF COOPERATION WE ARE RECEIVING FROM MOSCOW."

WALLACE MADE HIS STATEMENT IN REPLY TO ASSERTIONS BY REP.THOMAS (R-NJ), CHAIRMAN OF THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON UNAMERICAN ACTIVITIES, THAT RUSSIA HAD OBTAINED HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF AMERICAN PATENTS BY A "LEGAL ESPIONAGE" SYSTEM AND MAY BE ON THE WAY TO UNCOVERING ATOM BOMB SECRETS.

THOMAS ALSO SUGGESTED IN A SPEECH TO THE HOUSE THAT SINCE THE PATENT OFFICE WAS UNDER THE COMMERCE DEPARTMENT, WALLACE, AS FORMER SECRETARY, "SHOULD ANSWER TO THE PROPER COMMITTEE AS TO WHY" RUSSIAN REPRESENTATIVES WERE PERMITTED TO OBTAIN COPIES OF PATENTS.

WASHINGTON,MARCH 4-(AP)-LEON JOSEPHSON OF NEW YORK WAS QUESTIONED TODAY BY THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA GRAND JURY IN AN INQUIRY INTO ALLEGATIONS OF PASSPORT FRAUD BY GEARHARD EISLER, NAMED BY CONGRESSIONAL WITNESSES AS THE "SUPREME" COMMUNIST AUTHORITY IN THIS COUNTRY.

REP.NIXON (R-CALIF), TOLD THE HOUSE RECENTLY THAT JOSEPHSON'S WRITING AND THE NAME OF SAMUEL LIPTZEN, ALSO OF NEW YORK, APPEARED ON A PASSPORT USED BY EISLER A DECADE AGO.

LIPTZEN IS TO BE CALLED BY THE GRAND JURY LATER.

EISLER, WHO HAS DESCRIBED HIMSELF AS A GERMAN COMMUNIST AND POLITICAL REFUGEE, IS UNDER INDICTMENT FOR CONTEMPT OF THE HOUSE AFTER REFUSAL TO TESTIFY BEFORE THE UNAMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE. HE HAS DENIED THE STORY THAT HE DIRECTED COMMUNIST AFFAIRS IN THE UNITED STATES.

GOVERNMENT PROSECUTORS SAID JOSEPHSON REFUSED TO TESTIFY BEFORE THE GRAND JURY UNTIL JUSTICE ALEXANDER HOLTZOFF ORDERED HIM TO DO SO.

SAMUEL NEUBERGER, JOSEPHSON'S ATTORNEY, SAID ON THE OTHER HAND THAT HIS CLIENT AGREED TO TESTIFY AND DID NOT CLAIM CONSTITUTIONAL IMMUNITY ON THE POSSIBILITY OF SELF INCRIMINATION.

NIGHT LEAD NEWSPRINT (160)

WASHINGTON, MARCH 4-(AP)-A NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION GROUP TODAY URGED AN INVESTIGATION OF "BLACK MARKETING" IN SCARCE NEWSPRINT AND A REDUCTION IN GOVERNMENT USE OF NEWSPRINT.

ED M. ANDERSON, CHAIRMAN OF THE NEA NEWSPRINT COMMITTEE, TOLD A SENATE SMALL BUSINESS SUBCOMMITTEE THAT THE BLACK MARKET IS EXPANDING. HE SAID HE HEARD ONE REPORT OF A RECENT OFFER OF A TIE-IN SALE--BY WHICH THE PUBLISHER COULD GET NEWSPRINT IF HE BOUGHT OTHER PAPER PRODUCTS.

THE ASSOCIATION COMMITTEE PROPOSED THE TWO STEPS AS PART OF AN IMMEDIATE PROGRAM TO CONSERVE NEWSPRINT AND DISTRIBUTE IT TO ALL GROUPS. ANDERSON SAID THE OUTLOOK FOR SMALL PAPERS IN 1947 IS NOT AS BRIGHT AS IT WAS IN 1946 DESPITE INCREASED PRODUCTION.

THE NEA PROGRAM INCLUDED A VOLUNTARY COMMITTEE OF ALL INTERESTS, INCLUDING THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE, TO SPREAD THE SUPPLY EQUITABLY. IT CALLED FOR EXPORT REDUCTION, AN INCREASE IN OUTPUT OF TYPES OF PAPER USED BY SMALLER PUBLISHERS, AND A "FREEZE" IN CIRCULATION AS OF MARCH 29 ON A VOLUNTARY BASIS. IN ADDITION, PUBLISHERS WOULD BE ASKED TO PLEDGE NOT TO PAY ABOVE MARKET PRICES FOR NEWSPRINT.

CHARLES P. HELFENSTEIN, LIVE OAK, FLA., NEA VICE PRESIDENT, SUGGESTED HE MIGHT EVEN BE WILLING TO SEE CONTROLS REIMPOSED ON NEWSPRINT IF THE HEARINGS SHOW THE SITUATION TO BE AS SERIOUS AS IT IS FEARED, AND IF THE INDUSTRY IS UNABLE ITSELF TO CLEAR IT UP IN SIX MONTHS.

MAR 1947

THE ASSOCIATION PRODUCED NO FIGURES ON CURRENT GOVERNMENT USE OF NEWSPRINT, BUT SENATOR WHERRY (R-NEB), SENATE REPUBLICAN WHIP, SAID HE HAD SOME IDEA THROUGH SEEING "ALL THESE FILES IN TRIPLICATE."

THE NEA ALSO PROPOSED AS A LONG TERM PROGRAM AN INCREASE IN PRODUCTION IN THE UNITED STATES AND ALASKA. AS AN INTERMEDIATE PLAN--BETWEEN THE SHORT TERM AND LONG TERM PROPOSALS FOR ACTION--THE ASSOCIATION URGED THAT MILLS IN THE U.S. AND CANADA BE PREVAILED UPON TO RECONVERT TO PRODUCTION OF NEWSPRINT.

WHERRY SAID HE UNDERSTOOD THAT IF THE CANADIANS WERE ASSURED OF A STEADY DEMAND OVER A PERIOD OF YEARS THEY WOULD BE WILLING TO EXPAND.

CHARLES F. MOREAU, ORANGE, N.J., PUBLISHER, SAID A NUMBER OF MILLS IN THIS COUNTRY CONVERTED DURING THE WAR TO MORE PROFITABLE TYPES OF PAPER.

CRANSTON WILLIAMS, GENERAL MANAGER OF THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS ASSOCIATION (MADE UP OF 757 DAILY NEWSPAPERS), SAID VARIOUS ASSOCIATIONS HAVE A VOLUNTARY PLAN TO ASSURE NEWSPAPERS OF NEWSPRINT IF NECESSARY TO AVOID SUSPENSION. HE TOLD THE SENATORS THAT NO NEWSPAPER HAD HAD TO SUSPEND FOR LACK OF PAPER ALONE.

WILLIAMS SAID ALL CASES OF DISTRESS, INVOLVING DANGER OF SUSPENSION, HAVE COME WHERE THE SUPPLY I PURCHA ED THROUGH A MERCHANT OR JOBBER. ACCORDINGLY, THE ANPA CHECKS WITH SUCH DEALERS WHEN IT HEARS THEY ARE HAVING SUPPLY TROUBLE.

MOST OF 179 QUERIED RECENTLY ABOUT THEIR 1947 SITUATION, WILLIAMS SAID, REPLIED THEY EXPECTED NO DIFFICULTY. BUT, HE ADDED, THERE IS HARDLY A NEWSPAPER WHICH DOES NOT WANT MORE NEWSPRINT THAN IT IS ABLE TO BUY.

WILLIAMS SAID ONE PROBLEM IN GETTING MANUFACTURERS TO INCREASE FACILITIES IS CONVINCING THEM OF THE SIZE OF THE DEMAND THAT WILL BE MAINTAINED. HE SAID HE CITED THE TRADE A RECENT SURVEY SHOWING THAT NEWSPAPERS PLAN TO SPEND $250,000,000 FOR IMPROVEMENTS IN THE NEXT FIVE YEARS.

THE NEWSPRINT CONSUMERS EMERGENCY COMMITTEE, DESCRIBED BY ITS WITNESS AS A GROUP OF 300 PUBLISHERS OF TRADE, COMMUNITY, FRATERNAL, LABOR PAPERS AND THE LIKE, URGED RE-ESTABLISHMENT BY CONGRESS OF A CONTROL SYSTEM FOR 18 MONTHS OR UNTIL THE SITUATION HAS EASED UP.

"FREE ENTERPRISE AT THE EXPENSE OF OUR FREE PRESS IS TOO HIGH A PRICE TO PAY," ASSERTED THE COMMITTEE'S VICE CHAIRMAN, SIDNEY A. LAVINE, OF A NEW YORK CITY FIRM WHICH PRINTS FOR 30 SUCH NEWSPAPERS.

LAVINE'S COMMITTEE DECLARED THE NEWSPRINT SHORTAGE BEGAN IN 1945 WHEN CONTROL BY THE GOVERNMENT ALLOCATION SYSTEM "WAS NEARING AN END, BECAUSE OF PRESSURE FROM THE ANPA."

WITH FINAL ENDING OF GOVERNMENT CONTROLS, LAVINE DECLARED, THE "PINCH HAS REACHED THE CRITICAL STAGE."

"PAPER MILLS AND JOBBERS ADVISED SOME PUBLISHERS THAT THEY WOULD NOT RENEW CONTRACTS FOR 1947. OTHERS WITHOUT CONTRACTS WERE CUT OFF X X X NEARLY ALL OTHERS RECEIVED GREATLY REDUCED DELIVERIES," LAVINE SAID. HOWEVER, HE DECLARED, LARGE NEWSPAPERS BEGAN TO EXPAND.

IN HIS OWN CASE, LAVINE SAID, HIS ONLY SOURCE OF SUPPLY HAD BEEN REDUCED 8 PERCENT LAST YEAR, AND HE RECEIVED LESS IN JANUARY THAN IN JANUARY, 1946.

LAVINE SAID HE HAD RECEIVED OFFERS FOR NEWSPRINT SALE AT ABOVE MARKET PRICES, AS HIGH AS $200 A TON. THE NEW YORK MARKET PRICE BASE IS $84.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 4-(AP)-HAWAII AND PUERTO RICO HAVE IRRIGATION PROJECTS READY TO GO, AND ALASKA WON'T BE FAR BEHIND IF FEDERAL RECLAMATION BENEFITS ARE EXTENDED TO THE TERRITORIES, AN INTERIOR DEPARTMENT SURVEY SHOWED TODAY.

HAWAII PROBABLY WILL START HER RELATIONS WITH FEDERAL RECLAMATION, IF THEY MATERIALIZE, WITH PROJECTS TO IRRIGATE 12,000 ACRES ON MOLOKAI AND 1,500 ACRES AT WAIMEA ON THE BIG ISLAND, HAWAII, DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS SAID.

PUERTO RICO IS ENGAGED IN PREPARATORY PLANNING FOR THE IRRIGATION OF LAJAS VALLEY IN THE DRY SOUTHWESTERN PART OF THE ISLAND.

"ALASKA HAS A FEW AREAS WHICH ARE SEASONALLY DEFICIENT IN RAINFALL, BUT WE DON'T KNOW ENOUGH YET ABOUT THE RECLAMATION POSSIBILITIES THERE," WILLIAM E.WARNE, ASSISTANT COMMISSIONER OF RECLAMATION, TOLD A REPORTER.

"THE TERRITORY HAS A DEFINITE NEED FOR HYDROELECTRIC POWER, HOWEVER. IT ALSO HAS PLENTY OF SWIFT, RELATIVELY SHORT MOUNTAIN RIVERS WHICH CAN BE HARNESSED FOR POWER."

OSCAR L.CHAPMAN, ACTING SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR, SUBMITTED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES LAST MONTH A DRAFT OF A BILL TO EXTEND TO THE TERRITORIES THE PROVISIONS OF THE RECLAMATION ACT, NOW LIMITED TO THE 17 WESTERN STATES.

CHAPMAN SAID THAT IF RECLAMATION ACTIVITIES HAD BEEN UNDERTAKEN EARLIER, THE WAR-TIME PROBLEM OF TRANSPORTING FOODSTUFFS TO THE TERRITORIES MIGHT HAVE BEEN MUCH LESS ACUTE.

THE PROPOSAL ALSO RECEIVED THE APPROVAL OF EDWIN G.ARNOLD, DIRECTOR OF TERRITORIES AND ISLAND POSSESSIONS, WHO TOLD A REPORTER:

"WE MUST DO EVERYTHING WE CAN TO HELP HAWAII FREE HERSELF FROM A TWO-CROP ECONOMY, AND IMPROVE AND BROADEN HER ECONOMIC BASIS BEYOND THE SUGAR AND PINEAPPLE UPON WHICH IT NOW DEPENDS.

"IRRIGATION PROJECTS IN HAWAII WOULD INCREASE THE PRODUCTION OF TRUCK GARDEN CROPS, AND WOULD LEAD TO DEVELOPMENT OF FARM UNITS OF 160 ACRES OR LESS. MOLOKAI, IN PARTICULAR, HAS A LOT OF THESE FAMILY-SIZE HOMESTEADS.

"PUERTO RICO IS OUR MOST ACUTE ECONOMIC PROBLEM, WITH ITS ONE-CROP SUGAR ECONOMY AND ITS 2,000,000 PEOPLE DEPENDENT UPON 2,000,000 ACRES. ALTHOUGH DAMS AND RESERVOIRS FOR IRRIGATION WILL HELP THE TERRITORY, IT WON'T SOLVE THE PROBLEM COMPLETELY. COMPLETE SOLUTION FOR PUERTO RICO, LIES IN INDUSTRIALIZATION.

B15WX

"THERE HAS BEEN QUITE A SURGE OF INTEREST IN DEVELOPING ALASKA. MINING, FISHING, TIMBERING AND TOURISTS ARE OF PRIMARY IMPORTANCE THERE, BUT NO ECONOMY CAN DEVELOP WITHOUT A SOUND AGRICULTURAL BASE. ALASKA HAS A LONG AND EXPENSIVE HAUL FOR FOOD, AND ANYTHING WE CAN DO TO STIMULATE HER FOOD PRODUCTION WILL BE OF GREAT BENEFIT."

WARNE SAID THE RECLAMATION BUREAU INVESTIGATED THE MOLOKAI PROJECT IN 1938 AND FOUND IT PRACTICAL. IT CALLS FOR CONSTRUCTION OF A TUNNEL FROM THE RAIN SLOPES OF THE ISLAND TO THE DRY SIDE, TO IRRIGATE CROP FARMS.

A RECLAMATION BUREAU TEAM, OPERATING WITH FUNDS ADVANCED BY THE TERRITORIAL GOVERNMENT, CURRENTLY IS SURVEYING THE WAIMEA PROJECT, WARNE ADDED.

PUERTO RICO'S LAJAS VALLEY PROJECT, ALSO INVOLVING A TUNNEL THROUGH MOUNTAINS FROM THE RAINY TO THE DRY SIDE, IS A MULTIPLE PURPOSE VENTURE WHICH MIGHT WELL BE DEVELOPED QUICKLY TO REGULATE STREAMS AND PROVIDE POWER AND A MUNICIPAL WATER SUPPLY, WARNE SAID.

CHAPMAN ESTIMATED THAT PUERTO RICO, WITH ITS MANY EXCELLENT SITES FOR HYDROELECTRIC PLANTS, COULD TRIPLE ITS POWER PRODUCTION UNDER A RECLAMATION PROGRAM.

"BOTH HAWAII AND PUERTO RICO HAVE CLIMATE AND CONDITIONS THAT REQUIRE CONSERVATION AND CONTROL OF WATER SUPPLY TO GET THE BEST OUT OF THE LAND," WARNE SAID.

CHAPMAN POINTED OUT THAT THE VIRGIN ISLANDS, HANDICAPPED BY INADEQUATE PRECIPITATION, EXCESSIVE WATER RUNOFF AND SOIL EROSION AND BY THE LOWERING OF THE WATER TABLE--PARTICULARLY IN ST.CROIX, AGRICULTURAL CENTER OF THE ISLANDS--ARE DESPERATELY IN NEED OF A RECLAMATION PROGRAM.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 4-(AP)-THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION DEFENDED ITS HOSPITAL CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM TODAY AGAINST CHARGES OF UNNECESSARY DELAY IN A CONFERENCE WITH AMERICAN LEGION CRITICS.

"WE ARE NOT SATISFIED AT THE PROGRESS THAT HAS BEEN MADE, BUT WE FEEL OUR TIME HAS BEEN WELL SPENT.

"A PRINCIPAL DIFFICULTY IS THE INCREASE IN COSTS SINCE VARIOUS HOSPITAL CONSTRUCTION WAS AUTHORIZED. THE PROGRAM IS BEING ATTACKED AGGRESSIVELY AS RAPIDLY AS COSTS AND FACILITIES WILL ALLOW."

WILLIAM R.MCCAULEY, OLNEY, ILL., LEGION DEPARTMENT REHABILITATION CHAIRMAN, SAID THAT IF IT IS TAKING THREE YEARS FROM THE TIME HOSPITALS ARE AUTHORIZED UNTIL CONTRACTS ARE LET, CONGRESS SHOULD INVESTIGATE THE SITUATION.

"IF AN ATOMIC BOMB IS NEEDED TO GET HOSPITAL CONSTRUCTION GOING, LET'S DROP AN ATOMIC BOMB," HE ADDED.

EDWARD LINSKY, HARRISBURG, PA., PENNSYLVANIA LEGION DEPARTMENT ADJUTANT, ASKED DRYDEN: "HOW MANY VA HOSPITALS WERE BUILT IN PENNSYLVANIA DURING THE LAST YEAR?" CALIFORNIA DELEGATES ASKED WHEN CONSTRUCTION WOULD BEGIN ON THE 1,000-BED LIVERMORE HOSPITAL AUTHORIZED DEC. 17, 1943, AND THE SAN FERNANDO VA HOSPITAL AUTHORIZED IN 1945.

DRYDEN SAID THESE AND OTHER QUESTIONS WILL BE ANSWERED AFTER THEY ARE SUBMITTED IN WRITING.

"WE IN BROOKLYN HAVE BEEN WAITING FOR VA TO START BUILDING A HOSPITAL FOR MORE THAN A YEAR AND A HALF," SAID JOSEPH P.PICCIRILLO OF NEW YORK CITY.

"ONE 2,000-BED HOSPITAL HAS TO CARE FOR 2,800 PATIENTS BECAUSE OF THE SHORTAGE."

DRYDEN ANSWERED SEVERAL QUESTIONERS AFFIRMATIVELY:

FRESNO, CALIF.--BIDS FOR THE HOSPITAL AUTHORIZED MORE THAN A YEAR AGO PROBABLY WILL BE LET, NOT LATER THAN MAY.

SEATTLE--FINAL PLANNING STAGE; CONTRACT PROBABLY WILL BE LET EARLY NEXT FALL.

MAR 1947

NEWARK, N.J.--ADVANCED PLANNING STAGE; ADVERTISING FOR BIDS TENTATIVELY SCHEDULED FOR JULY 1.

DRYDEN SAID VA HAS BEEN RECONSIDERING PROPOSED CONSTRUCTION OF HOSPITAL ADDITIONS WHICH HAVE BEEN AUTHORIZED, AND HAS DECIDED TO GO AHEAD WITH THEM DESPITE COST INCREASES. IT WILL HAVE A FINAL REPORT ON SIX OR EIGHT PROPOSED ADDITIONS WITHIN 15 DAYS.

DRYDEN SAID THE ACTUAL CONSTRUCTION OF A 1,000-BED HOSPITAL TAKES ABOUT TWO YEARS.

NEW YORK, MARCH 4-(AP)-TALK OF FUTURE WARS AND OF THE NEED FOR STRONG STANDING ARMIES OVERSHADOWED MENTION OF THE ROLE OF THE UNITED NATIONS--THE WORLD'S PEACE ORGANIZATION--IN A DISCUSSION TONIGHT OF INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS BY FOUR PUBLIC FIGURES.

ADDRESSING THE SIXTH ANNUAL DINNER OF THE OVERSEAS PRESS CLUB OF AMERICA AT THE WALDORF ASTORIA HOTEL, THE SPEAKERS, WHOSE REMARKS WERE BROADCAST NATIONALLY, WERE:

WARREN R.AUSTIN, UNITED STATES REPRESENTATIVE ON THE UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL; HECTOR MCNEIL, BRITISH MINISTER OF STATE AND CHIEF OF THE UNITED KINGDOM DELEGATION TO THE UNITED NATIONS ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL; U.S.SENATOR CHAN GURNEY (R-S.D.) CHAIRMAN OF THE SENATE'S ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE, AND ROBERT R.YOUNG, CHAIRMAN OF THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD.

ANDREI I.GROMYKO, PERMANENT RUSSIAN DELEGATE TO THE UNITED NATIONS, WAS INVITED TO SPEAK BUT DECLINED.

GURNEY, ASSERTING THAT "THE UNITED NATIONS CANNOT NOW GUARANTEE OUR SECURITY," URGED COMPULSORY PEACETIME TRAINING AND SAID THAT SUCH A PROGRAM "IS A STARK MILITARY NECESSITY" FOR UNITED STATES SECURITY.

THE SENATOR'S PROPOSAL WAS SUPPORTED BY YOUNG, WHO ALSO SUGGESTED THAT CHANGES BE MADE IN THE UNITED NATIONS CHARTER TO "HALT THE DRIFT TO A NEW EARTH-SHATTERING WAR."

"IT WOULD BE SUICIDAL TO ASSUME THAT IN FUTURE WARS, AS IN THE PAST, THERE WILL BE A TIME TO TRAIN OUR MEN AFTER THE CONFLICT STARTS," GURNEY SAID. "THE PEARL HARBOR OF THE FUTURE WILL BE A FUSILLADE OF ATOMIC BOMBS SCREECHING EARTHWARD FROM PLANES TRAVELING AT SUPERSONIC SPEEDS."

THE UNITED NATIONS, YOUNG ADDED, UNDER "TRADITIONAL ADVANTAGE-SEEKING DIPLOMACY X X X SEEMS TO HAVE BECOME NO MORE EFFECTIVE THAN A SALON. IN THIS NO-MAN'S LAND, THE FOUR FREEDOMS ARE TO BRIBE, TO COERCE, TO VETO AND TO WITHDRAW."

AUSTIN PREDICTED THAT THE UNITED STATES AND RUSSIA "SOONER OR LATER X X X WILL REACH AGREEMENT" ON INTERNATIONAL CONTROL OF ATOMIC ENERGY IN THEIR DISCUSSIONS WITHIN THE UNITED NATIONS.

BUT HE SAID THAT THE UNITED STATES MUST USE ALL PROCESSES OF CONCILIATION AND ORGANIZED COOPERATION WITHIN THE WORLD PEACE ORGANIZATION AND "MUST SEEK BY OUR POLICIES TO REMOVE FEAR IN OTHERS AND REPLACE IT BY CONFIDENCE."

MCNEIL ASSERTED THAT GREAT BRITAIN IS DETERMINED TO USE THE MACHINERY OF THE UNITED NATIONS AS THE BASIS OF HER FOREIGN POLICY.

HE SAID THAT EUROPE, TROUBLED AND PERPLEXED AFTER THE WAR, "LOOKS WESTWARDS TOWARDS GREAT BRITAIN FOR GUIDANCE--FOR TOLERATION IN GOVERNMENT. FOR A MIDDLE WAY IN LIVING. FOR A PATTERN OF SOCIETY IN

GURNEY DESCRIBED THE "ACTUAL DEFENSE ESTABLISHMENT" OF THE UNITED STATES NOW AS "BUT A FRAGILE SHELL" AND SAID THE FIRST NECESSITY OF A SECURITY PROGRAM IS "A PERMANENT AGENCY OF GOVERNMENT--A NATIONAL SECURITY AGENCY--ABOVE THE LEVEL OF OUR WAR AND NAVY DEPARTMENTS, TO INTEGRATE THE MILITARY AND FOREIGN POLICY OF THE UNITED STATES WITH PLANS FOR COMPLETE MOBILIZATION OF OUR SCIENTIFIC, INDUSTRIAL AND MANPOWER RESOURCES."

THE SENATOR SAID THAT INCLUDED IN SUCH A PROGRAM WOULD BE "A WORLD-WIDE INTELLIGENCE SYSTEM, A COMPREHENSIVE PLAN FOR ECONOMIC PREPAREDNESS, SUPREMACY IN SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT, AND A PROPERLY UNIFIED ARMY AND NAVY."

GURNEY SAW THIS PICTURE OF WORLD CONDITIONS:

"NO MAJOR PEACE TREATIES HAVE BEEN SIGNED X X X THE EMBERS OF WAR SMOULDER IN CHINA. WE KNOW THAT RUSSIA MAINTAINS A JUGGERNAUT OF AT LEAST 4,000,000 SOLDIERS WHICH COULD OVERRUN ALL OF EUROPE. WE KNOW THAT MASS STARVATION X X X IS PREVALENT."

IN THE FACE OF THIS, THE SENATOR EXPRESSED FEAR "THAT IN OUR PRECIPITIOUS DASH TO A NEBULOUS NORMALCY WE ARE FLEEING FROM A CHALLENGE AS GREAT, OR GREATER, THAN WE FACED IN DECEMBER, 1941"--THE ATTACK ON PEARL HARBOR.

YOUNG ADVOCATED THAT THE UNITED NATIONS BE TRANSFORMED "FROM A LABYRINTH OF OUT-DATED DIPLOMACY INTO A COURT HAVING THE POWER TO MAKE DECISIONS AND ENFORCE THEM," AND SAID THAT IF RUSSIA REFUSED TO GO ALONG, THEN THE REASON FOR THIS REFUSAL SHOULD BE FOUND AND REMOVED.

HE SUGGESTED THAT THE CHARTER OF THE INTERNATIONAL PEACE ORGANIZATION BE AMENDED "TO ACCOMPLISH GENERAL AND UNIVERSAL DISARMAMENT;" TO CREATE A COURT OF WORLD INSPECTION AND ENFORCEMENT TO PREVENT REARMAMENT, AND TO DEPRIVE MEMBER STATES OF THE RIGHT TO SECEDE SO LONG AS THESE POWERS WERE HELD WITHIN THE LIMITS OF SECURITY.

AUSTIN ARGUED THAT THE UNITED STATES MUST MAINTAIN ITS ECONOMIC STRENGTH IN THE INTEREST OF WORLD PEACE, AND SAID THAT THIS NATION TO MAINTAIN ITS MILITARY POWER MUST AVOID "ANY UNILATERAL DISARMAMENT" AND MUST INSTITUTE A SYSTEM OF UNIVERSAL MILITARY TRAINING.

HE ALSO URGED "BUSINESS-LIKE INVESTMENT" OF AMERICAN CAPITAL OVERSEAS, A CONTINUED POLICY OF REDUCING TRADE BARRIERS--AND EXTENSION, "FOR THIS YEAR AT LEAST," OF "CONTINUED DIRECT RELIEF TO SOME COUNTRIES."

"THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE IN WASHINGTON WOULD NOT DISCLOSE DR. BORCHERS' ADDRESS BUT SAID HE WAS LIVING IN THE CAPITAL," THE TIMES SAYS. "IT REPORTED THAT HE HAD COME HERE AS A VOLUNTARY WITNESS FOR THE TRIAL MARCH 10 OF DOUGLAS MAC COLLUM STEWART, PUBLISHER OF SCRIBNER'S COMMENTATOR AND OF A PROPAGANDA SHEET, THE LAKE GENEVA HERALD.

"STEWART, WHO ONCE TESTIFIED UNDER OATH THAT HE RECEIVED NO MONEY FROM THE GERMAN EMBASSY, IS TO BE TRIED ON A PERJURY CHARGE SINCE HERBERT VON STREMPEL, FORMER SECRETARY OF THE EMBASSY, DECLARES THAT STEWART DID RECEIVE FUNDS."

Russia Bars Atom Plan, Gromyko Says Controls Threaten Red Economy

MONOPOLY AIM CHARGED BY RUSSIAN

Security Council Told Economic Interference Would Result

F. CARPENTER

Lake Success, N.Y., March 5 (AP). Andrei A. Gromyko charged today that the United States' world atomic plan was directed against the independence of other countries and said the bitterly contested veto issue could be no obstacle to effective control of atomic energy.

The Soviet delegate to the United Nations Security Council contended, in the most violent attack he has yet made on the American proposals, that the United States wants to maintain a monopoly on atomic energy. He spoke in English for an hour and 18 minutes and made it clear that Russia had not budged an inch in its opposition to the United States plan.

Cannot Turn Over Economy

The Security Council heard Gromyko declare that:

1. The Soviet Union could not turn its national economy over to a proposed international control agency.

2. One country (obviously the United States) was trying to hold onto its monopoly in atomic energy.

3. Unlimited control of atomic energy by an international authority, as proposed by the United States, would mean "unlimited interference" in the affairs of any country.

Veto Ascribed To U.S.

4. The veto in the Security Council, which the United States insists must not apply on atomic control, was established in the United Nations by United States initiative and not by Russia.

He said that President Roosevelt especially took the lead in writing the veto into the United Nations Charter.

The Security Council adjourned to give the delegates time to study Gromyko's declaration. It will meet Friday to continue discussion of the United States request for trusteeship over Japanese-mandated islands in the Pacific and will take up atomic energy again next Monday.

Canadian Representative Present

Gromyko began speaking at 3.27 P.M. (E.S.T.) and spoke slowly from a 27-page text until 4.45 P.M. while the remainder of the Security Council delegates, plus Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canada's representative on the United Nations Atomic Commission, listened closely

Gromyko said there had been little comment on his proposals for a convention outlawing atomic bombs immediately and a later convention setting up atomic controls.

Then he demanded that the bomb must be abolished now, declaring that such a convention would strengthen the authority of the United Nations.

Rejects American Proposal

He said Russia stood for inspections under control organizations set up within the framework of the Security Council. He thus rejected completely the United States plan for an atomic development authority with full powers of inspection and control of atomic matters everywhere.

He said the "unlimited control" advocated by the United States on atomic energy would mean "unlimited interference" in affairs of other countries and said that the broad powers of inspection asked by the United States was one of the serious faults of the United States plan.

Gromyko contended that an international control system having complete power over a plant, its output and other features would mean ownership, which he said was not acceptable to Russia.

On the veto, he said there was no chance for agreement until other nations changed their views, which he contended were contrary to the Charter.

He apparently struck at the United States' insistence that there must be no veto on the atom, particularly in applying punishment to nations or individuals violating an atomic pact.

The Security Council was debating an American proposal to refer the atomic issue back to the Atomic Energy Commission with instructions to try again to reach a settlement and to draft a treaty. This would include the commission's December report, based largely on the United States plan, the Russian proposals advanced last month by Gromyko, and comments of various delegates in debate.

Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, of Brazil, presided for the first time as chairman.

N Y TIMES MAR 1947

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 5—Following are extracts from a statement by Andrei A. Gromyko, the Soviet representative before the Security Council, today:

The discussion of the report of the Atomic Energy Commission in the Security Council was useful in the respect that the attitude of individual states became still clearer toward the questions on which there is no difference of opinion as well as toward the questions on which the agreement has still not been reached.

At the same time it is necessary to point out that no noticeable progress has yet been made in reaching an agreement on a number of important questions of atomic energy control. The proposals submitted on these questions by the Soviet delegation so far have not been subjected to a due consideration. * * *

In speaking about the important questions and proposals, I have in mind, first of all, the question of the conclusion of a convention for the prohibition of atomic and other major weapons of mass destruction, and the Soviet proposal on this subject.

[Mr. Gromyko then quoted a Soviet amendment declaring that the Security Council recognizes that it is "urgent to consider draft conventions on the prohibition of atomic and other major weapons adaptable to mass destruction."]

Charges Deliberate Delays

The Soviet delegation on the Atomic Energy Commission already drew the attention to the necessity of solving these tasks as far back as in June, 1946, when the commission was just beginning its work. Unfortunately, it is necessary to state that the solution of this task is still being delayed under various pretexts having nothing in common with the real interests and purposes of the United Nations.

We are still being told that atomic weapons cannot be prohibited until the Soviet Union accepts the American proposals on the question of the control of atomic energy. Such a posing of the question, at the basis of which lies a desire to dictate to other member-states of the United Nations the terms which one country is trying to impose with the purpose of strengthening its monopoly position in the field of atomic energy, cannot conform with the interests of an urgent and successful solution of the problems on the establishment of atomic energy control.

It is necessary to pay tribute to the frankness of the authors and advocates of such a plan who do not conceal that they identify the interests of the United Nations in this field with the interests of one country by subordinating the interests of other countries to the narrowly understood national interests of this one country.

The statements of the American representatives in the Atomic Energy Commission and later in the Security Council and, in particular, the statements by Senator Austin, whom I greatly respect, on the readiness and willingness to establish an international control of atomic energy for ensuring its use only for peaceful purposes, and the American proposals themselves lead us away from the solution of the most important and urgent problems connected with the working out of the questions of control.

The United States representatives decisively object to the conclusion of a convention on the prohibition of atomic weapons, though it is not difficult to understand that the urgent conclusion of this very convention is imperatively dictated by the whole situation. It is dictated by the nature of the atomic weapon itself as a weapon of aggression. It is dictated by the fact that at the present time atomic energy is still being used only for military purposes.

It is dictated by the fact that there are no objectively existing obstacles, especially in the light of the available historical examples of the prohibition of poisonous and suffocating gases, analogous liquids and bacteriological means of warfare.

The only obstacle for the conclusion of such a convention is the desire of one country to impose its will in questions of atomic energy on other countries, regardless of their legitimate interests.

Sees No Hope in U. S. Plan

Is it possible to consider that the way outlined in the American proposals will lead us to a successful solution of the problem of atomic energy control to ensure its use only for peaceful purposes? No, this cannot be said.

Without the conclusion of a convention on the prohibition of atomic weapons one cannot speak seriously about rigid international control for the establishment of which the Soviet Union stood and is standing now. Without the conclusion of such a convention it will be difficult, if not impossible, to solve the problem of the establishment of such a rigid control.

The prohibition of atomic weapons as well as all other weapons of mass destruction should constitute by itself the first important stage in the fulfillment of the General Assembly decision mentioned above. It would correspond to the fundamental interests of all peace-loving peoples.

The necessity of an urgent solution of the problem of the prohibition of atomic weapons which are the weapons of aggression and constitute a threat, first of all, to the civilian population, is also dictated by the ancient traditions of mankind, proving to us that even at early stages of the development of civilization, certain moral norms had been already formed according to which it was considered a crime to exterminate a peaceful population in war. For centuries the following saying, "May the blood of women, children and old men not stain your victory," was popular among many peoples. Not a few instructive examples can be found in the history of the Middle Ages.

Let us hope that our organization of the United Nations created in the twentieth century will successfully compete in this respect with the morals of the ancients and the Middle Ages. * * *

In my statement of Feb. 14 of this year I already drew the attention of the Security Council to the fact that the conclusion of a convention on the prohibition of atomic weapons would not mean that the working out of other questions, including that of inspection, should not be continued. However, the consideration of all the questions related to the establishments of atomic energy control will inevitably require some time, and, in view of this, the postponement of the conclusion of a convention on the prohibition of atomic weapons cannot be justified.

The conclusion of such a convention, besides the fact that it should represent a concrete and practical step toward the fulfillment of the General Assembly decision of Dec. 14, 1946, would create more favorable conditions for the solution of other questions following from the General Assembly resolution, to say nothing of the fact that the conclusion of such a convention would contribute to the strengthening of the mutual confidence among the member-states of the United Nations and to the strengthening of the authority of our organization. * * *

There are other important questions on which it is necessary to reach an agreement in connection with the consideration of the whole problem of the establishment of the control of atomic energy. * * * It is necessary to have a definite and clear idea as to how to understand the control itself and some of its important aspects. It is necessary for us to come to understanding on this question as up to now the authors of certain proposals interpret the international control in a rather peculiar way.

Quotes Stalin on Control

The Soviet delegation deems it necessary to recall that the position of the Soviet Government on the question of the international control of atomic energy was clearly expressed by Generalissimo Stalin. Answering the corresponding question of Mr. Hugh Baillie, president of the American agency of The United Press, Generalissimo Stalin stated on Oct. 23, 1946, that "a strict international control is necessary." * * *

At the last session of the General Assembly the Soviet delegation, in the person of its head, Minister for Foreign Affairs of the U.S.S.R., V. M. Molotov, and later the Soviet representative on the Atomic Energy Commission and on the Security Council have also clarified the position of the U.S.S.R. on questions of inspection, without which, as is clear, no strict, effective and real international control is thinkable.

Effective inspection is a necessary component part of the system of international control. I have considered it necessary to make this additional explanation, since the position of the Soviet Union on this question is often presented in the wrong light and sometimes even distorted outright.

Sometimes one may hear statements that as if the Soviet Union were against strong international control and against effective inspection. Such statements have absolutely no basis and are evidently calculated to mislead public opinion as to the real position of the Soviet Union on this important question.

One may ask, what is the difference between the position of the Soviet Union and the proposals submitted some time ago to the Atomic Energy Commission by the representative of the United States and laid down as a basis of the report of the Atomic Energy Commission, which is under our consideration? I have already pointed out one of the most important differences while speaking about the necessity of an urgent conclusion of a convention for the prohibition of atomic weapons, which is not provided for by the American proposals. However, there is a difference in some other respects, and it is an essential difference.

The position of the Soviet Union on the questions of the control of atomic energy and inspection is clear. Strict international control and inspection of atomic energy should be established. At the same time this strict international control and strict inspection should not develop into interference with those branches of industry which are not connected with the production of atomic energy. The international control of atomic energy should not deal with those questions which are not connected with atomic energy.

The transformation of atomic energy control into an unlimited control would mean to reduce to an absurdity the very idea of control of atomic energy in order to prevent its use for military purposes. Unlimited control would mean an unlimited interference of the control and controlling organ (or organs) in the economic life of the countries on whose territories this control will be carried out, and interference in their internal affairs. This is not requfred of us by the fulfilment of the tasks set forth by the United Nations in the field of atomic energy control and prohibition of atomic weapons.

Such a conception of the international control, as is presented to us in the proposals of the United States, and which lies at the basis of the appropriate sections of the report of the Atomic Energy Commission may only complicate the entire matter of organizing the control and inspection, since, as I have already pointed out, it would mean a crude interference of the control organ in the internal affairs of states, in their economic life, which cannot be compatible with the basic principles of the United Nations.

I draw your attention to the fact that many atomic scientists fully realize the defects of the proposals on granting to control organs the right of interference in the internal life and internal affairs of the nations. In this connection the statement by the council of the British Atomic Scientists' Association, published on January 20, 1947, deserves serious attention. In this statement a number of provisions of the so-called Baruch Plan were subjected to criticism. In particular, the British scientists have revealed the defects on the proposal on inspection.

As you see, the atomic scientists consider that the proposal on inspection, providing the control organs with excessively broad powers in the field of inspection, is one of the serious faults in the American plan.

The United States proposals on control proceed from the erroneous premise that the interests of other states should be removed to the background during the exercise by the control organ of its control and inspectorial functions. Only by proceeding from such fundamentally vicious premises was it possible to come to the conclusion contained in the proposals submitted to the Atomic Energy Commission by the United States representative on the necessity of transferring atomic enterprises to the possession of the international organ which is to be charged with responsibility for the realization of control.

Says U. S. Would Dominate

A proposal of this sort shows that the authors of the so-called Baruch Plan completely ignored national interests of other countries and proceed from the necessity of subordinating the interests of these countries to the interests actually of one country, that is, the United States of America.

It is easy to understand that granting such rights to control organs would mean a complete arbitrariness of these organs and, first of all, of those who would be in a position to command a majority in these organs. Granting such rights to the control organs would give an easy opportunity for interference in activities of the enterprises on the territory of one or another country without any grounds for such interference.

[Mr. Gromyko then quoted the following statement from a statement to the Atomic Energy Commission on June 14, 1946, by Bernard M. Baruch, the former United States representative: "The [atomic] authority should set up a thorough plan for control of the field of atomic energy, through various forms of ownership, dominion, licenses, operation, inspection, research and management by competent personnel."

In the same statement of the United States representative, obviously for softening, it is stated that after an international control organ solves the tasks enumerated above in the field of ownership, dominion, licenses and so on * * * "There should be as little interference as may be with the economic plans and the present private, corporate and state relationships in the several countries involved."

Thus, interference of the control organ in the internal life of the country is definitely provided for. The reservation that in future there should be some limitation to this interference does not change the situation, since this is is not the main point.

The tasks of the control organ which is entrusted with ownership, licensing and with a number of other functions are, as it were, identified with the tasks of international syndicates and trusts, the role and influence of which upon international relations and upon the economics of individual countries are well known.

Sees Trust Creation as Aim

It was not for the creation of international syndicates and trusts, which would possess the establishments, located on the territory of individual countries, that the Atomic Energy Commission was established. It was not for this that the General Assembly decided on December 14, 1946, on the necessity of establishing atomic energy control and on prohibiting atomic weapons. It is time to understand that one cannot approach the solution of such questions, guided only by the interests of one country—it is necessary to take into consideration the legitimate interests of other countries as well.

One cannot imagine such a situation in which a control organ would possess establishments in different countries, decide the questions whether to allow or not to allow the creation of such establishments on the territories of these or other countries and would have the exclusive right to carry on scientific research in the field of the production and use of atomic energy.

It is impossible to imagine such a situation. Only people who have lost the sense of reality can seriously believe in the possibility of creating such arrangements. * * *

[Mr. Gromyko then gave the following quotation from Mr. Baruch's statement last June that the control organ "should control and operate all plants, producing fissionable materials in dangerous quantities and must own and control the product of these plants."]

In this provision the idea of the necessity of turning the control organ into a peculiar international trust is brought almost to its logical conclusion. It turns out that the control organ should also control and direct the work of all the plants and possess the product of these plants.

It remains only to add to such a proposal the further suggestion that the international control organ should share profits of establishments under its management in accordance with the quantity of shares belonging to one or another country. Then the picture will be complete.

The idea of granting to the international control organ the right to possess establishments, to permit or not to permit this or that country to construct establishments, the right to possess the product of establishments, the exclusive right for scientific research, etc., contained in the proposals of the United States finds its reflection in the report of the Atomic Energy Commission as well, though in a somewhat veiled form. * * *

I draw attention especially to the fact that the commission considers that management is the direct power and authority to take day-by-day decision governing operations as well as responsibility for planning. These are plainly elements of the right of ownership.

I draw the attention of the Security Council also to the fact that, according to the finding contained in the report, management is normally a prerogative of ownership. It is true that in the same part of the report it is stated that management "need not imply ownership." However, these reservations, which apparently have been inserted to soften the main thesis, do not change the meaning of this paragraph and of the idea expressed in it.

which is thoroughly vicious and unacceptable.

The thesis formulated in the above-mentioned statement by the American representative at the first meeting of the Atomic Energy Commission is reproduced in essence in the report of the Atomic Energy Commission. * * *

I have already pointed out that the proposal on granting to an international control organ the right to possess establishments for the production of atomic energy and unlimited power to carry out other important functions connected with the ownership and management of the establishments and with the disposition of their production would lead to interference by the control organ in the internal affairs and internal life of states and eventually would lead to arbitrary action by the control organ in the solution of such problems as fall completely within the domestic jurisdiction of a state.

I deem it necessary to emphasize that granting broad rights and powers of such a kind to the control organ is incompatible with the state sovereignty. Therefore, such proposals are unacceptable and must be rejected as unfounded.

Various unconvincing arguments are cited to prove that allegedly only by granting such rights and powers to the control organ is it possible to establish a system of international control. Thorough acquaintance with the above-mentioned proposals shows that this thesis, by references to control, only covers up a striving to obtain the right of interference in the economic life of countries as will be required by the interests even of the majority of the control organ.

In speeches by representatives of some states in the Atomic Energy Commission and the Security Council as well as in speeches by numerous "experts," who appeared recently in great numbers, on the problems of international control of atomic energy, the question is very often asked: "How does the Soviet Union conceive the carrying out by the control organ of practical day-by-day activities and how shall this organ take decision relating to such day-by-day activities?"

For Some Majority Decisions

The position of the Soviet Union on this question has already been stated more than once. If it is necessary, I am prepared to repeat that such an organ must have the right to take, in appropriate cases, decisions by majority vote.

Does this mean, however, that it is possible by using references to international control to agree in reality to granting the right of interference in the economic life of a country even through the decision of the majority in the control organ? The Soviet Union does not wish and cannot allow such a situation.

The Soviet Union is aware that there will be a majority in the control organs which may take one-sided decisions, a majority on whose benevolent attitude toward the Soviet Union the Soviet people cannot count. Therefore, the Soviet Union, and probably not only the Soviet Union, cannot allow that the fate of its national economy be handed over to this organ.

The correctness of such a conclusion is confirmed by historical experience, including the brief but very instructive experience of the activities of the United Nations organs. The Soviet delegation does not doubt that all those who objectively appraise the situation will correctly understand the position of the Soviet Union on this question.

Hence it follows that while creating an international organ of atomic energy and organizing inspection, it is necessary to have a strict regulation of rights and duties of the control organ, excluding arbitrariness and unlimited rights. Such regulation cannot be an obstacle to the establishment of a strict and effective control, for carrying out strict and effective inspection. Rather on the contrary! Strictly defined rights and functions of a control organ will allow it to exercise more precisely and regularly its control and inspection functions. In such a situation, there will be no place for interference of control organs in the economic life of a country.

Strict regulation of powers and duties of a control organ should exclude the unlimited access for inspection purposes to all equipment and operations, an access which is now provided for in the report of the Atomic Energy Commission, and should also exclude granting to inspection the right to shut down plants, to interfere with normal mining and milling operations and granting it the right of giving so-called licenses, that is, the permission to conduct definite activities on definite conditions, etc. Regulation of the activities of the control organs will exclude similar actions, which are described in such detail in the so-called first report on safeguards, contained in the report of the Atomic Energy Commission.

In reality to grant to the control organ unlimited rights and possession and management of the atomic establishments, cannot be looked upon as anything but an attempt by the United States to secure for itself world monopoly in the field of atomic energy. This tendency has found its expression in the proposals submitted by the representative of the United States on the Atomic Energy Commission and later laid down at the basis of the report of the Atomic Energy Commission. * * *

The adoption of such proposals, as well as the plan of the atomic energy control as a whole, submitted some time ago by the representative of the United States is in contradiction with the basic economic and national interests of other states, for this plan is directed against their economic independence. It is directed against the independence of other states. The situation is not altered by the fact that such a proposal even finds support.

I have already had an opportunity to state the point of view of the Soviet delegation on the question of principle of unanimity of the five powers—permanent members of the Security Council, in connection with the discussion of the questions of the atomic energy control. The Soviet delegation considers that it will be impossible to reach an agreement on this question as long as the unacceptable proposal on the question of the so-called "veto" is defended, since such a proposal is in contradiction with the principles of the United Nations.

I have also pointed out that there seems to be no difference of opinion among us on the question of the necessity of punishing violators, and there was not any on this subject. All agree that certain sanction measures should be applied against violators, if their guilt is proved. There is a divergence of opinions as to how and who should take decisions on sanctions. Should such decisions be taken in accordance with the basic principles of the United Nations or in violation of these principles?

The Soviet delegation considers that such decisions should be taken in strict conformity with the basic principles of our organization and should be taken by the organ which is charged with the primary responsibility for the maintenance of peace, that is, by the Security Council. The principle of unanimity of the five powers as such is not an obstacle to the effective control of atomic energy, no matter how someone tries to prove the opposite.

It is sometimes said that the proposals on the "veto" question, contained in the American plan, did not touch the principle of unanimity of the five powers as such. Attempts are being made to prove this by the argument that the states themselves, according to the convention, should give up this right. Besides, it is pointed out that after an appropriate convention is concluded nobody should have the right of "veto," which might hinder the realization of this convention.

The same question remains as to whether the decisions on sanctions, after the conclusion of an appropriate convention, are to be taken by the Security Council, in which the principle of unanimity operates or by the control organ in which nobody will have the right of "veto." That is why the American proposals, in fact, affect the general question of the principle of unanimity in the Security Council.

Is Soviet Union Alone?

Since this is so, and since someone and, first of all, the representatives of the United States are trying to represent the situation in such a way that it appears as if the Soviet Union alone of the five powers is interested in preserving the right of "veto," the Soviet delegation considers it necessary to touch this question once again.

The "veto" was established not on the initiative of the Soviet Union but on the initiative of the United States of America, in particular of the late President Roosevelt and also of the former Prime Minister of Great Britain, Mr. Churchill. Thus, the initiators of the "veto" were the United States and Great Britain. The Soviet Union supported the proposal of President Roosevelt because it considered that the principle of unanimity of great powers corresponds to the interests of the maintenance of peace.

At the Dumbarton Oaks conference, where for the first time the principal questions of the creation of the United Nations were subjected to thorough discussion, the principle of unanimity of five Powers was supported by all the participants. At the conference not only there was no difference of opinion on this question, but in general no one of its participants even dared to think that there might be some other solution of the question.

This conference failed to reach a decision only on the question of the application of the principle of unanimity in cases when the Security Council takes decisions on matters in which one or more of the great powers are involved, in connection with peaceful settlement. At the Dumbarton Oaks conference final agreement on this question was not reached.

However, the great powers—the initiators of the creation of the United Nations organization—even after the conference, continued to seek a voting formula satisfactory to all of them. The United States Government also continued such attempts.

As a result, at the Crimea conference in Yalta an appropriate formula was proposed by the late President Roosevelt, which was approved unanimously. I emphasize—that the proposed formula was unanimously approved by all the participants of the Crimea conference and later at the San Francisco conference it was included in the United Nations Charter as Article 27 of Chapter V.

[Mr. Gromyko then read the statement by Edward R. Stettinius, United States representative at the San Francisco Conference, proposing the great powers voting formula which became Article 27 of the United Nations Charter.]

I draw the attention of the Security Council particularly to the following provisions of this document:

(1) Paragraph 2 (A) of the section "The Analysis of the American Proposal." The paragraph states that this proposal is in full conformity with the special responsibility of the great powers for the maintenance of peace, therefore it requires absolute unanimity of the permanent members of the Council on all the most important decisions, including all economic and military sanctions.

(2) Paragraph 3 of the section "justification of American position," the paragraph points out two important elements: (a) The necessity of unanimity among permanent members, and (b) the necessity of providing justice for all members of the organization and also to the conclusion stating that the American proposals give "reasonable and just solution" and combine successfully both of these important considerations.

Notes Churchill's Support

At the Crimea conference during the discussion of this question and, in particular, of the above stated American proposal, the principle of "veto" as well as the American proposal were fully supported by Mr. Churchill. * * *

I hope, that at the present time nobody can have any doubts as to who is the initiator of the proposals on the "veto," and how the matter stood in the discussion of the original proposals on this question. These explanations may be useful at least for those who want to know what the actual state of affairs was when this question was being discussed before it found appropriate expression in the United Nations Charter.

Generalissimo Stalin, the head of the Soviet delegation at the Crimea conference, on behalf of the Soviet Union, agreed with the proposals of Roosevelt and Churchill, since the principle of unanimity of the great powers corresponds to the interests of cooperation among them and to the interests of maintenance of international peace.

One may say: "That was the time of war and the significance of cooperation and of coordinated actions among the great powers was obvious, but at the present time the value of the principle of unanimity among the great powers is not so obvious."

But if the two years period passed since the Crimea conference and the period of a year and a half passed since the San Francisco conference and since the end of the war, have brought for some people doubts on the soundness of this principle, then what is the use of speaking about the prospects of cooperation among the great powers and about the maintenance of international peace in the future?

What other principle can be proposed to us by those, who are sick of the principle of unanimity of the great powers, for the solution of all the important questions involved in the maintenance of peace, including the question of sanctions? What "substitute" can they propose instead of "veto"? Don't they want to draw us back to the ruins of the League of Nations? One may not answer these questions, gentlemen, but we cannot get away from them.

British U.N. Plea On Palestine Held Ready

Lake Success, N.Y., March 5 (AP). Great Britain was reported reliably today to be prepared to toss the complicated Palestine case into the lap of the United Nations without further delay.

Authoritative sources said Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate to the Security Council, might even hand the case to Secretary General Trygve Lie sometime today.

"If not today," one high source said, "it certainly will be turned over to the United Nations within the next couple of days. The British want action."

Procedure Undecided

At the same time, sources within the British delegation said London would accept the appointment of a "fact-finding" commission composed of members of the United Nations to delve into the Holy Land situation.

"We are most anxious to turn the case over to the United Nations," one British source said. "Perhaps it can work out something that will satisfy both the Arabs and the Jews and bring an end to the violence that is now sweeping the Holy Land."

The only thing keeping Britain from formally placing the Palestine case before the United Nations, this informant said, is a decision by Lie on how he thinks the case should be handled.

Data Being Assembled

Informed sources said Arkady Sobolev, assistant secretary general in charge of political affairs, already had directed his aides to begin "pulling together basic, factual material."

This preparation was begun immediately after Lie, in informal talks with representatives of the Big Five, advanced a proposal that a fact-finding commission be set up to draft recommendations before the Assembly meets in September.

Informed quarters said Lie would drop the whole question if any one of the Big Five objected, but that if all accepted he would take formal action to lay his proposal before all 55 members of the United Nations.

This would necessitate communicating immediately with all members by cable and probably would require a week or ten days.

As envisaged by Lie, the commission would be a small informal body, without official status, empowered to hear the views of all parties concerned.

ACHESON CONFIRMS CHOICE OF OSBORN

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—Frederick H. Osborn of New York, former head of the Army's special services division, was named today deputy to Warren R. Austin as United States representative on the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission.

The appointment was announced by Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson. The 46-year-old appointee retired from private business in 1928 to devote his time to scientific interests. He held the rank of major general at the end of the war.

Mr. Acheson also named John C. Ross as Mr. Austin's deputy as United States representative at the seat of the United Nations and Dean Rusk, special assistant to Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, director of the State Department's Office of Special Political Affairs. The office is concerned directly with United States participation in the United Nations.

End Squabbles Or Face Clash Without Aid, Cripps Tells India

T. WILLIAMS 1947 (N)

London, March 5 (AP)—The British Government served notice on India today to settle her religious and political squabbles by June, 1948, or "risk a clash of forces and communities in which we will take no part."

"The facts are hard and difficult, but they have to be faced," Sir Stafford Cripps, since 1942 a kingpin in negotiations for Indian independence, told the House of Commons.

Initiating a two-day debate on the Government's decision to quit India not later than June of next year, Sir Stafford declared:

"We will have to take risks as to the effect of our action upon our own country, upon India and the rest of the world."

Indian Hostility

Indian hostility and the drain on British manpower, he said, make it impossible for Britain to stay in India indefinitely.

Opponents of the Government's Indian policy argued that the subcontinent was being abandoned under conditions offering no hope for its 400,000,000 inhabitants.

Opposing a fixed date for the British withdrawal, Sir John Anderson, Nationalist, declared the Government plan "holds out definite prospect to those who do not like what is going on that, if they can only dig their toes in, a definite point of time will be reached at which they will be free to pursue their own course."

Sir Stafford replied that "the fixing of the date, June, 1948, constitutes an honest and frank acceptance of the facts of the situation and we are convinced that if the Indian parties at once set themselves to the task, they can arrive at a decision upon their new constitution by the date named or, at least agree upon an interim national government to which we can hand over power by that time."

troops."

"Such a decision would entail a definite decision that we should remain in India for at least fifteen to twenty years," Cripps told the House of Commons.

He opened a two-day debate on the Labor Government's plan to leave India to Indians by June, 1948. The debate came on a Government motion asking the House's approval of its decision.

No "Unwilling Partners"

Conservatives have argued that the Government was "abandoning" India under conditions offering no hope for a peaceful and prosperous future for the Indian people.

Sir Stafford, who is president of the British Board of Trade, said the Government had fixed a time limit for British withdrawal, believing that it would give the feuding political parties in India "an opportunity to sink their differences" and agree on the makeup of an independent government.

He reiterated that India would be welcomed as a member of the British Commonwealth, but added: "We do not want unwilling partners."

More Troops Only India Alternative

London, March 5 (AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, a member of the 1946 Cabinet mission to India, said today the only alternative to Britain's decision to quit India would be to strengthen British controls there and "considerably reinforce British

British Forces Will Be Cut 58%

1947 (N)

London, March 5 (AP)—Britain, diverting her citizens to critically needed industrial production, blueprinted plans today for an armed force — soldiers, sailors and airmen—only 42 per cent as big as during her first full year of peace.

Compilation of budget estimates by the Admiralty, Air Ministry and War Office showed that the three armed services would have only 1,772,665 men on their rolls for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1948, compared with 4,202,800 during the year ending this month.

The halving operation on the armed forces showed an apparent budget saving of $1,595,500,000, but each of the ministries pointed out that the actual amount saved would be far in excess of this. New budgets show costs of supply items which previously appeared in the accounts of other ministries.

Today's release of navy estimates showed that the total number of officers, seamen, boys, Royal Marines and Royal Marine Police in 1947-48 would be 192,665, compared with 492,800 the previous year.

Britain To Cut Naval Forces 60 Per Cent

(D) 1947

London, March 5 (AP) — Britain will reduce the Royal Navy 60 per cent this year.

The Admiralty announced today, in its budget estimates for 1947-48, that the total number of naval officers, seamen, boys and Royal Marines would be reduced from the 1946-47 maximum of 492,800 to 192,000 during the twelve months beginning April 1.

Coupled with reductions announced earlier this week by the War Office and Air Ministry, the navy slash will bring an overall reduction of about 2,430,000 in the British land, sea and air forces.

The comparative figures for the three services:

	1946-47	1947-48
Army	2,950,000	1,210,000
Navy	492,800	192,000
Air Force.	760,000	370,000

As a result of the manpower slash Britain's annual bill for the Navy will be reduced from $1,020,300,000 to $786,800,000.

SOVIET MILITARY LEADER NAMED DEPUTY MINISTER

LONDON, March 5 (AP)—Nikolai A. Bulganin, newly appointed successor to Prime Minister Stalin as soviet minister of armed forces, has been named one of the Soviet Union's deputy prime ministers, the Moscow radio announced tonight.

Bulganin was given Stalin's portfolio as minister of the Russian armed forces last Monday because, it was announced, of the pressure of Stalin's "main work."

The title of his new post is vice chairman of the Council of Ministers. Stalin, as chairman of the Council, holds the title of prime minister and the highest post in the Soviet Union. The council's vice chairmen are considered his deputies.

Bulganin Raised To Russ Deputy Premier Rank

S. WILLIAMS

London, March 5 (AP)—Nikolai A. Bulganin, newly appointed successor to Prime Minister Stalin as head of the Soviet armed forces, has been named one of Russia's deputy premiers, the Moscow radio announced tonight.

Bulganin last Monday took over Stalin's portfolio as Minister of the Russian Armed Forces because of the pressure on Stalin of his "main work."

That change was interpreted as meaning that Russian emphasis was shifting more and more to postwar reconstruction. Stalin had assumed the burden of directing the armed forces at the beginning of the war.

Deputy Roles Shared

Among the several other deputy premiers are Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov; A[illegible] and A. I. Mikoyan, Minister for Foreign Trade.

Bulganin's admission among the select may mark him as one of the men high in the running for succession to the aging Stalin—a job which many observers have said might be handed on to Molotov.

Britain Appoints Gaines Ambassador to Poland

LONDON, March 5 (AP).—The Foreign Office announced tonight that Sir Donald St. Clair Gainer, British Ambassador to Brazil, has been appointed Ambassador to Poland, succeeding Victor F. W. Cavendish-Bentinck. Cavendish-Bentinck was named two weeks ago to Gainer's post at Rio de Janeiro.

Cavendish - Bentinck's transfer came after a defendant in a Warsaw treason trial mentioned him in what the prosecution described as a plot against the Polish government. The British government denied the implication that he had plotted against the Warsaw regime.

A Foreign Office spokesman said on Jan. 30 that Cavendish-Bentinck would be withdrawn from Warsaw shortly and added, "He has been promoted." A spokesman said today the transfer did involve a promotion for Cavendish-Bentinck but "it is not a demotion for Gainer." He did not explain.

Policy On U.S. Aid In Greece Unclear

London, March 5 (AP)—C. P. Mayhew, Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs, declined in the House of Commons today to make clear Britain's position on any use of American money to war against Leftist guerrillas in Greece.

A Leftist Laborite, W. N. Warbey, asked Mayhew if he would say whether Britain was "unalterably opposed to the use of financial assistance for this purpose."

Mayhew replied: "Discussions are in progress and the purpose for which the assistance would be given are under discussion."

He did not say exactly who had the question under discussion, but previously he had referred to British-American talks regarding assistance for Greece.

Pravda Labels U.S. Pact 'Camouflage'

1947

London, March 5 (AP)—Pravda, the Communist party newspaper in Moscow, asked today whether an American-Canadian agreement for continued defense collaboration was not in reality "camouflage" for a British-American alliance.

The Russian newspaper, in an article broadcast by the Moscow radio, said:

"Does not a military alliance of a great power, the U.S.A., with a relatively weak country, Canada, camouflage the existence of another alliance, an alliance between two great powers—Great Britain and the United States—an alliance extremely convenient for its participants owing to the absence of any formal evidence, which makes possible a legal evasion of parliamentary control?

"Conjecture Fortified"

"The likelihood of that conjecture is fortified by the recent conclusion of the Anglo-American agreement on collaboration in the sphere of aviation, as well as reports published in the press on the agreement on the standardization of arms."

In another broadcast, the Moscow radio quoted a Pravda correspondent in Paris as saying a British-French arms standardization agreement was being negotiated in London by French General de Tassigny.

"It is alleged that the British are hastening these negotiations, which, it is said, are connected with the general negotiations on the Anglo-French alliance," said the broadcast.

British Empire To Hold Discussions On Trade

London, March 5 (AP)—The Board of Trade announced today that trade discussions by British Empire countries will be held here on March 11.

The talks are a preliminary to the meeting at Geneva April 10 of the preparatory committee of the United Nations conference on trade and employment.

The London meeting will be attended by representatives from the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Eire, India, Southern Rhodesia, Newfoundland, Burma and Ceylon.

Russia To Make Polish Loan

London, Friday, March 6 (AP)—The Moscow radio said today that Russia had agreed to lend Poland $28,855,000 in gold.

The announcement of the Russian-Polish agreement came as Premier Joseph Cyrankiewicz left the Soviet capital after a nine-day visit.

The negotiations showed "an agreement in principle" on the question of German problems, the broadcast said.

Russia Completes Demining

LONDON, March 5 (AP)—The Russian news agency Tass said tonight that demining of Soviet territory once occupied by the Germans had been completed. "Altogether, 2,000 teams made harmless more than 70,000,000 mines, unexploded shells and bombs, clearing a territory of more than 386,000 square miles, Tass said.

tween Viet Nam delegates and the French at Versailles a year ago.

A responsible French official said Monday that the Admiral, who left his post as an abbot of the Order of Mont Carmel to re-enter the French Navy at the outbreak of the war, would be replaced because his policies were not flexible enough to aid in restoring political stability in Indo-China.

Until noon yesterday, however, d'Argenlieu denied that he would be replaced.

Mopping Up Guerrillas

French troops in the Hanoi region are still attempting to mop up bands of Viet Nam troops who have sworn to harass the French with guerrilla warfare until the Viet Namese are given independence.

Bollaert formerly was high commissioner of Strasbourg, in Alsace.

He is known as a political ally of former Premier Edouard Herriot, the Radical Socialist, who now is chairman of the National Assembly.

During the German occupation, Bollaert remained in France to act as a delegate of General de Gaulle. The Germans arrested him and lodged him in a concentration camp at Dora.

Ramadier Says That He May Quit

Paris, March 5 (AP)—Premier Paul Ramadier threatened tonight to resign unless the French National Assembly supported his demands for a balanced budget.

"The existence of the nation is at stake," the Premier told the National Assembly during an open debate on finances.

The assembly finance committee had presented figures showing needs for a budget totaling 600,000,000,000 francs ($5,000,000,000), but tentatively providing revenues of only slightly more than half of that amount.

Pointing to deficits, which included 43,000,000,000 francs ($359,000,000) for the military establishment, the Premier said he would insist that whatever final budget was adopted should balance.

"If that course is not adopted," he said, "I shall be obliged to resign."

Bergson Coming Here

PARIS, March 5 (AP)—Peter H. Bergson, chairman of the Hebrew Committee of National Liberation, said today that he was leaving immediately for New York to seek intervention by the Security Council in the British handling of the Palestine situation. He said his committee would try to have one of the Council's eleven members formally request its intervention.

Still Against Centralization Of Reich Rule, French Say

W. GALLAGHER

Berlin, March 5 (AP)—France stood firm today in opposition to the establishment of a strong central German government and declared that she regarded as "premature" any consideration of such a proposal at the Big Four foreign ministers' meeting, which opens Monday in Moscow.

"France is of the opinion that Germany should be constituted on a federal basis and that its decentraliation should be pushed to the utmost limits," the highest French authorities said. "France sees in this decentralization the only possibility offered for the development of a true democratic spirit in Germany."

"The Ideal Germany"

"This question will doubtless be on the Moscow conference agenda," the French added, "but it can be said already that under present conditions France considers the organization of a central German government premature."

As to what kind of Germany France envisaged in ten years as being ideal, the French said:

"The ideal Germany would be a Germany which has abandoned any desire of renewed aggression and one that has no longer the means for it," and then added, parenthetically, "which would be even safer."

The French reiterated support for Polish territorial claims on Germany as outlined at Potsdam, up to the Oder-Neisse line; and said they wanted the Ruhr Basin—"for hundreds of years . . . an essential element in the German war potential"—placed under foreign administrative control for the sake of European security.

They also said they wanted to include the Saar in the economic framework of France, but did not envisage the "political absorption" of that rich area, "since it is understood that the Saar will be politically separated from Germany." Earlier demands for separation of the Rhineland from Germany have apparently been dropped in favor of a long military occupation of that region.

Denazification Progress

The French said they wanted to continue the exaction of German reparations from capital rather than from current production.

They disclosed also that their de-Nazification purge of German administrative personnel—after the examination of 445,015 cases, of which 18,963 resulted in prison sentences—had been terminated, with the exception of a few rare cases, but that the purge of private industry was still being carried out.

NAZI JUDGES ON TRIAL

Nuernberg, March 5 (A. P.).—German judges who once wielded the power of life and death over any one hailed before them were placed on trial today as enemies of world peace.

Brig.-Gen. Telford Taylor, chief United States war crimes prosecutor, told an all-American court that fifteen German judicial office-holders were just as guilty as diplomats, generals, party officials and industrialists.

Presenting the opening brief in the prosecution of the Hitler judicial system, Taylor asserted: "These men engaged in an unholy masquerade of tyranny disguised as justice. The victims of these crimes are countless and include nationals of every country in Europe."

The fifteen defendants are little known by name abroad, representing only what Taylor called a system. Otto Thierack, minister of justice under Hitler, committed suicide before he could be tried.

ARMY CHAPLAIN SCORED

Colonel Repudiates Ban on U. S Jews' Marriage to Germans

BERLIN, March 5 (AP)—Col. Brian L. Milburn, commander of the United States Army's Berlin command, said today that his headquarters did not agree with the attitude of Lieut. Mayer Abramowitz, Jewish chaplain here, who had refused to sanction marriages of American Jewish soldiers and German girls.

Colonel Milburn, whose approval of a marriage application is preliminary to the final sanction by Military Government headquarters, said:

"The attitude expressed by Chaplain Abramowitz is not binding on this command. Our stand is that, if marriage applications meet requirements in other respects, none will be disapproved on racial or religious grounds.

"Chaplain Abramowitz is entitled to his opinion, but I believe that refusing to permit the marriage of an American Jewish soldier to a German Gentile would be as incorrect as forbidding the marriage of a Catholic and a Protestant."

Reich Force Weak, Army Men Say

Frankfurt, March 5 (AP)—American military sources agreed today with former President Hoover's reported assertion that the United States occupation forces in Germany were too weak numerically to wage a tactical action, but disagreed that there were too many troops for police purposes.

They declined to comment specifically on his reported statement to a private meeting of senators that military leaders here had told him Russia could sweep all other forces off the Continent within 30 days if she wished.

Allies Much Stronger

However, a headquarters spokesman said:

"We have no force for a tactical role. It is well known that the comparative strength of our allies around us is far greater than ours."

American officers expressed doubt that any drastic slash could be made safely in the United States occupation force of approximately 150,000 men, which is slated for gradual reduction to about 117,000 in July.

"We scarcely could make much reduction in the number of service troops, who are busy with prisoners of war, displaced persons and similar tasks," the spokesman declared.

"That means the only place to cut would be in the actual police force—the constabulary, which has about 30,000.

Antiques Added To Kronberg Loot

Frankfurt, Germany, March 5 (AP). A rare collection of art objects was added today to the long list of valuables believed looted from Kronberg Castle during its occupancy by the American Army as an officers' club.

The Landgraefin von Hessen (Countess of Hesse) said she believed most of the "Robert Turnow Collection" of some 800 antique pieces was missing—pilfered, she suggested, by officer guests as souvenirs or passed out as gifts by club operators.

The Countess, head of the once-royal Hesse family which owns the castle, said she could not estimate the value of the collection. She explained, however that it was not as valuable as the family jewels, estimated to be worth $1,500,000, which an American officer has been convicted of stealing from the castle.

At least two valuable paintings and much silver also have been reported taken from the castle.

Army police officials said they knew of no investigation into the whereabouts of the Turnow collection.

GERMAN ASKS JUST PEACE

Bishop of Fulda Urges Allies to Limit Their Demands

WIESBADEN, Germany, March 5 (AP)—A pastoral letter issued by Bishop Johannes Dietz of Fulda, which will be read to 1,000,000 German Catholics in the United States zone on March 16, calls upon the Big Four Foreign Ministers to limit their peace demands on Germany to "justified reparations" to avoid a third World War.

The letter says:

"The coming peace treaty does not only concern peace for your country but peace for the western nations and, as a matter of fact, peace for the whole world.

"It will be quite obvious to all those who have some understanding that this aim will only be reached if reconciliation and justice have the last word to say."

U.S. Major's Stand Frees 3 Germans

Dachau, Germany, March 5 (AP)—Three German soldiers charged with mistreating United States prisoners were acquitted today on testimony of an American major that camps near the front lines could not be conducted according to the Geneva Convention.

The witness, Major Maxwell S. McKnight, declined to be cross-examined on the ground that he was testifying as an expert.

McKnight was an assistant defense attorney for the Germans, Col. Edward Hermann, Capt. Karl Schlickler and Private Rupert Lang, accused of mistreating prisoners in "Dulag 377," near Gerolstein, Germany. The prosecution presented 23 signed statements from former prisoners alleging mistreatment.

U.N. Wants Swiss Radio Station

Geneva, Switzerland, March 5 (AP)—A United Nations delegation began negotiations today with Swiss Government representatives for the establishment of an United Nations radio broadcasting station in Switzerland. The question of the purchase of the "Radio Nations" station, originally established by the League of Nations but later acquired by the Swiss Government, was under consideration.

Italians Honor UNRRA's Chief

ROME, March 5 (AP)—Spurgeon M. Keeney of York County, Pennsylvania, chief of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration's Italian mission, received the Cross of Merit, First class, with Crown of the Knights of Malta today in recognition of the UNRRA's services to Italy. It is the highest decoration given by the eight-century-old order.

Kesselring Testifies He Decreed Death for Guilty Soldiers

VENICE, March 5 (AP).—Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, former German commander in Italy, testified today he was prepared during the war to order death sentences for his German soldiers guilty of excesses against the Italians.

He said in his war crimes trial that Benito Mussolini once complained in a letter of eleven atrocities by accused German troops. He told the British military court he investigated each case and decreed the death penalty for any German soldier responsible, "to show them that I would not tolerate such things any longer."

Inquiry Commission Decides to Approve Greek Request to Get Men's Testimony

L. S. CHAKALES

SALONIKA, Greece, March 5 (AP)—The United Nations Investigating Commission decided tonight to ask Yugoslavia to suspend the execution of five men until it could be determined whether the prisoners had information relevant to the commission's Balkan inquiry.

Commission members were unanimous in their decision, reached at a secret meeting.

The commission will address its request to the Yugoslav liaison officer, Josip Djerje, to suspend the executions until a preliminary investigation has been made by the secretariat to determine the relevance of the proposed testimony of the five men.

Several weeks ago the commission followed the same procedure in asking Greece to delay the execution of prisoners.

Tonighht's action was taken after the Greek Government had requested the suspension of the executions in Yugoslavia. A formal Greek note to the commission said the five men were held in Skoplje, Yugoslavia.

The Greek liaison representative said those condemned were: Kemal Iskenderi, Ajem Indri Marqui, Hudi Husni Mhu Aren, Mohmet Mezir Boussou and Toma Oaintangiev. The Greek note requested that these men be interviewed while the "commission is in Skoplje." These are the first persons outside Greece the Greeks have requested the commission to hear.

Members of the commission, including R. T. Windle of Britain, have orally reprimanded members of the United Nations Secretariat attached to the commission for their "behavior toward the Greek Government," an informed source said today.

This rebuke, it was said, was made several days ago at a secret meeting. Members of the secretariat, including Col. A. Roscher-Lund and Gustav Gottesman, were told the secretariat unit was assuming authority belonging to the commission and that it had not been completely courteous to the Greek Government.

[Mr. Roscher-Lund, a Norwegian, and Mr. Gottesman, a Pole, are members of the secretariat sent from United Nations headquarters in Lake Success to assist the commission.]

The informant quoted Mr. Windle as having said that "I view with profound objection" the behavior of members of the secretariat toward representatives of the Greek Government.

Greek Leftists Are Exiled

Athens, March 5 (AP)—Greek police announced today that 556 of 571 leftists arrested yesterday on charges of alding guerrillas in the north, had been shipped to the Island of Nicaria in the Aegean Sea for a year's exile.

The remaining fifteen, police said, are being held for further investigation.

Leftist sources and police said that among those caught in the widespread roundup were George Thanassecos, member of the central committee of EAM (the National Liberation Front); Christos Ghizelis, director of EAM's politburo, Elias Eliou, chief of the EAM legal section, and Anthony Roussos, first secretary of EAM's town committee.

The EAM has sent a protest to the United Nations commission now investigating border incidents in northern Greece.

Greece to Execute Seven

ATHENS, March 5 (AP)—Gen. Alexander Lambou, chief of special security police during the German occupation, and six other persons were sentenced to death by a special tribunal today on conviction of collaboration with the enemy.

Amsterdam, March 5 (AP)—One of four special United States State Department planes bound for Moscow landed here tonight after it had been unable to land at Berlin because of thick fog. Twenty-four passengers and a crew of eight were aboard.

DNEPR DAM WORK PRAISED BY STALIN

(N)

MOSCOW, March 5—(AP) Prime Minister Stalin, congratulating engineers who supervised partial restoration of the Dnepr river dam, declared today that their work "shows the Soviet people are full of determination to patch up the wounds inflicted by the war and to provide further success for our country."

Announcement that the first rebuilt hydroelectric units of the dam had sent power to industries of the Ukraine on Monday dominated the Soviet press today. The dam was the largest in Europe and one of the world's greatest when it was built in 1932 under direction of an American engineer, Hugh L. Cooper, of New York.

The dam was smashed by the Russians in their 1941 retreat, and again by the Germans when the Red army drove them out in 1943. Plans for its restoration, to be completed by 1950, provide for a tremendous increase in its power production.

Stalin said the 11,200 workers employed on the dam had before them the tasks of completing a second and third hydroelectric units by the end of this year and completing repair of locks and opening navigation of the Dnepr at the earliest possible date.

were those at Zaporozhe, Krivoi Rog and Dneprodzerzhinsk, all vital units in Soviet industrial plans.

Prime Minister Stalin hailed the news in a statement congratulating the workers and engineers who placed the first unit in operation.

"The successful restoration of the Dnepr dam shows that the Soviet people are full of determination to patch up the wounds inflicted by war and to provide further success for our country," the Prime Minister said. ADD

Dnepr Dam Producing

Moscow, March 5 (AP)—Russian newspapers said today that the Dnepr River dam at Zaporozhe produced the first electric power Monday since its virtual destruction during the war. The first power went to industry in the Ukraine.

The great dam, one of the largest in the world, was smashed by the Russians during their retreat in 1941 and again by the Germans when the Red Army came back in 1943.

One hydroelectric plant with a capacity of 72,000 kilowatt hours was reported in operation now. When completely reconstructed, officials said, the dam will supply 3,000,000,000 kilowatt hours annually.

Russians Busy Preparing For Parley in Moscow

MOSCOW, March 5 (AP).—Hundreds of Russian officials and workers bustled today at final preparations for receiving the Foreign Ministers' Council, putting finishing touches on decoration of the conference quarters and arranging for transport.

Hotels were getting new rugs and new electrical wiring and lighting fixtures. The automobiles provided for the four foreign ministers and their staffs were assembled in the square before the Moskva Hotel to receive special conference placards. The airports received completed instructions for handling the arival of foreign civil planes. E. GILMORE

Soviet newsreel men filmed the British, French and American Embassies as part of the documentary movies they are making of the conference.

JEW KILLED, 3 HURT AT NEAR JERUSALEM

(N)

Troops Hunt Attackers; Guard Post Is Fired On

J.C. GOODWIN

Jerusalem, March 5 (AP)—One person was killed and three were injured as a new wave of violence swept Palestine tonight with gunfire rattling in the ancient streets of Jerusalem.

A private car struck a road mine near the Jewish settlement of Rehovot, 25 miles northwest of Jerusalem. The Jewish driver was killed and a Jewish passenger was injured.

A British lance corporal and a Palestine constable were wounded when grenades were thrown at two military vehicles in Jerusalem itself. A road mine exploded without damage in the Street of the Prophets in the Holy City.

Haifa Office Wrecked

The Government assessment office in the port city of Haifa was wrecked by a bomb.

British troops firing flares searched Jerusalem for the attackers. An hour after the original attacks in Jerusalem light machine-gun fire was directed at a guard post to the British security zone near the bomb-wrecked Goldsmith Club, and the guards returned the fire. Flares cast red and green glows over the tense city.

Earlier today, the Orion Cinema in the Jewish section of Jerusalem was held up by seven men, who brandished revolvers, scooped up $800 and escaped in a taxi.

Not Captured

Police said the robbers were "young Jews," and that they had not been captured.

The Haifa assessment office and a gun emplacement guarding it were wrecked by a bomb which exploded in an adjoining military parking lot. The bomb was discovered by police shortly before it went off, and casualties were prevented by hastily evacuating buildings in the vicinity. Two private homes were damaged slightly.

Toward dusk, three Jews were reported to have tossed a bomb at an army cantonment on the outskirts of Haifa, and to have escaped in an automobile. The bomb exploded, without damage.

20 Taken In Tel Aviv

Searches continued in the martial law areas of Jerusalem and the coastal plain, and unconfirmed reports said 40 persons had been taken into custody in Jerusalem and twenty in Tel Aviv.

A military government spokesman said the government "fully appreciates the inconveniences to the public" resulting from martial law but that it was confident the public would realize that if such steps were not taken now, "the Jewish communities themselves will have to deal with terrorists later."

Chief Justice Sir William Fitzgerald announced in the Jerusalem high court a decision rejecting a plea for a writ of habeas corpus to prevent deportation to Cyprus of uncertified Jewish immigrants who arrived off the Palestine coast last week.

Will Have To Remain

The ruling means that the 540 passengers of the refugee ship Haim Arlosoroff, who were sent to Cyprus last week end, will have to remain there until granted entrance permits under the Palestine immigration quota. The other 838 passengers of the ship, who are being held aboard British transports in Palestine waters, probably will begin the journey to detention in Cyprus immediately.

The decision stressed that the high commissioner, Lieutenant General Sir Alan Cunningham, had sufficient information to judge where security required deportation of uncertified immigrants and that, although conditions aboard the deportation transports might be harsh, the vessels were not "prison ships," as charged by the Jewish Council in petitioning for the habeas corpus writ.

posts in strategic areas.

Police said the robbers were "three young Jews, armed with revolvers," who drove up to the Orion Theater, in the heart of the modern Jewish quarter.

After the trio fled, the cashier telephoned police, who gave orders to sound sirens usually used to halt traffic in the event of an out-

Explosion, Shots Heard In Jerusalem, Bomb Wrecks Office In Haifa

MAR (D) 1947

Jerusalem, March 5 (AP)—A loud explosion like that of a land mine shook the eastern part of Jerusalem early tonight and soon afterward gunfire opened up in the British security area.

Sporadic firing was head throughout the city.

Unconfirmed reports said the explosion was in the Street of the Prophets, on which Royal Air Force headquarters is located. The street is in the Jewish section, only a few blocks from the security area in which the King David Hotel army headquarters and the Public Information Office are located.

Bomb Wrecks Office

A bomb explosion destroyed a Government assessment office and a guarding gun emplacement in Haifa during the day.

The fresh outbreak of violence followed by a few hours a theater holdup in the heart of Jerusalem.

The explosive was planted in a military car park adjoining the Government installations. Guards saw the bomb a short time before it exploded and diverted traffic from the area. A Government announcement said there were no casualties. Two private homes were slightly damaged.

Three men held up the cashier of the motion-picture theater shortly after 9 A.M. and escaped with $800, touching off a flurry of military activity.

Blamed On Jews

Sirens sent British armored cars racing through the streets, security barriers were closed, all traffic was halted and troops rushed to guard break of violence by the Jewish underground.

The all-clear was sounded after about twenty minutes.

Deportations Ruled Legal

The Jerusalem High Court, meanwhile, announced that it had rejected a plea for a writ of habeas corpus to prevent the deportation of 1,378 uncertified Jewish immigrants who were seized aboard a refugee ship off the Palestine coast last week.

In rejecting the application the court held that the British High Commissioner, Lieut. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, was entitled to issue an ominous deportation order in the interest in maintaining public security without examining each deportee individually.

"Prison Ship" Claim Denied

The ruling, read by Chief Justice Sir William Fitzgerald, overruled the petitioners' claim that the refugees were being detained illegally and also denied that deportation ships used to transport the immigrants to Cyprus were "prison ships."

The refugees in question arrived at Haifa last week aboard the small steamer Ulua—renamed the Haim Arlosoroff by its passengers.

Of the would-be immigrants, 540 already have been sent to Cyprus. The remaining 838 were held aboard the British transport Ocean Vigour in Palestine waters pending the ruling.

As a result of the ruling, it was expected the Ocean Vigour would be ordered to sail for Cyprus immediately. ADD

(D) Lahore Under British Rule

Briton Takes Over Punjab

Lahore, India, March 5 (AP)—The British governor of the Punjab took over the Government of this northern Indian province tonight after new outbreaks of bloody fighting between Sikhs and Hindus on the one hand and Moslems on the other. (N)

The two-day death toll in Lahore, provincial capital, was at least 32 tonight, a canvass of hospitals revealed. Today's fatalities in the city were recorded as nineteen, and the Government reported there had been "heavy casualties" also in the towns of Multan and Gujranwala.

Troops were called out to aid Lahore police in quelling the riots. Police fired several times at the demonstrators. Strong police patrols moved through the streets with rifles and fixed bayonets.

Shops Set Afire

Shops were set afire in the silver market of this capital, and an unofficial report said a bank had been looted.

Governor Sir Evan Jenkins said he was assuming control "with the concurrence of the governor general," the retiring Viceroy Lord Wavell.

The rioting broke out after the Governor had invited the Moslem League to form a ministry to succeed a coalition government. The coalition, made up of Congress party, Sikh and Unionist representatives, said last night it was "no longer able to continue in office because of riots occurring in Lahore." The invitation to the Moslem League now lapses automatically.

Telephone Call Control

In addition to press censorship already in effect in the Punjab, the Governor said he was assuming control of telephone calls, under the "Public Emergency" section of an 1885 act. He urged all parties to co-operate in "forming a stable ministry."

Master Tara Singh, Sikh leader, urged 4,000 of his followers at a mass meeting to cling to nonviolence, because "we haven't got the arms for the moment."

The tense Punjab situation developed as an aftermath of a 34-day Moslem League civil disobedience campaign, which resulted in the overthrow of the coalition. Moslems compose approximately 56 per cent of the Punjab's 30,000,000 population.

Lahore, India, March 5 (AP)—Sir Evan Jenkins, British governor of the Punjab, took over the provincial government tonight in an attempt to solve the crisis resulting from two days of communal rioting.

Sikhs and Hindus fought Moslems in the old walled section of this capital again today and the death toll mounted to at least 25. In addition, a Government communiqué said, there had been "heavy casualties" in two other towns, Multan and Gujranwala.

The rioting broke out after the Governor invited the Moslem League to form a ministry to succeed a coalition government made up of Congress party, Sikh and Unionist representatives, who resigned. The invitation to the Moslem League now lapses automatically.

Troops helped Lahore police, who fired on the rioters several times. Shops were fired in the bullion market. Rioters and the police were reported to have exchanged shots in another sector. A bank in the old city was reported unofficially to have been looted.

Home Secretary A. A. MacDonald, said police picked up twelve bodies by mid afternoon, in addition to the thirteen found yesterday.

Master Tara Singh, a Sikh leader, appealed to a meeting of 4,000 Sikhs to adhere to nonviolence.

"We haven't got arms for the moment," he said. "If the situation demands it, we will have to change our tactics."

DRIVE ENDED, CHINA REPORTS

Red Offensive South Of Harbin Is Reported Halted

Nanking, March 5 (AP)—The Government tonight announced that the Chinese Communists had been crushed in a spring offensive south of Harbin. The Chinese press quickly speculated that national forces soon would launch their own offensive in northern Manchuria.

Chinese newsmen who visited Tehhwei, scene of the Communists' biggest defeat in north Manchuria, reported the city was a mass of wrecked buildings after a week of shelling. They said 600 Communist bodies still were on the streets.

The Government's Central News Agency said the entire area south of the Sungari River which was overrun by Communist troops last week has been cleared, except for a small number of cavalrymen.

Sungari River Crossed

The agency reported the Nationals' counteroffensive recaptured all points south of the Sungari and that Government troops had crossed the river at several points.

Gen. Tu Li-ming, the Government commander, said his victory was so smashing that he could capture Harbin within ten days if the Government gave him the go ahead.

Returning from a reconnaissance flight, the General said the Communists left 5,000 of their dead on the field and fled northward in full retreat. He said the Communists' penetration, which reached within 12 miles of Changchun, the Manchurian capital, was their long anticipated spring offensive and involved 140,000 troops.

33-Mile-A-Day Advance

A Chinese field dispatch reported the Nationals were pushing northward at an average speed of 33 miles a day (very fast for the Chinese and probably an abnormal one day's progress rather than an average). It said they bridged the Sungri north of Tehhwei.

Another Government column was reported to have crossed the river north of Kirin and to have effected a junction with troops pushing east from Kiutai.

The dispatch said Chitamu, 38 miles north of Kirin, was captured.

Peng Hsueh-pei, Minister of Information, said the Communists lost heavily in armored units and tanks in the Tehhwei area.

Discounts Formosa Report

Peng discounted reports of the seriousness of recent disorders in Formosa but conceded reports of 500 casualties probably were correct.

In Sikang province, the Chinese press said Yaan, the capital, was threatened seriously by an armed rebellion against the governor, Gen. Liu Wen-hui.

Dispatches reported savage fighting between Liu's troops and the Sikang People's Militia.

Tu Reports Reds' Drive Smashed At Changchun

J. RODERICK

Changchun, March 5 (AP)—The Government commander in Manchuria asserted today that the Communist offensive against Changchun was smashed, with 5,000 of the enemy dead and the rest in full retreat.

The commander, Gen. Tu Li-ming, said the blow was so severe that his troops could capture Harbin, the Communist stronghold, within ten days. He said, however, he had no orders to drive on north.

Tu gave the following version of the operations, during which the Communists were known to have pushed to within twelve miles of Changchun, Manchuria's capital and, by Tu's account, the No. 1 objective.

This was the Communists' spring offensive, which had been in the cards for six months.

15 Red Divisions Used

Gen. Lin Piao, Communist commander in Manchuria, had prepared twenty divisions, of which about fifteen were committed.

Lin told his troops that if they failed to seize the bastion of Tehhwe, 52 miles northeast of Changchun, they must return to the north bank of the Sungari River, dividing line of the warring forces.

Lin's troops crossed the Sungari and, while part of the force drove south toward Changchun, the main body was thrown against Tehhwe.

For seven days, during which the Communists used 140,000 troops, fighting raged at Tehhwe, about fifteen miles south of the Sungari.

Eight Divisions "Routed"

Tu by this time had rushed up two crack divisions, the 54th and 71st, from Mukden and Szepingkai and on Monday they broke the siege of Tehhwe. Five infantry and three artillery divisions were "routed."

Five thousand Communist dead were left on the battlefield, while 2,000 rifles and four armored cars were taken. Not more than 30,000 Communist troops remained south of the Sungari. These were around Kirin, 60 miles east of Changchun.

Red Troops Quit Kwantung Area

J. RODERICK

Changchun, Manchuria, March 4 (AP—Delayed)—A leading Government commander in Manchuria estimated today there were only a "very small number" of Soviet troops still in Kwantung Peninsula, including Dairen and Port Arthur.

Asked when the Soviets reduced their strength there, he replied, smiling: "Better ask Stalin that." The commander demanded anonymity.

Chinese Government troops hold Pulantien, 35 miles north of Dairen, but between them and the latter city veteran Chinese Communist soldiers extend across the narrow peninsula. They could be expected to resist any National attempt to enter Dairen.

The commander said, however, that if he received instructions to move into Dairen he could accomplish that order in a matter of days.

He charged that the Russians had removed machinery and locomotives from Dairen and destroyed some factories there.

Dairen, under terms of the August, 1945, Sino-Soviet treaty, was to have been returned to Chinese administration, but officials of the two countries still are negotiating for the transfer.

TOKYO, March 5 (AP)—The first shipload of Koreans to be repatriated to the Russian-controlled northern sector will sail from Japan March 15, occupation headquarters said today. As many as 10,000 may be returned to North Korea, but the announcement said it was not believed that many would take advantage of the offer. Headquarters also reported the repatriation of 32,000 Japanese from Russian-controlled Dairen and Port Arthur during the preceding two weeks. Another 2,900 were returned from the Netherlands East Indies.

Ship Cargo Seizing By Dutch Hit

Batavia, March 5 (AP)—James W. Ryan, attorney for the American Isbrandsten shipping line, today accused the Netherlands East Indies Government of "gross and serious violation of international law" in seizing the American Liberty ship Martin Behrman.

Ryan, a former special assistant United States attorney, said the State Department was being requested to file a formal protest.

"If necessary," he added, "we will see that this matter is put before the Congress of the United States."

The Liberty ship was taken into custody by the Dutch after it had landed a multimillion-dollar cargo released by the Indonesian republic.

The Netherlands East Indies Government said in a communiqué that the cargo was seized under a local law prohibiting the export of produce from an estate "at the expense of the estate owners" who were kept from their holdings by the revolution. The communiqué said it was the Government's responsibility also to secure foreign exchange for rehabilitation of the East Indies.

Ryan said J. E. van Hoogstraten, N.E.I. director of economic affairs, served formal notice that an inspection of the cargo by experts disclosed that it was "looted" from estates in the interior which were held by the nationalists.

Ryan said he protested to the Minister that the two 'experts' who examined the cargo were not Dutch but British nationals in the employ of Dutch who might desire the cargo to be ruled contraband.

U. S. SHIP SEIZURE IN JAVA PROTESTED

Washington Asks Netherlands for Explanation of Act—Compensation Indicated

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—The United States is protesting to the Netherlands Government against export regulations in the Netherlands Indies that led to the seizure of the merchant ship Martin Behrman last Sunday.

The State Department announced the protest today and said that the United States Embassy in the Hague also had been instructed Monday to urge an amicable adjustment of the vessel's seizure.

The Martin Behrman is owned by the Maritime Commission and chartered to the Isbrandtsen Company of New York. She was seized in Batavia after having been brought there under guard from Cheribon, Java.

She had loaded a cargo of rubber and other commodities in territory held by Indonesian forces, which have rebelled against the Dutch authorities.

Press officer Reginald P. Mitchell said the State Department had not been informed whether the protest had yet been delivered. The embassy was directed to emphasize that the export regulations, issued Jan. 29, "not only are paralyzing trade with the Netherlands Indies but are also depriving the world of commodities, especially food, that are in acute world shortage."

U. S. Sees Virtual Embargo

The State Department said that the regulations amounted to a virtual embargo on certain produce the Indonesians had for sale. The Dutch authorities have held that it may be the legal property of Dutch, British or other non-Indonesian nationals.

The protest to the Netherlands said the United States reserved all rights as to any possible injury to the vessel or her personnel in the enforcement of the regulations.

The transaction by which the Martin Behrman was to transport rubber, sugar and other commodities from Indonesian-held territory first received the blessing of the State Department in January, upon assurances from the Netherlands Embassy in Washington that there was no official objection to the deal.

However, two days after the vessel had sailed from Manila to Cheribon, the new export regulations were put out and the Isbrandtsen Company and the ship's master were immediately notified of the altered circumstances.

Truman Ends Mexican Visit With Plea for World Peace

Expresses Hope for Spread of Good Neighbor Policy in Western Hemisphere—Making 'Every Effort' to Solve U.S. Newsprint Shortage, He Says

MEXICO CITY, March 5.—(AP) President Truman brought his Mexican visit to an end tonight after expressing hope that the joint desire of the two nations for peace can spread throughout the world to avert the destruction of civilization.

In two separate addresses, Mr. Truman made it clear that he and President Miguel Aleman had found "large areas of agreement" in their consultations here, including the approach to solution of Mexico's foot and mouth disease problem.

Sure Policy Will Spread

Speaking later to a cheering, applauding American colony audience at Casino Militar, the President, urging all of them to be "good will ambassadors," proclaimed:

"We actually have a good neighbor policy between Mexico and the United States. If we can get that same feeling in the other 21 republics and in the dominion of Canada, the western hemisphere can be the happiest place in the world, and I am sure that is just what it is going to be."

The last affair on the offical program was a private dinner tonight at which Mr. Truman was the guest of the Mexican president at the latter's private residence.

The President will take off from the municipal airport at 6:30 a.m. Thursday on a five hour flight to Waco where he speaks at Baylor university tomorrow night.

Earlier, speaking at the scene of the Pyramid of the Sun, 28 miles from Mexico City, the President had told the joint U.S.-Mexican press of the efforts of the Mexican and United States governments to preserve peace.

He spoke of the ruins of ancient civilizations he had just viewed and declared:

"Now we don't want to be a passing civilization—neither the great Mexican government nor the United States of America. We want to continue. That's the reson we want world peace. We have come to the destructive point when we must have world peace, or we'll be just like these deserted ruins. We will be a deserted desert."

In response to questions, the United States chief executive expressed hope he would be able to visit some more Latin American countries.

"I have always had it under consideration to visit other Latin American countries," he asserted, "But I never can tell when I will have the opportunity to do it. I hope to be able to visit several more. I wanted to visit my next door neighbor first."

Asked what help Mexico might expect from the U.S. to fight hoof and mouth disease, the President replied:

"Our Congress, at my request, as an emergency measure, has just passed a bill authorizing substantial help in the eradication of the hoof and mouth disease."

Asked about the shortage of newsprint in Mexico, the President reminded the Mexican newsmen that U. S. metropolitan papers were folding up for lack of paper. He said that everything is being done to move newsprint in from Canada by attacking the box car shortage, and that when the U. S. did get more paper "we will remember our neighbors to the south."

President Truman did not elaborate on the newsprint situation in response to the Mexican newsman's query.

"The newsprint question has been a terrible one at home," Mr. Truman asserted. "We are having difficulties. Some of our metropolitan newspapers are going out of business because they can't get newsprint. We are making every effort we possibly can to work the situation out." ADD

Truman Lands After Air View Of Volcano

Mexico City, March 5 (AP)—President Truman saw Mexico's four-year-old volcano, Paricutin, from the air today in a quick trip to be followed by a fast drive to Teotihuacan Pyramids to the Sun and the Moon, 28 miles north of here.

His plane, the Sacred Cow, left at 10.07 A.M. and landed here at 12.31 P.M.

The President's plane was preceded by two planes with newspaper men and photographers which landed five minutes ahead of his.

Volcano On New Rampage

The President saw Paricutin in violent eruption, one of the biggest thrills of his visit to Mexico. The volcano started on a new rampage today a few hours before the Sacred Cow flew at 10,500 feet around and over the spouting cone, and tongues of lava coursed down its sides.

The day was clear and warm, and the visibility was excellent.

En route to Paricutin, Mr. Truman viewed the small city of Morelia and the beautiful Patzcuaro Lake. On an island in the lake stands a monument to Gen. Jose Maria Morelos, one of Mexico's outstanding patriots.

Volcano Born In 1943

The volcano Paricutin was born February 20, 1943, when an Indian's cornfield went berserk and started ejecting smoke. The flight took the President over the craters of other volcanoes which were active years ago.

All that can be seen of what was once the town of Paricutin is the church spire which juts out of the lava and dust.

The President seemed tireless and eager for his tourist trip to see the sights of Mexico after two days of swift activity in formal affairs with much handshaking and a multitude of his expansive smiles.

"Missouri Waltz" Revived

Mr. Truman had the capital swaying to the "Missouri Waltz," played repeatedly yesterday at the folk dance festival, the United States Embassy reception and in the Foreign Office last night.

More significant than that was the title of "Champion of American Solidarity" given the President by his host, President Aleman, at a formal United States Embassy lunch yesterday.

Farewell Dinner Tonight

He will wind up his official visit tonight at a private dinner with Aleman. Tomorrow he will fly to Waco, Texas, where he is to deliver a speech at about 1 P.M. (E.S.T.) at Baylor University on foreign economic policy before returning to Washington tomorrow night.

The visit of the two Presidents at a colorful fiesta at the National Stadium yesterday was marred when two persons—a 19-year-old woman and an 8-year-old child—were killed and four hurt in the crush of the crowd trying to catch a glimpse of Truman and Aleman.

Cheered Wherever He Goes

The cheers of Mexicans followed the American President wherever he went, and President Aleman declared yesterday at a luncheon that the Truman visit is going "to promote a better understanding and friendship between our two countries." Aleman is scheduled to return the visit next month.

Yacht Heads South.

Washington, March 5 (A.P.).—The presidential yacht Williamsburg is en route to San Juan, Puerto Rico, where President Truman will be taken aboard on March 11 for a Caribbean cruise. The Williamsburg, which is due at San Juan on March 10, left her Washington Navy Yard dock yesterday.

Mr. Truman, who is due back tomorrow night, will leave the capital by plane at 10 A. M. on Saturday for Key West, Fla. He will stay there three nights and then fly to San Juan, arriving on March 11 for official visits to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. After boarding the Williamsburg, he will witness the Atlantic Fleet maneuvers on March 12 and 13, then continue on the Caribbean cruise. He will not return to Key West before March 23 for his flight back to Washington.

Baptist Prayers Ask Good Day For Truman

Waco, Texas, March 5 (AP)—The official forecast that passable weather will allow President Truman's plane to land here tomorrow was bolstered tonight by some good Baptist prayers.

One came from Mrs. Martha Elizabeth Wood, 94, who is known as "the liveliest creature on her side of town."

Truman, Marshall Trips Do Not Affect Succession

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 5—With Secretary of State Marshall's departure today for Moscow, Under-Secretary Dean Acheson becomes Acting Secretary.

However, while President Truman also is out of the country, there is no Acting President. Mr. Truman remains the nation's Chief Executive, regardless of his whereabouts.

The difference arises because there is no provision in Constitution or law for an Acting President. There is provision that when Cabinet officers go away their highest ranking assistants become Acting Secretaries and perform their functions.

But should President Truman die or become incapacitated, it would be Secretary Marshall, not Mr. Acheson, who would succeed to the Presidency.

Marshall Doubtful Of Finishing Treaty At Moscow

Washington, March 5 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, left for Moscow today openly expressing doubt that the momentous Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference there will attain completely its goal of writing a European peace.

Marshall, in a statement, served notice on the world not to expect too much. Expressing hope that a treaty with Austria may be written at Moscow, he said he was "extremely doubtful" that the Foreign Ministers will be able to agree on any more basic principles to settle the much larger problem, a peace pact to govern Germany's postwar future.

Second Parley In Prospect

This raised the prospect of a second conference later this year to try to break the deadlock with Soviet Russia over German peace terms. Some officials have talked of such a conference, perhaps in the fall.

Following is the text of Marshall's statement, which he dictated to newsmen before his big special plane took off:

"We recognize the negotiations at Moscow will be extremely difficult and their consequences momentous.

"The deputies of the Foreign Ministers have made some progress in drafting the Austrian treaty. It should be possible to consider the Austrian treaty with the hope of completing it at Moscow.

Yet To Discuss Fundamentals

"The situation with regard to the German issues are quite different. Deputies so far have been only engaged in listening to the statements of the Allied countries concerned, other than the Big Four.

"So we have yet to discuss and reach agreements on great fundamentals which will be the basis for the drafting of the treaty regarding Germany.

"If we are successful in reaching agreements on major fundamental principles I would be very much pleased.

"It would appear now to be extremely doubtful whether an actual treaty for Germany will be completed for consideration at this conference."

Dulles In Delegation

With other members of the United States delegation, including John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign affairs adviser, Marshall departed at 9.11 A.M. His plane headed for Paris, where he will be the overnight guest Thursday of France's President, Vincent Auriol, and will have the opportunity for preconference talks also with Premier Ramadier.

He is due to arrive in Moscow Sunday, a day in advance of his first meeting as Secretary of State with Foreign Ministers Vyacheslav Molotov, of Russia; Georges Bidault, of France, and Ernest Bevin of Great Britain. En route an overnight stay is scheduled Friday and possibly Saturday in Berlin.

Top American, British and French officials wished Marshall good luck at the airport. Among them were John W. Snyder, Secretary of the Treasury; Dean Acheson, Under Secretary of State; Lewis Douglas, Ambassador-designate to Great Britain; Lord Inverchapel, the British Ambassador, and Francis Lacoste, French chargé d'affaires.

Dulles told reporters that, to carry out "the last will and testament" of those who died for American ideals in World War II, Marshall and his advisers needed the support of a united American people.

He forecast success, however, for a second aim of the momentous gathering, the drafting of a peace agreement for Austria.

Preliminary talks have laid the groundwork for an Austrian accord, the Big Four—France, Russia, Great Britain and the United States—still are in disagreement on the fundamentals of a German treaty.

Just before Marshall's plane took off at 9:11 A. M. the Secretary said in a dictated statement:

"We recognize the negotiations at Moscow will be extremely difficult and their consequences momentous.

"The deputies of the Foreign Ministers have made some progress in drafting the Austrian treaty. It should be possible to consider the Austrian treaty with the hope of completing it at Moscow.

"The situation with regard to the German issues is quite different. Deputies so far have been only engaged in listening to the statements of the Allied countries concerned, other than the Big Four. So we have yet to discuss and reach agreements on great fundamentals which will be the basis for the drafting of the treaty regarding Germany.

"If we are successful in reaching agreements on major fundamental principles, I would be very much pleased.

"It would appear now to be extremely doubtful whether an actual treaty for Germany will be completed for consideration at this conference."

Top Officials at Airport.

Several top Government officials, including Under-Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, were at the airport to see Marshall off.

Marshall was accompanied by Benjamin B. Cohen, State Department councilor, and Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen, Russian expert and interpreter. A second plane carried several top advisers, including John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign affairs expert. Aboard a third plane in the party were eleven news and radio correspondents.

Dulles told reporters:

"During the war millions died that ideals might live. We who survived have a sacred duty to carry out that last will and testament and to make a peace which will embody those ideals.

"We who are going to Moscow will try to do that, but to succeed we shall have to feel behind us the spiritual support of a united American people."

Plans Stop in Paris.

The Secretary planned to stop tomorrow in Paris for an overnight visit with President Vincent Auriol of France. This will give him an opportunity to get French views on many issues involving the future of Germany. From Paris, he arranged to go to Berlin for a conference with United States occupation authorities. He is scheduled to stay there Friday night and possibly Saturday. This would put him in Moscow one day ahead of the first formal meeting with the Foreign Ministers of France, Russia and Great Britain next Monday.

Other Momentous Problems.

With the problem of peace terms for Germany and Austria demanding his immediate attention at the Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference, Marshall left for President Truman the momentous foreign policy decision on how far America shall go in upholding nations it believes are peace loving and intend to follow the democratic way of life.

War-broken Greece presented the immediate test—whether to pit American dollars against Russian Communism now that Britain no longer is able to bolster that country's tottering regime. Nor was a sudden new succession of congressional blasts at Soviet actions and intentions calculated by diplomatic authorities here to make the Cabinet officer's task any easier when he meets Russian Foreign Minister Molotov across the Big Four conference table next Monday.

There the problems of reparations, boundaries and a unified German nation—all fraught with long range implications for the whole continent of Europe—will confront Marshall with one of the sternest tests of his career.

Would End 'Coddling.'

The flurry of criticism directed at Russia in the House yesterday included demands for an end to this country's "coddling policy" and for economic sanctions in the form of a ban on all American exports to the Soviet Union.

Representative Bradley (R.-Mich.), chairman of the Merchant Marine Committee, which has been inquiring into the transfer of ninety-five American ships to Russia during the war, introduced a bill to clamp on the export embargo because, he said, "Russia has not even deigned to give us the courtesy of a reply as to her intentions" concerning the ships.

Republican lawmakers in the Senate appeared to be marking time, meanwhile, until this country's policy toward Europe is clarified by Mr. Truman. Senator Brewster (R.-Me.) told a reporter he believes the Chief Executive should make "an affirmative statement of our policy as regards all of Europe." Senator Taft (R.-Ohio), said that he agreed with Brewster on this point.

"As I interpreted the President's speech in Mexico City," Brewster said, "he is saying that we are going to protect liberty-loving people everywhere."

It seems obvious to him, the Maine Senator said, that if the United States supports the present Greek Government, it will be called upon to extend aid in other areas such as Turkey and Palestine.

"If that is true, I am sure the Congress wants to know just what that involves.

United States Welcomes Pact

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP).—The State Department said today the United States welcomes the new fifty-year treaty of alliance between Great Britain and France. Press officer Lincoln White told reporters that a major interest of this government is to keep Germany disarmed so that she never again will be a threat to peace.

U. S. MAPS PLANS TO SUPPLY BRITAIN WITH BEEF, WHEAT

WASHINGTON, March 5—(AP) The United States moved today to supply meat and wheat to the British, and still pondered ways to help distressed Greece, now that weakening Britain is pulling out of that strategic Mediterranean country.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said at a news conference the United States has agreed to supply Britain with enough meat by this spring to prevent a reduction in the ration there.

Shipments will consist of beef, and perhaps surplus turkeys. The United States also will help the British build up a stockpile of wheat before next fall to help tide them over the winter.

Anderson made his disclosure after a conference with John Strachey, British food minister here on a visit.

Britain, which has been supporting the government of Greece as a bulwark against Russian Communism, has asked the United States to take over her commitments.

A number of officials favor economic aid to Greece, but feel that Britain should keep at least a token armed force there.

However, Britain was standing pat on a decision to pull the last of her remaining contingent of 10,000 troops out soon.

The State department said today Britain had handed the United States a second note on the Greek situation. Its contents were not made public, but informed diplomats reported that London served a notice of withdrawing the last troops by the end of this coming summer.

Outposts To Open Soon In Arctic

Washington, March 5 (AP)—The uninhabited rim of the North American continent, a vast blind spot for weather men and military strategists, soon will be manned by watchers of the United States and Canada.

The project, officially disclosed in Ottawa and Washington, involves the joint establishment of nine new weather stations in Canadian territory.

It is part of the recently announced plan to continue the wartime collaboration of the two nations by exchanging information, personnel and facilities for "peacetime joint security purposes."

Within 600 Miles Of Pole

At least two of the new stations will be in the Far North, one on Ellsmere Island, 600 miles from the North Pole, another to the westward on Melville Island.

These, with the other outposts in the chain to the southward, will fill in a blank area between weather stations maintained by the United States in Alaska and one at Thule, in Greenland.

The Ellsmere and Melville Island stations are expected to be completed and manned this summer.

Military Value Noted

Officials of the two governments confined their public announcement yesterday to the advantages of improving the weather reporting system. But strategists noted the pre-eminent military value of constantly manned installations athwart the air routes over the Polar Cap.

An inkling of the extensive reconnaissance already attempted was given recently when a United States Army Air Force B-29, based in Alaska, was forced down in Greenland.

AAF officers said today they understand the Air Force will fly in much of the material and men needed for building the new stations, but that Americans who man the jointly controlled installations probably will be from the United States Geodetic Service.

Idea Broached By U.S.

C. D. Howe, Canadian Reconstruction Minister, made the announcement in Parliament. His announcement marked the end of the first stage of a project first broached by the United States last summer, when American military authorities showed a pressing interest in hemisphere defense arrangements.

Douglas Confirmed As Envoy To Britain

Washington, March 5 (AP)—Lewis W. Douglas won quick Senate confirmation today to be United States Ambassador to Great Britain.

By unanimous consent, the Senate approved the former budget director to succeed O. Max Gardner, who died en route to London.

The Senate also approved Warren R. Austin, former Vermont Senator, for his third United Nations post, this time to represent the United States on the United Nations Armaments Commission.

Austin also is United States member of the United Nations Security Council and Atomic Control Commission.

POLAND SAID TO FOIL ENVOY

Lane Reports He Could Not See Americans In Prison

New York, March 5 (AP)—The Polish Government has refused permission to American authorities to interview about 100 citizens of this nation who are being held in Polish prisons on political charges, Arthur Bliss Lane, United States Ambassador, said today.

Lane, who arrived aboard the Queen Elizabeth, said "I was successful in interviewing only one of about 100 Americans imprisoned for political reasons. This was Mrs. Irene Dmochowska, of Chicago, a member of the embassy staff, who was sentenced to five years in jail on charges of helping political refugees to escape."

Feels Mission Terminated

The 52-year-old career diplomat, ambassador to Poland since July, 1945, said he would not return to Warsaw because he felt his "mission in Poland had bee nterminated." However, he added:

"I don't expect any diplomatic break. There will not be any lessening of interest by the United States but a beginning of a new chapter in relations with Poland.

Bliss said his viewpoint was summed up in notes sent by the State Department to Poland which "expressed the apprehension that there would not be a free and unfettered election becaus of the prior activities of some groups."

Surmises Confirmed

He asserted that "my surmises were confirmed by reports of emissaries sent around the country and by an overwhelming majority of press representatives."

Lane also released for publication a letter he sent F. H. LaGuardia from Warsaw.

The letter said LaGuardia, while UNRRA director, had recanted on a promise he made to Lane that he would write a note to the Polish Government protesting "on behalf of those of your fellow citizens who were under arrest in Polish jails for political reasons."

Denies Making Promise

Later LaGuardia at a news conference denied making such a promise to Lane and he released copies of his reply to the Ambassador.

The LaGuardia letter charged Lane with failing to make proper application to visit American citizens who had been arrested, submitting no data or names, and making statements to LaGuardia which the latter said he checked with the Polish Government and found "absolutely incorrect."

Congress to Get Truman Report On Subversives

Action to Bar Disloyal Persons From U. S. Jobs Will Await His Message

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP).—President Truman is preparing a recommendation to Congress on methods of keeping disloyal persons out of government jobs, Lawrence Malloy, civil service counsel, said today.

Mr. Malloy informed a House judiciary subcommittee the President's report on dealing with "subversive persons" will be sent to Capitol Hill soon.

Representative Raymond S. Springer, Republican, of Indiana, chairman of the subcommittee, told reporters: "We will hold up action until the President's recommendations arrive. Something must be done."

Mr. Malloy disclosed the Presidential intentions as the judiciary group ended consideration of far-reaching legislation by Representative Sam Hobbs, Democrat, of Alabama. This is intended to force any disloyal persons out of government service under threat of fine of $1,000 and imprisonment for two years.

The bill provides:

1. It is unlawful for any persons to hold a government job who has engaged in subversive activity or "is or has been a member of or associated with any organization, any part of the aims or purposes of which is or has been subversive of the government of the United States."

2. Any person employed in violation of the subversive test and any person in government service who recommends, approves or appoints any such person shall be immediately removed from office, "shall be guilty of a high crime and misdemeanor" and "shall upon conviction thereof be fined not more than $1,000 or be imprisoned for not more than two years, or both."

Representative Hobbs's bill defines subversive as follows:

"Any act or conduct, membership, or association, or advocacy of principle or doctrine inimical to the government of the United States, or the tendency of which is to undermine any of the institutions or to distort any of the functions or to impede any of the projects or to lessen any of the efforts of the government of the United States; whether any such subversive influence exerted or sought to be exerted be open or direct or subtle or indirect, whether such subversive activity may have been by spoken or written words or by acts or conduct, and whether or not such subversive activity produced subversive result."

Representative Fadjo Cravens, Democrat, of Arkansas, said he would be afraid to recommend anybody for a postmaster appointment under Mr. Hobbs's bill.

Witnesses Called In Eisler Probe

New York, March 5 (AP)—A subcommittee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities went into executive session today to inquire into an alleged passport fraud involving Gerhardt Eisler, described by the full committee as the leading Communist authority in the United States.

Leon Josephson and Samuel Liptzen, of New York, appeared at the committee room under subpoena. Representative Richard M. Nixon (R., Cal.), chairman of the subcommittee who said the closed hearing involved Eisler, said they were to be examined, as well as two or more additional witnesses whose names he did not disclose.

Nixon recently stated that the writing of Josephson and the name of Liptzen appeared on a passport used by Eisler early in 1930.

KNUTSON TO PUSH BILL FOR TAX CUT

WASHINGTON, March 5—(AP) Rep. Knutson (R-Minn), chairman of the House ways and means committee, said today he will proceed with tax-cutting legislation, even if the House and Senate reach a stalemate on cutting President Truman's budget.

He told reporters that the tax-framing committee probably would begin consideration next week of his House bill No. 1 proposing a 20 per cent "across the board" income tax slash:

"A stalemate on the budget will not stop the tax bill," he said.

The House and Senate arranged for the next round of their budget battle Friday. A conference committee of 10 senators and 10 house members will meet in an attempt to iron out differences between the two bodies.

House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) has issued a "no retreat" from the House position that Mr. Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget should be cut by $6,000,000,000. The Senate is standing for a more moderate cut of $4,500,000,000. It wants at least $2,600,000,000 of the saving earmarked for a payment on the nation's $262,000,000,000 debt.

"We've got to have a tax cut," Martin said. "This could not be done with only a $4,500,000,000 budget cut and a $2,600,000,000 debt payment."

SENATE GIVES OPA UNTIL JUNE 30 TO WIND UP BUSINESS

Agency Allowed 17 Million to Complete Duties; Other Control Units Affected

RENT HIKE FAVORED

Banking Subcommittee Votes to Authorize General 10 Per Cent Boost.

WASHINGTON, March 5—(AP) The Republican-dominated Senate, overriding Democratic protests, voted 58-29 today to end OPA and other wartime control agencies by June. 30.

A little earlier, a Senate banking subcommittee voted 3-2 against Democratic opposition to authorize a general 10 per cent boost in rents. Under this bill rent controls would be taken from OPA and left to courts to enforce.

The decision to send OPA to the graveyard of government wartime agencies took the form of a stipulation in a $180,000,000 deficiency appropriation for various government bureaus.

OTC Marked for Death

The stipulation marked for death the Office of Temporary Controls and its constituent agencies. These include the remaining remnants, not only of OPA, but of the Civilian Production Administration which wielded enormous priority powers during the war, and the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion.

The appropriation bill, passed by the Senate today, goes back to the House for action on amendments.

It contains about $17,000,000 to enable the OPA to wind its duties, which now consists mainly of enforcing controls over rents, sugar and rice.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill) said the money was not enough, that the bill would spell the end of rent control by April 30. But Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told the Senate that Congress would be able to set up new control machinery well ahead of April 30.

Lucas' contention also was challenged by Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the Senate Appropriations committee, who said the bill merely signified "the beginning of the end of OPA."

Funds Ample. Cordon, Says

Senator Cordon (R-Ore) declared that OPA would have ample funds to carry on and estimated it would have $10,000,000 more than the amount needed to pay its final going-out-of-business expenses.

A proposal by Senator Hayden (D-Ariz) to increase funds for the Civilian Production Administration by $1,200,000 was defeated on a voice vote. Senator Hill (D-Ala) said rejection of the amendment sounded "the death knell for veterans housing."

Technically, the Senate vote was on a motion to strike out a stipulation—written into the $180,000,000 appropriations bill—that the Office of Temporary controls and the other agencies close shop by June 30. The motion was lost.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) said the stipulation actually has no binding legal effect but is rather an "expression of intent" by Congress to wipe out OTC by mid-year.

Shortly after the vote to retain the stipulation, or so-called "rider," the Senate voted approval of the entire appropriations bill and sent it to the House. The latter chamber, in considering the measure previously, had been even tougher on OPA, refusing it any new money and voting to take away $9,000,000 of its current year funds.

Rent Hike Gets Senate Unit's Approval

Washington, March 5 (AP)—Legislation allowing a general ten per cent increase in rents was approved, 3 to 2, today by a Senate Banking subcommittee.

The subcommittee's action was on formal adoption of the legal draft of a measure which it had approved in principle on February 25. The bill now goes to the full committee.

Senator Buck (R., Del.) subcommittee chairman, said the full Banking Committee will probably consider the proposal tomorrow.

Buck and Republican Senators Cain, of Washington, and Bricker, of Ohio, voted for the rent bill, while two Democrats—Sparkman, of Alabama, and Taylor, of Idaho—opposed it.

The measure would continue rent controls through this year but take their enforcement from the OPA and give it to the National Housing Agency.

June 30 "Death" Sought

Republican leaders are aiming at winding up the OPA's life June 30.

Up in the Senate today is a bill giving it a death sentence then and a $17,000,000 appropriation with which to close out its activities.

The fund is provided in a $180,966,231 appropriation measure.

Senator Taft (R., Ohio), chairman of the Republican Policy Committee, told reporters that Senate leaders plan "to keep the rent legislation moving right along," but it will probably not reach the floor until next month.

No Urgency, Taft Says

Taft said there is no urgency for action because present rent controls do not expire until June 30 and a number of other matters are expected to keep the Senate busy the rest of this month.

In any event, Taft said, the full Banking Committee should require considerable time before it sends any rent legislation on to the Senate.

Sugar-Stamp Figure 'Had 80,000'

Chicago, March 5 (AP)—OPA agents today arrested Charles A. Kohs, 43, who Raymond McClory, assistant United States attorney, said was wanted by Federal authorities in Fort Worth, Texas, on a charge of possessing 80,000 stolen sugar stamps worth 400,000 pounds of sugar.

Kohs was taken before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker. He pleaded innocent at his araignment and was held under $10,000 bond for hearing March 14.

McClory said Kohs's arrest was part of a Federal investigation into what was termed a "gigantic black market" in sugar.

Stolen From OPA Office

Today the Federal grand jury heard witnesses testify regarding the theft of more than 100,000 sugar stamps from the OPA verification center here.

Three colored youths who worked for the center were summoned before the grand jury today.

Two other colored persons, Broadway Arrington and Peg Abernathy, owners of a South Side cafe, surrendered today on an indictment charging them with illegal possession and transfer of sugar ration stamps, and postsd $5,000 bond each.

5,000,000 Pounds Astray

They were immediately subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury to testify in the sugar-ring investigation.

Some 50 indictments have already been returned in the probe. J. Albert Wol, United States District Attorney, said a nation-wide sugar ring was responsible for diverting an estimated 5,000,000 pounds into illegal channels.

CIO Man Urges Newsprint Controls

Washington, March 5 (AP)—Thomas B. Wright, an official of the CIO, told Congress today that the small publisher is "far worse" off for newsprint than during the war and urged restoration of Federal controls.

"The amount of newsprint the small user needs is negligible, but he can't get it," the chairman of the CIO's newsprint committee testified at a Senate Small Business subcommittee investigation into the newsprint shortage.

Monopoly Charged

Wright contended that the "commercial press"—not further identified—monopolized the supply of newsprint, the paper on which newspapers are printed. He added:

"The commercial press is vociferous in its complaint against the iron curtain they see in some foreign country But they have imposed a curtain of gold against the freedom of small publishers and labor to speak effectively for the interests of their people."

From the Catholic Press Association of America came an appeal to "share the paper."

Its representative was the Rev. John S. Randall, of Rochester, N.Y., managing editor of the Catholic Courier Journal, who said he spoke for all Catholic publications in America with a circulation of 12,000,000. He expresed belief that publishers "if they take a sober, long-range view of the problem, can arrange this just distribution voluntarily."

But the problem is so serious, he said, that if it is not settled by this means, it may eventually have to be handled "by regulation."

Saying he had noted "widespread reports of black market operations" in newsprint, Father Randall declared that a continuation of such a practice "will result ultimately in the survival of the stronger publishers and the death of the weaker."

But Wright contended that "cleaning up black marketeers" would not solve the main problem, which he termed "much broader."

"Nothing would be achieved by running down the black markets and picking up a few tons here and there," Wright added.

Senator Murray (D., Mont.) asked, "If we catch them what can we do about it?" Chairman Capehart (R., Ind.) previously had noted that price ceilings no longer exist. Capehart has said that he may call in representative groups in the industry who might have information on price discrimination between publishers.

No Paper For Bibles

H. H. Riemer, representing the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, told the committee his organization is devoted to preaching the Gospel by the printed page and "now we can't get paper."

He added that he did not think his organization should be "stiffled to death in the face of this prodigious advertising that is going on—great pages advertising some French perfume for milady, or a mink coat."

Riemer said he had been offered newsprint at $225 and $250 a ton, compared to the New York base price of $84.

Wright also testified he was "told yesterday by a printer here" that the printer answered an advertisement in a trade magazine for newsprint. The reply was an offer of a carload a month for three months at $205 a ton.

Wright remarked that "the New York Herald Tribune recently printed a foreign supplement of 80 full pages which was reported to have used 780 rolls of newsprint averaging 1,200 pounds to the roll."

Wright said his own paper, the Union News, organ of the CIO Electrical Workers, faces possible suspension because of a lack of newsprint.

Still Storing Newsprint, Canadian Mill States

Montreal, March 5 (AP)—A pulp and paper company spokesman said today his company is still storing newsprint instead of shipping it because of the Province of Quebec's latest storm which stalled many boxcars on their way to the mills.

The spokesman said that even if the weather returns to normal his company would not be up to date in shipping for another month.

If the mills in the Quebec area are hit by another storm such as the latest, which reached gale proportions in some districts, it may take the rest of the year to catch up.

A newsprint industry source said that the situation remains unchanged and still is serious, although there are a "reasonable" number of boxcars on their way to the mills.

Added to this, he said, locomotives which would ordinarily be pulling boxcars are being pressed into service by the railways to clear the tracks with snowplows.

"There are about 8,000 Canadian box cars in the United States but very few American boxcars in Canada. There are a lot of refrigerator cars and flat cars here but it is extremely difficult to ship newsprint in cars of that sort," he said.

LILIENTHAL REPORT EXPECTED FRIDAY

Washington, March 5 (A. P.).—The Senate Atomic Committee today put off until tomorrow another conference with David E. Lilienthal and other nominees to the Atomic Energy Commission. It was explained that committee members were unable to get together because of other Senate business.

Senator Hickenlooper (R.-Iowa), the chairman, previously had told a reporter that the group probably will vote Friday on whether to confirm Lilienthal as chairman of the commission. Nomination of four other members and of Carroll Wilson as general manager also are before the committee.

There is a chance, Hickenlooper said, that the committee may vote on the nominations tomorrow, but it is more likely the decision will be postponed until the following day.

produce mesons, which are particles in the atom thought to be related to the forces which hold the nuclei together, in far greater quantity in the laboratory, and in considerably more convenience than when the physicist is obliged to rely upon cosmic radiation as the source.

Wilson said that through the study of mesons, Cornell physicists hope to obtain a clew to the fundamental problem of nuclear forces.

He said the synchrotron also will be used to investigate whether electric forces still follow the familiar laws when the energy is increased to as much as 300,000,000 volts. Present theories make conflicting predictions about the behavior of electric forces in the ultra-high frequency energy region, he said.

The synchrotron is expected to accelerate electrons to approximately 300,000,000 electron volts.

Cornell Gets Navy Atomic Contract

$500,000 Awarded for Erection of Synchrotron for Study of Nuclear Forces.

Ithaca, N. Y., March 5 (A. P.).—The Navy Department has awarded a $500,000 contract to Cornell University for the study of the atomic nucleus and nuclear forces, Edmund E. Day, president of Cornell, announced today.

Under the terms of the contract, Cornell will construct a synchrotron, approximately 12 feet in diameter, in a building next to the site of the university's proposed new building for the laboratory of nuclear studies.

The synchrotron, which will contain nearly seventy tons of special transformer iron, is expected by college officials to be ready for use next fall. Robert R. Wilson, laboratory director, said that the synchrotron will

TO STUDY ECLIPSE

Washington, March 5 (A. P.).—A B-29 flying laboratory will be sent to Brazil in May to study mysterious cosmic rays during a total eclipse of the sun, the National Geographic Society announced today.

Dr. W. F. G. Swann, director of the Bartol Foundation at Swarthmore, Pa., cosmic ray authority, said air studies will be made in the B-29 to investigate the behavior of the rays at high altitudes. During 30,000 miles of flying last summer, in the B-29 laboratory, Dr. Swann discovered that mesotrons, a portion of the rays, increase in number in northern latitudes.

'BULL' HALSEY RETIRED FOR DISABILITY

Physical Condition 'Incident To Service' Cited By Navy Board

Washington, March 5 (AP)—Fleet Admiral William F. (Bull) Halsey, whose carrier fleets dealt smashing blows to the Japanese, has been retired for physical disability.

The Navy, announcing the order today, said it was approved by President Truman February 28, effective March 1, and official notice had been sent to the five-star admiral.

"Good News," Says Admiral

In Charlottesville, Va., Admiral Halsey said he could not comment because "I don't know a damned thing about it."

"It's good news, though, and I'm glad to hear it," he said.

The Navy blamed a mail mix-up for his apparent failure to get the notice.

Was 64 Last October

Halsey, 64 years old last October, has been on inactive status since January 1. He appeared last month before a navy board which decided he should be retired because of "physical disability incident to naval service." A number of other officers were retired at the same time.

The nature of the disability was not made public. Halsey underwent an operation in New York last December and suffered a "respiratory infection" a year ago.

Halsey is the first five-star officer to retire for physical reasons. He will continue to draw full pay and allowances, totaling $15,750 a year.

CIO Union Appeals From VA Ruling

Washington, March 5 (AP)—The CIO-United Auto Workers asked Federal District Court today to overthrow a Veterans' Administration ruling that three ex-servicemen out of work at General Motors in 1945-46 were jobless because of a strike and thus ineligible for G. I. unemployment compensation.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, veterans' administrator, had overruled an award of the allowance officer in Michigan, and declined to pay the veterans the $20 weekly allotment for which ex-service men are eligible for 52 weeks when unemployed.

The union contended that the three men were entitled to compensation under the GI bill. It argued the corporation had called a stoppage because of shortage of parts and was unwilling to work the plant until the OPA had boosted prices on cars.

A labor dispute was not the cause of the unemployment, the union contended. This reasoning was upheld by the VA allowanve officer in Hichigan, but the head office here overruled him last November 14.

The VA said then that a stoppage of work existed because of a labor dispute and that the three claimants, being directly interested in the dispute, were automatically barred from compensation under the law.

Attorney Martin W. Popper, of New York, represented the union in filing two civil suits to obtain a restraining order against Bradley. Popper said thousands of veterans would be affected by the outcome.

LEAD DAY U.N. (180) 1947

BY FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 5-(AP)-ANDREI A. GROMYKO CHARGED TODAY THAT THE UNITED STATES WAS ATTEMPTING TO HOLD A MONOPOLY OVER ATOMIC ENERGY AND SAID THAT AMERICAN CONTROL PROPOSALS WOULD MEAN "INTERFERENCE IN THE INTERNAL AFFAIRS OF STATES."

THE SOVIET DELEGATE TO THE UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL DID NOT NAME THE UNITED STATES SPECIFICALLY BUT IT WAS OBVIOUS FROM A LONG POLICY SPEECH STUDDED WITH ATTACKS ON THE UNITED STATES ATOMIC CONTROL PLAN THAT HE WAS HITTING AT THIS COUNTRY.

HE REITERATED RUSSIA'S DEMAND FOR AN IMMEDIATE BAN ON THE ATOMIC BOMB TO BE FOLLOWED BY A CONVENTION SETTING UP CONTROLS.

HE TOLD THE COUNCIL THAT THE BROAD POWERS IN THE FIELD OF INSPECTION ON WHICH THE U.S. IS INSISTING CONSTITUTED ONE OF THE DEFECTS OF THE UNITED STATES PLAN AND SAID THAT THE U.S. CONTROL PROPOSALS, WHICH WOULD GIVE AN ATOMIC DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY A FREE HAND IN ATOMIC MATTERS, WOULD MEAN "UNLIMITED INTERFERENCE" IN THE AFFAIRS OF OTHER COUNTRIES.

THE SOVIET DELEGATE SAID THAT IF THE CONTROL RIGHTS DEMANDED IN THE U.S. PROPOSALS WERE GRANTED THEY WOULD BRING INTERFERENCE IN OTHER AFFAIRS.

READING IN ENGLISH FROM A 29-PAGE MANUSCRIPT, GROMYKO SAID THERE HAD BEEN LITTLE COMMENT IN THE UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL ON RUSSIA'S PROPOSALS FOR A CONVENTION TO ABOLISH ATOMIC WEAPONS NOW AND A LATER CONVENTION TO SET UP CONTROLS AND SAFEGUARDS FOR PEACEFUL USE OF ATOMIC ENERGY.

THE DELEGATES LISTENED CLOSELY TO GROMYKO'S SLOWLY SPOKEN DELIVERY OF A STATEMENT HAILED IN ADVANCE AS A MAJOR POLICY SPEECH.

THE SOVIET DELEGATE DID NOT NAME THE COUNTRY BUT THERE WAS LITTLE DOUBT HE REFERRED TO THE UNITED STATES, WITH WHICH RUSSIA HAS DIFFERED OVER THE PROPER ATOMIC CONTROLS. HE SAID RUSSIA CONSIDERED AN IMMEDIATE BAN ON ATOMIC BOMBS MUST BE ENACTED.

HE SAID THE ONLY STUMBLING BLOCK WAS ONE COUNTRY WHICH, HE CHARGED, WANTED TO IMPOSE ITS VIEWS ON OTHER NATIONS. HE THEN NOTED THAT THE UNITED STATES WAS OPPOSED TO A RUSSIAN PROPOSAL FOR A CONVENTION IMMEDIATELY OUTLAWING THE BOMB.

THE RUSSIAN NOTED ESPECIALLY THAT THERE HAD BEEN LITTLE COMMENT IN THE SECURITY COUNCIL ON RUSSIA'S PLAN FOR ATOMIC CONTROL, PUT FORWARD FIRST LAST JUNE AND ADVANCED AGAIN LAST MONTH AS PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO A REPORT OF THE UNITED NATIONS ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION. THIS REPORT CONTAINED THE ESSENTIALS OF THE UNITED STATES PLAN FOR ATOMIC CONTROL.

THE COUNCIL IS CONSIDERING AN AMERICAN PROPOSAL TO SEND THE ATOMIC REPORT, RUSSIA'S PROPOSALS, AND VARIOUS COMMENTS OF THE DELEGATES ON THEM BACK TO THE ATOMIC COMMISSION WITH INSTRUCTIONS TO SEEK AGREEMENT AND TO DRAFT A TREATY.

HE SAID THE COUNCIL SHOULD DISCUSS WITHOUT DELAY THE DRAFTS OF A CONVENTION TO OUTLAW THE MAKING OF ATOMIC BOMBS AND ADDED THAT SUCH A CONVENTION WOULD STRENGTHEN THE AUTHORITY OF THE UNITED NATIONS.

THERE WERE OTHER IMPORTANT PROBLEMS BUT ONCE THESE WERE SOLVED THE REST WOULD BE EASY, GROMYKO SAID, APPARENTLY REFERRING HERE TO THE UNITED STATES INSISTENCE ON CONTROLS AND SAFEGUARDS.

HE DECLARED THAT RUSSIA STOOD FOR STRICT AND EFFECTIVE INTERNATIONAL CONTROL OF ATOMIC ENERGY AND CITED THE AGREEMENT BY FOREIGN MINISTER V.M.MOLOTOV TO INSPECTIONS IN AN ATOMIC CONTROL SET-UP.

GROMYKO CHARGED THAT THE RUSSIAN POSITION OFTEN WAS "PRESENTED IN THE WRONG LIGHT OR DISTORTED."

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 5-(AP)-CHINESE DELEGATE DR.QUO TAI-CHI JOINED BRITAIN TONIGHT IN EXPRESSING GENERAL APPROVAL OF A PROPOSED UNITED NATIONS COMMISSION TO INQUIRE INTO THE PALESTINE PROBLEM. HE SAID HE WAS NOT READY TO GIVE CHINA'S FINAL ACCEPTANCE PENDING FURTHER STUDY OF THE COMPLICATED LEGAL QUESTIONS INVOLVED.

THE THREE OTHER BIG POWERS DECLINED TO COMMIT THEMSELVES.

MEANWHILE, THE INTENSE INTEREST OF THE ARAB LEAGUE IN THE PROPOSED PLAN WAS INDICATED BY FARIS EL KHOURY, SECURITY COUNCIL DELEGATE FROM SYRIA, WHO SAID HE HAD ARRANGED TO SEE SECRETARY-GENERAL TRYGVE LIE AND SEEK A CLARIFICATION OF THE PROPOSAL LIE LAID BEFORE THE BIG POWERS IN A SERIES OF INFORMAL TALKS LATE LAST WEEK.

BRITISH SOURCES SAID THE PROPOSAL WAS ACCEPTABLE TO LONDON, BUT THAT BRITISH DELEGATE SIR ALEXANDER CADOGAN WOULD NOT TAKE ANY ACTION TO INITIATE A REQUEST FOR A FACT-FINDING COMMISSION UNTIL LIE HAD HEARD FROM THE OTHER FOUR POWERS.

IT WAS MADE CLEAR, HOWEVER, THAT IF AND WHEN THE OTHER POWERS APPROVED THE PLAN BRITAIN WAS READY TO ASK THE SECRETARY-GENERAL FORMALLY TO SET UP SUCH A COMMISSION AND DIRECT IT TO FORMULATE A PALESTINE PLAN TO BE LAID BEFORE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN SEPTEMBER.

UNITED STATES DELEGATE WARREN R.AUSTIN AND FRENCH DELEGATE ALEXANDRE PARODI BOTH SAID THEY WERE AWAITING INSTRUCTIONS FROM THEIR GOVERNMENTS. SOVIET DELEGATE ANDREI A.GROMYKO HAD NO COMMENT, BUT HE PRESUMABLY ALSO WAS AWAITING INSUTRCTIONS.

ENERGY COMMISSION WHERE BERNARD M.BARUCH "LEFT OFF."

OSBORN, SIX FOOT EIGHT INCH 58-YEAR-OLD FORMER MAJOR GENERAL, SAID IN AN INTERVIEW THAT HIS FEELINGS WERE THOROUGHLY IN ACCORD WITH THE FUNDAMENTAL POLICY ON ATOMIC ENERGY AS LAID DOWN BY THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

OSBORN SAID HE WAS "AMAZED" AT THE AMOUNT OF WORK ALREADY DONE BY THE ATOMIC COMMISSION ON THE PROBLEM. HE SAID HE KNEW THAT THE POSITION AS UNITED STATES DEPUTY ON THE ATOMIC GROUP TO WHICH HE HAS JUST BEEN NAMED WOULD REQUIRE "AN INFINITE AMOUNT OF PATIENCE."

"I HAVE NO ILLUSIONS AS TO THE DIFFICULTY OF THE JOB," HE SADDED.

HE WILL WORK DIRECTLY UNDER HIS CLOSE FRIEND, WARREN R.AUSTIN, CHIEF OF THE U.S. MISSION TO THE UNITED NATIONS.

HE DOES NOT LIKE TO BE KNOWN AS "GENERAL" NOW--IN FACT, HE ASKS HIS ACQUAINTANCES WHO FEEL OBLIGED TO USE A HANDLE ON HIS NAME TO CALL HIM PLAIN "MR."

OSBORN'S ASSOCIATES POINTED OUT THAT HE NEVER DID HAVE A MILITARY CAREER; THAT HE WAS APPOINTED TO DO A CIVILIAN JOB FOR THE ARMY, AND THAT HE NOW HAS DIVORCED HIMSELF COMPLETELY FROM THE ARMY.

AT THE SUGGESTION OF HENRY L.STIMSON, THEN SECRETARY OF WAR, OSBORN WAS APPOINTED CHAIRMAN OF THE PRESIDENT'S ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON SELECTIVE SERVICE IN OCT. 1940. LATER HE WAS MADE CHAIRMAN OF THE JOINT ARMY AND NAVY COMMITTEE ON WELFARE AND RECREATION.

IN 1941 HE WAS APPOINTED BRIGADIER GENERAL FROM CIVILIAN LIFE TO HEAD UP THE MORALE BRANCH OF THE ARMY. HE WAS MADE A MAJOR GENERAL IN 1943 AND FINISHED THE WAR AS DIRECTOR OF THE INFORMATION AND EDUCATION DIVISION OF THE ARMY.

BORN IN NEW YORK, THE SON OF WILLIAM CHURCH OSBORN, PROMINENT NEW YORK LAWYER, OSBORN WAS GRADUATED FROM PRINCETON IN 1910 AND TOOK A POST GRADUATE COURSE IN TRINITY COLLEGE, CAMBRIDGE, ENGLAND.

HE IS SAID BY HIS FRIENDS TO HAVE MADE HIS FIRST $500,000 SELLING THE DETROIT, TOLEDO AND IRONTON RAILROAD TO HENRY FORD IN 1921.

HE MARRIED MISS MARGARTE L.SCHIEFFELIN OF NEW YORK IN 1914. SIX CHILDREN WERE BORN TO THEM.

(BULGANIN IS THE 11TH VICE CHAIRMAN OF THE COUNCIL OF MINISTERS. A DISPATCH FROM MOSCOW IN FEB.16 LISTED THE FOLLOWING AS VICE CHAIRMEN OF THE COUNCIL, OR DEPUTY PRIME MINISTERS:

(FOREIGN MINISTER V.M.MOLOTOV, L.P.BERIA, ANDREI A.ANDREYEV, A.I.MIKOYAN, ALEXEI KOSYGIN, NIKOLAI A VOZNESENSKY, MARSHAL K.E. VOROSHILOV, GEORGI M.MALENKOV, L.M.KAGANOVICH AND MAXIM Z.SABUROV. THE COUNCIL MEMBERSHIP NUMBERS MORE THAN 70.)

IN A TERSE BROADCAST, THE MOSCOW RADIO SAID "ARMY GENERAL NIKOLAI ALEXANDROVICH BULGANIN, MINISTER OF THE ARMED FORCES OF THE U.S.S.R., HAS BEEN APPOINTED VICE CHAIRMAN OF THE COUNCIL OF MINISTERS BY THE PRESIDIUM OF THE U.S.S.R. SUPREME SOVIET."

BULGANIN ONCE BEFORE HAD THE RANK OF DEPUTY PRIME MINISTER WHEN HE SERVED AS VICE CHAIRMAN OF THE OLD UNION COUNCIL OF PEOPLE'S COMMISSARS, THE BODY THAT WAS SUPPLANTED BY THE COUNCIL OF MINISTERS. HE IS REGARDED MORE AS A SKILLED ADMINISTRATOR AND NEGOTIATOR THAN AS AN OUTSTANDING SOLDIER.

HE ROSE SPECTACULARLY DURING THE WAR. AS HEAD OF THE MOSCOW CITY SOVIET, HE SPECIALIZED IN CIVIL AFFAIRS, BUT HE ALSO WAS A MEMBER OF THE CAPITAL'S MILITARY COUNCIL WHEN THE GERMANS WERE HALTED ALMOST AT THE CITY'S GATES.

THE RADIO ALSO ANNOUNCED THAT MARSHAL ALEXANDER M.VASSILEVSKY, CHIEF OF STAFF OF THE SOVIET ARMED FORCES, HAD BEEN NAMED FIRST DEPUTY TO BULGANIN AS MINISTER OF THE ARMED FORCES.

BULGANIN'S TWO NEW APPOINTMENTS CLIMAXED A SPEEDY RISE FROM OBSCURITY.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF HIS CLIMB FIRST BECAME APPARENT IN NOVEMBER, 1944, WHEN HE DISPLACED STALIN'S REVOLUTIONARY COMRADE, MARSHAL KLEMENTI VOROSHILOV, AS DEPUTY MINISTER OF THE ARMED FORCES.

THE BROADCAST BY MOSCOW RADIO OF THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF HIS APPOINTMENT SAID MERELY: (TEXT)

"ARMY GENERAL NIKOLAI ALEXANDROVICH BULGANIN, MINISTER OF THE ARMED FORCES OF THE U.S.S.R., HAS BEEN APPOINTED VICE-CHAIRMAN OF THE U.S.S.R. COUNCIL OF MINISTERS BY THE PRESIDIUM OF THE U.S.S.R. SUPREME SOVIET." (END TEXT).

STALIN IS CHAIRMAN OF THE COUNCIL OF MINISTERS-- THE HIGHEST POSITION IN THE SOVIET UNION.

BULGANIN IS REGARDED AS A SKILLED NEGOTIATOR AND ADMINISTRATOR RATHER THAN A GREAT SOLDIER. DRING THE WAR HE SERVED SEVERAL MONTHS AS RUSSIAN REPRESENTATIVE TO THE POLISH NATIONAL LIBERATION COMMITTEE, THE SOVIET-SPONSORED RIVAL OF THE POLISH EXILE GOVERNMENT IN LONDON.

BULGANIN BECAME CHIEF VICE MINISTER IN THE MINISTRY OF ARMED FORCES LAST MARCH 22. HE HEADED THE MOSCOW CITY SOVIET DURING THE WAR AND WAS A MEMBER OF THE MOSCOW MILITARY COUNCIL WHEN THE GERMANS WERE REPELLED WITHIN SIGHT OF THE KREMLIN IN THE EARLY WINTER OF 1941.

THE NEXT YEAR, HE WAS PROMOTED TO A LIEUTENANT GENERAL.

ONCE BEFORE HE HAD HELD THE OFFICE OF VICE PRIME MINISTER OF THE SOVIET UNION. HE ALSO HAD BEEN PRIME MINISTER IN 1937-38 OF THE RUSSIAN SOVIET FEDERAL SOCIALIST REPUBLIC, THE LARGEST POLITICAL UNIT IN THE SOVIET UNION, EMBRACING MOSCOW AND MORE THAN 92 PER CENT OF THE GREAT AREA OF ALL RUSSIA.

HE IS A SUBSTITUTE MEMBER OF THE POLITBURO, THE MOST IMPORTANT OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY EXECUTIVE SUB-COMMITTEES, AND IS A MEMBER OF THE PRESIDIUM. HE HEADED AS CHAIRMAN THE STATE BANK OF SOVIET RUSSIA.

AMONG HIS DECORATIONS ARE THE ORDER OF SUVOROV AND THE ORDER OF KUTUZIV, FIRST CLASS, WHICH WERE PINNED UPON HIM IN 1943. HE WAS SOVIET REPRESENTATIVE TO THE POLISH COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION IN 1944.

IN AN ORDER OF THE DAY ISSUED TO RUSSIAN TROOPS LAST NOVEMBER ON THE EVE OF THE ANNIVERSARY OF THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION, HE URGED SOLDIERS TO "PERSISTENTLY LEARN MILITARY SCIENCE AND SKILFULLY APPLY IT IN COMBAT TRAINING."

"THE ABSENCE AT THE PRESENT MOMENT OF A DIRECT THREAT MUST NOT CREATE COMPLACENCY AND APATHY IN OUR RANKS," THE ORDER SAID. "THE CONSTANT MILITARY PREPAREDNESS OF THE SOVIET ARMY AND NAVY IS THE GUARANTEE FOR THE SECURITY OF OUR MOTHERLAND AND FIRM PEACE THROUGHOUT THE WORLD."

BULGANIN WAS CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF THE METALLURGICAL AND CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES IN THE SOVIET COUNCIL IN 1940.

LONDON, MARCH 5-(AP)-RATIONING OF HOUSEHOLD GAS AND ELECTRICITY FOR THE NEXT TWO OR THREE YEARS WILL BE A DEFINITE PART OF BRITAIN'S FORTHCOMING LONG TERM PLAN FOR INDUSTRIAL RECOVERY, A WELL INFORMED GOVERNMENT SOURCE SAID TONIGHT.

SIMULTANEOUSLY, INDUSTRY AND THE POWERFUL TRADES UNION CONGRESS NEARED AGREEMENT ON A PLAN FOR "DOUBLE DAY SHIFTS" IN LIEU OF NIGHT WORK TO EASE THE DRAIN ON OVERLOADED AND INADEQUATE ELECTRIC GENERATORS BUT THE TUC--A MAIN PROP OF THE GOVERNMENT PARTY-- VIRTUALLY REJECTED A GOVERNMENT PLAN FOR NIGHT SHIFTS.

THE GOVERNMENT ALSO WAS DISCLOSED TO BE TRYING--WITHOUT RESULTS SO FAR--TO SPEND SOME OF ITS BORROWED DOLLARS IN THE UNITED STATES ON NEW GENERATORS TO SUPPLEMENT AND REPLACE THE WORN EQUIPMENT THAT CONTRIBUTED TO THE FEBRUARY FUEL CRISIS.

THE OVERALL PLAN, SETTING THE PATTERN OF BRITISH LIFE FOR THE NEXT THREE YEARS AND POSSIBLY MORE, WILL BE ANNOUNCED IN THE NEXT FEW DAYS, THE GOVERNMENT SOURCE SAID.

IT WILL NOT INCLUDE RATIONING OF HOUSEHOLD COAL, HE SAID. THE PRESENT SYSTEM OF ALLOCATIONS BY RETAILERS WILL BE CONTINUED, BUT DELIVERIES WILL BE CUT TO HOMES THAT EXCEED THEIR QUOTAS ON GAS AND ELECTRICITY.

THE LONG TERM PLAN BEGAN TO TAKE FINAL FORM AS GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL SAID THEY WERE "FAIRLY SATISFIED" THE COUNTRY WAS THROUGH THE WORST OF THE FEBRUARY CRISIS, WHICH PARALYZED ELECTRICALLY POWERED INDUSTRY OVER A BROAD BELT OF THIS ISLAND.

THE GAS AND ELECTRICITY RATIONING SCHEME WILL REPLACE ELECTRICITY RESTRICTIONS IMPOSED THROUGHOUT BRITAIN DURING THE CRISIS. THESE RESTRICTIONS STILL IN EFFECT, BAN NON-ESSENTIAL CONSUMERS FROM USING CURRENT FOR FIVE HOURS DAILY.

THE NEW PLAN--FOLLOWING LINES FAMILIAR TO BRITONS UNDER FOOD, CLOTHING AND SOAP RATIONING FOR YEARS--WILL GIVE EACH INDIVIDUAL A PERSONAL ALLOCATION OF GAS AND ELECTRICITY UNITS FOR USE WHEN DESIRED.

A SPECIAL COMMITTEE OF THE TRADES UNION CONGRESS TODAY GAVE TENTATIVE APPROVAL TO A "DOUBLE SHIFT" PLAN FOR INDUSTRY, CALLING FOR TWO EIGHT-HOUR DAYS STARTING AT 6 A.M. AND AT 2 P.M. more

ETC., [redacted] UNDER THIS PLAN HALF THE PLANTS IN ANY AREA WOULD WORK UNTIL 2 P.M. AND THE OTHER HALF AFTER 2 P.M. -- THUS DIVIDING THE LOAD ON ELECTRIC POWER STATIONS BUT STILL AVOIDING AFTER-MIDNIGHT WORKING HOURS. THE [redacted]

ALREADY HAS BEEN ADVANCED BY INDUSTRIAL SPOKESMEN.

THE GOVERNMENT SOURCE SAID THIS COMPROMISE ON EARLIER PLANS TO [redacted] ONE-THIRD OF INDUSTRY ON NIGHTS MET TRADE UNION OBJECTIONS TO DISRUPTING WORKERS' HOME LIVES AND INDUSTRIAL ARGUMENTS AGAINST EXCESSIVE NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL PAY, AND APPEARED LIKELY TO BE ACCEPTED.

PARIS, MARCH 5-(AP)-ADM.GEORGES THIERRY D'ARGENLIEU WAS DISMISSED AS HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR INDOCHINA BY THE FRENCH CABINET TODAY AND REPLACED BY EMILE BOLLAERT, FORMER PREFECT OF THE RHONE REGION AND A POLITICAL ALLY OF RADICAL SOCIALIST EDOUARD HERRIOT, CHAIRMAN OF THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY.

D'ARGENLIEU HAS BEEN UNDER ATTACK BY LIBERAL ELEMENTS AS A FOE OF POLITICAL COMPROMISE SINCE LAST DECEMBER, WHEN THE INSURGENT VIET-NAMESE REPUBLICAN FORCES BEGAN LARGE SCALE ATTACKS ON THE FRENCH, CLAIMING D'ARGENLIEU'S ADMINISTRATION HAD ACTED IN BAD FAITH AND VIOLATED AGREEMENTS.

ORDERED HOME FROM SAIGON FOR CONSULTATIONS WITH THE GOVERNMENT, D'ARGENLIEU DENIED ONLY YESTERDAY THAT HE WOULD BE REMOVED FROM HIS POST IN INDOCHINA.

GOVERNMENT SOURCES REPORTED THAT HE WAS REMOVED BECAUSE HIS POLICIES WERE NOT CONSIDERED SUFFICIENTLY "FLEXIBLE" TO RESTORE POLITICAL STABILITY IN INDOCHINA, AND THAT HE DID NOT RESIGN.

FRENCH TROOPS STILL ARE ENGAGED AGAINST THE VIET-NAM FORCES AND BANDS OF THEIR INDOCHINESE ALLIES WHO HAVE SWORN TO CONTINUE GUERRILLA WARFARE AGAINST THE FRENCH UNTIL THEIR DEMANDS FOR AN INDEPENDENT REPUBLIC INCORPORATING MOST OF INDOCHINA ARE MET.

TODAY'S CABINET MEETING ON INDOCHINA, TO BE FOLLOWED BY DISCUSSION OF THE QUESTION IN THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY AT A SPECIAL FRIDAY NIGHT SESSION, COINCIDED WITH A MILITARY COMMUNIQUE MENTIONING FOR THE FIRST TIME THAT INSURGENT ACTIVITIES HAD SPREAD TO THE WESTERN INDOCHINESE PROTECTORATE OF CAMBODIA.

ALTHOUGH THE CABINET ANNOUNCEMENT SAID BOLLAERT WOULD RECEIVE NO INSTRUCTIONS TO NEGOTIATE WITH THE VIET-NAM GOVERNMENT, AND THAT THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT WAS "NOT DISPOSED" TO CONSIDER VIET-NAM PEACE PROPOSALS, TWO OF THE VIET-NAM PEACE CONDITIONS HAVE BEEN MET. THE INSURGENTS HAD DEMANDED THE REMOVAL OF D'ARGENLIEU AND THE RECALL OF GEN.LE CLERC, FRENCH MILITARY COMMANDER WHO SINCE HAS RETURNED HERE.

THE VIET-NAM REPUBLIC, AS RECOGNIZED IN AGREEMENT BY THE FRENCH LAST YEAR, WAS COMPOSED OF THE INDOHINESE PROVINCES OF ANNAM AND TONKIN. THE VIET-NAM LEADERS CLAIMED THAT COCHIN CHINA, THE SOUTHERN PROVINCE WITH SAIGON AS ITS CAPITAL, ALSO SHOULD BE INCLUDED AND CHARGED D'ARGENLIEU HAD VIOLATED AGREEMENT IN SANCTIONING ESTABLISHMENT OF AN AUTONOMOUS COCHIN CHINA GOVERNMENT OF ALLEGED "FRENCH PUPPETS."

BOLLAERT ALSO HAS SERVED AS HIGH COMMISSIONER OF STRASBOURG IN ALSACE AND DURING THE GERMAN OCCUPATION REMAINED IN FRANCE AS GEN. DE GAULLE'S DELEGATE. HE WAS ARRESTED BY THE GESTAPO AND HELD IN THE BELSEN CONCENTRATION CAMP UNTIL THE WAR'S END.

A SIGNIFICANT DIFFERENCE BETWEEN D'ARGENLIEU, A MILITARY MAN, AND HIS SUCCESSOR WAS POINTED OUT IN THE CABINET ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE CHANGE WHICH CALLED BOLLAERT A "PARLIAMENTARIAN," INDICATING THE GOVERNMENT EXPECTED THE NEW HIGH COMMISSIONER TO PERFORM A DIFFERENT SORT OF JOB.

D'ARGENLIEU HAS BEEN BITTERLY DENOUNCED BY INSURGENT INDOCHINESE SPOKESMEN ALMOST SINCE HE ASSUMED THE POST OF INDOCHINESE HIGH COMMISSIONER IN SPETEMBER, 1945, SHORTLY AFTER REOCCUPATION BY BRITISH FORCES FOLLOWING THE JAPANESE SURRENDER. HE WAS GIVEN EXTRAORDINARY POWERS IN HIS APPOINTMENT BY GEN. DE GAULLE AND WAS RESPONSIBLE DIRECTLY TO THE FRENCH PRESIDENT.

THE VIET-NAMESE HAVE CALLED HIM THE LEADER OF REACTIONARY COLONIAL INTERESTS AND ALLEGED THAT HE HAS ATTEMPTED TO TURN THE INDOCHINESE INDEPENDENCE STRUGGLE INTO A RACIAL WAR.

D'ARGENLIEU HAS CHARGED IN INTERVIEWS THAT THE INDOCHINESE REBELLION AGAINST FRENCH RULE WAS COMMUNIST-INSPIRED AND DOMINATED, AND HAS COMPLAINED THAT INDIFFERENCE TO THE FRENCH CAUSE IN INDOCHINA BY OTHER WESTERN POWERS HAS RESULTED IN STRENGTHENING OF COMMUNISM IN ASIA.

THE ADMIRAL, 58, IS A MEMBER OF A FRENCH NAVAL FAMILY AND WAS EDUCATED AT THE ECOLE NAVAL. HE SERVED IN THE MEDITERRANEAN IN THE FIRST WORLD WAR AND ROSE TO THE RANK OF LIEUTENANT COMMANDER, BUT LATER ENTERED THE RELIGIOUS ORDER OF THE CARMELITES AND, IN 1932, WAS NAMED THE ORDER'S PROVINCIAL AT PARIS.

HE LEFT THE RELIGIOUS LIFE TO RETURN TO THE NAVY IN 1939, WAS TAKEN PRISONER AT CHERBOURG IN 1940, BUT ESCAPED TO JOIN DE GAULLE IN ENGLAND.

PARIS, MARCH 5-(AP)-THE FIRST MATTER TO COME BEFORE THE FOREIGN MINISTERS CONFERENCE IN MOSCOW WHEN THE GAVEL FALLS NEXT MONDAY PROBABLY WILL BE THE FRENCH PLAN OF PROCEDURE FOR WRITING PEACE WITH GERMANY, MEMBERS OF THE FRENCH DELEGATION SAID BEFORE THEIR TRAIN LEFT PARIS TODAY.

HEADED BY FOREIGN MINISTER GEORGES BIDAULT, WHO YESTERDAY IN DUNKERQUE SIGNED A BRITISH-FRENCH ALLIANCE AGAINST GERMAN AGGRESSION, THE FRENCH DELEGATION WAS SCHEDULED TO LEAVE FOR MOSCOW BY TRAIN THIS AFTERNOON.

THE FRENCH PLAN OF PROCEDURE WHICH BIDAULT WILL PLACE BEFORE THE MOSCOW CONFERENCE AT THE FIRST OPPORTUNITY EMBODIES A PROGRAM THAT INCLUDES A MEANS FOR EVERY NATION--LITTLE OR BIG--THAT WAGED WAR WITH GERMANY TO HAVE ITS SAY IN WRITING THE PEACE.

BERLIN--FIRST ADD FRENCH STATEMENT (BY GALLAGHER) (TOP AYE)
X X X CARRIED OUT.

FOLLOWING IS THE TEXT OF THE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS:

Q. EXACTLY WHAT TYPE OF ADMINISTRATIVE MACHINERY DOES FRANCE PROPOSE TO CONTROL THE RUHR? HOW DOES IT FIT IN WITH THE OVERALL MACHINERY FOR THE CONTROL OF GERMANY? WHY DOES FRANCE FEEL THERE SHOULD BE SPECIAL MACHINERY FOR THE RUHR, IN OTHER WORDS, WHY CANNOT GENERAL SUPERVISORY MACHINERY DO THE JOB?

A. THE PLAN WHICH FRANCE HAS ELECTED FOR CONTROL AND ADMINISTRATION OF THE RUHR X X X AIMS ABOVE ALL AT SUBJECTING THE RUHR BASIN ECONOMY TO SPECIAL CONTROL AND ENVISAGES INTERNATIONAL ADMINISTRATION TO CONDUCT CERTAIN EXPLOITATIONS. HOWEVER, SUCH AN OFFICE WOULD BE PERPETUALLY HANDICAPPED IF THE POLITICAL PLAN WOULD NOT SIMULTANEOUSLY PROVIDE GUARANTEES. THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT, IN FACT, IS OF THE OPINION THAT IT IS ENTIRELY IMPOSSIBLE TO SEPARATE ECONOMIC FROM POLITICAL PROBLEMS AND THAT IT WOULD BE SUITABLE NOT ONLY TO PROVIDE FOR ECONOMIC BUT ALSO FOR SPECIAL POLITICAL FORMS OF STATE ADMINISTRATION TO APPLY TO THE RUHR. WITHOUT ENTERING UPON THE DETAILS OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE SYSTEM TO BE ESTABLISHED, THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT SUGGESTS THE APPOINTMENT OF A COMMISSION TO BE MADE BY THOSE OF THE UNITED NATIONS WHO WILL TAKE PART IN THE EXECUTION OF AN INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC ADMINISTRATION. FRANCE CONSIDERS IT INDISPENSIBLE TO CREATE A SPECIAL ADMINISTRATION FOR THE RUHR AND, ABOVE ALL, NOT TO LEAVE IN GERMAN HANDS RESPONSIBILITY FOR PLANNING AND DISTRIBUTING RUHR PRODUCTION. FOR HUNDREDS OF YEARS THE RUHR BASIN HAS BEEN AN ESSENTIAL ELEMENT IN THE GERMAN WAR POTENTIAL. THE NEED FOR EUROPEAN SECURITY PERMITS US ONLY TO ENVISAGE TWO SOLUTIONS: EITHER TO STERILIZE THIS ELEMENT (A SOLUTION WHICH WITH REGARD TO PRESENT WORLD REQUIREMENTS IS NOT DESIRABLE) OR WITHDRAW IT FROM GERMAN CONTROL. NEVERTHELESS, IT IS UNDERSTOOD THAT GERMANY WILL CONTINUE TO BENEFIT FROM RUHR PRODUCTION.

Q. EXACTLY WHAT KIND OF CENTRALIZED GERMAN GOVERNMENT IS FRANCE IN FAVOR OF? DOES SHE SUBSCRIBE TO THE AMERICAN "FEDERATED" VIEW OR TO THE RUSSIAN "CENTRALIZED" VIEW?

A. FRANCE IS OF THE OPINION THAT GERMANY SHOULD BE CONSTITUTED ON A FEDERAL BASIS AND THAT ITS DECENTRALIZATION SHOULD BE PUSHED TO THE UTMOST LIMITS. FRANCE SEES IN THIS DECENTRALIZATION THE ONLY POSSIBILITY OFFERED FOR DEVELOPMENT OF A TRUE DEMOCRATIC SPIRIT IN GERMANY.

B14 (CSEG) 1947

Q. IS FRANCE IN FAVOR OF RETURNING LOWER STRATA ADMINISTRATION TO THE GERMANS, SUCH AS IS PRACTICED IN THE AMERICAN AND BRITISH ZONES, WHERE GERMANS RUN OPERATIONS UP TO THE LAENDER (PROVINCIAL STATE) LEVEL?

A. FRANCE IS OF THE OPINION THAT BY AND BY GERMANY SHOULD BE GIVEN CERTAIN RESPONSIBILITIES, MORE ESPECIALLY THE TASK OF ESTABLISHING CONSTITUTIONS OF THEIR LAENDER SHOULD BE TRANSFERRED TO GERMANS FOR ADMINISTRATION WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF INTERALLIED LEGISLATION FOR CONTROL. THIS IS WHAT ACTUALLY IS BEING DONE IN THE FRENCH OCCUPIED ZONE, WHERE FRENCH AUTHORITIES TRANSFER BY DEGREES TO LOCAL GERMAN ADMINISTRATION BODIES CERTAIN MISSIONS WHICH TO DATE THEY HAVE CARRIED OUT DIRECTLY.

Q. IS FRANCE IN FAVOR OF REPARATIONS FROM CURRENT PRODUCTION? OR FROM CAPITAL GOODS? IS FRANCE WILLING TO BUILD GERMANY ECONOMICALLY TO OBTAIN REPARATIONS FROM CURRENT PRODUCTION?

A. FRANCE, ABOVE ALL, ELECTS REQUISITION OF CAPITAL.

Q. DOES FRANCE FAVOR AN INDEFINITE MILITARY OCCUPATION OF GERMANY OR A TOP LEVEL CONTROL BY USE OF CIVILIAN OR MILITARY EXPERTS WITH INSPECTION TEAMS? MAR 1947

A. FRANCE DOES NOT THINK IT POSSIBLE NOR DESIRABLE TO MAINTAIN OCCUPATION OF GERMANY INDEFINITELY. AT ANY RATE, MILITARY OCCUPATION MUST CONTINUE THROUGH A PERIOD, WHICH CANNOT BE DETERMINED, IN THE TWO REGIONS WHICH CONSTITUTED THE BASIS OF TRADITIONAL AGGRESSION OF WESTERN COUNTRIES BY GERMANY, THAT IS, THE RHINELAND AND THE RUHR. ALSO IT WILL BE AGREED THAT CONTROL EXERCISED BY EXPERTS AND BY MEANS OF INSPECTION MUST BE MAINTAINED EVEN AFTER WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS.

Q. WHAT BORDER CHANGES DOES FRANCE FAVOR, NOT ONLY IN THE WEST BUT IN THE EAST? DOES SHE SUPPORT THE PRESENT POLISH BORDER? THE CLAIMS OF BELGIUM, THE NETHERLANDS AND CZECHOSLOVAKIA, AS WELL AS HER OWN? MAR 194

A. REPEATEDLY, FRANCE HAS INDICATED THAT IT WOULD CLAIM THE SAAR TERRITORY TO BE INCLUDED IN THE FRENCH ECONOMIC SYSTEM. FRANCE DOES NOT ENVISAGE THE POLITICAL ABSORPTION OF THE SAAR, SINCE IT IS UNDERSTOOD THAT THE SAAR WILL BE POLITICALLY SEPARATED FROM GERMANY. AS FAR AS THE OTHER TERRITORIAL CLAIMS ARE CONCERNED, FRANCE, WHO UNDERSTANDS THAT EVERY ONE OF HER ALLIES HAS THE SAME DESIRE AS HERSELF TO ASSURE SECURITY AND LEGITIMATE REPARATIONS, WILL MAKE ITS RESPECTIVE INTENTIONS KNOWN AT THE MOSCOW CONFERENCE. FRANCE'S FOREIGN MINISTER HAS INDICATED ALREADY THAT IT IS NOT INTENDED TO RAISE OBJECTIONS TO TERRITORIAL CLAUSES IN THE DECISIONS MADE AT POTSDAM.

B15 (CSEG)

(POTSDAM GAVE POLAND THE RIGHT TO OCCUPY ITS PRESENT GERMAN TERRITORY, UP TO THE LINE OF THE ODER RIVER. THE UNITED STATES HAS SERVED NOTICE IT DOES NOT CONSIDER THE POTSDAM DECISION FINAL.)

Q. WHAT SORT OF A GERMANY DOES FRANCE ENVISAGE IN 10 YEARS AS BEING IDEAL? WHAT WOULD SUCH A GERMANY INCLUDE? WHAT WOULD HER ECONOMIC CAPACITY BE IN RELATION TO THE REST OF EUROPE?

A. THE IDEAL GERMANY WOULD BE A GERMANY WHICH HAS ABANDONED ANY DESIRE OF RENEWED AGGRESSION AND ONE THAT HAS NO LONGER THE MEANS FOR IT (WHICH WOULD BE EVEN SAFER). MEANING THAT FRANCE IS OF THE OPINION THAT GERMANY IS A NECESSARY ELEMENT IN TOMORROW'S EUROPE AND THAT FRANCE WILL BE PERFECTLY WILLING TO COOPERATE WITH GERMANY, MORE ESPECIALLY IN THE ECONOMIC DOMAIN, WITHOUT MENTAL RESERVATIONS OR RANCOR.

Q. IS FRANCE WILLING TO ABANDON HER POSITION ON THE ESTABLISHING OF A CENTRAL GERMAN GOVERNMENT AND ECONOMIC CONTROL? IF SO, WHAT ARE HER TERMS?

A. THIS QUESTION WILL DOUBTLESS BE ON THE MOSCOW CONFERENCE AGENDA BUT IT CAN BE SAID ALREADY THAT UNDER PRESENT CONDITIONS FRANCE CONSIDERS THE ORGANIZATION OF A CENTRAL GERMAN GOVERNMENT PREMATURE. FRANCE CONSIDERS THAT SINCE SUCH GOVERNMENTS WOULD BE THE EMANATION OF THE DIVERS LAENDER, IT WOULD BE OF FOREMOST IMPORTANCE THAT THE LATTER WERE FIRMLY CONSTITUTED.

Q. FRANCE HAS BEEN BLAMED, RIGHTLY OR WRONGLY, FOR USING HER VETO IN THE FOUR-POWER (OCCUPATION) GOVERNMENT TO BLOCK ALL CONSTRUCTIVE MEASURES FOR GERMANY, SUCH AS A CENTRALIZED POSTAL SYSTEM, ECONOMIC CONTROL, ETC., THUS, BY INFERENCE LEAVING GERMANY IN ITS PRESENT CHAOTIC STATE. WHAT IS TO BE SAID ON BEHALF OF FRANCE FOR HER STEADFAST OPPOSITION SINCE POTSDAM TO TREATING GERMANY AS AN ECONOMIC UNIT?

A. EVEN THOUGH FRANCE HAD NOT BEEN INVITED TO TAKE PART IN THE DISCUSSIONS OF THE POTSDAM DECISIONS, FRANCE HAS ACCEPTED THE POTSDAM CLAUSE AIMING AT ECONOMIC UNITY. FRANCE HAS, IN ORDER TO REALIZE SUCH UNITY, PROPOSED TO CREATE ALLIED OFFICES. IT IS NOT FRANCE'S FAULT THAT THE PROPOSITION HAS BEEN REJECTED.

(THE OTHER POWERS WHICH ADVOCATED GIVING ADMINISTRATION OVER TO THE GERMANS OBJECTED THAT CREATION OF "ALLIED OFFICES" WOULD MERELY REPEAT THE CONTROL COUNCIL FORM OF GOVERNMENT.)

NEITHER CAN FRANCE BE ACCUSED OF NOT HAVING SUBMITTED CONSTRUCTIVE SOLUTIONS SINCE FRANCE IS TO DATE THE ONLY POWER THAT HAS SUBMITTED TO THE ALLIES A MEMORANDUM WHICH CONTAINS A DETAILED PLAN FOR THE FUTURE ORGANIZATION OF GERMANY.

Q. WHAT SORT OF A DENAZIFICATION PROGRAM HAS BEEN CARRIED OUT IN THE FRENCH ZONE? HOW MANY HAVE BEEN REMOVED FROM OFFICE, SENT TO JAIL? WHAT DOES FRANCE THINK OF THE PRINCIPLE OF DENAZIFICATION AS A WHOLE?

A. AS REGARDS DENAZIFICATION, THE AUTHORITIES HAVE APPLIED FROM THE VERY BEGINNING THE INSTRUCTIONS LAID DOWN BY SHAEF AND 18,963 PRISON SENTENCES WERE PASSED OUT AGAINST NAZIS. IN THE FRENCH-OCCUPIED ZONE THERE ARE PRESENTLY 10,895 PERSONS SERVING PRISON SENTENCES FOR FORMER NAZI ACTIVITIES. FOUR HUNDRED AND FORTY-FIVE THOUSAND AND FIFTEEN CASES HAVE BEEN EXAMINED, 168,204 WERE SANCTIONED, WHEREOF 69,068 HAVE BEEN WITHDRAWN OR REVOKED; IN 85,600 CASES SALARY REDUCTIONS OR DEGRADATIONS WERE PASSED. 13,451 TEMPORARILY SUSPENDED. THE PURGE OF THE TOTAL ADMINISTRATIVE PERSONNEL HAS, THEREFORE, TERMINATED, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF A FEW FARE CASES WHICH REQUIRE SUPPLEMENTARY INVESTIGATION. INSOFAR AS PRIVATE INDUSTRY IS CONCERNED, THE PURGE IS IN PROCESS OF BEING CARRIED OUT. DENAZIFICATION IS EXERCISED BY GERMANY COMMISSIONS, FUNCTIONING UNDER LOCAL MILITARY CONTROL. (END TEXT).

THE GREEK COMMUNICATION WAS IN LANGUAGE MOST IDENTICAL TO THAT USED IN A REQUEST BY THE SLAV BLOC SEVERAL WEEKS AGO ASKING FOR THE SUSPENSION OF EXECUTIONS OF CERTAIN PRISONERS HELD BY THE GREEK GOVERNMENT.

WHEN ORIGINALLY RAISED, THE ISSUE OF WHETHER THE COMMISSION WAS EMPOWERED TO INTERVENE IN EXECUTIONS IN GREECE WAS REFERRED TO THE U.N. SECURITY COUNCIL. THE COUNCIL HELD THAT THE COMMISSION COULD REQUEST SUSPENSIONS IF IT BELIEVED THE CONDEMNED MEN HAD "USEFUL" INFORMATION. MS.-SALOUIRA-XXX YUGOSLAVIA

THERE WAS NO INFORMATION HERE ON THE IDENTITY OF THE FIVE MEN SENTENCED TO DEATH IN YUGOSLAVIA.

SOME COMMISSION MEMBERS, IT WAS SAID, VIEWED WITH PARTICULAR SERIOUSNESS THE SECRETARIAT'S DELAY IN ADVISING GREEK LIAISON OFFICIALS THAT THE COMMISSION WISHED THE SCHEDULED EXECUTION OF TWO MEN IN THE KOZANE AREA OF GREECE SUSPENDED SO THEY COULD TESTIFY BEFORE THE COMMISSION. IT WAS ASSERTED THAT THE SECRETARIAT TOOK 24 HOURS TO DELIVER THE REQUEST, WHICH THEN WAS MADE THE DAY BEFORE THE EXECUTIONS WERE SCHEDULED. CHIEF ENGINEER LOGINOV REPORTED TO STALIN THAT THE RESTORATION WORK, STARTED IN 1944, HAD COST, UP TO NOW, ALMOST $54,000,000. LOGINOV SAID THAT ABOUT 5,000,000 CUBIC FEET OF CONCRETE HAD BEEN LAID IN THE BODY OF THE DAM AND IN THE BUILDING OF THE FIRST HYDROELECTRIC STATION FOR THE THREE COMPLETED TURBINES. HE SAID POWER NOW BEING GENERATED WOULD ASSURE ADEQUATE SUPPLY FOR STEEL PLANTS IN ZAPOROZHE AND THE DONBASS.

THE AREA TO BE SERVED BY THE RESTORED STATION EMBRACES 79,000 SQUARE MILES OCCUPIED BY MORE THAN 16,000,000 PERSONS.

THE DAM ORIGINALLY HAD NINE TURBINES WITH AN ANNUAL PRODUCTION OF 2,500,000 KILOWATT HOURS.

AN EDITORIAL IN PRAVDA SAID THE DNEPR DAM PROJECT WAS "PROOF OF OUR MATURITY AND OUR GROWTH AND A REMARKABLE BEGINNING OF THE INDUSTRIAL BLOOMING OF OUR COUNTRY. THE DNEPR DAM HAD NINE TURBINES, AND BEFORE THE WAR THE ANNUAL PRODUCTION WAS 2,500,000 KILOWATT HOURS.

MANY AMERICANS WORKED IN THE BUILDING OF THE ORIGINAL DAM. ASIDE FROM THE USE OF SOME AMERICAN EQUIPMENT, THE RESTORATION THUS FAR HAS BEEN PURELY A RUSSIAN JOB.

stockholm, feb. 28-(ap)-american officials hope the moscow conference will produce a real working agreement among the big four powers to make vanquished germany unified and productive but harmless for generations, but there is no certainty this can be done.

MAR 1947

one of the greatest diplomatic speculations is whether a german settlement now actually will be based on peacemaking for the last war or on preparations for the next one. certainly, negotiations of the german treaty cannot be separated from the broader problem of relations between russia and the west, which appear about as bad in this pre-conference period as at any time since the end of the war.

that secretary of state marshall, facing his first real test in one of history's toughest jobs, will deal hard-handedly with foreign minister v.m. molotov seems foregone. that is the significance of his decision to take john foster dulles as republican adviser and of his outright support for undersecretary dean acheson's charge that russia follows an aggressive and expansionist policy.

acheson's statement thus becomes indirectly the basis of official policy preliminary to the moscow meeting and means that american officials frankly expect the russians to maneuver for control or domination of germany along with as much else of europe and the world as they can get and that the united states intends to try to block them at every turn.

authoritative signs show this picture of marshall's objectives

MAR 1947

at moscow:

1. ~~obtain~~ agreement on principles for a new germany economically sound but militarily powerless and ruled by a federal government with limited powers. the greatest point of conflict with russia is that the united states thinks the allied powers must soon wind up their reparations demands on germany and decide fially what industrial production shall be allowed. the russians are demanding that germany continue reparations out of current production for many years. the russians also appaar to want a strongly centralised berlin control of all germany. many diplomats say their aim is to centralise power for its capture and control by german communists.

2. if agreement is obtained on german principles, united states officials would like to see them applied at once to the currently ~~hair~~-strung four-power administration in berlin as well as to detailed writing of the peace treaty. the expectation is that after the moscow conference the deputy foreign ministers will return to london and work for months in writing the treaty.

3. peace settlement for austria is one of the chief aims at moscow. it would mean removal of british, french, american and russian occupation troops and consequent withdrawal of soviet supporting troops from hungary and romania. the united states and britain regard austria as a liberated power, while the soviets view her as having some german war guilt. the fact is that washington believes russia is against the austrian treaty's being concluded now, preferring to keep her troops there.

4. reduction of occupation forces in countries where they are not promptly withdrawn by treaty is another american objective. the official view is that even in germany the need is not for a large permanent occupation army but for smaller technically expert force capable of keeping tabs on germany to be certain it makes peaceful rather than war goods. the aim of troop cutting is to slash the occupation burden and help europe [redacted] back to economic health.

MAR 1947

5. the old proposal of former secretary of state james byrnes for a 25-year (later boosted to a 40-year) german disarmament treaty also is said to have marshall's strong support. the idea is that specifically in the case of germany the great powers would [redacted] reinforce their obligations under the united nations charter by MAR agreeing to act together to keep germany disarmed. american policy is that most europeans [redacted] fear the united states will pull out of europe again after this war and should be reassured by specific treaty promise.

MAR 1947

in negotiations with molotov, byrnes evolved a "firm but patient" policy. most observers believe that under marshall there will be more firmness and less patience. as a military mind is trained to strike at essential facts, he reportedly has little patience with the diplomatic tendency to bury unpleasant realities under nice words.

MAR 1947

in china he was burned up by what he considered soviet-directed propaganda fight on the united states, on germany, another sore point is what the russians are reportedly doing to win political favor at the cost of allied unity.

with the future peace of [redacted] europe and the world deeply involved in the german treaty talks, marshall is not expected to yield on any major points of american pre-conference policy, but neither have the russians given any preliminary signs of willingness to compromise on major objectives.

as in the case of the earlier [redacted] satellite treaties, it could turn out that the first round of talks would end in a deadlock that might increase the chance of permanent partition if germany among the soviets, britain, the united states and france.

TOKYO, MARCH 5-(AP)-THE GENERAL ELECTIONS NEXT MONTH WILL OFFER THE FIRST TEST OF HOW WELL THE RUSSIANS INDOCTRINATED THEIR FORMER JAPANESE PRISONERS WITH SOVIET IDEAS BEFORE REPATRIATING THEM, INFORMED AMERICAN SOURCES SAID HERE TODAY.

THE DISCUSSION OF THE EFFECTS ON THE ELECTION OF THE REPATRIATES FROM THE SOVIET SPHERE DEVELOPED AFTER THE FOUR POWER COUNCIL FOR JAPAN HAD BEEN TOLD THAT NEARLY A MILLION AND A HALF JAPANESE HAVE BEEN RETURNED BY RUSSIA.

THERE HAS BEEN NO EXACT INDICATION AS TO HOW MANY COMMUNIST SYMPATHIZERS WERE DEVELOPED DURING THE DETENTION PERIODS. EVEN THE BEST OF AMERICAN AUTHORITIES ARE DIVIDED IN THEIR SPECULATION AS TO THE NUMBER OF CONVERTS. 1947

GENERALLY AGREED, THOUGH, IS THE FACT THAT WHATEVER THE NUMBER OF SOVIET SYMPATHIZERS AMONG THE REPATRIATES, THEY SO FAR HAVE NOT BEEN ACTIVE TO ANY MARKED EXTENT.

THE TIME, IT WAS EXPLAINED, HAD BEEN TOO SHORT FOR COMMUNICATION WITH THE PARTY AND ESTABLISHMENT OF CONTACTS.

HOWEVER, DURING THE CAMPAIGNING IN APRIL FOR LOCAL PREFECTURAL AND NATIONAL OFFICES, THE PARTY ORGANIZERS AND PROPAGANDISTS ARE EXPECTED TO PRETTY WELL SHOW THEIR STRENGTH.

AMERICAN SOURCES HERE ARE CONVINCED THAT THE DELAY IN RETURNING THE PRISONERS OF WAR TO THEIR HOMES WAS IN HOPES OF INDOCTRINATING AS MANY AS POSSIBLE WITH THE SOCIALIST PHILOSOPHY.

TOKYO, MARCH 5-(AP)-SOUTH PACIFIC MILITARY AIRDROMES WILL BE RETAINED AS BASES OF CIVIL AVIATION FLIGHTS FROM NORTH AMERICA TO AUSTRALIA AND AS FAR WEST AS SHANGHAI, GLEN A.GILBERT, CHIEF OF TECHNICAL MISSIONS OF THE CIVIL AERONAUTICS ADMINISTRATION, REPORTED TODAY TO OCCUPATION HEADQUARTERS AND THE FAR EAST AIR FORCES HERE. 1947

GILBERT SAID HIS REPORT WAS BASED ON CONCLUSIONS REACHED AT THE CONFERENCE HELD RECENTLY IN MELBOURNE BY THE PROVISIONAL INTERNATIONAL CIVIL AVIATION ORGANIZATION (PICAO). HE IS ENROUTE TO THE UNITED STATES, ACCOMPANIED BY COL.CARL SWYTER, WAR DEPARTMENT REPRESENTATIVE

TO PICAO.

GILBERT SAID CIVIL AVIATION WOULD BE DEPENDENT ENTIRELY ON MILITARY FACILITIES, INCLUDING AIRFIELDS, NAVIGATIONAL AIDS, COMMUNICATIONS, TRAFFIC CONTROL AND OTHER FUNCTIONS.

HE WAS NOT OPTIMISTIC ABOUT THE POSSIBILITIES FOR INTERNATIONAL AIR TRAVEL FOR CIVILIANS THROUGHOUT THE PACIFIC IN THE NEAR FUTURE. TRAVEL PROBABLY WILL BE LIMITED TO GOVERNMENT AND BUSINESS PRIORITIES.

EVENTUALLY, HE SAID HE EXPECTS JAPANESE AIRFIELDS TO BE UNDER UNITED STATES CIVIL CONTROL, BUT THAT THE PROBLEM IS "PREMATURE" DURING THE MILITARY OCCUPATION.

BY ROY ROBERTS

SEOUL, MARCH 5-(AP)-AMERICANS WONDERED TODAY WHAT HAS HAPPENED TO REPORTED PLANS BY KIM KOO, VETERAN KOREAN POLITICAL FIGURE, TO LAUNCH A PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT OF U.S.-ADMINISTERED SOUTH KOREA.

OCCUPATION OFFICERS, WHO ASKED ANONYMITY, SAID THEY BELIEVED THE LONG-EXILED KIM HAD DECIDED TO POSTPONE HIS ANNOUNCEMENT FOR TWO REASONS:

FIRST, HE REALIZES THERE WOULD BE REPERCUSSIONS FROM THE AMERICAN COMMAND WHICH LONG HAS OPPOSED THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT AS CONTRARY TO ALLIED PLANS FOR UNIFICATION OF THE PRESENT U.S. AND RUSSIAN OCCUPATION ZONES.

SECOND, HE WOULD HAVE TO YIELD THE PRESIDENCY TO SYNGMAN RHEE, NOW IN WASHINGTON WHERE HE ANNOUNCED HIS AVAILABILITY. RHEE IS STILL REGARDED AS THE NO. 1 POLITICAL LEADER IN SOUTH KOREA.

KIM WAS NOT AVAILABLE FOR COMMENT.

KOREAN NEWSMEN SAY THE PROPOSED PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT WOULD BE DESIGNED TO UNIFY THE TWO LARGE RIGHTIST GROUPS IN THE AMERICAN SECTOR AND ESTABLISH A SOLIDLY CONSERVATIVE REGIME AS OPPOSED TO ANY AMERICAN-SPONSORED GOVERNMENT WHICH WOULD INCLUDE SOME LEFTISTS AND SOCIALISTS.

ALSO, THESE SOURCES SAY, IT WOULD BRING TOGETHER SOUTH KOREA'S STRONGEST MEN--RHEE, KIM KOO, FORMER PRESIDENT OF THE KOREAN PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT IN EXILE IN CHINA; KIMM KYU SIK, CHAIRMAN OF THE U.S.-CONCEIVED INTERIM LEGISLATURE; AND AN CHAI HONG, NEW KOREAN CIVIL ADMINISTRATOR AND TOP KOREAN IN U.S. MILITARY GOVERNMENT.

KEENAN TOLD A REPORTER HE HAD MET BORMANN FIRST AT A CONFERENCE OF WATERSIDE WORKERS AND SEAMEN IN HAMBURG IN 1932, AT WHICH BORMANN WAS A DELEGATE FROM THE NAZI PARTY.

"I WOULD BET ALL THE TEA IN CHINA THAT THE MAN I SAW IN ELIZABETH STREET WAS BORMANN," KEENAN DECLARED.

"HE WAS WEARING GLASSES AND HAD A PORTFOLIO UNDER HIS ARM. HE WAS GETTING INTO A CAR."

KEENAN SAID HE SHOUTED TO THE MAN IN GERMAN AND GAVE HIM A CLENCHED-FIST SALUTE.

"WHEN I HAILED HIM," HE SAID, "HE GOT INTO THE CAR QUICKLY AND DROVE AWAY."

BORMANN VANISHED FROM BERLIN IN 1945 WHILE RUSSIAN FORCES WERE DRIVING INTO THE CITY. HIS FATE STILL IS UNCERTAIN. HE WAS TRIED IN ABSENTIA BY THE NUERNBERG WAR-CRIME TRIBUNAL AND SENTENCED LAST OCT. 1 TO HANG.

FLEET PRECEDE WITH TASK FORCE DAY

BY DON WHITEHEAD

HONOLULU, MARCH 5-(AP)-ADMIRAL LOUIS DENFELD, HOLDING HIS FIRST PRESS CONFERENCE AS NEW COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE PACIFIC, DECLARED TODAY THAT ANY FURTHER CUTS IN NAVY APPROPRIATIONS WOULD REDUCE THE FLEETS BELOW THE LEVEL REQUIRED FOR NATIONAL SECURITY.

THE NAVY ALREADY HAS PARED ITS BUDGET ESTIMATES TO THE BONE, HE SAID, AND FURTHER CUTS WOULD FORCE A REDUCTION IN PERSONNEL WHICH WOULD MEAN TYING UP SHIPS IN CARETAKER STATUS.

DENFELD SAID NAVY ENLISTED PERSONNEL TOTAL ABOUT 437,000 BUT WILL BE DOWN TO ABOUT 425,000 BY JULY 1. HE ADDED THAT THE NAVY WOULD FACE A CRITICAL OPERATIONAL PERIOD IN THE FALL, WHEN 232,000 ENLISTMENTS EXPIRE.

"WE FIGURE THAT 35 PER CENT OF THESE MEN WILL REENLIST," HE SAID, "AND WE ARE SETTING UP A PROGRAM TO RECRUIT 150,000. THAT MEANS ABOUT 13,000 ENLISTMENTS A MONTH ARE NEEDED TO BRING US UP TO THE NEEDED STRENGTH."

HE SAID THE NAVY HAS ABOUT 60,000 MEN TIED UP ON INACTIVE SHIPS,

HANDLING SURPLUS OR ACTING IN CARETAKER STATUS, AND ADDED:

"UNTIL THE ROLLUP OF BASES HAS BEEN COMPLETED, WE WILL BE HARD PRESSED FOR ENOUGH MEN TO MAN THE FLEETS."

HE SAID THAT AFTER THE PACIFIC FLEET COMPLETES ITS CURRENT MANEUVERS SHIPS OF THE WEST COAST FORCE WOULD RETURN TO THEIR NORMAL BASES AND THE WESTERN FORCES WOULD REMAIN AT PEARL HARBOR A MONTH OR SO, THEN RETURN TO WESTERN WATERS.

THE PRESIDENT DREW APPLAUSE FROM THE MEXICAN NEWSMEN WHEN HE EXPLAINED WHY HE LAID A WREATH TUESDAY ON THE MONUMENT TO "LANOS NINOS HEROES," THE MEXICAN CADET HEROES WHO FELL IN THE DEFENSE OF THE CHAPULTEPEC CITADEL AGAINST U.S. FORCES IN 1847.

"I HAVE KNOWN THE STORY," HE TOLD THE NEWSMEN. "I HAVE KNOWN IT ALL MY LIFE--OF THE STAND THOSE CADETS MADE. I KNOW THE STORY OF THE MONUMENT IS THERE AND BRAVE MEN DO NOT BELONG TO ANY ONE RACE OR ANY ONE COUNTRY. I THOUGHT THEY OUGHT TO HAVE THE WREATH. I RESPECT BRAVERY WHEREVER I SEE IT."

IN HIS ADDRESS AT THE PYRAMIDS, WHICH FOLLOWED A FLIGHT OVER MEXICO'S VOLCANO, PARICUTIN, THE PRESIDENT REFERRED AGAIN TO THE ENTHUSIASM OF THE WELCOME HE HAD RECEIVED IN MEXICO CITY FROM THE TIME OF HIS ARRIVAL AT THE CENTRAL AIRPORT MONDAY MORNING.

HE SAID THAT HE AND PRESIDENT ALEMAN HAD TALKED BUSINESS FOR SOME TIME YESTERDAY AFTER HAVING LUNCH AT THE U.S. EMBASSY. HE WENT ON TO SAY THAT THEY FOUND THEY HAD LARGE AREAS OF AGREEMENT AND THAT THEY WOULD NEGOTIATE WHERE THERE WAS ABSENCE OF AGREEMENT.

HE SAID THAT HIS RECEPTION HAD BEEN SO MAGNIFICIENT THAT HE KNEW HE WOULD NOT BE ABLE TO APPROACH IT WHEN ALEMAN VISITS WASHINGTON SOME TIME IN APRIL.

HE SAID HE HAD A LIBERAL EDUCATION DURING HIS FLIGHT OVER THE VOLCANO, AND THAT ONE OF HIS INSTRUCTORS WAS STRUCK-AS HE WAS BY THE AWFUL THINGS THAT NATURE CAN DO TO A POEPLE.

IT'S A TERRIBLE THING, HE SAID, BUT WORSE WHEN HUMANS TAKE IT OUT ON HUMANS. ADD-MEXICO-(N)-XXX OU T.

ALEMAN AND HE, MR.TRUMAN CONTINUED, ARE TRYING TO GET WORLD PEACE SO THINGS LIKE THAT WON'T HAPPEN. HE SAID HE WAS IMPRESSED BY THE RUINS OF PAST CIVILIZATIONS HE HAD VIEWED DURING THE HOUR BEFORE.

THE PRESIDENT, FLYING IN HIS PLANE, THE "SACRED COW," TOOK OFF FROM THE CENTRAL AIRPORT THIS MORNING FOR THE 400-MILE TOUR TO THE VOLCANO WHICH FOUR YEARS AGO SPURTED FROM A CORNFIELD.

ALMOST AS IF BY ORDER, THE VOLCANO WHICH NOW RISES 2,000 FEET ABOVE THE SURROUNDING FIELDS, STAGED ONE OF ITS FREQUENT ERUPTIONS. WHEN MR.TRUMAN ARRIVED HE COULD SEE NEW STREAMS OF LAVA SERPENTINING DOWN THE SIDES OF THE VOLCANO.

RETURNING HERE AT SHORTLY BEFORE NOON, THE PRESIDENT--ACCOMPANIED BY THE U.S. AMBASSADOR WALTER THURSTON, SECRETARY OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS JAIME TORRES BODET, SECRETARY OF EDUCATION MANUEL GUAL VIDAL AND OTHER U.S. AND MEXICAN OFFICIALS--MOTORED TO THE PYRAMIDS OF TEOTIHUACAN 28 MILES NORTH OF THE CAPITAL. THE HISTORY OF THE RUINS, WHICH INCLUDE PYRAMIDS TO THE SUN AND MOON AND THE REMAINS OF AN ANCIENT CITY HAVE BEEN LOST IN THE PAST. INS

MR.TRUMAN SHOWED KEEN INTEREST IN THE RUIN KNOWN AS THE TEMPLE OF QUETZALCOATL, THROUGH WHICH HE WALKED WITH SCORES OF TOURISTS AT HIS HEELS.

THE U.S.EXECUTIVE LOOKED ON WITH AN APPROVING SMILE AS INDIANS PERFORMED AN ANCIENT DANCE AT THE BASE OF THE PYRAMID OF THE SUN.

HE ALSO VISITED THE MUSEUM TO VIEW ANCIENT TREASURES ON EXHIBITION THERE. HE LUNCHED IN A FLOWER DECORATED CAVE RESTAURANT NEARBY.

MR.TRUMAN SHOWED GREAT INTEREST IN ALL THAT HE SAW, FREQUENTLY QUESTIONING HIS GUIDES.

THE PRESIDENT WAS APPLAUDED BY RESIDENTS OF THE INDIAN VILLAGES THROUGH WHICH HE DROVE, WHILE SCHOOL CHILDREN WAVED TINY MEXICAN FLAGS AND TOSSED CONFETTI AT HIS BIG, BLACK LIMOUSINE.

THE PRESIDENT'S ROUTE LED BY DRAINAGE DITCHES WHERE HE SAW INDIAN WOMEN LAUNDERING BY BEATING THEIR CLOTHES AGAINST THE ROCKS.

ONE THOUSAND MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION INVITED MR. TRUMAN TO SPEAK TO THEM BRIEFLY THIS EVENING AT THE CASINO MILITAR. OTHERS OF THE 5,000 U.S. CITIZENS, RESIDENT OF THE CAPITAL, ALSO JOINED ASSOCIATION MEMBERS AT THE CASINO.

ALTHOUGH PRESIDENT TRUMAN AND PRESIDENT MIGUEL ALEMAN OF MEXICO HAD OPPORTUNITIES TO CONVERSE FOR A FEW MINUTES MONDAY AND TUESDAY, A PRIVATE DINNER AT ALEMAN'S HOME TONIGHT GAVE THEM A CHANCE TO DISCUSS INTERNATIONAL PROBLEMS, MOST IMPORTANT AMONG THEM MEXICO'S FIGHT TO RID THE NATION OF HOOF AND MOUTH DISEASE WHICH HAS INFECTED CATTLE IN TEN STATES.

BEFORE COMING TO MEXICO, MR.TRUMAN SIGNED AN ACT OF CONGRESS AUTHORIZING THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE TO JOIN HIS COUNTRY IN THE FIGHT TO STAMP OUT THE DISEASE WHICH ALEMAN HAS TERMED MEXICO'S MOST IMPORTANT PROBLEM.

U.S. HELP IN FINANCING MEXICO'S NEW INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION AND AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM ALSO WAS A LIKELY TOPIC FOR DISCUSSION.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN IS SCHEDULED TO LEAVE AT 6 A.M. (CST) TOMORROW FOR WACO, TEXAS, WHERE BAYLOR UNIVERSITY WILL AWARD HIM AN HONORARY DEGREE AS DOCTOR OF LAWS. MR.TRUMAN WILL SPEAK THERE ON FOREIGN ECONOMIC POLICY.

THE NEWSPAPER ULTIMAS NOTICIAS TODAY RECALLED EDITORIALLY THE WAR WITH THE UNITED STATES A HUNDRED YEARS AGO AND SAID MR.TRUMAN'S TRIP TO MEXICO HAD "OFFICIALLY CANCELLED A DIFFERENCE THAT HAS BEEN THE CORROSIVE IN MANY SITUATIONS X X X. NOW THAT HAS ENDED. TWO MEN, MIGUEL ALEMAN AND HARRY S.TRUMAN, ONE REPRESENTING MEXICO AND THE OTHER THE UNITED STATES, HAVE CONCLUDED A TOPIC OF SEPARATION AND ENMITY AND SHOWED THE WAY TO FORGETTING AN INCIDENT WHICH FESTERED IN THE LIFE OF MEXICO."

PRESIDENT ALEMAN PLANS TO RETURN MR.TRUMAN'S VISIT, PROBABLY DURING THE LAST TWO WEEKS OF APRIL.

WITH THE FIRST TASK FLEET, CENTRAL PACIFIC, MARCH 5 (AP)-THE NAVY MAY BE FORCED TO LIMIT MANEUVERS TO ABOUT HALF THE NUMBER CONSIDERED ESSENTIAL FOR WELL-ROUNDED TRAINING, VICE ADM.A.E.MONTGOMERY TOLD A NEWS CONFERENCE TODAY, IF NATIONAL ECONOMY MOVES CUT INTO THE NAVY'S BUDGET.

MONTGOMERY POINTED OUT THAT THE NAVAL TACTICS USE UP HUGE AMOUNTS OF FUEL AND ESTIMATED THAT EXERCISES SUCH AS THE PRESENT ONE COULD BE HELD ONLY ABOUT ONCE A YEAR FOR THE PACIFIC AND ATLANTIC FLEETS. HE ADDED THAT THE NAVY WOULD PREFER MANEUVERS EVERY SIX MONTHS FOR EACH FLEET.

THE ADMIRAL, WHO CALLED HIS COMMANDERS ABOARD THE BATTLESHIP IOWA FOR A DISCUSSION OF YESTERDAY'S MOCK BATTLE, EXPRESSED SATISFACTION WITH THE RESULTS THUS FAR.

PREWAR MANEUVERS, BECAUSE OF THE NAVY'S LACK OF COMBAT EXPERIENCE, CONSISTED OF "EFFORTS TO GUESS WHAT HAPPENED. THEY WERE JUST END-LESS DRILL," MONTGOMERY SAID.

"THIS MANEUVER WAS BASED ON THE LESSONS LEARNED FROM THE WAR, AND WAS MORE PARALLEL TO ACTUAL EXPERIENCE."

MAR 1947

TODAY THE COMBINED FORCES, CONSISTING OF A BATTLESHIP, THREE CARRIERS, SEVEN CRUISERS AND 27 DESTROYERS RENDEZVOUSED WITH THE SUPPLY FLEET. TOMORROW IT WILL STEAM TOWARD JOHNSTON ISLAND, WHICH IS TO BE THE TARGET FOR SUSTAINED, THEORETICAL AIR ATTACK ABOUT MARCH 6. THEN THE FLEET WILL HEAD NORTHWEST FOR AN ALL-OUT "ATTACK" ON PEARL HARBOR.

CANADIAN

BY HARRY T.MONTGOMERY

OTTAWA, ONT., MARCH 5-(AP)-U.S. CANADIAN COOPERATION IN DEVELOPMENT OF THE ARCTIC FOR DEFENSE AND COMMERCIAL PURPOSES MOVED AN IMPORTANT STEP FORWARD TODAY WITH ANNOUNCEMENT THAT NINE NEW WEATHER STATIONS ARE TO BE JOINTLY BUILT IN THE NORTHERN CANADIAN WASTELANDS WITHIN THE NEXT THREE YEARS.

TWO OF THE WEATHER BASES -- WHICH WILL BE JOINTLY MAINTAINED -- ARE TO BE FINISHED THIS SUMMER, ONE OF THEM AT REMOTE AND BARREN EUREKA SOUND ON THE NORTHWESTERN SIDE OF ELLSMORE ISLAND OFF THE NORTHEAST MAINLAND, BARELY 600 MILES FROM THE NORTH POLE. THIS WILL BE THE NORTHERNMOST POST IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE, IN A REGION WHERE THERE HAS BEEN NO HUMAN HABITATION.

THE SECOND TO BE COMPLETED THIS YEAR WILL BE FAR TO THE WEST AT WINTER HARBOR ON BETTER KNOWN MELVILLE ISLAND IN THE NORTHWEST TERR-ITORIES, WHERE AMERICAN EXPLORATORY MISSIONS HAVE TOUCHED BEFORE.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE PLANS BY RECONSTRUCTION MINISTER C.D. HOWE MARKED THE END OF THE FIRST STAGE OF A PROJECT FIRST BROACHED BY THE UNITED STATES LAST SUMMER, WHEN AMERICAN MILITARY AUTHORITIES SHOWED A PRESSING INTEREST IN HEMISPHERE DEFENSE ARRANGEMENTS.

THE CANADIANS DECLINED TO GIVE READY ASSENT, AND THE TIME PASSED WHEN ANY OF THE BASES COULD BE BUILT LAST YEAR. IN NOVEMBER NEGOTIA-TIONS WERE RE-OPENED, AGAIN AT AMERICAN INSTIGATION, AND THE PRESENT AGREEMENT IS THE RESULT.

U.S. MILITARY FORCES WILL UNDERTAKE VIRGUALLY ALL OF THE CONSTRUC-TION, IT IS UNDERSTOOD, BEING BETTER EQUIPPED FOR THE TASK. THE ELLS-MERE ISLAND BASE FOR INSTANCE, IS TO BE BUILT BY FORCES OPERATING FROM THE JOINT U.S.-DANISH WEATHER BASE AT THULE, GREENLAND.

THE BASES ARE TO REMAIN UNDER CANADIAN CONTROL AND IN CHARGE OF CANADIAN OFFICERS, BUT THE BULK OF THE WORK FOR THE BEGINNING, AT LEAST, IS EXPECTED TO BE DONE BY AMERICANS. HOW THE COSTS WILL BE SHARED COULD NOT BE LEARNED HERE. HOWE, ASKED WHETHER THE U.S. WOULD PAY ANY PART OF THE COSTS, REPLIED SIMPLY, "YES." TO A QUESTION AS TO HOW MUCH THE TOTAL COSTS WOULD BE HE SAID: "I DO NOT RECALL." AMERICAN SOURCES HERE WERE EQUALLY UNCOMMUNICATIVE.

MAR 1947

A26

IT WAS ASSUMED THAT AIR STRIPS WOULD BE BUILT ON AT LEAST SOME OF THE BASES. IT IS KNOWN FOR INSTANCE, THAT PLANES OPERATING FROM GREENLAND WOULD PLAY A MAJOR ROLE IN THE ELLSMERE ISLAND PROJECT.

HOWE IN HIS STATEMENT SAID THAT AMERICAN ASSISTANCE WOULD BE "INVALUABLE UNTIL SUFFICIENTLY TECHNICALLY QUALIFIED CANADIAN-TRAINED PERSONNEL ARE AVAILABLE." AMERICAN SOURCES HERE SAID, HOWEVER, THAT AMERICAN PARTICIPATION WAS EXPECTED TO BE INDEFINITE.

THE CANADIAN RECONSTRUCTION MINISTER, ASKED WHETHER HIS STATEMENT MEANT THAT U.S. PERSONNEL WOULD BE WITHDRAWN AFTER TRAINING OF CANADIANS, REPLIED THAT "THIS WILL BE DETERMINED LATER."

AN APPARENT VAGUENESS IN THE ANNOUNCEMENT REGARDING AMERICAN PARTICIPATION IN THE FUTURE WAS TRACED BY SOME OBSERVERS TO THE CAN-ADIAN GOVERNMENT'S DESIRE TO DO NOTHING LIKELY TO DRAW SHARP COMMENT FROM THE SOVIET PRESS. RUSSIAN SENSITIVITY TO AMERICAN-CANADIAN DEFENSE MEASURE, AND CANADIAN SENSITIVITY TO RUSSIAN REACTION, BOTH HAVE BEEN IN EVIDENCE IN RECENT MONTHS.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE WEATHER STATION PROJECT COINCIDED WITH TABLING IN PARLIAMENT OF THE GOVERNMENT'S FINANCIAL ESTIMATES FOR THE FISCAL YEAR BEGINNING APRIL 1, IN WHICH DEFENSE EXPENDITURES ARE CUT BY 52 PER CENT FROM $501,345,000 TO $239,741,000.

OF THIS AMOUNT, $5,429,577 IS FOR THE NORTHWEST HIGHWAY SYSTEM, THE CANADIAN SECTION OF THE ALASKA HIGHWAY BUILT LARGELY BY THE UNITED STATES DURING THE WAR, AND $6,311,287 FOR THE NORTHWEST STAGING ROUTE, AN AIRLINE BUILT LARGELY BY CANADA AND ROUGHLY PARALLELING THE HIGHWAY.

CANADA'S ATOMIC ENERGY EXPENSES ARE TO BE CUT FROM $8,869,000 TO $5,838,000, OF WHICH $5,573,000 IS FOR CAPITAL AND OPERATING EXPENSES OF THE TOP SECRET PLUTONIUM -PRODUCING PLANT AT CHALK RIVER, ONTARIO.

NEW YORK, MARCH 5-(AP)-WARREN R. AUSTIN, UNITED STATES REPRESENTATIVE TO THE UNITED NATIONS, SAYS THIS COUNTRY SHOULD MAKE THE WORLD KNOW IT IS READY "TO SUPPORT THE LAW OF THE CHARTER--BY FORCE IF NECESSARY--IN ACCORDANCE WITH OUR OBLIGATIONS."

AUSTIN, LIKE OTHER SPEAKERS BEFORE THE OVERSEAS PRESS CLUB OF AMERICA LAST NIGHT, URGED THAT WE HAVE A STRONG MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT, "NOT FOR PURPOSES OF DOMINATION BUT IN ORDER TO BE ABLE TO BACK UP OUR COMMITMENTS IN SUPPORT OF COLLECTIVE SECURITY UNDER THE NATED NATIONS."

WITH HIM ON THE PROGRAM, WHICH WAS BROADCAST NATIONALLY, WERE SEN. WASHINGTON, MARCH 5-(AP)-DIPLOMATIC SOURCES SAID TONIGHT THE UNITED STATES HAS SENT SOVIET RUSSIA A PROTEST AGAINST REPORTED RUSSIAN INTERFERENCES IN THE FREELY ELECTED NON-COMMUNIST GOVERNMENT OF HUNGARY.

COPIES OF A NOTE TRANSMITTED BY SECRETARY OF STATE MARSHALL BEFORE HIS DEPARTURE TODAY FOR THE MOSCOW BIG FOUR FOREIGN MINISTERS' CONFERENCE WENT TO GREAT BRITAIN AND THE ALLIED CONTROL COUNCIL AT BUDAPEST.

MAR 1947

THE STATE DEPARTMENT DECLINED TO COMMENT PENDING DELIVERY OF THE NOTE.

THE HUNGARIAN GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN INVOLVED FOR WEEKS IN A STRUGGLE BY COMMUNIST AND OTHER PARTIES TO OUST THE SMALL HOLDERS' PARTY MAJORITY IN PARLIAMENT.

THE AMERICAN PROTEST FOLLOWED LAST WEEK'S ARREST IN BUDAPEST OF BELA KOVACS, ANTI-COMMUNIST MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT, BY RUSSIAN SOLDIERS. THIS BROUGHT COMPLAINTS OF INTERVENTION FROM HIS ASSOCIATES.

THE OFFICIAL HUNGARIAN NEWS AGENCY SAID THAT LIEUT. GEN. V.P. SVIRIDOV, RUSSIAN OCCUPATION COMMANDER AND CHAIRMAN OF THE CONTROL COUNCIL, ORDERED KOVACS' ARREST ON CHARGES OF HELPING FORM UNDERGROUND TERROR GROUPS AND ORGANIZING ESPIONAGE AGAINST THE RED ARMY.

IN ADDITION 13 HUNGARIANS HAVE BEEN ON TRIAL ON CHARGES OF PLOTTING TO OVERTHROW THE POST-WAR GOVERNMENT, AND DISPATCHES HAVE REPORTED THAT UP TO 400 INDIVIDUALS HAVE BEEN ARRESTED AND HELD AT POLITICAL POLICE HEADQUARTERS.

QUESTIONS ALSO HAVE BEEN RAISED AS TO INVESTIGATIONS OF THE GERMANS AND AUSTRIANS BROUGHT INTO UNITED STATES LABORATORIES.

WASHINGTON,MARCH 5-(AP)-CHAIRMAN MICHENER (R-MICH) OF THE HOUSE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE SAID TODAY THAT A CONGRESSIONAL "RACKET" HAD DELAYED THE DEPORTATION OF ALIENS.

MICHENER'S STATEMENT WAS MADE IN REPLY TO DEMOCRATIC CRITICISMS THAT HIS COMMITTEE WAS "ASSUMING MORE POWER THAN IT HAS."

THE CONTROVERSY AROSE OVER THE COMMITTEE'S RECENT INSTRUCTION TO JUSTICE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS "TO FEEL FREE TO DISREGARD THE PRACTICE OF STAYING DEPORTATION PROCEEDINGS" OUT OF COURTESY TO CONGRESS MEMBERS.

MICHENER SAID THE COURTESY HAS GENERALLY BEEN GRANTED WHEN A HOUSE MEMBER, THROUGH INTRODUCTION OF A PRIVATE BILL, SEEKS THE PERMANENT ADMISSION OF AN ALIEN.

MAR 1947

IN THE PAST, HE SAID, THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT HAS HELD UP DEPORTATIONS UNTIL ACTION WAS TAKEN ON THE PRIVATE BILL.

"FROM THIS, NOTHING SHORT OF A 'RACKET' DEVELOPED," MICHENER DECLARED. "HOUSE MEMBERS, REALIZING THE PERSON WOULD NOT BE DEPORTED WHILE THEIR BILL WAS BEFORE THE COMMITTEE, MADE NO EFFORTS TO PRESS FOR ACTION.

"IN THAT WAY, BILLS WOULD BE PIGEON-HOLED IN COMMITTEE THROUGH CONGRESS AFTER CONGRESS.

"THERE WAS EVEN THE EXTREME CASE OF ONE BILL BEING INTRODUCED IN A SUCCEEDING CONGRESS IN BEHALF OF A PERSON WHO HAD DIED."

THE COMMITTEE WAS CRITICIZED ON THE HOUSE FLOOR TUESDAY BY REP. SADOWSKI (D-MICH) AND TODAY, THROUGH A LETTER, BY REP.O'TOOLE (D-NY).

O'TOOLE SAID IN HIS LETTER TO MICHENER:

"I HAVE FOUND IN MY EXPERIENCE A GOODLY NUMBER OF CASES WHERE ORDERS OF DEPORTATION WERE ISSUED WHICH, IF CARRIED OUT, WOULD WORK GRAVE INJUSTICES."

THE COMMITTEE'S ACTION, HE SAID, WAS "ILL-CONCEIVED AND ILLEGAL."

FITZGERALD, WHO ACCOMPANIED FORMER PRESIDENT HOOVER ON THE LATTER'S RECENT SURVEY OF THE FOOD SITUATION IN EUROPE, TOLD A NEWS CONFERENCE THAT WINTER CROP DAMAGE IN EUROPE HAS BEEN SEVERE.

WITH PROSPECTS OF A RECORD WHEAT CROP IN THIS COUNTRY THIS YEAZR, SOME FARM OFFICIALS HAD PREDICTED EARLIER THAT A NEAR WORLD SURPLUS MIGHT ARISE IN 1947.

FITZGERALD SAID HIS OBSERVATIONS IN WESTERN EUROPE CONVINCED HIM THAT GRAIN OUTPUT IN THAT AREA MAY FALL BELOW 1946 PRODUCTION AND WILL BE BELOW THIS YEAR'S GOALS. HE ADDED:

"EVEN IF PRODUCTION IS LARGE IN NORTH AMERICA, AS NOW SEEMS POSSIBLE JUDGING FROM THE U.S.WINTER WHEAT CROP FORECAST, THE CROP HERE IS NOT LIKELY TO FILL THE GAP IN WORLD SUPPLIES RESULTING FROM LOWER OUTPUT IN WESTERN EUROPE."

DR.PAUL E.KLOPSTEG, DIRECTOR OF RESEARCH AT THE NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY TECHNOLOGICAL INSTITUTE AND CHAIRMAN OF THE NATIONAL RESEARCH COUNCIL'S COMMITTEE ON ARTIFICIAL LIMBS, SAID IN A STATEMENT:

"SEVERAL RESEARCH PROJECTS HAVE BEEN COMPLETED AND MANY MORE ARE CONTINUING AT SOME 15 INDUSTRIAL FIRMS AND UNIVERSITIES. THE NEXT STEP IS FOR THE VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION OR SOME OTHER AGENCY TO SET UP MACHINERY FOR PRODUCTION ENGINEERING AND DISTRIBUTION."

HE SAID THE RESEARCH WAS CONTINUING IN EFFORTS TO BRING FURTHER IMPROVEMENTS ON LIMBS DEVELOPED BY AMERICAN SURGEONS, PHYSICISTS, AND ENGINEERS AFTER MORE THAN TWO YEARS OF INTENSIVE STUDY OF THE PROBLEM.

PROF. KLOPSTEG, WHO TOURED EUROPE LAST YEAR WITH AN ENGINEER AND SEVERAL ARMY MEDICAL OFFICERS TO STUDY FOREIGN IMPROVEMENTS IN ARTIFICIAL LIMBS, SAID SOME OF THE BEST AIDS NOW READY OR NEARLY READY FOR PRODUCTION WERE MODELED AFTER SEVERAL TYPES FOUND IN GERMANY.

ONE WAS A "SUCTION LEG" FOR LEGS AMPUTATED ABOVE THE KNEE. HE SAID THIS LEG, WHICH IS HELD IN PLACE BY VACUUM AND WITHOUT A HARNESS WAS PATENTED IN THE UNITED STATES IN 1863 BUT NOT ADOPTED HERE.

OTHER DEVICES INCLUDE AN ARTIFICIAL ARM IN WHICH IVORY PEGS ARE INSERTED INTO THE MUSCLE OF THE SHOULDER OR ARM STUMP AND CAN BE MANIPULATED AND AN ARTIFICIAL FOREARM WITH A "WRIST" THAT WILL ROTATE IN A 180 DEGREE ARC WHEN THE FOREARM STUMP IS TURNED IN AN ARC OF ONLY 70 DEGREES.

INDIAN PLAN APPROVED BY PARLIAMENT

T. WILLIAMS (N)

Commons Passes It In Spite Of Churchill's Chaos Protest

London, March 6 (AP)—Britain's decision to quit India by June, 1948, won parliamentary approval tonight despite Winston Churchill's protest that "chaos and carnage" would follow Britain's evacuation.

Brushing aside Churchill's suggestion to seek the "aid and advice" of the United Nations, the top-heavy Labor majority in Commons defeated, 337 to 185, a Conservative amendment.

"The time has come when Indians must shoulder their responsibility," Prime Minister Attlee declared before the House sanctioned his Government's action.

Ended 50 Years Ago

"Mr. Churchill's practical acquaintance with India ended some 50 years ago," Attlee said amid loud laughter from the Labor benches, and added that the time limit was based on "the strongest advice from India that it was desirable to fix a date."

Calling the defeated Conservative amendment "a plea for delay and inaction," the Prime Minister said that "we had been warned that the danger of delay and of hanging on were as great as the danger of going forward."

Two-Day Debate

Opening the final phase of a two-day House of Commons debate on the Government's plan to quit India not later than June, 1948, Churchill asked:

"How can we walk out of India and leave war between 90,000,000 Moslems and 200,000,000 caste Hindus?

"If we lack the physical and moral strength to wind up our affairs in India in a responsible human fashion, ought we not to consider invoking the aid or advice of the United Nations?"

Express Deep Grief

To a House that listened for almost 45 minutes without interruption, Churchill said it was with "deep grief that I watch the clattering down of the British Empire with all its glories and all the services it has rendered to mankind," but he added:

"Having failed in their Indian policy, is not the Government bound in honor, decency and common sense to seek the aid of a wider instrument and authority?"

A. V. Alexander, Defense Minister, declared that "it was one of the best speeches of Mr. Churchill's lifetime career," but he added: "History may well decide that the speech this afternoon has been the principal factor in preventing the sides (Indian factions) from coming together."

Alexander rejected Churchill's statement that Jawharlal Nehru, leader of the All-India Congress party, was not a representative Indian leader. He said that if Nehru and his colleagues "were given a fair opportunity to co-operate with other parties they would bring India through her present difficulties to power, prosperity and peace."

1,000-Year Gulf

Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the Board of Trade, said yesterday the only alternative to quitting India was to "considerably reinforce" British troops and prepare to remain there for another 15 or 20 years.

Today, Churchill said the time limit imposed by the June, 1948, deadline has "put an end to all prospects of Indian unity. I never believed that unity could be preserved after the departure of the British raj, but the last chance has been extinguished by the Government's action."

"How can you suppose," he asked, "the 1,000-year gulf yawns between Moslem and Hindu will be bridged in fourteen months?"

Churchill glanced across the chamber to the smiling Sir Stafford Cripps and admonished:

"He ought not to smile. Although of a fanatical disposition, he has a tender heart and I am sure that the horror that has been going on since the Nehru Government came into power—with corpses littering the ground by the thousands—would have wrung his heart."

He complained that there was "a time limit for India but no time limit for Palestine. Two bottles of powerful medicine have been prepared and they are sent to the wrong place. . . .

"It is said that we cannot walk out of Palestine because we would leave a war behind us between 600,000 Jews and 1,200,000 Arabs."

India Job Suggested For U.N.

London, March 6 (AP)—Winston Churchill suggested in the House of Commons today that Britain turn over to the United Nations the problem of independence for India.

Opposing the Government's plan to free India by June, 1948, the Conservative leader said India would use the time remaining to her before the independence deadline in "the preparation for civil war."

He said Government policies toward India will "darken and redden the coming years" for India's 400,000,000.

Churchill Denounces Nehru

Churchill lashed out at the All-Indian interim Government of India, which presumably would have a large share in control of the subcontinent after independence is granted.

"This Government of Mr. Nehru has been a complete disaster," he said, referring to Jawaharlal Nehru, interim Vice President and leader of the All-India Congress party.

"Freedom has been restricted in India since this Government came into power. It was a mistake to entrust the Government of India to the leader of the caste Hindus, Mr. Nehru. He has good reason to be most bitter of any connection between India and the British Commonwealth."

London, March 6 (AP)—Winston Churchill promised tonight to spring his long-threatened motion of censure against the Labor Government next Wednesday at the end of a three-day debate over Britain's economic plight.

Ice, Snow Disrupt British Transportation (D)

London, March 6 (AP)—Icy roads and a new snowfall left Britain's transport system in chaos today as the nation struggled for normalcy after a three-week fuel crisis.

An eighteen-hour storm spread up to fifteen inches of snow in southern England and the Midland. Thousands of trains were slowed or stopped. Hundreds of trucks and automobiles were abandoned in drifts or on icy highways. Coal and produce shipments were held up.

Hundreds of thousands were late for work in factories. Drivers overloaded some busses, hoping that added weight would mean faster travel on slippery streets.

Frozen conductor rails delayed suburban electric trains. The London airport was closed because of ice on the runways.

NEW STORMS (N) HIT BRITAIN

Continental Europe, However, Welcomes Thawing Weather

London, March 5 (AP)—Blizzards and sea gales caused transportation delays and hardships to storm-battered Britain tonight, while most of continental Europe greeted a thaw as the hardbinger of spring.

Rains in northern France erased most traces of snow and the thermometer in Paris climbed to 49 degrees.

The thaw extended into western Germany, flooding highways and diverting traffic.

As Severe As February Storm

But Britain reeled from the blows of a storm—as severe as the February snows which made this the worst winter in 66 years—that arrived simultaneously with an official forecast of thaw.

The Automobile Association said the blizzard virtually has cut England in half from north to south.

By nightfall Birmingham, heart of the industrial Midlands, was cut off by road from London. Five hundred vehicles were stranded between Cheltenham and Burford in the west of England. Drifts were twelve feet deep in the Malvern Hills.

Thirty-three Welsh coal mines were idle and others had only 50 per cent of their staff. Conditions in the coal fields and on the railway have "deteriorated sharply," the Ministry of Fuel said.

After grappling with cancellations and delays up to three hours in getting millions to work, the London passenger transport services restored full operations by the evening rush hours.

The temperature in London at 7 P.M. was 32 degrees and sleet succeeded the snow. Gale warnings prevailed in surrounding seas.

Long-Term Rationing Forecast

The Air Ministry forecasters, undiscouraged that their predicted thaw backfired, tried again. Tomorrow's forecast—slow thaw.

While Britain was struggling with the new storms, a well-informed Government source said tonight that rationing of household gas and electricity for the next two or three years would be a definite part of Britain's long term plan for industrial recovery.

The overall plan, setting the pattern of British life for the next three years and possibly more, will be announced in the next few days.

The Government source said. It will not include rationing of household coal, he said. The present system of allocations by retailers will be continued, but deliveries will be cut to homes that exceed their quotas on gas and electricity.

The new plan—following lines familiar to Britons under food, clothing and soap rationing for years—will give each individual a personal allocation of gas and electricity units for use when desired.

Western Britain Benefits By Thaw (N)

London, March 6 (AP)—A long-promised thaw reached Britain's western fringes tonight, but whether it would spread over the country in time to prevent another fuel crisis was questionable.

In South Wales, 5,000 men were unemployed today as a result of the closing of a giant steel plant. The company said it lacked the coal to continue operations.

More than 260 main roads still were blocked, trains were snowed in and twelve busses were reported "missing" in Bedfordshire.

The north and south of England were severed by a broad belt of deep, wet snowdrifts that impeded coal production and delivery.

"There is practically no rail movement in the South Wales mining valleys and the situation in the Midlands is almost equally serious," a Ministry of Fuel statement said.

Milk supplies were cut by the new storm.

The thaw spread rapidly over southwestern Europe, dispatches from the Continent said, creating flood dangers from Spain to the Low Countries.

British Blizzard Creates New Fuel Crisis (D)

London, March 6 (AP)—A new fuel crisis threatened storm-battered Britain today.

Ice and mountainous snows knotted the nation's transportation system and slashed critically needed coal production. The Daily Herald, organ of the ruling Labor party, forecast "further checks" on fuel-short industry unless coal stocks get through.

A two-day blizzard that died out last night had blocked 120 highways, stopped all movement on 40 branch lines of the Great Western Railway line and entirely isolated 33 South Wales mines, which went out of production. Attendance at other mines there and in the midlands was cut by 50 per cent.

"Coal Cabinet" To Meet

Prime Minister Attlee called a meeting of his emergency "coal cabinet" for this afternoon.

A major London dairy cut milk deliveries twenty per cent because of tangled transportation. A bread and milk shortage threatened industrial Birmingham, where incoming supplies were reduced 60 per cent.

The blizzard cut England in two for highway travelers. An automobile association said "it is practically impossible to get from south to north." Thousands of abandoned vehicles dotted the roads, many buried beneath snow. A woman's body was taken from one car in Wales. Some schoolchildren were stranded all night in a bus near Oxford, but volunteers dug them out safely.

Many trains throughout the kingdom were marooned in drifts.

The Air Ministry forecast "continuing cold, with hard and severe night frosts." Day temperatures were slightly above freezing in most areas. A gale blew over Dover Strait.

French To Obtain Arms Of Britain

London, March 6 (AP)—Official sources said today French military chiefs had concluded a deal with the British War office for the purchase of aircraft, guns, transport and other materials to equip a 16,000-man airborne division.

In reply to direct questions, spokesmen for the British Foreign Office and the French Embassy emphasized the deal did not involve an agreement to standardize weapons and armaments of the two nations.

Another British official source said Belgium, too, was expected to make some substantial purchases of military equipment from Britain soon.

Official French and British sources said talks between the military leaders began last November.

Britain Counts Cost

London, March 6 (AP)—Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told Commons today that Britain's expenses in Greece during the last two years totaled $348,000,000. British expenses in Palestine during the same period, he said, were $336,000,000.

"Both the British soldier and the British taxpayer have done a great deal more than their fair share in both these countries," Dalton said in answer to questions.

PARLEYS HELD BY MARSHALL

Secretary Confers With Paris Officials On Treaties

Paris, March 6 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, engaged in a whirlwind series of conferences with French officials and American envoys in Paris today and reportedly was brought up to date on the latest developments in Franco-American relations and French policy toward Germany.

The Secretary of State, en route to the Moscow meeting of the Foreign Ministers' Council, arrived at Orly airfield shortly after noon. He went into conference immediately with the United States Ambassador, Jefferson Caffery, and his aides at the embassy, then visited Premier Paul Ramadier and President Vincent Auriol.

Second Plane At Berlin

At about the same time another American plane carrying John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign affairs expert, and other American delegates to the Moscow meeting landed at Berlin, and the special train on which Ernest Bevin, British Foreign Secretary, is traveling to Moscow departed from Warsaw.

Georges Bidault, French Foreign Minister, also has left by train for Russia, but General Marshall talked with Pierre-Henri Teitgen, Acting Foreign Minister, at the presidential palace.

Marshall conferred with Ramadier for 40 minutes at the Premier's official residence, the Hotel Matignon, then drove to the Elysée Palace, where he was received by President Auriol. On both visits he was accompanied only by Caffery. Marshall's assistants, Charles Bohlen, Benjamin Cohen and Marshall Carter, remained at the embassy.

Studies Ruhr, Saar Documents

Embassy documents, many of them relating to the French proposals for international economic control of the Ruhr Valley, were submitted for Marshall's study. Others concerned France's suggestions for a future German constitution and economic attachment of the Saar Valley to France.

The Secretary also was informed of details of the recent advocacy by France and Great Britain of a proposed four-power treaty to prevent any future German aggression, similar to the pact proposed last spring by James F. Byrnes, former Secretary of State.

Dinner Guest Of Auriol

Tonight Marshall was guest of the French President at a small dinner party at the presidential residence attended by key members of the French Cabinet.

Marshall's arrival in Paris was announced by Ramadier, who interrupted a press conference to pay tribute to the Secretary as "a great Allied leader" and "one of the chief artisans of our liberation."

Marshall plans to leave for Berlin early tomorrow afternoon after laying a wreath at the tomb of France's unknown soldier.

MARSHALL MET BY CAFFERY ON REACHING PARIS

Secretary to Be the Guest of President of France at Dinner Tonight.

DULLES FLIES ON TO BERLIN

Bevin, Likewise on Way to Big 4 Talks at Moscow, Pays Brief Visit to Warsaw.

Paris, March 6 (A. P.).—Secretary of State Marshall, en route by plane to the Big Four Council of Foreign Ministers in Moscow, landed at Orly Airport today, while the plane bearing John Foster Dulles and other advisers landed in Berlin.

Marshall, who flew from Washington by way of Bermuda and the Azores, reached Paris at 12:40 P. M. (6:40 A. M.), New York time).

United States Ambassador Jefferson Caffery met the Secretary and took him to luncheon at the Ambassador's residence.

Secretary Marshall is to be the dinner guest of President Auriol of France tonight, and plans to confer with Premier Paul Ramadier before he continues on to Berlin tomorrow for another stop-over and a conference with the American authorities on Germany.

Meanwhile today the French Foreign Minister, Georges Bidault, also en route to Moscow, was in Berlin and Foreign Secretary Bevin spent a few hours in Warsaw.

Premier Praises General.

Caffery boarded the plane and emerged with Marshall, who wore a gray hat and dark overcoat. A small crowd was at the airport. Jacques Kosciusko, chief of the Presidential Office staff, and Gen. Paul Grossin Auriol, a military aid, represented the French Government.

"I am happy to be here," Marshall declared over a French radio network. "We have had a very fast trip, and it is nice to be back in France again."

Ramadier halted a news conference to anounce Marshall's arrival. He said the secretary would place a wreath tomorrow at the tomb of France's unknown soldier. "This is not only a tribute to France's war dead, but a glorification of our common victory," Ramadier declared. France was very happy and flattered to have Marshall as a visitor, he continued, adding: "He was not only the leader of the American armies, but one of the chief artisans of our liberation. This is a debt of gratitude for which we are eager to pay as much as possible. We only regret that his stay will be so short."

Vichy Aide Is Doomed

Versailles, France, March 6 (AP)—Fernand de Brinon, former Vichy Government representative to German authorities in Paris during the occupation, was sentenced to death by the French high court tonight.

U.S. Cuts Reich Labor Drain

Berlin, March 6 (AP)—In a move to reduce the drain upon German economy, the American Military Government is cutting by 76 per cent the amount of German labor requisitioned by Americans in Berlin.

This reduction, ordered by Lieut. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor-designate, will also be extended to the United States occupation zone of Germany to an extend not yet determined.

The wages of Germans employed by Americans under the requisitioning system are paid by the German local governments and thus represent occupation costs.

One Meal A Day

All such "indigenous personnel" get one meal daily from American sources. An effort to reduce this load was also a factor in Clay's order.

Col. David L. Robinson, Jr., control officer at American Military Government headquarters, said the total number of Germans employed by Americans in Berlin had been reduced in the last few months from 42,000 to 21,000. He said that by April 15 the figure would be down to 15,000 and by June to 10,000.

Military Government personnel totaled 6,300 last September and now stands at about 4,500, he said. It is planned to reduce this to 4,000 by June 30.

Fritzsche Transferred To Regensburg Camp

Munich, March 6 (AP)—Hans Fritzsche, former Nazi radio propagandist serving a nine-year denazification sentence, has been transferred from Langwasser labor camp near Munich to the Regensburg internment camp, where he is isolated from other prisoners "for security reasons," it was disclosed tonight.

Fritzsche's transfer, ordered by the German camp commander, occurred soon after he said he was trying to convince his Nazi fellow prisoners that the stories of Nazi atrocities were true, and revealed that few of the Langwasser prisoners were at work, although under sentence to hard labor.

American Quits Post; Assails Reich Policy

Munich, March 6 (AP)—Field Horine, formerly of Louisville, Ky., said tonight he had resigned as American Military Government supervisor of the German radio station in Munich "because of fundamental and far-reaching disagreements with American occupation policy."

Charging that the military government is turning too much control back to the Germans too soon "and so often to the wrong kind of Germans," Horine sharply criticized plans for early restoration of German control over Bavarian radio stations.

"I am convinced that this would endanger the maintenance of freedom of the air and lead to domination of radio by the Bavarian Government," said Horine who was chief of the German section of the Columbia Broadcasting System's short-wave operations before coming to Germany in 1945.

U.N. Probe To Ask Stay For 5 Doomed By Slavs

Salonika, Greece, March 6 (AP)—The United Nations' Balkan Investigating Commission will ask Yugoslavia to delay execution of five condemned men until it can determine whether their testimony might help in its inquiry.

The eleven-nation commission voted unanimously last night to submit such a request to Josip Djerie, Yugoslav liaison officer, after a Greek note declared that the men, now at Skoplje, Yugoslavia, had "information useful to the commission."

Oral Reprimand

The commission is looking into Greek charges that anti-Government guerrillas in Greece got help from Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia. The Slav bloc recently asked that the executions of certain prisoners of Greece be suspended so that they might testify. The United Nations Security Council then advised the commission it might seek such suspensions.

The Greek liaison representative listed the first as Kemal Iskenderi, Ajem Indri Maroui, Hudi Husni Mhu Aren, Mohmet Mezir Boussou and Toma Oaintangiev.

Meanwhile, an informed source said yesterday that members of the United Nations secretariat sent from Lake Success, N.Y., to help the commission had been reprimanded orally for certain actions.

Names Mentioned

Commission members, said this source, accused the secretariat representatives of:

1. Assuming authority belonging legally to the commision.
2. Giving prompt attention to communications from Leftist groups while appearing dilatory in dealing with other comunications.
3. Not being completely courteous to the Greek Government.

Named among them were Col. A. Roscher-Lund, a Norwegian, and Gustav Gottesman, a Pole.

The informant said particular objection was made to the secretariat's delay in notifying Greece that the commission desired suspension of the executions of two prospective witnesses in the Kozane region, until too late to relay the request to Kozane.

Political Deportees Released By Greece

Athens, March 6 (AP)—The Greek Government in an official statement tonight said that orders had been issued for the release of more than 2,000 political deportees and asserted that the mass arrests Tuesday in Athens of 550 persons could not be attributed to their "ideological beliefs."

The statement said action was taken against the 550 persons after it was ascertained that they had been "helping guerrillas by recruiting persons for service with guerrillas and supplying them with ammunition, foodstuffs and clothing."

The gendarmerie said 27 Communists had been arrested today at Eleusis, 12 miles West of Athens, and their deportation ordered.

Press dispatches telling of operations against guerrilla bands in northern Greece said eight had been killed in encounters with the gendarmerie. The dispatches said 40 others had surrendered in the past 24 hours.

Stassen Arrives in Athens

ATHENS, March 6 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen arrived here by plane today from Paris and was met at the airport by representatives of the United States Embassy and the Greek Foreign Ministry. Mr. Stassen was expected to confer later in the day with Premier Demetrios Maximos, Foreign Minister Constantin Tsaldaris and officials of the Bank of Greece. He will leave tomorrow for Rome.

Yugoslav Bread Ration Cut

Government and U. N. R. R. A. Say Food Stock is Dwindling

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, March 6 (AP).—Premier Marshal Tito's government reduced the Yugoslav bread ration 150 grams a day (5.3 ounces) today in the second cut within thirty days. Government and United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration officials said the cuts were ordered because the food stockpile was dwindling.

The new reduction applies even to heavy workers, who escaped the first cut in February. Their ration was reduced from 800 grams (1.76 pounds) to 650 (1.43 pounds). All other categories were reduced. General consumers and children were reduced from 400 grams (14.1 ounces) to 250 (8.8 ounces).

Romania Disaccredits Reuter Correspondent

Bucharest, Romania, March 5 [AP—Delayed]—Nicolae Petrascu, local correspondent for Reuter, a British news agency, was disaccredited by the Ministry of Information today on an order from the presidency of the Council of Ministers.

A Ministry of Information spokesman said that Petrascu had distorted remarks of Petru Groza, Romanian Premier, some weeks ago while serving as interpreter at an interview Groza gave Hubert Harrison, special correspondent for Reuter. This spokesman said that the misinterpretation was such that the Premier's statement in Harrison's dispatch was given a certain anti-Jewish twist. Petrascu denied the charge.

[In London, J. G. Inneson, Reuter news manager, said he had received no information of the disaccreditation and had no statement to make.]

Figl Denounces Schmidt

VIENNA, March 6 (AP).—Chancellor Leopold Figl testified in the war-crimes trial of Guido Schmidt today that the former Foreign Minister of Austria was no traitor but was "so ambitious as to betray any cause in order to keep up his position or to obtain a better one."

POLAND, RUSSIA IN AID AGREEMENT

(N)

MOSCOW, March 6—(AP)—A Polish-Soviet agreement, giving the young Polish republic a Russian loan, ships, railroad equipment, armaments and military equipment, and establishing harmony in viewpoints on Germany, was announced in the Moscow press today.

The newspapers reported that Poland will receive a loan of $28,855,000 in gold, coal supplies due to Russia from Poland will be reduced by half, and German trains seized by Russia will be turned over to Poland. The Poles will also get a part of the German merchant fleet and armaments and military equipment as a credit from the Soviet Union.

In addition, the newspapers said, an arrangement was made for "mutual financial obligations," scientific and technical collaboration.

"There also was an exchange of opinions on the German question, which revealed the principle of harmony in the standpoints of both governments," the newspapers added.

Polish Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz spent nine days in Moscow with Minister of Industry Hilary Minc and other Polish officials negotiating the agreement with Prime Minister Stalin, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, Minister of Foreign Trade A. I. Mikoyan, Finance Minister A. G. Zverev and Deputy Foreign Minister A. Y. Vishinsky.

Before his departure, Cyrankiewicz said:

"We are returning to our country in order to tell our people that an alliance with the U.S.S.R. is not only a political necessity dictated by the experience of the past war; it is dictated by an overall principle, the necessity of the universal security of the Slav peoples, the necessity of building a peace which is indivisible, a united peace in which the alliance of Poland and the U.S.S.R. will be a foundation."

Accord To Bring Poland Much Soviet Aid

(A)

E. GILMORE

Moscow, March 6 (AP)—A new Polish-Soviet agreement, reported to provide for numerous apparent economic benefits to Poland and to express a unity of opinion on the German question, dominated the press of the Soviet Union today.

Newspapers reported that among the things the young Polish republic would receive were:

1. A Russian loan of $28,855,000 in gold.
2. The reduction by half of the coal supplies due Russia from Poland.
3. Trains that the Soviets seized as war booty from Germany.
4. An arrangement on "mutual financial obligations."
5. The establishment of "scientific and technical collaboration" in the field of industrial production.
6. Armaments and military equipment as a credit from the Soviet Union.
7. A part of the German merchant fleet "due Poland," to be handed over by May 15.

Part Played By Stalin

"There was also an exchange of opinions on the German question which revealed the principle of harmony in the standpoints of both governments," said a communiqué.

The discussions from the Russian side were reported to have been conducted by Prime Minister Stalin, with the assistance of Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, Minister of Foreign Trade A. I. Mikoyan, Finance Minister A. G. Zverev and Deputy Foreign Minister A. Y. Vishinsky.

Representing Poland were Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz, Minister of Industry Hilary Minc and others.

The Polish Prmier spent nine days in the Soviet capital. Before he left, he said of the accord:

[illegible]: "We are very satisfied with our talks on economic questions, and also they were very important, too, on the very substantial political questions.

"I can state a complete community of views of both governments. We are returning to our country in order to tell our people that an alliance with the U. S. S. R. is not only a political necessity dictated by the experience of the past war. It is dictated by an over-all principle, the necessity of the universal security of the Slav peoples, the necessity of building a peace which is indivisible, a united peace in which the alliance of Poland and the U. S. S. R. will be a foundation."

Blizzard In Moscow

Moscow, March 6 (AP)—One of the winter's worst snowstorms pelted Moscow today as foreign visitors began to arrive for the four-power Foreign Ministers Conference.

Workers who just had finished clearing city streets were called again to tackle new drifts. The temperature dropped to 5 degrees above zero.

Russ Play Up 'Statehood For Britain'

WAR

Moscow, March 6 (AP)—The proposal by Senator Richard Russell (D., Ga.) that the British Isles become states within the United States was printed widely by the Soviet press today. No immediate editorial comment was offered.

[The proposal, contained in a recent interview with Russell in the Atlanta Constitution, was dismissed by several British political spokesmen as unworthy of serious discussion.]

Soviet writers have been suggesting that Britain is becoming more and more dependent upon the United States and even such a suggestion as Russell's caused no great surprise here. Most Russians seem convinced that Britain has become a sort of junior partner of the United States in the international sphere.

Stalin Keeps Uniform

Moscow, March 6 (AP) — Photographs published today of Prime Minister Stalin, posed with Polish Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz, show him still wearing the military uniform and insignia of generalissimo. Stalin recently gave up his post as head of the armed forces to Gen. N. A. Bulganin.

25 ARRESTED IN PALESTINE

'Known Terrorists' Held As Violence Continues

J. C. GOODWIN

Jerusalem, March 6 (AP)—Arrest of "25 known terrorists understood to be members of the Stern Gang and Irgun Zvai Leumi," Jewish underground organizations, was announced by the British today amid continuing violence in the underground's declared "open warfare."

Police dogs were employed in an effort to track the attackers of an army camp near Hadera early this morning in which three British soldiers were wounded by small arms fire and mortars. A blood trail from the scene indicated two of the attackers had been wounded.

The one fatality reported during the day was a Jewish driver of a military truck destroyed by an electrically detonated road mine near Rehovoth. A passenger was injured.

Two Attacks On Zone

Last night there were two attacks on the British security zone in Jerusalem in which army headquarters, the residence of the commanding general, the public information office and the foreign press camp are located.

The arrests announced today presumably were the consequence of intensive searches being conducted by the police through the martial law zones of Palestine. The identity of those apprehended was not revealed.

A British public information officer termed "absolutely untrue" a report published abroad that those arrested were sent to Kenya in a special plane. He declined to comment on their probable fate.

Arabs Plan Propaganda

Meanwhile, a member of the Palestine Arab Higher Committee, Muin Madi, announced that the Arabs had decided to launch a propaganda campaign in the United States, Central America, Canada, Australia, Central Europe, the Balkans and all the Asiatic states to publicize the Arab case in the forthcoming United Nations consideration of the Palestine problem.

He said the committee planned to make contact with all United Nations delegates and to open offices in New York and London, as well as sending delegations to the capitals of all the countries of the Arab league.

Critical Of Martial Law

The Arab press was critical of the British-imposed martial law over more than 250,000 Jews, claiming it was proving an ineffectual means of dealing with Jewish violence.

"Yesterday Jerusalem was like a battlefield," the Arab newspaper Al Wahda said. "Where did these criminals come from? Martial law is less violent and effective than the curfew."

Thousands of Jews in the martial-law areas ignored the tense situation in celebration of the Hebrew Feast of Purim, commemorating Queen Esther's heroism in saving the Jews in Persia from a pogrom. While children could dance in the streets in gay costumes and exchange gifts, the British ruled out use of firecrackers.

British Report Prisoners Include Stern Gang and Irgun Extremists.

Jerusalem, March 6 (A. P.).—An official announcement today said twenty-five known terrorists had been arrested in Palestine during the last few days.

The announcement said the prisoners were understood to include members of the Stern gang and Irgun Zvai Leumi, both of which are Jewish underground organizations.

South of Haifa, police dogs were put on the bloody trail of persons who attacked an army camp near Hadera this morning, wounding three British soldiers slightly. Two of the attackers were believed to have been wounded in the fray, in which small arms fire and mortars were used. Six homemade grenades were found near the scene.

Violence in the strife-torn Holy Land claimed another victim last night when a private car struck a road mine at Rehovot, killing the Jewish driver and injuring his Jewish passengers.

In Jerusalem unidentified persons hurled grenades at two military vehicles, wounding a British lance corporal and a Palestine constable. A bomb blast wrecked the government assessment office in Haifa, but there were no casualties.

British troops searching for the perpetrators of these attacks lighted the night skies over Jerusalem with red and green flares and there were intermittent sounds of gunfire as a guard post in the British Security Zone repulsed a light attack.

BRITISH FIND NARCOTICS

4 Held After Army Truck Yields Cache in Palestine

JERUSALEM, March 6 (AP)—A British Army source reported tonight that $160,000 worth of narcotics, believed to be the largest cache in Palestine history, had been found in an overturned Army entertainment unit truck Monday north of Gaza.

The Army officer said two men, a British sergeant connected with the entertainment unit and a British civilian entertainer, had been arrested in Palestine, and two other arrests had been made in Egypt after the discovery.

The truck was in a convoy of entertainment vehicles touring the Middle East.

Special stalls were built in the plane to accommodate the horses. The second horse is a present from the Arabian Finance Minister, Sheik Abdullah Suleiman.

Bulgaria Curbs Traffic At Turkish Frontier

Istanbul, March 6 (AP)—Bulgaria closed her Turkish frontier today to all except merchandise trains. Observers here said they believed similar action was taken at Bulgaria's frontiers with Greece, Romania and Yugoslavia.

Diplomatic sources said the ban was to be effective for ten days, but they were not sure of the reason for it. There was the usual speculation that it was ordered because of troop movements.

Tripoli Riot Toll Grows To 17 Dead

Beirut, Lebanon, March 6 (AP)—The death toll from political rioting Tuesday in Tripoli rose to seventeen today with the death of three of the injured. Tanks and armored cars stood by to guard against further violence during the funerals of some of the victims.

One of the ten others injured was still in a serious condition.

Shops and banks in the vicinity of the riot scene were closed as authorities continued an investigation of the outburst, touched off when a crowd gathered to greet Fawzi Bey Al Kawkazi, one-time leader of rebel Palestine Arabs. The rival political parties of Mokadem and Karameh were involved in the fighting.

Warrants have been issued for the arrest of 300 persons.

Fawzi, who arrived from a detention camp in the Russian zone of Germany, is charged in some quarters with having worked for the Nazi propaganda machine during the war.

Curfew Clamped Upon Lahore

WAR 1947

New Delhi, March 6 (AP)—The All-India Radio said in a Delhi broadcast today that a 24-hour curfew had been clamped on Lahore as a result of three new outbursts of violence this morning in the Punjab capital, where communal rioting has cost at least 32 lives since Tuesday.

The broadcast said rival "mobs" opened fire on each other in a Lahore suburb, causing five "casualties," and that police and the military cordoned off the area and dispersed the groups. The radio said police opened fire on two other occasions also.

The "mobs" were not identified by the broadcast, but rioting up to the time a tight censorship was imposed last night, after British Governor Sir Evan Jenkins took over administration of the province, had involved Sikhs and Hindus against Moslems.

Six Die in Punjab Rioting

LAHORE, India, Friday, March 7 (AP).—A Punjab government communique said today that six persons were killed yesterday in communal rioting at Jullundur.

The towns of Amritsar and Multan also were "seriously affected" by communal disorders, the communique added.

[The new deaths raised to at least thirty-eight the number of lives lost in rioting in the Punjab since Tuesday.]

REDS PUSHING CHINA DRIVE (N)

New Offensive Nearing Big Port Of Tsingtao

Nanking, March 6 (AP)—Stung by defeat in the snows of central Manchuria, Communist forces in China proper pushed a determined new offensive today close to the big port of Tsingtao on the south side of the Shantung Peninsula.

Government accounts of the fighting indicated that the overland approach to Tsingtao already was almost cut. [The port is a base for United States naval forces which have been training Chinese sailors.]

Government dispatches from Manchuria said the routed Communist army of Gen. Lin Piao was being pursued north of the Sungari River 70-odd miles from Harbin.

Heavy Arms Moved

The usually reliable paper Hsin Min Pao said the Government was moving heavy arms from China by sea in hopes of entirely crushing the Manchurian Communists "within a short time."

Other pro-Government press dispatches said troops of the Government commandant, Gen. Tu Li-ming, already had crossed the Sungari at Wukoshu and Hsiushuitientzu, 70 and 75 miles southwest and south of Harbin, largest city remaining in Communist hands.

The Government's Central News Agency said the pursuing forces had crossed the Sungari at three unidentified places and were mopping up scattered Communist remnants south of the river.

The same agency, however, said Communists had broken into encircled Kaomi, 62 miles by rail northwest of Tsingtao, and there was no word of the city's fate.

Heavy Tsimo Attacks

Unofficial accounts said 10,000 Communists also had moved to the base of the small Lao Shan peninsula on which Tsingtao is stiuated and were heavily attacking Tsimo, 24 miles north of the port. Tsimo is a road gateway to Tsingtao.

Gen. Wang Yao-wu, who has been fighting Communists in central Shantung province, was reported rushing reinforcements to Tsingtao by unspecified routes. Chinese papers said tension was great in the city.

In Tsinan, Shantung province capital, under close Communist threat for more than a week, 100,000 civilians were reported to have been conscripted by the Government to help the defense.

Advanced Headquarters

Intensified Government preparation for further war in the area also was seen in official confirmation that advanced headquarters had been established at Suchow, railway junction in northern Kiangsu, under a deputy commander in chief.

The Communists, silent about most developments, charged that Government forces were closing in on Yenan, Communist capital in the northwest, having captured a town less than 100 miles away.

China Aims New Blows At Reds In Manchuria (D)

Nanking, March 6 (AP)—The Government rushed large quantities of heavy arms by sea today to its forces aiming new blows at retreating Communist troops in Manchuria, Chinese press dispatches said.

Nationalists established a bridgehead on the northern side of the Sungari River for a drive on Harbin, 75 miles to the north, these reports said. Harbin is one of the big Manchurian cities still held by Communists.

Gen. Tu Li-ming, Government commander in Manchuria, asserted yesterday that his troops could capture Harbin within ten days if given the go-ahead.

Reds Reported In Flight

Red forces were described in disorderly retreat. The central column was placed 54 miles north of Tehhwei, where the Nationalist counteroffensive broke their eight-day siege, and another column 30 miles northeast of the city.

Government authorities in Tsinan began drafting 100,000 civilians to help defend that capital city of Shantung province from threatening Red forces. In central Shantung, both sides battled hard for possession of Szeshui.

On the political front, it was learned on good authority that T. V. Soong, who resigned this week as Premier, would not go to the United States to attempt to negotiate a loan, as reported by the Chinese press.

Communist Hints Peace Move

Nanking, March 6 (AP)—Tung Pi-wu, departing chief of the Communist liaison staff told his friends in a newspaper message today that he believed "the time is not distant when I shall see you again." The Government ordered Communist liaison staffs in Nanking, Chungking and Shanghai to return to Communist territory by the end of this week.

Some Passengers Let Off Quarantined Ship

Shanghai, March 6 (AP)—Four hundred and nine Shanghai-bound passengers aboard the United States transport Marine Lynx, quarantined on arrival here Wednesday from San Francisco, were allowed to disembark today. However, 537 passengers for Hong Kong and Manila were ordered to remain aboard.

The ship was quarantined after a case of smallpox was reported aboard. However, a radioed message from Honolulu, where the Marine Lynx stopped en route here, said the passenger might be suffering from chicken pox. The victim was a Filipino.

Millionth Food Ton for China

SHANGHAI, March 6 (AP).—The millionth long ton of food sent to China by United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration was unloaded at Shanghai yesterday as the freighter Paul David Jones discharged a consignment of wheat from the United States. A few more shiploads will complete U. N. R. R. A.'s China food program.

New School Regulations

Shanghai, March 6 (AP)—The study of Chinese language, history and geography in foreign schools in Shanghai was made mandatory today by the Bureau of Education.

New regulations also provided for inspections of foreign schools; banned attendance of Chinese and forbade "propaganda" derogatory to China or nations friendly to her.

Privates Get 2 Years In Fraud Involving Rank

Sendai, Japan, March 6 (AP)—Two American privates who posed as "Capt. Buck Jones" and "Staff Sergeant Tom Mix" have been convicted by a 9th Corps court-martial of assuming false names and fraudulently obtaining about $250 worth of rubber from a Japanese factory.

United States 8th Army headquarters said Privates Sidney H. Bruce, of Louisville, Ky., and Charles A. Cartigan, of Fort Worth, Texas, were sentenced to two years at hard labor, dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of pay

Philippines Get RFC Loan 1947

Manila, March 6 (AP)—Completion of a $25,000,000 loan to the Philippine Government by the United States Reconstruction Finance Corporation was announced jointly today by the American Embassy in Manila and the RFC in Washington.

The loan is part of a $75,000,000 credit which the United States Congress authorized to help the new Philippine republic meet its immediate financial requirements.

Roxas Says Philippines Must Keep Tie With U. S.

MANILA, March 6 (AP).—President Manuel Roxas in a final radio appeal for approval of a constitutional amendment giving parity rights to Americans, declared today that in a world far from stabilized, no small nation is without its special ties with a greater power.

"Do we prefer to establish special ties with China, with Russia or France?" he asked. "I do not think so. History has made our decision for us, and for this we must be fervently grateful."

Filipinos will vote March 11 on the proposed amendment to give Americans equal rights with Philippine nationals in the republic's economic development.

'Piracy' Laid To Dutch Indies By U.S. Liberty Ship Captain

S. S. WINTON

Batavia, Java, March 6 (AP)—Rudy Gray, master of the American Liberty ship Martin Behrman, accused the Netherlands East Indies administration of "an act of piracy" today and ordered his crew to resist with force any Dutch attempt to open the ship's hatches "unless they have the gun on you first."

The Dutch administration has ordered seizure of the Behrman's $3,000,000 cargo of vital industrial raw materials which have been bottled up in the Indies during and since the war.

Loaded At Cheribon

"We will resist any attempt at highhanded action by the Dutch with all the means at our disposal," Gray said. "As an American ship in a friendly port, we have every right that American ports at present offer Dutch ships."

The Behrman's cargo of cinchona (quinine), sugar, rubber, sisal and other products of Java plantations was loaded at Cheribon, the port east of here under control of insurgent Indonesian Republicans. Its seizure was ordered by the Dutch authorities here on the ground that it was produce of European-owned plantations and not the lawful property of the Indonesians.

Marines Ordered To Shoot

Gray and James W. Ryan, attorney for the Isbrandsten line, which has leased the ship from the United States Maritime Commission, charged the Dutch with "piracy" in an "appeal through the press to the United States Government for protection of this American vessel, her master and crew against the use of violence."

They said Marines aboard the Dutch destroyer which escorted the American ship from Cheribon to Batavia harbor "were under orders to shoot the helmsman if he attempted to deviate from the course."

The Dutch administration replied with a communiqué stating the charge was "factually and legally without foundation." It said the Behrman had "at all times been treated with the courtesy befitting a merchant vessel of a friendly power," and "there has been no question of any threats to the master or crew."

But this morning Gray was met by a Dutch police officer as he approached the Behrman and served with a summons to appear before a Dutch court-martial on Friday. He was not arrested. Gray said he was ignorant of any charge against him or what the court-martial might be about.

Unloading Reported

The Dutch issued a communiqué yesterday saying that unloading of the Behrman had begun, but Gray said late today they still had made no effort to remove any part of the cargo from the ship.

Gray was notified officially today of the United States State Department's protest to the Netherlands Government against the treatment of the Behrman.

[A dispatch from The Hague said the Netherlands Foreign Affairs Department had received the American protest and would answer as soon as the required information was received from Batavia.]

attempted to unload the ship. A Government communiqué last night reported the unloading had begun.

Formal Protest Asked

Ryan said yesterday that the State Department had been asked to file a formal protest in the case and that the matter would be put before Congress if necessary.

Piracy Laid To Dutch In Seizing U.S. Ship (D) 1947

S.S. WINTON

Batavia, Java, March 6 (AP)—A ship captain and a lawyer from the United States jointly accused the Netherlands navy today of committing an "act of piracy" in seizure of the United States liberty ship Martin Behrman with her cargo of commodities from Republican Java.

The two were Capt. Rudy Grey, master of the Martin Behrman, and James W. Ryan, attorney for the Isbrandtsen Company of New York, the vessel's operator. The ship, escorted by a Dutch destroyer, arrived at Tandjong Priok, Batavia harbor, last week end after loading rubber, sugar and cinchona (quinine bark) at Cheribon.

They Issue Written Appeal

Grey and Ryan made what they termed a "written appeal through the press to the United States Government for protection of this American vessel, her master and crew against the use of violence."

"The Netherlands East Indies director of economic affairs, J. E. Van Hoogstraten, arbitrarily refused to let Ryan present a protest against the treatment of the Behrman," the appeal said.

"The Behrman was standing two miles offshore at the port of Cheribon when, under threat that she would be sunk by gunfire if she failed to obey, she was forced by the Dutch destroyer Kortenaer and Dutch marines to leave territorial waters, travel 160 miles on the high seas and re-enter territorial waters at Tandjong Priok harbor.

Turned Into "Prison Ship"

"From the moment the Behrman reached the high seas, the Kortenaer became a pirate ship unlawfully using the American vessel as a Dutch prison ship for the confinement of the Behrman's master and crew, who were not indicted for nor convicted of any offense.

"The Dutch naval officer aboard told Grey his marines were under orders to shoot the American helmsman if he attempted to deviate from the course."

Grey said the Dutch had not yet nounced yesterday that the United States was protesting to the Netherlands against export regulations that led to the ship's seizure and that the United States Embassy in the Hague had been instructed to urge an amicable adjustment of the seizure.]

Ryan said that Hoogstraten, in a formal notice, had reported that an inspection had shown the Martin Behrman's cargo to have been "looted" from Dutch estates now in Republican hands.

'Sale To U.S.' Reports Stir Bermudians

Hamilton, Bermuda, March 6 (AP). Governor Sir Ralph Leatham has been asked by the House of Assembly to seek assurance from the British Government that it is not negotiating to sell this island colony to the United States.

The message was sent to the Governor after a two-hour debate yesterday, launched by members who said they had heard rumors that the sale of Bermuda was being considered.

The debate diverged into a demand by Ernest Vesey, Independent member, for greater self-government for Bermuda.

Panama Rejects Italy Treaty As Too Harsh

Panama, Panama, March 6 (AP)—The Foreign Ministry announced today that Panama declines to adhere to the Italian peace treaty recently signed in Paris because the Government considers the terms too harsh.

A communiqué said Panama had supported Argentine and Uruguayan movements for lenient peace terms for Italy prior to and during the Paris peace conference last year. Panama did not participate in the peace conference.

Security Council Ponders New Russ Atom Statement

MAR 1947

Lake Success, N.Y., March 6 (AP). Pessimistic Security Council delegates, groping for a solution to global control of atomic energy, pondered today a Russian assertion that Soviet frontiers would never be thrown open to unlimited international inspection nor Soviet factories allowed to operate under United Nations control.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, made these points clear in a major policy speech, devoted principally to an outspoken attack on the American control plan.

Gromyko said the United States proposals, already accepted by all members of the twelve-nation Atomic Energy Commission except Russia and Poland, were contrary to the basic economic and national interests of other nations and "directed against the independence of other states."

Not On U.S. Terms

The Russian delegate insisted that he was in favor of strict and effective international control, but not on the broad terms laid down by the United States. While repeatedly assailing the American provisions in a 78-minute speech, Gromyko did not state how far his country was willing to go toward "strict" control.

The United States wants an atomic-development authority with full powers of inspection and control of atomic matters everywhere.

Delegates generally reserved immediate comment pending a study of the text, but it was apparent that many envisioned major difficulty in clearing up the inspection-control problems in the face of the Russian stand.

Eve Of Conference

Coming almost on the eve of the Moscow conference, the speech was viewed as specially significant.

"Unlimited control would mean an unlimited interference of the control and controlling organs in the economic life of the countries on whose territory this control will be carried out, and interference in their internal affairs," Gromyko said.

He added:

"Strict regulation of powers and duties of a control organ should exclude the unlimited access for inspection purpose to all equipment and operations and should also exclude granting to inspection the right to shut down plants, to interfere with normal mining and milling operations and granting it the right of giving so-called licenses."

Gromyko charged that the United States was attempting "to secure for itself world monopoly in the field of atomic energy" through its plan for unlimited control. He again demanded that the manufacture of atomic bombs be prohibited as a first step toward any control system. He said flatly that there could be no agreement on the veto so long as the United States insisted on banning its use in punishing atomic violators.

The Council will take up the atomic problem again Monday, when Austin is expected to answer Gromyko. Meanwhile, delegates will convene Friday to continue debate on the American request for trusteeship over Japanese mandated islands in the Pacific.

U. S. 'IGNORES' REDS' NEW ATOMIC BLAST

Austin Seeks Clarification of Gromyko's Protest on American Plan.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 6 —(AP) Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate to the United Nations Security Council, was reported tonight to have decided against making a detailed reply to Russia's latest attack on the American atomic control plan.

Informed quarters said Austin would take the floor when the council resumes debate on the atomic control issue Monday, but that he would speak only briefly and that his main purpose would be to seek clarification of some points raised yesterday by Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko.

Gromyko rejected the American atomic plan on the ground that it was designed to give the United States a world monopoly on atomic energy and that it would permit unrestricted interference in the affairs of nations taking part in the control system.

Austin was represented as feeling that the U. S. position was thoroughly understood by the council, as a result of months of discussions, and that it would be useless therefore to answer Russia's criticism in detail.

The council is scheduled to meet at 3 p.m. tomorrow to resume debate on the United States plan to place the Japanese mandated islands under UN "strategic" trusteeship, with the United States as sole administrator.

TRUMAN ASKS CUT IN TRADE BARRIERS

Alternative Is Economic War, He Warns in Texas Address.

WACO, Tex., March 6—(AP) The alternative to lowering of international trade barriers is economic war, President Truman warned the nation today in an address delivered after he received an honorary degree from Baylor University.

The President left by plane for Washington at 2:14 p. m. (C.S.T.) after pausing here three and a half hours on his return from his good will trip to Mexico City. Mr. Truman reached Washington at 8:20 p. m., E.S.T., after a non-stop flight from here.

Asks Backing of Trade Plan

Cold, wet weather thinned the anticipated 150,000 persons expected to pack highways and streets along his line of parade, but despite the cold, downtown sidewalks were jammed and Waco Hall where he spoke was packed.

The President appealed for full congressional support of the reciprocal trade agreements program, and for the forthcoming Geneva negotiations.

He said "we are the giants of the economic world" of today.

"We can lead the nations to economic peace or we can plunge them into economic war," he said.

"In such a war, nobody wins."

He warned that isolationism could result in another depression

He said that the alternative to "regimentation" of international commerce is the world trade charter to be considered by 18 nations at Geneva next month.

The proposed international trade organization, he said, would apply to commercial relationships "the same principle of fair dealing that the United States is applying to political affairs."

He warned that "the negotiations at Geneva must not fail."

"There must be no question as to our course. We must not go through the thirties again."

TRUMAN CALLS FOR LOWERING OF TRADE BARS

Declares U. S. Can Lead Way to Economic Peace or Economic War.

ASSAILS HIGH TARIFF BACKERS

In Speech at Baylor University President Omits Mention of Aid to Greece.

Waco, Tex., March 6 (A. P.).—President Truman, calling for a reduction of world trade barriers, declared today that the United States "can lead the nations to economic peace or we can plunge them into economic war."

En route home from a three-day Good Will visit to Mexico, the President stopped here to receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Baylor University. In a speech of acceptance devoted entirely to the need for freer world trade, he (1) reasserted his faith in the reciprocal trade act which has been under attack by some Republicans in Congress; (2) assailed those who would return to high tariffs and economic isolation; (3) welcomed a continuation of bi-partisan support for a foreign policy that calls for co-operation in the economic as well as the political field, and (4) declared that the alternative to a regimentation of international commerce is the world trade charter to be considered by eighteen nations at Geneva next month. The proposed International Trade Organization, he said, would apply to commercial relationships "the same principle of fair dealing that the United Nations is applying to political affairs."

[Mr. Truman made no reference in his remarks to Greece's appeal, with support from Britain, for American economic aid. On Tuesday Secretary of State Marshall described the threatened collapse of the Greek economy as a matter of primary importance to the United States, and said that details of action proposed would be announced by the President.]

'Must Not Fail.'

"The negotiations at Geneva must not fail," Mr. Truman declared. Describing the United States today as "the giant of the economic world," he declared: "Whether we like it or not, the future pattern of economic relations depends upon us. The world is waiting and watching to see what we shall do. The choice is ours. We can lead the nations to economic peace or we can plunge them into economic war. There must be no question as to our course. We must not go through the 'thirties again."

He said that reduction of trade barriers is a settled policy of this government, one of the "cornerstones of our plans for peace," and "a policy from which we cannot—and must not—turn aside." He added: "To those among us—and there are still a few—who would seek to undermine this policy for partisan advantage and go back to the period of high tariffs and economic isolation, I can say only this: Take care! Times have changed. Our position in the world has changed. The temper of the people has changed. The slogans of 1930 or of 1896 are sadly out of date. Isolationism, after two world wars, is a confession of mental and moral bankruptcy."

Sees Americans United.

As for bi-partisan co-operation, he said: "Happily, our foreign economic policy does not now rest upon a base of narrow partisanship. Leaders in both parties have expressed their faith in its essential purposes. Here, as elsewhere in our foreign relations I shall welcome a continuation of bi-partisan support.

"Our people are united. They have come to a realization of their responsibilities. They are ready to assume their role of leadership. They are determined upon an international order in which peace and freedom shall endure."

Mr. Truman said the pattern of international trade most conducive to freedom of enterprise is one in which the major decisions are taken not by governments but by "private buyers and sellers, under conditions of active competition, and with proper safeguards against the establishment of monopolies and cartels." He described the opposite pattern as one where governments take the decisions, with public officials dictating the quantity of purchases and sales, sources of imports and destination of exports. "This was the pattern of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries," he declared. "Unless we act, and act decisively, it will be the pattern of the next century."

Not the Way to Peace.

Everywhere on earth, he went on to say, nations are under economic pressure, with a tendency toward rigid control of imports. "If this trend is not reversed," he said, "the Government of the United States will be under pressure, sooner or later, to use these same devices in the fight for markets and for raw materials. And if the Government were to yield to this pressure, it would shortly find itself in the business of allocating foreign goods among importers and foreign markets among exporters, and telling every trader what he could buy or sell, and how much, and when and where.

"This is precisely what we have been trying to get away from, as rapidly as possible, ever since the war. It is not the American way. It is not the way to peace."

Because it was raining the ceremonies here had to be moved indoors. The award ceremony and the address took place in the auditorium on the Baylor campus instead of in the open air Union Bowl.

Mr. Truman arrived here from Mexico City at 9:57 A. M., Central standard time, and took off in his special plane for Washington at 2:14 P. M.

WACO, Tex., March 6 (AP).—Following is the complete text of President Truman's address today at Baylor University:

It is with a real sense of gratification that I meet with you today on the beautiful campus of Baylor University in Waco. I congratulate you on the outstanding achievements of this great university during the 101 years of its existence. I am sincerely grateful for the degree of Doctor of Laws that you have bestowed upon me, and I am honored to become a fellow alumnus of the distinguished men and women of this institution who have contributed so much to make our country great.

At this particular time, the whole world is concentrating much of its thought and energy on attaining the objectives of peace and freedom. These objectives are bound up completely with a third objective—reestablishment of world trade. In fact the three—peace, freedom and world trade—are inseparable. The grave lessons of the past have proved it.

Many of our people, here in America, used to think that we could escape the troubles of the world by simply staying within our own borders. Two wars have shown us how wrong they were. We know today that we cannot find security in isolation. If we are to live at peace, we must join with other nations in a continuing effort to organize the world for peace. Science and invention have left us no alternative.

Recalls League of Nations

After the first world war the United States proposed a League of Nations, an organization to maintain order in the world. But when our proposal was accepted and the League was established, this country failed to become a member.

Can any thoughtful person fail to realize today what that mistake cost this nation and cost the world?

This time we are taking a different course. Our country has taken a leading part in building the United Nations, in setting up its councils, its committees and commissions, and in putting them to work. We are doing everything within our power to foster international co-operation. We have dedicated ourselves to its success.

This is not, and it must never be, the policy of a single administration or a single party. It is the policy of all the people of the United States. We, in America, are unanimous in our determination to prevent another war.

But some among us do not fully realize what we must do to carry out this policy. There still are those who seem to believe that we can confine our co-operation with other countries to political relationships; that we need not co-operate where economic questions are involved.

This attitude has sometimes led to the assertion that there should be bi-partisan support for the foreign policy of the United States, but that there need not be bi-partisan support for the foreign economic policy of the United States.

Such a statement simply does not make sense.

Foreign Relations Indivisible

Our foreign relations, political and economic, are indivisible. We cannot say that we are willing to co-operate in the one field and are unwilling to co-operate in the other. I am glad to note that leaders in both parties have recognized that fact.

The members of the United Nations have renounced aggression as a method of settling their political differences. Instead of putting armies on the march, they have now agreed to sit down around a table and talk things out. In any dispute, each party will present its case. The interests of all will be considered, and a fair and just solution will be found. This is the way of international order. It is the way of a civilized community. It applies, with equal logic, to the settlement of economic differences.

Economic conflict is not spectacular—at least in the early stages. But it is always serious. One nation may take action in behalf of its own produeers, without notifying other nations, or consulting them, or even considering how they may be affected. It may cut down its purchases of another country's goods, by raising its tariffs or imposing an embargo or a system of quotas on imports. And when it does this, some producer, in the other country, will find the door to his market suddenslammed and bolted in his face.

Or a nation may subsidize its exports, selling its goods abroad below their cost. When this is done, a producer in some other country will find his market flooded with the goods that have been dumepd.

In either case, the producer gets angry, just as you or I would get angry if such a thing were done to us. Profits disappear; workers are dismissed. The producer feels that he has been wronged, without warning and without reason. He appeals to his government for action. His government retaliates, and another round of tariff boosts, embargoes, quotas and subsidies is under ay. This is economic war. In such a war nobody wins.

Certainly, nobody won the last economic war. As each battle of the economic war of the '30s was fought, the inevitable tragic result became more and more apparent. From the tariff policy of Hawley and Smoot, the world went on to Ottawa and the system of imperial preference, from Ottawa to the kind of elaborate and detailed restrictions adopted by Nazi Germany. Nations strangled normal trade and discriminated against their neighbors, all around the world.

Major Cause of Depression

Who among their peoples were the gainers? Not the depositors who lost their savings in the failure of the banks. Not the farmers who lost their farms. Not the millions who walked the streets looking for work. I do not mean to say that economic conflict was the sole cause of the depression. But I do say that it was a major cause.

Now, as in the year 1920, we have reached a turning point in history. National economies have been disrupted by the war. The future is uncertain everywhere. Economic policies are in a state of flux. In this atmosphere of doubt and hesitation, the decisive factor will be the type of leadership that the United States gives to the world.

We are the giant of the economic world. Whether we like it or not, the future pattern of economic relations depends upon us. The world is waiting and watching to see what we shall do. The choice is ours. We can lead the nations to economic peace or we can plunge them into economic war.

There must be no question as to our course. We must not go through the '30s again.

There is abundant evidence, I think, that these earlier mistakes will not be repeated. We have already made a good start. Our government has participated fully in setting up, under the United Nations, agencies of international co-operation for dealing with relief and refugees, with food and agriculture, with shipping and aviation, with loans for reconstruction and development, and with the stabilization of currencies. And now, in order to avoid economic warfare, our government has proposed, and others have agreed, that there be set up, within the United Nations, another agency to be concerned with problems and policies affecting world trade. This is the international trade organization.

Fair Economic Dealing

This organization would apply to commercial relationships the same principle of fair dealing that the United Nations is applying to political affairs. Instead of retaining unlimited freedom to commit acts of economic aggression, its members would adopt a code of economic conduct and agree to live according to its rules. Instead of adopting measures that might be harmful to others, without warning and without consultation, countries would sit down around the table and talk things out. In any dispute, each party would present its case. The interest of all would be considered, and a fair and just solution would be found. In economics, as in international politics, this is the way to peace.

The work of drafting a world trade charter was begun by the United States. It was carried forward by a preparatory committee of eighteen nations meeting in London last fall. It should be completed at a second meeting of this committee in Geneva, beginning on April 10.

The progress that has already been made on this project is one of the most heartening developments since the war.

If the nations can agree to observe a code of good conduct in international trade, they will co-operate more readily in other international affairs. Such agreements will prevent the bitterness that is engendered by an economic war. It will provide an atmosphere congenial to the preservation of the peace.

As a part of this program, we have asked the other nations of the world to join us in reducing barriers to trade. We have not asked them to remove all barriers. Nor have we ourselves offered to do so. But we have proposed negotiations directed here and abroad, toward the elimination of other restrictive measures and the abandonment of discrimination. These negotiations are to be undertaken at the meeting which opens in Geneva next month. The success of this program is essential to the establishment of the international trade organization, to the effective operation of the International Bank and the monetary fund, and to the strength of the whole United Nations structure of co-operation in economic and political affairs.

The negotiations at Geneva must not fail.

Freedom of Enterprise

There is one thing that Americans value even more than peace. It is freedom. Freedom of worship—freedom of speech—and freedom of enterprise. It must be true that the first two of these freedoms are related to the third. For, throughout history, freedom of worship and freedom of speech have been most frequently enjoyed in those societies that have accorded a considerable measure of freedom to individual enterprise. Freedom has flourished where power has been dispersed. It has languished where power has been too highly centralized. So our devotion to freedom of enterprise, in the United States, has deeper roots than a desire to protect the profits of ownership. It is part and parcel of what we call American.

The pattern of international trade that is most conducive to freedom of enterprise is one in which the major decisions are made, not by governments, but by private buyers and sellers, under conditions of active competition, and with proper safeguards against the establishment of monopolies and cartels. Under such a system, buyers make their purchases, and sellers make their sales, at whatever time and place and in whatever quantities they choose, relying for guidance on whatever prices the market may afford. Goods move from country to country in response to economic opportunities. Governments may impose tariffs, but they do not dictate the quantity of trade, the sources of imports, or the destination of exports. Individual transactions are a matter of private choice.

This is the essence of free enterprise.

The pattern of trade that is least conducive to freedom of enterprise is one in which decisions are made by governments. Under such a system, the quantity of purchases and sales, the sources of imports and the destination of exports are dictated by public officials. In some cases, trade may be conducted by the state. In others, part or all of it may be left in private hands. But, even so, the trader is not free. Governments make all the important choices and he adjusts himself to them as best he can.

This was the pattern of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. Unless we act, and act decisively, it will be the pattern of the next century.

Nations Under Pressure

Everywhere on earth nations are under economic pressure. Countries that were devastated by the war are seeking to reconstruct their industries. Their need to import, in the months that lie ahead, will exceed their capacity to export. And so they feel that imports must be rigidly controlled.

Countries that have lagged in their development are seeking to industrialize. In order that new industries may be established, they, too, feel that competing imports must be rigidly controlled.

Nor is this all. The products of some countries are in great demand. But buyers outside their borders do not hold the money of these countries in quantities large enough to enable them to pay for the goods they want. Importing countries, when they make their purchases, therefore seek to discriminate against countries whose currencies they do not possess. Here, again, they feel that imports must be rigidly controlled.

One way to cut down on imports is by curtailing the freedom of traders to use foreign money to pay for imported goods. But recourse to this device is now limited by the terms of the British loan agreement and the rules of the International Monetary Fund. Another way to cut down on imports is by raising tariffs.

But if controls over trade are really to be tight, tariffs are not enough. Even more drastic measures can be used. Quotas can be imposed on imports, product by product, country by country, and month by month. Importers can be forbidden to buy abroad without obtaining licenses. Those who buy more than is permitted can be fined or jailed. Everything that comes into a country can be kept within the limits determined by a central plan. This is regimentation. And this is the direction in which much of the world is headed at the present time.

If this trend is not reversed, the government of the United States will be under pressure, sooner or later, to use these same devices in the fight for markets and for raw materials. And if the government were to yield to this pressure, it would shortly find itself in the business of allocating foreign goods among importers and foreign markets among exporters and telling every trader what he could buy or sell, and how much, and when, and where. This is precisely what we have been trying to get away from, as rapidly as possible, ever since the war. It is not the American way. It is not the way to peace.

I. T. O. Charter

Fortunately, an alternative has been offered to the world in the charter of the international trade organization that is to be considered at Geneva in the coming month. The charter would limit the present freedom of governments to impose detailed administrative regulations on their foreign trade. The international trade organization would require its member nations to confine such controls to exceptional cases, in the immediate future, and to abandon them entirely as soon as they can.

The trade agreement negotiations that will accompany consideration of the charter should enable countries that are now in difficulty to work their way out of it by affording them readier access to the markets of the world. This program is designed to restore and preserve a trading system that is consistent with continuing freedom of enterprise in every country that chooses freedom for its own economy. It is a program that will serve the interests of other nations as well as those of the United States.

If these negotiations are to be successful, we ourselves must make the same commitments that we ask of all the other nations of the world. We must be prepared to make concessions if we are to obtain concessions from others in return. If these negotiations should fail, our hope of an early restoration of an international order in which private trade can flourish would be lost. I say again, they must not fail.

The program that we have been discussing will make our foreign trade larger than it otherwise would be. This means that exports will be larger. It also means that imports will be larger. Many people, it is true, are afraid of imports. They are afraid because they have assumed that we cannot take more products from abroad unless we produce just that much less at home.

Fortunately, this is not the case. The size of our market is not forever fixed. It is smaller when we attempt to isolate ourselves from the other countries of the world. It is larger when we have a thriving foreign trade. Our imports were down to a billion dollars in 1932; they were up to five billion in 1946. But no one would contend that 1932 was a better year than 1946 for selling goods, or making profits, or finding jobs. Business is poor when markets are small. Business is good when markets are big. It is the purpose of the coming negotiations to lower existing barriers to trade so that markets, everywhere, may grow.

I said to the Congress, when it last considered the extension of the trade agreements act, and I now reiterate, that domestic interests will be safeguarded in this process of expanding trade. But there still are those who sincerely fear that the trade agreement negotiations will prove disastrous to the interests of particular producing groups. I am sure that their misgivings are not well founded. The situation briefly is this:

1. The reciprocal trade agreements act has been on the books since 1934. It has been administered with painstaking care and strict impartiality. Some thirty agreements with other countries have been made. And trade has grown, to the great benefit of our economy.

2. This government does not intend, in the coming negotiations, to eliminate tariffs or establish free trade. All that is contemplated is the reduction of tariffs, the removal of discriminations and the achievement, not of free trade, but of freer trade.

3. In the process of negotiations tariffs will not be cut across the board. Action will be selective; some rates may be cut substantially, others moderately and others not at all.

30.24-8319

Will Seek Concessions

4. In return for these concessions we shall seek and obtain concessions from other countries to benefit our export trade.

5. Millions of Americans—on farms, in factories, on the railroads, in export and import businesses, in shipping, aviation, banking and insurance, in wholesale establishments and in retail stores—depend on foreign trade for some portion of their livelihood. If we are to protect the interests of these people, in their investments and their employment, we must see to it that our trade does not decline. To take one of these groups as an example: We exported in 1946 over $3,000,000,000 worth of agricultural products alone, mostly grain, cotton, tobacco, dairy products and eggs. If we should lose a substantial part of this foreign market the incomes of over six million farm families would be materially reduced and their buying power for the products of our factories greatly curtailed.

There is no intention to sacrifice one group to benefit another group. Negotiations will be directed toward obtaining larger markets, both foreign and domestic, for the benefit of all.

7. No tariff rate will be reduced until an exhaustive study has been made, until every person who wishes a hearing has been heard and careful consideration given to his case.

8. In every future agreement there will be a clause that permits this government—or any other government—to modify or withdraw a concession if it should result, or threaten to result, in serious injury to a domestic industry. This is now required by the executive order which I issued on Feb. 25, following extensive conferences between officials in the Department of State and majority leaders in the Senate.

All these points—the history of trade-agreement operations, the way in which negotiations are conducted, the protection afforded by the safeguarding clause—should provide assurance, if assurance is needed, that domestic interests will not be injured.

The policy of reducing barriers to trade is a settled policy of this government. It is embodied in the reciprocal trade agreements act, fathered and administered for many years by Cordell Hull. It is reflected in the charter of the international trade organization. It is one of the cornerstones of our plans for peace. It is a policy from which we can not—and must not—turn aside.

Calls Isolationism Bankruptcy

To those among us—and there are still a few—who would seek to undermine this policy for partisan advantage and go back to the period of high tariffs and economic isolation, I can say only this: Take care! Times have changed. Our position in the world has changed. The temper of our people has changed. The slogans of 1930 or of 1896 are sadly out of date. Isolationism, after two world wars, is a confession of mental and moral bankruptcy.

Happily, our foreign economic policy does not now rest upon a base of narrow partisanship. Leaders in both parties have expressed their faith in its essential purposes. Here, as elsewhere in our foreign relations, I shall welcome a continuation of bipartisan support.

Our people are united. They have come to a realization of their responsibilities. They are ready to assume their role of leadership. They are determined upon an international order in which peace and freedom shall endure.

Peace and freedom are not easily achieved. They cannot be attained by force. They come from mutual understanding and co-operation, from a willingness to deal fairly with every friendly nation in all matters—political and economic. Let us resolve to continue to do just that, now and in the future. If other nations of the world will do the same, we can reach the goals of permanent peace and world freedom.

Truman Citation Revised by Baylor

Mother's Alleged Views on Lincoln's Bed Deleted

WACO, Tex., March 6 (AP).—A citation conferring an honorary degree on President Truman was revised today to eliminate an assertion that the President's mother refused to sleep in the Lincoln bed at the White House.

Dr. Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor University, read the citation in awarding Mr. Truman a Doctor of Laws degree.

The citation as given out in advance asserted that Mr. Truman's ninety-four-year-old mother "declared a few weeks ago that when she visited the White House she would sleep on the floor before she would occupy the bed in which Abraham Lincoln slept."

It was revised, apparently at the request of the White House, after attaches expressed concern.

The passage was read by Dr. Neff to eliminate the reference to the Lincoln bed.

The first paragraph, as distributed to the press, read:

"Harry S. Truman, product of Missouri sun and soil and schools—born amid humble environments—rocked in the cradle of adversity—no silver spoon was yours—you grew to manhood's high noon in the quiet democratic way of life—the Southern way—engraved into your youthful blood and bones were the rich and romantic traditions of the old South as evidenced by your ninety-four-year-old mother, who declared a few weeks ago that when she visited the White House she would sleep on the floor before she would occupy the bed in which Abraham Lincoln slept."

Aleman to Visit Truman April 29 to Renew Talks

MEXICO CITY, March 6 (AP).—President Miguel Aleman of Mexico expressed "deep satisfaction" tonight with his "friendly talks" with President Truman during the latter's three-day visit here, and said he would renew the talks in Washington April 29.

"The conversations begun here," he said in a written statement, "will be resumed in Washington April 29, the date I have chosen to return Mr. Truman's visit in reply to his kind invitation."

President Aleman said Mr. Truman's speech here March 3 and the conversations "confirmed the conviction I have always had that the great North American nation is vigorously animated by a desire to contribute to world peace and continental progress on the basis of mutual respect between governments and democratic solidarity among men."

U.S. Charges Russia Seeks (P) Dictatorship In Hungary

Washington, March 6 (AP)—The United States accused Russia today of trying to overthrow a freely elected government and set up a dictatorship in Hungary.

The blunt note, dispatched by Gen. George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, before his departure for Moscow, denounced the arrest by Red Army soldiers of Bela Kovacs, member of the Hungarian Parliament and until recently secretary general of the Smallholders party, which has a majority in the Parliament.

Charge Called Unwarranted

The charges that Kovacs conspired to form anti-Soviet terror groups and espionage organizations were branded in the American note as "unwarranted."

Combined with the current plans to support Greece's shaky anti-Communist regime, the protest appeared to forecast a firm American stand at the Big Four Foreign Ministers meeting against further extension of Soviet dominance in Europe.

Today's action is to be followed, officials indicated, by economic aid for Hungary in addition to the postwar assistance already given.

Marshall's protest against "unjustified interference" by Red Army occupation troops went to Russian Gen. V. P. Sviridov as chairman of the Allied Control Commission in Budapest, and to the British and Hungarian governments as well as to Vyacheslav M. Molotov, Foreign Minister, in Moscow. The text was published by the State Department.

Yalta Agreement Cited

It charged that in the face of the 1945 Yalta agreement among Russia, the United States and Great Britain to maintain a democratic regime in Hungary, recent Soviet acts had brought to a "crisis" political difficulties resulting from efforts of the Communist and other Leftists parties to oust the moderate Freeholders party majority in Parliament.

Russian intervention will have the effect of supporting efforts of a small group to "substitute a minority dictatorship for a responsible administration representative of the will of the Hungarian people," it was charged.

Only Kovacs's arrest was cited specifically but dispatches had estimated up to 400 persons have been rounded up in connection with a reported plot against the Government.

Charges Police Campaign

Marshall charged that the Communist and other members of the Leftist bloc had demanded withdrawal of parliamentary immunity from Smallholders deputies. Simultaneously, he said, police and other authorities have used their powers not to investigate the reported conspiracy but "to conduct a general campaign against their political opponents."

Aside from demanding that Russia desist, the American note urged an inquiry by the Allied Control Commission and the Hungarian Cabinet into the whole situation and the arrest of Kovacs. It suggested that the inquiry be followed by recommendations to the Hungarian Government for an "orderly solution."

Held To Strengthen Hand

Budapest, March 6 (AP)—Hungarian political leaders said tonight a United States note protesting Russian "interference in the domestic affairs of Hungary" had "greatly strengthened the rapidly deteriorating position of anti-Communists in Hungary."

The first reaction to the note came late last night when Premier Ferenc Nagy, leader of the majority Smallholder party, walked out on an interparty conference at which Communists and Social Democrats demanded the removal from public office of four Smallholder ministers and 51 Smallholder members of Parliament.

Although Nagy did not receive his copy of the American note until this morning Smallholder leaders said he had learned its contents after the note was delivered yesterday to Lieut. Gen. V. P. Sviridov, Russian occupation forces commander and acting chairman of the Allied Control Council for Hungary.

Washington, March 6 (A. P.).—The United States today accused Soviet Russia of causing a political crisis by an "unjustified interference in Hungarian internal affairs."

A sharp note, delivered to the Russian Government and the Russian military commander in Budapest, said that the Soviet High Command by direct intervention has brought political difficulties in Hungary to a crisis. Copies of the note were also presented to the British and Hungarian governments.

An official summary of the note—which was handed to Moscow as Secretary of State Marshall was on his way to the Soviet capital—said that this Government deems unwarranted the charges filed against Bela Kovacs, an anti-Communist member of the Hungarian Parliament, who was arrested by Russian soldiers last week. Kovacs was until recently the secretary-general of the moderate Small Holders party, which holds a majority in the Hungarian Parliament and which the Communists and other parties have tried to oust.

Defends Voter's Right.

The State Department's note added: "The pattern of recent political developments in Hungary appears to threaten the right of the people to live under a government of their own free choosing, for it involves foreign interference in the domestic affairs of Hungary in support of repeated aggressive attempts to Hungarian minority elements to coerce the popularly elected majority . . . The United States Government is opposed to this attempt to nullify the electoral mandate given by the Hungarian people."

The note said that the grounds given for the arrest of Kovacs "are allegations that he 'actively participated in the formation of subversive and anti-Soviet terror groups' and 'in organizing espionage directed against the Soviet Union.'"

The Soviet action against Kovacs, the State Department said, was "taken unilaterally without prior discusion with the United States and the United Kingdom representatives on the Allied Control Commission. On the basis of present information, the United States Government believes these grounds and the charges are unwarranted."

The note said that in the opinion of the American Government the effect of the unjustified interference will be "to support the efforts of a small group in Hungary to substitute a minority dictatorship for a responsible administration representative of the will of the Hungarian people as expressed in free and untrammeled elections."

The note declared that Hungarian Communists and Leftist block members have tried to implicate representatives of the majority Small Holders party in a recently-revealed plot against the republic. It said that "police and administrative authorities responsive to the dictates of the minority elements have utilized their powers of investigation . . . to conduct a general campaign against their political opponents."

The State Department also called on the Soviet and British representatives on the Control Commission to join with the American authorities and Hungarian Government heads in an investigation of the Kovacs case.

U. S. Helping Hungarians.

Diplomatic authorities said that the note was sent to Moscow by Secretary of State Marshall shortly before his departure

U. S. Accuses Soviet In Budapest Crisis

Note to Moscow Protests Against Arrest by Russians of Kovacs, Member of Hungarian Parliament.

yesterday for the Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference opening there on Monday.

The protest reflects American concern over bolstering Hungary like Greece, against Soviet domination.

Kovac's arrest was stated by the official Hungarian news agency to have been ordered by Lieut.-Gen. V. P. Sviridov, Russian occupation commander and chairman of the Control Council, on charges that he aided in the formation of underground terror groups and had organized espionage against the Russian Army.

American concern over Russian-supported efforts to upset the regime was evidenced last month by the extension of a second $15,000,000 credit to Budapest to buy surplus American war material.

The State Department held out hope then of further aid for Hungary, and made it clear that this Government proposes to help underwrite Hungary's post-war political and economic stability as agreed upon at the Yalta conference. When Hungary was experiencing a financial crisis last year Moscow rejected three proposals submitted by the United States that Russia, this country and Great Britain join in helping. Great Britain is involved as one of the Big Three at the Yalta conference and as a member of the Control Council at Budapest.

Russian Charge Ridiculed.

The Russian espionage charge against Kovacs was called preposterous by a British Legation attache and other officials.

Russian troops in Hungary, who numbered possibly 1,000,000 at the war's end, have been reduced to fewer than 100,000, according to reports credited by officials as accurate. Under the terms of the Hungarian peace treaty now being considered by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, all are to be withdrawn within ninety days from the treaty's effective date, except for those necessary to safeguard lines of communications with Austria.

The United States has had diplomatic relations with the post-war Hungarian regime since January, 1946. The American Legation at Budapest is headed by H. F. Arthur Schoenfeld. The American representative on the Control Council is Brig-Gen. George Weems. The Hungarian regime was elected on November 4, 1945, when the voters gave a 57 per cent majority to the Small Holders' party. That party now has 245 seats in Parliament, the Communists 70.

Text of U. S. Protest

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP).—Following is the text of a United States note to Russia protesting alleged Soviet intervention in Hungary:

"The government of the United States, in keeping with its undertakings as a signatory of the Yalta declaration, its responsibility under the armistice as a participant in the Allied Control Commission for Hungary, and its determination to assist the Hungarian people toward the establishment of democratic independence as envisaged in the peace treaty with Hungary, is impelled at this time to express its feeling of concern at the political crisis which has now been precipitated in Hungary. The pattern of recent political developments in Hungary appears to threaten the right of the people to live under a government of their own free choosing, for it involves foreign interference in the domestic affairs of Hungary in support of repeated aggressive attempts by Hungarian minority elements to coerce the popularly-elected majority.

"Unable to achieve their political ends through normal constitutional processes, the Hungarian Communists, together with other members of the Leftist bloc, have endeavored to implicate a number of representatives of the majority Small Holders party in a recently-revealed plot against the republic and, by demanding the withdrawal of parliamentary immunity from Small Holders Deputies, to weaken the parliamentary position to which that party was duly elected by the Hungarian people. Simultaneously, police and administrative authorities responsive to the dictates of these minority elements have utilized their powers of investigation of the conspiracy, not toward the expeditious judicial resolution of a threat against the state, but to conduct a general campaign against their political opponents.

"The Soviet High Command in Hungary has now, by direct intervention, brought the situation to a crisis. Following the refusal of the Small Holders party to abrogate, in connection with the investigation of the conspiracy, the parliamentary immunity of Deputy Bela Kovacs, until recently secretary general of the Small Holders party, Soviet occupation forces have arrested Mr. Kovacs. The grounds given for that arrest are allegations that he 'actively participated in the formation of subversive and anti-Soviet terror groups' and 'in organizing espionage directed against the Soviet Union.' Despite the importance of this step, this Soviet action has been taken unilaterally without prior discussion with the United States and United Kingdom representatives on the Allied Control Commission. On the basis of its present information, the United States government believes these grounds and the charges are unwarranted.

"These developments in the opinion of the United States government, constitute an unjustified interference in Hungarian internal affairs, the effect of which will be to support the efforts of a small group in Hungary to substitute a minority dictatorship for a responsible administration representative of the will of the Hungarian people as expressed in free and untrammeled elections. The United States government is opposed to this attempt to nullify the electoral mandate given by the Hungarian people.

"In these circumstances, the United States government requests that the Soviet and British representatives on the Allied Control Commission be instructed by their respective governments to join with the United States representative on the Allied Control Commission in examining, in co-operation with the Hungarian Prime Minister, the Minister of Defense, Minister of Interior, Minister of Justice, and the president of the National Assembly, the facts of the present situation, including the case of Mr. Kovacs and the conspiracy, and in making recommendations to the Hungarian government as to steps which should be taken for an orderly solution. The United States government also requests that the Soviet authorities take no further measures without consulting the United States and United Kingdom representatives on the A. C. C.

"The above views of the United States government have been communicated to the Soviet chairman of the Allied Control Commission for Hungary and to the Hungarian, Soviet and British governments."

Poland Denies 100 Prisoners Are Americans

Says Political Captives Cited by Lane Reverted to Polish Citizenship

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP).—The Polish Embassy said today that 100 political prisoners described by Ambassador Arthur Bliss Lane as Americans are actually citizens of Poland.

Mr. Lane said in New York yesterday, on his arrival from Warsaw, that American authorities were denied permission to interview all but one of the prisoners claiming American citizenship.

A Polish Embassy attache, Dr. Julian E. Stawinski, told reporters that:

1. Although born in the United States, the prisoners are of Polish parentage and reverted to Polish nationality when they came to Poland before World War II.

2. None claimed he was an American until after the arrests were made on charges of underground activity against the Polish provisional government.

3. Most have been released under an amnesty decree issued Feb. 22.

4. Poland has proposed a mixed commission to settle controversies over dual citizenship, but the United States has failed to act.

Warsaw "Astonished"

WARSAW, March 6 (AP).—A Polish government spokesman expressed "astonishment" today at a broadcast statement, attributed to Ambassador Lane upon his arrival in New York, that a hundred American citizens were being held in Polish jails and prisons. The spokesman added that a statement on the government's position probably would be forthcoming tomorrow.

Mr. Lane, during his ambassadorship in Warsaw, frequently made representations to the Polish Foreign Ministry for the release of scores of American citizens of Polish descent, but without success.

Jabs-At-Russia Truce Asked

Washington, March 6 (AP)—Hopes for a truce on congressional criticism of Russia during the Moscow Foreign Ministers Conference were voiced today by both the Republican and Democratic floor leaders of the House.

Representatives Charles A. Halleck (R., Ind.) and Sam Rayburn (D., Texas) used almost identical words in separate interviews calling upon members to co-operate with Secretary of State Marshall as much as possible.

Plea In Marshall's Behalf

"He has a difficult job under any conditions, and it is my personal hope that the members, both Democrats and Republicans, will not, by their words or actions, make his task more difficult," Halleck said.

Rayburn referred to Marshall's mission as "of the first importance" and said the Secretary will face a "task that will be difficult at best."

"I therefore trust that neither by word nor deed we, as members of the House of Representatives, will make it any more difficult for him," the former speaker added.

Criticism Daily

The Halleck and Rayburn assertions were the outgrowth of a growing inclination in the House to criticize the Soviet Union. Seldom has a day passed recently that some member has not risen to assail Russia in some fashion. On Tuesday there were three separate blasts at Moscow.

Because it always has been a vehicle for heated discussion of foreign policy, the annual State Department appropriation bill, slated to reach the House floor March 14, may be delayed for weeks.

The Moscow meeting opens Monday.

DEMOCRATS SEEN WILLING TO BACK LOAN TO GREECE

WASHINGTON, March 6 — (AP) A majority of Senate Democrats was reported by Senator Barkley (D-Ky) today to favor a loan to Greece as necessary to prevent collapse of that country's present government.

Barkley told reporters after a conference of Senate Democrats that a majority "feels that we cannot ignore the situation presented by the Greek request for assistance and do nothing about it."

His personal view, the Democratic leader said, was that unless the United States takes steps to offset the British withdrawal of economic help to King George's government there will be "a collapse there."

McMahon in Warning

Senator McMahon (D-Conn) was reported to have told his colleagues "we must keep in mind that a major decision in American policy will be involved in any move to supply funds in an area involving an ideological struggle between Communists and an anti-Communist government.

There were such danger spots all over the world, from Korea to the European continent, McMahon was said to have declared.

Barkley made it clear that some Democrats had qualms about supporting a monarchy, particularly one which the British appeared to have been interested in setting up. But the issue narrowed to the question of supporting the present government or none, he said, adding:

"There were expressions of feeling that, under the present situation, that may be the only thing we can do, regardless of how we feel about it."

Barkley said $250,000,000 has been mentioned as covering Greece's "immediate needs."

He said there was no thought that "it is a move to checkmate Russia." Nor, he said, were any suggestions made that American troops be sent to replace those the British plan to withdraw from Greece.

Senator Ellender (D-La) told reporters that he will support a $250,000,000 loan to Greece only if it is made clear that the United States is not underwriting British policies.

MORE U. S. TROOPS MAY GO TO CANADA

Washington, March 6 (A. P.).—The United States is considering a proposal to increase the number of American troops working with the Canadians in military studies at Fort Churchill in the Hudson Bay area.

Such action would be a further step to implement the Canada-United States agreement for collaboration in common defense.

War Department officials told newsmen the proposal is merely in the consideration phase and declined today to discuss the probable number of troops involved.

It is understood proposals have been made to send several hundred ordnance and quartermaster men to Fort Churchill to augment the approximately 100 engineers there. Final decision depends on these two factors, it was said:

Conclusion of a specific agreement as provided under the general terms of the Canadian-United States understanding; building of more housing facilities to allow for expansion of the number of troops at Fort Churchill.

Pope Asks for Relief Gifts

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP).—Pope Pius appealed to Catholics of America today to contribute generously to the Bishops' Relief Campaign for victims of war in Europe and the Far East. The message was made public by the National Catholic Welfare Conference. The campaign is to be held the week of March 16-23.

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP).—The World Bank announced today John H. Ferguson has resigned as assistant to its president. He will resume practice of law with a Washington and New York firm. Urge Import Curbs On Sugar and Corn

Washington, March 6 (A. P.).—Sugar and corn producers, two House Agriculture Committee members say, are going to need protection from foreign imports within a few years.

During a hearing on bills to regulate wool imports Representative Hill (R.-Col.) expressed belief there would be a world surplus of sugar within five years. Representative Johnson (R.-Ill.) said the same thing might happen to corn when blackstrap molasses again is available for making alcohol.

Coal Export Curb Ends March 31

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP)—The Solid Fuels Administration said today it will end its controls on coal exports March 31, giving commercial exporters a free market overseas. Dan H. Wheeler, deputy Solid Fuels Administrator, said UNRRA and the liberated nations of Europe will stop buying their coal then through the Treasury Department. SFA began gradual transfer of exports from government to a commercial basis last August.

Congress Urged To Keep Sugar Control Year

Washington, March 6 (AP)—The Agriculture Department urged Congress today to continue sugar rationing and price control until March 31, 1948, to prevent "inequitable distribution and runaway prices."

Unless Congress acts, rationing will cease the end of this month and price controls will lapse June 30.

James H. Marshall, of the department's sugar branch, told the House Banking Committee there are prospective supplies of 6,800,000 tons and a probable demand of not less than 8,000,000 tons.

"There is urgent need to continue controls over prices, distribution, imports and exports if inequitable distribution and runaway prices are to be avoided," Marshall said.

Living-Cost Probe Asked

Representative Sabath (D., Ill.) asked the House to order its Agriculture Committee to "find out what has made the prices of cost-of-living items jump more than 50 per cent in six months."

In a statement accompanying a resolution requesting the investigation, Sabath said "prices are still rising" and "a new propaganda war is under way, against consumers, to kill the last remaining controls on rents, sugar and rice."

"This Republican Congress is filled with pity for the poor little rich boys with their hands in the consumers' pockets," he said. "Crocodile tears wash away campaign promises."

Rent Compromise Offered

In the upper chamber, meanwhile, Senator Sparkman (D., Ala.) today offered the Senate Banking Committee a compromise proposal to contnue rent controls until June 30, 1948, with no across the board increase in ceilings.

Sparkman said he believes the other five Democrats on the thirteen-man group will support him and "if we get one Republican we will have a majority."

This would head off a subcommittee measure—retaining controls only until next December 31 and allowing a flat ten per cent increase—which is due up before the full committee. Chairman Tobey (R., N.H.) disclosed that he does not agree "in principle" with the subcommittee's bill, and he suggested that some Federal agency continue to administer rents under a mandate to act quickly on legitimate landlord "hardship cases."

Control End Seen Near

The Government's most widely known wartime agency, faces a definite June 30 death sentence.

Critics of the once powerful Office of Price Administration which in its heyday fixed values on everything from apples to zebra skins said the agency must die with the end of the Treasury's fiscal year.

This Senate decision—although a far softer blow than the House had dealt previously—prompted OPA's few remaining congressional supporters to protest that actually rent, sugar and rice controls will have to end earlier for lack of funds.

Parley Planned

The answer will be decided by a Senate-House conference committee expected to be appointed to iron out this and other differences over a $182,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill.

The Senate wrote its verdict late yesterday after brushing aside a plea from Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, OPA's top boss as head of the postwar Office of Temporary Controls, that he will need $12,000,000 just to close up shop for OPA, and that the remaining $5,000,000 will allow actual operations only through April 30.

Previously the House not only had denied Fleming any additional money, but ordered him to return $9,000,000 previously voted OPA.

What the Senate did was provide a total of $17,000,000, but with a stipulation that no more would be forthcoming for liquidation purposes after June 30.

closed two-hour session this afternoon.

To Redraft Legislation

He added that Chairman Tobey (R-NH) directed a five-man subcommittee—which previously voted 3 to 2 for the increase—to redraft legislation along lines recommended in a new bill by Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.)

This bill proposes continued rent control under OPA with any decontrol or increases to be handled on a local or individual basis.

Tobey parried direct questions himself.

Tobey Noncommittal

"We have not turned them down but we have not accepted them," he said of the subcommittee recommendations for the flat increase and shift of rent control administration from OPA to the courts.

Tobey handed reporters a statement which said little other than that the committee had "discussed in great detail" the rental legislation and probably would have no bill ready for the Senate for a "week or two."

SLUMP, FOOD-PRICE DECLINE FORECAST

Business Recession Late This Year Predicted By Bureau

Washington, March 6 (AP)—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics said today forces now at work seem to indicate a business recession late in 1947 and a downturn in prices, particularly in foods.

It said wholesale food prices—which in recent weeks climbed to a record level—may decline from fifteen to twenty per cent by the end of the year. Farm prices could drop 20 to 25 per cent, it added, if the business downturn should come at the time when farm marketings are heavy.

The bureau emphasized, however, that "timely downward adjustments" in prices could improve the outlook.

Last fall the bureau said a decline in business and industrial activity was possible late this year. Today's forecast gave, for the first time, an estimate of the degree of the prospective setback.

Purchasing Power Declining

The major force which the bureau said is operating to bring on a recession is a declining volume of purchasing power in the hands of wage earners.

Taking into account the steady rise in the cost of living, the bureau said the "real income" (that is, purchasing power) of salary and wage earners has been declining since V-J day.

Production and sales of goods have been held at record dollar levels since the end of the war, apparently by spending of wartime savings and by installment credit.

The bureau said there are signs that purchasing power derived from these supplementary sources is declining. Many persons already have obtained all the installment credit they can get or want to carry.

"This decline in buying power," the bureau commented, "makes it increasingly difficult for total business activity to continue to expand."

Industrial Activity Dip Seen

It said early downward adjustments in prices could improve the outlook by causing the "real income" of wage and salary earners to rise to a level consistent with continued high business activity. The report added, however, that such flexibility in the price structure has rarely been observed.

Industrial activity may reach a record level during the first half of the year and then decline from five to ten per cent during the last half, the bureau's economists predicted.

The annual rate of income payments during the first half of the year is likely to increase somewhat over the annual rate of $173,000,000,000 reached in the last quarter of 1946, their report said.

"If industrial activities decline as much as anticipated, income payments to individuals in the second half of 1947 may be eight to twelve per cent below those of the first half," it added.

Senators Plan Vote Today on Lilienthal

Committee Sets Meeting Tentatively for 10 A. M.

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP).—The Senate Atomic Energy Committee decided today to vote tomorrow on confirmation of David E. Lilienthal and other members of the Atomic Energy Commission, provided other Senate business does not prevent a meeting.

The chairman, Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper, Republican, of Iowa, told reporters after a three-hour closed session with the nominees that "the committee has come to the conclusion that it's time to vote. We are going to try to vote tomorrow, if we can possibly get the members together."

The meeting was tentatively set for 10 a. m. Hearings on the nominations began Jan. 27.

Senator Hickenlooper said the Senators today talked over personnel policies and co-operation between the commission and Congress, but that most of the discussion was about the formation of co-operatives within the area served by the Tennessee Valley Authority. Mr. Lilienthal formerly was chairman of the T. V. A.

House Passes Excise Tax Bill

Washington, March 6 (AP)—The House gave final approval today to legislation continuing indefinitely the wartime excise taxes on many items, including liquor, furs, jewelry and cosmetics, transportation and telephone service.

Quick Senate approval will send the measure to the White House.

President Truman requested the legislation to prevent on July 1, an automatic rollback in rates that would cost the Treasury about $1,200,000,000 annually.

The measure as finally passed by the House exempts from the fur tax fur-trimmed women's coats up to a value of $150, and removes the levy on transportation tickets for foreign travel.

PAPER MILLS NEED LARGER WOOD SUPPLY

Expert Sees Little Hope Of Expansion, Looks To Alaska

Washington, March 6 (AP)—Philip M. Hauser, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, told United States newspapers crying for more newsprint that Canada—which came to the rescue during the war—can't stretch production much more.

"Canada has about reached the limit of expansion that can be assured adequate wood supplies," Hauser testified before a Senate small business subcommittee studying the newsprint shortage.

The neighbor country was able to send 3,500,000 tons in 1946, an increase of a round million over prewar 1939, the official said.

Consuming More

"The United States is today consuming a larger total quantity of newsprint than ever before," he noted, and "any large scale revival of newsprint manufacture in the United States appears unlikely."

Hauser, with other government witnesses, pointed to Alaska as a potential source for expansion of United States production.

Ed M. Anderson, chairman of the National Editorial Association newsprint committee, told the committee that requests for postal rate increases by the Postoffice Department posed a new threat to small publishers.

Anderson urged the committee to "give consideration to some method of assuring equitable distribution of newsprint to all papers, large and small."

To Large Publishers

The larger publishers absorbed last year's increased consumption, Anderson said, while smaller papers were held to their 1945 share.

Robert Canfield, New York, counsel for the American Paper and Pulp Association, told the senators that a shift of mill production back to newsprint would do no good because "then we would have to consider the problem of helping the magazine publishers."

Canfield made a rough estimate that if one per cent of the newsprint were pooled it would be enough to "take up the slack on all the real hardship cases." However, he said, such action by large publishers probably could not be taken legally under anti-trust laws as the Justice Department construes them.

Alaska Has Possibilities

R. E. McArdle, assistant chief of the United States Forest Service, and Charles Brannan, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, testified that Alaska has possibilities in the newsprint field.

At present, McArdle said, development of the newsprint industry in the South is possible, but a number of factors offer a hindrance. These include the cost per ton, the "extreme importance" of cheap power and questions of water supply and transportation.

"Additional plants in the South are possible if these difficulties can be overcome," he said.

McArdle also presented a chart showing that commercial drain on the South's forests slightly exceeded the net growth.

He noted that 91 per cent of Southern timberland is held privately, mostly by small owners, and "only four out of 100 practice cutting for the future."

The United States began importing more newsprint than it produces between 1921 and 1927. Only fifteen per cent of United States consumption is from domestically grown paper, McArdle said.

Assured Timber Supply

C. M. Granger, assistant chief of the National Forest Administration, said:

"We know of no place in the United States, except Alaska, where it is possible to block up the large long-term assured timber supply which will justify the installation of a new plant of 500 to 600 tons of newsprint daily."

However, development of the pulp and paper industry in Alaska has run up against "a factor of very great uncertainty," he said, in connection with aboriginal Indian rights.

As long as the claims cloud ownership of large timber areas, "there can be no expectation that large and costly pulp and paper mills will be established here," he said. Congress has been asked to pass legislation to help clear up the situation.

Newsprint Mills Getting Some Empty Boxcars

Montreal, Quebec, March 6 (AP)—A newsprint industry source said today that pulp and paper companies were receiving boxcars in limited quantities, but that the shipping situation remained unchanged and serious.

He said that many of the boxcars which became stalled during Quebec province's storm of last week end were being moved rapidly to the mills, with today's mild weather improving the situation somewhat.

One plant spokesman said "the situation has been improving for us in the last few days and we are moving the majority of our newsprint from our mills. However, the emergency is not over yet."

Another company reported the situation was getting worse. In Toronto, officials of a large newsprint manufacturing company reported that shipments were being made on schedule.

LEGION BACKS FEDERAL VETS HOUSING PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, March 6—(AP) National Commander Paul H. Griffith today pledged full support of the American Legion for all nine major regulations in the government's veterans housing program.

The Legion was the third veterans group to put in the record its views on what portions of the program should be continued.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Veterans of World War II previously had urged continuance of eight of the present regulations, suggesting only that only rent ceilings on new dwellings might be abandoned.

Housing Expediter Frank R. Creedon expects to get the views of the Disabled War Veterans and the American Veterans committee tomorrow.

In a statement issued following a conference with Creedan, Griffith was particularly emphatic in urging that "rigid controls" be maintained on non-housing construction. Such construction now is limited to a $50,000,000 weekly average.

Newport News, Va., March 6 (AP). One of the "heaviest of the heavies"—the sleek new cruiser Newport News whose armament innovation in the main battery will give her three times the fire power of other 8-inch gunned ships—was christened in her building dock here today and dedicated to "the goal of universal peace."

Although classed as a heavy cruiser, the Newport News's 17,000 tons and overall length of 716 feet make her comparable to the battleships of World War I. The nine 8-inch guns of her main battery will operate automatically, something new in fire control of rifles of this caliber, with about three times the fire power of manually operated 8-inchers.

Her flank speed will be in excess of 30 knots and at full complement 105 officers and 1,745 enlisted men will man her.

55,500,000 Employed In U.S. In February

Washington, March 7 (AP)—About 55,500,000 persons were employed in civilian jobs in February, a small gain over January, due to an increase in farm work that more than offset a drop in industrial employment, the Census Bureau said today.

Farm employment rose 400,000 in February as the weather proved favorable for agriculture in some areas. The drop in nonagricultural workers approximated 300,000, the bureau noted. Total employment stood 4,000,000 over February, 1946. Census Director J. C. Capt attributed the increase largely to return of veterans to civilian work.

Unemployment in February approximated 2,500,000, slightly below twelve months ago, the bureau said.

WE ENTERED THE STREET OF THE PROPHETS. BULLETS ZINGED ABOUT. WE HUDDLED IN THE SHELTER OF A STONE WALL.

FARTHER DOWN THE STREET, THE LITTLE ARAB CAFE SHOWED LIGHT. POLICE SAID A TELEPHONE WAS THERE.

I TOOK OFF, PICKING OUT THE SHADOWS. THEN A CORNER OF LIGHT CAUGHT ME, AND 50 YARDS DOWN THE HILL A VOICE SHOUTED, "GET YOUR HANDS IN THE AIR AND KEEP COMING."

THE CAFE WAS ONLY A STEP AWAY. I STARTED IN AND WAS MOTIONED AWAY. I RAISED MY HANDS AND STARTED WALKING AND TALKING.

IT WAS A LONG WALK TO THE BARBED-WIRE EDGE OF THAT MILITARY ZONE, WHERE A BOMB AND TWO GRENADES HAD EXPLODED ONLY A HALF HOUR EARLIER. ALL I COULD HEAR WAS "GET YOUR HANDS HIGHER"; ALL I COULD SEE, CROUCHED FIGURES AND GUN MUZZLES.

ONCE I HAD CONVINCED THE GUARDS I WAS NOT DANGEROUS, GETTING BACK TO THE CAFE AND THE JEEP WAS EASIER.

LATER, IN ANOTHER RESTAURANT, AN OFFICER SAID, "YOU GUYS GOT THROUGH JUST IN TIME. THESE BOYS HAVE GONE CRAZY HERE."

FROM EVERY BALCONY OF A SEVEN-STORY BUILDING NEXT TO THE WRECKED OFFICERS' CLUB NEARBY, GUNBARRELS GLITTERED.

NOW WE ARE SAFE BACK IN THE GOVERNMENT'S PUBLIC INFORMATION OFFICE. IT IS AT ONE CORNER OF BRITISH SECURITY AREA B, TWICE ATTACKED TONIGHT. MILITARY EXPERTS CALL IT A "SITTING DUCK" FOR UNDERGROUND ATTACK.

Monday Conference Set To Discuss Athens Situation, Implications

Washington, March 7 (AP)—President Truman abruptly canceled a Caribbean trip today and called fifteen congressional leaders to confer Monday on what one of them called "the most fateful situation" in American history.

At issue was whether the United States would step into the breach opened by Britain's decision to liquidate her outposts in Greece and elsewhere. Greece is the scene of armed conflict between the anti-Communist Government and leftist foes.

The two-week vacation journey on which Mr. Truman had planned to depart tomorrow was called off after an unusually long Cabinet meeting, lasting an hour and a half, in which Greece's recent plea for aid was discussed.

"The Caribbean trip has been indefinitely postponed because of developments," Charles G. Ross, presidential secretary, announced a short time later. He declined to amplify.

Trip Until March 23 Planned

The cancellation came unexpectedly. Upon his return from Mexico last night, he fully expected to take off again for Key West, Fla., tomorrow morning. But this morning the departure was set back to tomorrow afternoon, and then came the cancellation.

The trip would have taken Mr. Truman to Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the fleet maneuvers, winding up with a vacation cruise on the yacht Williamsburg, which already is in the Caribbean. He was not to have returned until March 23.

Referring to the Greek situation and its implications, Representative Eaton (R., N.J.), chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, called it "the most fateful situation in the history of our country."

Special Legislation Needed

President Truman is reported to have under consideration a $250,000,000 program of aid to Greece this year. Officials, who cannot be named, said today that if this is finally agreed upon, about half of the total probably would be earmarked for strengthening the Greek army to maintain order.

The officials said that putting an end to the civil strife was deemed essential to making effective any large-scale American efforts to get Greece back on her feet economically.

From United States World War II surpluses, now cached largely in occupied Germany, such materials as trucks, tanks, planes and clothing might be transferred by an administrative order. But Congress must enact special legislation if arms are supplied from sources other than surplus.

Many Questions Undecided

It was said authoritatively there has been no serious proposal to dispatch American troops to Greece, and that Britain's plans to withdraw her forces gradually were considered satisfactory.

Mr. Truman was informed by aides before his recent trip to Mexico that probably $250,000,000 would be required altogether for effective aid to Greece for the remainder of this year, plus possibly $100,000,000 additional over a five-year period.

Among the many questions still undecided was whether this Government proposed to bolster only Greece, or to extend aid also to Turkey and other governments who might be in distress at least partly as a result of Soviet-Russian pressure.

Word of the summons to congressional chiefs of both parties came from the Capitol. The President and George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, last Thursday held an ultra-secret session with nine congressmen, including the chairmen of the Senate and House Foreign and Appropriations committees, to discuss a British note asking American aid in holding the Mediterranean frontier, chiefly Greece, against Communist encroachment.

Two days later the United States gave Britain a reply which reliable diplomatic informants have described as favorable in principle.

The Monday conference presumably is for the purpose of reporting to the congressmen the latest developments and to outline for them in more specific terms than was possible last week what may be entailed for this country.

List Of Congressmen Recalled

The nine congressmen invited to the White House last week were recalled for Monday with these additions:

Senator Taft (R., Ohio), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Senator White (Maine), the Republican Senate floor leader.

Representative Halleck (Indiana), House Republican leader.

Senator McKellar (D., Tenn.), ranking Democrat on the Appropriations Committee.

Representative McCormack (Massachusetts), House Democratic whip.

Representative Cannon (Missouri), ranking Democrat on the House Appropriations Committee.

The nine who were invited to the initial conference were:

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) and Representative Eaton, chairmen of the Foreign committees;

Senator Bridges (R., N.H.) and Representative Taber (R., N.Y.), chairmen of the Appropriations committees;

Speaker Martin (R., Mass.)

Senator Connally (Texas) and Representative Bloom (N.Y.), ranking Democrats on the Foreign Committees, and Senator Barkley (Ky.) and Representative Rayburn (Texas), Democratic floor leaders.

Message To Congress Expected

The President is expected to follow up the conference with a message to Congress outlining the situation publicly and officially for the first time and formally requesting the necessary legislation.

The $250,000,000 aid to Greece would be in addition to that country's share of a $350,000,000 appropriation already requested by the President for relief in liberated countries, succeeding UNRRA aid.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee, which has been considering this behind closed doors, studied it further today and decided to defer further action until Tuesday, after the White House conference.

because of developments." While Ross declined to elaborate, Senator Taft, of Ohio, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said he and other congressional leaders had been asked to talk at the White House Monday about the situation presented by prospective British withdrawal of economic aid to Greece and the Greek appeal to this country for financial help.

Outlined Last Week

Congressional leaders went to a White House conference last week at which the President and Secretary of State Marshall outlined the Greek situation.

Senator Bridges (R., N.H.) told reporters it was his understanding then that they would be called back when details of the situation had been learned.

The invitation to Taft, who was not present at the first conference, indicated that Mr. Truman had broadened the field of the discussions to include more members of both parties.

Representative Eaton (R., N.J.), chairman, announced that a meeting of the House Foreign Affairs Committee scheduled for Monday would be deferred until Tuesday.

Public Statement Indicated

There were indications that some members anticipated a public statement by Mr. Truman on the international situation before Tuesday.

At a news conference shortly after Ross's announcement, Eaton referred to the Greek crisis as "the most fateful situation in the history of our country."

Other House members said that fourteen Republican and Democratic congressional leaders were invited to the Monday meeting.

Those Who Will Attend

They listed these as:

House — Speaker Martin, of Massachusetts; Republican Floor Leader Halleck, of Indiana; Democratic Floor Leader Rayburn, of Texas; Chairman Eaton of the Foreign Affairs Committee and Representative Bloom (D., N.Y.), ranking minority member; Chairman Taber (R., N.Y.) of the Appropriations Committee and Representative Cannon (R., Mo.), ranking majority member; Representative McCormack, of Massachusetts, Democratic whip.

Senate—Taft, Vandenberg (R., Mich.), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee; White of Maine, Republican flor leader; Barkley of Kentucky, Democratic floor leader; Connally of Texas, ranking Democrat on the Foreign Relations Committee, and Bridges, chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

Dean Acheson, acting Secretary of State, conferred privately with Mr. Truman before the Cabinet meeting.

Only an hour before Ross announced the postponement he had outlined Mr. Truman's schedule to reporters. The President had planned to fly to Key West, Fla., tomorrow, then visit Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands and witness Atlantic fleet maneuvers.

The presidential yacht Williamsburg is already en route to San Juan, Puerto Rico, where Mr. Truman had planned to go aboard for the Caribbean cruise. He had expected to be away sixteen days.

Referring to the Greek situation and its implications, Chairman Eaton (R-N.J.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee called it "the most fateful situation in the history of our country."

President Truman is reported to have under consideration a $250,000,000 program of aid to Greece this year. Officials, who cannot be named, said today that if this is finally agreed upon, about half of the total probably would be earmarked for strengthening the Greek army to maintain order.

No U. S. Troops to Go

It was said authoritatively there has been no serious proposal to dispatch American troops to Greece, and that Britain's plans to withdraw her forces gradually were considered satisfactory.

Among the many questions still undecided was whether this government proposed to bolster only Greece, or to extend aid also to Trukey and other governments who might be in distress at least partly as a result of Soviet-Russian pressure.

Vacation Trip Called Off

The two-week vacation journey on which Mr. Truman had planned to depart tomorrow was called off after an unusually long cabinet meeting, lasting an hour and a half, in which Greece's recent plea for aid was discussed.

Words of the summons to congressional chiefs of both parties came from the capital.

The President is expected to follow up the conference with a message to congress outlining the situation publicly and officially for the first time and formally requesting the necessary legislation.

The $250,000,000 aid to Greece would be in addition to that country's share of a $350,000,000 appropriation already requested by the President for relief in liberated countries, succeeding UNRRA aid.

The house foreign affairs committee, which has been considering this behind closed doors, studied it further today and decided to defer further action until Tuesday after the White House conference.

Summons Congress Leaders Monday For Discussion

Mr. 347 (D)

Washington, March 7 (AP)—President Truman today postponed his Caribbean trip indefinitely and summoned congressional leaders of both parties to a White House conference Monday on the international situation.

Charles Ross, presidential secretary, announced the delay in the proposed trip with this statement:

"The Caribbean trip has been indefinitely postponed

ATTLEE FACES REBELLION OF 100 LABORITES

(N)

Parliament Dissidents Demand Armed Force Be Cut In Half

A. GARSHON

London, March 7 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee was confronted tonight by a rebellion of more than 100 Labor members of Parliament who demanded that Britain's present armed forces of more than 1,000,000 men be cut by almost one half in order to boost the labor supply.

This development in the ranks of Attlee's party came as Winston Churchill, Conservative leader, called upon the House of Commons to overthrow the Labor Government on Wednesday by a vote of "no confidence" in its Socialist plans for British industrial recovery.

The dissenting Laborites, some of whom gained the name "rebels" in their break with Ernest Bevin, Foreign Secretary, over his policies, won Attlee's agreement to hear their case at a Labor party caucus on Monday.

Churchill's motion called Labor plans for industrial recovery "either inadequate or injurious," but it refrained from accusing the government of "tyranny, conceit and incompetence," as he had previously earlier.

Passage of the motion would force the government to quit possibly for a new election to determine whether a majority of voters backed the Socialist régime they installed with a landslide vote 20 months ago that snowed under Churchill's Conservatives.

30. 24-8331

The dissenting Laborites, however, were not hitched to Churchill's misgivings, and overthrow of the government appeared unlikely. The Conservatives in general support Attlee's call for maintenance of an army of more than 1,000,000 men. The Laborites remain solid behind the Attlee economic policies outlined in the recent white papers, except on the phase of manpower and the army.

Nine Liberals in the House of Commons joined the Conservatives in sharp criticism of economic policies, but they did not go along with the "no-confidence" vote of Churchill.

Political informants said the objecting Laborites sent a letter to Attlee calling for cuts of 500,000 in Britain's armed forces. They said the letter asked also for "a return to Socialist first principles" in British foreign policy that would enable the government to make the cuts and meet the demands of Britain's understaffed industries.

A government economic survey said Britain required 278,000 additional industrial workers in order to achieve its export goals for the 1947-48 financial year.

Attlee Facing New Attack By Churchill (D)

London, March 7 (AP)—Britain's Labor Government, having surmounted a determined effort by Winston Churchill to block its plans for getting out of India in fifteen months, faced a new Conservative attack today over the nation's economic plight.

Voted down, 337 to 185, in his fight against a Government decision to terminate British rule in India by June, 1948, Churchill promised, nevertheless, that he would offer his long-threatened motion of censure against Prime Minister Attlee's Government next Wednesday, at the end of three days' debate on the nation's serious economic situation. R. HEWITT

Discontent In Party

Despite the fact that on a straight party vote the Laborites' lopsided majority would insure a Government victory, there appeared to be enough discontent among party followers to cause the Government to send out a "three line whip," its most urgent summons, requiring Labor members to be on hand for the crucial vote.

The wording of the censure motion, which if approved could overthrow the Government, has not been decided upon, but Churchill previously had said it would accuse the Government of "tyranny, conceit and incompetence."

Formal support of Attlee's decision fixing the June, 1948, date for quitting India was voted by the House of Commons last night in spite of Churchill's protest that such an action could only be termed "operation scuttle."

"It is with deep grief that I have watched the clattering down of the British Empire with all its glories and all the service it has rendered to mankind," he said.

Churchill declared that feuding Moslems and Hindus were preparing for civil war when British troops withdraw and urged further negotiation in the hope of compromise.

300 Main Roads Still Blocked In England (D)

London, March 7 (AP)—Drifted snow and ice-sheeted highways stalled Britain's transport for the third straight day today and heightened fears of a grave new dislocation in industry.

At least 300 major highways were blocked, scores of branch railway lines were cut, twelve towns and hundreds of villages remained isolated, food supplies dropped and 300 of the nation's vital coal mines were idle.

The Ministry of Fuel said weather conditions were "as difficult" as at any time in a winter which saw a three-week industrial shutdown caused by coal shortage.

Coal Production Loss

The London Daily Herald, organ of the dominant Labor party, under a headline reading "New Crisis Threat to Industries," reported the coal production loss in Wales alone at 260,000 tons—half of the amount that Britain saved by shutting factories and throwing 2,000,000 or more out of work.

Temperatures hovered around freezing today and the Air Ministry forecast colder weather tonight.

In some areas, workmen labored under sunny skies to free highways and rail lines buried under snowdrifts 10 to 30 feet deep. In other sections, the work went on amid snow flurries.

Most Main Lines Open

Virtually all main railway lines had been opened, but most branch lines were still out of service and the automobile association reported little improvement in highway conditions.

Temperatures over most of northern Europe were around freezing. Floods in Hungary, caused by ice-jammed rivers, were subsiding, but overflowing streams isolated new areas of Holland and Belgium. Floods covering eastern France from Strasbourg down the Rhine Valley to Mulhouse began receding.

In Ireland, the Red Cross arranged to drop food and medicine by airplane to isolated mountain villages. Peter McCulagh, of Mineola, L.I., arriving for his father's funeral, took longer to get from Dublin to his native town of Plumbridge, Tyrone, by automobile, than he did to fly from New York.

Blizzard Strikes Denmark

The winter's heaviest blizzard hit Denmark, clogging all transport.

Milk deliveries in London were cut nearly in half and hundreds of thousands went without. Slush froze hard in London's streets and traffic crawled.

At Cinderford, in Britain's Forest of Dean, a movie house interrupted its program last night to announce: "Unless we clear the roads to the (near-by railroad) station we shall starve." Hundreds trooped out of the audience and dug snow all night. Food arrived today.

Colder weather moved into Moscow today following the heaviest snowfall of the year. Temperatures were expected to fall to about 5 degrees above zero before nightfall.

British Plants' Coal Quotas Set

London, March 7 (AP)—The British Board of Trade told Great Britain's factories tonight exactly how much coal they would receive—one third of their normal needs—until the coal shortage crisis is eased, and guaranteed they would receive it.

Iron and steel plants will get a basic 50 per cent of their normal quota, the board said, under a regional allocation scheme first proposed last January, but not put immediately in effect because of six freezing weeks of fuel shortages.

Originally all industries were to receive 50 per cent of their needs, with surplus coal going into regional pools to supplement stocks in plants with critical shortages.

However, the board noted, supplies following the grave mid-winter crisis "will not be sufficient" to give all plants half their requirements, although larger regional pools will be available under the new plan.

This latest attempt to bolster Great Britain's export drive—shattered after a three-week industrial closedown—came on a day that brought new, heavy snowstorms to threaten food, fuel and cattle food supplies.

Britons Bid Bevin Raise Atomic Issue at Moscow

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, March 7—Scientists joined with an all-party group of political figures today in urging Foreign Secretary Bevin to raise the issue of atomic control in Moscow to avoid "a desperate world situation."

"We strongly urge the Foreign Secretary to raise this vital issue with Generalissimo Stalin and General Marshall in Moscow as we believe that its settlement would greatly facilitate the solution of all the other outstanding international problems," said a statement issued by the atomic energy committee of a world peace organization called New Commonwealth.

Russia, Poland Seen Standardizing Arms

London, March 7 (AP)—A Foreign Office spokesman said today the Soviet-Polish agreement signed this week "appears to advance" standardization of arms by the two countries.

Britain, he added, does not see any sinister significance in such standardization. Britain and the United States agreed in principle last autumn to fix certain weapons, including the rifle, at United States sizes. The fact that France buys some of her military materials from Britain also implies some standardization at least, the spokesman noted.

In 1940, he recalled, the United States sent a million rifles to Britain which had no ammunition to fit them. The American guns were grooved to .300 inch. British rifles for 50 years had been sized at .303 inch.

Wheat Acreage to Rise 21%

LONDON, March 7 (AP)—Britain has announced a 21 per cent increase in her 1947 wheat acreage over last year, but in 1948 will grow less to encourage increased production of eggs and meat.

The target for wheat this year is 2,500,000 acres, compared with 1,066,000 acres in 1946. The proposed acreage for 1948, Agricultural Minister Tom Williams told the House of Commons, will be only 2,000,000.

"In view of the special importance which the Government attaches to an early revival of pig and poultry production," Mr. Williams announced, slight increases have been made in livestock prices. The biggest increase was 10 shillings ($2) a 100 pounds for pigs. Egg prices went up 1 penny (about 2 cents) a dozen.

The Council of the National Farmers Union greeted the Government's schedule of prices and target acreages as "a move toward a more normal balance between livestock and crops in the use of agricultural land."

Marshall Visiting Berlin (D)

Berlin, March 7 (AP)—George C. Marshall, United States Secretary of State, arrived in Berlin today on the last leg of his flight to the four-power Foreign Ministers' Council in Moscow and headed immediately for conferences with high officials of the American Military Government.

He was greeted at Tempelhof airport by Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, the retiring American military governor for Germany, and Lieut. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, governor-designate, who hurried from a meeting of the Allied Co-ordinating Committee to be on hand to honor the American secretary.

Due In Moscow Monday

Marshall came from Paris, where he placed a wreath at the tomb of France's unknown soldier under the Arch of Triumph in a ceremony watched by thousands of Parisians.

The weather will determine when Marshall will leave for Moscow. He is due in the Soviet capital by Monday for the formal opening of the meeting to discuss drawing up peace pacts for Germany and Austria.

Skies were so murky in Berlin Marshall's plane had to land by instrument. A guard of honor was drawn up on the snow-covered field and two solid columns of military police lined the apron in front of the airport building. Marshall was the first to leave the plane.

McNarney His Host

He shook hands with McNarney, who will be his host during his Berlin stay. Clay, Robert Murphy, political adviser to the military government, and other AMG staff members. He was scheduled to confer with them tonight and tomorrow.

Marshall will receive from them the latest information on the situation in Germany.

He will receive details of the controversy in the four-power control council over preparation of a report for the Foreign Ministers Council. The British and American commanders prepared unilateral reports in which they expressed views on reparations, de-Nazification, Germany's economic and political future and other questions.

Marshall Lands In Berlin, Sees AMG Chiefs (D)

Berlin, March 7 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall reached Berlin today for conferences with officials of the American Military Government, preliminary to departure for the Foreign Ministers' meeting in Moscow.

A flight of 2 hours 45 minutes brought Marshall from Paris, where he placed a wreath upon the French Unknown Soldier's Tomb as a climax to 36 hours in the French capital. The sky was so murky that Marshall's pilot made an instrument landing here, and weather conditions were expected to dictate the time of departure for Moscow.

Get Latest Information

Gens. Joseph T. McNarney and Lucius D. Clay joined Ambassador Robert D. Murphy in greeting the Secretary. They had available the latest information on friction among the powers occupying Germany. This has resulted in a practical stalemate in the Control Council on fundamental questions of Germany's future. The Moscow conference beginning Monday is designed to write a peace treaty for the Germans, but there is increasing doubt that more than preliminaries can be disposed of there.

Marshall left Paris at 2.07 P.M. (8.07 A.M., E.S.T.).

Mobile Library Lends Books Nazis Banned

Berlin, March 7 (AP)—The first mobile library for the use of German schoolchildren in Berlin has been put into operation by the American-run German Youth Activities Section of Tempelhof Air Base.

The library contains 2,500 books in German, many of which were banned during the Nazi regime. Among the authors included are Dickens, Tolstoy, Verne, Twain, Schiller, Rousseau, Walpole, Grimm, Anderson, Balzac, Cervantes and Thoreau.

INTIMIDATION LAID TO ARMY IN TRIAL

Carroll Also Charges Interference In Murder Case

Frankfurt, Germany, March 7 (AP). Army officals with "persistent intimidation" of witnesses and "unwarranted interference" with defense preparations, Earl Carroll, attorney, tried unsuccessfully today to obtain the dismissal of a murder charge against Private Daniel P. Walczak of Detroit.

A military court denied the motion of the San Bruno (Cal.) lawyer after Lieut. Col. James A. Gleason, the prosecutor, termed Carroll's charges "ridiculous."

The trial of Walczak on a charge of murdering a German girl began last December and its progress has been marked by frequent defense complaints that army legal officials were trying to "fabricate" a case against Walczak and denying him a fair opportunity to defend himself.

Legal System Criticized

Carroll, a critic of the army's legal system, renewed his complaint today after an unsuccessful attempt to talk to a prosecution witness outside the courtroom.

The witness, a German girl, testified that when Carroll approached her, an army criminal investigation agent shoved her into another room, telling her not to talk to the lawyer.

"This sort of thing has occurred repeatedly," Carroll protested. "They instruct these witnesses not to discuss the case with the defense."

Liberty Depends On Agents

"With their very liberty depending on these army agents," he continued, "these Germans are in constant fear of them. They are afraid to talk to the defense. How can we get any evidence or obtain a fair trial under these circumstances?"

Gleason said Carroll "has talked to this witness repeatedly" and insisted there was "nothing improper" in the actions of the agent who, he said, was escorting the German witness through the army headquarters building.

Approves U. S.-German Marriage

Army Gives First Official Sanction to Resident of Hempstead, L. I.

Frankfurt, March 7 (A. P.).—The United States Army today gave its first official approval to a German-American marriage. The authorization to marry was granted Peter Rupeka, 25 years old, a former sergeant of Hempstead, L. I., and Erika Schaefer, 21. The couple met while sightseeing in the Frankfurt Zoo in September, 1945.

"We expect to get married about March 27," said Rupeka after the Army passed along the news he had been awaiting for months. "We're both a little worried about how Erika will be received in the United States—but I guess in a big, cosmopolitan area like New York, people will soon forget any prejudices against her being a German."

Rupeka, who joined the Army in 1943 and has been overseas since April, 1945, said he was terminating his present contract as a War Department employee so he could marry this month. Under the Army's regulations, he must leave Germany within thirty days after his marriage.

Rupeka said his bride-to-be spent the last six years in Frankfurt doing mostly domestic work. "We both speak some German," Rupeka said, "but Erika has only a limited knowledge of English. It's difficult—but I'm giving her daily lessons in English."

Rupeka said the couple planned to live at his mother's Hempstead home at 217 Fenimore avenue.

Frankfurt Encourages Return of Jews Who Fled

FRANKFURT AM MAIN, March 7 (AP).—The City of Frankfurt is offering special privileges to the Jews once persecuted here and is encouraging the return of Jews who fled during the Nazi regime.

The Mayor's office today reported these official attempts to compensate Jews for their Nazi losses:

Nearly 100,000 marks ($10,000) will be paid the sixty Jews now living in Frankfurt who were forced to do municipal labor at lower wages than were paid other Germans.

Jews are given priority on city jobs and on non-secured loans up to 20,000 marks for starting small business and get unemployment allowances higher than other Germans.

Establishment of Jewish businesses is encouraged by using the influence of muincipal economic agencies to help Jews obtain merchandise and other facilities.

Communist Dismissed In De-Nazification Post

Munich, Germany, March 7 (AP)—The Bavarian de-Nazification Ministry said today it had dismissed Karl Loichinger, a Communist, as de-Nazification court president in Fuerstenfeldbruch after he had forced a woman defendant to testify to an act of adultery which had nothing to do with her political views.

The woman, mortified, committed suicide at her home immediately after the hearing, a ministry spokesman said.

Loichinger also was accused of telling two Communist party members that if they testified in behalf of a defendant they would be dropped from the party.

KESSELRING TAKES BLAME

Tells British Court He Passed on Order for Italian Massacre

VENICE, Italy, March 7 (AP)—Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring today accepted responsibility for ordering the ten-for-one Nazi reprisal massacre in the Ardeatine Caves March 24, 1944, in which 335 Italian civilians died.

"The order was passed on by me," he told the British military court trying him for war crimes. "I accept the entire responsibility. I cannot understand why General von Mackensen has been sentenced to death in this matter, because if there is any guilt it is mine and mine alone."

Col. Gen. Eberhard von Mackensen was sentenced by another British court in Rome last November.

The court adjourned for an unspecified period after a doctor had said Kesselring was "not in his normal state of health."

Two Die in Messina Riot Started by Wage Dispute

ROME, March 7 (AP).—Two demonstrators were killed and three wounded today in a riot at Messina, Sicily, the Italian news agency Ansa said.

The demonstrators, massed in the square before the prefect's palace, were demanding 15 per cent wage increases for industrial employees when fighting broke out, Ansa said.

Messina employers, the dispatch said, had refused to grant the increases, which had been agreed to on a nation-wide scale by the Industrialists' Association in Rome.

Stassen in Rome, May See Pope

ROME, March 7 (AP).—Harold E. Stassen, Republican Presidential candidate, arrived here today after a brief visit to Greece. His schedule is to take him to Moscow as an unofficial observer at the Foreign Ministers Conference. He may see Pope Pius XII tomorrow.

Guerrilla Drive Set By Greece

Athens, March 7 (AP)—Press reports quoting a military source said today that preparations for an all-out campaign to stamp out guerrillas in Greece are under way but there was no indication when the offensive would begin.

These reports said the operations would involve the use of fighter and bomber planes and warships as well as infantrymen.

General Yadjis, commander of the 2d and 3d Corps of the Greek Army, who has been designated to direct the campaign, has arrived at his headquarters in Volos for conferences with his chief of staff and senior officers, these reports said.

Army Makes Requests

Public Works Minister Stylianos Gonatas confirmed reports the general staff had asked the Government to suspend certain parts of the Greek Constitution, to enforce martial law and to take such other measures as the military deems necessary for success of the operations in the districts where guerrilla bands are active.

Gonatas said the Government had not reached any decision on the request.

Meanwhile, guerrilla activity was continuing.

Fifty were slain in a fight with the army near Stavropolis, about 15 miles northwest of Xanthe in western Thrace, according to a press dispatch, which said remnants of that band fled north toward the Bulgarian border.

17 More Ordered Deported

Nine lawyers and eight other persons arrested in Volos on charges of aiding the guerrilla bands will be deported, authorities said. Earlier, the gendarmerie said 27 Communists arrested yesterday at Elevsis, 12 miles northwest of Athens, had been ordered deported.

The Government announced last night that it had ordered the release of more than 2,000 political deportees.

The Government's official statement said 550 persons seized in Athens Tuesday were arrested, not for "ideological beliefs," but because they had been recruiting and supplying anti-Government guerrillas.

Soviet Influence On Guerrillas

U.S. CHAKALES

Salonika, Greece, March 6 [AP—Delayed]—Evidence purporting to show Soviet and Communist influence in the operations of guerrillas in northern Greece was presented to the United Nations Inquiry Commission today by the representative of the Greek Government.

He presented a manual containing a quotation from Prime Minister Stalin on the art of warfare and said it was used in training Greek Leftist guerrillas in Yugoslavia.

Additional Evidence Presented

A second manual printed in Greek and a Russian mortar range finder which the Greek representative said was captured in a fight with guerrillas on Mount Vermion last week were also presented to the commission. A hammer and sickle and star were imprinted on the range finder.

Tolios Kleon, 34, testified that he was trained at Bulkjes in Yugoslavia as a guerrilla fighter. He said the training began after Nicholas Zachariades, secretary general of the Greek Communist party, made an address at Bulkjes on March 25, 1945.

Kleon quoted the Greek Communist leader as saying that military training should be stressed at the camp for future use in Greece.

The witness said he was "advised" by Communist leaders in his district last year to leave Greece for Bulgaria for "two or three months." Alexei Grauen, Soviet representative, argued with other commission members over whether Communist "advice" was tantamount to an order. Kleon said that "advice" meant "order" to him, while Grauen insisted that Kleon crossed over into Bulgaria on his own "free will."

STALIN QUOTATION CITED IN GREECE

Salonika, March 6 (Delayed) (A. P.).—A manual containing a quotation from Generalissimo Stalin on the art of warfare, which Greek representatives charged was used in training Greek leftist guerrillas in Yugoslavia, was presented in evidence today to the United Nations Balkan investigating commission.

The Greek representatives also presented a second manual, printed in Greek and entitled "For Training Riflemen and Officers in Subjects of a General or Technical Nature." The Greeks charged these documents were used at Bulkjes, Yugoslavia, in the instruction of guerrillas now fighting Government troops in the north of Greece.

A third exhibit, a Russian mortar range finder which the Greek representatives said was captured in a fight last week on Mount Vermion, also was presented. The range finder, clearly marked with a hammer and sickle and a star, was among a large store of supplies the Greek representatives said were captured by Government forces after the defeat of a large guerrilla band in the area, about 100 miles west of Salonika.

Right Reserved To Bring Up Chakalis Case Again

Salonika, Greece, March 7 (AP)—Mark Ethridge, American member of the United Nations commission investigating Balkan border incidents, told that body today he reserved the right to raise again the question of permission for L. S. Chakales, Associated Press Correspondent, to enter Albania with one of the commision's fact-finding teams.

Although a team is scheduled to leave tomorrow for the Greek-Albanian border, the Albanian press officer with the commission said that Chakalas had not yet been given permission to enter Albania.

The Albanians have declared Chakales would be barred because they objected to dispatches he sent from Tirana at the time of the Albanian election in December, 1945. Other correspondents with the commission have been notified they would be admitted to Albania.

SOVIET BUDAPEST BAN IS REPORTED

Publication Of U.S. Note Forbidden, Official Says

Budapest, March 7 (AP)—A high Hungarian official declared today that the Soviet commander in chief in Budapest had forbidden newspaper publication of the American note protesting Russian interference in Hungarian affairs. American sources said the suppression would be strongly challenged.

The official, whose name could not be disclosed, informed a representative of the United States legation that the manager of the official Hungarian news agency had received "direct orders" from Soviet Lieut. Gen. V. P. Sviridov "to suppress the note."

Denies Soviet Order

Sviridov, however, denied emphatically to Col. John H. Scopes, of the United States military mission, that Soviet authorities had ordered the suppression. Scopes said that, before he could complete his sentence asking about the suppression, Sviridov interrupted to deny responsibility, and added: "It was an action taken by the Hungarian Government."

[Diplomatic informants in London said that Britain would join the United States in the protest against alleged attempts by the Russians to help the Communists gain control of the Hungarian Government.]

Hurried conferences were held this afternoon at the United States legation and the United States military mission. Persons close to both agencies said the American Government intended to "make an issue" of the suppression.

Editors Warned

Several reliable Hungarian newspaper men said members of the Communist-dominated political police had visited all newspapers and warned the editors against printing the note.

The newspaper men said that Kis Ujsag, one of the Small Holders party organs, was compelled to make revisions when police found a 200-word story about the note on page 1. Four hundred copies had been run off before the police acted and they became collectors' items.

This latest incident is part of the maneuvering that has been going on in Hungary since the middle-of-the-road Small Holders party won in postwar parliamentary elections, but called on Communists and other parties to share in the Government.

Parliament Purge Charged

Small Holder members charge that the Communists, from their positions of power, have been trying to conduct a purge of Small Holder members in Parliament, so as to whittle down the party's majority and unseat the Government. Small Holders have charged that Communists exaggerated an alleged plot to restore the prewar Horthy regime as a part of this campaign.

The most recent demands of Communists and Socialists was that four Small Holder ministers and 51 members of Parliament be expelled from office on the ground they were tainted with "reaction."

"Aggressive Attempts"

An official of the Small Holders party, which has 57 per cent of the seats in Parliament, said that initial elation over the American note had been dissolved in a feeling of gloom among party members.

He said party leaders believed now that the note, which deplored "repeated aggressive attempts of the Hungarian minority elements to coerce the popularly elected majority," would only make the Communists "more violent" in their demands.

Russ In Hungary Suppress News Of U.S. Note

Budapest, March 7 (AP)—A well-informed Hungarian official said today that Soviet Lieut. Gen. V. P. Sviridov had forbidden publication of the American note protesting Russian interference in Hungarian affairs and Communist attempts to control the Government.

This official told a representative of the United States Legation that Gyula Ortutay, manager of the official Hungarian news agency Mti, had "received direct orders from Sviridov to suppress the note."

Sviridov, in a conference with Col. John H. Scopes, Jr., United States military mission executive officer, denied that Soviet authorities had ordered the suppression of the note.

Blames Hungarians

Colonel Scopes said that, before he could finish asking Sviridov about it, the Soviet officer interrupted and disavowed responsibility, saying the action was taken by the Hungarian Government.

Sviridov is the Russian occupation commander and acting chairman of the Allied Control Council. A copy of the United States protest was delivered to him March 5 by Brig. Gen. George H. Weems.

Several Hungarian newspapermen said members of the Communist-dominated political police had visited all newspapers and warned editors not to print the note.

Report Is Deleted

They added that Kis Ujsag, an afternoon newspaper of the Small Holders party, had been forced to remake its edition this morning when the police discovered a 200-word report about the note boxed on Page 1.

The Small Holders make up the leading party in Parliament.

There were hurried conferences at the United States Legation and the United States military mission and persons close to both agencies said that the American Government intended to "make an issue" of the suppression of the note.

A Small Holder official said party leaders, who at first proclaimed their party strengthened, today were of the opinion that the note, if it accomplished anything, only would make the Communists more violent in their demands.

Premier Ferenc Nagy hurried away when asked by a correspondent this morning for "just five minutes."

The most recent Communist and Socialist demand is that four Small Holder ministers and 51 members of Parliament be expelled from office on the ground they are "tainted with reaction."

The Communist newspaper Szabad Nep declared today that, unless the Small Holders came around to "democratic" views, "next week will be the most critical period in Hungarian political life."

Romanian Queen Plans Trip

BUCHAREST, March 7 (AP).—Queen Mother Helen will leave Romania for the first time since the end of the war when she departs by plane Sunday for Geneva where her sister, Princess Irene of Greece, is reported to be ill.

Russ Cite Land Fraud, Farm Production Lag

Moscow, March 7 (AP)—Moscow newspapers gave seven eighths of their space today to a report on Soviet agriculture which told of widespread embezzlement of land during the war and low yields of potatoes and pigs.

The report, by A. A. Andreyev, the Soviet Union's leading agriculturist, was submitted last week to the Communist party's central committee. Today's four-page papers gave it three and one half pages.

Andreyev is a member of the politburo (executive body of the central Communist committee) and a close friend of Stalin. He said only the system of collective farms saved some sections of Russia from starvation during last summer's drought.

More Corn Is Urged

Andreyev said that when Stalin realized the full sweep of the drought he ordered immediate food and forage aid to the collective farms and peasant holdings.

Going into detail about the nation's agriculture, Andreyev suggested that Russia plant more corn.

"One cannot fail to note," he said, "that there are many elements of conservatism in our agrarian establishments, especially when it comes to planting corn.

"They think this plant merely a southern one, while it has been proved that corn can be grown in the district of the Volga, the central Black Earth Belt, and even in southern Siberia."

Potato Yield Still Off

Andreyev gave this picture:

Potatoes are second only to grain as food but the yield "still is low with us and does not even reach the prewar level."

Only 72 calves were born for every 100 cows on collective farms in 1946, he said, adding:

"When one analyzes the reason it is discovered there are simply not enough bulls."

[A 70 per cent yield of calves brought to weaning age is not considered low in the United States.]

There was a shortage of cows generally; 586 collective farms out of 8,600 in the Kirov region did not have a single cow in 1946.

Pigs Used As "Coin"

Pig breeding was the most backward of all forms of animal husbandry. One deplorable feature was that pigs were wasted by being used "as coins for exchange" through swapping, etc. "The practice of pig embezzling should be stopped."

Andreyev cited figures to prove embezzlement of land had been widespread during the war:

Land was improperly appropriated on 222,000 collective farms.

Officials discovered 2,255,000 cases in which public land had been seized.

Of 11,613,700 acres of land returned, 9,884,000 acres had been appropriated improperly by various organizations.

1,287,391 acres were appropriated improperly by collective farms.

260,367 acres were appropriated by "other persons."

Moscow Ready For Ministers

Moscow, March 7 (AP)—The Russians polished Moscow's finest hotels and laid plushy red carpets in railway and air terminals today in anticipation of the arrival of American, British and French Foreign Ministers for the spectacular opening of the German peace treaty conference Monday.

Not in many a year has such a crowd of plain and distinguished outsiders converged on the Soviet capital and, like a housewife prettying up her home for honored guests, Moscow was making a vast effort to give the best possible impression.

Carpets Kept Clean

At the Aviation Industry Building, where the Foreign Ministers Council will meet, and at the Moskva and Metropole hotels, where most of the visitors will live, hundreds of painters, scrubwomen and decorators worked long hours to get everything in shining order and keep it so.

Early arrivals at the Metropole were told to take off their galoshes at the door. The doorman explained that the carpets had just been spread and swept and must be kept clean.

The Moskva Hotel, where a great white statue of Stalin looks down on the entrance from the far end of the huge lobby, has been closed to all but foreigners and Russian service people.

Bevin Reported Delayed

Correspondents and delegation officials are being quartered there in newly decorated rooms. The same redecorating also has been going on at the Metropole, where old-timers report that the attendants have received new uniforms for the first time since the war.

George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, of the United States, is now expected to arrive by plane Sunday.

Ernest Bevin, Foreign Secretary of Britain, is due tomorrow by train.

Georges Bidault, Foreign Minister of France, may arrive by special train late Saturday or on Sunday.

Bevin was reported delayed some hours in Brest-Litovsk, where the passengers had to transfer their luggage from the cars of a standard western gauge train to broad gauge Russian cars.

The vanguard of the delegations here includes Michael McDermott, State Department press officer, who arrived by plane from the United States. Lieutenant General Sir Brian Robertson, British commander in Germany, and his political adviser, Sir William Strang, are due tomorrow from Berlin.

Warsaw Issues Its Reply To 'Former' U. S. Envoy

WARSAW, March 7 (AP).—A Polish government spokesman referred to Arthur Bliss Lane as the "former Ambassador to Poland" today and accused him of starting a campaign "harmful to Polish-American relations."

Taking sharp issue with the statement made by the American envoy upon his return to the United States that he had not been permitted to visit more than 100 American citizens held in the jails of Poland, the spokesman said Mr. Lane agreed before his departure from Warsaw to appointment of an American-Polish commission to determine the nationality and rights of persons held in jails who claim American citizenship. He said delay in the start of the work of such a commission could not be attributed to the Polish government.

The spokesman said members of a mixed commission will be allowed to visit any prisoners who hold American citizenship.

Three Nazis Hanged

Warsaw, March 7 (AP)—Three former Nazi chieftains of the Warsaw district, convicted of mass execution of Poles and systematic destruction of the capital during the occupation, were hanged at Mokotow Prison today. They were Ludwig Fischer, former Nazi governor of the district; Jonief Meissinger, former Gestapo chief, and Mex Daume, who was a Nazi police officer.

Poland Attacks Lane For Statement In N.Y.

Warsaw, March 7 (AP)—The Polish Government today accused United States Ambassador Arthur Bliss Lane of launching an anti-Polish campaign in the United States, "harmful to Polis-American relations," and criticized the envoy for statements made on his recent arrival in New York.

Referring to Lane as the "former ambassador," Foreign Office spokesmen assailed Lane's statement that he had been permitted to interview only one of 100 political prisoners who claimed United States citizenship.

Denies Blame For Delay

The spokesman said that, before leaving Warsaw, Lane agreed to the formation of a Polish-American commission to determine the nationality and rights of persons held in Polish jails claiming American citizenship, and he added that delay in beginning the work of such a commission could not be laid to the Poles.

The spokesman also took issue with Lane's reported statement on his arrival in New York on Wednesday that his return represented a protest against Poland's failure to fulfill international obligations in the recent Polish national elections.

32 More Arrested In Palestine

Jerusalem, March 7 (AP)—British troops arrested 32 persons today in searches for terrorists outside the Holy Land martial law areas and unofficial sources said some were known members of Irgun Zvai Leumi and the Stern Gang, extremist Jewish underground groups.

The new arrests brought to 57 the total apprehended since the imposition of martial law Sunday on approximately 250,000 of Palestine's 600,000 Jews.

Today's searches were in Natanya and Hadera north of Tel Aviv, the all-Jewish city which is under martial law, and in Rehovoth, southeast of Tel Aviv. The troops screened 1,500 residents in Natanya alone.

Police Station Attacked

Some violence marked the day. An official announcement said the police station at Rishon le Zion, a short distance from Tel Aviv, was attacked by rifle fire. The attackers fled into an orange grove and escaped when police and soldiers gave chase.

One British officer and a non-commissioned officer were injured this morning when a staff car was blown up by two road mines on the highway between Tel Aviv and Haifa.

Informants in Jerusalem said several loud explosions and machinegun fire were heard in the Natanya area late today, but there were no official accounts of violence following the searches in that town.

The troops uncovered some hidden munitions at Hadera, including two flame throwers, one small mine and two Sten magazines.

Mayor M. Shaked accompained the troops in the search at Natanya.

2 Arms Caches, 21 Jews Seized

Jerusalem, March 7 (AP)—British troops arrested 21 more persons suspected of terrorism and uncovered at least two arms caches in searches of three small Jewish towns outside the martial law areas today.

Unofficial sources described some of the suspects as known members of two Jewish underground organizations, Irgun Zvai Leumi and the Stern gang.

The arrests increased to 46 the total number of suspects detained since martial law was imposed Sunday on a large section of the Jewish population. All were described by the British as "known terrorists," and all were believed to have been detained at the Latrun Detention Camp.

Violence Continues

Police denied reports that some had been flown to Kenya Colony.

Isolated acts of violence were continuing.

A British officer and a British soldier were injured today when a staff car was blown up by two road mines on the Haifa-Tel Aviv road.

The Soviet consul general at Beirut, Lebanon, visited the martial-law area of Tel Aviv and conferred with the Czechoslovak and Polish consuls. Informants said the visit was made to enable the Russian diplomat to make a full report to his Government before the Palestine case goes to the United Nations.

Search All Palestine

A spokesman for the military governor of the Tel Aviv martial-law area, commenting on the arrests in towns outside the area, said:

"Our operations will cover all of Palestine. We are not so naive as to believe these gangsters we seek will be found in the cordoned area. Wherever they are, we shall seek them out."

Amritsar Quiet After 136 Die in Punjab Rioting

Disorders of Civil Strife Continue in Other Cities; Leaders Still Far Apart

LAHORE, India, March 7 (AP).—A brigade of British and Indian troops restored order in the City of Amritsar today after more than two days of rioting and arson in which Sikhs and Hindus fought against Moslems, and the mobs on both sides used swords, hatchets, iron bars and other weapons.

At least 136 persons have been killed and almost 300 forced to go to hospitals because of their injuries in the last few days in the Punjab Province cities of Amritsar, Multan, Rawalpindi and Lahore. The Punjab has become the center of a political and religious test of strength on India's road to independence.

At Amritsar, famous for a golden templet sacred in the Sikh religion, at least nineteen persons were killed and four market places were burned during rioting and looting which began Wednesday. Many of the combatants wore steel helmets.

The situation at Lahore also was quieter, but eight more victims of stabbings were admitted to hospitals tonight.

At Multan, 50 miles west of Lahore, where more than ninety bodies had been found and 115 wounded sent to hospitals, the situation was described in a government communique as "under control." But a curfew lifted after twenty-two hours had to be imposed again when rioting was renewed.

At Rawalpindi the death list had reached twenty-seven and the list of injured stood at 175.

At Taxila, near the border of the northwest frontier province, the frontier mail was stopped by a mob and some of the passengers on the train were injured by blows from axes and sticks.

Political leaders of the contending factions appeared no nearer than before to agreement over the Punjab's future government. There was speculation that the province would remain under "Governor's rule" until the British depart from India, which they have said they will do by a year from next June.

Moslem League followers forced the provincial government, a coalition of Hindus, Sikhs and non-League Moslems, to resign several days ago, but could not muster enough votes in the Legislature to form their own government. The Governor of the Punjab, Sir Evan Jenkins, then took over the government of the province. In its population, Moslems predominate.

111 Die In New India Rioting (U)

W. J. MASON

Lahore, March 7 (AP)—British and Indian troops moved into the Sikh cultural center of Amritsar today as rioting, arson and looting took a heavy toll of lives throughout Punjab province.

At least nineteen dead were reported in Amritsar, a new core of the trouble, this morning.

At Multan, 50 miles west of Lahore, more than 90 bodies have been dug from the ruins of burned homes and buildings. Hundreds have been injured in the four days of disorders.

Troops Deter Rioters

The situation in Amritsar has deteriorated steadily since the outbreak of the rioting Tuesday, but "the strong force of troops had a quick effect and this afternoon the situation quieted down considerably," a communiqué said.

The battle between the Moslems and the Hindus, who were supported by the bearded Sikhs, took on the appearance of real warfare yesterday.

The communiqué said arson and looting were taking place on an extensive scale by crowds, armed with swords, hatchets, iron rods, hockey sticks and other weapons.

"Many were steel-helmeted," it said.

Troops Willing To Shoot

Four bazaars had been burned by last night, but the apparent readiness of troops and police to open fire on the looters prevented them from touching off any new blazes today.

At Multan the situation was described as "under control" after one of the worst of the outbreaks. More than 115 persons were hospitalized and a 22-hour curfew was imposed.

Looting and arson broke out again yesterday as soon as a previously imposed curfew was lifted, and authorities clamped it, on again.

Train Passengers Hurt

In Taxila, almost on the northwest frontier, the Indian train, Frontier Mail, was stopped by demonstrators, and "some passengers were wounded with axes and lathis," the communiqué said.

Rioting also broke out in Rawalpindi, and the death toll last night had reached six. Sixty were injured, including the civil surgeon, and a number of fires were started.

In New Delhi, on the Punjab frontier, police banned all weapons in fear of disturbances.

Still No Political Accord

Political leaders of the contending factions seemed no nearer agreement.

The rioting began after the governor of Punjab had invited the Moslem League to form a ministry to succeed the coalition. The coalition of Congress party, Sikh and Unionist representatives had said they were unable to continue because of the frequent rioting in Lahore.

The invitation to the Moslems, however, now has lapsed.

RED GAINS BRING TSINGTAO CURFEW

Unlimited Search Granted To Chinese Garrison (N)

Nanking, March 7 (AP)—The Government clamped a 10 P.M. curfew on Tsingtao tonight and gave the garrison unlimited search powers as a Communist offensive swept close to that important Shantung seaport.

Refugees from the countryside crowded into the city and food prices soared. Trains out of Tsingtao were running only as far as Kiaohsien, 45 miles by rail around Kiaochow Bay.

The Communists were reported to have broken into Kaomi, another town seventeen miles distant along the railway, and to be attacking Tsimo, 24 miles north of Tsingtao.

Officials Confident

Officials expressed confidence that the 60,000-man garrison of the Government's 54th Army could hold Tsingtao, but observers did not rule out the possibility that the Communists would try to take the city.

Small American naval and Marine forces are based there to train Chinese naval personnel.

In Manchuria the army paper Peace Daily said Government troops were 69 miles southwest of Harbin on the Harbin-Changchun railway and that the Communists in Harbin had started evacuating women and children.

Communist Silent On Rout

[The Communist radio at Yenan remained silent about the Government announcements of a great rout of Communists between Changchun and Harbin, but asserted that Communist troops had taken four towns in the Sungari River Reservoir area, some 100 to 160 miles southeast of Changchun.

[The Yenan radio also said the Government's 17th Division had tried to move on Yenan itself from the west, but had fallen back after losing 1,000 men in a 48-hour battle 100 miles away, near Kingyang.]

The Nanking newspaper Hsin Min Pao reported that the Government National Defense Council voted to appoint Wu Teh-chen governor of Formosa, succeeding Gen. Chen Yi, who has ruled that island since the Japanese surrender.

Natives To Participate

Formosa has been the scene of obscure disorder for some days, and only this morning the Government's Central News Agency said Chen Yi had promised a Formosan delegation he would reorganize the administration and let natives participate.

Another Government announcement said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek had taken the chairmanship of the newly-created Pacification Affairs Commission, charged with enforcing Government policies in areas recovered from Communists.

Refugees Flocking To Tsingtao (D)

Nanking, March 7 (AP)—The Government applied stringent emergency measures today as owds of refugees moved into Tsingtao and Communist armies swept eastward in the general directior of the Shangtung port city.

[United States naval and Marine forces are stationed in Tsingtao. Naval forces have been training Chinese sailors.]

A 10 P.M. curfew was clamped on Tsingtao. Garrison troops and police were empowered to search homes, cars, ships and planes. Parades were banned.

Evacuating Harbin

Dispatches from Manchuria said Communists were evacuating women and children from Harbin. The Nationalist army organ, Peace Daily, said Government forces which crossed the Sungari River had advanced up the Changchun railroad to a point 69 miles south of Harbin.

Authorities in Tsingtao expressed confidence they could hold the city, mainly defended by 60,000 troops of the 54th Army. Gen. Wang Yao-wu was reported rushing reinforcements from central Shantung.

Rail traffic from Tsingtao was running only as far as Kiaochow, 10 miles to the northwest. The Government's Central News Agency said Red forces had broken into Kaomi, 62 miles northwest of Tsingtao. Other accounts said Tsimo, 24 miles to the north, was under attack.

Commanders Named

Gen. Tang-en Po, commander of the Nanking garrison, has been appointed commander in chief of 1st Army group headquarters at Suchow, in Kiangsu province. Gen. Chang Chen, vice commander of the Nanking garrison, was named acting commander here.

Possibly as a precaution against movement of food into Communist areas, the Government banned the export of food from the Nanking area.

The head of the Chinese Communist delegation in Nanking, before leaving with his party yesterday for Yenan, pledged that he and his comrades would "keep up the struggle for peace."

Self-Government Asked For Korea

Nanking, March 7 (AP)—A Korean delegation here sent a memorandum to the Governments of China, the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia today, asking self-government for Korea.

The memorandum urged immediate withdrawal of American and Russian occupation forces, abolition of the trusteeship and organization of a technical group by the five powers to help rehabilitate Korea.

Yank Soldier And Jap Girl In Death Pact

Tokyo, March 7 (AP)—Army authorities announced today that an American Negro soldier and a Japanese girl ended their lives with poison in a tiny roadside Shinto shrine, apparently because they were about to be separated.

A Japanese schoolboy found bodies of the soldier, who wore five overseas stripes for 30 months' service in Europe and the Pacific, and 30-year-old Chioko Kayama, side by side on the floor of the 4-by-6-foot shrine. Death apparently occurred yesterday.

Was Ordered Home

The soldier had been absent without leave since February 24 from the 4th Replacement Depot. He had been ordered home for discharge. His name was withheld pending notification of relatives.

"I am being put out of the Army," said a note left by the soldier and released by the Provost Marshal's office. "I don't like it. That is why I am dying."

Criminal investigation agents said notes found in the woman's pocket indicated the suicides had been contemplated for several months.

NO MISHAPS IN YEAR FOR AIR SQUADRON

Fukuoka, Japan, March 7 (A. P.).—Capt. William C. Behnke's 421st night fighter squadron today rounded out a year of flight activity without a single serious accident. The Fifth Air Force headquarters called it a remarkable record in view of difficult maintenance problems.

Behnke of Evansville, Ill., has commanded the squadron for the past year. It performs patrol and reconnaissance missions over southern Japan.

13th Air Force Chiefs Raised

MANILA, March 7 (AP)—The United States Thirteenth Air Force announced today that the officers commanding its bomber and fighter wings have been promoted to the rank of brigadier general. The stars went to Col. William M. Morgan of Marshall, Mo., and Col. George W. Mundy of Cedartown, Ga.

Liberty Ship, Cargo Seized By Dutch In Java

Aboard the U.S.S. Martin Behrman, Batavia, March 7 (AP)—Sixty Dutch marines, sailors and civil police took physical possession of the American Liberty ship Martin Behrman and her disputed cargo today shortly after Capt. Rudy Gray had announced his intention to sail for the United States.

Gray, charging that control of the ship had been wrested from him "forcefully by armed men" who overpowered his mate when the latter attempted to stop them, immediately left the vessel. The Dutch—with the aid of tugs—moved her to another dock preparatory to removing the cargo, which was loaded in republican Java in defiance of Dutch regulations.

Crew Stays On Board

The crew remained aboard under Gray's orders, but refused to assist in moving the ship or discharging the cargo.

Today's developments, which followed by 48 hours a State Department protest to The Hague over the regulations under which the Behrman had been detained here, began when Gray asked the American consulate for clearance papers.

At 11.30 A.M. Gray notified the port naval commander that his ship would sail in an hour unless a written seizure order was presented. No order was presented, but a boarding party was placed aboard the vessel before the hour elapsed.

Mate's Arms Pinioned

Gray walked off the ship after two civil policemen pinioned the arms of First Mate Alexander Theophanus, of New York city, when the mate attempted to carry out Gray's order to raise the gangplank in the face of the boarding party, which was armed with Sten guns, rifles and pistols.

"Control of the Martin Behrman has been taken from me forcefully by armed men," Gray told Dutch Navy Lieutenant John Hammerslag, who led one armed group of sixteen sailors aboard.

"I have received no court order nor legal explanation of this action. Responsibility for the ship is no longer mine and I am leaving on the advice of the charterer's representative."

Marines and Police Act at Batavia After Skipper Plans Sailing (D)

Batavia, March 7 (A. P.).—Sixty Dutch marines, sailors and civil police took physical possession of the American liberty ship Martin Behrman and her disputed cargo today shortly after Capt. Rudy Gray had announced his intention to sail for the United States.

Gray, charging that control of the ship had been wrested from him "forcefully by armed men" who overpowered his mate when the latter attempted to stop them, immediately left the vessel. The Dutch—with the aid of tugs—moved her to another dock preparatory to removing the cargo, which was loaded in republican Java in defiance of Dutch regulations.

Crew Stays On Board.

The crew remained aboard under Gray's orders, but refused to assist in moving the ship or discharging the cargo.

Today's developments, which followed by forty-eight hours a State Department protest to The Hague over the regulations under which the Behrman had been detained here, began when Gray asked the American consulate for clearance papers.

Mate's Arms Pinioned.

At 11:30 A. M. Gray notified the port naval commander that his ship would sail in an hour unless a written seizure order was presented, but a boarding party was placed aboard the vessel before the hour elapsed.

Gray walked off the ship after two civil policemen pinioned the arms of First Mate Alexander Theophanus of New York city when the mate attempted to carry out Gray's order to raise the gangplank in the face of the armed boarding party.

"Control of the Martin Behrman has been taken from me forcefully by armed men," Gray told Dutch Navy Lieut. John Hammerslag, who led one armed group of sixteen sailors aboard. "I have received no court order nor legal explanation of this action. Responsibility for the ship is no longer mine and I am leaving on the advice of the charterer's representative."

James W. Ryan, attorney for the Isbrandtsen Line, which has leased the ship from the United States Maritime Commission, also walked off the ship with Gray. He said he was cabling the Isbrandtsen Company in New York to notify the Maritime Commission that the Behrman had been forcefully captured by the Dutch and that the Isbrandtsen Company was unable to accept further responsibility for the charter.

Gray Called to Court.

Gray later was served by a Dutch police officer with a summons directing him to appear before a Dutch military court Friday. Gray said he was ignorant of any charge against him or why he had been summoned to appear.

The Martin Behrman arrived here several days ago under escort of a Dutch destroyer with a $3,000,000 cargo of rubber, sugar, cinchona (quinine) and other products which she had loaded at Cheribon, Java port east of here which is under control of the Indonesian Republic.

The Dutch had warned Gray that they would not permit the Behrman to sail for America with the cargo, maintaining it was the produce of European-owned plantations illegally seized by the Indonesians and that the vessel had no right to clear without the permission of Dutch authorities.

is a danger that it is not merely a political party within any country," Evatt said. "Its members, as in Canada, may seek to support a foreign power; namely, Soviet Russia."

Calls Precautions Adequate

However, John J. Dedman, Minister of Postwar Reconstruction, said he was sorry the debate had turned into an attack on the Communist party alone because "there are perhaps other spies operating in Australia, and they might not have political affiliations."

Dedman said "adequate precautions" already were being taken against leaks of information from the rocket range. Evatt said "security officers report that so far nothing untoward has occurred."

[In London last December 14, Lieut. Gen. John Fullerton Evetts, British rocket specialist, said upon sailing for Australia that he was going to help set up a 300-mile rocket range that later might be enlarged. He did not say where in Australia the range would be.]

Rocket Spying Is Charged To 'Red-Anted' Agencies

Canberra, March 7 (AP)—Opposition members of the Australian House of Representatives charged today that rocket secrets were endangered by Communists in scientific agencies, and Herbert V. Evatt, Minister of External Affairs, assured the House the Labor Government would take "every possible precaution" against spying on the British Empire rocket range.

Joseph Abbott of the opposition said that the Australian public service and Government scientific agencies were "red-anted" with Communists.

Demands Probe Of Agencies

Abbott charged that there was a link between the Australian Association of Scientific Workers and that of Canada, where the Government once unearthed an alleged atomic spy ring. He demanded a royal commission to investigate the association and the Commonwealth Council for Scientific and Industrial Research.

"With the Communist party there

Crowds Keep Russian From Greeting Truman

Mexico City, March 7 (AP)—The Soviet Embassy, through Victor Glotov, press attaché, said today that Ambassador Alexander N. Kasputin was unable to greet President Truman Tuesday at a United States Embassy reception because of crowds at the embassy entrance.

Glotov confirmed as essentially correct a published report quoting him as saying: "We are not complaining, but Ambassador Kasputin was greatly surprised that lines were formed in order to greet President Truman instead of applying the established protocol."

The Soviet Ambassador did greet President Truman on two other diplomatic occasions during the United States Executive's three-day visit.

At the United States Embassy it was said that no one regrets more than Ambassador Thurston that people had to wait in line to meet President Truman, but since there were 1,500 persons invited and all were prompt, it was necessarily a slow process checking each invitation for security reasons.

PLEDGES FULL CUBAN CROP

Industry Leader Says No Cane Will Be Left Uncut

HAVANA, March 7 (AP)—Senator Jose Manuel Casanova, leader of the Cuban sugar industry, said today that "the United States need not fear that Cuba will leave any sugar cane uncut this year."

He made the statement in commenting on the testimony of James H. Marshall of the Agriculture Department before the House Banking Committee in Washington.

Senator Casanova said that the Cuban aim was "to give the American people the greatest possible amount of sugar at reasonable prices in line with our production costs."

Towers Gets Post In World Bank

Ottawa, March 7 (A. P.).—Graham Towers, Governor of the Bank of Canada, has been elected executive director for Canada of the International Bank, according to Finance Minister Abbott.

Towers replaces R. B. Bryce, who has resigned from that position.

Barriers To Island Proposal Haven

Lake Success, N.Y., March 7 (AP). The United Nations Security Council tonight neared general agreement on an American proposal to take over the Japanese-mandated islands in the Pacific under a United Nations "strategic area" trusteeship, but put off a final decision when Australia asked for a committee to study the proposal.

Only the Australian resolution and one Russian amendment stood as barriers to passage of the far-reaching proposal which would give the United States rights amounting to virtual annexation of the vast chains of the Marshalls, Carolines and Marianas.

Austin Opposes Suggestion

Paul Hasluck, Australian delegate, said he supported the American plan, but insisted that other countries concerned in the Pacific war not on the Security Council should be consulted. He mentioned specifically New Zealand and India, and asked for a committee including representatives of all countries having "a direct interest in the future of the islands."

Australia and China are the only Pacific area members of the eleven-nation Security Council.

Warren R. Austin, American delegate, who earlier had accepted two of Russia's three amendments, flatly opposed Australia's committee suggestion on the grounds that all the interested countries had been notified far in advance of the United States plans and could have appeared before the Security Council.

Gromyko Speaks Briefly

"We have complied with the law," Austin said. "I think we are all in almost unanimous agreement. It (the Australian suggestion) is a deviation."

After agreeing to two minor changes put forward by Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate, Austin said he could not accept the Russian suggestion that the Security Council, and not the United States as sole administering authority, should be permitted to alter the terms at some future date.

Gromyko spoke briefly, thanked Austin for taking two of his suggestions, and then remarked he would like to see the third point accepted, too. However, he did not press the matter and it was felt generally that agreement could be worked out.

No Direct Objections

No direct objections were raised in the Security Council to the American trusteeship proposal but Britain renewed its original suggestion that action be deferred on legal grounds until the signing of the Japanese peace treaty. Delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan made it clear, however, that he would not oppose the will of the Council.

The 634 islands in the three chains include the wartime bases of Saipan, Eniwetok, Tinian, Truk, Majure and Kwajalein. Under terms of the agreement, the United States would have the right to fortify and garrison the islands, ban foreign aircraft, and completely close the area at will for security reasons.

Delegates will renew their discussion of the problem next Wednesday. Another meeting is scheduled for Monday on international control of atomic energy.

APPEAL TO U.N., BRITAIN TOLD

U.S. Asks Palestine Move Before Agreeing To Procedure

Lake Success, N.Y., March 7 (AP). The United States told Britain emphatically tonight that she would have to bring the Palestine case formally to the United Nations before the Washington Government could agree to any United Nations procedure for handling the explosive mandate issue.

Herschel Johnson, deputy United States delegate, informer Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, that the United States could not act on a proposal for a United Nations commission of inquiry on Palestine until the case has been officially given to the United Nations.

Johnson told Cadogan that the United States Government wanted a "specific statement on the problem."

London Instructions Asked

The British delegation announced immediately that Cadogan was cabling London for instructions.

Faris El Khoury, Syrian delegate to the Security Council, informed Trygve Lie, secretary general, that he was opposed to a commission of inquiry. He supported the view of the United States delegation that Britain should present the case with a definite proposition for the United Nations to act upon.

El Khoury, the chief spokesman here for the Arab states, suggested three possible steps for Britain to take:

1. Declare Palestine independent immediately and notify the United Nations of the move as the British did in regard to Trans-Jordan.

Resign The Mandate

2. Continue the mandate over Palestine and present it to the trusteeship council.

3. Resign the mandate.

British sources said that Britain had intended all along that the Palestine case should be handed to the General Assembly. They added, however, that in taking this course Britain wanted a commission of inquiry to be set up immediately so it could work until the Assembly meets in September. The commission then would report its findings to the Assembly for action.

SETTLING POINT ON U. S. BUDGET CUT REPORTED

Republican Conferees Said to Have Agreed Tentatively on $5,250,000,000.

A HALF-WAY COMPROMISE

Wherry Proposal to Channel Surplus Property Sales Into Debt Payments Studied.

Washington, March 7 (A. P.).—Republican conference committee members were reported today to have agreed tentatively to compromise at $5,250,000,000 the Senate-House differences over how big a cut to promise in President Truman's budget.

Meeting secretly and apart from their Democratic colleagues, the Republican leaders were said to have decided to support a pledge to hold Government spending to $32,250,000,000 for the year beginning next July 1, instead of the $37,500,000,000 President Truman requested.

This would represent a half-way compromise between the $6,000,000,000 cut approved by the House and the $4,500,000,000 slice voted by the Senate.

The agreement among the Republicans, however, apparently was contingent upon their being able to work out some sort of arrangement on two other controversial points.

One of these involves a Senate stipulation that at least $2,600,000,000 or any surplus Government revenues must be applied to the national debt.

House Republicans were said to be objecting adamantly to this on the ground that it might interfere with the proposed slash in individual income taxes.

While some of the Senate Republicans were described as not too enthusiastic about the pledge, they had to consider the 82 to 0 vote in favor of the requirement.

An amendment by Senator Wherry (R.-Neb.) to channel all revenues from surplus war property sales into debt payments was said by some conferees to present fewer difficulties in the way of a compromise.

One of the Republicans interested in the budget slashing compromise said House and Senate party members wanted to reach at least partial agreement before the full conference group of twenty members is called into session.

CUT OF 34 P. C. FOR TREASURY BUDGET VOTED

MAR 1947

House Committee Supports Also 1 P. C. Slash in Post Office Bureau.

UP FOR DEBATE ON MONDAY

Decreased Appropriations Are Called Justified—Mandate From the People Cited.

Washington, March 7 (A. P.).—Budget cuts of approximately 34 per cent for the Treasury Department and about 1 per cent for the Post Office Department were voted today by the House appropriations committee.

In the first departmental supply bill sent to the House floor since Republicans won control of Congress, the committee made these recommendations for the two agencies for the fiscal year starting next July 1:

Treasury Department: $1,671,317,500, a reduction of $882,716,750 from the President's budget estimates and $1,050,962,150 less than the department received for the current fiscal year. The totals are exclusive of $9,186,179,221 in so-called "uncontrollable" Treasury appropriations including interest on the public debt, old-age pension trust funds and the unemployment compensation trust fund.

Post Office Department—$1,530,733,250, a reduction of $14,356,000 from the President's estimates and $7,642,069 less than the department received for the present year.

The committee said that technically the reduction for the Treasury Department was only about 16 per cent, since $1,245,000,000 of the $1,671,317,500 approved is made up of refunds of internal revenue taxes, customs refunds and drawbacks and other items of a non-operational character.

To Be Taken up Monday.

The bill will be taken up by the House next Monday.

The committee said the reductions were "justified on the basis of evidence submitted to the committee by the various bureau officials, and by other matters coming to its attention."

It added:

"On some few appropriations the action may appear drastic, yet it is the committee's view that no reduction has been made which would curtail any vital public service, and such decreases are justified by the insistent demand of the American public for a decided curtailment in the expenditures of the Federal Government, in order that the stability of our Government might not be threatened by a program of fiscal profligacy.

"There has been and is an ever growing demand, and a mandate has been given, that the budget of this country be put in balance and a program of orderly debt retirement instituted. The individual citizen has fully awakened to the fact that he is contributing a sizable portion of his income to the operations of his national Government, and he is now making a just and long delayed demand for an account of its stewardship."

As to Official Papers.

The committee included in its report a recommendation that an "appropriate legislative committee" make a study to more clearly define the law and protect the Government's interest in the matter of official papers, such as those of the Treasury Department.

This recommendation was made after questioning of Treasury Secretary Snyder concerning papers taken from the Treasury Department by former Secretary Henry Morgenthau, who has agreed to return the papers.

The committee said that questions had been raised as to what constitutes official papers and "how far discretion can properly be reposed in Government officials when separating themselves from Government employment, to retain in their personal possession papers colored with a public interest."

The committee acted after two months of hearings during which:

1. Secretary Snyder urged a general reduction of public spending and application of all surpluses to retirement of the public debt.

2. Internal Revenue Bureau officials disclosed that only 3 per cent of all tax returns are audited and examined for discrepancies.

3. Treasury heads expressed fear that there is "a liklihood of an increase in bootlegging activities."

4. The secret service stated that counterfeiting and check and bond forgeries are expanding and bonus bills from China are worrying the department.

Other Recommended Cuts.

Among major recommended cuts were:

$800,000,000 in the amount recommended for internal revenue tax refunds for next year. The committee explained there probably will be "several million less taxpayers filing as a result of prospective changes in the tax laws."

$102,900 from the fund for payment of salaries of White House police. The committee said, however, it does not intend to reduce "in any way" the protection given the President.

$35,904,400 from the Coast Guard funds. The committee said that agency "is over-staffed with high-ranking officers."

Elsewhere in its report the committee called for "greater diligence" in investigating "un-American activities" in the Treasury Department. It also asked prompt efforts to clean up $711,000,000 in lend-lease transactions which have not been billed to foreign governments because of the shortage of personnel.

Continuing Wartime Taxes Approved

Washington, March 7 (A. P.).—Senate approval sent to the White House today a bill continuing indefinitely the wartime taxes on such items as liquor, furs, jewelry and cosmetics. President Truman has asked for the legislation.

Senate approval was by voice vote.

HEARING DISCUSSES TRUMAN ON TARIFF

MAR 1947

Washington, March 7 (A. P.).—A House Agricultural Committee hearing on wool price support legislation became today an open forum on President Truman's tariff recommendations. These opinions were expressed by members of the committee and witnesses:

Representative Pace (D. Ga.).—A further reduction in tariffs might "drive us to a higher support program."

Representative Hope (R.-Kan.), chairman—A proposal for import fees, in view of the President's speech at Waco, Tex., would seem to be more acceptable than a tariff increase as suggested by the National Wool Growers Association.

Representative Clevenger (R.-Ohio)—The speech was "an echo of the fallacious (trade agreement) document of Mr. Hull" (former Secretary of State).

Clinton M. Hester, counsel for the National Wool Trade Association, in reply to a question by Representative Worley (D.-Tex.)—The wool trade—buyers and manufacturers—is in complete disagreement with the President's tariff program.

The Presidentt, in an address at Baylor University yesterday urged continuation of the Reciprocal Trade act and said: "All that is contemplated is the reduction of tariffs, the removal of discriminations, and the achievement not of free trade but of freer trade."

U. S. BIDS TITO YIELD CLAIM TO LINER REX

Protests With Britain Against Yugoslav Prize Court Award of Nine Italian Ships

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 7—The United States and Britain have asked Yugoslavia to surrender claims to nine war-wrecked Italian vessels, including the transatlantic liner Rex.

State Department officials disclosed today that the request was made in notes delivered Feb. 18 in Belgrade by the United States and British Ambassadors. The action was taken at the request of the original Italian owners, made to Allied Military Government authorities in Italy.

Yugoslav prize courts upheld Yugoslav claims to the vessels, but the United States and British Governments contended that this action was invalid. They asserted that it violated terms of the armistice with Italy.

The notes said that the armistice provided that all Italian shipping should be turned over to the Supreme Allied Commander for the Mediterranean and that, therefore, none of it was subject to seizure or claim by an Allied Government.

Only nine ships were named in the notes because only the owners of these had asked action by the Allied Military Government. Officials here believe that many others figure in similar disputes. Rome dispatches said fifty-five Italian ships had been claimed by the Yugoslavs.

All nine ships mentioned were beached or sunk as a result of Allied wartime air action.

LILIENTHAL VOTE IS POSTPONED UNTIL MONDAY

WASHINGTON, March 7—(AP) The Senate Atomic Energy Committee got all set for a vote on confirmation of David E. Lilienthal today—then put it off until Monday.

Some members were mystified by the maneuver. All nine were present for the vote which had been predicted last night by Chairman Hickenlooper (R-Iowa). One, Senator Connally (D-Tex), had hitchhiked a ride from Waco, Tex., in President Truman's plane to get here.

Want to "Clarify Issues"

When the committee ended its two and a half hour closed session, Hickenlooper told reporters that "some members"—he did not say who—still wanted to "clarify some issues in their minds."

"The committee will vote Monday at 10 a.m.," Hickenlooper said. "I think there is a full agreement that we come to a vote Monday."

Other informants said Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) wanted additional information before voting on Lilienthal and the other atomic energy commission nominees. Bricker left by plane for Ohio almost immediately after the meeting.

Dr. Vannevar Bush, director of the Office of Scientific Research and Development, was called in for 45 minutes discussion at Hickenlooper's request. Reports which seeped out of the meeting said he added nothing new to what he previously had said. He advocates prompt confirmation of all the nominees.

Hickenlooper said there probably would be no discussion at all Monday—just the balloting. The hearings began Jan. 27.

Langer Criticizes Douglas as Envoy

Fears He May Be Pro-British McFarland Defends Him

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP).—Senator William Langer, Republican, of North Dakota, criticised the Senate today for confirming the nomination of Lewis W. Douglas as Ambassador to the Court of St. James's, but Senator Ernest W. McFarland, Democrat, of Arizona, strongly up held the appointee.

Noting that he was absent last week when the Senate acted, Senator Langer told his colleagues that some people are wondering about Mr. Douglas's Canadian connections. He said Mr. Douglas's father was a Canadian citizen and British subject.

"There are some in this country who wonder if Douglas is more Canadian than American or whether he will be another Walter H. Page, more British than American, Senator Langer declared.

Senator McFarland replied immediately that Mr. Douglas has a long record of distinguished service to the United States, including his tenure as Director of the Budget after he was a member of the House.

"Regardless of what you think of his views, you cannot challenge Lewis Douglas as a loyal American citizen," the Arizona Senator declared.

PRIEST ATTACKS ARMY ON PREGNANCY RULING

BALTIMORE, March 7 (AP)—The Rev. Edgar Schmiedeler, director of the National Catholic Welfare Conference's bureau on family life, says the Army is "brutally trampling upon a most fundamental human right" in ordering home the pregnant wives of American occupation troops in Germany.

The "Catholic Review," official organ of the archdioceses of Baltimore and Washington, published his statement in today's issue under the front-page heading: "Army brass reaches limit of arrogance."

Father Schmiedeler said that the term "unauthorized pregnancies" used in connection with the regulations "reminds vividly of the shameful suggestions for 'rationing of babies' in the conquered nations."

"News stories are coming out of Germany saying the United States military authorities have issued orders which in effect would forbid certain American women, legitimately married, to have children," he stated, then added:

"If that is true, the military authorities are simply flouting the natural law; they are most brutally trampling upon a most fundamental human right of American citizens, and of a human being—the right to marry and beget children.

"The family is an institution in its own right, and the state exists to uphold and protect its rights, not to trample on them. And of all places for such an abuse—in former Nazi Germany, which horrified the whole world by precisely such abuses of human rights!"

The War Department issued an explanation that a shortage of houses in occupied areas made it necessary to bring home dependent wives who became pregnant.

Pauley Resigns Reparations Posts

Washington, March 7 (A. P.).—The White House announced today the resignation of Edwin W. Pauley as President Truman's Reparations representative and as United States member of the Allied Reparations Commission.

Pauley, a California oil operator and former treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, had held the posts since April 27, 1945.

Mr. Truman told Pauley in a letter he was accepting the resignation only because of Pauley's offer to act as advisor to Secretary of State Marshall on reparation matters whenever his advice is needed. Pauley submitted his resignation February 14.

Korea Heaters Burn Up, Or Buildings Burn Down

Washington, March 7 (AP)—The War Department says it's so cold in Korea that efforts to heat GI quarters to 70 degrees "result in either the heating plant burning up or the building burning down."

American troops there "are extremely fortunate if their buildings can be heated to 50 degrees to 60 degrees," the department today advised Representative Ludlow (D., Ind.) in a letter.

Ludlow's office said "numerous protests" have been received from parents of boys serving in Korea.

Despite its dismal picture of Korean winters, the department said the incidence of disease during the entire occupation "has been stable at about two per cent," or less than in the United States.

DEMAND INQUIRY ON MARINE'S FATE

1947

Washington, March 7 (A. P.).—Senators Wiley (R.-Wis.) and Bridges (R.-N. H.) pressed Secretaryq of State Marshall today to investigate the disappearance of Marine Col. Andrew Wylie in Poland in January, 1946.

Wiley in a letter to the Secretary said he understood that Wylie, a naval attache at the Warsaw embassy, had fallen from a bridge during a tour of which he was conducted by a Polish Foreign Office chauffeur.

"I understand the Colonel had very valuabel information regarding Russia, which he had reported previously to our Government," Wiley said.

Bridges, who told a reporter that he, too, was writing Marshall on the matter said he "assumed" that Wylie is dead, in view of his disappearance more than a year ago. He said he felt that a full investifgation of the matter sohuld be made by the

30.24-8337

Stte Department.

The Navy said its records showed Wylie was drowned accidentally on December 26, 1945, but his body never was recovered. According to the Navy, Wylie was motoring through Poland and came to a road bolck.

Aids of Wiley said it was understood that the missing Colonel was a stepson of the late Poet, Elanor Wylie. They did not know his residence in the United States.

Hawkes Predicts Rent Rise

MAR 1947

Flat Increase of 15 P. C. Is Seen by Jersey Senator—April Decision Likely.

Washington, March 7 (A. P.).—Senator Hawkes (R.-N. J.) predicted today that Congress will approve a "flat increase" in rent ceilings—probably 15 per cent—despite reports that the Senate Banking Committee has turned thumbs down on any across-the-board boost.

"When this finally reaches us for action I think there will be a flat increase of 15 per cent over rent ceilings of September 1, 1946," Hawkes told a reporter.

The New Jersey lawmaker thus echoed a forecast voiced earlier this week by Senator Buck (R.-Del.), chairman of the banking sub-committee which itself voted for a 10 per cent rise. Buck said that he believed the general sentiment outside the committee was in favor of a larger increase.

In any event, all parties to the argument agreed that no final decision is likely this month because legislation cannot start through Congress—unless leaders change their plans—before some time in April.

Tobey Wants Secrecy.

Meanwhile Chairman Tobey (R.-N. H.) tried to keep a mantle of secrecy over what the Banking Committee did yesterday when it sent the 10 per cent bill back to Buck's sub-committee. That measure, originally approved by a 3 to 2 party-line vote, would remove administration of rent control from the OPA and place it in the Federal courts. It also would remove controls over all new housing. The 10 per cent increase would be over ceilings in effect last December 31.

Other banking committee men who said that Tobey had "pretty much sealed our lips," conceded that the general increase was opposed by a majority of the full committee, although no formal vote was taken. Most members were reported in favor of a substitute bill similar to one offered by Senator Sparkman (D.-Ala.)

That measure would extend rent controls for a full year beyond June 30, set up local rental advisory committees to recommend increases or decontrols, allow States to supplant Federal controls, and exempt transient hotel accommodations and family units renting for $225 or more monthly.

'DEATH SENTENCE' OF OPA ACCEPTED

June 30 Limit Is Approved By Senate-House Group

Washington, March 7 (AP)—The Senate's June 30 "death sentence" for OPA was accepted today by a Senate-House committee, which also lopped $3,000,000 off funds the Senate approved for the agency's operations until that date.

OPA officials had declared they could not stay in business effectively with as little money as the Senate voted. Senator Bridges (R. N.H.) commented to reporters on the Senate-House committee's action:

"This means that OPA is out on June 30 or even sooner unless they drastically cut down."

The House had denied OPA any funds and directed it to return $9,000,000 given it previously by Congress.

Express Directive Given

The Senate voted to restore the $9,000,000 and add $7,991,815 of new money with an express directive to end all functions June 30 of OPA, the Civilian Production Administration, the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, and the Office of Temporary Controls.

Under the compromise agreement today, the June 30 death sentence was retained, only $7,000,000 of former funds restored, and only $7,051,752 of new funds allowed.

Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, chief of OTC, which now includes OPA, had said he could operate only until April 30 under the Senate allowances because he needed $12,779,283 just to close up the agencies and pay off employes.

Urges Extension Till 1948

James H. Marshall, the Agriculture Department's No. 1 sugar man, told the House Banking Committee that rationing and price control of sugar probably could be dropped by the end of the year, but urged a legal extension until March 31, 1948," "for safety."

The committee is debating a proposal to extend rationing six months, under the Agriculture Department instead of OPA, with the provision that the Secretary of Agriculture could recommend restoration of control if that later proved necessary.

Favors Price Control

Marshall told the committee that retail prices would "double or perhaps treble" if ceilings were dropped now. He said that price control is essential to keep the ration system functioning until the country's estimated 1947 shortage of 1,000,000 tons is broken.

A similar story was given a Senate Judiciary subcommittee by N. E. Dodd, Under Secretary of Agriculture. Extension for another year is necessary, he said, to "avoid the price experience that followed the first World War."

Longer Control On Sugar Asked

Washington, March 7 (AP)—The Agriculture Department forecast today that sugar rationing could be dropped by the end of this year or earlier, but asked Congress for extension of both price control and consumer rationing beyond March 31.

James H. Marshall, chief of the Agricultural Department's sugar branch, told the House Banking Committee, considering extension legislation, that the removal of price controls now would cause retail prices to "double or perhaps treble."

Abandonment of rationing now, Marshall testified, would divert sugar and syrups into industrial uses.

Less For Consumers

"Consumers would get less and some housewives none at all," he predicted.

Questioned by Chairman Wolcott (R., Mich.) on decontrol plans, Marshall said it was hoped to reopen sugar exchanges this summer for futures trading on next year's crop. The Government then could drop its own sugar-purchase programs in Cuba and elsewhere, he said.

"We hope we can relax the rationing regulations, and rely on inventory controls—or some other device less than rationing to the individual consumer," he said.

Sugar For Preserving

Senators considering extension of present sugar rationing and price controls suggested increased sugar allotments for preserving fruits, condensed milk and other foods.

Senators Maybank (D., S.C.) and Sparkman (D., Ala.) said Secretary of Agriculture Anderson had been asked to talk this over with a Senate Banking subcommittee later today.

"We want to prevent spoilage of foods, especially fruits," Sparkman said.

PLAN TO SHARE PAPER OFFERED

Capehart Would Have Big Users Aid Small Publishers

Washington, March 7 (AP)—Big urers of newsprint would share their supplies with paper-short smaller publishers under a proposal advanced today by Senator Capehart (R., Ind.), chairman of a Senate Small Business subcommittee.

The subcommittee has been studying the plight of publishers who can't get enough paper and decided, Capehart said, "to seek the co-operation of the larger users and producers of newsprint in a concerted sharing effort."

A meeting was set for March 13, at which the subcommittee will talk the idea over with representatives of newsprint producers, publishing firms, paper associations and leading newspapers.

Tom C. Clark, Attorney General; J. A. Krug, Secretary of the Interior; W. Averell Harriman, Secretary of Commerce, and Clinton P. Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture, have been invited to attend.

Some Newsprint Diverted

Capehart said the committee has found that "appreciable quantities" of newsprint have been diverted from usual channels and sold at prices that smaller publishers cannot pay.

In another approach, Capehart proposed that Russia repay some of her $11,000,000,000 lend-lease aid by shipping newsprint.

But he predicted that this idea might be "too simple for international affairs—it probably wouldn't have enough complications and confusion" to appeal to diplomats.

Capehart's remarks closely paralleled a recent suggestion by Senator Knowland (R., Cal.) urging the United States to recapture some of its billions in war loans by "Yankee trader" tactics in a swap for raw materials.

Alaska As Source Stressed

Continued testimony before Capehart's Senate Small Business subcommittee again emphasized the potentialities of Alaska as a source for newsprint.

Oscar L. Chapman, Under Secretary of the Interior, sent word to the Senate group that establishment of a newsprint industry in Alaska "appears inevitable."

But he threw cold water on any hopes that Alaskan newsprint might ease the current shortage, declaring that it would take from two to four years after start of construction to produce Alaskan supplies on a large scale.

The prospect of temporarily relief brightened with word from Canadian newsprint industry officials in Montreal. They said the boxcar situation improved in the last few days as emergency crews battled to clear snowbound railroad tracks. Some 1,500 vitally needed boxcars, tied up for more than 48 hours by snowstorms, were being released to move pulpwood for newsprint and other commodities.

Would Need Electric Power

Chapman estimated that Alaska could supply from 20 to 25 per cent of this country's newsprint requirements, but said the paper mills would need large amounts of electric power, which is not available at present.

"The Interior Department is now reviewing all existing data on the hydroelectric resources of southeastern Alaska," he said, "with the view of working out the most practical and economic means of supplying the power required."

If the situation warrants, he said, he will seek authority for Federal development of Alaska's hydroelectric resources.

Charles A. Mitten, publisher of the Mesa (Ariz.) Journal-Tribune, told the committee in a letter that elimination of the minimum wage and maximum hours law for all weekly and daily newspapers with up to 10,000 to 15,000 circulation would be "one of the greatest helps Congress could offer" to small publishing concerns.

Cannot Operate On Time And Half

Asserting that the law "must be eliminated from the small newspaper field, if the industry is to survive," Mitten declared that "small papers cannot operate on time-and-one-half (wages) at their present income from circulation and advertising."

He said that the law causes workers to leave small papers for larger ones where they can get the overtime pay.

Senator Kem (R., Mo.) declared that a number of Missouri newspapers are in a "desperate situation" because of the newsprint shortage.

Kem said one newspaper, the Columbia Missourian, student publication at the University of Missouri, would be forced to suspend soon unless it receives more newsprint.

Some Improvement In Boxcar Situation

Montreal, March 7 (AP)—A newsprint industry source said here today the boxcar situation had improved somewhat because of the mild weather of the past few days and the "fine work" of the railways in clearing tracks of snow.

The Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways reported yesterday that maintenance men across Canada were slowly winning the battle over the recent snowfall as 1,500 vitally needed boxcars, tied up for more than 48 hours, were being released to move grain, pulpwood and other important commodities.

Many of these cars are believed to be on their way to pulp and paper mills, where newsprint is being stored everywhere possible because of the lack of sufficient boxcars.

U. S. CHAMBER ASKS BUSINESS CENSUS

Washington, March 7 (A. P.).—The United States Chamber of Commerce urged Congress today to order a census of business, the first since 1939.

"Without the basic facts," a chamber statement said, "thousands upon thousands of business men will find it more and more difficult to stay in the competitive swim. They are particularly needed by the many young men who today want to enter business."

The chamber said business men want to know:

"Where the markets are, what the consumer is buying, where the new plants and wholesale and retail establishments are, what the labor supply is, where raw materials are to be obtained, the lines where the best investments in new plants and machinery could be made, what the consumer needs, and a host of other business and economic facts."

In other words, the statement added, "we want statistics, not guesstistics."

16 BILLION EXPORTS, 9 BILLION IMPORTS SET

MAR 1947

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—The United States will furnish about $16,200,000,000 in goods and services to other nations this year, an increase of $900,000,000 over last year, the Commerce Department estimated today.

Other countries, in turn, will provide about $9,000,000,000 in goods and services to this country, the department estimated.

The total outflow from this country was itemized as:

Exports, $12,000,000,000; interest and dividend payments on American loans and investments made abroad, plus payments for transportation and other services, $3,200,000,000; civilian supplies furnished occupied countries, $500,000,000, and surplus property sales, $500,000,000.

Expectable receipts from foreign countries will be $6,700,000,000 in goods and $2,300,000,000 in services, including tourists, and shipping expenditures.

The department said other countries would finance the $7,200,000,000 trade balance owing to this country as follows:

Through relief contributions, war damage payments to the Philippines and other war claims, $2,400,000,000; loans, $3,400,000,000, and sale of assets, including gold, $1,400,000,000.

House Committee Votes To Extend Rubber Powers

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP).—A House armed services subcommittee voted, 7 to 5, today for continuing the government's authority to allocate rubber and to produce synthetic rubber. The full committee will consider the bill next Tuesday.

The government's current authority expires March 31. The legislation proposes a one-year extension unless a permanent rubber program is developed in the mean time. The committe voted to take from the government its exclusive authority to purchase crude rubber abroad for domestic allocation.

Urge Foreign Labor Program

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP).—Continuation of the Agriculture Department's foreign labor importing program through 1947 was advocated today by department officials. They asked the Senate Agriculture Committee to approve legislation already passed by the House to make the expiration date Dec. 31, instead of June 30.

CALLS GOVERNMENT TO TRAIN SCIENTISTS

Bush Says Leadership in Field Depends on Federal Aid—Conant Also Urges It

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—Dr. Vannevar Bush told a Congress committee today that the Government must assume responsibility for building up a reservoir of young scientists "to maintain our proper place as the world leader in science."

"It is utterly impossible to do this job by private donations," he said. "The job has become one of Government responsibility."

Dr. Bush, scientific head of the wartime atomic bomb development project, gave his views to the House Commerce Committee in connection with proposals for a Government-financed national science foundation. He estimated that the foundation could operate on $8,000,000 to $17,000,000 for the first year.

John F. Victory, executive secretary of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, sharply criticized what he termed the Government's "failure" to recognize the need of keeping young scientists in the laboratories during the war rather than drafting them. Russia, he said, did not make that mistake.

"America sacrificed its future to its immediate needs by halting the processes of advanced education, thus creating a lack of scientific manpower from which it cannot recover for years," he added. "It may be of vital importance to the nation that the Congress take forceful action to guard against repetition of such mistakes in the future."

Budget Bureau in Dispute

Meanwhile, the budget bureau was reported to have intervened in a current controversy on whether the proposed foundation should have a single administrator or a forty-eight-member independent board. Mr. Victory said he had been informed by the bureau that his support for the broad-based board was "not in accord" with President Truman's program.

President James B. Conant of Harvard University said that this country needed trained scientists just as much as the Army and Navy needs officers if it is to remain strong in the atomic age.

Dr. Conant advocated a $14,000,000 expenditure to provide scholarships for 12,000 students under a four-year program. He asserted that much talent was lost because boys and girls could not afford advanced education.

Factor in Use of Atomic Energy

Carroll Wilson, who has been nominated general manager of the Atomic Energy Commission, told the committee that the extent to which this country could utilize atomic energy depended directly upon the number of scientific minds that could be brought to bear upon the problems.

Under-Secretary of Commerce William C. Foster testified that training should be provided in social sciences as well as natural sciences. Developments in the natural sciences, he said, "are far in advance of mankind's ability to control the physical forces which they have unleashed, such as atomic energy."

Robert M. Yerkes, Professor Emeritus of Psychobiology at Yale, also urged provision within the foundation for support of the social sciences.

ROCKET TEST WITH NAZI V-2 HELD SUCCESS

MAR 1947

New Cosmic Ray Data Seen After Instruments Streak 96 Miles Up

White Sands, N.M., March 7 (AP). Further "outstanding" contributions to scientific information on cosmic rays and other high-level phenomena were predicted officially today from instruments lofted 96 miles above the earth in a German V-2 rocket.

Lieut. Col. Harold R. Turner, commanding officer at the White Sands proving ground, labeled the experiment "successful in every way," although the altitude mark fell 18 miles short of the best previous effort.

Found 36 Miles Away

Salvage crewmen recovered most instruments in good condition 36 miles north of the launching site. There was a perfect recording of information transmitted from the rocket in flight, Turner said. He reported two cameras still were being sought, and said they likely would be found tomorrow.

Turner also announced the belated finding of one of two missing warheads off V-2's fired earlier. He said the warhead, fired in January, and its cargo of instruments were located by a rancher two days ago at considerable distance west of the launching site.

5,200 Feet A Second

Today's launching, delayed 24 hours by a three-inch snowfall, was the twenty-first to be made here.

Turner said the rocket reached a maximum velocity of nearly 5,200 feet a second in the 65 seconds required to consume the fuel, and that the warhead was blasted free of the rocket's main body by remote control after 385 seconds.

Turner said the next rocket launching would be on April 1.

The Latest Thing In Guided Missiles

Washington, March 7 (AP)—The National Bureau of Standards disclosed tonight that work is in progress on an improved guided missile known as the Kingfisher, but gave no details.

The Kingfisher is an improvement over the Bat, the first fully automatic guided missile used in combat. The Bat transmits radar signals to the target and homes on the echoes which it receives.

The bureau also reported that two other guided missiles, the Pelican and Robin, were developed during the war, but abandoned after tests because the Bat proved more effective.

The Pelican carried only a radar receiver, instead of both a transmitter and receiver like the Bat. It homed on echoes from signals transmitted to the target by the mother plane.

The Robin had a television transmitter in the nose and was guided by an operator in the mother plane on the basis of information seen on a receiving scope.

Truman Sets Monday, April 7, As Army Day

Washington, March 7 (AP)—President Truman today proclaimed Monday, April 7, as Army Day and the period of April 6-12 as Army Week.

The proclamation, inviting state governors to issue similar proclamations to honor the Army, reminded American citizens that the Army can discharge its duties here and abroad "only with the firm support of our people."

"I therefore urge my fellow countrymen," he said, "to be mindful of the Army's needs, to the end that our soldiers may not lack the means to perform effectively their continuing tasks and that the hardships of military service in foreign lands may be alleviated in every way possible.

"There is no means by which we can better honor our heroic dead than by our support of their living comrades who carry on the mission they so nobly advanced."

COLLEGE VETS ASK MORE SUBSISTENCE

Washington, March 7 (A. P.).—Student veterans in Illinois, Michigan, Pennsylvania and New York colleges asked a House veterans' sub-committee today to increase their subsistence allowances. They testified that the present allowances of $65 a month for single students and $90 a month for married students are inadequate because of rising living costs and a shortage of part-time jobs.

They urged approval of a bill of Representative Rogers (R.-Mass.), chairman of the Veterans Committee, to increase the allowances to $100 a month for single students and $125 a month for married students. An additional $10 monthly would be allowed for each child.

Dale Milnes of the University of Chicago, testified that average monthly expenses of an unmarried veteran living away from home are $115. Married student veterans, he said, have monthly expenses averaging $165.

Milnes said the figures were based on a survey by students in the University of Chicago School of Business. He said that the cost of living has increased 19.4 per cent since the survey was made.

New York was represented by ten veterans from Columbia, New York University, City College, Long Island University, Sampson College, Brooklyn College and the New York School of Social Work.

Ex-GI and Former Pugilist Keeps Promise Made to Priest in War

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 7 (AP)—Barney Ross, former world lightweight and welterweight champion, is lend a hand here in a fight to spread religion.

He is assisting the Rev. Frederic Gehring to raise money for a Mission in China—a promise made to the priest on Guadalcanal, when as a marine he was fighting the Japanese.

In those days of 1942, Mr. Ross told Father Gehring that "if we get out of this" he would help the priest realize his ambition of establishing the Chinese mission.

Father Gehring was on the island as spiritual advisor. He played the violin and Ross a pipe organ and they became close friends.

SECOND LEAD MARSHALL

BY JOSEPH E.DYNAN

PARIS,MARCH 7-(AP)-SECRETARY OF STATE MARSHALL TODAY PLACED FLOWERS ON THE TOMB OF FRANCE'S UNKNOWN SOLDIER UNDER THE ARC DE TRIOMPHE AND THEN DEPARTED FOR BERLIN, EN ROUTE TO THE MOSCOW MEETING OF THE COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS.

THE SECRETARY LEFT BY PLANE AT 2:07 P.M. (8:07 A.M., EASTERN STANDARD TIME). THE TAKE-OFF WAS DELAYED A HALF HOUR WHILE ARMY AIR TRANSPORT COMMAND OFFICIALS CHECKED WEATHER REPORTS.

THE FORMER UNITED STATES CHIEF OF STAFF TOLD HENRI BONNET, FRENCH AMBASSADOR TO THE U.S., THAT HE FIRST VISITED THE SOLDIER'S TOMB AS AIDE TO GEN. JOHN J. PERSHING IN THE FIRST WORLD WAR.

"I HAVE ALWAYS WANTED TO COME BACK AND PAY THIS TRIBUTE MYSELF," MARSHALL SAID.

BAREHEADED AND WEARING CIVILIAN CLOTHES, HE LAID A BIG CLUSTER OF LILACS ON THE SEPULCHRE WHILE THE BUGLE CORPS OF THE GARDE REPUBLICAINE SOUNDED "AUX MORTS" ("TO THE DEAD"), THE FRENCH EQUIVALENT OF "TAPS."

PARISIANS CROWDED AGAINST POLICE BARRIERS ON STREETS LEADING TO THE BROAD PLAZA TO GAIN A GLIMPSE OF THE U.S. SECRETARY.

WITH MARSHALL, BESIDES BONNET, WERE U.S. AMBASSADOR JEFFERSON CAFFERY; GEN. ALPHONSE PIERRE JUIN, FRENCH CHIEF OF STAFF FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE; FRANCOIS BILLOUX, NATIONAL DEFENSE MINISTER; PIERRE-HENRI TEITGEN (CORRECT), ACTING FOREIGN MINISTER; GEN. HENRI GIRAUD, AND LT. GEN. JEAN DE LATTRE DE TASSIGNY, ARMY INSPECTOR GENERAL, WHO COMMANDED FRENCH TROOPS UNDER THE AMERICAN SIXTH ARMY CORPS IN THE 1944 CAMPAIGN FOR FRANCE.

THE SECRETARY OF STATE YESTERDAY BRIEFED HIMSELF ON FRENCH VIEWS IN A DAY OF WHIRLWIND CONSULTATIONS.

MAR 1947

MARSHALL'S NEXT SCHEDULED STOP WAS BERLIN, WHERE THE BIG FOUR ALLIED CONTROL COUNCIL SITS TO GOVERN BEATEN GERMANY.

THERE HE WILL GET A FIRST-HAND ACCOUNT FROM OCCUPATION AUTHORITIES OF CONDITIONS IN THAT COUNTRY--FURTHER PREPARATION FOR HIS PART AS UNITED STATES SPOKESMAN IN DRAFTING GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN TREATIES AT THE MOSCOW FOUR-POWER FOREIGN MINISTERS' MEETING.

FOREIGN MINISTER GEORGES BIDAULT OF FRANCE, FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN OF BRITAIN AND OTHERS IN THE U.S. DELEGATION ALSO WERE MOSCOW BOUND.

BEVIN'S SPECIAL TRAIN LEFT WARSAW AND A U.S. PLANE BEARING REPUBLICAN FOREIGN AFFAIRS EXPERT JOHN FOSTER DULLES REACHED BERLIN YESTERDAY ABOUT THE TIME MARSHALL LANDED AT ORLY FIELD HERE.

THE RECENTLY APPOINTED U.S. SECRETARY OF STATE TALKED WITH U.S. AMBASSADOR JEFFERSON CAFFERY, FRENCH PREMIER PAUL RAMADIER, PRESIDENT VINCENT AURIOL AND ACTING FOREIGN MINISTER PAUL HENRI TETGEN.

HE SPENT 40 MINUTES WITH RAMADIER. LAST NIGHT AURIOL AND KEY CABINET MINISTERS GAVE A DINNER FOR HIM AT THE PRESIDENTIAL RESIDENCE.

MARSHALL, A LEADER OF THE ALLIED EFFORT TO DEFEAT HITLER AS U.S. WARTIME CHIEF OF STAFF, WAS SHOWN EMBASSY DOCUMENTS AND GIVEN OTHER INFORMATION BEARING ON THE FRENCH VIEWPOINT ON WHAT TO DO WITH GERMANY.

~~THE FRENCH PROPOSALS INCLUDED A FOUR-POWER TREATY AGAINST GERMAN~~ AGGRESSION--SUCH AS SUGGESTED BY JAMES F. BYRNES WHEN HE WAS U.S. SECRETARY OF STATE; INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC CONTROL OF THE INDUSTRIAL RUHR, AND A FRENCH ECONOMIC TIEUP WITH THE COAL-RICH SAAR.

TOP ASSISTANTS WITH MARSHALL ARE CHARLES E. BOHLEN, BENJAMIN V. COHEN AND MARSHALL CARTER. THE GROUP LEFT WASHINGTON WEDNESDAY AND CAME TO EUROPE BY WAY OF BERMUDA AND THE AZORES.

A DISPATCH FROM ASSOCIATED PRESS CORRESPONDENT WES GALLAGHER,

EN ROUTE TO MOSCOW, ON BEVIN'S TRAIN, QUOTED AN OFFICIAL BRITISH SPOKESMAN AS SAYING IT WAS "VERY IMPORTANT" THAT THE BIG FOUR AGREE EITHER UPON A 40-YEAR TREATY AGAINST GERMAN MILITARISM SUCH AS BYRNES PROPOSED OR UPON SOME EXTENSION TO OTHER POWERS OF THE 20-YEAR ALLIANCE FRANCE AND BRITAIN SIGNED AT DUNKERQUE TUESDAY.

BRITISH INFORMANTS IN BEVIN'S PARTY WERE SAID TO BE PESSIMISTIC ABOUT THE CHANCES THAT A TREATY WITH GERMANY WOULD BE COMPLETED AT MOSCOW. THEY SAID THE FIRST THREE WEEKS OR SO SHOULD TELL WHETHER THE MINISTERS COULD FINISH A TREATY OR WHETHER THEY WOULD WIND UP AGREEING ONLY ON A FEW "WORKING PRINCIPLES" AND HAND THE JOB BACK TO DEPUTIES, WHO DID PRELIMINARY WORK EARLY THIS YEAR IN LONDON. SEVERAL SAID THEY EXPECTED THE GERMAN TREATYMAKING TO TAKE TWO OR THREE YEARS.

(BEFORE LEAVING WASHINGTON, MARSHALL TOLD REPORTERS IT SEEMED "EXTREMELY DOUBTFUL WHETHER AN ACTUAL TREATY FOR GERMANY WILL BE COMPLETED FOR CONSIDERATION" AT THE CONFERENCE.)

SOME OF THE BRITISH EXPRESSED BELIEF A TREATY WITH AUSTRIA COULD BE WORKED UP IF THE RUSSIANS WERE WILLING TO DISCUSS THIS -- THE RUSSIANS SO FAR HAVE HELD THAT THE GERMAN PACT MUST COME FIRST.

BRITAIN, DELEGATES SAID, IS IN SUCH SEVERE STRAITS THAT SHE CANNOT AFFORD TO MAKE ANY ECONOMIC CONCESSIONS. SO, THEY DECLARED, SHE WILL INSIST THAT GERMANY BE MADE SELF SUPPORTING BEFORE ANY REPARATIONS PAYMENTS ARE EXACTED.

BY RICHARD O'REGAN

FRANKFURT, MARCH 7-(AP)-THE AVERAGE GERMAN IN FRANKFURT IS DOING LITTLE TALKING THESE DAYS ABOUT THE APPROACHING MOSCOW PEACE CONFERENCE, DESPITE ITS POSSIBLE IMPORTANCE TO HIS OWN FUTURE.

INSTEAD, MOST GERMANS APPEARED TO BE SITTING BY AND WAITING FOR THE RESULTS WITH A SORT OF DESPERATE FEELING THAT THEY CAN DO NOTHING AND ARE MERE PAWNS "BETWEEN THE EAST AND WEST."

YOU COULD GO INTO A BAR OR A CAFE, OR INTO THE AVERAGE GERMAN'S PRIVATE HOME AND NEVER HEAR THE PEACE CONFERENCE DISCUSSED ONCE IN AN AFTERNOON, UNLESS YOU BROUGHT UP THE TOPIC.

IT IS NOT THAT THE GERMAN DOESN'T CARE WHAT HAPPENS AT MOSCOW. HE IS WELL AWARE THE CONFERENCE IS ABOUT TO TAKE PLACE AND THINKS IT IS "ABOUT TIME, TOO." BUT HE FEELS THAT DISCUSSION IS USELESS AND SO THE LACK OF FOOD, HEAT AND HOUSING DOMINATE HIS CONVERSATION.

WAITING FOR THE RESULTS, THERE IS ONLY ONE OUTCOME HE DARES THINK ABOUT -- UNIFICATION OF THE FOUR OCCUPATION ZONES AND A STRONG CENTRAL GOVERNMENT.

STILL STRONGLY NATIONALISTIC, HE REFUSES TO ACCEPT THE IDEA THAT GERMANY'S EASTERN FRONTIER MAY WELL BE ON THE ODER-NEISSE LINE, THAT THE SAAR MAY GO TO FRANCE OR THE RUHR BE INTERNAIONALIZED. AS FOR A GERMANY WITHOUT A CENTRAL GOVERNMENT AND WITHOUT TERRITORY THAT IS "HISTORICALLY GERMAN," THE AVERAGE GERMAN'S ATTITUDE WAS SUMMED UP THUS BY AN OFFICE MANAGER:

"WE'RE FINISHED. WE'RE A DEAD NATION OF SLAVES. AND THERE IS NOTHING. SO WE DON'T TALK. WE CAN ONLY WAIT AND HOPE."

PINNED DOWN ON A DEFINITE SET OF QUESTIONS CONCERNING THEIR FEELINGS THE GERMANS ANSWER READILY ENOUGH. A SURVEY SHOWED THAT MANY PIN THEIR HOPES FOR THE PEACE CONFERENCE ON A NEGATIVE FEELING THAT THE ALLIED FOREIGN MINISTERS MUST GIVE GERMANY A "FAIR DEAL" OR THERE WILL BE ANOTHER WAR. A "FAIR DEAL" TO MANY GERMANS MEANS ALMOST NO CHANGE IN GERMANY'S PRE-HITLER FRONTIERS.

GERMANY ALWAYS WAS SOMEHOW LINKED UP BY THESE PERSONS WITH THE "NEW WAR" THEY BELIEVE WILL COME IF HER BOUNDARIES ARE ALTERED. SOME GERMANS INDICATED THEY BELIEVED GERMANY -- GENERATIONS FROM NOW -- WOULD RISE AGAIN AS A MILITARY POWER TO "RIGHT THE INJUSTICES."

NOT ONE OUT OF 15 GERMANS, REPRESENTING A CROSS SECTION OF THIS CITY'S LIFE, EXPRESSED BELIEF THAT SILESIA, POMERANIA, THE RUHR AND SAAR SHOULD BE SLICED FROM GERMANY. FOUR PERSONS QUESTIONED, HOWEVER, WERE WILLING TO GIVE UP EAST PRUSSIA.

"YOU CAN'T CHANGE BOUNDARIES WITHOUT CREATING A NEW WAR," SAID A 48-YEAR-OLD WOMAN, HEADING A CATHOLIC WELFARE ORGANIZATION. SHE ADDED:

"IN SPITE OF THE FACT THAT WE LOST THE WAR, WE WANT TO BE TREATED BY THE VICTORS AS PARTNERS IN DRAFTING A PEACE TREATY. OTHERWISE IT WILL BE A DICTUM."

ONLY TWO OF THE GERMANS QUESTIONED DISAGREED AND FELT GERMANY SHOULD NOT BE REPRESENTED AT THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

ALL THE OTHERS FELT THAT EITHER REPRESENTATIVES OF THE GERMAN STATE GOVERNMENTS, OR OF THE POLITICAL PARTIES SHOULD BE INVITED TO MOSCOW.

"BUT THE GERMAN REPRESENTATIVES SHOULD SIGN THE PEACE ONLY ON THE CONDITION THAT GERMANY IS GIVEN A CHANCE TO CONTINUE LIFE ON A BEARABLE BASIS," SAID ALFON MEININGEN, 60-YEAR-OLD TECHNICIAN.

NEARLY ALL THOSE QUESTIONED THOUGHT THAT MILITARY OCCUPATION SHOULD END AS SOON AS GERMANY HAS A CENTRAL GOVERNMENT--ALTHOUGH THEY GENERALLY WERE PREPARED TO HAVE THE CONTROL COMMISSIONS STAY FOR A TIME TO PREVENT REARMAMENT.

PEIPING, MARCH 7-(AP)-THE JAPANESE IN CHANGCHUN, WHICH I VISITED EARLIER IN THE WEEK, ARE HELPING THEIR CONQUERORS PLAN THE REHABILITATION OF THE GREAT BROKEN INDUSTRIAL EMPIRE OF MANCHURIA.

JAPANESE TECHNICIANS, ECONOMISTS AND SCIENTISTS HAVE BEEN PUT TO WORK ASSISTING THE CHINESE GOVERNMENT IN DRAWING UP A PROGRAM OF RECONSTRUCTION.

SO FAR, HOWEVER, IT IS A DISCOURAGING JOB, AND THE TASK OF RESTORING PROSTRATE MANCHURIA HAS PROCEEDED LITTLE BEYOND THE DRAWING BOARD STAGE.

MOST OF THE JAPANESE ARE WORKING WITH THE CHINESE ECONOMIC MISSION. SOME SCIENTISTS ARE TEACHING AT THE UNIVERSITY. THE REMAINDER ARE PETTY TECHNICIANS.

THE CHINESE, HOWEVER, ARE IGNORING MUCH OF THE JAPANESE ADVICE ON THE DAY-TO-DAY ECONOMIC PROBLEMS, AS WELL AS ON LONG-RANGE RECOVERY.

TO OUTSIDERS, THIS SEEMS COSTLY IN VIEW OF THE YEARS OF EXPERIENCE ACCUMULATED BY THE JAPANESE IN MANCHURIA.

TOP-RANKING JAPANESE TECHNICIANS ARE LIVING FAIRLY WELL, ACCORDING TO ORIENTAL STANDARDS. THEY ARE GETTING AS MUCH AS CHINESE IN COMPARABLE POSITIONS. THE LESSER WORKERS ARE JUST GETTING BY.

THE 101 RUSSIANS IN CHANGCHUN MOVE ABOUT WITHOUT RESTRAINT. SOME WHO LACK HOUSING STILL LIVE IN THE DOWNTOWN BUILDING WHERE THEY WERE PROTECTIVELY INTERNED DURING PAST ANTI-SOVIET HYSTERIA.

NANKING PLANS TO MAKE CHANGCHUN A SUB-CAPITAL, WITHOUT OFFICIALLY DESIGNATING IT AS SUCH. IF AND WHEN THE NATIONALISTS TAKE HARBIN AND TSITSIHAR FROM THE COMMUNISTS, GENERALISSIMO CHIANG KAI-SHEK'S MANCHURIAN HEADQUARTERS WILL BE MOVED TO CHANGCHUN FROM MUKDEN. CHANGCHUN, WHICH 15 YEARS AGO WAS LITTLE MORE THAN A VILLAGE, NOW HAS A POPULATION OF APPROXIMATELY 400,000.

DURING MY VISIT, I SAW GROUPS OF CIVILIANS MARCHING DOWN THE FROZEN STREETS CARRYING SHOVELS. LATER I LEARNED THAT THIS WAS THE "SELF-DEFENSE CORPS," COMPOSED OF ALL MALES BETWEEN 18 AND 45. THE CORPS IS CLEANING UP THE CITY AND BUILDING PILLBOXES.

TOKYO, MARCH 7-(AP)-A RUSSIAN OFFICIAL, TAKING NOTE OF A ONE-MAN HUNGER STRIKE, WARNED THE JAPANESE TODAY THAT ANY "PROVOCATIONS HOSTILE TO THE ALLIED POWERS" MIGHT DELAY REPATRIATION OF THEIR COUNTRYMEN FROM SOVIET ZONES.

CONSTANTIN POPOV, PRESS ATTACHE OF THE RUSSIAN MISSION HERE, REFERRED IN A STATEMENT TO THE RECENT 21-DAY HUNGER STRIKE BY YOSHIKI HOSHINO, PROTESTING REPATRIATION DELAYS. HE TERMED IT "A PROVOCATIVE TRICK X X X MOTIVATED BY MALICIOUS REASONS AND AIMED EXCLUSIVELY AT INCITING HOSTILITY TOWARD SOVIET AUTHORITIES."

THERE ARE APPROXIMATELY 1,000,000 JAPANESE STILL IN RUSSIAN ZONES. HOSHINO DECLARED AT THE START OF HIS STRIKE THAT HE WANTED TO CALL WORLD ATTENTION TO THE LETHARGY OF THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT IN DEALING WITH REPATRIATION.

POPOV SAID RETURN OF JAPANESE FROM RUSSIAN ZONES WAS BEING CARRIED OUT "AND WILL CONTINUE TO BE CARRIED OUT" AS AGREED BY RUSSIANS AND ALLIED HEADQUARTERS. THE AGREEMENT CALLED FOR BRINGING HOME 50,000 JAPANESE MONTHLY, AND SO FAR THE RUSSIANS HAVE EXCEEDED THAT QUOTA EACH MONTH.

TOKYO, MARCH 7-(AP)-A JAPANESE DEFENSE WITNESS WHO CONTENDED JAPAN'S GREATER EAST ASIA CO-PROSPERITY SPHERE WAS MODELED ON "PAN AMERICAN PRINCIPLES IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE," CONCEDED BEFORE, THE INTERNATIONAL WAR CRIMES TRIBUNAL TODAY THAT JAPAN MAINTAINED GARRISONS IN SO-CALLED INDEPENDENT COUNTRIES WITHIN THE AREA.

KUMAICHI YAMAMOTO, FORMER VICE MINISTER OF THE GREATER EAST ASIA AFFAIRS MINISTRY, ALSO ADMITTED UNDER PROSECUTION QUESTIONING THAT THE JAPANESE CONFISCATED MUCH OF THE INDUSTRIES AND NATURAL RESOURCES OF THE PHILIPPINES, NETHERLANDS EAST INDIES AND MALAYA.

JAPAN "NATURALLY" NEEDED RESOURCES AND MANPOWER IN OCCUPIED AREAS TO PROSECUTE THE WAR, HE TESTIFIED. YAMAMOTO ADDED THAT JAPAN INTENDED ULTIMATELY TO RESTORE CONTROL OF LOCAL ECONOMY TO THE PEOPLE.

FORMER PREMIER HIDEKI TOJO, ONE OF THE 26 JAPANESE WARTIME LEADERS ON TRIAL, WAS TAKEN TO AN AMERICAN ARMY HOSPITAL LAST NIGHT, SUFFERING FROM BRONCHITIS.

TOKYO, MARCH 7-(AP)-AN OCCUPATION OFFICIAL SAID TODAY THAT MILLIONS OF DOLLARS WORTH OF PROPERTY OF ALLIED NATIONALS NOW MAY BE RESTORED TO OWNERS OF THEIR LEGAL REPRESENTATIVES IF THEY ARE IN JAPAN.

HOWEVER, FOREIGN PROPERTY CUSTODIAN D.H.BLAKE ADDED THAT OWNERS COULD DO NOTHING WITH THE PROPERTY EXCEPT RECEIVE TITLE AND ASSUME RESPONSIBILITY FOR ITS UPKEEP. BLAKE EXPLAINED THAT THEY COULD NOT DISPOSE OF PROPERTIES AT THIS TIME BECAUSE OF OCCUPATION REGULATIONS REGARDING TRADE AND COMMERCE.

BLAKE SAID THE HOLDINGS ALLIED HEADQUARTERS NOW CONTROLS REPRESENT ABOUT HALF THE VALUE OF PROPERTY OWNED BY ALLIED NATIONALS IN JAPAN WHEN HOSTILITIES BEGAN. THE BALANCE WAS USED BY THE JAPANESE IN THEIR WAR EFFORT, WAS DESTROYED IN THE WAR OR HAS NOT YET BEEN RECOVERED. OWNERS OF THESE PROPERTIES MAY SUBMIT CLAIMS AGAINST THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT.

AT THE OUTSET OF THE WAR, THE CUSTODIAN SAID, ALLIED NATIONALS OWNED ABOUT $100,000,000 WORTH OF PROPERTY IN JAPAN.

JAMES W. RYAN, ATTORNEY FOR THE ISBRANDTSEN LINE, WHICH HAS LEASED THE SHIP FROM THE U.S. MARITIME COMMISSION, ALSO WALKED OFF THE SHIP WITH GRAY. HE SAID HE WAS CABLING THE ISBRANDTSEN COMPANY IN NEW YORK TO NOTIFY THE MARITIME COMMISSION THAT THE BEHRMAN HAD BEEN FORCEFULLY CAPTURED BY THE DUTCH AND THAT THE ISBRANDTSEN COMPANY WAS UNABLE TO ACCEPT FURTHER RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE CHARTER.

THE MARTIN BEHRMAN ARRIVED HERE SEVERAL DAYS AGO UNDER ESCORT OF A DUTCH DESTROYER WITH A $3,000,000 CARGO OF RUBBER, SUGAR, CHICHONA (QUININE) AND OTHER PRODUCTS WHICH SHE HAD LOADED AT CHERIBON JAVA PORT EAST OF HERE WHICH IS UNDER CONTROL OF THE INDONESIAN REPUBLIC.

THE DUTCH HAD WARNED GRAY THAT THEY WOULD NOT PERMIT THE BEHRMAN TO SAIL FOR AMERICA WITH THE CARGO, MAINTAINING IT WAS THE PRODUCE OF EUROPEAN-OWNED PLANTATIONS ILLEGALLY SEIZED BY THE INDONESIANS AND THAT THE VESSEL HAD NO RIGHT TO CLEAR WITHOUT THE PERMISSION OF DUTCH AUTHORITIES.

GRAY YESTERDAY ACCUSED THE NETHERLANDS EAST INDIES GOVERNMENT OF "AN ACT OF PIRACY" AND ORDERED HIS CREW TO RESIST WITH FORCE ANY DUTCH ATTEMPT TO OPEN THE SHIP'S HATCHES AND UNLOAD THE CARGO "UNLESS THEY HAVE THE GUN ON YOU FIRST."

GRAY LATER WAS SERVED BY A DUTCH POLICE OFFICER WITH A SUMMONS DIRECTING HIM TO APPEAR BEFORE A DUTCH MILITARY COURT FRIDAY. GRAY SAID HE WAS IGNORANT OF ANY CHARGE AGAINST HIM OR WHY HE HAD BEEN SUMMONED TO APPEAR. Ltd-Col. Martin Behrman — "A Representative"

BATAVIA, MARCH 7-(AP)-SIXTY DUTCH MARINES, SAILORS AND CIVIL POLICE BOARDED THE AMERICAN LIBERTY SHIP MARTIN BEHRMAN TODAY AND OVERPOWERED THE FIRST MATE AS HE ATTEMPTED TO RAISE THE GANGPLANK IN CARRYING OUT THE ORDERS OF HIS DEFIANT CAPTAIN TO FRUSTRATE THE DUTCH AUTHORITIES.

TUGBOATS NOSED THE SHIP TO ANOTHER DOCK FOR THE UNLOADING OF HER $3,000,000 CARGO IN ACCORD WITH A CONFISCATION ORDER FROM THE NETHERLANDS EAST INDIES GOVERNMENT. THE SHIP HAD BEEN LOADED AT CHERIBON, IN REPUBLICAN JAVA, CONTRARY TO DUTCH REGULATIONS.

CAPT.RUDY GRAY, WHO HAD NOTIFIED THE DUTCH SEVERAL HOURS BEFORE THAT HE INTENDED TO SAIL FOR THE UNITED STATES, WALKED OFF THE SHIP AFTER INFORMING DUTCH NAVY LT.JOHN HAMERSLAG THAT CONTROL OF THE VESSEL HAD BEEN "TAKEN FROM ME FORCEFULLY BY ARMED MEN."

"THIS IS SHEER PIRACY," HE EXCLAIMED.

TWO CIVIL POLICE PINNED THE ARMS OF FIRST MATE ALEXANDER THEOPHANUS, 3215 NETHERLAND AVE., NEW YORK CITY, BEHIND HIS BACK WHEN HE TRIED TO CARRY OUT GRAY'S INSTRUCTIONS TO RAISE THE GANGPLANK IN THE FACE OF THE BOARDING PARTY, ARMED WITH STEN GUNS, RIFLES AND PISTOLS.

"I HAVE RECEIVED NO COURT ORDER OR LEGAL EXPLANATION OF THIS ACTION," CAPT.GRAY TOLD LT.HAMERSLAG. "THE RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE SHIP IS NO LONGER MINE."

HE SAID HE WAS LEAVING ON THE ADVICE OF JAMES W.RYAN, ATTORNEY AND REPRESENTATIVE OF THE ISBRANDTSEN COMPANY IN NEW YORK, THE SHIP'S CHARTERER. RYAN, WHO WALKED OFF THE SHIP WITH GRAY, SAID HE WAS NOTIFYING THE COMPANY TO INFORM THE U.S.MARITIME COMMISSION THAT THE SHIP WAS FORCEFULLY CAPTURED AND ISBRANDTSEN WOULD BE UNABLE TO ACCEPT FURTHER RESPONSIBILITY.

UNDER GRAY'S ORDER THE CREW REMAINED ABOARD THE MARTIN BEHRMAN, BUT REFUSED TO ASSIST THE DUTCH SAILORS IN MOVING THE SHIP OR THE UNLOADING.

TODAY'S DEVELOPMENTS FOLLOWED BY 48 HOURS THE U.S. STATE DEPARTMENT PROTEST TO THE HAGUE OVER REGULATIONS UNDER WHICH THE SHIP WAS SEIZED.

THE DUTCH GOVERNMENT PROMISED TO MAKE A REPORT WHEN IT RECEIVED FULL INFORMATION FROM BATAVIA.

NIGHT LEAD SECRETS (280)
CANBERRA, AUSTRALIA, MARCH 7-(AP)-H.V.EVATT, FOREIGN MINISTER, PROMISED THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES TODAY THAT PRECAUTIONS WOULD BE REDOUBLED TO GUARD THE SECRETS OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE ROCKET RANGE IN AUSTRALIA'S SOUTHWESTERN DESERTS AFTER JOSEPH ABBOTT OF THE OPPOSITION HAD CHARGED A "SINISTER ASSOCIATION" BETWEEN SOME SCIEINTIFIC ELEMENTS IN AUSTRALIA AND THE COMMUNIST PARTY.
XK
EVATT SAID "EVERY POSSIBLE PRECAUTION" WOULD BE TAKEN TO PREVENT SPYING, THAT THE SECURITY SERVICE WOULD BE STRENGTHENED TO CHECK ON THE "POSSIBLE ABUSE OF CITIZENSHIP" AND THAT THE LAW RELATING TO OFFICIAL SECRETS WOULD BE MADE MORE STRICT.

EVATT SAID THE REVELATIONS OF THE PROSECUTION OF AN ALLEGEDLY COMMUNIST-SPONSORED SPY RING IN CANADA RECENTLY WERE "PROFOUNDLY DISTURBING AND SHOCKING" AND SHOWED A "TREMENDOUS DETERMINATION AT ALL COSTS, WHATEVER WAS INVOLVED, TO GET HOLD OF THE ATOMIC BOMB SECRET."
THE PRIME MINISTER AGREED THAT THERE WAS A POSSIBILITY THAT MEMBERS OF A COMMUNIST ORGANIZATION WOULD HAND OVER OTHER SUCH MILITARY SECRETS TO SOVIET RUSSIA.

HE ADDED THAT ALTHOUGH "SECURITY OFFICERS REPORT THAT SO FAR NOTHING UNTOWARD HAS OCCURRED" THEY AGREED "WITH THE NECESSITY FOR REDOUBLING PRECAUTIONS."
ABBOTT CHARGED THAT THE AUSTRALIAN PUBLIC SERVICE AND GOVERNMENT SCIENTIFIC AGENCIES WERE "RED-ANTED" WITH COMMUNISTS AND ASSERTED THERE WAS A LINK BETWEEN AUSTRALIAN AND CANADIAN ASSOCIATIONS OF SCIENTIFIC WORKERS. HE CALLED UPON THE GOVERNMENT TO APPOINT A ROYAL COMMISSION TO INQUIRE INTO THE PERSONNEL OF THE AUSTRALIAN ASSOCIATION OF SCIENTIFIC WORKERS AND THE AFFILIATIONS OF A NUMBER OF EMPLOYES OF THE COMMONWEALTH COUNCIL FOR SCIENTIFIC AND INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH.
OTHER OPPOSITION SPEAKERS DECLARED THE RUSSIAN DIPLOMATIC MISSION IN CANBERRA WAS ALMOST AS BIG AS ALL OTHERS PUT TOGETHER AND THAT THE GOVERNMENT OUGHT TO INQUIRE INTO WHAT IT WAS DOING.
JOHN DEDMAN, MINISTER FOR SCIENTIFIC AND INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH, DEPRECATED THAT THE DISCUSSION HAD TAKEN AN ANTI-COMMUNIST TURN. HE SAID ADEQUATE PRECAUTIONS ALREADY WERE BEING TAKEN TO PREVENT LEAKAGE OF INFORMATION FROM ROCKET RANGE EXPERIMENTS AND SAID "THERE PERHAPS ARE OTHER SPIES OPERATING IN AUSTRALIA APART FROM COMMUNISTS AND THEY MIGHT NOT HAVE ANY POLITICAL AFFILIATIONS."

BUENOS AIRES, MARCH 7-(AP)-THE UNIVERSITY OF BUENOS AIRES ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT IT WOULD ASK THE BRITISH MILITARY GOVERNMENT OF GERMANY TO GRANT WERNER HEISENBERG, NOBEL PRIZE-WINNING PHYSICIST, PERMISSION TO COME TO ARGENTINA FOR A SERIES OF LECTURES AND FOR STUDY IN ITS INSTITUTE OF RADIOACTIVITY.
(ON FEB. 20, HEISENBERG ANNOUNCED IN GERMANY THAT HE WAS REFUSING AN INVITATION TO LECTURE IN BUENOS AIRES UNIVERSITY BECAUSE HE LACKED BRITISH PERMISSION TO LEAVE HIS OWN COUNTRY.)
THE ANNOUNCEMENT FROM THE UNIVERSITY'S SCHOOL OF EXACT SCIENCES SAID THE PROMINENCE OF HEISENBERG, A GERMAN AUTHORITY ON NUCLEAR FISSION, MADE IT UNNECESSARY TO EXPLAIN WHY HE HAD BEEN INVITED TO COME HERE.
IT SAID THE UNIVERSITY "WILL PERSIST IN NEGOTIATIONS AND IS CONFIDENT THAT WHEN THE BRITISH UNDERSTAND THE CIRCUMSTANCES, THEY WILL PERMIT HEISENBERG TO PUT HIMSELF IN CONTACT WITH PHYSICISTS HERE."
GOVERNMENT AND DIPLOMATIC SOURCES HAVE TERMED "ABSURD" REPORTS THAT ARGENTINA WAS STARTING A FULL-SCALE ATOMIC RESEARCH PROGRAM AND THAT WAS THE MOTIVE FOR THE INVITATION TO HEISENBERG, A PROFESSOR AT THE UNIVERSITY OF GOETTINGEN, WHOSE ATOM-SPLITTING RESEARCH WON INTERNATIONAL ATTENTION 15 YEARS AGO.
IT WAS POINTED OUT THAT DR. GUIDO BECK, CZECHOSLOVAKIAN SCIENTIST WHO COLLABORATED WITH HEISENBERG IN NUCLEAR RESEARCH IN GERMANY, HAS BEEN IN ARGENTINA SEVERAL YEARS AND IS A PROFESSOR AT THE UNIVERSITY OF CORDOBA.
HEISENBERG, IN AN INTERVIEW LAST MONTH, SAID HE KNEW FROM READING THE SMYTH REPORT "EXACTLY" HOW AMERICAN SCIENTISTS PRODUCED THE ATOMIC BOMB "EXCEPT FOR SOME SMALL TECHNICAL DETAILS."
WHEN HE ANNOUNCED HE HAD REJECTED THE ARGENTINE INVITATION, HEISENBERG SAID HE DID NOT INTEND TO PARTICIPATE IN MILITARY ATOMIC RESEARCH FOR ANY COUNTRY.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 7-(AP)-AUSTRALIA SUGGESTED TODAY THAT THE UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL SET UP A SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO DISCUSS A UNITED STATES PROPOSAL TO PLACE THE JAPANESE MANDATED ISLANDS UNDER A U.N."STRATEGIC AREA" TRUSTEESHIP.

DELEGATE PAUL HASLUCK MADE NO FORMAL PROPOSAL IN EMPHASIZING THAT HE WAS NOT OPPOSING THE AMERICAN PLAN, BUT FELT THAT OTHER INTERESTED NATIONS SUCH AS INDIA AND NEW ZEALAND SHOULD BE HEARD BEFORE FINAL DECISION.

SIR ALEXANDER CADOGAN, BRITISH DELEGATE, SAID HIS GOVERNMENT HAD NO OBJECTIONS TO THE AMERICAN PROPOSAL, BUT FAVORED DELAY UNTIL CONCLUSION OF THE JAPANESE PEACE TREATIES. HE ADDED THAT HE WOULD NOT OPPOSE THE WILL OF A COUNCIL MAJORITY.

CHINA THEN JOINED IN APPROVAL OF THE U.S. PLAN, PREVIOUSLY SUPPORTED BY RUSSIA, WHICH WOULD DESIGNATE THE UNITED STATES AS SOLE ADMINISTRATOR.

THE APPARENT TREND OF THIS NEW-FOUND UNANIMITY WAS TOWARD EARLY APPROVAL OF THE AMERICAN PLAN, OR AT WORST MERELY A DELAY FOR LEGAL REASONS. AS FOR ANY POSTPONEMENT, THE UNITED STATES HAS MADE IT CLEAR THAT IT WILL STAY ON THE ISLANDS REGARDLESS.

ANY OBJECTIONS APPEARED CENTERED AROUND TECHNICALITIES AND THE TIME. RUSSIA ALSO HAD THREE MODIFICATION PROPOSALS IN THE HOPPER.

SOVIET DELEGATE ANDREI A. GROMYKO WANTS TO MAKE THESE CHANGES IN THE TEXT OF THE AGREEMENT:

DROP THE PROVISION THAT THE ISLANDS WOULD BE ADMINISTERED AS "AN INTEGRAL PART OF THE UNITED STATES;" ADD THE WORD "OR INDEPENDENCE" AFTER THE WORDS "TOWARD SELF-GOVERNMENT" IN THE SECTION GUARANTEEING POLITICAL DEVELOPMENT OF THE NATIVES; AND GIVE THE COUNCIL THE RIGHT TO ALTER THE AGREEMENT INSTEAD OF PROVIDING THAT NO CHANGES COULD BE MADE WITHOUT AMERICAN CONSENT.

THE UNITED STATES WAS UNDERSTOOD TO BE READY TO ACCEPT THE FIRST TWO RUSSIAN SUGGESTIONS IF THE COUNCIL SO DECIDED. ON THE THIRD, DELEGATE WARREN R. AUSTIN WAS BALKING, BUT AMERICAN SOURCES INSISTED THERE WOULD BE NO DIFFICULTY.

AUSTIN'S POSITION WAS SAID TO BE THAT THE AGREEMENT WAS IN EFFECT A TREATY BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND THE UNITED NATIONS AND THAT AS A PARTY WASHINGTON WOULD HAVE TO APPROVE CHANGES. HE ALSO WAS REPORTED TO FEEL THAT ACCEPTANCE OF THE SOVIET VERSION WOULD VIOLATE THE CHARTER. HOWEVER, EVEN IF ADOPTED, THE UNITED STATES WOULD BE PROTECTED BY RIGHT RIGHT TO VETO CHANGES.

MAR 1947

GREAT BRITAIN CLUNG TO ITS ORIGINAL STAND THAT THE AGREEMENT SHOULD NOT BE PUT INTO FORCE UNTIL THE CONCLUSION OF A TREATY WITH JAPAN FOR LEGAL REASONS. HOWEVER, DELEGATE SIR ALEXANDER CADOGAN MADE IT CLEAR HE WAS NOT READY TO OPPOSE THE WILL OF THE COUNCIL.

POLAND FOUND SOME "MINOR LEGAL POINTS," BUT A SPOKESMAN SAID HIS DELEGATION WAS NOT INSISTING ON THE CHANGES.

AUSTRALIA, WHIC ORIGINALLY STOOD WITH GREAT BRITAIN FOR A DELAY, WAS EXPECTED TO GO ON RECORD WITH ITS REQUEST WITHOUT FORCING THE ISSUE.

THE FAR-REACHING AGREEMENT THAT FOUND SUCH WIDE SUPPORT IN THE COUNCIL WOULD DESIGNATE THE VAST CHAINS OF THE MARSHALLS, CAROLINES AND MARIANAS AS A STRATEGIC AREA UNDER THE U.N. TRUSTEESHIP SYSTEM. THE 634 ISLANDS INCLUDE THE WAR-TIME BASES OF SAIPAN, ENIWETOK, KWAJALEIN, TINIAN, TRUK AND MAJURO AND WERE DESCRIBED BY AUSTIN IN A POLICY SPEECH TO THE COUNCIL AS VITAL TO THE SECURITY OF THE UNITED STATES.

UNDER TRUSTEESHIP TERMS, WHICH IN THIS CASE AMOUNT TO VIRTUAL ANNEXATION, THE UNITED STATES WOULD HAVE THE RIGHT TO FORTIFY AND GARRISON THE ISLANDS, BAN FOREIGN AIRCRAFT, AND COMPLETELY CLOSE THE

30.24-8349

AREA AT WILL FOR SECURITY REASONS.
THE UNITED STATES PRESENTED THE AGREEMENT TO THE COUNCIL LAST MONTH AND ASKED FOR ACCEPTANCE NOW, BUT AMERICAN SOURCES INDICATED THAT AUSTIN WOULD NOT RESIST DELAY.
THE MOST ENTHUSIASTIC RESPONSE TO THE AMERICAN PLAN CAME FROM FARIS EL KHOURY, SYRIAN DELEGATE, WHO SAID THAT THE UNITED STATES "SHOULD BE CONGRATULATED FOR UNDERTAKING SUCH A BURDEN WITHOUT COMPENSATION OF ANY KIND."

BY MAX HARRELSON

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 7-(AP)-A GROUP OF FAR EASTERN EXPERTS TODAY LAID BEFORE THE UNITED NATIONS ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL A BLUEPRINT FOR THE ECONOMIC RECONSTRUCTION OF ASIA AND THE FAR EAST WHICH HAS JUST BEEN COMPLETED AFTER MANY WEEKS OF WORK.

THE HEART OF THE PLAN IS A RECOMMENDATION THAT THE COUNCIL CREATE AN ECONOMIC COMMISSION FOR ASIA TO PARALLEL THE COMMISSION FOR EUROPE APPROVED LAST MONDAY. IT WAS ALMOST CERTAIN THAT THE FAR EASTERN COMMISSION WOULD BE SET UP DURING THE COUNCIL'S PRESENT SESSION.

THE PLAN WAS EMBODIED IN A 42-PAGE DOCUMENT DRAFTED BY THE FAR EASTERN WORKING GROUP OF THE TEMPORARY SUB-COMMISSION ON ECONOMIC RECONSTRUCTION OF DEVASTATED AREAS.

THE REPORT CONTAINED THESE KEY RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. THAT THE PROPOSED COMMISSION HAVE AUTHORITY TO MAKE STUDIES OF ECONOMIC CONDITIONS AND INITIATE MEASURES FACILITATING CONCERTED ACTION FOR THE RECONSTRUCTION OF ASIA AND THE FAR EAST AND THE ADVANCEMENT OF THEIR ECONOMIC ACTIVITY."

2. THAT IT GIVE PRIORITY TO MEASURES FOR THE RESTORATION OF DEVASTATED COUNTRIES WHICH ARE MEMBERS OF THE UNITED NATIONS.

3. THAT IT SHOULD BE EMPOWERED, SUBJECT TO THE AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS, TO ESTABLISH SUCH SUBSIDIARY MACHINERY AS IT NEEDS TO CARRY OUT ITS RESPONSIBILITIES.

MAR 1947

B134

THE COMMISSION WOULD BE AN ORGAN OF THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL, BUT WOULD HAVE AUTHORITY TO DEAL DIRECTLY WITH MEMBER GOVERNMENTS EXCEPT ON ISUES WHICH MIGHT HAVE AN IMPORTANT EFFECT ON THE ECONOMY OF THE WORLD AS A WHOLE.

"THE TASK OF RECONSTRUCTION IN ASIA AND THE FAR EAST IS SO VAST AND SO COMPLEX," THE REPORT SAID, "THAT IT SEEMS TO US IMPERATIVE TO HAVE A SPECIAL ORGANIZATION WHICH COULD SEE THE PROBLEM AS A WHOLE, BRING TOGETHER INTO A COMMON FOCUS THE EFFORTS OF FUNCTIONAL ORGANIZATIONS AND COORDINATE BOTH THE NEEDS OF THE COUNTRIES CONCERNED AND THE MEASURES OF ASSISTANCE WHICH THE UNITED NATIONS CAN AFFORD.

"THE FOREGOING CONSIDERATIONS LEAD US TO THE CONCLUSION THAT WE SHOULD RECOMMEND AN ECONOMIC COMMISSION FOR ASIA AND THE FAR EAST SUCH AS THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY HAS RECOMMENDED FOR PROMPT AND FAVORABLE CONSIDERATION IN ITS RESOLUTION OF DEC. 11, 1946.

"THERE IS PERHAPS AN EVEN GREATER NEED FOR INTERCHANGE OF VIEWS AND COORDINATION OF POLICIES IN ASIA THAN IN EUROPE, SINCE THE OPPORTUNITIES FOR SUCH COOPERATION HAVE IN THE PAST BEEN LESS, THE AREA AND POPULATION CONCERNED ARE MUCH GREATER AND THE ECONOMIC INTERDEPENDENCE OF THE COUNTRIES OF THE REGION IS LIKELY TO INCREASE."

THE REPORT INCLUDES AN ECONOMIC SURVEY OF THE FOLLOWING TERRITORIES AND COUNTRIES: CHINA, INDOCHINESE FEDERATION, PHILIPPINE REPUBLIC, MALAYAN UNION AND SINGAPORE, HONG KONG, NETHERLANDS INDIES, BURMA, NEW GUINEA, PAPUA, BRITISH BORNEO, INDIA, KOREA, GILBERT ISLANDS, ELLICE ISLANDS, SOLOMON ISLANDS AND PORTUGUESE TIMOR.

THE WORKING GROUP RECOMMENDED THAT ALL COUNTRIES CONCERNED BE REPRESENTED ON THE COMMISSION. IT WAS UNDERSTOOD THAT THIS WOULD INCLUDE THE UNITED STATES, GREAT BRITAIN, RUSSIA AND FRANCE, SINCE THEY EITHER HAVE TERRITORIAL INTERESTS OR MIGHT BE EXPECTED TO LEND ASSISTANCE.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 7-(AP)-REPORTS THAT CANADA PLANS TO CLOSE ON MARCH 25 THE HAINES CUTOFF ON THE ALASKA HIGHWAY, CONSTRUCTED BY THE UNITED STATES ARMY, BROUGHT A PROTEST BY SENATOR MAGNUSON (D-WASH) TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT TODAY.

THE CUTOFF RUNS FROM THE MAIN HIGHWAY 119 MILES TO THE ALASKA BOUNDARY AND THEN 42 MILES INTO THE TERRITORY, ENDING AT HAINES. THE TOWN HAS BECOME A SHIPPING POINT FOR GOODS GOING INTO OTHER SECTIONS OF THE TERRITORY WHICH ARE ROUTED TO THE MAIN HIGHWAY AND BACK INTO ALASKA. THE CANADIAN SECTION OF THE CUTOFF PASSES THROUGH BRITISH COLUMBIA AND THE YUKON TERRITORY.

MAGNUSON WROTE SECRETARY OF STATE MARSHALL THAT HE HAD RECEIVED HIS INFORMATION FROM A HIGH CANADIAN ARMY OFFICER AND SAID HE UNDERSTOOD THE INTERIOR DEPARTMENT ALSO HAD BEEN INFORMED OF THE PLAN.

"THIS CUTOFF ROAD", MAGNUSON TOLD THE SECRETARY "IS ONE OF THE MAIN TRAFFIC ARTERIES INTO ALASKA AND IS IMPORTANT TO THE TERRITORY.

"IF CANADA CAN MAINTAIN THE REST OF THE HIGHWAY SOME WAY SURELY CAN BE FOUND TO MAINTAIN THE HAINES CUTOFF. IT IS MORE THAN DIFFICULT TO UNDERSTAND THIS CONTEMPLATED ACTION AFTER THE VAST EXPENSE TO WHICH THE UNITED STATES WAS PUT IN CONSTRUCTING THE ALASKA HIGHWAY, ALMOST $142,000,000."

MANY MILITARY SUPPLIES WERE SENT OVER THE ROAD, MAGNUSON SAID, AND IN CASE OF AN EMERGENCY IN THE TERRITORY THE WAR DEPARTMENT WOULD BE VITALLY AFFECTED BY THE CLOSING.

"THE UNITED STATES IS UNABLE TO REACH A FINAL CONCLUSION WITH RESPECT TO THE BEST PROCEDURE FOR DEALING WITH THIS (PALESTINE) PROBLEM IN THE UNITED NATIONS IN THE ABSENCE OF A CONCRETE FORMULATION OF THE PROBLEM BY THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT," AN AMERICAN SPOKESMAN SAID.

THE DELEGATION SPOKESMAN DECLINED TO AMPLIFY THAT STATEMENT. IT WAS THE LATEST IN A SERIES OF EXCHANGES ARISING SINCE FOREIGN MINISTER ERNEST BEVIN'S CHARGED IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS FEB. 25 THAT PRESIDENT TRUMAN "SPOILED" BRITISH NEGOTIATIONS TO QUIET THE PALESTINE SITUATION JUST BEFORE THE LAST AMERICAN ELECTION TIME BY URGING "SUBSTANTIAL" JEWISH IMMIGRATION INTO THE TROUBLED MANDATE.

THE SPOKESMAN MADE IT CLEAR, HOWEVER, THAT THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT

THE BRITISH DELEGATION SAID IT WOULD AWAIT THE OUTCOME OF LIE'S ROUNDS OF THE BIG FIVE DELEGATIONS BEFORE MAKING ANY MOVE HERE TOWARD A FORMAL PRESENTATION OF THE CASE IN AN ANTICIPATED MEMORANDUM TO THE SECRETARIAT.

HOWEVER, LEADERS OF THE BRITISH AND AMERICAN DELEGATIONS WENT INTO AN IMPROMPTU HUDDLE IN THE SECURITY COUNCIL CHAMBER SOON AFTER THE AMERICAN STATEMENT WAS MADE AT A NEWS CONFERENCE.

5 Slain As Jews Battle British In Tel Aviv

British Headquarters Attacked At Tel Aviv

Five Killed, 24 Wounded in Four Major Assaults by Jewish Extremists on Key Centers — Fires Follow Gasoline Explosion

U. Goodwin

Jerusalem, SUNDAY, March 9—(AP)—A British soldier and four Jewish extremists were killed and at least 24 other persons were wounded yesterday as violence flared on a wide front inside the tightly-cordoned military law zone of Tel Aviv NIGHT.

The terrorists attacked British military headquarters in Citrus House and the Sarona military camp in the all-Jewish coastal city and staged a simultaneous assault on the police station at Jaffa, a few miles to the south.

Tel Aviv, under the heavy thumb of military rule since the bloody Irgun Zvai Leumi attacks last weekend, experienced a night of terror as homemade bombs and road mines eploded and attackers exchanged machine gun and mortar fire with British guardsmen.

Power Lines Cut

Wild shots cut power lines and plunged part of Tel Aviv in darkness until exploding bombs ignited a gasoline station and other small buildings, sending up flames visible for miles around. The Tel Aviv battle lasted an hour and 15 minutes.

The night's four major attacks—on Citrus House, the Sarona camp, the Jaffa Police headquarters and another diversionary Jaffa assault at an undisclosed point in the city—were preceded by other terrorist raids earlier in the evening and in the afternoon in Jerusalem, Haifa and the boundary line between Tel Aviv and Haifa.

Three British soldiers were wounded seriously by exploding hand grenades thrown at a military patrol in the Jerusalem security zone near the Jewish Agency building and the Goldsmith Officers' Club building, blasted last Saturday with a loss of 16 lives.

Two policemen were wounded by an explosion at an Army camp in Haifa and three civilians were wounded by gunfire when a group of Jews attempted to storm a barbed wire barricade on the perimeter of the Tel Aviv martial law zone.

Terrorists Hurl Explosives

A newsman who witnessed the attack at Citrus House said a band of terrorists launched their assault at 9 P. M., hurling explosives while others tried to protect their bombardiers with a heavy offensive of machine-gun and side arms fire.

The automobile in which the newsmen arrived at the scene was riddled with bullets, as were several houses surrounding Citrus House. Bombs fashioned of gasoline cans blew up two British armored cars and booby traps made of steel helmets caused some casualties.

When the heavy barrage was lifted by the fleeing attackers and the gunfire dwindled to an occasional burst of rifle fire, it was determined that five persons had been killed—one of the British defenders and four of the attackers.

Earlier today at least eight persons were wounded in three outbreaks in northern Palestine.

During the first phase of the Sarona attack, a British constable and an Arab policeman were wounded by exploding grenades.

Guards at Citrus House engaged in gun battles with the terrorrists in the streets. Nine Jews were reported officially to have been wounded and hospitalized, but it was not determined whether they were members of the attacking band or residents of the area.

Immigrant Ship Halted

The outbreaks followed the interception by British sailors of a ship attempting to land 600 Jews on Palestine soil in defiance of British immigration restrictions.

An official announcement said the ship, named the Abril, was boarded at noon off the port of Haifa. Reliable Jewish sources said approximately 600 would-be immigrants were aboard.

(The New York office of the American League for a Free Palestine said the Abril was in reality the 205-foot, 800-ton motorship Ben Hecht, operated by the Tyre Shipping Company of New York, which left a European port with 900 Jewish immigrants aboard. A former yacht, the ship was operated by the U. S. Navy as a patrol vessel during the war and then was sold by the Navy to the New York firm.)

Another immigrant ship was unofficially reported to be in Palestine waters, but this could not be confirmed.

Two grenades were hurled from a passing taxi at a barbed wire barrier around the British security zone in Jerusalem, causing serious injuries to three British soldiers.

An explosion in the Allenby Road army camp at Haifa injured two supplementary policemen, and three persons were wounded by rifle fire in the Jaffa-Tel Aviv martial law zone.

MAR 1947

The shooting in the Jaffa-Tel Aviv area started when a group of Jews tried to rush a military cordon. The wounded were said to have been struck by warning shots which hit a balcony on which they were standing.

Earlier reports from Tel Aviv said two other Jews were wounded slightly by gunfire from soldiers at a cordon on the southern edge of the city. The soldiers claimed the Jews flung an empty bottle at them. Jewish residents nearby denied the soldiers' assertion.

A band of masked men threw huge banners across power lines in the main street of Tel Aviv proclaiming defiance of the British by Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground group. The posters bore the Irgun emblem, a fist holding rifle and the words "Rak Kach" (only thus) superimposed on a map of Palestine and Transjordan. 'So long as the British rule here, we continue our fight for liberty," some of the posters said.

One Jewish youth was arrested in connection with the incident.

Meanwhile Jewish officials awaited the arrival in Palestine of Jewish Agency leaders from New York for a meeting of the Agency on Monday to study the position of the Jewish community in light of the martial law imposed last Sunday.

Moshe Shertok, Dr. Nahum Goldman and Rabbi A. H. Silver were among those expected here for the meeting.

The military announced formation of a "civil advisory committee" of army officers and Palestine government officials to "deal with civil affairs" in martial law areas.

Irgun Signs Declare Defiance Of British

Jerusalem, March 8 (AP)—Huge banners proclaiming defiance of the British by the underground Jewish organization Irgun Zvai Leumi were flung across power lines in the main street of Tel Aviv today by a band of masked men.

The men strung the banners by means of large poles and then disappeared quickly into the crowds of Allenby road, principal thoroughfare of the all-Jewish city, which is ending a week under the martial law imposed by the British.

"Fight For Liberty"

The posters bore the Irgun emblem—a fist holding a rifle, and the words "Rak Kach" (only thus) superimposed on a map of Palestine.

Other posters bore the inscription in Hebrew: "So long as the British rule here, we continue our fight for liberty."

Thousands walking in the bright Sabbath sunshine witnessed the incident. About an hour later, soldiers from the ranks of those who cordoned off some 250,000 Jews in the coastal martial law area removed the banners.

Three small suburbs of Tel Aviv were brought into the martial law area today, but military officials said it was a practical rather than a security measure. The suburbs are largely dependent upon Tel Aviv and had been isolated from it throughout the week.

Curbs May Be Eased

Maj. Gen. R. N. Gale, 1st Division commander and military governor of the martial law area, visited Jerusalem to confer with Palestine Government officials on possible alleviation of restrictions to permit the resumption of industry.

He was reported to have told Jerusalem business men that he expected the ban on the importation of raw materials would be lifted soon. The ban has stifled industry in Tel Aviv and thrown 10,000 persons out of jobs.

Lake Success, N.Y., March 8 (AP). The controversial Palestine problem was expected today to be filed formally with the United Nations by Great Britain as a result of an American request for clarification.

The exact time of filing and the wording of the document awaited instructions from London and from Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, now in Moscow, British sources here said.

Because of transmission difficulties and the week-end lull in government business, it was indicated that the Holy Land problem would not reach the United Nations officially for several days.

Paper May Be Revised

The British delegation here has held in readiness for some time the draft of a communication presenting the case to Trygve Lie, secretary-general, but it was learned today that this paper might now be revised in the light of developments.

Originally, great Britain planned to submit the problem to the General Assembly without suggestions, thus leaving it up to the United Nations to make recommendations. Under this system the London Government would advance its own ideas at the same time as those put forward by other nations.

Denies Idea Is Rejected

The United States delegation brought the issue to a head last night by informing Great Britain she would have to bring up the case formally before Washington could take the stand on any United Nations procedure for handling it. The American position was in answer to Lie's informal discussions with the big powers, following private sessions with the British, as to whether they favored creation of a commission of inquiry to study the problem pending formal consideration by the Assembly in the fall.

An American spokesman said his Government was not rejecting the commission idea but wanted "a specific statement on the problem" from the British before making a decision.

Russia and France were reported still awaiting instructions.

Persons close to Lie said he was holding up any further conference pending a move by the British. There was some indication that the British might incorporate the commission plan into a note offering the case to the world agency.

Lie was vague on the exact makeup of the commission or its numbers, but would have the body include the United States, Great Britain, Russia, China and France and a "few" smaller "neutral" nations.

Seeks Arab Representation

Faris el Khoury, Syrian delegate to the Security Council and chief spokesman for the Arab League here, supported the United States view on the proposed commission and further objected to any plan limiting representation to "neutral" states. He felt such a designation might bar Arab states from membership.

Britain May Revise Terms Of U.N. Palestine Proposal

Next Palestine Move Britain's

J. Parris

Lake Success, N.Y., March 8 (AP). The next move toward placing the explosive Palestine problem in the hands of the United Nations appeared today to be up to the British Government.

The United States United Nations delegation declared last night that it could not agree to any immediate United Nations procedure for handling the knotty Holy Land question until it is presented to the United Nations in some "concrete" form.

Most United Nations sources said they believed Britain would waste no time in officially filing the case with Secretary General Trygve Lie. They said Britain might possibly ask that the issue be submitted to the General Assembly with a recommendation that a commission of inquiry be established now to study the case.

Lacks Specific Answers

The idea for a commission was put forward earlier this week by Lie but he could not get any specific answer on it from the majority of the Big Five powers.

The United States delegation was understood to be opposed to such a commission, but before the idea is discussed delegates want Britain formally to place the issue before the United Nations.

Faris El Khoury, chief spokesman here for the Arab states and a member of the Security Council, informed Lie yesterday that he was opposed to a commission of inquiry.

Supported U.S. View

The Syrian delegate said he supported the view of the United States delegation that the British should present the case with a definite proposition for the United Nations to act upon.

Meanwhile, the Security Council appeared ready to accept the United States proposal to place the Japanese-mandated islands in the Pacific under a "strategic area" trusteeship to be administered by the United States.

Delegates will renew their discussion of the Pacific islands trusteeship problem next Wednesday. Another meeting is scheduled for Monday on international control of atomic energy.

BRITISH RAILS STILL BLOCKED

Snow And Night Freezes Continue; Many Mines Idle

London, March 8 (AP)—Rail transportation still was badly blocked in Wales and the Midlands today as new snow and night freezes continued in Britain.

At least 25 Welsh coal mones were completely out of action because the miners were snowbound in their villages, and another 34 pits were inaccessible by rail.

Nearly a full division of soldiers was engaged in clearing snow-covered railway switches in freight yards in northern England, and the Ministry of Fuel said the movement of coal to fuel-short homes and factories, "still exceedingly difficult in many places, shows signs of improvement."

200,000 Gallons Of Milk

A cheering bit of news to Londoners was the arrival of 200,000 gallons of milk from western farms, lifting the threat of a milk famine.

The Air Ministry predicted that night freezes and daytime thaws would continue.

A four-day thaw isolated some French villages and high water was reported along the lower Seine and the Somme. Avalanches loosed by rain blocked traffic on some secondary roads in Switzerland. United States Army engineers used explosives in an attempt to break up a 16-mile-long ice pack moving down the Danube near Heidelberg in Germany.

Snow In Britain; Europe's Flood Danger Eases

London, March 8 (AP)—Slightly lower temperatures eased the threat of floods in western Europe today and more snow fell throughout the British Isles.

Temperatures in London and southern England rose slightly, but weather forecasters warned that there was no sign of a break in the nearly two-month-old cold wave—"the worst in living memory."

Snow and ice still blocked transportation between London and the provincial areas. Authorities said that $12,000,000 had already been spent on road clearance and that 10,000 troops had been marshaled to help open the clogged traffic lanes over the weekend.

Birds Fall From Trees

Britain's factory owners were told by the British Board of Trade last night that they would receive exactly one third their normal coal quota until the coal-shortage crisis, caused in part by blocked transport, is eased. Iron and steel plants will get 50 per cent. of their normal needs, the board said.

Up to three inches of snow fell in England's home counties, but at the southern end of the island slowly rising temperatures brought the prospect of rain. At Hastings, on the south coast, hundreds of dead birds fell from the trees when a thaw freed them from their frozen perches.

Avalanches In Switzerland

The four-day thaw isolated some French villages and high water was reported along the lower Seine and from the Pas de Calais area.

Fields near Abbeville in the Somme Valley were under three to four feet of water.

Avalanches loosed by several days of rain blocked traffic on some secondary roads in Switzerland and meteorologists warned of the danger of additional snowslides.

Germany, after two balmy days, got a new taste of winter last night. A thick glaze of ice badly hampered traffic.

Ice Pack On The Danube

Colder weather, retarding the thaw, prevented more than minor floods in the industrial suburbs of Brussels, in the Liege area and in some sections along the Belgian-Dutch frontier.

Frankfurt reported that the danger of floods had eased at least temporarily after some highways had been submerged by the quick thaw.

At Heidelberg, the constabulary reported that engineers were using two tons of explosives daily in attempts to break up a 16-mile-long ice pack moving down the Danube and threatening to wreck the Deggendorf bridge.

Near St. Vallier, France, two persons were reported to have drowned after their yacht struck a bridge and capsized on the flood-swollen Rhone.

British Punish Skipper; He Mixed With Crew

London, March 8 (AP)—A naval courtmartial has ordered Lieut. John Wardle dismissed from his command for prejudicing naval discipline. He was convicted of entertaining his minsweeper crew of five at Christmas luncheon at sea.

The prosecution said commanding officers had been told not to entertain enlisted men in officers' messes at Christmas because "trouble sometimes results."

Wardle told the court he had spent every Christmas afloat since 1942 and had taken part in several similar celebrations.

The verdict also ordered him to be severely reprimanded and to forfeit three months of his seniority.

Britain No Longer Big Power: M.P.

Dublin, March 8 (AP)—Capt. Hugh J. Delargy, Labor member of the British Parliament from Manchester, wrote in an Eire newspaper today that "Britain can never again be a military power of the first order.

"It is bled white by war," he said in a dispatch from London published in Prime Minister Eamon de Valera's Irish Press, for which Delargy is parliamentary correspondent.

Delargy recalled that Winston Churchill once remarked that he had not become Prime Minister to "preside over the liquidation of the empire."

"Winston Churchill is Prime Minister no longer, and even if he were, the results would still be the same," Delargy wrote. "The process of disintegration is too certain for the resistance of even a thousand Churchills . . . never in the world's history did an enormous empire come to such a sudden end."

French Cabinet Maps New Plan For Indo-China

Fighting in Viet Nam Area Dies, Indicating Hope of Peace Negotiations

PARIS, March 8 (AP).—Emile Bollaert, newly appointed High Commissioner for French Indo-China, indicated today that the French government is formulating a new policy for use there.

Dispatches from the Orent said not a single shot had been fired in Hanoi, chief city of northern Indo-China, during the last twenty-four hours and that only minor military activities were reported from Haiduong, Langson and Nam Dinh. Some observers believed a lull was likely pending announcement of the new French policy.

French policy has been to restore authority before entering negotiations with President Ho Chi Minh of the Viet Nam Republic in northern Indo-China. But Vice Admiral Georges Thierry d'Argenlieu, who took an uncompromising attitude toward the Viet Namese, has been dismissed as High Commissioner and Hollaert named to replace him.

Bollaert said today he would not assume his new post until the government's new policy had been determined. He made the statement after a long conference with Premier Paul Ramadier. The National Assembly is to debate the Indo-China problem Tuesday, and the new policy is expected to be formulated soon after.

New Indo-China Head Awaiting Policy

Paris, March 8 (AP)—Emile Bollaert, newly appointed High Commissioner to Indo-China, said today he was awaiting the Government's decision on a new policy toward the colony before assuming his post.

After a conference with Premier Paul Ramadier lasting more than an hour and a half, Bollaert said he did not expect to leave Paris before ten days or two weeks.

The Government, he said, was keeping its attitude fluid until discussions of the Indo-Chinese situation by the National Assembly had been completed. The Assembly is scheduled to debate Indo-China Tuesday. Government policy will be based on the Assembly's conclusions.

3 Americans Face Money Charge In France

Paris, March 8 (AP)—Three United States War Department civilian employés will go on trial Thursday, charged with dealing in counterfeit scrip currency, the United States Army Provost Marshal's office said today.

The three defendants will be Alfred A. McLennon, whose last address the Army said was the Bronx, N.Y.; Fred Portnow, of Yonkers, N.Y., and John W. Chandler, for the past 30 years a resident of Paris.

They were arrested last month along with another American civilian and two Frenchmen for investigation in a counterfeiting operation. Army investigators said the Americans had obtained counterfeit scrip bills from the two Frenchmen and then tried to convert them into money orders or travelers' checks.

When the bills turned up in Paris early in February, the Army closed its commissaries and finance offices for a full day, until all money in them had been examined.

ATOMIC BUILDING FEARED

French Peasants Try to Block Erection of Laboratories

VERSAILLES, France, March 8 (AP)—French peasants, fearful of their lives and crops, threatened today to block plans for the building of national experimental laboratories for atomic research on the plateau of Saclay, twenty-five miles southwest of Paris.

The peasants' objections were serious enough to bring France's top atomic energy expert, Prof. Joliot Curie, to Versailles, where he told a public meeting that the proposed atomic studies would endanger neither the lives nor the wheat crops of the peasants.

He added that Europe's largest cyclotron had been in constant use in Paris for a long period without affecting either the life or property of the capital's residents.

The peasants said they were impressed by the professor's arguments, but wanted to think it over.

PACT TO CURB GERMAN ARMS HELD U.S. AIM

Marshall Indicates Objective Of Four-Power, 40-Year Treaty

Berlin, March 8 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, indicated today that a prime American objective in Moscow will be adoption of a four-power 40-year pact against Germany, in order to give an iron-clad guarantee to the world that the United States intends to maintain her responsibilities in Europe.

He emphasized at a news conference that such a treaty would provide a political framework within which the United States, Britain, France and Russia might develop the final peace pact with Germany.

It would clear away many of the difficulties now blocking Allied peace settlements for Germany and Austria, he said.

Need Is Emphasized

He stressed strongly the need for such a pact, which James F. Byrnes, former Secretary of State, proposed originally for a 25-year period. Marshall recalled that Vyacheslav M. Molotov, Soviet Foreign Minister, suggested informally later that the period be extended to 40 years.

Saying that considerable doubt remained in Europe about the durability of American foreign policy and willingness to maintain responsibilites in Europe, Marshall declared adoption of a 40-year pact would prove to the world that the United States intended to continue her present role as an active participant in European affairs.

He attached importance to such a treaty in guaranteeing that Germany would not rearm and insuring immediate joint action against Germany in case the need ever arises.

Confers With U.S. Leaders

The American secretary plans to leave tomorrow morning for Moscow where the four-power Foreign Ministers' Conference will take up on Monday the peace treaties for Austria and Germany.

He did not permit any direct quotations at the news conference, nor did he touch on any other concrete points regarding his mission. He expressed no opinion on the probable success of the Moscow meeting. Afterward he went into conference with leading American military and political officials in Germany.

Among officials meeting with him were Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, retiring military governor; Lieut. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, McNarney's successor; Robert Murphy, political adviser for Germany, and Lieut. Gen. Mark Clark, former military governor for Austria, who arrived in Berlin today.

Europeans Show Anxiety

Both Byrnes and Marshall encountered, when they came to Europe, the anxiety held by many Europeans that America will not continue to maintain an interest in the fate of Europe. American action after Versailles, when Congress declined to ratify the plan for the League of Nations, is still a vivid memory to Europeans.

The effect of American domestic policies, as between Republicans and Democrats, on American foreign policy, remains a source of anxiety on the Continent.

A security treaty, therefore, would have as one of its major aims the dispelling of doubt about the constancy of American foreign policy.

It would bind the United States, for a relatively long period of time, to participate actively in the central problem of Europe—Germany.

German Problem Complicated

Few observers believe that the Moscow conference will go far toward writing the final treaty of peace with Germany. They believe that it will make a giant stride if it completes the Austrian treaty.

The German problem is far bigger and more complicated, and policies and views of the four major powers are at greater variance. The German issues include:

1. The question of whether reparations for war damages should be taken from current German production. The United States and Britain oppose this, Russia and France favor it.

2. Fixing the levels of German production.

3. Creation of German political organisms, so that through free elections the Germans may take first steps toward democratic government.

Experts do not believe the issues can be resolved in a few weeks' discussions in Moscow. But if the four major powers agree on a security treaty the pact might serve as a foundation on which some of their differences might be reconciled.

Marshall Hints Security Pact Is First Goal

Berlin, March 8 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall indicated today that the United States was hoping for a four-power security pact as an interim solution of the German problem, pending the writing of an actual peace treaty.

Marshall, preparing to depart tomorrow for the Foreign Ministers' conference in Moscow, which will take up the Austrian and German situations, said that completion of a four-power pact was of the highest importance. He left the impression that such a pact was the major United States objective at Moscow.

Willing To Assume Task

Marshall told American correspondents that such a security pact for a 40-year period would clear away many difficulties now blocking allied peace settlements for Germany and Austria.

He said United States proposals for that sort of treaty, first made by his predecessor, James F. Byrnes last year, were a declaration to the world of continuing United States willingness to accept responsibility in European affairs.

Could Satisfy French

Some United States officials expressed belief that such a pact would be welcomed by France and might serve to allay her traditional fear of German aggression.

Marshall said French President Auriol and Premier Ramadier had given him at first hand their views on numerous questions puzzling Europe and confronting the Foreign Ministers at Moscow.

He said he had also studied the German situation here with the highest American military government officials and had arranged to talk with Gen. Mark W. Clark, who served as his deputy in drafting Austrian peace conditions at London last month.

It's Hard To Find 150 Copies Of 'Mein Kampf' To Save

Berlin, March 8 (AP)—Although there were millions of copies of Adolf Hitler's "Mein Kampf" printed in Germany, the United States Library of Congress is having difficulty finding even 150 in the entire American occupation zone, John Bradley Rhind, of the American Military Government's education branch, said today.

"However," Rhind added, "we have reports there may be many copies available in the black market where, Germans say, the book is a popular item and brings 2,000 marks ($200)."

Among 18,000 Banned Titles

Rhind is a member of a group appointed to purge German libraries of militaristic literature under an order issued by the Four-Power Allied Control Authority. The group is working with a master catalogue of 18,000 banned titles.

It is planned, however, to preserve 150 copies of each banned book. These are to be collected by the Library of Congress mission and preserved for use by American universities and the schools and bureaus of other Allied nations.

Many Taken As Souvenirs

"The scarcity of Hitler's books," Rhind said, "may be due to several factors—that the Germans have hidden or destroyed them in fear. Then, too, American troops picked up many as souvenirs.

"One of our people encountered an American here recently with a souvenir copy, bound in white leather, which he offerd to sell for ten cartons of cigarettes."

Ike's Wartime Dog Flying to U. S.

Berlin, March 8 (A. P.).—Gen. Eisenhower's little Scotch terrier, Telek, which followed the Allied commander on the road from England to Germany during the war, is on his way to America.

Telek took off from Berlin today in an American Overseas Airlines plane in custody of the pilot. He is destined to go to California and Capt. Kay Summersby, Eisenhower's former secretary, to whom the General gave the dog when he left Europe.

MUNICH CHARGE IS DENIED

Bavaria Won't Broadcast, U. S. Radio Chief Says

BERLIN, March 8 (AP)—Charles S. Lewis, chief radio officer of the United States Military Government's Information Control Office, denied today that broadcasting in Bavaria would be turned over to the German Government there.

Mr. Lewis issued his statement in response to charges by Field Horine, American radio supervisor in Munich, that plans for the station would return it to the control of the German Bavarian Government. Mr. Horine resigned in protest.

Mr. Lewis said the Military Government intended to authorize the organization of broadcasting corporations as state-owned institutions with the control vested in the people through representatives chosen from all walks of life. Such an organization has been formed in Hesse.

Reich Board to Try Prominent Widows

Frankfurt, Germany, March 8 (A. P.).—Two prominent German widows, Frau Siegfried Wagner and Frau Erich von Ludendorff, must stand trial before denazification boards, German officials said today. They announced earlier that Frau Hermann Goering must face a similar trial.

Frau Wagner's husband was director of the Bayreuth Opera and a son of Richard Wagner, the classic German composer. Dr. Alfred Loritz, Bavarian denazification minister, said she was accused of being a Nazi party member and propagandist. The indictment against Frau Ludendorff will be filed next week. Her husband, a field marshal, collaborated with Hitler in the Nazi putsch in Munich in 1923.

Berlin's Last Elephant Left From War Dies

Berlin, March 8 (AP)—Siam, the big, 27-year-old bull elephant of Berlin's zoological garden, the only elephant in the zoo to survive the rigors and bombs of war, died yesterday—of heart failure.

Sentimental zoo visitors, who remembered Siam's ugliness greeting them just inside the gates of the zoo, said loneliness got on his nerves and contributed to his death, but veterinarians said he had been ill for quite a while.

Brazil Offers Haven For 1000 D.P.'s

Frankfurt, Germany, March 8 (A. P.).—The Brazilian Government has offered to receive approximately 1,000 displaced persons who are skilled industrial or agricultural workers, officials here said today.

REDS SEEK PARTY TIE

Group From Russian Zone Comes Into U. S. Area to Organize

FRANKFORT ON THE MAIN, Germany, March 8 (AP)—German leaders of the Communist-dominated Socialist Unity party came into the American zone from the Russian zone today for political conferences and said they hoped to build a "union of workers' parties in the West."

They implied that they would like to effect immediate "collaboration" between Communists and Social Democrats of the British and American zones with the possibility of a formal merger later.

"We do not believe it is necessary to establish a new party now," they said.

The Socialist Unity party (SED) was created by a fusion of the Communist and Social Democrat parties in the Russian zone, but a similar merger has been defeated up to now by Social Democrats in the Western zones.

German Barracks Renamed

U. S. Army Honors Two of its War Dead in New Designations

FRANKFURT AM MAIN, March 8 (AP).—Two American Military installations in Germany have been renamed in honor of Americans who lost their lives in the war, Army headquarters announced today.

The Neue Kaserne, now used as a constabulary station, will bear the name of Sadowski Barracks in memory of Sergeant Joseph J. Sadowski, of Perth Amboy, N. J.

Gersdorf Kaserne, a displaced persons camp at Wiesbaden, henceforth will be known as Camp Lindsey in honor of Captain Darrell R. Lindsey, of Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Children May Join G. I.'s in Reich

Frankfurt, Germany, March 8 (A. P.).—Americans who have set up housekeeping quarters in Germany will be permitted to have additional members of their families join them, American Army headquarters announced today. The ruling was expected to allow a number of families to be joined by dependent children who have been left in the United States to complete school terms.

Russian Fanfare Is Lacking As Bevin Reaches Moscow

By The Associated Press.

MOSCOW, March 8—British Foreign Secretary Bevin, first of the visiting Foreign Ministers to arrive in Moscow for the four-power conference on Germany and Austria, pledged today that "we shall spend the days ahead of us in trying to make some peace which will prevent any future aggression and let the whole world live in security."

Arriving at the newly cleaned and decorated White Russian station just after noon aboard his dark green special train, Mr. Bevin was greeted by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky, who smilingly welcomed him with the hope he had had plenty of sleep en route because "after March 10 I am not so sure about it."

Observers in the snowy Soviet capital who remembered the arrival of many other distinguished foreign visitors were surprised, however, at the absence of Foreign Minister Molotov, a guard of honor, a band that usually plays the national anthems, and at the lack of display of Russian and British flags.

Brief Greetings

Attired in a black hat and dark overcoat, Mr. Bevin followed Mr. Vishinsky, dressed in the steel gray of the Soviet Foreign Office uniform, from the car and walked across the station on a red carpet spread between giant statues of Stalin and Lenin.

Into a microphone he spoke his few words of greeting "from the British people to the people of Russia" and expressed his determination to work for peace and security and against any future aggression.

To Mr. Vishinsky, who had entered the station a few minutes earlier, laughing and joking with Soviet aides, Mr. Bevin gave assurances that he had been comfortable and had had a "very good trip" from Brest-Litovsk on the Polish-Soviet border.

"It's a very good train," he said.

He appeared tired, however, and went at once to the British Embassy across the Moscow River from the Kremlin, accompanied by British Ambassador Sir Maurice Peterson, Lady Peterson, his aides and a mountain of baggage and diplomatic files.

A platoon of porters in fresh blue uniforms and white aprons, who lined up on the platform had put through a right dress and right and left face military drill a few minutes before, took care of the personal baggage.

In addition to a crowd in the Soviet Foreign Office in military uniforms, welcoming officials included United States Ambassador Lieut. Gen. W. Bedell Smith.

Georges Bidault, French Foreign Minister, also coming by special train, was expected in Moscow late tonight of early tomorrow. Secretary of State Marshall was not expected to arrive by plane from Berlin until tomorrow. [1007]

Bevin Reaches Moscow, First Of Visitors

Moscow, March 8 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, of Britain, arrived at the White Russian railroad station about noon today, first of the visiting foreign ministers to reach the Soviet capital for Monday's Big Four session.

"We shall spend the days ahead in trying to make some peace which will prevent any future aggression and let the whole world live in security," Bevin said on his arrival for meetings at which the foreign ministers will work on peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

Greetings From The British

He spoke into a microphone, recording a message to the people of Moscow, which began:

"I am very glad to be back in Moscow again and bring you greetings from the British people to the people of Russia."

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault was expected by rail late today, but United States Secretary of State George C. Marshall was not expected before tomorrow at the earliest.

Less Rest After Monday

Bevin was received officially by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky, who was dressed in the steel-gray uniform of the Soviet Foreign Office. Vishinsky boarded the green railroad car that brought the British statesman from Brest-Litovsk, and a moment later Bevin followed him to the station platform.

Bevin, who wore a dark overcoat and somber black homburg, said he had a "very good trip" and that the train had been most comfortable. Vishinsky, after saying "Welcome to Moscow," told Bevin he hoped the British visitor was well rested because "after March 10 I'm not so sure about it."

United States Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith welcomed Bevin on behalf of the United States.

Moscow Refurbishes

Marshall planned to take off from Berlin for Moscow tomorrow. Cloudy weather yesterday forced his plane to make an instrument landing in Berlin. [1007]

Russia Permits Broadcasting For Big 4 Parley

And Ends Censorship, of Conference News Only, of Outgoing Dispatches

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, March 8.—The Soviet government agreed today to permit direct broadcasts by American, British and French correspondents from Moscow on the four-power Foreign Ministers conference and informed Americans that Russian censorship on conference news to the world would be lifted officially on Monday, opening day of the session.

Michael J. McDermott, the American press officer, told a news conferee that he received this information from Konstantin Zynchenko, the Soviet press chief.

Foreign reporters at the conference will be skating on thin ice, however, for the Russians will be scanning stories closely for any evidence of non-conference news in confernece copy. All non-conference news remains subject to strict censorship.

Mr. McDermott said "what each reporter files is up to him and each will have in mind the rule that it is to be conference copy if not submitted for censorship. Anything pertaining to Moscow or Russia must be submitted for censorship."

"I am convinced the Soviets want to do everything they can to facilitate coverage of the conference," he added.

The same rules apply to stories mailed or telephoned as to those radioed. What will happen if the Soviets see any violations has not been made known, but it is possible they will insist, then, on screening all copy, which is tantamount to censorship.

The system for daily coverage of the daily sessions of the Big Four Ministers will be roughly similar to that employed at the Paris and New York meetings. British, French and American press officers will meet reporters after each session and tell what occurred.

All sessions will be secret. The reporters then will write their stories and file two copies at the telegraph office slugged "CFM" according to instructions Mr. Zynchenko gave McDermott.

One copy goes around the censor direct to the wireless for code transmission to the United States. The other copy will be kept by the Russians, presumably for later checking.

The broadcasters' system will be the same, except they will get back the uncensored first copy, which then will be broadcast. Voice broadcasts to the outside world from Moscow will be the first in several months.

The Russians will not hold briefing conferences after each session like the other nations, but Mr. Zynchenko told Mr. McDermott he would be available to answer questions of individual foreign reporters. The Russian promised also to arrange a time for all reporters to see the Aviation Industry House where the conference will be held and promised further that while the official lifting of censorship would begin Monday, there would be no censoring of pre-conference stories Sunday.

"We know what we are supposed to do," Mr. McDermott said. "We now know what privilege is given. If int is found out from reading uncensored stories that the rules are being violated then, evidently a screening process will be set up."

The lifting of censorship and the Russian broadcast ban is the result of a promise made by Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes at the New York conference in December when the ministers were invited to hold their next session in Moscow.

The biggest remaining problem is whether Soviet wireless and telephone facilities are adequate to handle an unprecedented huge volume of copy in addition to the expanded file of official communications to Paris, London and New York.

RUSSIA SEES SUCCESS FOR BIG 4 TALKS

Moscow, March 8 (AP)—Belief was strengthened in the Russian capital tonight that the Soviet Union might come forward with a plan for Germany that would be a positive move towards breaking what appeared on the eve of the Big Four Foreign Ministers' conference to be a deadlock between the great powers.

This belief, it should be added, came from Russian sources.

In contrast to the pessimism in the American and British delegations over chances for success at Moscow, there was a spirit of sober optimism among the Russians over the prospect of arriving at concrete decisions. Definitely, there was no pessimism among the Soviet delegation.

Estimating Russian Position

In estimating the Russian position, one should take into consideration:

1. The way the Russians put forward their plan for demobilization at the United Nations meeting at New York—a move which has been hailed in thousands of words as sweeping and progressive, a gesture of leadership.

2. Events of the last week—Russia's own estimation of her agricultural situation and her appraisal of various sections of her industry as backward. These are believed by many persons to have direct bearing on almost every phase of Russian life and as having major significance.

Conference Hall Sparkles

The Foreign Ministers' conference hall in the house of the Soviet aviation industry on the Leningrad highway sparkled brightly as workmen hammered away at finishing touches of its decorations and furnishings.

Moscow's downtown squares were filling with long, sleek Zees, the pride of the growing Soviet automobile industry, which are being assigned to delegations.

Only one visiting Foreign Minister was on hand tonight, Britain's Ernest Bevin, who was resting from his crosscontinent rail trip at the British Embassy.

Bevin Pledges Peace Action

Bevin's first words at alighting at Moscow's White Russian station were:

"We shall spend the days ahead of us in trying to make a sound peace which will prevent any future aggression and let the whole world live in security."

Moscow's foreign colony and its many foreign vistors—more perhaps than at any one time since the soldiers of Napoleon or the hordes of Ghengis Khan swept over the steppes—also recalled Deputy Foreign Minister A. Y. Vishinsky's statement in welcoming Bevin that he hoped the British Secretary had had plenty of sleep because after March 10 he was not so sure.

Bevin's colleagues of the conference, of course, are as miles apart tonight as some foreigners predict they will be during the conference.

Molotov's Birthday

George C. Marshall, United States Secretary of State, was in Berlin, awaiting a plane for Moscow tomorrow.

France's Georges Bidault was rumbling across the western U.S.S.R. by train on his way to the capital, which he was expected to reach by noon tomorrow.

The Soviet Union's Vyacheslav M. Molotov was in Moscow, but beyond that no one knew where because he was not at the station to meet Bevin today and it was not probable that he would show up for tomorrow's arrival of Marshall.

The foreign ministers in arriving in Moscow tomorrow for the opening of the conference Monday will be here on Molotov's birthday. He will be 57.

Positions Of Each Nation

And while Molotov will be celebrating his birthday and his colleagues readying themselves and their delegations for the days ahead, here roughly are the positions of each:

RUSSIA—Demilitarization and de-Nazification of Germany, with removal of all possibility of Germany ever invading any country, particularly Russia, again; reparations, a centralized Germany, what is regarded by the Soviets as a free trade-union movement, prevention of what the Russians call agile efforts of American and British capitalists to gain profits in Germany, establishment of Poland's present western frontiers.

UNITED STATES—Completion of the Austrian peace treaty, establishment of Austrian independence and an end of Allied occupation in that country, a federalized Germany, agreement with Russia on reparations, realization of former Secretary of State James Byrnes's 40-year treaty proposal or something very similar, a Germany that will not cost the American taxpayer any more money.

GREAT BRITAIN—Conclusion of the Austrian peace treaty; a Germany that will not be an expense to the British taxpayer; a higher level of German industry than that allowed by the Potsdam agreement; a go-slow formula on establishing Germany's borders; economic unity, but not incorporation of the Russian Zone of Germany on Russian terms; political unity of Germany developed slowly in a federalization scheme.

FRANCE—Prevention of a centralized German Government; international economic control of the Ruhr Valley; continued capital reparations in the form of industrial plant removals; probable support of Poland's frontier claims.

Duce's Death Ordered By Communist Leader

Rome, March 8—(AP)—The Communist newspaper L'Unita said today the orders to kill Benito Mussolini were issued by Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti.

The newspaper said Togliatti issued the order from Naples in April, 1945, for "the slaying of Mussolini and other major war criminals upon identification" and that the man usually credited with the slaying, whose pseudonym was "Colonel Valerio" obeyed.

L'Unita said Ferruccio Parri, who became on of Italy's postwar premiers also was involved, as the leader at that time of the Committee for National Liberation.

The present whereabouts of "Valerio" is unknown here. Some reports have said he was killed, others that he was abroad.

Stassen Received by Pope

ROME, March 8 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen was received by Pope Pius XII today and said he had found the audience "a deeply moving experience." The Republican leader, winding up two days of fact-finding in Italy, also saw Premier Alcide de Gasperi, the heads of key economic ministries and other Italian leaders.

Rear Admiral Stone Becomes Catholic

Rome, March 8 (A. P.).—United States Rear Admiral Ellery W. Stone, former chief Allied commissioner in Italy, was received today into the Catholic Church. He was reported planning to marry Italian Baroness Renata Arborio Mella di Santelia, member of a family with close Vatican connections.

The 53-year-old naval reserve officer, now chief of the Italian military affairs section of Allied force headquarters, was divorced in Reno recently. He was once president of Postal Telegraph Company. A native of Oakland, Cal., Stone had lived in New York in recent years.

AUSTRIAN NAZIS CAPTURED

Round-Up Nets 57 Who Had Fled to Mountains From Vienna

VIENNA, March 8 (AP)—Vienna newspapers said today that fifty-seven Nazis who had fled from Vienna to the mountains at the end of the war had been arrested in a recent round-up in western Austria.

The newspapers quoted the Ministry of Justice as saying investigation had shown that the Nazis were engaged in black market activities that "extended to other former Nazi groups in various parts of Austria."

Among those reported captured was a former S. S. lieutenant who had been living in Innsbruck. Others were seized in the Salzburg area.

The Ministry has ordered Austrian police to watch closely all displaced persons in western Austria "to prevent any possible gathering and cooperation between former Nazis," the accounts said.

ILO WILL STUDY WAGES

Inquiry Is Intended to Protect Workers' Rights

GENEVA, Switzerland, March 8 (AP)—The governing body of the International Labor Organization decided today to begin a study of wages in various countries with the purpose of protecting the rights of labor and, possibly, extending the principle of guaranteed annual or monthly wages.

The groups, composed of two government representatives, one labor representative and one employer representative from each of the fifty-two countries in the organization, could not agree whether the 1948 conference should be held at Montreal, Lake Success, N. Y., or Geneva. The decision was postponed until this year's conference, to be held in Geneva in June.

Bulgaria Closes Border To End Fund Smuggling

SOFIA, March 8 (AP).—Bulgaria has closed its borders to prevent money smuggling in connection with a currency-exchange program designed to put an end to the black market.

Yesterday, the date on which diplomats, political missions and commercial representatives in Bulgaria were required to exchange their bonds and bank notes, an unofficial blockade caught smugglers trying to deposit large amounts of money with legation attaches for illegal exchange.

Finance Minister Ivan Stephanov announced over the radio that "the exchange of old bank notes and bonds against new ones will be on a lev-for-lev basis and not twenty or more units for one, as in other countries."

Greek Guerrilla Chief Killed, Report

Athens, March 8 (AP)—An unconfirmed press dispatch said today that the self-styled leader of the anti-government guerrilla forces in Greece, identified only as "Captain Markos," had been killed in action.

Only a week ago, the United Nations Balkan investigating commission now sitting at Salonika established field teams to visit various parts of northern Greece in an effort to find Markos. The commission is investigating Greek complaints that guerrilla forces in Greece received aid from Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

Pericles Eliades, a member of the Greek Parliament, whose daughter was recently slain by guerrillas, informed Premier Demetrios Maximos on February 22 that he personally would "execute" Markos if he appeared before the commission as had been suggested.

Surprise Attack

Other press reports said 52 guerrillas had been slain and 27 captured when 3d Mountain Brigade units surprised and attacked a large insurgent band at Spilia on Mount Kissavos, south of Olympus. Another strong band was reported routed by gunfire on Mount Vermion, where a large munitions dump containing machine guns, mortars and anti-tank rifles was discovered.

Another press report said 70 Leftists charged with helping the guerrillas had been rounded up in Volos, where a midnight-to-dawn curfew was imposed. An unspecified number of persons was also reported arrested in Larisa on the same charges.

U. S. ACCUSED OF INTERFERING IN KOVACS CASE

Russian General Forbids Allied Investigation in Hungary

Budapest, SUNDAY, March 9—(AP)—Russian Lt.-Gen. V. P. Sviridov today vetoed an American and British suggestion that a committee of Allied and Hungarian officials investigate Hungarian politicians accused of plotting against the republic.

Sviridov said such procedure "would constitute rude interference in the affairs of the Hungarian republic and the legal rights of the Hungarian people's court."

His note was the first Soviet reaction to an American note protesting Russian interference in Hungarian internal affairs.

Says Investigation Complete

Addressed to Brig. Gen. George H. Weems, of the U. S. military mission, the letter from Sviridov, Soviet occupation forces commander and acting chairman of the Allied Control Council for Hungary, said:

"It is generally known that investigation of the plot has been terminated and the case of the conspirators is being tried by an independent, democratic court of the Hungarian republic. On this basis, I am not in a position to accept your proposal of a joint investigation in the present situation of the case of conspiracy as this would constitute rude interference in the internal affairs of the Hungarian republic and into the legal rights of the Hungarian People's Court."

"Your interference in the affair of Bela Kovacs," he continued, "I must consider an effort directed against the legal rights of the Soviet occupation forces, which include the right which serves for protection of Soviet armed forces on Hungarian territory. Therefore, I cannot consent to such interference by the United States Government.

"The arrest of Bela Kovacs on the ground of crimes against Soviet forces cannot be regarded as interference into Hungary's internal affairs by the Soviet occupation authority."

Kovacs Held As 'Spy'

Kovacs, anti-Communist and avowedly pro-American former secretary-general of the Hungarian Smallholders Party, was arrested on February 25 on charges of "espionage against the Red Army."

Before his arrest, Kovacs was accused by the Russians of being "personally responsible" for the alleged plot to overthrow the Hungarian republic. Attempts to have his parliamentary immunity waived so that he might be arrested by the Communist-dominated Hungarian police had failed and his arrest by the Russians followed.

The Smallholders claim the Communists were using the alleged plot to discredit them and dispense with the legally elected Smallholder parliamentary majority of 57 per cent so that the Communists, who have only 17 per cent of parliament, could take over the country. Both American and British authorities have protested against apparent Soviet interference in Hungarian internal affairs as indicated in the Kovacs arrest, but neither of their notes has been published in this country. Both notes asked for an Allied Control Commission investigation of the alleged plot.

CHINESE RACE WEATHER IN HARBIN DRIVE

Government Concedes Foe Can Return To Offensive In Month

Peiping, March 8 (AP)—Racing the weather with a drive aimed at Communist-held Harbin, Chinese Government forces in Manchuria have crossed the frozen Sungari River in strength.

Chinese press dispatches today predicted intense fighting around Taolaichao, railroad station near the north bank 70 miles southwest of Harbin.

Speedier than usual operations were based on the certainty that in 60 days or less Manchuria would be bogged down in a thaw.

Communists Claim Offensive

Best information gathered from many sources in Peiping was that the Government did win a victory northeast of Changchun, as announced this week, but that the aggressive Communists had suffered a "bloody nose" rather than a decisive defeat. By all accounts it would be a mistake to assume that they have lost their striking power, although they have fallen back.

Even Gen. Tu Li-ming, Government commandant from Manchuria, in his enthusiastic account of the victory, conceded that the Communists under Gen. Lin Piao could return to the offensive in one month.

The Communists continued to report that they were on the offensive in southeastern Manchuria in the Sungari reservoir area, but their present main operation apparently was centered around the important port of Tsingtao in China proper.

Americans Continue Departure

Small United States naval and Marine forces are based at Tsingtao, but elsewhere the Americans were continuing their gradual departure from China in line with the abandonment of mediation efforts.

Harold K. Milks, Associated Press correspondent, reported from Yenan that the last of 146 Communist liaison personnel had been landed in that Communist capital by United States Army planes.

The last Americans in Yenan are supposed to leave within 48 hours except for one man, Col. John K. Sells, of Lompoc, Cal., who will stay there until the Communists release two American officers they captured last Saturday in Manchuria.

China Reds Said To Be Massed Near Tsingtao

Peiping, March 8 (AP)—Chinese press reports said today that between 100,000 and 170,000 Communist troops were massed around the naval base city of Tsingtao while 30,000 Reds pushed toward Kiaohsien, 26 miles to the northwest.

In Manchuria, main Government forces were reported across the Sungari River, with intense fighting expected around the Taolaichao bridgehead. Earlier reports said the vanguard of Government forces had driven north to within 69 miles of Harbin.

To Fly To Changchun

Other Chinese dispatches said Minister of National Defense Pai Chung-hsi would fly to Changchun today to preside at a conference of Manchurian commanders expected to discuss the campaign against Harbin.

In the Shantung province port of Tsingtao, 60,000 Government soldiers prepared for battle as Communists asaulted nearby cities. There was no late word on the fate of Kaomi, 62 miles from Tsingtao on the rail line to Tsinan; nor of Tsimo, 24 miles north of the port city.

Fighting in subzero Manchuria now would be aided by roads and rivers which are frozen and passable. Two months will bring the spring thaws, and deep mud and swift-flowing rivers which make fighting difficult.

Reds Suffer Losses

Communist forces were not crushed by the Government counteroffensive. The Reds suffered heavy losses at Tehhwei, 15 miles south of Sungari, but elsewhere escaped generally intact and in fairly good order.

Gen. Tu Yu-ming's enthusisastic account of the Government victory was hedged by the admission that the Reds could return to the offensive in one month's time. He added that he fully expected two or three more stabs in the direction of Changchun, Manchuria's capital.

440 More In Peiping To Be Evacuated

Peiping, March 8 (AP)—Guarded by Marine platoons and observation planes, 440 Americans attached to the now-defunct executive (truce) headquarters here will entrain for Tangku next Monday and Thursday to board the transport Brewster.

It will be the second evacuation operation over the Peiping-Tientsin line, often harassed by Communist forces. Recently there have been only sporadic attacks.

Observation planes of the 1st Marine Air Wing will be in radio contact with Marine guards on the trains and with Marine airfields at Peiping and Tientsin. In the event of trouble, fighter planes standing by will fly to the scene.

78 To Go To Yokohama

The Brewster will disembark 24 officers, 36 dependents and 18 civil service personnel at Yokohama before proceeding to San Francisco.

It was learned reliably today that the 1st Pioneer Battalion Marines would leave China for Guam within a week, first withdrawal of Marines since the decision to move United States forces from China was announced.

7 Japs On Trial For Massacre Of 5,000

Singapore, March 8 (AP)—Seven Japanese officers, including two generals, will go on trial Monday on charges of responsibility for the so-called "Chinese massacre" in which an estimated 5,000 Chinese were executed in February, 1942, after the fall of Singapore.

The British war crimes staff announced that a strong guard would be maintained around the trial site in Victoria Memorial Hall.

The defendants are Lieut. Gen. Nishimura Takuma, who commanded a Japanese Imperial Guards division; Lieut. Gen. Kawamura Saburo, Lieut. Col. Oishi Masayuki, Lieut. Col. Yokota Yoshitaka, Major Jyo Tomotatsu, Major Onishi Satorou and Captain Hisamatsu.

New Demonstrations Reported In Formosa

Nanking, March 8 (AP)—Reliable sources maintaining direct contact with Formosa said today that fresh demonstrations broke out there Thursday after Gen. Chen Yi, the Governor, announced the provincial administration would be reformed for the benefit of the people.

These sources asserted the demonstrations were instigated by Formosans recently returned from Japan and Hainan Island. Marchers shouted slogans such as "Down with one-party rule" and "We are against civil war."

They reported that Formosans had not yet returned to their jobs since recent riots in which 500 persons were reported killed. They were apparently awaiting Nanking's reaction to what they call a patriotic movement.

Chinese Release Portuguese

Shanghai, March 8 (AP)—Perpetuo Baptista, Portuguese citizen arrested March 3 for questioning in connection with illegal trading in gold bars and foreign currencies, was released on bail today by Shanghai's Woosung garrison headquarters.

Cholera Scare Grips Bangkok

Bangkok, March 8 (A. P.).—The Siamese Capital was gripped by a cholera scare today when it was disclosed that 100 passengers from the ship Turk's Head had escaped from a wharf where they had been held in quarantine since their arrival from China.

Authorities reported that 240 of the ship's passengers had been hospitalized with the disease and that there had been nineteen deaths among them. The Turk's Head arrived with nearly 3,000 Chinese immigrants, although the vessel has a normal capacity of only 800 passengers.

INDIA MOSLEMS ASKED TO HELP ON NEW RULE

Congress Party Invites

League Members To Discuss Government

New Delhi, March 8 (AP)—The All-India Congress party today formally invited the Moslem League to meet Congress representatives to draw plans for taking over the Government of India under the plan of the British Government to withdraw by June, 1948.

"In view of new developments which are leading to swift transfer of power in India," the formal resolution of the predominantly Hindu Congress party working committee said, "it has become incumbent on the people of India to prepare themselves jointly and cooperatively for this change so that this may be effected peacefully to the advantage of all.

"The working committee, therefore, invite the all-India Moslem League to nominate representatives to meet representatives of Congress in order to devise means to meet it."

Constitution Draft

"The working committee will keep in close touch with representatives of the Sikhs and other groups concerned with co-operating with them in steps that may have to be taken in safeguarding their interests."

The Congress group also invited the Moslem League to share in drafting a constitution for independent India.

The appeal for a conference was made while large sections of rich Punjab cities were under stringent police and army control after bitter battles between religious factions, Sikhs and Hindus against Moslems.

Walter Mason, Associated Press correspondent who toured Lahore, capital of the Punjab, yesterday, and Amritsar, Sikh religious and cultural center, today, quoted an official of the province as saying the situation generally was under control except in one or two spots.

Rawalpindi Exception

A. A. Williams, Acting Home Secretary of the Punjab Government, told Mason that the term "under control" did not apply to Rawalpindi, northern Punjab city.

There, Williams said, communal fighting "turned bad yesterday and there was another outbreak this morning."

Aside from Rawalpindi, Mason said other trouble spots were Amritsar, Sialkot, Jullunder and Lahore, "but all are undr strict curfe."

192 Die, 580 Injured In Week Of Punjab Riots

New Delhi, March 8 (AP)—Official reports here showed today that 192 persons had been killed and 580 wounded in riots this week in Punjab province, current trouble spot in an India split by religious and political differences in its struggle toward independence.

These reports listed the following casualties:

In Lahore, provincial capital, 35 dead, 160 hurt; in Amritsar, east of there, 27 dead, 100 hurt; in Jullunder, farther east, 13 dead, 30 hurt; in Multan, in the west, 90 dead, 116 hurt; in Rawalpindi, in the northwest, 27 dead, 175 hurt.

Troops Stop 2-Day Carnage

Dispatches from Punjab, in Northwestern India, reported last night that a British and Indian brigade had restored order in Amritsar, where Sikhs and Hindus had battled Moslems for more than two days with swords, hatchets, iron bars and similar weapons.

These reports said that, in Multan, renewed rioting had forced authorities to reimpose a curfew that had been relaxed after 22 hours, and that in Lahore new stabbing victims were turning up at hospitals.

Government Deadlocked

Outbreaks of fighting, burning and looting broke out after a coalition cabinet made up of Hindus, Sikhs and Moslems outside the Moslem League resigned early this week under pressure from the Moslem League.

The league has been unable to command enough support in the legislature to form its own government and the British governor, Sir Evan Jenkins, has been administering the province's affairs.

E. Brook, Delhi statesman correspondent just back from the Punjab, estimated today that 40,000 persons were homeless in Amritsar with many houses still burning.

Amritsar Toll Heavy

He said a "competent local authority" had estimated the death toll there as high as 500, but added, "no accurate figure is likely to be obtained."

"Most of the riot victims killed on the streets are taken away by their friends for burial or cremation and very few are left for the police to discover," Brook continued. "Many, of course, have perished in burning houses."

"The world-famous Golden Temple of the Sikhs is being used as a refugee camp for the Sikhs," he reported, "and Hindus and Moslems have a well organized rescue service. Many thousands of them are safely installed in outlying districts of the city where the population is predominantly Moslem."

Dutch Unloading U.S. Ship In Java

Batavia, Java, March 8 (AP)—Dutch harbor authorities began unloading the $3,000,000 cargo of rubber and quinine today from the privately chartered American Liberty Ship Martin Behrman seized yesterday by Dutch police and marines. American crewmen refused to help.

Forced to use shore cranes when the crew refused to operate the ship's machinery, the Dutch opened two hatches and began lifting the bales of cargo onto a dock at Tandjongpriok harbor under the protection of armed guards.

The Dutch seized the ship on the grounds the cargo, loaded in a port of the Indonesian Republic, belonged to British and Dutch plantations.

Meanwhile, representatives of nineteen world shipping lines, virtually all the British, American, Canadian, Norwegian, Danish, French, Australian, Hong Kong and Singapore lines operating into the Netherlands East Indies, protested today that they were being discriminated against.

Dutch Unloading Behrman Cargo

Tandjongpriok, Java, March 8 (AP)—Dutch workmen today slowly unloaded the confiscated cargo of the United States Liberty ship Martin Behrman under the eyes of armed Dutch guards. The American crewmen stood by and refused to help.

The crew declined to operate the ship's cranes when the workmen began taking out bales of rubber and quinine bark, part of the million-dollar disputed cargo, and the Dutch were forced to use shore cranes. Dutch sailors, with the assistance of tugs, had moved the Behrman to a berth where cranes were available.

The Dutch claim the Behrman's cargo, the Netherlands East Indies administration maintaining that the cargo, loaded at the Indonesian Nationalist port of Cheribou, came from estates wrested by Indonesians from the Dutch.

Indonesians Called Owner

Attorney James W. Ryan, representing the Isbrandtsen Lines, operators of the United States Government-owned ship, said the cargo became the property of the operators upon receipt of bills of lading from the Indonesian Import-Export Corporation, which he said was "the lawful previous owner."

Informed quarters in Batavia said British-owned Anglo-Dutch plantations were claiming a considerable part of the Behrman's rubber cargo on the grounds that it had "similar rubber in warehouses at the time of Japanese capitulation." These sources also said a British firm and a Chinese merchant had entered claims for the quinine bark.

18 Shipping Lines Protest

In Batavia, meanwhile, representatives of eighteen world shipping lines protested that their interests had been "entirely subordinated" in the N.E.I. and asked facilities here for non-Dutch lines equivalent to those afforded ships under the Dutch flag.

Five shippers' agents—representing virtually all the British, American, Canadian, Norwegian, Danish, French, Australian, Hong Kong and Singapore lines—sent a letter to the Central Harbor Committee

The letter said that quay charges for foreign shippers had been raised 200 per cent effective March 1, and that foreign shippers suffered from discrimination in storage space.

U.S. Seen 'Gratified' By Progress In Japan

Tokyo, March 8 (AP)—The American people are keenly interested in Japan's problems as they relate to achivement of a peaceful and prosperous world, General MacArthur's political adviser said today.

George Atcheson, Jr., returning from a trip to Washington, said Americans "do not forget, but their eyes are turned to the future."

The American Government, he said, was solidly behind MacArthur. He added that he had received the impression that "the American people as a whole are profoundly gratified at the progress of the occupation."

Atcheson, who also heads the Allied Council for Japan, said Americans "expect the Japanese to fashion Japan into a truly democratic and co-operative member of the commonwealth of nations."

Coal Dealer Lays Claim To Jap Throne

Nagasaki, Japan, March 8 (AP)—Kyodo news agency reported today that another Japanese—this time a 65-year-old coal dealer arrested on charges of black-market operations—had laid claim to the throne of Japan.

Satokichi Kumazawa, the agency said, told police he was an offshoot of the Kumazawa family of the imperial southern dynasty.

[In the Fourteenth Century, civil wars caused a rift between northern and southern dynasties. The present emperor is said to be of the former.]

The coal dealer, Kyodo said, expressed regret that documents on his family history had been lost in an air raid.

FILIPINOS VOTE TUESDAY ON TIE TO U.S. ECONOMY

Parity Victory Would Extend Free Trade for Eight Years

Manila, March 8—(AP)—The Philippines Republic, seeking capital to rehabilitate this war-impoverished nation, will submit to decision of the voters Tuesday whether to establish special economic ties with the United States until 1974 or struggle on alone.

Although somewhat confused by an ear-bending pro and con campaign the past three months, the electorate is expected to approve a constitutional amendment giving U. S. citizens equal rights with Filipinos in exploiting natural resources and operating public utilities.

President Manuel A. Roxas, concluding a speaking tour for the parity amendment, said he "could not conceive of an alternative to overwhelming approval of this proposition."

Opponents stressed nationalistic pride, which runs high.

Dr. Jose P. Laurel, puppet president during Japanese occupation who still exerts a powerful political influence, contends that parity means economic bondage for Filipinos. Free on $25,000 bail while awaiting trial on collaboration charges, Laurel is far from discredited.

Best available estimates are that the balloting will be peaceful but lighter than in last April's presidential election, when 2,269,000 voted.

Passage of the parity amendment would implement an executive agreement between Roxas and President Truman, setting in motion ponderous economic forces.

For one thing, the peso would be tied to the dollar for the life of the agreement.

For another, the two countries would engage in mutually duty free trade for eight more years, with gradually increasing tariffs for 20 years thereafter.

Critics have made much of these trade provisions, contending that such industries as sugar would be rehabilitated from war ruin only to encounter American tariff barriers.

Roxas agrees that permanent free trade may not be good for the Philippines, but insists that on a temporary basis it is essential for rehabilitation.

American Parity Victory Predicted

Manila, March 8 (A. P.).—The Philippines Government Bureau of the Census said today its nationwide canvass indicated the American parity amendment would carry by more than 1,000,000 votes Tuesday.

The figures are not official. They were gathered from provincial and municipal officials. The amendment, granting Americans equal rights in developing natural resources, is supported by the Government.

Peru Gets 56 U. S. Planes

LIMA, Peru, March 8 (AP).—The United States turned over to Peru today fifty-six planes and other equipment at the El Pato air base at Talara, in northern Peru, for about $714,000. Ambassador Prentice Cooper signed the transfer in a ceremony at the Aeronautics Ministry.

WARSHIPS RIDE OUT GALE

Battleship Wisconsin, Destroyer Reach Canal Zone on Cruise

CRISTOBAL, C. Z., March 8 (AP)—The battleship Wisconsin, carrying sixty-five officers and 590 enlisted men of the Naval Reserve, Ninth Naval District (Midwest), arrived here today after a five-day training cruise from New York during which the ship rode out a two-day gale.

Capt. C. L. Greene said the Wisconsin and the destroyer Larson encountered the storm soon after leaving New York. The high waves smashed a lifeboat and a boatboom on the battleship.

The Wisconsin will remain here until Monday. It is due back in New York a week from today. On the return trip firing exercises will be held. On Tuesday a ceremony involving change of command is scheduled and Capt. J. O. Higgins of Madison, Wis., will take over from Captain Greene.

Aboard the Wisconsin as the Navy's guests are a group which includes David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America; Thomas Beck, president of Crowell-Collier Publishing Company, and A. J. Drexel Paul of Philadelphia.

2 REPUBLICANS ASSAIL MOVE INTO BALKANS

Truman Expected to Tell Procedure Monday—Inverchapel Confers

Washington, March 8—(AP)—Rumblings of a prospective historic debate over America's role in Southern Europe sounded today as the administration gathered last-minute reports on Britain's position in preparation for a Monday showdown on its course.

Word from the White House was that President Truman probably will announce then, after a conference with 15 congressional leaders, his procedure for dealing with the Greek situation—perhaps a message to a joint session of Congress or a radio broadcast to the nation.

In advance of the Monday meeting at the White House, most congressmen withheld comment on what ought or ought not to be done in the face of Greece's appeal for aid and impoverished Britain's prospective retrenchment. Among these was Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the G. O. P. policy committee who arranged the party's senatorial conference.

U. N. Problem, Says Brown

Two Republican House members, however, issued statements assailing proposed American intervention in Greece:

Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio declared that "the immediate situation in Greece and similar problems in the Middle East and elsewhere are definitely in the realm of the United Nations responsibility and not that of the United States or any other one country alone."

Representative Hoffman of Michigan asserted that American action in Greece would lead to "the demand that we must again send millions of men abroad to fight on foreign soil."

On the other side, Lewis W. Douglas, taking oath as ambassador to Britain, said that "the position and welfare of Britain and the British Commonwealth of Nations is no less significant to the vital national interests of the United States during these critical times than they were during the war." He conferred with the President and announced plans to sail next Saturday.

Forrestal Changes Plans

Following Mr. Truman's cancellation of the Caribbean trip on which he was to have left today, Secretary of the Navy Forrestal announced during the day that he has abandoned plans to attend the fleet maneuvers in the Caribbean Sea. He was to have left Monday. No reason was given for the cancellation but it was believed that Forrestal is remaining here for discussions on the Greek situation.

The late reports on what Britain has been doing toward meeting obligations in Greece were given by Lord Inverchapel, the British ambassador, who conferred with Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson at the State Department at the latter's request.

Reliable diplomatic informants said there remains a "chance" that Britain will retain some responsibility in Greece despite a decision to withdraw about half of the remaining 10,000 to 15,000 Tommies immediately and the remainder by the end of the Summer. These informants said this will depend upon the extent and nature of American aid.

Cut In Requests Rumored

Mr. Truman was reported to be considering scaling down his projected request to Congress for direct authority to supply American aid to Greece.

Although Mr. Truman was given an initial official estimate that $250,000,000 would be needed this year to put the Greeks back on their feet economically, Government officials who have been working on the specific bill of particulars said only a fraction of the total might require action by Congress.

To make up the difference, the use of surplus property and Export-Import Bank credits has been thoroughly explored since Britain served notice of inability to continue supporting the Greek regime.

A large share of a proposed $350,000,000 relief appropriation for liberated countries is earmarked to supply food, clothing and other emergency aid to Greece.

Ultimately, too, Greece is expected to try to qualify for a loan from the World Bank.

The whole situation is complicated by the fact that if and when the United States acts in Greece, it will place this country in a position of choosing sides in an area where the interests of the western powers and Russia have clashed.

Secrecy Criticized

In his statement, Brown declared the administration is "rendering a great disservice to the American people by shrouding the Greek situation in secrecy," and that the people "do not want these mysterious build-ups."

Hoffman declared that "England, whose labor government, after we gave her billions, has seized private industries, destroyed free enterprise, is on the verge of collapse, and no longer can successfully defend her territory."

"So," he said, "comes the propaganda that the United States, with her millions of veterans still in need . . . to save herself, must contribute millions—yes, billions—of dollars to feed and clothe and arm the people of other nations.

"And next will come—and do not be deceived—the demand that we must again send millions of men abroad to fight on foreign soil."

Representative Brown of Ohio Assails 'Secrecy' Over the Situation.

TRUMAN TO GIVE STATEMENT

President Expected to Make His Position Known Monday, but Not to Declare Policy.

Washington, March 8 (A. P.).—Representative Clarence Brown (R.-Ohio) today called on President Truman to turn the critical Greek situation over to the United Nations immediately. Brown protested in strong terms the administration's "secrecy" in making plans for possible direct intervention in the strife-torn Mediterranean country's affairs.

His views were contained in a statement issued shortly after the White House said Mr. Truman probably will make an announcement—but not a policy statement—on the Greek crisis Monday. The President plans a conference on the problem that day with key congressional and Government leaders.

At the State Department, the British Ambassador and Acting Secretary of State Acheson conferred for twenty minutes on the Greek matter.

Brown declared in his statement that "the administration is rendering a grave disservice to the American people by shrouding the Greek situation in secrecy." He asserted that "the people are entitled to a change in technic—they do not want these mysterious buildups.

He expressed "surprise" that President Truman has not made public "whatever proposal he has in mind rather than seemingly to cultivate suspense and then permit congressional leaders to see his proposed message to Congress only an hour or two before it is sent to the Capitol."

Calls for Forthrightness.

Brown said that "if ever there was a time for forthrightness the time is now when we are undoubtedly faced by what will be a succession of crises in foreign affairs." The situation, he said, "presents a clear opportunity for the United Nations to function as an organization."

Meanwhile, Secretary of the Navy Forrestal canceled plans to attend fleet maneuvers in the Caribbean. He and a party of Congressmen were scheduled to leave Washington Monday.

Presidential Secretary Charles Ross, discussing the meeting of Mr. Truman with congressional and Government leaders Monday, told reporters: "In all probability there will be some announcement at that time as to his plans regarding the Greek situation."

Later, Ross emphasized that it will not be a "policy announcement" but will consist of some word as to how and when Mr. Truman will state his views.

Asked whether the President planned a foreign policy speech, Ross said: "There will be no further announcement in that respect until after he talks with congressional leaders Monday morning."

To a question whether the President would send a message to Congress, another whether he would address a joint session, or whether his position would be made known in a formal statement, Ross declined to say.

Other Matters Awaiting.

Ross also declined to elaborate on the crisis brought about by Greek appeals for financial assistance to bolster her economy. This caused the President to cancel his projected sixteen-day trip to the Caribbean area, which was to have started today.

It was understood that other questions concerning eastern Mediterranean countries, including Turkey, probably would enter the discussions Monday. The conference will be the second held since Great Britain informed the United States that she would have to cease financial aid to the Greek Government.

In both congressional and diplomatic quarters, it was expected that Mr. Truman will ask Congress for authority and money to shoulder the lion's share — and perhaps even more—of Britain's burden in Greece to bulwark southern Europe against the spread ofCommunism.

Cautious Phrasing Seen.

The decision will come at a time when Secretary of State Marshall sits down in Moscow with the diplomatic chiefs of Britain, France and Russia in an effort to work out the future of Austria and Germany.

Little more than a week ago Mr. Truman grimly laid down to a smaller bi-partisan group the news of the British decision and of Greece's plight, stressing its potential impact on the balance of power in Europe and perhaps the whole world.

Although the full story of that secret conference has not been told, it was understood that he emphasized that collapse of the present Greek Government would mean its replacement by one under communist control. This would mean that a nation working in close co-operation with Russia would be placed astride the British lifeline to the Near East, flanking Turkey and the strategic Dardanelles.

The extent of the aid to Greece which Mr. Truman will recommend remained uncertain, although the requirements have been estimated at $250,000,000 for this year with perhaps another $100,000,000 spread over a five-year period.

The Task Ahead.

Officials who helped draft the specifications said that approximately half of the funds would be earmarked for strengthening the Greek armed forces. This would serve several purposes:

1. Help build up the Greek Army as Britain withdraws its troops under a plan to remove almost half of the remaining 10,000 Tommies immediately and the balance by summer's end.

2. Make the Greek Army an effective enough fighting force to crush the civil strife.

3. By removing the civil fighting, pave the way for effective use of relief and reconstruction aid to put Greece back on her feet economically.

Athens dispatches yesterday quoted a military informant as saying that preparations are under way for an all-out campaign to stamp out leftist guerrillas in Greece with the use of fighter and bomber planes as well as infantry.

Should the Greeks be counting on use of American material for this offensive, the administration now has authority to transfer surplus armament. Huge stockpiles of this equipment remain in Europe, largely cached in Germany. Congress, however, would have to pass legislation for the transfer or loan of any equipment other than surplus.

DOUGLAS SWORN IN; WILL SAIL MARCH 15

MAR 1947

Washington, March 8 (A. P.).—Lewis W. Douglas today took the oath of office as American Ambassador to the Court of St. James's at the State Department.

The former Budget Director, in a brief talk following the ceremony, emphasized the importance of Great Britain's world position to this country at a time when that nation is facing an economic crisis at home and political difficulties abroad, notably in Greece and Palestine. He said: "The position and welfare of Britain and the British Commonwealth of Nations are no less significant to the vital national interests of the United States during these critical times than they were during the war.

"In appointing me to be the Ambassador to the Court of St. James's, the President has conferred on me a great honor which carries with it a great responsibility in a period charged with great difficulties.

"I shall do my best to meet these responsibilities with credit to my country."

Douglas, who conferred earlier in the day with President Truman, told reporters he plans to sail for England March 15.

Ask Canada Aid in Inquiry

House Members Want Testimony From Gouzenko Spy Exposer

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP).—Representative Karl Mundt, Republican, of South Dakota, said today that the House Committee on Un-American Activities was "checking" the possibility of arranging with Canadian authorities for the appearance before it of Igor Gouzenko, key figure in last year's Canadian espionage investigation.

Representative Mundt, vice-chairman of the committee, recently told the committee that Gerhard Eisler, now under investigation as an alleged Soviet agent in the United States, was linked with Sam Carr and Fred Rose, both of whom were named as leaders in the Canadian espionage activities.

Mr. Gouzenko is the Russian Embassy cipher clerk who exposed espionage activity in the dominion in 1945. Mr. Mundt said Mr. Gouzenko would be questioned on harmful activities of persons in the United States suspected of being associated with the Canadian case.

D.C. Unit Wants Witness Tried

Washington, March 8 (AP)—Representative Nixon (R., Cal.) said today a subcommittee would ask the House Committee on Un-American Activities to approve next Wednesday a contempt citation against Leon Josephson, former Trenton (N.J.) lawyer.

Josephson refused to testify to the subcommittee in New York last Wednesday on a passport case involving Gerhard Eisler, whom the full committee has called the "supreme" Communist authority in America.

DAY

Nixon is chairman of the subcommittee.

The House has already cited Eisler for contempt for refusing to take the oath as a witness at a hearing of the full committee, and a grand jury here has indicted him.

The committee has received testimony that Eisler's picture, Josephson's handwriting and the name of Samuel Liptzen, of New York, appear on a passport for which Eisler applied in 1934.

Nixon's subcommittee went to New York to question Josephson and Liptzen about this. Liptzen testified. Nixon said Josephson refused on grounds the full committee was organized unconstitutionally because Representative Rankin (D., Miss.), one if its members, was improperly elected to Congress.

Decorates Nimitz and Others for Aid During War

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP).—Seven naval officers, including Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, were decorated today by the Chinese government for their "outstanding service to China" during World War II.

Those decorated, in addition to Admiral Nimitz: Commander Robert F. Nelson, of Bryn Mawr, Pa. and Rhinelander, Wis.; Captain Gale E. Griggs, of Laguna Beach, Calif.; Rear Admiral Wilfred J. McNeil, of Boone, Iowa; Captain Hoyt S. Scott, of Cleveland and Marysville, Ohio; Commander William D. Glenn jr., of Tenafly, N. J. and New York City, and Commander Theodore B. Dickson, of Arlington, Va.

Austria Thanks U. S. For More U.N.R.R.A. Aid

WASHINGTON, March 8.—A cable of thanks from the Austrian government to the United States for increasing by $20,000,000 its budget to prevent starvation there was released today by Major General Lowell W. Rooks, director general of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

The cable from Vienna, signed by Federal Chancellor Leopold Figl, said: "Increase of U. N. R. R. A. program by $20,000,000 represents most important assitance in direct need for feeding of Austria. In the name of the government I offer warmest thanks for your effective support and understanding of our very difficult situation."

The Austrian Legation here, commenting on the cable, said: "We feel that the American people ought to be informed on the gratefulness of U. N. R. R. A. recipient countries."

McKellar Promises Fight On Lilienthal

Washington, March 8—(AP)—Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) today promised "the damnedest fight that was ever put on in the Senate" against David E. Lilienthal.

The Senate Atomic Committee is to vote Monday on Lilienthal's nomination to head the Atomic Energy Commission with indications of approval by a top-heavy majority. But McKellar, who has led the fight in committee hearings, told newsmen he will continue the battle on the floor.

A prompt committee report would place the nomination on the Senate calendar for action Wednesday.

Two Republican senators told a reporter today that Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) has indicated to them that he does not favor Senate confirmation of Lilienthal.

Bricker, a member of the committee, may cast the only vote in that group against the nominee.

Clare Hoffman Opposes Speedy Service Merger

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP).—The chairman of the House Expenditures Committee, Representative Clare E. Hoffman, Republican, of Michigan, hung up a "go slow" sign today for President Truman's proposal that the armed services be unified.

"What's the rush?" he replied, when asked when the committee will start considering the legislation.

"Are we getting ready for a third world war and need this unification bill passed to win it?"

Representative Hoffman indicated that if he has his way the legislation will be sidetracked until the committee concludes current inquiries into surplus property disposal, State Department efficiency and alleged labor racketeering. The committee is expected to decide next week when it will take up the unification bill.

"I'm tired of these New Deal tactics of rushing legislation through Congress," Representative Hoffman said. "Some people think that if the President asks for something today and we don't pass it tonight, the sun won't come up tomorrow."

REFUSES CHINESE DEAL IN BOGUS BILL SEARCH

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—James J. Maloney, chief of the Secret Service, has refused to bargain with Chinese officials for the plates used in making bogus $20 and $50 bills which have turned up in this country.

Mr. Maloney told the House Appropriations Committee the bills are part of an "influx of counterfeit notes from abroad" and are "two of the most deceptive counterfeits we have ever seen."

He said he sent two agents to China to trace down the source but they failed.

"After our agents returned," he related, "we got communications from the Chinese officials of the police department asking us how much we would pay if they got the plates for us.

"It is just one of those things. If you agree to a price they are liable to get a set of plates made up for you or run off a million dollars' worth and then send you the plates. So I did not get into that one at all.

"Counterfeiting is increasing," Mr. Maloney testified. "We know that recently there has been considerable activity in the purchase of materials which can be used for making counterfeit money and which, until a short time ago, were very hard to get because of wartime restrictions.

"We also know that many inveterate counterfeiters who had lucrative jobs in war industries have now lost these jobs and are returning to counterfeiting," he said.

HOUSE ASKED TO WAIVE SHIP SAFETY RULES

Committee Approves Year's Extension of Wartime Sea Practices

Washington, March 8—(AP)—The House Merchant Marine Committee today reluctantly approved waiving ship safety requirements for another year but said "we were just plain lucky" that no disaster has occurred so far.

NIGHT

In a formal report, the committee said it was "extremely reluctant" to request continuance of the Coast Guard's authority to allow passenger ships to ply the seas in violation of normal peacetime safety rules.

Requested By Truman

The legislation approved by the committee is to come before the House next week. It was requested by President Truman.

Its necessity, the committee said, stems from "the situation facing the American Merchant Marine today and its relation to our commitments abroad."

MAR 1947

"At the present time," the committee noted, "the privately operated American Merchant Marine is in a period of transition between its wartime activities and its peacetime competition with the ships of other maritime nations.

"If our ships were withdrawn from world passenger trade because certain safety standards could not be waived, our future competitive position in the world shipping picture would be irrevocably damaged."

Even after safety waivers are granted, the committee said, American ships are substantially safer than those of other nations.

Few Ships Meet Standards

With the exception of the America, several Grace Line ships operating in the South American trade, and a number of passenger vessels operated by the United States Lines, the committee declared, "practically no American ship now being used to carry passengers complies with the safety standards prescribed by existing statute and regulation."

The British Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary, the committee added, "do not comply with the high American safety standards."

The original law allowing the Coast Guard to waive safety requirements was enacted to meet wartime needs and expires at the end of this month.

"Fortunately," the committee commented, "no direct loss of life or of ships directly attributable to these waivers occurred during these years. But, as the chief of Office of Merchant Marine Safety of the Coast Guard testified, 'we were just plain lucky'."

G.O.P. SENATORS SUMMONED TO UNITY PARLEY

Washington, March 8—(AP)—Party leaders called all 51 Republican senators today to meet Monday night to decide, among other things, whether they can get together on the issue of rent controls.

The announcement came from Senator Taft (R-Ohio) after a meeting of the Senate Republican policy committee, which had been called to consider what he called a "wide difference of opinion" over rent control extension.

Monday night's larger meeting, he told reporters, will try to solidify Republican opinion on this, as well as the related matter of what to do about the dying Office Of Price Administration. Senator Vandenberg will report on international developments.

Baldwin Plea Scores

Taft remarked that consultations are being held all the time between Republican leaders in Congress and officials of the party's National Committee. This comment was prompted by a letter from Senator Baldwin (R-Conn.) to Carroll Reece, Republican national chairman, proposing unity conferences with the party "leadership" on the legislative program. His letter was written Wednesday and Reece is expected to answer it upon his return from a Western speaking trip.

"Would it be possible," Baldwin wrote, "for the leadership to get together in 'off the record' sessions with the Republican members of the Senate, for example, outline the program and then get the greatest degree of unanimity possible on that program? We have inherited a mess, but it isn't going to be sufficient to say that the mess was so great that we weren't able to do anything about it."

Baldwin is one of the 18 freshman senators demanding a greater voice in party affairs.

Rent Bill Returned

A Senate Banking subcommittee has submitted a bill to increase rents 10 per cent and transfer supervision over controls from OPA to the courts. However, the full Banking Committee sent it back with instructions for the subgroup to "continue its labors."

Taft said he personally wants Congress to close up OPA "as quickly as possible" and transfer its rent and other controls elsewhere. He said also that some landlords deserve a rent increase but "there are others who have had no cost increases and a boost in rents is not justified."

Senator Bridges (R-N. H.) reported yesterday that a Senate-House committee, assigned the job of adjusting OPA appropriation bills passed by the two branches, had agreed on "a death sentence for OPA and other hangover wartime agencies." He said it was agreed to give OPA about $14,000,000 to wind up its affairs by July 1.

Gore Asks 3 P.C. Interest Cut In Tax Refunds

MAR 1947

Washington, March 8 (AP)—Representative Gore (D., Tenn.) proposed today that Congress save $33,000,000 in the 1948 budget by cutting the interest rate on income tax refunds in two.

He said this would "provide some real economy" in the first big appropriation bill of the Eightieth Congress, which he called a Republican "hidden ball trick—a sham and a phony."

As it came from the GOP-controlled Appropriations Committee, the $12,388,029,971 measure providing funds for the Treasury and Post Office lopped $897,072,750 off President Truman's budget estimates.

DAY

Tax Refund Cut Proposed

But Gore, a member of the committee, declared $800,000,000 of the apparent saving was achieved by slashing the estimate for tax refunds. The refunds will have to be made, he said, and Congress will have to provide the money now or later.

He said cutting the interest on tax refunds from six to three per cent would effect a real saving, mainly at the expense of corporations which regularly overpay their taxes. Interest on refunds last year totaled $66,125,230.

"You will see some of the same names of big companies on the refund list year after year," Gore commented. "They can't get six per cent interest anywhere else, although I'm not saying they deliberately overpay."

Would Not Change Statute

Gore's proposal would not change the statutory requirement that six per cent interest must be paid on taxes not paid on time.

The Tennessean said the Treasury-Post Office bill as it stands would make it impossible for House GOP leaders to achieve their goal of an overall $6,000,000,000 budget cut without abolishing every other Federal agency except the Army, the Navy and the Veterans Administration.

Including the $800,000,000 tax refund item, the committee chopped $882,716,750 from the President's budget estimates for the Treasury and $14,356,000 from Post Office estimates.

Says Cut Less Than Billion

"Even allowing for the phony tax refund reduction," Gore said, "the overall cut is less than $1,000,000,000, which means that Republicans must cut $5,000,000,000 from remaining bills to reach their goal of $6,000,000,00.

"There is only $24,000,000,000 covered by budget estimates in the remaining bills and $19,000,000,000 of that is for the Army, the Navy and the Veterans Administration.

"That leaves the Republicans the choice of abolishing all other functions of the Government or cutting the $5,000,000,000 from the Army, the Navy and the veterans, which they won't do."

Taber Retorts

Representative Taber (R., N.Y.), chairman of the Appropriations Committee, retorted:

"We must expect that kind of criticism from those wanting expenditures to continue at an unjustifiable rate.

"The Treasury's own figures show that $300,000,000 can come off the tax refund item without any change in the tax laws, while testimony developed by the committee shows a probable saving of at least $300,000,000 more.

"There can't be very much phony about that."

JOBLESS VETERANS COST TWO BILLIONS

Over 6,500,000 Have Drawn Checks for a Week or More—Veteran Population Listed

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—The Veterans Administration, which has paid almost $2,000,000,000 to jobless veterans, said today 217,841 former service men had exhausted their special veterans' unemployment allowances.

The veteran population by States as of Feb. 28, excluding deaths and veterans who returned to active service, is:

Alabama, 274,000; Arizona, 59,000; Arkansas, 178,000; California, 883,000; Colorado, 115,000; Connecticut, 204,000; Delaware, 30,000; District of Columbia, 96,000; Florida, 212,000; Georgia, 286,000; Idaho, 57,000; Illinois, 844,000; Indiana, 352,000; Iowa, 238,000; Kansas, 181,000; Kentucky, 267,000; Louisiana, 238,000; Maine, 88,000; Maryland, 213,000; Massachusetts, 486,000, Michigan, 559,000; Minnesota, 279,000; Mississippi, 201,000; Missouri, 373,000; Montana, 57,000; Nebraska, 120,000; Nevada, 18,000; New Hampshire, 51,000; New Jersey, 481,000; New Mexico, 59,000.

New York, 1,466,000; North Carolina, 335,000; North Dakota, 59,000; Ohio, 764,000; Oklahoma, 229,000; Oregon, 130,000; Pennsylvania, 1,130,000; Rhode Island, 82,000; South Carolina, 172,000; South Dakota, 58,000; Tennessee, 291,000.

Texas, 710,000; Utah, 68,000; Vermont, 33,000; Virginia, 286,000; Washington, 198,000; West Virginia, 205,000; Wisconsin, 288,000; Wyoming, 28,000.

Alaska, 4,000; Canal Zone, 3,000; Hawaii, 28,000; Philippines, 7,000; Puerto Rico, 52,000; other countries, 15,000.

Hawaii is the only state or territory with no exhaustions whatever. Of 4,000 veterans in Alaska, only two have exhausted their benefits.

Pennsylvania and Texas lead in the number of exhaustions—14,335 and 17,384, respectively.

New York's veterans have drawn the greatest amount of benefits, $209,327,316.

Puerto Rico's 52,000 veterans are using up their payments at the greatest rate, 8,610 having exhausted their privileges.

Since the beginning of the VA program to help job-seeking veterans, in September, 1944, more than 6,500,000 veterans have drawn unemployment checks for one week or more.

VA allows veterans a maximum of $20 a week for fifty-two weeks or, if the veteran is self-employed unprofitably — usually in agricultural work—$100 a month for ten and two-fifths months.

Through Jan. 25, VA paid $1,692,016,305 on the weekly basis to unemployed veterans. Payments to self-employed veterans up to Jan. 1 totaled $264,201,008.

The Veterans Administration said the pace of payment exhaustions had increased steadily, totaling 58,637 during January, compared with 38,000 during December.

Total exhaustions through December and total payments made to Jan. 25 in the New York area and Massachusetts were: New York, 7,009 and $204,037,809; New Jersey, 4,668 and $77,322,252; Connecticut, 495 and $20,790,153; Massachusetts, 4,123 and $76,968,252.

458,749 Patients Listed In VA Hospitals In 1946

Washington, March 8 (AP)—The Veterans Administration tonight said nearly 55 per cent of its hospital beds were reserved for neuropsychiatric patients, not because they are so numerous but because their treatment takes so long.

In 1946, only 11.77 per cent of the veterans admitted for treatment were mentally ill. Of the 53,981 neuropsychiatric patients admitted, fewer than 26,509 were actually psychotic. The others suffered character and behavior disorders and organic conditions of the nervous system.

VA hospitals admitted 458,749 veterans for treatment in 1946, an increase of 61.3 per cent over 1945.

SUGAR RATION EXTENSION FOR YEAR BACKED

Senate Committee Also Recommends Continued Price Control

Washington, March 8 (AP)—Another year of rationing and price ceilings on sugar was recommended by the Senate Banking Committee today on a 10-to-3 vote. The committee proposed that the Department of Agriculture take over the job from OPA.

Four Republicans and six Democrats on the Senate Banking Committee voted to extend sugar controls until March 31, 1948. Three Republicans voted no.

Committee witnesses have predicted that retail sugar prices might jump to 30 or 40 cents a pound if controls were allowed to expire.

Retail prices now range from 8 to 9 cents.

35 Pounds Per Book

Senator Flanders (R., Vt.), acting chairman, said Clinton P. Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture, had told the committee that supplies will be large enough to assure that housewives can buy the full 35 pounds per ration book this year—ten more pounds per person than last year—if controls were extended.

Flanders also noted that under the extension bill the Secretary of Agriculture must remove the controls if he finds that domestic and world supplies of sugar will permit this at anytime during the next twelve months.

"We are working against a deadline on this," Flanders said, because wartime rationing authority will expire at the end of this month unless extended.

Near Top Of Work List

Republican congressional leaders have the sugar-control bill near the top of their legislative work list.

The committee action today brought another split in Republican ranks and came after a closed-door session which senators present described as "very argumentative at times."

The three Republican votes against the bill were cast by Senators Bricker, of Ohio; Buck, of Delaware, and McCarthy, of Wisconsin.

Government Support

Voting for the extension were Senators Flanders, Tobey (R., N.H.), Capehart (R., Ind.), Cain (R., Wash.), Wagner (D. N.Y.), Maybank (D., S.C.), Sparkman (D., Ala.), Fulbright (D., Ark.), Taylor (D., Idaho), and Robertson (D., Va.).

Support for the extension of controls came from Government officials and numerous trade representatives of sugar refiners, bakers, candy manufacturers and small bottling works.

Opponents complained that the system of allocating sugar on a basis of past use tended to create monopolies that prevented entry of new business or expansions among industrial users.

CUT IN PRICES BY HARVESTER FIRM PLANNED

Savings Of $20,000,000 To Consumers Forecast By McCormick

Chicago, March 8 (AP)—International Harvester Company today announced it would institute before April 1 "substantial reductions" in prices of approximately half its line of tractors, farm machines, motor trucks and industrial power equipment which would save consumers an estimated $20,000,000 annually.

At a news conference this afternoon, Fowler McCormick, chairman of the board of directors, said the company was taking the action "because we believe there is nothing more important to this country than to lower the prices of the goods that people buy."

MAR 1947

Items Not Specified

McCormick did not specify the items to be reduced and the amounts of reductions, but estimated the price cuts would save Harvester customers $20,000,000 a year.

"I want to make it clear," McCormick said, "that these proposed reductions are not a result of consumer sales resistance or competitive factors. . . . They were undertaken because the company realizes it has a social responsibility to consumers."

Stating that he had been "tremendously impressed" by the action of the Ford Motor Company in reducing prices despite increased wages, McCormick said "we feel the policy is more important than dollars."

Outlook Called Factor

John L. McCaffrey, Harvester president, said "the business outlook" had made it possible for Harvester to move toward the goal of lower prices.

"Our ability to maintain this lower level of prices will depend in part on what happens to the prices and flow of materials that we buy from others. Because we believe price reduction is vital, we are willing to assume the risks that are involved.

"Our success will depend, too, on uninterrupted production at reasonable wage levels. This is not a program that can be carried out if it is hampered by strikes or work stoppages.

"In our own case, we cannot, reduce prices on all our products. Some of our products lose money, some barely break even, and some show a profit. The reductions will, therefore, not be uniform and each one will be individually made."

U. N. To Fire 300 In Economy Drive

Lake Success, N. Y., March 8—(AP)—Secretary-General of the United Nations Trygve Lie will announce to a U. N. staff meeting on Tuesday the impending dismissal of approximately 300 U. N. employes because of the economy budget imposed on the organization during the last General Assembly, it was learned today.

Lie also is expected to announce per-diem expense payments of $5 and $7 will be cut in half.

It was reported unofficially that more than 100 U. N. employes already have received dismissal notices, effective April 15. Many however, have received promises of re-employment if possible in other departments when vacancies occur or the budget makes it possible to add employes. [illegible]

ERICSSON HELD BEYOND REPAIR, MAY BE JUNKED

New York, March 8—(AP)—Doubt whether the former luxury liner John Ericsson would be repaired after the fire which swept the vessel at a New York pier yesterday was expressed today by Capt. Hewlett R. Bishop, Atlantic Coast director of the Maritime Commission.

After inspecting the vessel with Vice Admiral W. W. Smith, commission chairman, Captain Bishop said a decision would await a more complete survey.

He said it would cost $500,000 and six weeks' work to put the Ericsson in "pre-fire condition" and $5,000,000 to make her into a cabin class vessel meeting American safety standards.

The Ericsson, 20-year-old former Swedish-American liner, is owned by the Maritime Commission. A dormitory-type transport, it has been operating on temporary waivers from the Coast Guard on safety standards.

Captain Bishop said the Coast Guard probably would be reluctant to continue the waiver indefinitely, and the commission's authority to operate ships ends on July 1. He said because of the vessel's age there was little liklihood any American or foreign company would want to purchase it.

WARNS ON ATOMIC 'QUACKS'

Dr. Morris Fishbein Sees Many Drawn to New Energy Field

NIAGARA FALLS, March 8 (AP)—Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of The Journal of the American Medical Association, warned today against an invasion of "quacks" in the field of atomic energy.

Speaking at a clinic day program of the Niagara Falls Academy of Medicine, Dr. Fishbein pointed out that "there are still a great many cancer quacks because people fear cancer" and added:

"Atomic energy has to be investigated as to its usefulness in medicine. Whenever a new discovery is made by scientists, there are a great number of quacks. While there are no atomic energy quacks now, I predict there will be a great number of them."

Atom Can Be Put To Peacetime Use Soon, Says Compton

Los Angeles, March 8 (AP)—Dr. Karl T. Compton, eminent physicist and president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, says that "if the nations of the world display as much interest in peacetime use of atomic energy as they did in producing the bomb, the atom can be working for us fairly soon."

Pilot plants for the production of atomic power will be in operation within five years, Dr. Compton said here while en route to attend the fortieth anniversary celebration of the University of Hawaii.

Estimates Time Lapse

He said it will take five years to develop experimental power stations and twenty years to build major power centers. The scientist said that even then such atomic plants may not be able to compete economically in areas that have abundant fuel and water power.

Dr. Compton, who headed the joint chiefs of staff evaluation board in the Bikini tests last summer, said atomic power should be practical for ships as the saving of fuel weight and space would compensate for the massive shielding against radioactivity which would be required.

Comments On Lilienthal

Regarding the political aspects of the subject, the physicist said topflight atomic scientists do not contemplate a strike if David Lilienthal's appointment to head the Atomic Energy Commission is not confirmed.

However, he added that "there aren't many scientists left in the project that are highly trained and if they get too disgusted they may leave. They have come to have quite a bit of faith in Lilienthal."

Two Arabian Horses, Gift of King Ibn Saud To U. S. Girl, End 10,000-Mile Plane Trip

MAR 1947

MIAMI, Fla., March 8 (AP)—Two spirited Arabian horses, the gift of the King of Saudi Arabia to an American girl, arrived here today none the worse for an airplane trip of some 10,000 miles across Africa, the Atlantic and northward from South America.

The animals, one gray and one sorrel, were lowered to the ground from a Skyways International plane. They will be transshipped to San Francisco, Calif., where they the to be delivered to Miss Barbara Bechtel.

The shipper was listed here as Abdul-Aziz Ibn Abdur Rahman Al-Faisal Al Saud, King of Saudi Arabia.

No one here knew the circumstances of the gift. The horses drew a big crowd as they were blindfolded and lowered, still in their shipping crates, by a cargo hoist.

Barbara's father is Stephen D. Bechtel, head of a San Francisco contracting firm which is building oil pipelines and refineries in the Near East.

The Bechtel family arrived in New York last week after a trip to Germany, France, Egypt and Arabia. Barbara, a junior at the University of California, is an accomplished equestrienne.

LEAD DAY PALESTINE

JERUSALEM, MARCH 8-(AP)-BRITISH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN TEL AVIV AND THE POLICE STATION IN JAFFA, A FEW MILES TO THE SOUTH, ARE "NOW UNDER ATTACK," THE PALESTINE GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCED OFFICIALLY TONIGHT.

(THIS DISPATCH WAS FILED AT 9:45 P.M., JERUSALEM TIME OR 2:45 P.M. E.S.T.)

THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID TEL AVIV ARMY HEADQUARTERS, IN "CITRUS HOUSE," WERE ATTACKED AT 9 P.M. (2 P.M., EST) AND THAT THE ASSAULT STILL WAS CONTINUING.

THE TWIN ATTACKS CLIMAXED A DAY OF VIOLENCE IN NORTHERN PALESTINE IN WHICH AT LEAST 10 PERSONS WERE WOUNDED IN FOUR EARLIER OUTBREAKS OF VIOLENCE BY TERRORISTS.

A BRITISH CONSTABLE AND AN ARAB TEMPORARY CONSTABLE WERE WOUNDED WHEN THREE GRENADES WERE THROWN INTO THE SARONA POLICE HEADQUARTERS ON THE EDGE OF TEL AVIV.

THREE SOLDIERS WERE HURT SERIOUSLY WHEN TWO GRENADES WERE HURLED AT A BARBED WIRE BARRIER AROUND A BRITISH SECURITY ZONE IN JERUSALEM. TWO SUPPLEMENTARY POLICEMEN WERE INJURED IN AN EXPLOSION AT AN ARMY CAMP IN HAIFA. THREE PERSONS WERE WOUNDED BY RIFLE FIRE IN THE JAFFA-TEL AVIV MARTIAL LAW ZONE.

KHOURY SUGGESTED THREE POSSIBLE STEPS FOR BRITAIN TO TAKE:

1. DECLARE PALESTINE INDEPENDENT IMMEDIATELY AND NOTIFY THE UNITED NATIONS OF THE MOVE AS THE BRITISH DID IN REGARD TO TRANS-JORDAN.
2. CONTINUE THE MANDATE OVER PALESTINE AND PRESENT IT TO THE TRUSTEESHIP COUNCIL.
3. RESIGN THE MANDATE, WHICH WOULD AUTOMATICALLY THROW THE COUNTRY TO THE UNITED NATIONS FOR SUPERVISION.

BRITISH SOURCES SAID BRITAIN HAD INTENDED ALL ALONG THAT THE PALESTINE CASE SHOULD BE HANDED TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY. THEY ADDED, HOWEVER, THAT IN TAKING THIS COURSE BRITAIN WANTED A COMMISSION OF INQUIRY TO BE SET UP IMMEDIATELY SO IT COULD WORK UNTIL THE ASSEMBLY MEETS IN SEPTEMBER. THE COMMISSION THEN WOULD REPORT ITS FINDINGS

TO THE ASSEMBLY FOR ACTION.

THERE WAS NO EXPLANATION WHY THE BRITISH HAVE BEEN RELUCTANT TO HAND THE CASE TO THE UNITED NATIONS. BRITISH SOURCES EARLIER THIS WEEK HAD SAID IT WAS POSSIBLE THE CASE WOULD BE PRESENTED BEFORE TODAY.

AUTHORITATIVE SOURCES SAID THE BRITISH DELEGATION FOR SOME TIME HAS HAD IN ITS POSSESSION THE DRAFT OF A COMMUNICATION FOR PRESENTING THE HOLY LAND ISSUE TO THE UNITED NATIONS.

LONDON, MARCH 8-(AP)-BRITISH LABOR PARTY LEADER CONFIDENTLY PREDICTED TONIGHT THAT THE GOVERNMENT WOULD WIN A DECISIVE VICTORY NEXT WEEK AFTER A THREE-DAY DEBATE ON ECONOMIC POLICY.

THE DEBATE WILL END WEDNESDAY AFTER A VOTE ON A "NO CONFIDENCE" MOTION SUBMITTED BY WINSTON CHURCHILL, CONSERVATIVE LEADER, A MOTION WHICH IF CARRIED WOULD MEAN THE DOWNFALL OF THE SOCIALIST REGIME OF PRIME MINISTER ATTLEE.

LABOR'S BIG MAJORITY IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS WAS REPORTED READY TO SUPPORT THE GOVERNMENT DESPITE RUMBLINGS OF DISCORD AMONG 100 LABORITES WHO FAVORE MORE DRASTIC CUTS IN BRITAIN'S MORE THAN 1,000,000 -MAN ARMY TO SWELL THE NATION'S INDUSTRIAL MANPOWER.

THE PARLIAMENTARY CORRESPONDENT OF THE BRITISH PRESS ASSOCIATION REPORTED THAT MANY LABORITES WERE CRITICISING ATTLEE LAST WEEK "FOR NOT GIVING A SUFFICIENTLY STIMULATING LEAD TO THE COUNTRY" DURING THE FUEL CRISIS. BUT THIS CRITICISM DIED, THE CORRESPONDENT REPORTED, IN THE FACE OF CHURCHILL'S ATTACK AND ATTLEE'S "LIVELY" DEFENSE OF HIS INDIA POLICY.

THE GOVERNMENT ITSELF HAS INVITED THE TEST OF STRENGTH BY SUBMITTING A MOTION SAYING "THE HOUSE WILL SUPPORT THE GOVERNMENT IN ALL PRACTICABLE MEASURES" TO OVERCOME ECONOMIC DIFFICULTIES.

BOTH THE LIBERAL PARTY, WITH NINE VOTES IN COMMONS, AND THE CONSERVATIVES, HAVE SUBMITTED AMENDMENTS TO THIS MOTION.

THE GOVERNMENT EXPECTS FIREWORKS FROM SOME LABORITE BACKBENCHERS DURING THE DEBATE, BUT BELIEVES MANY WILL NOT JOIN WITH THE OPPOSITION IN VOTING T OVERTHROW THE CABINET.

THE AMERICAN REHABILITATION ACT MAKES AVAILABLE TO THE PHILIPPINES $400,000,000 FOR WAR DAMAGE CLAIMS, $120,000,000 FOR REHABILITATING PUBLIC PROPERTY, AND $100,000,000 IN WAR SURPLUSES, INCLUDING HEAVY CONSTRUCTION EQUIPMENT, FOOD, CLOTHING AND OTHER ARMY SUPPLIES. ADD PLEBISCITE XXX REHABILITATION (OMIS)

IN HIS FINAL PLEA TO THE PEOPLE, ROXAS SAID, "SHOULD THIS (PARITY) AMENDMENT BE DEFEATED, WE FACE MUCH MORE THAN THE IMMEDIATE LOSS OF CERTAIN BENEFITS AND PAYMENTS FROM THE UNITED STATES. OUR REAL LOSS WOULD BE THE WRECKAGE OF THE ONLY POSSIBLE PLAN WE COULD HAVE FOR EARLY REHABILITATION AND IMMEDIATE DEVELOPMENT OF OUR NATIONAL POTENTIALITIES."

WITH THE FIRST TASK FLEET, MARCH 8-(AP)-SUBMARINE DEFENDERS OF PEARL HARBOR INFLICTED HEAVY THEORETICAL DAMAGE ON THIS TASK FLEET TODAY AS IT STEAMED NORTH FOR THE ATTACK ON THE BIG NAVAL BASE AS A CLIMAX TO THE PACIFIC MANEUVERS.

UMPIRES WERE UNCERTAIN WHETHER ONE OR TWO SUBMARINES SLIPPED INTO THE MIDST OF THIS POWERFUL FLEET, BUT ON THE BASIS OF FLARES WHICH THE ATTACKERS RELEASED, THE CARRIER TARAWA WAS SUNK AND THE CARRIER PRINCETON AND THE CRUISER ATLANTA WERE DAMAGED.

THE ATTACK CAME UNDER IDEAL SUBMARINE CONDITIONS--A FULL MOON WHICH SILHOUETTED THE TASK FLEET AT 3:45 A.M. THE SURFACE FORCE ALSO WAS MOVING CONSIDERABLY SLOWER THAN THE SPEED WHICH IS CONSIDERED NECESSARY FOR DEFENSE AGAINST UNDERWATER ATTACK.

THE TASK FORCE, SCHEDULED TO STRIKE AT PEARL HARBOR SUNDAY OR MONDAY, ALREADY HAD BEEN WEAKENED BY A SUBMARINE ATTACK LAST NIGHT WHICH SCORED SIMULATED HITS ON THE CRUISERS SPRINGFIELD AND PASADENA.

SOME NAVAL OFFICERS ATTRIBUTED THE EFFECTIVENESS OF SUBMARINE ATTACKS TO THE LACK OF TRAINED PERSONNEL MANNING THE DETECTION DEVICES.

THE PEARL HARBOR DEFENSE EMPLOYS ABOUT 18 SUBMARINES AND LAND-BASED SEARCH PLANES WHICH KEEP THE ATTACKERS UNDER SURVEILLANCE. FOUR SEARCH PLANES HAVE BEEN RULED DOWN AT A COST OF TWO FIGHTERS.

THE THEORETICAL LOSSES WILL TAKE NONE OF THE STEAM OUT OF THE ATTACK. "DAMAGED" SHIPS WILL BE "RECOMMISSIONED" IN ORDER TO TEST PEARL HARBOR'S DEFENSE WITH THE FULL WEIGHT OF THE 300-PLANE ATTACK THAT HAS BEEN PLANNED.

HAWAIIAN LEGISLATURE (260)

BY DON WHITEHEAD

HONOLULU,MARCH 8-(AP)-TAKKE 15 REPUBLICANS AND 15 DEMOCRATS, ADD ONE JIGGER OF PARTY LOYALTY, A STIFF DASH OF NEVER-SAY-DIE, STIR WELL AND YOU HAVE HAWAII'S HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

HEADY STUFF TOO. MAKES HEADLINES AND HEADACHES IN THE ISLANDS. BUT NO LEGISLATION -- BECAUSE THE HOUSE HASN'T BEEN ABLE TO DO A LICK OF WORK SINCE IT CONVENED FEB. 19. HASN'T EVEN ORGANIZED.

DAILY THE RESOLUTE 15 REPUBLICAN REPRESENTATIVES AND THE 15 DEMOCRAT REPRESENTATIVES MEET AND RESOLUTELY DISAGREE ON EVERYTHING EXCEPT ADJOURNMENT.

THE OTHER HALF OF THE TERRITORIAL LEGISLATURE, THE SENATE, IS O.K. THE REPUBLICANS HAVE A MAJORITY.

BUT THE HOUSE! IT TAKES A STEERING COMMITTEE--FIVE MEMBERS FROM EACH PARTY--TO SET PROCEDURE ALLOWING THE LEADERLESS HOUSE TO MEET.

SOME CITIZENS SEE NOTHING FUNNY IN THIS. THEY'RE YELLING TO FORM ANOTHER DISTRICT RIGHT NOW SO ONE MORE REPRESENTATIVE CAN GET IN THERE AND BREAK IT UP.

LEGISLATURES OPEN OUT HERE WITH HULA GIRLS. HARDLY HAD THE LAST HIP QUIT SHAKING WHEN THE FIGHT OVER THE HOUSE SPEAKERSHIP BROKE OUT.

FOURTEEN DEADLOCKED BALLOTS MADE TEMPERS AS SHORT AS A NICKEL BEER.

THE REPUBLICANS CALLED THE DEMOCRATS PUPPETS OF THE CIO-PAC. THE DEMOCRATS CALLED THE REPUBLICANS TOOLS OF HAWAII'S BIG BUSINESS.

REPUBLICANS OFFERED TO KEEP THE SPEAKERSHIP AND GIVE THE DEMOCRATS HALF THE MEMBERSHIP ON COMMITTEES. THE DEMOCRATS OFFERED TO TAKE A VICE-SPEAKERSHIP IF THEY GOT A MAJORITY ON HALF THE COMMITTEES.

THERE WAS A BRIEF PAUSE IN HOSTILITIES FOR GOV.INGRAM M.STAINBACK, WHO HAD BEEN WAITING ALL THAT TIME, TO MAKE HIS ADDRESS LAST TUESDAY. THEN THE BOYS BROUGHT OUT THE HAMMER AND TONGS AGAIN.

TODAY, AFTER 14 LEGISLATIVE DAYS, THE AIR IS FULL OF COMPROMISE. WHILE THE LAW-MAKERS GATHER IDEAS ON HOW TO BREAK A DEADLOCK, THE BILLS IN THE HOPPER GATHER DUST.

BUENOS AIRES, MARCH 8-(AP)-GOVERNMENT SOURCES TODAY TERMED "ABSURD" REPORTS THAT BUENOS AIRES UNIVERSITY'S FORTHCOMING REQUEST THAT BRITISH AUTHORITIES IN GERMANY PERMIT WERNER HEISENBERG, NOBEL PRIZE-WINNING PHYSICIST, TO LECTURE IN ARGENTINE, WAS PART OF A NATIONAL ATOMIC RESEARCH PROGRAM.

(HEISENBERG, A GERMAN AUTHORITY ON NUCLEAR FISSION, ANNOUNCED IN GERMANY ON FEB.20 THAT HE WAS TURNING DOWN AN INVITATION TO LECTURE IN BUENOS AIRES UNIVERSITY, BECAUSE HE LACKED BRITISH PERMISSION TO LEAVE GERMANY.)

THE UNIVERSITY'S SCHOOL OF EXACT SCIENCES ANNOUNCED YESTERDAY THAT IT WOULD ASK BRITISH PERMISSION FOR HEISENBERG TO COME HERE, WOULD "PERSIST IN NEGOTIATIONS AND IS CONFIDENT THAT WHEN THE BRITISH UNDERSTAND THE CIRCUMSTANCES, THEY WILL PERMIT HEISENBERG TO PUT HIMSELF IN CONTACT WITH PHYSICISTS HERE."

HEISENBERG, A PROFESSOR AT THE UNIVERSITY OF GOETTINGEN, WHOSE ATOM-SPLITTING RESEARCH WON INTERNATIONAL ATTENTION 15 YEARS AGO, SAID IN AN INTERVIEW LAST MONTH THAT HE KNEW FROM READING THE SMYTH REPORT "EXACTLY" HOW AMERICAN SCIENTISTS PRODUCED THE ATOMIC BOMB, "EXCEPT FOR SOME SMALL TECHNICAL DETAILS."

HE SAID THAT WITH SIX ASSOCIATES, HE DIRECTED THE GERMAN ATOMIC RESEARCH DURING THE WAR. #

LA PAZ, BOLIVIA, MARCH 8-(AP)-BOLIVIA, WITH A NEWLY PROCLAIMED PRESIDENT, TONIGHT ANNOUNCED THE SIGNING OF A TRADE AGREEMENT WITH ARGENTINA UNDER WHICH BOLIVIA WOULD GET SOME $60,250,000 IN ARGENTINE CREDITS AND WOULD SELL ARGENTINA 8,000 TONS OF TIN AND 2,000 TONS OF RUBBER.

MAR 1947

UNOFFICIAL REPORTS EARLIER SAID NEGOTIATIONS WERE IN PROGRESS IN WASHINGTON LOOKING TOWARD RESUMPTION OF TIN SHIPMENTS TO THE UNITED STATES, INTERRUPTED JAN. 1, 1946, BECAUSE OF AN ACUTE SHORTAGE OF FOREIGN CURRENCY HERE.

IN THE NEW TRADE PACT, THE GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCEMENT SAID, ARGENTINA PROMISED TO SUPPLY BOLIVIA FOOD SUFFICIENT FOR NORMAL NEEDS. BOLIVIA HAS BEEN EXPERIENCING A FOOD SHORTAGE RECENTLY, REPORTED DUE CHIEFLY TO TIEUPS ON ARGENTINE RAILROADS.

THE STATEMENT SAID THAT UNDER THE PACT, ARGENTINA ALSO WOULD BECOME A MARKET FOR BOLIVIAN LEAD, ANTIMONY AND WOLFRAM AND WOULD GRANT BOLIVIA CREDITS TOTALING 250,000,000 ARGENTINE PESOS (APPROXIMATELY $60,250,000) FOR RAILROAD IMPROVEMENT, IRRIGATION PROJECTS, INCREASING OUTPUT OF BOLIVIAN PRODUCTS NEEDED IN ARGENTINA AND CREATION OF A REVOLVING FUND TO COMPENSATE BOLIVIA FOR UNFAVORABLE TRADE BALANCES.

EARLIER, IT HAD BEEN REPORTED UNOFFICIALLY THAT THE UNITED STATES, IN NEGOTIATIONS NOW UNDER WAY IN WASHINGTON BETWEEN REPRESENTATIVES OF THE BOLIVIAN TIN MINE OWNERS AND THE RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION'S OFFICE OF METALS RESERVE, HAD AGREED TO PAY 76 CENTS A FINE POUND FOR BOLIVIAN TIN.

MEXICO CITY, MARCH 8-(AP)-THE NATIONAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SAID TODAY THAT AN "ECONOMIC CRISIS IN THE UNITED STATES" WAS PARTLY TO BLAME FOR A RECENT DECLINE IN MEXICO'S TOURIST TRADE.

THE CHAMBER, WHICH DID NOT FURTHER EXPLAIN THE "CRISIS" NORTH OF THE BORDER, MADE THE STATEMENT IN RECOMMENDING THAT MEXICAN HOTELS REDUCE THEIR RATES IN ORDER TO ATTRACT MORE TOURISTS.

U.S. AMBASSADOR WALTER THURSTON ARRANGED FOR SPECIAL CARLOADS OF PAPER TO BE SENT THE MEXICO CITY NEWSPAPERS FROM TEXAS MILLS, AND THESE HAVE NOW ABANDONED THE ONE-DAY A WEEK SUSPENSION, BUT CONTINUE IN REDUCED FORMATS.

(520) TRUMAN

BY ERNEST B.VACCARO

WASHINGTON, MARCH 8-(AP)-PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S WHIRLWIND VISIT TO MEXICO CITY THIS WEEK MAY SET THE PATTERN FOR FUTURE GOOD-WILL MISSIONS IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE AND STIMULATE TRADE BELOW THE BORDER.

HIS VISIT, HE TOLD ONE GATHERING OF NEWSPAPERMEN, MAY BE FOLLOWED BY CALLS ON SEVERAL OTHER LATIN AMERICAN NATIONS. PREVIOUSLY, HE HAD EXPRESSED A DESIRE TO VISIT CANADA.

THE INTERNATIONAL EMERGENCY WHICH BROUGHT A POSTPONEMENT FRIDAY OF PLANS TO CRUISE THE CARIBBEAN AND CALL AT PUERTO RICAN, CUBAN AND VIRGIN ISLAND PORTS DID NOT BANISH THE DESIRE TO MAKE OTHER "GOOD NEIGHBOR" VISITS WHEN TIME AND DEVELOPMENTS AT WASHINGTON PERMIT.

THE GRAY-HAIRED CHIEF EXECUTIVE--NEARING 63--MOVED ABOUT THE MEXICAN CAPITAL WITH A SPEED AND ENDURANCE THAT LEFT HIS HOSTS AMAZED, HIS OFFICIAL STAFF AND NEWSMEN PANTING.

THE PRESIDENT WAS WARNED IN ADVANCE BY HIS PHYSICIAN, BRIG.GENERAL WALLACE GRAHAM, THAT VISITORS TO THE HIGH ALTITUDE OF MEXICO CITY TIRE QUICKLY--THAT HE'D BETTER TAKE IT EASY.

GRAHAM WAS PUFFING AS HARD AS THE REST AFTER THREE DAYS OF LIGHTNING-LIKE MOVEMENT WHICH LEFT ONLY THE GRINNING, AFFABLE PRESIDENT SEEMINGLY THRIVING ON HIS EXERTIONS.

A FRIENDLY SMILE WREATHING HIS FACE, THE MIDWESTERNER WAVED HIS HANDS OR HIS BUFF-COLORED HAT TO THE CHEERS AND "VIVAS" OF HAPPY CROWDS WHO HAILED HIS EVERY APPEARANCE.

PRESIDENT MIGUEL ALEMAN CALLED HIM THE "CHAMPION OF AMERICAN SOLIDARITY" IN AN EXCHANGE OF TOASTS AT A LUNCHEON TUESDAY.

MEMBERS OF THE PRESIDENT'S PARTY EXPRESSED BELIEF THE VISIT WOULD HAVE THE EFFECT OF STIMULATING HEAVIER UNITED STATES INVESTMENTS BELOW THE BORDER AND SPEEDING INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT IN MEXICO, ALREADY PROCEEDING AT AN IMPRESSIVE PACE.

MAR 194

AS ALEMAN SAID IN ONE ADDRESS, "NO RIVALRY" HOLDS THE U.S. AND MEXICO APART. HE WELCOMED UNITED STATES INVESTMENTS WITH "DUE RESPECT" FOR MEXICAN LAWS BECAUSE "WE HAVE ECONOMIES THAT CAN COMPLEMENT ONE ANOTHER FRUITFULLY."

SO IMPRESSIVE WERE THE CONSTANT GREETINGS THAT PRESIDENT TRUMAN TOLD THE AMERICAN COLONY AT CASINO MILITAR WEDNESDAY:

"WE ACTUALLY HAVE A GOOD NEIGHBOR POLICY BETWEEN MEXICO AND THE UNITED STATES."

THE GOOD FEELING, EXTENDED IN LIKE PROPORTIONS TO THE OTHER REPUBLICS AND CANADA, HE SAID, CAN MAKE THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE "THE HAPPIEST PLACE IN THE WORLD."

"AND," HE ADDED WITH CONFIDENCE, "I AM SURE THAT IS JUST WHAT IT IS GOING TO BE."

IT WAS IN THE MIDDLE OF A GRUELLING DAY. THE PRESIDENT AND HIS PARTY HAD FLOWN OVER MEXICO'S NEW VOLCANO IN A 400-MILE ROUND TRIP. HE HAD JUST DRIVEN 28 MILES TO THE RUINS OF AN ANCIENT TEMPLE AND VIEWED THE PYRAMIDS OF THE SUN AND THE MOON, AND WALKED AT 120 PACES A MINUTE VIEWING THE REMAINS OF AN ANCIENT CIVILIZATION.

ONLY BY WORLD PEACE IN THIS ATOMIC AGE, HE TOLD THE MEXICAN NEWSPAPERMEN, CAN THE DESTRUCTION OF OUR OWN CIVILIZATION BE PREVENTED

A179WX

HE TOLD THEM HE HOPED TO VISIT "SEVERAL OTHER" LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES, BUT THAT HE HAD TO CALL ON OUR "NEXT-DOOR NEIGHBOR FIRST."

THEY APPLAUDED WHEN HE PAID TRIBUTE TO THE MEXICAN CADETS WHO FELL IN DEFENSE OF THE CITADEL OF CHAPAULTEPEC AGAINST AMERICAN FORCES IN 1847.

THE LAYING OF A WREATH ON THE MONUMENT ERECTED TO THEIR HEROISM--A SURPRISE GESTURE THE MEXICANS HAD NOT ANTICIPATED--TOUCHED MOST RESIDENTS OF THE OLD CITY MORE DEEPLY THAN ANYTHING HE HAD DONE.

MR.TRUMAN SAID HE WAS FAMILIAR WITH THE RECORD OF THESE CADETS AND THAT HE RESPECTED THEIR BRAVERY. BRAVERY, HE SAID, "DOES NOT BELONG TO ANY ONE COUNTRY OR ANY ONE RACE."

WASHINGTON, MARCH 8-(AP)-STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS SAID TODAY THE UNITED STATES HOPES FOR DEFINITE INFORMATION WITHIN THE NEXT FEW DAYS ON THE STATUS OF TWO AMERICAN ARMY OFFICERS CAPTURED BY CHINESE COMMUNIST GUERRILLAS IN MANCHURIA.

THE TWO OFFICERS, MAJ.ROBERT RIGG OF CHICAGO AND CAPT.JOHN W.COLLINS OF EVANSTON, ILL., WERE SEIZED LAST SATURDAY AND NO DIRECT WORD HAS BEEN RECEIVED FROM THEM SINCE.

OFFICIALS CONVERSANT WITH THE SITUATION SAID THE GOVERNMENT HAS ASKED CHINESE COMMUNIST HEADQUARTERS IN YENAN AND THE COMMUNIST DELEGATION IN NANKING TO TAKE STEPS TO HAVE THE MEN RELEASED.

THE CHINESE, THEY SAID, PROMISED TO COOPERATE, BUT HAVE PROVIDED NO FURTHER INFORMATION. IN THIS CONNECTION, THEY POINTED OUT THAT THE TWO OFFICERS FELL INTO THE HANDS OF ONE OF THE LOCAL COMMUNIST GUERRILLA BANDS WHICH HAVE LIMITED COMMUNICATIONS WITH HIGHER HEADQUARTERS.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 8-(AP)-SENATOR WILEY (R-WIS), CHAIRMAN OF THE SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE TODAY URGED "ACTION" ON A PROPOSAL TO LET EUROPEAN CREWS MAN IDLE LIBERTY SHIPS AND CARRY FOOD ABROAD.

CITING TESTIMONY ABOUT A SHIP SCARCITY, WILEY DECLARED "IT SEEMS TO ME WE'VE GOT TO GET INTO ACTION."

THE SUGGESTION WAS MADE RECENTLY BY HERBERT HOOVER, AFTER HIS FOOD INSPECTION TRIP TO EUROPE, THAT A CONSIDERABLE SAVING COULD BE MADE IF 75 OF THE LIBERTY SHIPS NOW LAID UP WERE MANNED WITH GERMAN CREWS TO SHIP FOOD TO GERMANY.

"WE DIDN'T HESITATE TO GIVE AWAY 50 DESTROYERS BEFORE THE WAR," WILEY NOTED. "NOW THEY WANT HELP AND WE'VE GOT SHIPS ROTTING."

WILEY HEARD FROM A STATE DEPARTMENT WITNESS THAT ITALY MAY BE IN LINE TO BENEFIT IN THE WAY SUGGESTED.

C.TYLER WOOD, IN THE DEPARTMENT'S ECONOMIC AFFAIRS DIVISION, SAID THERE HAVE BEEN "DISCUSSIONS RECENTLY LOOKING TO TRANSFER A SUBSTANTIAL NUMBER OF SHIPS TO ITALY."

THIS PLAN, WOOD SAID, WOULD PERMIT SHIPS TO BE MANNED BY ITALIAN CREWS TO CARRY FOOD "SO THE COST OF TRANSPORTATION DOES NOT HAVE TO BE BORNE BY ITALIANS IN DOLLARS. THIS IS A TERRIFIC BURDEN TO THOSE COUNTRIES."

WOOD SAID HE SUPPOSED THAT HOOVER'S SUGGESTION REGARDING SUCH AID FOR GERMANY "IS BEING LOOKED INTO CAREFULLY."

"IN GENERAL," HE ADDED, "WE'D BE IN FAVOR OF ASSISTING THESE COUNTRIES IN EVERY POSSIBLE AND PROPER WAY TO REDUCE THE DOLLAR CHARGES ON THEM FOR IMPORT OF THESE NECESSARY ITEMS."

WOOD TESTIFIED BEFORE A WILEY SUBCOMMITTEE CONSIDERING PROPOSALS TO EXTEND CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE SECOND WAR POWERS ACT.

WHEN ODT DIRECTOR J.MONROE JOHNSON TESTIFIED THIS COUNTRY IS IN VITAL NEED OF THE WARTIME METAL AND MACHINERY IT SCATTERED AROUND THE WORLD DURING THE WAR, WILEY SUGGESTED THE SHIPS MIGHT CARRY FOOD ACROSS AND BRING THE SCRAP BACK.

JOHNSON TOLD REPORTERS THE WAR DEPARTMENT "SAYS IT WILL START RIGHT AWAY" BRINGING BACK THE SCRAP.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 8-(AP)-REP. JENKINS (R-OHIO) CONTENDED TODAY THE UNITED STATES, BY PARTICIPATING IN THE INTERNATIONAL TRADE CONFERENCE IN GENEVA NEXT MONTH, WOULD "MEEKLY PLACE ITS ECONOMIC LIFE INTO THE HANDS OF 17 OTHER NATIONS MOST OF WHICH ARE BANKRUPT AND ALL OF WHICH ARE OUR CREDITORS."

HE ATTACKED THE ADMINISTRATION'S RECIPROCAL TRADE POLICIES IN GENERAL AND PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S PLEA, EARLIER THIS WEEK, FOR AMERICAN LEADERSHIP IN A WORLD ATTEMPT TO OBTAIN ECONOMIC PEACE.

JENKINS, A MEMBER OF THE HOUSE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE, SAID THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE IN THAT STATEMENT "ARBITRATILY, WITHOUT CONSULTING THE AMERICAN PEOPLE, PUT UPON THEM THE GREAT RESPONSIBILITY FOR WORLD-WIDE PEACE."

HE SAID THE GENEVA CONFERENCE, CALLED TO WRITE A MULTI-LATERAL TRADE AGREEMENT, WOULD PUT THE UNITED STATES IN A POSITION "WHERE THE CREDITOR WILL SAY TO HIS DEBTOR--IT IS NOT TO THE BEST INTEREST OF THE DEBTOR TO COLLECT FROM THOSE WHO OWE HIM."

QUOTING THE PRESIDENT AS SAYING THAT NO TARIFF REDUCTION WILL BE MADE UNTIL AFTER AN "EXHAUSTIVE STUDY," JENKINS ARGUED THAT IT WOULD TAKE AT LEAST A YEAR TO MAKE SUCH A SURVEY AND THAT IT COULD NOT BE MADE BETWEEN NOW AND THE APRIL 10 DATE FOR THE CONFERENCE.

HE MAINTAINED THAT MANY INDUSTRIES "WILL BE DISCRIMINATED AGAINST" AT THE GENEVA CONFERENCE, AND SAID "MILLIONS OF PEOPLE" AND A LARGE SEGMENT OF THE AMERICAN INDUSTRY WANT THE MEETING POSTPONED.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 8-(AP)-TEXT OF A STATEMENT ISSUED TODAY BY REP. CLARENCE J. BROWN (R-OHIO) URGING THAT THE GREEK SITUATION BE REFERRED TO THE UNITED NATIONS: (ABOUT 300)

THE ADMINISTRATION IS RENDERING A GRAVE DISSERVE TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE BY SHROUDING THE GREEK SITUATION IN SECRECY. THE PEOPLE ARE ENTITLED TO A CHANGE IN TECHNIQUE. THEY DO NOT WANT THESE MYSTERIOUS BUILD-UPS. I AM SURPRISED THAT PRESIDENT TRUMAN DID NOT MAKE PUBLIC WHATEVER PROPOSAL HE HAS IN MIND, RATHER THAN SEEMINGLY TO CULTIVATE SUSPENSE AND THEN PERMIT CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS TO SEE HIS PROPOSED MESSAGE TO CONGRESS ONLY AN HOUR OR TWO BEFORE IT IS SENT TO THE CAPITOL. THIS IS HARDLY IN LINE WITH HIS PROMISE OF COOPERATION WITH THE CONGRESS. IF EVER THERE WAS A TIME FOR FORTHRIGHTNESS THE TIME IS NOW WHEN WE ARE UNDOUBTEDLY FACED BY WHAT WILL BE A SUCCESSION OF CRISES IN FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

THE GREEK SITUATION PRESENTS A CLEAR OPPORTUNITY FOR THE UNITED NATIONS TO FUNCTION AS AN ORGANIZATION. IT WAS SO INTENDED TO FUNCTION, AND UNLESS WE CHANGE IT FROM A DEBATING SOCIETY INTO A MECHANISM OF ACTION IT CANNOT SURVIVE. ARE ANY OF ITS MOST ARDENT CHAMPIONS AWARE OF THIS? IF SO, NOW IS THE TIME FOR THEM TO SPEAK OUT BOLDLY. THE IMMEDIATE SITUATION IN GREECE, AND SIMILAR PROBLEMS IN THE MIDDLE EAST AND ELSEWHERE, ARE DEFINITELY IN THE REALM OF UNITED NATIONS RESPONSIBILITY AND NOT THAT OF THE UNITED STATES OR ANY OTHER ONE COUNTRY ALONE.

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE HAVE NO IMPERIALISTIC DESIGNS OR DESIRES. THEY WILL NOT SUPPORT EVEN AN EMERGENCY STEP THAT POINTS IN THAT DIRECTION. AS ALWAYS THE CONGRESS WILL APPROPRIATE ADEQUATE MONEY TO MEET A SITUATION OF THE IMPORTANCE OF THE ONE NOW FACED. BUT, IF THIS ADMINISTRATION ATTEMPTS TO START US ON THE ROAD TO IMPERIALISM THE CONGRESS WILL REFUSE TO GO ALONG. I BELIEVE THE HOUR IS AT HAND TO CALL A SPADE A SPADE, AND I DEPLORE THE SECRECY WHICH IS CREATING SO MUCH SPECULATION AND ATTENDANT ANXIETY.

I URGE PRESIDENT TRUMAN TO REFER THIS MATTER TO THE UNITED NATIONS IMMEDIATELY.

U.N.-ALBANIA

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 8-(AP)-A POLISH REPRESENTATIVE TODAY TOLD A UNITED NATIONS SUBCOMMITTEE STUDYING GREAT BRITAIN'S MINE-LAYING CHARGES AGAINST ALBANIA THAT HE COULD FIND NOTHING IN THE EVIDENCE TO SUPPORT THE BRITISH COMPLAINT.

DR.JULIUS KATZ-SUCHY MADE THE STATEMENT AT THE CONCLUSION OF A WEEK'S HEARINGS BEHIND CLOSED DOORS BY A THREE-NATION SECURITY COUNCIL GROUP. OTHER MEMBERS OF THE SUB-COMMITTEE ARE AUSTRALIA AND COLOMBIA.

IN A PRELIMINARY COMMENT, PAUL HASLUCK, OF AUSTRALIA, COUNTERED THE POLISH STATEMENT BY REMARKING THAT HE HAD OBSERVED NOTHING IN THE EVIDENCE TO CONTRADICT THE BRITISH CHARGES.

HASLUCK SAID HE WOULD SPEAK FULLY MONDAY WHEN THE SUB-COMMITTEE HOLDS ANOTHER SESSION TO DRAFT ITS FINDINGS FOR THE COUNCIL. DR. EDUARDO ZULETA ANGEL, OF COLOMBIA, RESERVED COMMENT UNTIL THAT TIME.

AT TODAY'S MEETING, THE SUB-COMMITTEE HEARD AMBASSADOR VASSILI DENDRAMIS, GREEK REPRESENTATIVE TO THE UNITED NATIONS, DENY THAT HIS COUNTRY HAD ANYTHING TO DO WITH THE MINE-LAYING INCIDENT.

TWO BRITISH DESTROYERS WERE DAMAGED AND 44 OFFICERS AND SAILORS KILLED LAST OCT. 22, WHEN THE WARSHIPS STRUCK MINES IN THE CORFU CHANNEL OFF THE ALBANIAN COAST. THE GREEK ISLAND OF CORFU LIES ACROSS THE CHANNEL. DENDRAMIS WAS QUESTIONED AT THE SUGGESTION OF POLAND.

IN THE WEEK'S HEARING THE SUB-COMMITTEE QUESTIONED SIR ALEXANDER CADOGAN, BRITISH DELEGATE TO THE COUNCIL, AND HYSNI KAPO, ALBANIAN REPRESENTATIVE.

ACCUSING ALBANIA OF RESPONSIBILITY FOR LAYING THE MINES, THE BRITISH SEEK AN APOLOGY FROM THE TIRANA GOVERNMENT AND COMPENSATION FOR LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY. ALBANIA FORMALLY DENIED THE CHARGES AND IN TURN ACCUSED THE ROYAL NAVY OF INVADING ITS TERRITORIAL WATERS.

THE PRESIDENTIAL BOARD AFFIRMED RUBINSTEIN'S 1A STATUS, AS AVAILABLE FOR MILITARY DUTY. PREVIOUSLY, THE LOCAL BOARD OF APPEALS HAD REFUSED UNANIMOUSLY TO REVIEW THE 1A CLASSIFICATION.

BY HENRIETTA LEITH

(ADVANCE)..NEW YORK, MARCH 8-(AP)-MRS.LEWIS W.DOUGLAS, WHO STARTED HER MARRIED LIFE "IN A MINING TOWN ON THE SIDE OF A HILL" IN ARIZONA, TODAY SUMMED UP IN ONE WORD THE PROSPECT OF BEING WIFE OF THE AMBASSADOR TO GREAT BRITAIN.

THE WORD WAS--"TERRIFIC!"

MRS.DOUGLAS, WHOSE HUSBAND HAS BEEN NAMED BY PRESIDENT TRUMAN TO REPRESENT THIS COUNTRY IN LONDON, HAS MAINTAINED HER EQUILIBRIUM AS THE WIFE OF A MAN WHO HAS BEEN A CONGRESSMAN, NATIONAL BUDGET DIRECTOR, COLLEGE PRESIDENT, WARTIME ECONOMIC EXPERT AND INSURANCE EXECUTIVE.

BUT AT HER PARK AVENUE APARTMENT TODAY, AS SHE WAITED FOR NEWS FROM THE STATE DEPARTMENT ABOUT HER NEW HOME, SHE CONFESSED:

"IT JUST OVERWHELMS ME EVERYTIME I THINK OF IT."

FROM THE STATE DEPARTMENT, SHE SAID, SHE HAS "HEARD NOTHING AT ALL EXCEPT THAT THEY SAID THEY HOPED I'D GO, AND I SAID I WOULD."

BUT WHATEVER PREPARATIONS SHE MUST MAKE FOR HER TRIP ON THE QUEEN ELIZABETH APRIL 24, THE JOB OF PACKING AND MOVING WILL BE A FAMILIAR ONE.

EVER SINCE SHE MARRIED DOUGLAS IN 1921, HE HAS BEEN MOVING FROM ONE JOB AND ONE PLACE TO ANOTHER. "AND I WENT EVERYWHERE," SHE SAID, "PACKED UP ALL THE CHILDREN AND ALL THE FURNITURE EVERY TIME--AND LOVED IT."

"EVERYWHERE" HAS INCLUDED THE MINING TOWN AT JEROME, ARIZ., WHERE HE WORKED AS A "MUCKER"; PHOENIX, WHERE HE RAN AN ORANGE GROVE, ALONG WITH A LEAD DUMP AT FAIRBANKS, ARIZ., AND WASHINGTON, WHERE HE WENT AS A CONGRESSMAN AFTER A TURN IN THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

GOING INTO POLITICS, FOR MRS.DOUGLAS AS WELL AS HER HUSBAND, WAS A "FASCINATING EXPERIENCE." SHE NEVER MISSED A CAMPAIGN TOUR.

"WE GOT TO KNOW EVERY NOOK AND CRANNY OF THE STATE, AND HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE--FOR FOUR YEARS WE SPENT THE WINTERS IN WASHINGTON AND THE SUMMERS IN ARIZONA."

COMING TO NEW YORK IN 1934 WHEN DOUGLAS "DISAGREED WITH HIS BOSS" AND GAVE UP HIS BUDGET DIRECTOR'S POST, MRS.DOUGLAS SETTLED DOWN TO BECOME THE WIFE OF THE VICE PRESIDENT OF THE AMERICAN CYANAMID COMPANY. BUT A YEAR OR SO LATER SHE WAS PACKING AGAIN--FOR CANADA.

MAR 1947

SHORTLY BEFORE THE WAR, WHEN THE NEW AMBASSADOR GAVE UP THE PRINCIPAL SHIPS OF MCGILL UNIVERSITY IN MONTREAL BECAUSE "HE WANTED TO BE IN HIS OWN COUNTRY," SHE FOUND HERSELF BACK IN NEW YORK. HE WAS OFFERED THE PRESIDENCY OF THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY AND TOOK IT. BUT SOON HE WAS BACK IN WASHINGTON AS DEPUTY ADMINISTRATOR OF THE WAR SHIPPING ADMINISTRATION, AND, LATER, IN EUROPE AS ECONOMIC ADVISOR TO LT.GEN.LUCIUS CLAY ON GERMAN OCCUPATION PLANS.

WHILE HE ATTENDED CONFERENCES -- QUEBEC, CAIRO AND TEHERAN -- MRS. DOUGLAS DID A FULL-TIME JOB HERSELF -- RAISING MILLIONS AS THE NEW YORK DIRECTOR OF FUND-RAISING FOR THE RED CROSS. AFTER A DAY'S WORK SHE OFTEN WENT OUT TO HELP FEED SOLDIERS ON THE DOCKS.

ALL THIS TIME, MRS.DOUGLAS WAS REARING AND MOVING ABOUT THE THREE YOUNG DOUGLASES--JAMES STUART, NOW A 24-YEAR-OLD BANK EMPLOYE AT TUCSON, ARIZ., AND FOREMAN OF THE FAMILY RANCH AT SONOITA, ARIZ.; LEWIS, JR., NOW 22 AND A STUDENT AT YALE, AND SHARMAN, 18, WHO CAME OUT HERE THIS WINTER AND WILL END HER FRESHMAN YEAR AT VASSAR JUST IN TIME TO SAIL WITH HER MOTHER TO ENGLAND.

MRS.DOUGLAS DOESN'T KNOW WHERE HER FUTURE HOME WILL BE, BUT SHE DOES KNOW SHE WILL FIND COUNTLESS OLD FRIENDS IN LONDON. BESIDES THOSE SHE HAS MET THROUGH HER HUSBAND'S PUBLIC LIFE, THERE ARE THOSE SHE MET ON THREE VISITS TO ENGLAND, ONCE BEFORE HER MARRIAGE, AGAIN IN THE LATE 20'S AND A THIRD TIME ABOUT 1935.

SHE IS LOOKING FORWARD LESS TO THE SOCIAL LIFE OF AN AMBASSADOR'S WIFE, SHE SAID, THAN TO A CHANCE TO "BE OF SOME HELP" AND "DO SOME KIND OF A JOB OVER THERE."

LIKE HER HUSBAND, SHE IS FOND OF HORSEBACK RIDING, BUT, WHILE "PETER" HOPES TO COME TO ENGLAND THIS SUMMER AND DO SOME HUNTING, THE AMBASSADOR'S WIFE WANTS IT UNDERSTOOD THAT HER RIDING IS "WESTERN STYLE" ONLY.

HER PRINCIPAL HOBBY, SHE SAID, IS MUSIC--"PLAYING (AS AN ACCOMPLISHED PIANIST) AND LISTENING."

MRS.DOUGLAS EXPECTS TO REMAIN IN LONDON AS LONG AS HER HUSBAND IS AMBASSADOR, WITH ONLY BRIEF TRIPS HOME TO VISIT THE FAMILY. THIS ALSO INCLUDES HER PARENTS, MR. AND MRS.FREDERICK GEORGE ZINSSER, AT HASTINGS-ON-HUDSON, N.Y.; A SISTER, MRS.JOHN J.MCCLOYO WHO IS MOVING TO WASHINGTON AS WIFE OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE WORLD BANK; AND A BROTHER, JOHN ZINSSER, PRESIDENT OF SHARP AND DOHME, PHILADELPHIA DRUG FIRM.

BUT EVEN AFTER THIS LATEST MOVE, THE RESIDENCE OF THE DOUGLAS

FAMILY--THE PLACE WHERE THEY VOTE AND THE PLACE THEY CALL HOME--WILL BE WHAT IT'S BEEN THROUGH MORE THAN 20 YEARS OF MOVING ABOUT--"R.F.D. 2, PHOENIX, ARIZONA."

LOS ANGELES, MARCH 8-(AP)-COURT APPROVAL HAS BEEN GIVEN TO A FINAL ACCOUNTING ON THE CALIFORNIA PORTION OF THE ESTATE OF ACTOR LESLIE HOWARD, KILLED WHEN A PASSENGER PLANE IN WHICH HE WAS RETURNING TO ENGLAND FROM PORTUGAL WAS SHOT DOWN BY A GERMAN FIGHTER JUNE 1, 1943.

UNDER HOWARD'S WILL, SIGNED IN LONDON JUST TWO MONTHS BEFORE HIS DEATH, MOST OF THE $700,000 ESTATE GOES TO HIS WIDOW, MRS. RUTH E. HOWARD OF DORKING, ENGLAND. ONE-QUARTER SHARES OF THE INCOME GO TO HIS TWO CHILDREN, RONALD HOWARD, 22, AND MRS. LESLIE RUTH DALE-HARRIS, 24, WIFE OF A CANADIAN ARMY OFFICER.

ATTORNEY GEORGE BRESLIN SAID IT WAS BELIEVED THAT HOWARD WAS ON A SECRET WAR MISSION WHEN HIS PLANE WAS SHOT DOWN AND THAT THE PLANE'S PILOTS HAD BEEN INFORMED THAT WINSTON CHURCHILL WAS ABOARD THE AIRLINER.

UNDER THE WILL HOWARD'S BEVERLY HILLS, CALIF., HOME WAS LEFT TO HIS SECRETARY, MISS VIOLETTE CUNNINGTON, BUT AS SHE WAS KILLED IN A LONDON AIR RAID SHORTLY BEFORE THE ACTOR'S DEATH THE HOUSE REVERTS TO THE ESTATE.

WHITE SANDS, N.M., MARCH 8-(AP)-THE ARMY COMPLETED A SUCCESSFUL 21ST "ROCKET SHOOT" YESTERDAY AND MEANWHILE SOLVED AT LEAST PART OF THE MYSTERY OF THE MISSING WARHEADS FROM GERMAN V-2 ROCKETS.

LT.COL.HAROLD R.TURNER, WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND COMMANDANT, REPORTED TODAY THAT ONE OF THEM HAS BEEN RECOVERED AFTER DISCOVERY BY A RANCHER AT CONSIDERABLE DISTANCE WEST OF THE LAUNCHING SITE HERE.

TURNER HAS REPEATEDLY SCOUTED THEORIES THAT THE MISSING HEADS WENT SO HIGH THEY GOT OUTSIDE THE PULL OF GRAVITY FROM THE EARTH AND WERE FLOATING AROUND UP THERE.

ONE OF THE MISSING HEADS WAS FROM THE RECORD 114 MILE SHOOT LAST DEC. 17. THE ONE FOUND WAS FROM A JANUARY TEST, TURNER SAID.

THE ARMY COMPLETED A SUCCESSFUL SHOOT IN ITS 21ST TEST YESTERDAY, ATTAINING 96 MILES ALTITUDE, RECOVERING SCIENTIFIC INSTRUMENTS AND RECEIVING PERFECT TRANSMISSION OF INFORMATION FROM THEM WHILE THE ROCKET WAS IN FLIGHT.

Marshall Arrives In Moscow, Voices His Faith in Allies

Secretary Says 'Great Difficulties' Ahead Can Be Surmounted; Big Four Parley Opening Today

MOSCOW, March 9 (AP).—Secretary of State George C. Marshall, arriving in Moscow by plane, told the Russian people today that great difficulties confronted the four-Power Foreign Ministers at their historic conference on the future of Germany and Austria, but that he was confident of Allied agreement.

The conference will open at 5 P. M. tomorrow (9 A. M. E. S. T.) in the House of the Soviet Aviation Industry, with Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov as chairman.

As Marshall stepped out of the Army plane which brought him here from Berlin, he was asked by Soviet newsmen for a message to the Russians. In a statement later broadcast over the home radio he voiced pleasure at the opportunity of having "my first real view of Russia and the Russian people, except for a brief period at remote Yalta," then added:

"The mission on which I have come, of course, as all the world knows, is one of tremendous importance and consequence for all mankind.

'GREAT DIFFICULTIES'

"There have been many difficulties, as there were bound to be in the negotiations designed to accomplish real peace. Undoubtedly there will be difficulties, great difficulties, here.

"But they have been met successfully and I have confidence that we will, by peaceful methods of negotiations, reach agreement which will greatly advance the cause of peace, in which we are all so much interested."

In an article issued on the eve of the conference the Soviet magazine New Times took a similar view of the importance of the meeting, saying it would "in many ways determine the course of the development of international relations in Europe and all the world over."

'BLACKMAIL EXPERTS'

The magazine labeled those who call for "firmness" against the Soviet Union "blackmail experts," and said it was the Soviet opinion "that real progress in international affairs, including solution of the German problem, is possible only by strengthening and developing cooperation between the great Allied Powers."

Marshall was visited later in the day by British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, who arrived by train yesterday. An authoritative informant reported that Bevin would press for adoption of a four-power pact against Germany to run for 50 years. Marshall said yesterday that a 40-year pact proposed originally by former Secretary James F. Byrnes was a prime objective of the United States.

The British Secretary celebrated his 66th birthday anniversary today with a dinner at the British Embassy. He called also on Molotov, who was celebrating his 57th birthday, and upon French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, who arrived by train three hours before Marshall.

Bidault also saw Molotov. All the visits were reported purely protocol with no conference business discussed.

Gen. Mark W. Clark, the outspoken American representative for the Austrian treaty, put a ray of optimism into the picture with a declaration that "I have every hope we can agree on a final Austrian treaty here and be satisfied and out again in about one month."

POSITION UNCHANGED

He said the American position on the Austrian treaty has not been changed from that taken at the deputy ministers' meeting in London, but he expressed confidence that agreement would be reached on the question of German assets in Austria, a stumbling block in negotiations to complete a treaty. (A Moscow broadcast on the eve of the conference said Austria could not escape responsibility from allying herself with Germany).

Clark added: "I would like to get this thing over with so I can get to San Francisco and take over my new command of the Sixth Army."

He was former commander of American forces in Austria.

Marshall arrived at the Moscow Central airdrome at 3.20 P. M., making the flight from Berlin in four hours and 20 minutes. Clark came in at about the same time, but landed at an airport some distance from Moscow. The sun was shining brightly and Marshall commented on "the beautiful day."

Marshall wore a gray hat and a tan overcoat with brown fur collar. Stepping out of the transport plane behind him were John Foster Dulles, the Republican party adviser on foreign affairs; Benjamin Cohen, Robert Murphy, adviser on German affairs; Freeman Matthews, Charles E. Bohlen, and other top advisers from the State Department.

They were met by Soviet Foreign Minister Andre Y. Vishinsky and U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith.

BIDAULT HOPEFUL

Vishinsky, Smith and French Ambassador Gen. Georges Catroux were on hand earlier to greet Bidault, who said:

1947

I am happy to be back in Moscow. I was here during the war to sign a treaty of alliance and now I am coming back in peacetime in order to make sure that the common enemy of that alliance shall not rise again.

"I have full confidence of the success of the conference in Moscow."

A complete absence of any military show marked the arrivals. The brightest touch of color was contributed by the field gray uniforms of the Soviet Foreign Office worn by Vishinsky and his aide, and the uniforms of the French officers who were in the party greeting Bidault.

ARRIVAL FEATURED

News of Bevin's arrival was given front page treatment in today's Soviet press, which displayed three-column-wide pictures of the British official. The Soviet radio carried news broadcasts which repeated Bevin's greetings to the Russian people.

Meanwhile the Soviet painter Alexander Mikhailovich Gerasimov put the last decorative touches on the House of the Soviet Aviation Industry where the conference will be held. Special apartments will be available for each delegation and a special room and office for each visiting minister.

Russians related with great enjoyment today how Bidault's room was decorated originally with some landscapes by the famous Russian artist Levitan. Gerasimov looked them over and shook his head in disapproval. Later he moved in some "lighter" subjects, including a beautiful nude.

Clark, Dulles ... Paper Attacked

Moscow, March 9 (AP)—On the eve of the opening of the four-power Foreign Ministers Conference, the authoritative Soviet magazine New Times in a long series of articles bitterly attacked American and British policy on Germany and Austria today and criticized three prominent members of the American delegation attending the conference.

The weekly, which generally devotes most of its articles to matters concerning Russian foreign policy, also indicated its full scale opposition to the western powers' plan for a "federalized Germany."

Three of Secretary of State George C. Marshall's closest advisers—Gen. Mark W. Clark, John Foster Dulles and Brig. Gen. William Draper—were mentioned by name.

Dulles Upbraided

The New Times launched its main article on Germany by attacking an exposition published recently in the London Times of the position of the western powers. It described the British-American plan for a federalized political structure in Germany as "foggy formulae" and a means by which western capitalists meant to seize the main resources of the western zones of Germany while erecting a "Chinese wall" between the eastern and western zones.

It declared the question was whether Germany was going to be a "peaceful state or a vassal of imperialism," and here upbraided Dulles for his proposals concerning Germany and characterized Winston Churchill as "the old experienced wolf of British imperialism."

Dictation Plans Charged

Charging that the main aim of British-American forces in bizonal economic merger and loans to Germany under the import-export program was to "rescue at all costs the reactionary forces of Germany and their economic bases from liquidation," the New Times said one of the founders of this plan was draper, economic advisor on Germany, who arrived in Moscow today as one of Marshall's delegation.

The magazine closed by asserting that the "venal ambitions of narrow monopolistic groups are dictating the plans for Germany's state organization."

"This baneful policy . . . must be energetically repulsed by all forces of democracy and progress."

Clark's Attitude Mentioned

In a second shorter article, New Times criticized American and British policy in Austria concerning German assets in that country and mentioned the attitude of Clark, American delegate, on Austria.

American and British policy in Austria was characterized as contrary to the Potsdam agreement, particularly British-American support of Austria's right to nationalize firms which Russians consider to be German assets in that country.

The views of the New Times were read closely by the foreign embassies in Moscow as straws in the wind on Soviet policy, and these articles were hurriedly translated tonight for members of the conference delegations.

Panegyrics Pain Stalin

MOSCOW, March 9 (AP).—Literary compositions praising Prime Minister Stalin grate upon his ear. Stalin said this in a letter written in January, 1946, but made public only yesterday in the Communist party magazine "Bolshevik." "It is really uncomfortable to read them," Stalin declared. The letter was a reply to a set of questions submitted to him by Professor Colonel E. Razin.

Russian Paper Attacks Austria As German Ally

London, March 9 (AP)—Russia's Army newspaper Red Star attacked Austria as "irrevocably" Germany's ally, in a commentary broadcast by Moscow radio today on the eve of the Foreign Ministers' meeting.

"Attempts by Austria's ruling circles to absolve Austria from responsibility for her participation in criminal war on Germany's side cannot be justified," Red Star said.

10 Dead In Crash Of British Plane On Italian Island

Naples, Monday, March 10 (AP)—A four-engined British military plane enroute from Cairo to Rome crashed on the island of Ischia last night, killing ten passengers.

[In London, the Air Ministry said ten persons were killed and three injured when the RAF plane crashed. Unofficial

[A naval officer and two private soldiers were among the passengers, the Ministry reported, adding, "five other passengers would appear to be British civilians. Another was an Italian and there was a child about 2 years old."] 3-17

Ischia is about 16 miles off the Italian coast southwest of Naples.

Homeless Children On Rise in Germany

U.S. Zone Reports Increase of 800 in Month

BERLIN, March 9 (AP).—The latest report of General Joseph T. McNarney, American military governor for Germany, showed today that homeless German children were a growing problem for authorities in the American occupation zone.

McNarney reported that last November, the latest month for which zonal figures were available, German child welfare offices took in 4,035 homeless German children and 994 non-German children—making a grand total almost 800 higher than for October.

"From all indications the actual number of boys and girls on the street is much larger than the statistics from the youth offices indicate," said the report.

The report also showed that Germans on relief numbered 1,182,255 in December, 50,000 above the November level, and that trade union membership amounted to 936,000 at the end of November, an increase of 16,000 for the month.

5,000 ASK GERMAN UNITY

Cheer Leftist Chiefs' Demand in Frankfort for Central Regime

FRANKFORT ON THE MAIN, Germany, March 9 (AP)—Demands for the re-establishment of a centralized government drew cheers today from more than 5,000 Germans at a Communist meeting.

The demands were voiced by Otto Grotewohl and Wilhelm Pieck, co-chairmen of the Soviet occupation zone's Socialist Unity party, which is dominated by Communists. The leaders announced an agreement for a "working union" between the Hesse Communist party and the Socialist Unity party, and said a formal merger would be announced soon.

King Mihai's Mother Lunches In Munich

Munich, Germany, March 9 (AP)—Queen Helen, mother of King Mihai of Romania, lunched in Munich today on her first trip outside Romania in four and a half years.

The ex-wife of former King Carol landed in a private plane long enough for a noonday meal with Col. C. P. West, commanding officer of the Munich air base. Then she left for Zurich, Switzerland.

The Queen said Romania was in a "deplorable" condition for food and would be "glad to accept any aid from the United States."

SS General Faces War Trial Today

Nuernberg, March 9 (AP)—Former SS Gen. Oswald Pohl will go on trial before an American War Crimes Court tomorrow as the alleged boss of 250 concentration camps where millions of prisoners died from Nazi brutality.

With him in the dock will be seventeen SS confederates, all charged with such war crimes and crimes against humanity as torturing prisoners, enslaving conquered peoples and plundering their property.

His prosecutors charge that Pohl, through his control over nearly 20,000,000 prisoners, spread nearly as much terror in Nazi Germany as Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler, his close friend who gave him his powerful post.

Pohl, 55, says he will plead innocent and deny any responsibility of concentration camp cruelties.

Pohl's wife, now living in Bavaria, defends her husband and his Nazi associates.

She told a reporter: "They did not see the world as it was; they tried to create a world in accordance with their beliefs."

Royal Family Loses Yugoslav Citizenship

BELGRADE, March 9 (AP).—The Praesidium of the National Assembly has issued a decree depriving members of the Yugoslav royal family, now in exile, of citizenship and confiscating all their properties.

Named in the decree were former King Peter, his son Alexander, the queen mother, Marie; the former king's brothers, Tomislav and Andrej; former Prince Paul, his wife, Olga; Paul's sons, Alexander and Nicholas, and daughter, Elisabeth.

Polish-Czech Pact Ready For Signing

Warsaw, March 9 (AP)—Thousands of Poles thronged the Warsaw railway station and lined the streets today to welcome a Czechoslovak delegation which will sign a pact of friendship and alliance with Poland tomorrow.

Premier Klement Gottwald, who headed the delegation from Prague said the "democratization of Germany must be absolute and fully accomplished. The signing of the Polish-Czech pact before the Moscow conference (of foreign ministers) has great meaning. We cannot forget that historically Poland and Czechoslovakia were always among the first victims of German aggression."

BRITISH SEIZE 18 U.S. SEAMEN IN PALESTINE

Americans Charged With Aiding And Abetting Illegal Immigration

Jerusalem, March 9 (AP)—Eighteen American crewmen of the former United States naval vessel PY31, on which 599 Jewish refugees were intercepted, were arrested today on charges of "aiding and abetting illegal immigration."

All but two of the Jews were deported without incident to detention camps in Cyprus aboard three former British troopships. A pregnant woman and her husband were allowed to remain.

The 700-ton yacht, renamed the Abril and flying the Honduras flag, was intercepted off Jaffa and was believed to have sailed from a French port. Newspapers said the Abril formerly was the private yacht Cytherea which the Navy sold as surplus property for $36,000.

Hearing Due Today

An official announcement said the Abril's American crewmen were arrested when the ship docked and would appear in a Haifa magistrate's court tomorrow to answer charges of aiding illegal immigration.

With nine persons listed as killed, in week-end outbreaks, British military authorities said "we frankly are expecting fresh violence" as a result of the deportations.

A British guardsmen and three Jews were killed last night in terrorist attacks in the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv. A British constable and eleven Jews were injured seriously and three Jews and a British constable were wounded slightly. The Nur match factory was damaged to the extent of $40,000 by an explosion.

Three civilians were found dead in barbed wire entanglements around Sarona camp, scene of another attack Saturday, a military source said.

Woman Shot To Death

Another body was found in Tel Aviv and a woman was shot to death in Rehovot, a small Jewish town outside the martial-law area. The report said the woman, Mrs. Katja Bath Shalom Misrahi, had been warned repeatedly by masked men believed to be Jews, who had alleged that she worked as a police informer.

Each of the refugees aboard the Abril had a fourteen-page document called a "passport" purported to have been issued in Paris by the "Hebrew Committee for National Liberation," which has admitted alignment with the Irgun Zvai Leumi organization.

The "passport" documents were written in Hebrew, English and French and bore the Lion of Judah and Star of David insignia. Each proclaimed the bearer's "eligibility to become a citizen of the Hebrew Republic when established . . . in accordance with the principles of self determination."

Troops Resort To Gunfire

Troops enforcing modified law in Jerusalem and Tel Aviv resorted to gunfire during the day to keep order in sealed-off areas. Two girls were wounded superficially at the south edge of Tel Aviv in shootings which the military did not explain.

Troops fired over the heads of a number of Jews in the martial-law area of Jerusalem, explaining that the offenders were "too slow in returning to their homes when the daily curfew was reimposed at 5 P.M." There was no casualty.

A meeting of the Jewish Agency Executive, originally scheduled for Monday, was postponed indefinitely when several members failed to arrive as expected from England and the United States. Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, of Cleveland, was among those whose arrivals were delayed.

15 Spread Terror In Tel Aviv

Army intelligence officers said a small band of "fifteen at the most" men was responsible for setting off the barrage of gunfire in Tel Aviv last night, spreading terror in thousands of homes in the military-law area.

Most of the city's 200,000 people thought a full-scale battle raged between terrorists and the troops at the Sarona camp and at British Army headquarters.

Some armored cars were blown up. Bullets tore into a truckload of tanks of heating gas, causing a series of explosions that sprayed the streets with jagged metal. A fire broke out in a military parking lot and a small gasoline service station.

People Wait And Pray

The Mayor and City Councilmen of Tel Aviv fled from the top of a City Hall vantage point and a city clerk commented that "we doubted that there were enough wagons in town to carry away the dead."

All over Palestine people waited and prayed. Military trucks and guns lined the highway.

But the official story of the night's activities said that a small band of terrorists threw three hand grenades into the Sarona camp; a small group fired at nearby military headquarters causing the guard and cruising amored cars to open fire, and that small arms fire was exchanged at the Jaffa police headquarters.

"The entire operation was carried out by a small gang, not more than fifteen at the most," said an army intelligence officer. "A handful of men dashing from house to house firing as they run can easily give the impression of numbers. A few grenades and land mines bursting in the darkness are no help to tense nerves."

An army spokesman added:

"We see no reason in view of last night's relatively minor incidents to impose a new curfew."

Shantung Drive Of China Reds Is Reported Off

Fighting Goes On 45 Miles From Tsingtao; Attackers Fail to Take Rail Station

NANKING, March 9 (AP).—Pro-government Chinese press dispatches said today that the Communist offensive aimed at Tsingtao had begun to peter out in the face of stubborn resistance. These accounts said the Communists had been stalled at Kiaoh-Sien, 45 miles northwest of Tsingtao, and that although fighting was still in progress there the attackers had failed to take the railway station.

The government was moving reinforcements into east-central Shantung, the province in which Tsingtao is situated, and both sides were reported preparing for a major battle. Advance government relief forces already had reached Ishui and Mengyin, two Shantung trade centers under Communist attack.

As to Manchuria, the pro-government press reiterated reports that large government forces had crossed the Sungari River and headed northeast toward the Communist stronghold at Harbin, a city seventy miles distant. Some observers expressed doubt that the government could undertake immediately such a large-scale operation as an attack on Harbin, because the government forces' communications were dangerously extended.

For example, they said, Communist raiders in the last few days took a railway station between Mukden and Changchun, more than 160 miles southeast of the Sungari River line, and the Government had to take time to mount a counterattack to win it back today.

Unrest In Formosa Said To Continue

Nanking, March 9 (AP)—Chinese press dispatches said today that unrest was continuing throughout Formosa and that the islanders had taken over two district governments.

They said there had been no further violence since the outbreak of February 28, in which 500 persons were reported killed, but that the Formosans were employing passive resistance tactics against the Chinese administration.

The big island east of Hong Kong was restored to China upon the Japanese surrender after being ruled by Japan for 50 years.

Lin Yi-chung, Kuomintang (Chinese Government party) boss in Formosa, was reported to have been summoned to Nanking, where Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek ordered him to follow "a lenient, peaceful policy."

Lin was understood to have told Chiang that the Formosans did not mean to revolt but that their misunderstanding of the Government monopoly system apparently caused the "unfortunate incident."

Other sources, however, said the Formosans were demanding independence or at least a voice in their Government.

Chou Charges U.S. Aid Is Sustaining Chiang

YENAN, China, March 8 (Delayed) (AP).—Chou En-lai, chief diplomatic figure of the Chinese Communists, bitterly charged today that the United States still was heavily supporting the Chiang Kai-shek Government.

He asserted American policy "has gone from bad to worse" since General George C. Marshall became Secretary of State.

The United States, he asserted, is continuing financial support of the Chiang Government through cotton and railroad loans and by other means, "while making a pretense of withholding $500,000,000 asked by the Government" as a loan.

CHIANG SUSTAINED

The assistance still going to Chiang, Chou insisted, will exceed the amount of the withheld loan.

"Only the support of the United States is keeping Chiang and his dictatorship government from complete collapse," Chou asserted.

Chou made the statements in an interview with foreign correspondents who came to Yenan with the U. S. Air Forces which brought the last Communist delegates out of government territory.

U. S. APPROVAL CHARGED

Even this mission, fulfilling Marshall's promise to take the Communists home if peace negotiations failed, drew from Chou the sour comment that government ejection of the Communists "has the appearance of having at least the silent approval of the United States Government."

Chou was the Communists' leading negotiator during more than a year in which Gen. Marshall strove to bring the Chinese rivals together and end the civil war.

During most of that time the Communists agitated for American withdrawal from China. In January General Marshall gave up his futile assignment and American truce officials and other forces started going home.

Far from satisfied with these developments, General Chou declared that since General Marshall had left China and become Secretary of State, American policy "has shown no signs of improvement—in fact, it has gone from bad to worse."

He charged that the Government's civil war expenditures for this year would reach thirty trillion Chinese dollars instead of the nine trillion in the budget. (Values are difficult to compare, but at the official rate of 12,000 Chinese dollars to $1 United States, thirty trillion would be two and one-half billion United States dollars.)

General Chou said that President Chiang's Government had undertaken military offensives in Manchuria and Shantung merely to hide its weakness "in an attempt to demonstrate to the world that Chiang Kai-shek is still powerful."

He said that more than half the fighting forces of the Government had been concentrated in the Suchow area of northern Kiangsi Province for large-scale offensives in the spring and that "the Government may be willing to pay a high price for the capture of Yenan."

The Communists repeatedly have predicted a Government assault on their capital, but thus far it has failed to materialize.

General Chou said the Communists in China were "not paying much attention to the Moscow Foreign Ministers' conference," adding, "we will be satisfied if this conference follows the example of the former Moscow meeting in declaring non-intervention in China."

This brought up rumors of Soviet assistance to the Chinese Communists. Displaying complete anger for the first time in the three-hour interview, General Chou shouted:

"That story is a deliberate lie. The Chinese Communists receive assistance from no one."

China To Decorate Yanks

Nanking, March 9 (AP)—The Chinese Central news agency said today that the Chinese Government would bestow decorations on all American personnel of the defunct Peiping executive (truce) headquarters.

First Indian Envoy Reaches China

Nanking, March 9 (AP)—K. P. S. Menon, first Indian Ambassador to China, arrived here from Hong Kong by plane today. He is expected to present his credentials in a day or two.

Japan Poll Boards Bar 15

TOKYO, March 9 (AP).—The newspaper "Asahi" said today that only fifteen ultranationalists, out of nearly 7,200 candidates, had been detected and eliminated by boards screening candidates for the April local elections.

Philippines Again Ships Copper

MANILA, March 9 (AP)—The Philippines resumed copper shipments to the United States for the first time since the war today with the loading of 4,580 tons of copper and gold concentrate on the steamer Sophocles, which will take the cargo to smelters at Tacoma, Wash.

Filipino M. P.s Ambush Huks

CABANATUAN, P. I., March 9 (AP).—The Filipino military police announced today that an M. P. unit had ambushed the advance guard of 200 Hukbalahap guerrillas transporting supplies into the rugged Sierra Madre, in Neuva Ecija Province. The announcement said quantities of ammunition, rice, canned goods, medicines, salt and wine were captured. It did not mention casualties.

PUNJAB RIOT ORDERS GIVEN

British Troops Flown To Area Told To 'Shoot On Sight'

Lahore, India, March 9 (AP)—Airborne troop reinforcements, with orders to shoot rioters on sight, arrived today in troubled Punjab province, as communal fighting spread out into villages.

Fighting in the Punjab's large cities, where hundreds of persons were killed last week, was reported brought partly under control.

Sir Evan Jenkins, Punjab governor, and Sir John Bannet, inspector general of province police, flew over Rawalpindi, 160 miles northwest of this capital, and said smoke was rising from "about half a dozen" villages in the vicinity.

Rawalpindi itself was reported quiet.

Further Reports Of Looting

A communiqué said that the city of Multan, 190 miles southwest of Lahore, "has remained quiet, but there are further reports from surrounding villages of attacks on Hindu properties and looting of Hindu houses and shops.

Fires were reported to have gutted a major part of the Murree health resort 40 miles from Rawalpindi.

Lahore hospitals said they had admitted 159 casualties during the last six days, of whom 53 either were dead on arrival or died in the hospitals.

The communiqué said that casualties through yesterday at nearby Amritsar totaled 88 dead and 149 injured. Amritsar has "been much damaged by fire and there has been looting in practically every part," the communiqué added. "Arson and damage to telephone and electric wires have been widespread and many streets are blocked by fallen debris."

Short Shrift To Looters

The announcement said that troops throughout the Punjab "are prepared to take strong action against any bodies of men wielding arms or any bodies of more than five persons."

"All persons have been informed that they will be shot at sight on the slightest disobedienee of orders," the communiqué said.

"Two airborne battalions have been dispatched to Multan and one of them has probably already reached there. They will go into action immediately in the surrounding district and will give short shrift to looters or armed bands."

The rioting broke out after Sir Evan had invited the Moslem League to form a government to succeed a coalition made up of the predominantly Hindu Congress party, Sikhs and unionists. When the Moslems failed to announce a government and rioting continued, Sir Evan took over the administration.

Correspondent Up A Tree

New Delhi, March 9 (AP)—Members of a militant Hindu youth organization rough-handled two Associated Press correspondents taking pictures of the organization's annual meeting in New Delhi today and destroyed film.

Correspondent Preston Grover had climbed a tree to photograph a throng of 20,000 to 30,000 persons on the banks of the Jumna River. Immediately twoscore yelling demonstrators encircled the tree while several climbed up and demanded destruction of the film.

After a half-hour altercation, several on the ground began pushing and pulling at T. V. Venkataraman, Associated Press reporter. One attempted to tear off Grover's clothes in an effort to pull him from the tree. Another struck him on the legs with a cane, while a third broke the camera from its strap and tore out the film.

Neither Venkataraman nor Grover was hurt.

The youth organization is called Rashtriya Sevak Sang, which means Society for National Service.

BURMA WARS ON SMALLPOX

100,000 Refugees Must Move Outside Of Rangoon

Rangoon, Burma, March 9 (AP)—The Burmese Government, moving to halt a smallpox epidemic raging in the capital, tomorrow will begin evacuating 100,000 refugees who have come to Rangoon to escape robber bands in rural areas.

U Aung Zan Wei, Minister of Social Services, said today the smallpox death rate has been as high as 30 per cent of the cases reported, and "we expect this rate to increase during the current month."

Will Raze Huts

He said that rural residents, fearful of the dacoit robber bands which have been burning and pillaging extensively, have been pouring into Rangoon at the rate of 10,000 per month.

U Aung Zan Wei said the first step would be to tear down the 30,000 mat huts which the refugees have set up in the heart of the city and which are a great hindrance to sanitation. These huts stand on sidewalks, in front of hospitals, and sometimes in roadways.

The huts on important thoroughfares will be torn down first and the occupants moved to settlements established outside the city, the minister said. Other hut dwellers will be moved gradually, either back to their rural districts or to Government settlements.

Population Over 600,000

Rangoon, which had a prewar population of 500,000, now has more than 600,000. During the war 25 per cent of the houses were destroyed and another 25 per cent made unfit for habitation.

The Government Rehabilitation Department allotted 6,000,000 rupees (about $177,600) to remove the surplus population. The villagers will receive timber and building materials to reconstruct their homes.

MacArthur Order Hits At Black-Market Deals

Tokyo, March 9 (AP)—Occupation headquarters today published a circular to all units in the Far East Command forbidding trade in American goods with non-American personnel, sale of articles for profit, or possession of more American goods than necessary for individual use.

Maj. Gen. Paul Mueller, General MacArthur's chief of staff, said this was only one of several measures planned to reduce black marketeering.

The circular was issued for publication in the Japanese press at 2.30 P.M. and in the American press 6½ hours later. There was no explanation of the differences and protests by American correspondents prompted lifting of the release restrictions after three hours.

Chilean Denies Report Of Latin-American Bloc

BUENOS AIRES, March 9 (AP).—Chilean Foreign Minister Raul Juliet declared here today that reports that a Latin American economic bloc headed by Argentina was being formed were "inaccurate and stupid."

Juliet, interviewed just before his departure for Chile, said that in his opinion Argentina "neither desires nor could be the economic monitor of Latin America." He added: "Even a hint of such a bloc is repugnant to Chile, whose policy calls for an open door in international matters."

Reports published abroad of a Latin American economic bloc were characterized by Juliet as "harmful" to hemisphere unity and he denied that Chile had ever conferred with any other country regarding such an arrangement.

MARINES' LANDING TESTS ATOMIC WAR

At Culebra Island Navy Enters Final Amphibian Phase of Caribbean Maneuvers

CLARKE BEACH

ON THE U. S. S. TACONIC IN THE CARIBBEAN SEA, March 8 (Delayed) (AP)—A powerful Navy task force, trained to scatter at the first sign of an atomic bomb attack, today raced across the Caribbean Sea to land marines on tiny Culebra Island, eighteen miles east of Puerto Rico.

The landing, marking the amphibious and final phase of the Atlantic Fleet maneuvers, will be carried out this week by 5,000 men of the Second Marine Division under Maj. Gen. T. E. Watson. The expeditionary amphibious force of about seventy ships is under Rear Admiral R. O. Davis, a top Navy amphibious specialist.

For more than a month the Atlantic Fleet has been engaged in maneuvers which have these purposes:

Applying the lessons learned from the atomic bomb tests at Bikini. One of the first of these was ship dispersion on a large scale in the event of an atomic bomb attack.

Testing new men who replaced the veterans demobilized after the war.

Trying out new weapons and changes made in old ones since the last great amphibious operation of World War II on Okinawa.

The maneuvers are based on the idea that an enemy has seized control of the Caribbean islands "aided by an underground organization."

Up to now the Navy's aircraft carriers and other fleet units have been fighting ships of the opposing naval force.

The present problem is to land marines on Culebra, an American possession, to establish a base in the Antilles. Second Division marinces, under General Watson, captured Saipan and Tinian during the war. General Watson also commanded the marines who assaulted and captured Eniwetok.

On the flagship Taconic are civilian and military observers to watch the Navy's first big post-war test in the Atlantic and several officers and men in the Active Fleet Reserve who are taking their annual required training afloat.

President Truman had planned to watch the closing phases of the maneuvers from his yacht, the Williamsburg, but canceled the trip because of the Greek situation. This also led to cancelation by Secretary James Forrestal and members of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

5 BILLION BUDGET CUT ASKED BY TAFT

Senator Wants $3,500,000,000 For 20% Tax Slash

Washington, March 8 (AP)—Senator Taft (R., Ohio) proposed today that the House and Senate agree on a $5,000,000,000 budget slash and use $3,500,000,000 to reduce income taxes 20 per cent.

On the same radio program, Beardsley Ruml, chairman of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, suggested an $8,000,000,000 tax cut. Ruml was one of the authors of the present "pay-as-you-go" tax system.

The House Ways and Means Committee will take up Thursday the bill for a 20 per cent "across the board" slash in individual income levies.

Can Cut Army-Navy Funds

Taft voiced the opinion that the $11,200,000,000 President Truman requested for the army and navy in his $37,500,000,000 budget for the year starting July 1 could be reduced without impairing the armed forces.

"I believe any department of the government can be cut 10 per cent and run just as efficiently," he said.

Turning to taxes, he declared:

"Taxes are dangerously high. The burden is greater than the people of the country can stand. If we don't lower taxes, workers are going to insist on higher wages and they will get higher wages. Lower taxes will lessen wage increase demands.

Ruml Asks Bigger Slash

Ruml suggested not only a 20 per cent reduction in individual income taxes, but also a big slash in corporation income levies and elimination of most excise taxes on goods and services.

Taft suggested the $5,000,000,000 budget slash as a possible middle ground between the House, which has voted a $6,000,000,000 cut, and the Senate with its $4,500,000,000 figure.

He contended $3,500,000,000 of the saving could be applied to tax reduction and still leave a surplus for a substantial payment of the nation's $262,000,000,000 debt.

Roy Blough, professor of economics at the University of Chicago, argued against tax cuts now. He contended that surpluses in flush times should be applied to the debt rather than to tax slashes.

Plan Offered By Ruml

At a news conference subsequent to his broadcast, Ruml said Congress could cut $8,000,000,000 from taxes and still balance Government income and outgo "at high levels of employment."

But he added he would prefer that much of this total—"say about $3,000,000,000"—be funneled into world reconstruction.

The author of the wartime Ruml plan for reconversion tax reductions, Ruml said the sending of dollars overseas by "gifts and loans" would not endanger this country's interests.

"It would all have to come back to the United States—there's no place else to spend it," he said.

But he acknowledged "political difficulties" in winning support for such a plan and offered his previously outlined tax reduction program as the alternative.

Cites Consolidated Budget

In stating that his proposed tax-cut program could be accomplished for the fiscal year 1948 while still balancing the budget, Ruml emphasized that he meant the "consolidated budget on a cash basis," not the conventional budget offered by President Truman in January and now being whittled down by Congress.

The "consolidated budget" takes into account social security taxes, for instance, as Government receipts, even though they go into a trust fund, and it does not count as cash outlays such items as the Treasury's reimbursement of Government corporations for outlays in past years.

Under the consolidated budget, Government receipts would be well above $41,000,000,000, as compared with the President's estimated receipts in the conventional budget of about $39,000,000,000.

Will Show 4 Billion Surplus

"It is the consolidated budget on a cash basis that measures the economic impact of Government transactions on the economy," Ruml said. "So obviously it is the consolidated budget that we should balance at high levels of employment."

The consolidated budget will show a surplus of about $4,000,000,000 for the present fiscal year ending June 30, Ruml said.

"Suppose Congress cuts the President's askings for next year by as much as $4,000,000,000. Then for 1948, present tax rates at high employment would yield a total of $8,000,000,000 as a surplus.

"Accordingly, we are able to cut present tax rates to yield $8,000,000,000 less than they otherwise would and still the budget would be balanced at high levels of employment."

Ruml Forecasts Recession

Ruml, also chairman of the board of R. H. Macy & Co., Inc., New York, forecast a recession this year unless steps are taken to bolster public purchasing power.

He predicted there might be 6,000,000 unemployed at the end of 1947.

"Merchants are beginning to feel increased resistance to sales," he said, and, he added, "many businesses are so appalled at the high costs of construction that they have just stopped their building plans."

HITS U.S. DEALINGS WITH PUERTO RICO

Foreign Policy Group Asserts Lack of Clarity Is Behind Economic Problems

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—The Foreign Policy Association asserted tonight that lack of a clear United States policy toward Puerto Rico was to blame for many of the island's economic problems.

The private research organization said in a report on Puerto Rico that authority over island affairs "overlaps between the President, Congress * * * and in Puerto Rico between the Governor and the Legislature."

The report was written by Olive Holmes of the FPA staff after a study of Puerto Rican problems.

"This overlapping of authority has impeded the insular Government from functioning with maximum effectiveness," the report declared. "The Governor conducts his administrative relations through the Department of the Interior, but must also work with a host of Federal agencies, whose policies and activities in Puerto Rico are not tied in with those of the Division [of Territories and Island Possessions] to which the insular executive is immediately responsible."

Miss Holmes added that the United States "must make a decision about Puerto Rico's future political status * * * before economic planning can progress far."

"Freedom would be wholly illusory," she said, adding that the island needs the free trade relationship with the United States "which can be obtained only under statehood."

Miss Holmes asserted that uncertainty about Puerto Rico's future relationship with the United States "adversely affects its sugar culture, the island's main economic crop."

"The island's high-cost sugar [industry]," she said, "is continually on the defensive in Washington against the Western beet area, the Louisiana and Florida cane growers with their vocal lobbies and the Cuban interests with their State Department support.

"Puerto Ricans are generally dissatisfied with the existing production and marketing arrangements. In time sugar production will become highly mechanized and, as such, a high-wage industry providing revenue but fewer opportunities for employment."

The report concluded that development of new export industries to improve the Puerto Rican economy was "practical and necessary."

Truman Submits Greek Data Today

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP).—Leaders of Congress go to the White House tomorrow seeking a full explanation from President Truman of affairs in the whole Middle East as well as Greece.

Mr. Truman invited them to hear what he wants to do about placing American support in Greece as Britain reduces hers. He worked today with members of the White House staff preparing the presentation. After the meeting he probably will announce how he plans to submit the matter formally to Congress and the Nation.

SEEK FULL PICTURE

Advance comment of Congressmen made it clear they want a complete statement of what the proposals involve for this country in two ways: (1) relations with Russia; (2) possible extension of active American support to Turkey and elsewhere in the Mediterranean.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenburg (R., Mich.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is to report to the full Republican Senate membership at a meeting tomorrow night. He said he had not known enough about developments to report earlier despite an initial White House briefing 10 days ago.

BUDGET IS CITED

Senator Robert A. Taft (R., O.), another Senate leader invited to the White House tomorrow, noted that the Presidential budget listed $3,500,000,000 for foreign relief and declared in a radio talk that "this is about all we can physically give." He added that the problem was how to distribute this amount where it was needed, and expressed concern at events in Greece.

The $3,500,000,000 item in the President's budget for the 1948 fiscal year is not limited to foreign relief, but includes commitments in connection with the British loan, the reconstruction lending program of the Export-Import Bank, cost of occupation in Europe and the Far East, war damage restoration in the Philippines, and for the cost of operating the State Department.

Senator Kenneth S. Wherry, of Nebraska, the Republican whip, urged that Mr. Truman lay down a "consistent foreign policy that the Republicans can support."

GLOBAL DECISION

Wherry, who is not among those to confer at the White House, told a reporter any decision for direct or indirect intervention in Greece would fix a policy that might have far-reaching effects. He contended it should apply all over the world.

"I think we ought to have a policy that both parties can support and we ought to be consistent in it," he said. "It seems to me that we are not being consistent if we say to the Chinese Nationalist Government that they must take in Communist elements or we won't support them and then turn around to help the Greek government drive Communists out."

MILITARY FACTOR

If help to Greece involves any transfer of military equipment and materials, Wherry said, it will be doubly necessary for the President to lay all the facts before the 15 Senate and House leaders tomorrow.

How far the United States may properly go in extending even indirect military aid to Greece may be one of the chief points of discussion when Mr. Truman meets the Congressmen.

The President now has authority to order the transfer of Second World War surplus such as trucks, planes and clothing to the Greek government fighting Communist guerillas. But few on Capitol Hill think he would take any such step without consulting the Congressional leaders and getting their approval.

Chou Included UNRRA Aid, Officials Suggest

Washington, March 9 (AP)—Diplomatic officials suggested today that Chou En-lai, Chinese Communist leader, figured in UNRRA emergency relief for the Chinese people to reach his estimate of more that $500,000,000 for current American aid to the Nationalist Government of Chiang Kai-shek.

The State Department had no comment to make on Chou's complaint that United States help for Chiang is continuing and that this country's policy toward China "has gone from bad to worse."

Aid Aside From UNRRA

Outside of United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration operations, however, diplomatic officials said they knew only of these measures to help China:

1. A $30,000,000 credit from the Export-Import Bank a year ago to finance purchases of cotton, and another loan of the same amount to help restore communications, both recommended by Secretary of State Marshall when he was President Truman's special envoy to China.

2. A deal for surplus United States war property, originally costing about $550,000,000 but so widely scattered and deteriorated that its net value is expected to be only a small fraction of the original cost.

MAR 1947

30.24-8373

The UNRRA program comes to more than $350,000,000, with shipments to continue through June. The relief goods, however, go to Communist sections of China as well as Nationalist-dominated areas. The United States contributed 72 per cent of the cost of UNRRA relief but it was administered as an international effort to meet emergency needs of liberated countries.

Some Aid To Communists

An UNRRA official said that although the goods are turned over to the recognized Government of China—that of Chiang Kai-shek—UNRRA insists that there be no discrimination against any segment of the population in their distribution.

"Although our distribution of relief supplies to the Communist areas has not been as great as we would like, there has been some," he added.

He said that in one instance United States Marine Corps planes had flown over the Communist areas to drop food and clothing.

Efforts are being continued to have the Nationalist Government arrange for further shipment of UNRRA relief supplies to the Communist sections, he said, adding that the agreement under which the UNRRA program was set up calls for non-discrimination in the distribution of relief.

SIX DEMOCRATS TO KEEP WATCH ON HOUSE GOP

Youngest Minority Members Picked To Challenge Legislation

Washington, March 9 (AP)—House Democrats today assigned six of their youngest but ablest debaters to challenge Republican legislation.

"Halt! What goes there?" will be their cry.

All are freshmen except one. They were described by one member as a "rambunctious lot."

"The purpose of these watchmen," said Democratic Whip McCormack (Mass), "will be to spotlight mistakes of the opposition."

The Democrats hope to win passage of as much of the Administration program as possible, but in any case to build up a record for the 1948 campaign.

Six Watchmen-Debaters

The six watchmen - debaters picked by McCormack are:

Albert Gore, 39, of Tennessee, who belonged to a similar party team last year. He is a four-termer and one of the House's ablest spur-of-the-moment speakers.

George Smathers, 32, former Marine major and Assistant United States District Attorney at Miami, Florida.

John A. Blatnik, 35, Minnesota's only Democrat in Congress, a former paratroop captain. Colleagues say he "must have a lot on the ball to get elected on the Democratic ticket out there."

Carl Albert, 38, of Oklahoma, a former intercollegiate oratorical champion and Rhodes scholar.

John Carroll, 45, of Colorado, a former district attorney.

John Bell Williams, 28, of Mississippi, a former county attorney and Army Air Forces pilot, who lost an arm at war and returned to upset the veteran Representative Dan McGehee.

Each To Become A Specialist

It is planned for each to became a specialist on some partcular type of legislation, ready at the drop of a hat to debate the issue on the floor.

"We've got plenty of enthusiasm," Smathers said, "and Mr. McCormack decided to guide us along to get us younger men started.

"We'll be watchmen, so to speak, and we'll be looking for just such Republican double talk as the nation got Thursday when the opposition reported it was cutting $800,000,000 out of the Treasury's budget but didn't cut a dime.

"They merely lopped off $800,000,000 it is estimated the Treasury will have to refund in taxes. If that estimate proves correct, the Treasury has got to pay it whether we approve a dime or not."

GOP-TRUMAN CO-OPERATION TO BE TESTED

Lilienthal Vote, Economy Cuts And Foreign Situation Up This Week

Washington, March 9 (AP)—The disposition of the Republican Congress to co-operate with President Truman gets its severest test of the session this week with three big issues coming to a boil.

Lilienthal—The Senate Atomic Committee votes tomorrow on the President's nomination of David E. Lilienthal to head the Atomic Energy Commission with its approval certain. Senator Bricker (R., Ohio) may cast the only "no" vote among nine members, say two of his colleagues. But the big fight will come on the Senate floor, probably Wednesday.

Economy—The first regular appropriation bill hits the House floor tomorrow for expected passage. It carries $12,388,029,971 for the Treasury and Post Office to spend in the year starting July 1. That figure, set by the House Appropriations Committee, is $897,072,750 less than the President budgeted. But Democrats say most of the cut is "phony," merely a paper showing.

Truman-GOP Parley Today

Foreign—Fifteen important Congressmen go to the White House tomorrow to hear from Mr. Truman at first hand what he wants the United States to do in Greece, where the British may move out and the Communists may move in. Then Congressmen will be in better position to debate the matter, on which they have had only unofficial and incomplete details so far. Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) will outline it to the 51 Republican senators at a meeting tomorrow night.

The GOP Senate conference also is to study what to do about rent controls. The present law expires June 30. Nearly all favor continuing controls but are divided over whether to permit a general increase in the ceilings.

Senator Baldwin (R., Conn.) said he hopes the conference will work out a plan to give first-term Senators more information. He urged a "frank discussion of party problems." He was one of sixteen GOP freshmen who signed a letter last week asking a greater voice in party affairs.

Favors Party Conferences

Senator Wherry (R., Neb.), who aids the GOP floor leader as "whip," commented that Baldwin and his freshmen colleagues can not expect to find the Republicans united on all questions or expect to find a party policy in force on every issue.

"I'm in favor of holding these party conferences," he said, "but no one need expect that many agreements will come out of them. Usually the Republicans divide about evenly on controversial issues."

Another question troubling Senate leaders—how to deal with the portal-pay suits of workers against employers—also may be ironed out tomorrow.

New Aid for Korea Is Planned by U. S.

Congress to Get Program After One on Greece

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP).—A new program of American aid for Korea has been put into tentative shape amid preparations to cope with Greece's emergency needs, informed officials disclosed today.

Congress will be asked, under present plans, for funds to rebuild railways and communications and repair textile and other plants in the American-occupied southern half of Korea.

The request is expected to be delayed, however, until the Greek issue is out of the way. No hint was given as to what sums may be contemplated beyond present outlays for occupation expenses, which run about $100,000,000 a year.

Details still require final acceptance by Assistant Secretary of State John H. Hildring before submission to Secretary of State George C. Marshall and President Truman.

New efforts to try to put the American zone on a self-supporting basis were started before Secretary Marshall left for Moscow because of the breakdown of attempts by the United States to reach agreement with Russia on a joint trustee administration of Korea.

Lieutenant General John R. Hodge, American commander, was brought back from Seoul to advise the State, War and Navy Department groups working on the plans.

Hope of an eventual agreement with Russia is retained. But meantime General Hodge wants support for his view that rehabilitation as well as mere relief and preservation of order is essential in the American zone.

Labor Report on Peron

The American labor delegation to Argentina reached the following conclusions on the basis of its three-week study of labor and economic conditions under the Peron Government:

1. There is little formal action by the Government to suppress civil liberties. However, there does definitely exist in Argentina a general atmosphere of fear and mutual suspicion which interferes with the exercise of ordinary civil liberties, particularly by workers' organizations unsympathetic to the Government or those which merely wish to remain aloof from political activities.

2. While because of the generally favorable economic situation now prevailing in Argentina the Government has been able to carry through a large number of overdue economic reforms, these reforms have been used in great measure for political purposes. Social legislation without freedom is entirely inadequate and may even serve as a cover for tyranny.

3. Aside from the statements submitted to us by the free independent unions which in themselves would be sufficient to convince us that the General Confederation of Labor, especially as presently constituted, is wholly and completely dominated by the Peron Government, the events that took place within that organization during our stay in Argentina have removed any possible doubt about this obvious though unpleasant fact. Those elements in the CGT who, while anxious to support the social and labor program of the Government, wanted to retain a measure of independence for the labor movement—perhaps even with the intent of being better able to offer effective advice and cooperation to the Government itself, as it is being done in all truly democratic countries—have now been ruthlessly eliminated from any responsible position in the CGT.

This organization has now been converted from a trade union movement into a political arm of the Government. It cannot elect its officers independently of the Government; it cannot and does not determine its policies independently of the Government; it cannot carry on collective bargaining with the employers independently of political and economic direction of the Government; it cannot administer its own internal affairs.

4. There has been a wholesale usurpation by the Government of ordinary trade union functions. The consistent trend since the revolution of 1943 has been in the direction of greater participation by the state in every aspect of the relationship between employer and worker. This has resulted in a steady reduction in the area of free activity in industry and in labor. The state openly sponsors the organization of trade unions, but constantly diminishes the freedom of choice of the worker as to his representation for collective bargaining with the employer.

5. There still exist in Argentina independent trade unions composed of free workers who are fighting to preserve their independence from governmental domination and their organizational integrity. These organizations, while in most cases deprived of the legal status which is necessary for serving the interests of their members, are nevertheless doing so to the best of their ability and we have every reason to believe that they will carry out all of their proper functions as free and democratic organizations if they are allowed to do so. While their immediate future does not look very bright we are nevertheless convinced that they will fight on for the eventual triumph of their just cause.

BREAD PRICES RISE THROUGHOUT NATION

General Increase of ½-3 Cents a Loaf Seen—1c Mark-Ups Made in New York

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 9—Bread prices are rising, a survey of United States cities showed today.

Increased cost of ingredients, combined with the overseas demand for wheat and flour, are expected to bring price advances above those already made in some cities.

Price increases noted during the recent advance in wheat varied from one-half cent a loaf to 3 cents, depending on the size of the loaf. Baking interests indicated that the increase would become general throughout the country.

[In New York City a spokesman for the A. & P. Food Stores said that the chain, which operates its own bakeries, had not increased its bread prices and saw "no immediate prospect" of an increase. Individual bakeshops and groceries reported increases in some cases. August F. Guckenberger, executive secretary of the New York State Retail Food Merchants, said a few of the commercial bakers had increased their prices of wheat bread last week by one cent a loaf and some others were expected to follow suit.]

New England bakeries advanced prices, both wholesale and retail, on a one-pound nine-ounce loaf from 13 cents to 14 cents. A spokesman for a leading New England baker predicted an additional increase of one cent a loaf within a short time.

One of the sharpest advances, 3 cents, was reported at Atlanta, on a chain-store 24-ounce loaf, raising the price to 17 cents. The 16-ounce loaf now sells at 13 cents, a 2-cent increase.

The nation's retailers, a grocery chain spokesman said, are passing on the wholesale increase to the customer. Loaf weights, he said, have remained constant during the past two or three years.

Housewives at Pittsburgh will have to pay more tomorrow, when the price will advance from 14 cents to 14½ to 15½ cents. The wholesale price, however, will jump only one-half cent. Food stores indicated price tags would read "15 cents," at least. Other dealers said the price might be even higher.

At Detroit and Grand Rapids prices advanced one cent a loaf a week ago, the result, dealers said, of advances in ingredients and wrapping costs. Some dealers explained the advance by saying too much wheat was being shipped overseas.

Tomorrow at Cleveland white bread will cost one cent more and rye breads will be up 2 cents. The increases have been announced by the larger companies and the smaller one are expected to follow.

William Spang, vice president of the J. Spang Baking Company of Cleveland, said "so much wheat is being sent overseas that supplies are becoming shorter in this country. The price of wheat and rye flours has risen steadily because of foreign demand."

At Chicago Arthur L. Luxem general manager for the H. Pipe & Co., wholesale bakers, said ther would be no increase in brea prices tomorrow in the Chicag area, but he was "afraid" an in crease would be necessary soon.

At Indianapolis and adjoining territory the popular twenty-ounc loaf was increased 1 cent to 1 cents on March 6.

Even in the milling area of Minneapolis increases are due. A leading wholesale baker said that an increase of 1 cent is coming on the one-pound loaf, presently selling for 10 cents.

At Los Angeles a recent one-cent rise put the pound-and-a-half white and whole wheat loaves up to an average of 17 cents.

San Francisco held the line, with no increase in its 17 cent pound-and-a-half loaf, or its 12-cent loaf.

Columbus, O., which had a two cent increase in loaf prices last summer, when the price was set at 14 cents for a pound loaf, anticipated no immediate increase.

At St. Louis and across the Mississippi in adjoining Illinois there has been no price rise during the last six months.

AUSTIN DRAFTS REPLY ON BOMB

Expected To Cite Willingness To Share Atom Secret

HAVICK

New York, March 9 (AP)—Warren R. Austin, American delegate, today drafted a sharp reply to Russia's bitter charges before the United Nations Security Council that the United States sought a world monopoly in atomic energy.

Austin was expected to sketch the American position on the bomb from its beginnings, with emphasis on a willingness to share the atomic secrets with the world upon drafting of proper safeguards.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, of Great Britain, also will take the floor at tomorrow's meeting to challenge statements by Andrei A. Gromyko, deputy Soviet Foreign Minister and council delegate, on the background of the veto.

To Avoid Name-Calling

Austin was reported to have decided against a point-by-point reply to Gromyko's 78-minute council speech of last week on the theory that the American position on international control of atomic energy had been well laid down. He noted that all members of the twelve-nation Atomic Energy Commission except Russia and Poland already had accepted the United States proposals.

It was understood, further, that Austin had no intention of being drawn into a series of name-calling speeches over an issue with such well-defined lines.

With the formality of a reply over, Austin will renew his request that the controversial atomic report be referred back to the Atomic Energy Commission, American sources said.

Cadogan And "History Of Veto"

A British spokesman described Cadogan as being disturbed over Gromyko's "history of the veto" and especially the direct quotation of a statement purportedly made at Yalta by former Prime Minister Winston Churchill. This spokesman labeled Gromyko's action a breach of an agreement regarding secrecy of the Big Three meetings.

Cadogan also was reported ready to object to Gromyko's inference that Great Britain and the United States were the ones insisting on the veto provision and not Russia.

A three-nation council subcommittee will hold a final meeting tomorroow to draft its findings on Great Britain's mine-laying complaint against Albania. The Polish member already has declared he could find no evidence to support the charges. Australia has taken an opposite stand and the third member—Colombia—has not commented.

The British accused Albania of laying mines in the Corfu Channel where two Royal Navy warships were damaged with a loss of 44 lives last October 22. Albania denied the charges and in turn said the British ships had invaded her territorial waters.

Petition From Samoan Chiefs

Meanwhile, the United Nations disclosed that native leaders of Western Samoa have petitioned the United Nations Trusteeship Council demanding complete self-government with the protection of New Zealand, which now administers the territory under a trust agreement.

The petition signed by 46 Samoan chiefs and members of the Legislative Council also asked that steps be taken to unite Western Samoa with Eastern Samoa, which has been a protectorate of the United States for nearly 50 years.

The Samoan communication already has been circulated among the members of the Trusteeship Council and will be placed on the agenda for its first session which opens March 26.

Raises A Complex Issue

The Samoan demand for self-government did not come as a surprise. Sir Carl Berendsen, New Zealand delegate to the General Assembly, said last fall the Western Samoans wanted self-government, but the New Zealand Government felt the natives were not sufficiently developed politically to run their own affairs.

The proposal for a union of Eastern and Western Samoa had not previously been indicated. This raises an extremely complex issue because Eastern Samoa is not under the United Nations trusteeship system. These islands were placed under a United States protectorate by an Anglo-German agreement in 1899. Any change in the status of Eastern Samoa, therefore, would have to be initiated by the United States.

4 Senators Voice Backing For Loan

New York, March 9 (AP)—Four United States senators approved tonight the possible grant of a $250,000,000 loan to Greece—but with reservations.

The Senators—Taft (R., Ohio), Hatch (D., N.M.), Pepper (D., Fla.) and Ferguson (R., Mich.)—made their stands during a radio roundtable discussion.

Taft and Ferguson based their approval of the loan upon the assumption that the money would be used expressly for the rehabilitation of the Greek people and that this nation supervise the spending of the money.

Pepper, while agreeing to the necessity of a loan to Greece, said he would oppose it if he thought the money were to be used to bolster "a broken down monarchy."

LONDON, MARCH 9-(AP)-PRIME MINISTER ATTLEE WILL RALLY THE RANKS OF HIS OWN PARTY AT A CLOSED MEETING TOMORROW, PRIOR TO GOING BEFORE THE HOUSE OF COMMONS TO PARTICIPATE IN A CRUCIAL THREE-DAY ECONOMIC DEBATE ON WHICH THE FATE OF HIS LABOR GOVERNMENT HINGES.

THE CALLING OF THE MEETING OF THE LABORITE PARLIAMENTARY DELEGATION WAS SEEN AS AN EFFORT TO PRESENT A UNITED FRONT AGAINST A CONSERVATIVE MOTION OF "NO CONFIDENCE," PROPOSED BY WINSTON CHURCHILL.

SIR STAFFORD CRIPPS, CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF TRADE, WILL OPEN THE DEBATE IN THE HOUSE BY PRESENTING A "MANPOWER BUDGET" BASED ON THE GRAVE CONDITIONS OUTLINED IN THE GOVERNMENT'S ECONOMIC WHITE PAPER.

OTHER GOVERNMENT SPOKESMEN, BESIDES ATTLEE AND CRIPPS, WILL BE HUGH DALTON, CHANCELLOR OF THE EXCHEQUER; A. V. ALEXANDER, DEFENSE MINISTER; GEORGE ISAACS, LABOR MINISTER; AND ARTHUR GREENWOOD, LORD PRIVY SEAL.

CONSERVATIVE TACTICS WERE EXPECTED TO BE DIRECTED BY OLIVER LYTTELTON, SIR JOHN ANDERSON AND SIR ANDREW DUNCAN. CHURCHILL WILL NOT SPEAK UNTIL WEDNESDAY, WHEN THE HOUSE IS SCHEDULED TO VOTE ON HIS MOTION.

ALTHOUGH THE DEBATE IS THE MOST CRITICAL ATTLEE HAS YET HAD TO FACE, PARLIAMENTARY OBSERVERS SAID THERE WAS NO DOUBT THE GOVERNMENT WOULD WIN BY A TIDY MARGIN ITS OWN MOTION OF APPROVAL FOR ITS ECONOMIC PLAN.

IF THE CONSERVATIVE MOTION WERE CARRIED, THE GOVERNMENT WOULD INEVITABLY HAVE TO RESIGN.

HARDLY LESS SEVERE THAN THE CONSERVATIVE MOTION WAS A PROPOSAL BY THE NINE LIBERAL MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE DEMANDING A "WORKABLE" ECONOMIC PLAN INSTEAD OF "INCOHERENT IMPROVISATIONS."

BOTH PACIFISTS AND TRADE UNIONISTS WITHIN THE LABOR PARTY HAVE CRITICIZED THE CABINET FOR KEEPING MORE THAN 1,000,000 MEN IN THE ARMED SERVICES, WHILE MANPOWER IS BADLY NEEDED IN INDUSTRY.

THE COMMANDER WARNED THAT ARMY AUTHORITIES "WILL TAKE DUE NOTICE OF EXCESSIVE AMOUNTS" TURNED IN BY INDIVIDUALS AND THAT INVESTIGATION OF THEIR SOURCES OF INCOME WILL FOLLOW.

ARMY UNITS THROUGHOUT U.S.-OCCUPIED GERMANY BEGAN COLLECTING THE OLD CURRENCY AT 5 A.M. (11 P.M. SUNDAY, EST) AND ALL HAD TO BE TURNED IN THIS AFTERNOON.

OVER A MONTH AGO BOGUS $5 AND $10 SCRIP BILLS BEGAN APPEARING IN FRANCE AND GERMANY. SINCE THEN NINE PERSONS, INCLUDING THREE AMERICAN ARMY OFFICERS, FOUR AMERICAN CIVILIANS AND TWO FRENCH CIVILIANS HAVE BEEN ARRESTED ON CHARGES OF PASSING COUNTERFEIT CURRENCY.

THE SCRIP--CALLED "MILITARY PAYMENT CERTIFICATES"--IS THE ONLY LEGAL TENDER IN MILITARY INSTALLATIONS THROUGHOUT THE EUROPEAN THEATER.

IT WAS ISSUED LAST SEPTEMBER IN A SIMILAR SURPRISE ACTION TO REPLACE ALLIED MILITARY MARKS WHICH HAD BEEN USED SINCE THE INVASION OF GERMANY.

THE ARMY EXPLAINED THAT THE ISSUANCE OF SCRIP WAS DESIGNED AS AN ATTACK ON BLACK MARKETING AND AN ATTEMPT TO PROTECT AMERICAN TAXPAYERS FROM HAVING TO REDEEM IN DOLLARS MILLIONS OF ILLEGALLY ACQUIRED MARKS.

ONLY PERSONS AUTHORIZED TO BUY IN AMERICAN MILITARY INSTALLATIONS WERE AUTHORIZED TO POSSESS SCRIP.

HOWEVER, MCNARNEY GAVE OFFICIAL RECOGNITION TO THE FACT THAT MANY GERMANS HAVE ACQUIRED SCRIP. HE CITED UNSETTLED WORLD ECONOMIC CONDITIONS AS THE REASON MANY PERSONS NOT ENTITLED TO USE SCRIP ARE HOARDING IT ILLEGALLY "UNDER THE MISTAKEN IMPRESSION" THAT THE UNITED STATES WOULD REDEEM IT IN DOLLARS.

MAR 1947

A26

"IF OUR CURRENCY WERE ALLOWED TO AFFECT THE ECONOMY OF ANY EUROPEAN COUNTRY IT WOULD BE DEFEATING THE ULTIMATE OBJECT OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE--THAT IS THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A STABLE FINANCE STRUCTURE THROUGHOUT EACH COUNTRY," MCNARNEY'S ANNOUNCEMENT SAID.

"THIS CHANGE IN THE FORM OF MILITARY PAYMENT CERTIFICATES," HE ADDED, "IS CONSISTENT WITH THE PLANS OF THE WAR DEPARTMENT, WHICH INSISTS ON DEVISING A SYSTEM OF CURRENCY WHICH CAN BE USED BY AUTHORIZED PERSONNEL IN ARMY FACILITIES THROUGHOUT THE WORLD WITH A MINIMUM OF INCONVENIENCE BUT WHICH WILL PROTECT THE AMERICAN TAXPAYER AND NOT AFFECT LOCAL ECONOMY."

MCNARNEY HINTED THAT SURPRISE RECONVERSIONS MIGHT OCCUR AT IRREGULAR INTERVALS IN THE FUTURE.

THE SUDDEN CALL-IN OF SCRIP WILL UNDOUBTEDLY TRAP LARGE AMOUNTS OF THE TENDER IN THE HANDS OF GERMANS, DISPLACED PERSONS AND OTHERS NOT AUTHORIZED TO USE IT AND LIKEWISE UNABLE TO RECONVERT IT TO NEW CURRENCY.

THEIR OLD SCRIP--OBTAINED IN ILLEGAL TRANSACTIONS--WILL NO LONGER BE OF ANY VALUE.

FOREIGN MINISTERS
BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

MOSCOW, MARCH 10-(AP)-LINES HARDENED FOR A GRIM STRUGGLE BETWEEN RUSSIA AND THE WESTERN POWERS--WITH EACH SIDE APPARENTLY OUT TO GET WHAT IT WANTS FROM THE GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN PEACE TREATIES--AS THE BIG FOUR FOREIGN MINISTERS' CONFERENCE GOT UNDER WAY HERE TODAY.

EVERY INDICATION WAS THAT PEACE WITH THE BEATEN NATIONS WOULD NOT BE MADE WITHOUT LONG, WORDY BATTLES LASTING FOR MONTHS -- OR EVEN YEARS.

U.S. SECRETARY OF STATE GEORGE C. MARSHALL, BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN AND FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTERS GEORGES BIDAULT HAVE PRESICTED ULTIMATE SUCCESS. BUT THE WEEKLY NEW TIMES, GENERALLY REGARDED AS THE VOICE OF THE SOVIET FOREIGN OFFICE, BLASTED U.S. AND BRITISH POLICIES ON GERMANY AND AUSTRIA AND SINGLED OUT THREE OF MARSHALL'S ADVISORS FOR PERSONAL ATTACK.

MAR 1947

PRIVATELY, WESTERN DIPLOMATS EXPRESSED THEMSELVES AS HIGHLY UNCERTAIN WHETHER ANY REAL PROGRESS WOULD BE MADE IN TREATY DRAFTING. EAST AND WEST SEEMED MUTUALLY SUSPICIOUS, EACH APPARENTLY BELIEVING THE OTHER TO BE MANEUVERING FOR CONTROL OF GERMANY.

THE CONFERENCE WAS SCHEDULED TO OPEN UNDER CHAIRMANSHIP OF SOVIET MINISTER V. M. MOLOTOV AT 5 P.M. (9 A.M., EST) AROUND A GREEN BAIZE TABLE IN THE GLEAMING COUNCIL CHAMBER OF THE HOUSE OF AVIATION INDUSTRIES, MORE THAN TWO MILES FROM THE KREMLIN.

THE MINISTERS' COUNCIL WAS EXPECTED TO DEAL FIRST WITH PROCEDURE OF A 10-POINT AGENDA ADOPTED IN NEW YORK, WHERE THE COUNCIL MET LAST NOVEMBER AND DECEMBER. PREDICTIONS WERE THAT THE FIRST SESSION WOULD LAST TWO OR THREE HOURS, AFTER WHICH U.S., BRITISH AND FRENCH OFFICIALS WOULD REPORT DEVELOPMENTS TO THE PRESS.

MAR 1947

AP1

MARSHALL, WHO SUCCEEDED JAMES F. BYRNES JAN. 21, WAS SITTING ON THE COUNCIL FOR THE FIRST TIME. HE AND BEVIN WERE EXPECTED TO SEEK HIGH PRIORITY FOR WORK ON THE AUSTRIAN TREATY SO THAT IT MIGHT BE COMPLETED HERE. BOTH ALSO PLANNED TO PRESS FOR A GERMAN DISARMAMENT TREATY. BYRNES LAST YEAR PROPOSED SUCH A PACT FOR 40 YEARS. BEVIN HAS SUGGESTED THAT THE TIME BE BOOSTED TO 50 YEARS.

MARSHALL, ARRIVING BY PLANE YESTERDAY, SAID THERE UNDOUBTEDLY WOULD BE "GREAT DIFFICULTIES" IN THE MOSCOW NEGOTIATIONS. HE NOTED THAT THERE HAD BEEN DIFFICULTIES IN PAST TREATY MAKING.

"BUT THEY HAVE BEEN MET SUCCESSFULLY," HE CONCLUDED, "AND I HAVE CONFIDENCE THAT WE WILL, BY PEACEFUL METHODS OF NEGOTIATION, REACH AGREEMENTS WHICH WILL GREATLY ADVANCE THE CAUSE OF PEACE IN WHICH WE ARE ALL SO MUCH INTERESTED."

MARSHALL ALSO EMPHASIZED THAT "THE MISSION ON WHICH I HAVE COME X X X IS ONE OF TREMENDOUS IMPORTANCE AND CONSEQUENCE FOR ALL MANKIND." ON THIS POINT ALONE, MARSHALL AND THE NEW TIMES SEEMED AGREED.

THE WEEKLY SAID THE CONFERENCE "WILL IN MANY WAYS DETERMINE THE COURSE OF DEVELOPMENT OF INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS IN EUROPE AND ALL THE WORLD OVER."

THE MAGAZINE THEN WARNED THE WEST AGAINST "ATOMIC DIPLOMACY" AND TRYING TO DICTATE TO THE SOVIET UNION; ACCUSED THE U.S. AND BRITAIN OF VIOLATING THE POTSDAM PACT ON GERMANY, AND LABELED AS "BLACKMAIL" THE ADVOCACY OF A WESTERN POLICY OF FIRMNESS TOWARD RUSSIA.

MOSCOW--FIRST ADD FOREIGN MINISTERS X X X RUSSIA.

THE NEW TIMES FURTHER LAMBASTED U.S. AND BRITISH PORPOSALS TO FEDERALIZE GERMANY AND DEMANDED UNIFICATION. LIKEWISE, IT RENEWED DEMANDS FOR REPARATIONS WHICH THE WEST OPPOSES. THESE ARE AMONG THE GREATEST ISSUES HERE.

THE U.S. AIDES ATTACKED WERE JOHN FOSTER DULLES, REPUBLICAN FOREIGN AFFAIRS EXPERT; GEN. MARK W. CLARK, ADVISOR ON AUSTRIA, AND MAJ. GEN. WILLIAM H. DRAPER, JR., ECONOMIC ADVISOR TO THE U.S. MILITARY GOVERNMENT IN GERMANY.

MAR 1947

THE ARTICLE ALSO ASSAILED U.S. AND BRITISH OPPOSITION TO SOVIET REMOVALS OF ALLEGED GERMAN ASSETS FROM AUSTRIA.

WHILE THE ARTICLE MIGHT BE MERE FIST SHAKING, IT WAS REGARDED AS PUTTING MOLOTOV TACTICALLY IN AN UNCOMPROMISING POSITION--SUCH AS MARSHALL LIKEWISE HELD ON FUNDAMENTAL ISSUES SUCH AS REPARATIONS, THE POLITICAL FUTURE OF GERMANY AND THE EARLY AND COMPLETE INDEPENDENCE OF AUSTRIA.

THE SOVIET UNION OFFICIALLY LIFTED CENSORSHIP OF CONFERENCE COPY TODAY, AND THE HEAVIEST FILE OF UNSCREENED STORIES IN MODERN TIMES WAS PURING FROM MOSCOW TO THE WORLD. TIGHT CENSORSHIP WAS KEPT ON NON-CONFERENCE NEWS.

CONFERENCE SIDE ACTIVITIES WERE DEEMED LIKELY TO INCLUDE TALKS BETWEEN BEVIN AND MOLOTOV ON A BRITISH-RUSSIAN ALLIANCE AND PERHAPS AMONG MARSHALL, MOLOTOV AND BEVIN ON THE CURRENTLY HOT GREEK, HUNGARIAN AND POLISH SITUATIONS.

THE OPENING OF THE CONFERENCE WAS UNMARKED BY HEAVY FESTIVITIES. BEVIN, WHO ARRIVED BY TRAIN SATURDAY, AND BIDAULT, WHO CAME IN YESTERDAY IN THE SAME MANNER, CALLED ON MOLOTOV YESTERDAY TO PAY THEIR RESPECTS, AND BEVIN VISITED BIDAULT AND MARSHALL IN THE COURSE OF A DRIVE THROUGH TOWN AND COUNTRY.

MARSHALL WENT DIRECTLY TO SPASSO HOUSE, HOME OF U.S. AMBASSADOR WALTER BEDELL SMITH, AND THERE SMITH ARRANGED TO MAKE HIS OWN BEDROOM AVAILABLE TO THE SECRETARY WHILE HE HIMSELF DISPLACED AN ORDERLY IN A MUCH SMALLER CHAMBER.

SPASSO HOUSE WAS CROWDED; BILLIARD AND BALLROOMS HAD BEEN CONVERTED INTO WORKING SPACE FOR THE MORE THAN 50 MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN DELEGATION. ASIDE FROM TOP PEOPLE LIVING AT THE EMBASSIES, AMERICAN, BRITISH AND FRENCH OFFICIALS AND STAFFS WERE HOUSED IN THE NEWLY REDECORATED MOSKVA HOTEL, WHERE ABOUT 76 CORRESPONDENTS HERE TO COVER THE CONFERENCE ALSO WERE HOUSED.

THE FOREIGNERS GENERALLY APPEARED MUCH PLEASED WITH THE REAL EFFORT PUT FORWARD TO MAKE THEIR STAY COMFORTABLE AND WITH THE PLEASANT SURROUNDINGS PROVIDED TO EXPEDITE THE WORK OF OFFICIALS AND NEWSMEN.

(IN WASHINGTON, THE NATIONAL PLANNING ASSOCIATION YESTERDAY SAID THAT THE U.S. SHOULD INSIST ON FULL SOVIET COMPLIANCE WITH THE POTSDAM-ADOPTED GERMAN REPARATIONS PLAN AND THAT MARSHALL SHOULD REJECT REVISED RUSSIAN DEMANDS FOR HALF OF A TOTAL OF $20,000,000,000 IN REPARATIONS, TO BE PAID PARTLY FROM CURRENT GERMAN PRODUCTION.

(OTHERWISE, THE REPORT SAID, "UNFAIR, CONTINUING BURDENS" WOULD BE LAID ON THE U.S. TAXPAYER AND GERMAN LIVING STANDARDS WOULD BE DRIVEN TO STARVATION LEVELS SO AS TO "JEOPARDIZE THE FUTURE PEACE OF THE WORLD."

MOSCOW, MARCH 9-(AP)-THE SOVIET PRESS GAVE FRONT-PAGE PLAY TODAY TO YESTERDAY'S ARRIVAL OF BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN FOR THE FOUR-POWER FOREIGN MINISTERS' CONFERENCE TO BEGIN TOMORROW.

NEWSPAPERS HERE--INCLUDING THE GOVERNMENT'S IZVESTIA AND THE COMMUNIST PARTY'S PRAVDA--GAVE ALMOST A QUARTER PAGE TO BEVIN. THEY PUBLISHED HIS PICTURE AND QUOTED IN FULL HIS GREETING TO THE RUSSIAN PEOPLE. BUT THE PAPERS SKIPPED EDITORIAL COMMENT. ON THE RADIO, A COMMENTATOR REVIEWED GENERAL CONFERENCE QUESTIONS.

THAT THE NEWSPAPERS HAVE NOT BEEN FULL OF CONFERENCE NEWS IS NO SURPRISE TO FOREIGNERS HERE; THEY KNOW THAT THE SOVIET PRESS WORKS ON THE THEORY THAT A THING IS NOT NEWS UNTIL IT HAS HAPPENED.

IN THE CONFERENCE, SECRETARY OF STATE GEORGE C.MARSHALL OF THE UNITED STATES, FOREIGN MINISTER GEORGES BIDAULT OF FRANCE, BEVIN AND SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER V.M.MOLOTOV WILL TRY TO AGREE ON PEACE TREATIES WITH GERMANY AND AUSTRIA.

MOSCOW WAS WHITE TODAY FROM THE LATEST SNOWFALL, BUT IT WAS NOT COLD. SKIES WERE CLOUDY.

PALESTINE

BY CARTER L. DAVIDSON

JERUSALEM, MARCH 10-(AP)-THE BRITISH HALED 18 SEAFARERS FROM THE UNITED STATES, CREWMEN OF AN INTERCEPTED JEWISH REFUGEE VESSEL, TO A HAIFA MAGISTRATE'S COURT TODAY ON CHARGES OF AIDING ILLEGAL IMMIGRATION INTO PALESTINE.

BRITISH ARMY OFFICERS MEANWHILE LOOKED BACK ON A WEEKEND OF GUNFIRE AND BOMB BLASTS FATAL TO NINE PERSONS AND SAID THEY "FRANKLY" WERE EXPECTING FRESH VIOLENCE AS A RESULT OF DEPORTATION OF UNAUTHORIZED JEWISH IMMIGRANTS ABOARD THE VESSEL.

OFFICIALS REPORTED 599 SUCH IMMIGRANTS WERE ABOARD THE 700-TON STEAM YACHT ABRIL, BOARDED OFF JAFFA SATURDAY. THEY SAID THAT, EXCEPT FOR A PREGNANT WOMAN AND HER HUSBAND WHO WERE PERMITTED TO STAY IN THE HOLY LAND, ALL WERE SHIPPED TO A CYRPRUS CAMP ABOARD THREE BRITISH TROOP CARRIERS.

AN OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT SAID THE U.S. CREWMEN WERE ARRESTED YESTERDAY WHEN THE ABRIL WAS BROUGHT TO HAIFA.

NEWSPAPERS REPORTED THE ABRIL FORMERLY WAS THE PRIVATE YACHT CYTHEREA--LATER THE WARTIME PATROL VESSEL PY 31 OF THE U.S. NAVY, WHICH SOLD HER FOR $36,000 LAST YEAR. THE SHIP, WHICH WAS FLYING THE HONDURAS FLAG WHEN STOPPED, WAS BELIEVED TO HAVE SAILED FROM FRANCE.

(IN NEW YORK, THE AMERICAN LEAGUE FOR A FREE PALESTINE, INC., SAID THE VESSEL BELONGED TO THE TYRE SHIPPING CO., INC., OF NEW YORK AND HER CREW, EXCEPT FOR THE ENGINEERS, CONSISTED ENTIRELY OF U.S. CITIZENS. THE LEAGUE SAID SHE HAD BEEN RENAMED AFTER BEN HECHT, AMERICAN JEWISH PLAYWRIGHT.)

FOR THE SECOND JEWISH SABBATH IN A ROW, LIFE WAS LOST SATURDAY NIGHT IN RAIDS BLAMED ON JEWISH UNDERGROUND EXTREMISTS.

THREE JEWS AND A BRITISH GUARDSMAN WERE KILLED AND A FIFTH BODY LATER WAS FOUND IN ALL-JEWISH TEL AVIV, WHERE RAIDERS FIRED ON BRITISH MILITARY HEADQUARTERS IN CITRUS HOUSE.

CORPSES OF THREE CIVILIANS WERE FOUND IN BARBED-WIRE ENTANGLEMENTS AROUND THE BRITISH ARMY'S SARONA CAMP NEARBY, REPORTED ATTACKED WITH THREE HAND GRENADES. MRS. KATJA BATH SHALOM MISRAHI WAS SHOT AND KILLED IN REHOVOT WEST OF JERUSALEM. A REPORT SAID MASKED MEN HAD WARNED THE WOMAN, TERMING HER A POLICE INFORMER.

IN TEL AVIV ATTACKS, 11 JEWS AND A BRITISH CONSTABLE WERE WOUNDED SEVERELY AND THREE JEWS AND A BRITISH CONSTABLE WERE SLIGHTLY HURT. AN EXPLOSION CAUSED DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT $40,000 AT THE NUR MATCH FACTORY.

A BRITISH INTELLIGENCE OFFICER SAID LAST NIGHT THAT NOT MORE THAN 15 MEN "AT THE MOST" HAD CARRIED OUT SATURDAY NIGHT'S RAIDS ON THE MILITARY HEADQUARTERS AND CAMP IN TEL AVIV AND ON POLICE HEADQUARTERS IN JAFFA, ARAB CITY TO THE SOUTH.

"A HANDFUL OF MEN DASHING FROM HOUSE TO HOUSE FIRING AS THEY RUN CAN EASILY GIVE THE IMPRESSION OF NUMBERS," HE ADDED.

SUCH "RELATIVELY MINOR INCIDENTS," SAID AN ARMY SPOKESMAN, WERE NO REASON FOR PUTTING BACK INTO EFFECT THE HOUSE CURFEW IN TEL AVIV AND ENVIRONS THAT WAS LIFTED LAST MONDAY AFTER A DAY AND TWO NIGHTS OF STRICT ENFORCEMENT.

THE BRITISH, RULING PALESTINE'S ARABS AND JEWS AS A LEAGUE MANDATORY POWER, TODAY STILL MAINTAINED THE MARTIAL LAW IMPOSED A WEEK AGO ON THE TEL AVIV COASTAL REGION AND ON JERUSALEM'S MEA SHEARIM JEWISH DISTRICT AS THE RESULT OF A SATURDAY NIGHT BOMBING OF A BRITISH OFFICERS' CLUB HERE WITH THE LOSS OF 16 LIVES.

THE AVOWED AIM OF THE MARTIAL LAW DECREES IS TO HELP THE ARMY STAMP OUT IRGUN ZVAI LEUMI AND THE SO-CALLED STERN GANG, ALSO OF THE JEWISH UNDERGROUND.

THE BODIES OF THREE CIVILIANS WERE FOUND WITHIN THE BARBED WIRE

IN REHOVOT, SMALL JEWISH TOWN OUTSIDE THE MARTIAL LAW AREA, MRS. KATJA BATH SHALOM MISRAHI, 40, WAS FOUND SHOT TO DEATH IN HER FLAT.

HAIFA, PALESTINE, MARCH 9-(AP)-BRITISH OFFICIALS ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT SOME 600 UNAUTHORIZED JEWISH IMMIGRANTS CAUGHT TRYING TO GET INTO PALESTINE YESTERDAY HAD BEEN DEPORTED AND WERE ON THEIR WAY TO A CAMP ON CYPRUS.

THEY SAID THE IMMIGRANTS, MOST OF THEM YOUNG MEN, DID NOT RESIST WHEN THEY WERE TRANSFERRED HERE FROM THE VESSEL ABRIL TO THREE FORMER BRITISH TROOPSHIPS TO BE TAKEN TO THE ISLAND. THEY REPORTED THE ABRIL WAS FLYING THE HONDURAS FLAG WHEN BOARDED IN THE MEDITERRANEAN OFF JAFFA YESTERDAY.

BRITISH AUTHORITIES, THE OFFICIALS SAID, SEARCHED PASSENGERS AND CREW AND CONFISCATED SOME DOCUMENTS ABOARD THE SHIP, WHICH WAS PRESUMED TO HAVE COME FROM A FRENCH PORT. EACH OF THE IMMIGRANTS WAS REPORTED TO CARRY A 14-PAGE DOCUMENT STYLED A "PASSPORT," CONTAINING INFORMATION THAT IT HAD BEEN ISSUED IN PARIS BY A "HEBREW COMMITTEE FOR NATIONAL LIBERATION" AND BEARING THE UNDECIPHERABLE SIGNATURE OF A MAN CALLING HIMSELF "DIRECTOR OF IMMIGRATION."

(THE AMERICAN LEAGUE FOR A FREE PALESTINE, INC., SAID IN NEW YORK LAST NIGHT THAT THE ABRIL WAS A 205-FOOT, 800-TON MOTORSHIP THAT IN TRANSIT HAD BEEN RENAMED THE "BEN HECHT." HECHT WROTE THE LEAGUE'S PAGEANT, "A FLAG IS BORN."

(THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID THE VESSEL BELONGED TO THE TYRE SHIPPING CO., INC., OF NEW YORK: HAD A CREW OF 25 VOLUNTEERS, MOSTLY U.S. CITIZENS, AND HAD LEFT EUROPE WITH "OVER 900 HEBREW REPATRIATES ABOARD."

(THE BEN HECHT, SAID THE LEAGUE, WAS BUILT AS A YACHT IN GERMANY IN 1930, PASSED THROUGH A FEW CHANGES OF OWNERSHIP AND DURING THE WAR WAS USED BY THE U.S. NAVY IN THE COASTAL SERVICE, BEING SOLD TO THE CURRENT OWNER LAST YEAR.)

THE LOCAL PRESS SAID THE ABRIL ONCE WAS THE PRIVATE YACHT CYTHEREA, LATER BECAME THE U.S. NAVY'S PY 31 AND WAS SOLD BY THE NAVY AS SURPLUS FOR $36,000. IT REPORTED THE VESSEL SAILED FROM THE UNITED STATES UNDER THE HONDURAS FLAG IN DECEMBER.

THE "PASSPORT" PAPERS, BEARING ALSO THE TITLE, "IDENTITY TRAVEL DOCUMENT," WERE SAID TO BE WRITTEN IN HEBREW, ENGLISH AND FRENCH AND TO BEAR THE LION OF JUDAH AND THE STAR OF DAVID.

EACH WAS REPORTED TO PROCLAIM THE BEARER'S "ELIGIBILITY TO BECOME A CITIZEN OF THE HEBREW REPUBLIC WHEN ESTABLISHED...IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE PRINCIPLE OF SELF DETERMINATION..."

SPACE WAS PROVIDED, REPORTS SAID, FOR AN "ENTRY VISA" FOR PALESTINE.

FIRST LEAD ARMY CURRENCY (ROUNDUP)

TOKYO, MONDAY, MARCH 10-(AP)-U.S. OCCUPATION FORCES AROUND THE WORLD CALLED SUDDENLY TODAY FOR QUICK CONVERSION OF ALL THEIR MILITARY SCRIP TO NEWLY PRINTED NOTES. THE CAMPAIGN, TOKYO OFFICERS SAID, WAS AIMED AT COUNTERFEITING AND ILLEGAL POSSESSION OF THE OCCUPATION MONEY.

IN JAPAN, A BLACKOUT OF ALL COMMUNICATIONS WITH OTHER NATIONS WAS ENFORCED THROUGHOUT THE MORNING TODAY, PENDING RELEASE OF OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS OF THE CURRENCY DECREES.

(IN FRANKFURT, GERMANY, U.S. OCCUPATION FORCES TOOK SIMULTANEOUS ACTION, AND THE EUROPEAN THEATER COMMANDER, GEN. JOSEPH T. MCNARNEY, SAID "THIS IS THE SUREST WAY OF FORESTALLING SUCCESSFUL COUNTERFEIT OPERATIONS."

ARRESTED SOME TIME AGO IN EUROPE WERE SEVERAL ARMY OFFICERS AND CIVILIANS, IN THE ARMY'S DRIVE AGAINST COUNTERFEITING OF ITS SCRIP.)

THE ARMY HAS USED ITS OWN OCCUPATION CURRENCY AS LEGAL TENDER AMONG ITS OWN FORCES; IT HAS NOT BEEN LEGAL FOR OUTSIDE MERCHANDISING.

TOKYO, MONDAY, MARCH 10-(AP)-THE U.S. ARMY STOPPED ALL OUTGOING COMMUNICATIONS FROM JAPAN FOR SEVERAL HOURS THIS MORNING, WHILE SUDDENLY CALLING IN ALL MILITARY CURRENCY FOR CONVERSION TO NEW NOTES. THE OPERATION WAS ANNOUNCED AS THE START OF A WORLD-WIDE CAMPAIGN AGAINST COUNTERFEITING AND ILLEGAL POSSESSION OF OCCUPATION MONEY.

ASSOCIATED PRESS AND OTHER NEWS AGENCY BROADCASTS, AND ALL COMMERCIAL RADIO TRANSMISSIONS WERE SUSPENDED TEMPORARILY ON ARMY ORDERS.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICIALS SAID THIS WAS AN EFFORT TO INSURE SECRECY ON ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE CURRENCY RECALL UNTIL 12:50 P.M. (10:50 P.M. SUNDAY, E.S.T.). HOWEVER, ALL OTHER NEWS WAS ALSO SUSPENDED UNTIL THAT HOUR.

LT.COL.D.J.CALIDONNA, COMMANDING THE TOKYO COMMUNICATIONS CENTER, ISSUED THE ORDERS HALTING NEWS TRANSMISSIONS. HE REFUSED TO DISCUSS THE ACTION, AND SAID HE HAD NOT RECEIVED COUNTERMANDING ORDERS PERMITTING TRANSMISSION OF OTHER THAN CURRENCY NEWS. THE CHIEF OF STAFF'S OFFICE HAD PROMISED TO ORDER SUCH RELAXATION, AT THE IMMEDIATE REQUEST OF THE NEWS SERVICES.

THE JAPANESE TELEGRAPH OFFICE SAID DISTRIBUTION OF INCOMING MESSAGES ALSO HAD BEEN PROHIBITED DURING THE MORNING.

COMPLYING WITH WAR DEPARTMENT INSTRUCTIONS--ISSUED IN TOP SECRECY--OFFICERS HERE EXPECTED TO CONVERT $60,000,000 (M) WORTH OF MILITARY CURRENCY BY 6 P.M. AFTER THAT HOUR, THE OLD OCCUPATION NOTES WILL BE ILLEGAL. A NEW MILITARY SERIES IS TO BE ISSUED.

COL.H.S.RUTH, FISCAL OFFICER, SAID NO COUNTERFEITING HAS BEEN REPORTED IN JAPAN, BUT JAPANESE ARE KNOWN TO HAVE BEEN BUYING THE MILITARY CURRENCY IN THE BELIEF IT WAS VALUABLE. THE ARMY REPEATEDLY HAS ANNOUNCED IT WOULD BE LEGAL TENDER ONLY FOR OCCUPATION PERSONNEL.

NEW DELHI, MARCH 9-(AP)-MANU SUBEDAR, FINANCIAL EXPERT AND MEMBER OF THE INDIAN CENTRAL ASSEMBLY, TODAY URGED THAT A BAN ON PRIVATE IMPORTATION OF SILVER AND GOLD INTO INDIA SHOULD BE IMPOSED IN ORDER TO PROTECT THE CURRENCIES OF BRITAIN, INDIA AND THE UNITED STATES FROM EXPLOITATION.

HIS COMMENT FOLLOWED REPORTS IN THE MARKET AT BOMBAY THAT THE INDIAN RESERVE BANK MIGHT ALREADY BE REFUSING LICENSES FOR PRIVATE IMPORTATION OF SILVER. THERE WAS NOTHING OFFICIAL ABOUT ANY SUCH ACTION BUT THE RESERVE BANK HAS AUTHORITY UNDER DIRECTION OF THE FINANCE DEPARTMENT TO REFUSE SUCH PERMITS AND TO TAKE OVER IMPORTATION OF PRECIOUS METALS AS A GOVERNMENT MONOPOLY.

SILVER PRICES CLIMBED SLIGHTLY IN BOMBAY IN ANTICIPATION THAT PRIVATE DEALINGS MIGHT BE CURTAILED IN AN EFFORT TO GET TRANSACTIONS OUT OF THE HANDS OF EUROPEAN BANKERS AND INTO CONTROL OF THE GOVERNMENT.

MAR 1947

FINANCIAL CIRCLES HERE ALSO INDICATED IT WAS POSSIBLE THAT CURTAILMENT OF PRIVATE IMPORT OF SILVER HAD ALREADY BEEN STARTED BY THE RESERVE BANK. THE SAME CIRCLES INDICATED IT WAS POSSIBLE THAT NO FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF SUCH ACTION WOULD BE MADE EVEN IF PRIVATE TRANSACTIONS WERE STOPPED.

IT IS A FANTASTIC SITUATION UNDER WHICH INDIA'S DEMAND FOR GOLD AND SILVER HAS DRIVEN BOTH THE WORLD PRICE AND THE INDIA PRICE STEADILY UPWARD. THE INDIAN POPULATION ALWAYS HAS HOARDED GOLD AND SILVER IN POTS IN WALLS AND IN HUGE ANKLETS AND BRACELETS ON WOMEN OF THE FAMILY. WOMEN DECKED WITH SEVERAL POUNDS OF SILVER ARE QUITE COMMON AND DESCRIBED IN INDIA AS THE "FAMILY BANK."

MANU SUBEDAR SAID THAT WHEN BRITAIN WENT OFF THE GOLD STANDARD, VAST HOARDS OF INDIAN GOLD LEFT THE COUNTRY AND ONLY A FRACTION OF IT HAD RETURNED. HE DESCRIBED THE STEADY RISE IN THE SILVER PRICE DURING THE PAST YEAR AS DUE TO UNSETTLED CONDITIONS IN INDIA WHICH ENCOURAGED HOARDING BOTH BY RICH AND POOR. AS IT STANDS AT PRESENT, INDIANS ARE BUYING SILVER IN THIS COUNTRY AT ABOUT FOUR RUPEES AN OUNCE WHICH INCLUDES THE DOMESTIC PRICE PLUS DUTY AND HANDLING CHARGES. FOUR RUPEES EQUALS ABOUT $1.28, AGAINST THE U.S. TREASURY PRICE OF 90 CENTS AND THE NEW YORK PRICE OF 83 CENTS.

SUBEDAR SAID THAT IF AN OUTRIGHT BAN ON IMPORTS OF SILVER WERE IMPOSED IN INDIA, THE PRICE WOULD QUICKLY JUMP 20 PERCENT.

RIO DE JANEIRO, BRAZIL, MARCH 9-(AP)-TRANSPORTATION MINISTER CLOVIS PESTANA CONFIRMED LONDON REPORTS TODAY THAT BRAZIL WAS PLANNING TO USE FUNDS FROZEN IN ENGLAND TO PURCHASE SOME BRITISH RAILWAYS AND UTILITIES IN BRAZIL.

HE SAID THE PROPERTIES INCLUDED THE LEOPOLDINA AND WESTERN RAILROAD AND THE LIGHT, POWER AND STREET CAR COMPANIES IN THE NORTHERN CITIES OF BELEM, MANAUS AND FORTALEZA.

(ADVANCE) WASHINGTON, MARCH 9-(AP)-TWO UNITED STATES LABOR GROUPS REPORTED TONIGHT THAT THE ARGENTINE CONFEDERATION OF LABOR IS NO LONGER "A FREE INSTRUMENT OF THE WORKERS" BUT A POLITICAL ARM OF THE PERON GOVERNMENT.

THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR AND THE RAILWAY LABOR EXECUTIVES ASSOCIATION EXPRESSED THIS VIEW ON THE BASIS OF A REPORT BY A DELEGATION WHICH VISITED ARGENTINA.

ALTHOUGH THE TRIP WAS MADE AT THE ORIGINAL INVITATION OF THE PERON GOVERNMENT, THE AMERICANS SAID THEY ENCOUNTERED SOME DIFFICULTY IN TRYING TO MAKE AN "OBJECTIVE STUDY" OF THE ARGENTINE LABOR MOVEMENT AND WERE "THOROUGHLY DISGUSTED" WITH THEIR TREATMENT.

THE DELEGATION REPORTED THAT ONE IMPORTANT ARGENTINE LABOR OFFICIAL DISAPPEARED DURING THEIR TOUR AND NOTHING COULD BE LEARNED OF HIS FATE.

IN RULING AGAINST ANY COLLABORATION WITH THE ARGENTINE CONFEDERATION OF LABOR UNDER PRESENT CONDITIONS, THE AMERICAN GROUP DECLARED:

"THIS ORGANIZATION HAS NOW BEEN CONVERTED FROM A TRADE UNION MOVEMENT INTO A POLITICAL ARM OF THE GOVERNMENT.

"IT CANNOT ELECT ITS OFFICERS INDEPENDENTLY OF THE GOVERNMENT; IT CANNOT AND DOES NOT DETERMINE ITS POLICIES INDEPENDENTLY OF THE GOVERNMENT; IT CANNOT CARRY ON COLLECTIVE BARGAINING WITH THE EMPLOYERS INDEPENDENTLY OF POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC DIRECTION OF THE GOVERNMENT; IT CANNOT ADMINISTER ITS OWN INTERNAL AFFAIRS."

PRESIDENT JUAN PERON OF ARGENTINA, APPARENTLY ANTICIPATING THE AMERICAN CRITICISM, SAID IN BUENOS AIRES FRIDAY NIGHT THAT HIS GOVERNMENT COULD NOT BE ACCUSED OF INTERFERING IN UNION AFFAIRS "BECAUSE THE GOVERNMENT IS ONLY AN EXTENSION OF THE WORKING CLASSES."

THE AMERICAN DELEGATION SAID THAT ON THE BASIS OF ITS FINDINGS, IT HAD ALSO COME TO THE CONCLUSION:

"THERE IS LITTLE FORMAL ACTION BY THE (ARGENTINE) GOVERNMENT TO SUPPRESS CIVIL LIBERTIES. HOWEVER, THERE DOES DEFINITELY EXIST IN ARGENTINA A GENERAL ATMOSPHERE OF FEAR AND MUTUAL SUSPICION WHICH INTERFERES WITH THE EXERCISE OF ORDINARY CIVIL LIBERTIES, PARTICULARLY BY WORKERS' ORGANIZATIONS UNSYMPATHETIC TO THE GOVERNMENT OR THOSE WHICH MERELY WISH TO REMAIN ALOOF FROM POLITICAL ACTIVITIES."

HOWEVER, THE DELEGATION'S REPORT SAID:

"THE FACT THAT UNIONS WHICH ARE INDEPENDENT OF THE GOVERNMENT PUBLISH THEIR NEWSPAPERS AND MAGAZINES WITHOUT CENSORSHIP AND CONTINUE TO MEET INDICATES THAT THE SITUATION IS CONSIDERABLY DIFFERENT FROM THAT WHICH PREVAILED IN GERMANY OR ITALY UNDER DICTATORSHIP, WHICH PREVAILS CURRENTLY IN RUSSIA AND HER SATELLITE COUNTRIES, OR PREVAI WHICH PREVAILS CURRENTLY IN RUSSIA AND HER SATELLITE COUNTRIES, OR PREVAILED IN ARGENTINA ITSELF FROM JUNE 1943 TO THE EVE OF THE LAST PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS."

AN AFL INTERNATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS COMMITTEE ENDORSEMENT OF THE VISITING DELEGATION'S REPORT SAID THAT FREE LABOR MOVEMENTS SHOULD ENCOURAGE "INDEPENDENT TRADE UNIONS IN ARGENTINA WHICH ARE RESISTING DICTATORIAL EFFORTS OF THE PERON GOVERNMENT."

PERON'S GOVERNMENT INVITED THE AMERICAN LABOR GROUPS TO MAKE THE THREE-WEEK (JAN 19-FEB 9) INSPECTION TOUR. THE CIO TURNED DOWN THE INVITATION. THE AFL AND RAILROAD UNIONS ACCEPTED, BUT ONLY ON CONDITION THE ARGENTINE CONFEDERATION OF LABOR (CGT) ACT AS CO-HOST.

30-24-8381

IT WAS THIS CONDITION THAT APPARENTLY LED TO THE DISAPPEARANCE OF THE ARGENTINE CONFEDERATION'S SECRETARY GENERAL, LUIS F.GAY, JUST AFTER THE AMERICANS ARRIVED AND TO A SERIES OF OTHER UNPLEASANT OCCURANCES THAT FOLLOWED.

ONE SUCH INCIDENT TOOK PLACE ON THE SAME DAY THE U.S.LABOR GROUP ARRIVED IN BUENOS AIRES, AT A RECEPTION GIVEN BY THE ARGENTINE LABOR AND WELFARE DEPARTMENT.

"AT THE RECEPTION," THE REPORT SAID, "WE WERE INVITED TO REMOVE OUR COATS IN VIEW OF THE EXTREME HEAT AND HUMIDITY.

"WE WERE ABOUT TO INTERPRET THIS AS AN ACT OF COURTESY BUT WERE FORCED TO REVISE OUR INTERPRETATION AS SOON AS WE NOTICED A FLASHING OF PHOTOGRAPHERS' BULBS AND A GRINDING OF NEWSREEL CAMERAS.

"UPON INQUIRY WE LEARNED THAT THE REMOVAL OF ONE'S COAT IN PUBLIC IN ARGENTINA IS REGARDED AS A SYMBOLIC GESTURE OF SUPPORT FOR PERON, WHO TERMS HIMSELF THE CHAMPION OF THE 'DESCAMISADOS,' OR SHIRTLESS ONES.

"THE PRO-GOVERNMENT NEWSPAPERS AND NEWSWREELS PLAYED UP THE INCIDENT AS THOUGH IT WERE AN INDICATION OF ENDORSEMENT BY US OF THE PERON GOVERNMENT."

SOO, THE REPORT CONTINUED, GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS AND PERON HIMSELF MADE IT CLEAR TO THE AMERICANS THEY WERE NOT TO "INVESTIGATE THE LABOR MOVEMENT OR ANY OTHER MATTER IN ARGENTINA," NOR SPEAK TOO OFTEN WITH GAY OR OTHER CGT LEADERS.

THE REPORT SAID THE AMERICANS SAW GAY ON JAN.20, THE DAY AFTER THEY ARRIVED, AND HE TOLD THEM PERON HAD SUMMONED HIM. AFTER THAT THE AMERICANS SAID THEY NEVER SAW GAY AGAIN. THEY READ IN THE BUENOS AIRES NEWSPAPERS HE HAD BEEN REMOVED FROM ALL HIS GOVERNMENT POSTS AND FROM THE CGT LEADERSHIP.

MAR 1947

LATER, THE ARGENTINE FOREIGN MINISTER, JUAN BRAMUGLIA, TOLD THE AMERICANS GAY WAS BEING PUNISHED "FOR HAVING LENT HIMSELF TO THE 'MANEUVER' TO DISRUPT THE ENTERTAINMENT PROGRAM MAPPED OUT BY X X THE GOVERNMENT."

ALL CGT'S PRINCIPAL OFFICERS WERE LIKEWISE REMOVED AND NO SUCCESSORS WERE ELECTED UNTIL THE AMERICANS LEFT THE COUNTRY, THE REPORT ADDED.

THEREAFTER, GOVERNMENT AGENTS ACCOMPANIED THE AMERICANS EVERYWHERE THEY WENT. ONE ESCORT MADE "THREATS OF PHYSICAL VIOLENCE" ON A MEMBER OF THE AMERICAN DELEGATION, ON ONE OCCASION, THE REPORT SAID.

DESPITE ALL THIS, THE AMERICANS REPORTED THEY WERE ABLE TO INTERVIEW A CONSIDERABLE NUMBER OF ARGENTINE LABOR LEADERS AND DETERMINE THAT THE COUNTRY'S LABOR MOVEMENT IS "WHOLY AND COMPLETELY DOMINATED BY THE PERON GOVERNMENT."

ONE GROUP OF ARGENTINE UNIONS TOLD THE AMERICAN DELEGATION THAT BEFORE THE REVOLUTION OF 1943, WHEN PERON CAME INTO POWER, "WE HAD ABSOLUTE FREEDOM TO ORGANIZE UNIONS AND BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY."

"TODAY, HOWEVER," THEY ADDED, "THE LABOR MOVEMENT ENJOYS FREEDOM TO ORGANIZE AND CARRY ON, ON THE CONDITION THAT IT CRIES 'VIVA PERON.'

THE DELEGATION WAS COMPOSED OF ARNOLD S.ZANDER, SERAFINO ROMUALDI, LEE W.MINTON, MIGUEL GARRIGA AND WILLIAM MUNGER OF THE AFL, AND FELIX H.KNIGHT, J.L.ELLIOTT, WILLIAM J.TROST AND GEORGE H.PEDERSEN OF THE RAILWAY LABOR EXECUTIVES' ASSOCIATION.

(ADVANCE) WILMINGTON, N.C., MARCH 9-(AP)-EMPLOYES OF THE WILMINGTON DISTRICT CORPS OF ENGINEERS ARE TAKING KEEN PERSONAL INTEREST IN THE DEVELOPMENTS IN BATAVIA INVOLVING CAPTAIN RUUDY GRAY, WHOSE SHIP, THE MARTIN BEHRMAN, HAS BEEN SEIZED BY THE DUTCH.

THE CAPTAIN, A NATIVE OF THIS SECTION AND A FORMER ENGINEERS EMPLOYE, IS EXPECTED TO GIVE THE DUTCH A RUN FOR THEIR MONEY, FOR IN THE OPINION OF HIS FORMER FELLOW WORKERS, HE'S A MAN "WHO'LL STAND UP FOR HIS RIGHTS."

HIS RIGHTS, FOR THE MOMENT, ARE UNDER QUESTION BY DUTCH OFFICIALS IN BATAVIA, WHO HOLD THAT HE CANNOT SAIL FOR AMERICA WITH A CARGO OF PRODUCE FROM EUROPEAN-OWNED PLANTATIONS ILLEGALLY SEIZED BY THE INDONESIANS.

THE DUTCH BACKED UP THEIR OPINION WITH A BOARDING PARTY OF 60 MARINES, SAILORS AND CIVIL POLICE AS GRAY PREPARED TO SAIL FROM BATAVIA LAST FRIDAY. GRAY TERMED THE ACTION "SHEER PIRACY," AND WALKED OFF THE SHIP AS THE DUTCH BEGAN UNLOADING.

THE U.S. STATE DEPARTMENT HAS PROTESTED TO THE HAGUE OVER REGULATIONS UNDER WHICH THE SHIP WAS SEIZED.

MAR 1947

MEANWHILE, LOCAL PREJUDICE IS IN FAVOR OF CAPTAIN GRAY.

BORN AT LOCKWOOD'S FOLLY INLET IN A REMOTE COASTAL SECTION BELOW WILMINGTON, THE 47-YEAR-OLD SEA CAPTAIN WORKED HIS WAY TO A MASTER'S BERTH THROUGH THE SCHOOL OF EXPERIENCE.

HE WAS A NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICER IN THE NAVY FROM 1921 TO 1929, WHEN HE LEFT TO SAIL THE SEAS AS A CIVILIAN. IN 1931 HE JOINED THE WILMINGTON ENGINEERS AND IN A PERIOD OF EIGHT YEARS ROSE FROM DECK HAND TO MASTER ABOARD THREE OF THE ENGINEERS' VESSELS WITH AN UNLIMITED NAVIGATOR'S LICENSE.

GRAY LEFT FEDERAL EMPLOY IN 1939 TO BECOME MASTER OF A PRIVATE TOWING TUG. HE ENLISTED IN THE MERCHANT MARINE FOLLOWING THE OUTBREAK OF WORLD WAR II.

IN THE OPINION OF ONE OF HIS FELLOW ENGINEERS EMPLOYES, CAPTAIN GRAY IS "ONE OF THE FINEST NAVIGATORS THE ATLANTIC COAST HAS EVER SEEN."

(ADVANCE) WASHINGTON,MARCH 9-(AP)-THE NATIONAL PLANNING ASSOCIATION ASSERTED TODAY THAT THE UNITED STATES SHOULD INSIST ON FULL RUSSIAN COMPLIANCE WITH THE GERMAN REPARATIONS PLAN ADOPTED AT POTSDAM.

IN A REPORT ISSUED ON THE EVE OF THE BIG FOUR FOREIGN MINISTERS CONFERENCE IN MOSCOW, THE ORGANIZATION SAID SECRETARY OF STATE MARSHALL SHOULD REJECT THE REVISED SOVIET DEMANDS. THESE WOULD GIVE RUSSIA HALF OF A TOTAL $20,000,000,000 REPARATIONS BILL, PAYABLE IN PART FROM THE CURRENT OUTPUT OF GERMAN FACTORIES AND MINES.

TO YIELD ON THIS ISSUE, SAID NPA, WOULD "NOT ONLY PLACE UNFAIR, CONTINUING BURDENS ON THE AMERICAN TAXPAYER BUT WOULD ALSO DRIVE GERMAN LIVING STANDARDS TO STARVATION LEVELS AND JEOPARDIZE THE FUTURE PEACE OF THE WORLD."

THIS COUNTRY "CANNOT AFFORD" TO LET FACTORY OUTPUT GO INTO REPARATIONS PAYMENTS AT LEAST UNTIL GERMANY IS SELF-SUSTAINING AND UNTIL HER EXPORTS ALLOW THE REPAYMENT OF THE "BILLION DOLLARS OR MORE" WHICH AMERICA MUST ADVANCE DURING THE PERIOD OF OCCUPATION, IT WAS ARGUED.

THE REPORT WAS WRITTEN FOR NPA BY DAVID GINSBURG, FORMER U.S. ALTERNATE MEMBER OF THE FOUR-POWER ECONOMIC DIRECTORATE IN BERLIN AND DEPUTY ECONOMIC DIRECTOR OF THE OFFICE OF MILITARY GOVERNMENT.

IT WAS APPROVED BY NPA'S 28-MEMBER INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE, WHOSE MEMBERSHIP TAKES IN BUSINESS, LABOR AND AGRICULTURAL LEADERS, ECONOMISTS, AND SUCH FORMER GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS AS LAUCHLIN CURRIE, MILTON EISENHOWER, ISADOR LUBIN AND WAYNE CHATFIELD TAYLOR.

THE ASSOCIATION DESCRIBES ITSELF AS A NON-PROFIT-NON-POLITICAL GROUP DEVOTED TO PLANNING IN AGRICULTURE, BUSINESS, LABOR AND GOVERNMENT.

IT HAS NO GOVERNMENTAL AFFILIATION. ITS REPORTS AND STUDIES ARE ISSUED AS INFORMATION FOR INTERESTED READERS.

THE SET FIGURE OF $20,000,000,000 IN GERMAN REPARATIONS, HALF IN CURRENT PRODUCTION AND HALF OF THE TOTAL FOR THE USSR, HAS BEEN A RECURRING RUSSIAN DEMAND SINCE WAR SETTLEMENTS FIRST WERE DISCUSSED.

AT THE YALTA CONFERENCE WITH PREMIER STALIN AND PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL EARLY IN 1945, THE LATE PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ACCEPTED--PURELY ON A BASIS FOR FUTURE DISCUSSION--BOTH THE $20,000,000,000 TOTAL FIGURE AND THE IDEA OF REPARATIONS FROM PRODUCTION.

THE FORMULA HAS BEEN RAISED BY THE RUSSIANS AT INTERVALS EVER SINCE, WITH THE UNITED STATES HOLDING OUT FOR REPARATIONS ONLY OUT OF MACHINERY AND INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT UNTIL THE GERMAN ECONOMY IS ON A SELF-SUSTAINING BASIS.

MAR - 1947

THE AMERICAN IDEA WAS WRITTEN INTO THE POTSDAM AGREEMENT OF PRESIDENT TRUMAN, PRIME MINISTER ATTLEE AND PREMIER STALIN, WHICH PROVIDED FOR REDUCTION OF GERMAN INDUSTRIAL CAPACITY TO A LEVEL SUFFICIENT ONLY TO PAY FOR NECESSARY IMPORTS AND FURNISH THE GERMANS WITH A LIVING STANDARD EQUAL TO THE EUROPEAN AVERAGE.

POTSDAM MADE NO ALLOWANCE FOR EXTRA CAPACITY TO MEET REPARATIONS INSTALLMENTS. THE LACK OF PROVISION FOR SUCH EXTRA CAPACITY WAS STRESSED BY FORMER SECRETARY OF STATE BYRNES AT LAST SEPTEMBER'S FOREIGN MINISTERS CONFERENCE IN STUTTGART, WHEN THE RUSSIANS ADVANCED THIS PLAN AGAIN.

THE TRUMAN-ATTLEE-STALIN AGREEMENT SET UP NO TOTALS FOR REPARATIONS, PROVIDING ONLY FOR REMOVAL OF ENOUGH INDUSTRIAL PLANT TO CUT GERMANY DOWN TO THE PROPOSED PRODUCTION LEVELS. GINSBURG MADE HIS OWN ESTIMATE THAT THE AGREEMENT CONTEMPLATED DELIVERIES OF INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT WITH A PRESENT VALUE OF $3,500,000,000 TO $4,-000,000,000.

THE POTSDAM AGREEMENT PROVIDED THAT REPARATIONS BE TAKEN BY EACH OCCUPYING COUNTRY FROM ITS OWN ZONE IN THE FORM OF MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT, BUT--UNTIL GERMANY IS ON A GOING BASIS--NOT IN RECURRING DELIVERIES OF FINISHED GOODS.

THE RUSSIANS, SAID GINSBURG, HAVE "RENEGED" BY TAKING SUCH DELIVERIES FROM THEIR OWN ZONE, AND NOW OFFER TO JOIN IN OPERATING GERMANY AS AN ECONOMIC UNIT--ANOTHER POTSDAM PROVISION PREVIOUSLY IGNORED--IF THE SOVIET REPARATIONS PLAN IS ADOPTED.

NOTING THAT RUSSIA HAS OFFERED NO REASON FOR ITS SHIFT, GINSBURG SUGGESTED SOME OF HIS OWN, AMONG THEM BEING: THE SOVIETS HAVE FOUND LESS MOVABLE MACHINERY IN THEIR ZONE THAN THEY EXPECTED; THEY NEED CONSUMER GOODS MORE URGENTLY THAN ANTICIPATED; THEY ALREADY HAVE SOBLED THEIR ZONE ECONOMICALLY THAT "A GRADUAL DECLINE IS NOW INEVITABLE."

"RECURRING REPARATIONS OFFER AN EXCELLENT BASIS FOR ECONOMIC PENETRATION INTO THE WESTERN ZONES OF GERMANY AND AN OPPORTUNITY TO SHARE DIRECTLY IN THE CONTROL OF THE RUHR," GINSBURG WENT ON.

HE SAID THERE IS "NOTHING IMMORAL OR WRONG IN THE SOVIET ANXIETY TO OBTAIN PARTIAL COMPENSATION FOR WHAT SHE HAS SUFFERED AT THE HANDS OF GERMANY," ADDING:

"THE SOLE ISSUE IS WHETHER THE GERMAN PEOPLE AND GERMAN RESOURCES CAN SUPPORT PAYMENTS OF THE MAGNITUDE AND CHARACTER CALLED FOR, IN THE LIGHT OF AN AGREED DOMINANT OBJECTIVE TO INSURE A DEMOCRATIC AND PEACEFUL FUTURE FOR GERMANY.

"IF GERMANY CANNOT SUPPORT SUCH PAYMENTS, THE ALLIES WILL BE FACED WITH A CHOICE BETWEEN SUBSIDIZING THE DEFICIT AND DRIVING LIVING CONDITIONS IN GERMANY TO SUBHUMAN LEVELS."

THE IDEA OF A "SUBSTANTIAL" U.S.)9-, 59 47''8- 2v

MAR 1947

THE IDEA OF A "SUBSTANTIAL" U.S. LOAN TO RUSSIA WAS RAISED, NOT AS A DEFINITE RECOMMENDATION FOR THE DELEGATION AT MOSCOW, BUT AS A POSSIBLE LAST ALTERNATIVE TO EASE RUSSIA'S OWN RECONSTRUCTION PROBLEMS AND THEREBY SPEED A GENERAL SETTLEMENT. IT SHOULD BE CONSIDERED, GINSBURG SAID, ONLY IF SECRETARY MARSHALL AND SENATORS VANDENBERG AND CONNALLY FIND GOOD EVIDENCE THAT RUSSIA IS READY TO AGREE TO AN INTEGRATED AND HEALTHY EUROPE "COMPOSED OF FREE PEOPLES AND INDEPENDENT NATIONS FREE TO TRADE WITH ONE ANOTHER. X X X

"GERMANY CANNOT IN THE NEAR FUTURE PRODUCE ENOUGH GOODS TO SELL ABROAD TO PAY FOR HER IMPORTS AND AT THE SAME TIME PRODUCE AN ADDITIONAL QUANTITY AS REPARATIONS."

INSERT FOLLOWING AFTER 16TH GRAF BEGINNING "GERMANY CANNOT" X X X AS REPARATIONS."

GINSBURG DID NOT ACTUALLY RECOMMEND A RUSSIAN LOAN, MERELY POINTING OUT THAT POSSIBILITY AS WORTHY OF CONSIDERATION UNDER SPECIFIED CIRCUMSTANCES. HE SAID:

"IF AFTER EXPLORING THE ENTIRE CONTEXT OF DIFFERENCES WHICH TODAY DIVIDE RUSSIA AND THE UNITED STATES OUR REPRESENTATIVES SHOULD BE CONVINCED THAT A GENERAL RELAXATION OF TENSIONS IS POSSIBLE AND THAT A GENERAL WILL TO UNDERSTANDING EXISTS; AND IF THIS CONVICTION WERE ADEQUATELY SUPPORTED BY EVIDENCE THAT RUSSIA IS AT LAST WILLING TO AGREE TO THE RESTORATION, BEYOND THE FRONTIERS OF THE USSR, OF AN INTEGRATED AND VIABLE EUROPE--COMPOSED OF FREE PEOPLES AND INDEPENDENT NATIONS FREE TO TRADE WITH ONE ANOTHER--THEN, IN CONSIDERATION OF SECURING SUCH A SETTLEMENT, A SUBSTANTIAL LOAN MIGHT WELL BE CONSIDERED FOR THE REHABILITATION AND RECONSTRUCTION OF THE SOVIET UNION."

30-24-8383

GINSBURG, HOWEVER, SET UP THE EFFECTUATION OF THE POTSDAM LEVEL-OF-INDUSTRY PLAN, WITHOUT MODIFICATIONS, AS THE OBJECTIVE ON WHICH THIS COUNTRY SHOULD CONCENTRATE.

GINSBURG DID NOT EXPLAIN HIS REFERENCE TO SENATORS VANDENBERG AND CONNALLY AS PERSONS TO HELP DECIDE WHETHER CONDITIONS ARE SUCH AS TO MAKE A LOAN ADVISABLE, BUT THE TWO HAVE BEEN ADVISERS TO THE AMERICAN DELEGATION AT RECENT INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCES.

WHILE REFUSING TO JOIN IN ADMINISTERING GERMANY AS AN ECONOMIC UNIT, GINSBURG SAID, RUSSIA "HAS PERSISTENTLY TAKEN REPARATIONS FROM CURRENT PRODUCTION (A TOTAL OF APPROXIMATELY $500,000,000); THEY HAVE RECEIVED TERRITORIES OF GREAT VALUE IN EAST PRUSSIA AND HAVE ACQUIRED GERMANY'S EXTERNAL ASSETS IN EASTERN AND SOUTHEASTERN EUROPE; THEY HAVE WITHDRAWN FROM GERMANY ABOUT $1,000,000,000 WORTH OF MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT; AND THEY HOLD MILLIONS OF GERMANS AS REPARATIONS LABOR."

DISCUSSING POSSIBLE CONCESSIONS TO THE RUSSIANS SHORT OF THE LOAN SUGGESTION GINSBURG MENTIONED THESE AMONG OTHERS:

1. THE PAYMENT OF REPARATIONS OUT OF FUTURE SURPLUSES IN FOREIGN TRADE, IF GERMANY CAN ACHIEVE SURPLUSES. IN OTHER WORDS, IF AFTER TWO OR THREE YEARS GERMANY PRODUCES MORE THAN SHE NEEDS TO MAINTAIN 1932 LIVING STANDARDS AND TO PAY FOR PAST AND CURRENT IMPORTS, SHE MIGHT CONTRIBUTE "A PORTION OF THAT EXCESS" TO ALL COUNTRIES ENTITLED TO REPARATIONS.

MAR 1947

A118WX

2. A SYSTEM OF TRADE AGREEMENTS UNDER WHICH EACH COUNTRY WITH A REPARATIONS CLAIM WOULD SUPPLY GERMANY WITH MATERIALS AND RECEIVE GERMAN FINISHED PRODUCTS.

THE UNITED STATES SHOULD INSIST AS MOSCOW ON AN AGREEMENT COVERING THE USE OF WAR PRISONERS AS LABORERS WORKING OUT REPARATIONS CLAIMS, GINSBURG HELD.

"NEARLY TWO YEARS AFTER THE END OF THE CONFLICT, BETWEEN 3,000,000 AND 4,000,000 MEN, MOSTLY PRISONERS OF WAR, ARE BEING HELD VIRTUALLY IN SLAVERY," THE REPORT SAID.

"TO DISREGARD IN THE ALLIED POWERS WHAT THEY HAVE SO RECENTLY AND SO BITTERLY CONDEMNED IN THE NAZI GOVERNMENT WOULD BE A SHAMEFUL ACT OF UNMITIGATED HYPOCRISY."

GINSBURG PROPOSED THAT COMPULSORY LABOR SERVICE BE REQUIRED ONLY OF JUDICIALLY CONVICTED WAR CRIMINALS; THAT A FORMULA FOR PAYMENT OF BOTH VOLUNTARY AND COMPULSORY LABOR BE FOLLOWED, AS WELL AS A VALUATION OF THE LABOR IN PAYING OFF REPARATIONS; AND THAT REPARATIONS LABOR BE USED ONLY FOR RECONSTRUCTION, REHABILITATION AND THE PRODUCTION OF FOOD AND FUEL.

WASHINGTON,MARCH 9-(AP)-REP.GEARHART (R-CALIF) SAID TODAY THAT "UNCLE SAM INVARIABLY GETS THE BAD DEAL" IN A RECIPROCAL TRADE AGREEMENT SENATOR FLANDERS (R-VT) DEFENDED THE PROGRAM.

HE ADDED THAT "THE FARMER IS HARDEST HIT BY UNFAIR COMPETITION OF IMPORTED AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS."

FLANDERS TOOK THE VIEW THAT "WE ARE HEADED IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION. THAT IS, TOWARD MULTILATERAL TRADE AGREEMENTS." HE CONTINUED:

"I BELIEVE THAT WE SHOULD SUPPORT SUBSTANTIAL TARIFF REDUCTIONS FOR WHICH WE SHOULD RECEIVE ASSURANCE FROM NATIONS THAT WE MAKE AGREEMENTS WITH THAT THEY IN TURN WILL ABANDON MANY VICIOUS DEVICES THAT THROTTLE WORLD TRADE RECOVERY. WASHINGTON,MARCH 9-(AP)-THE BELIEF THAT RUSSIA'S ACTUAL SPENDING FOR HER ARMED FORCES WILL FAR EXCEED HER $13,400,000,000 MILITARY BUDGET WAS EXPRESSED TODAY BY WELL-QUALIFIED ANALYSTS HERE.

ESTIMATES OF FUNDS EVENTUALLY GOING TO THE SUPPORT OF THE SOVIET ARMED FORCES RAN AS HIGH AS ONE-THIRD OF RUSSIA'S TOTAL $74,280,000,000 GOVERNMENTAL OUTLAY INSTEAD OF THE 18 PERCENT FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE REPORTED BY THE MOSCOW RADIO ANNOUNCEMENT.

TWO MAJOR FACTORS MUST BE RECKONED WITH IN ANALYZING RUSSIA'S BUDGET, SAID EXPERTS WHO DECLINED USE OF THEIR NAMES:

1. ITEMS WHICH BY AMERICAN METHODS WOULD BE LISTED AS MILITARY APPEAR IN NON-MILITARY CATEGORIES OF RUSSIA'S BUDGET;

2. RUSSIA, BECAUSE OF HER STATE-OPERATED ECONOMY, GETS MUCH MORE PER BUDGET DOLLAR SPENT THAN OTHER GOVERNMENTS.

CHAIRMAN GURNEY (R-SD) OF THE SENATE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEE SAID HE HAD NOT SEEN ANALYSES OF THE RUSSIAN MILITARY BUDGET, BUT HE POINTED TO THE DIFFICULTY OF COMPARING IT WITH THE $11,000,000 OUTLAY BUDGETED FOR THIS COUNTRY'S ARMY AND NAVY.

AS AN EXAMPLE, GURNEY TOLD A REPORTER, A TRUCK MAY COST THE ARMY $5,000; BUT IF A SIMILAR TRUCK IS PRODUCED FOR RUSSIA IN A STATE-OWNED FACTORY, IS IT CARRIED AS A CHARGE AGAINST THE MILITARY BUDGET?

ONE ANALYSIS OF THE RUSSIAN BUDGET INCLUDES THESE POINTS:

A LARGE NUMBER OF ELITE GUARD FORCE TROOPS MAY BE MAINTAINED UNDER AN ITEM OF $2,830,000,000 FOR THE MVD, THE MINISTRY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS.

AT LEAST $945,000,000 OF A $1,300,000,000 ALLOTMENT FOR SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT IS FOR MILITARY PURPOSES.

IN ADDITION TO THE FEDERAL EXPENDITURES SHOWN IN THE BUDGET, EACH OF THE MEMBER REPUBLICS OF THE U.S.S.R. PROVIDES FUNDS FOR MAINTENANCE OF THE ARMED FORCES.

CONSTRUCTION OF MILITARY INSTALLATIONS IS DONE BY MVD, REPORTEDLY

WITH EXTENSIVE USE OF POLITICAL AND OTHER PRISONERS DRAWN FROM A FORCED LABOR POOL AND INVOLVING NO WAGE EXPENDITURES.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR HEAVY INDUSTRY INCLUDE SUMS FOR THE PRODUCTION OF ARMS AND MUNITIONS. THE INDUSTRIAL OUTLAY ALSO INCLUDES ITEMS FOR MILITARY CLOTHING AND SIMILAR MATERIAL, AND THE AGRICULTURAL APPROPRIATION CONTAINS FUNDS FOR SOME OF THE FOOD REQUIRED BY THE RUSSIAN ARMED FORCES.

"WHAT COULD BE MORE ESSENTIAL TO THE SUCCESS OF OUR TASK, AND TO OUR VERY SAFETY, THAN TO TAKE NOW, WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY, EVERY STEP WITHIN OUR POWER IN ORDER TO INSURE THE SECURITY OF OUR OWN HEMISPHERE?" HE CONTINUED.

"BUT WE CANNOT HOPE TO OBTAIN THAT ASSURANCE UNLESS WE START IMMEDIATELY TO REPAIR THE DAMAGE WHICH THE MISTAKEN POLICIES OF OUR OWN GOVERNMENT DURING THE PAST FEW YEARS IN DEALING WITH OUR AMERICAN NEIGHBORS HAVE DONE TO INTER-AMERICAN SOLIDARITY.

MAR 1947

(ADVANCE)..(NY)..WASHINGTON, MARCH 10-(AP)-HERBERT HOOVER RECOMMENDED TODAY THAT AN ESTIMATED $155,000,000 BE SPENT FOR AUSTRIAN RELIEF DURING THE NEXT 15 MONTHS BUT SAID THE COUNTRY PROBABLY COULD BE SELF-SUPPORTING BY 1950 OR 1951 IF ITS LAND AND EQUIPMENT WERE FREED BY A PEACE TREATY AND FOREIGN TROOPS REMOVED FROM ITS SOIL.

THE FORMER PRESIDENT SAID THAT HIS ESTIMATE WAS BASED ON SUPPLYING AUSTRIA WITH FOOD, MEDICINE AND AGRICULTURAL SUPPLIES ONLY. HE ESTIMATED THAT THE PROPOSED UNITED NATIONS PROGRAM--$148,000,000 FOR THE REMAINDER OF 1947--WOULD COST ABOUT $248,000,000 IF CONTINUED OVER THE 15-MONTH PERIOD.

HE SAID HE PROPOSED THE LOWER FIGURE BECAUSE OF "SHORT WORLD SUPPLIES" BUT DECLARED THAT IT WOULD PROVIDE "A FOOD LEVEL THAT WHILE AUSTERE IS I BELIEVE SUFFICIENT TO MAINTAIN HEALTH AND VIGOR."

HOOVER'S PROPOSAL WAS MADE IN A FORMAL REPORT TO PRESIDENT TRUMAN AFTER INVESTIGATING CENTRAL EUROPE'S RELIEF NEEDS. A SIMILAR REPORT ON GERMANY WAS SUBMITTED TWO WEEKS AGO.

THE UNITED NATIONS HAS UNDER CONSIDERATION A $610,000,000 FUND FOR RELIEF TO AUSTRIA AND OTHER COUNTRIES FOR THE REMAINDER OF 1947 WITH THE UNITED STATES, AS RECOMMENDED BY THE YTATE DEPARTMENT, CONTRIBUTING 57 PERCENT. THE PRO

1947 WITH THE UNITED STATES, AS RECOMMENDED BY THE STATE DEPARTMENT, CONTRIBUTING 57 PERCENT. THE PROGRAM CALLS FOR INDUSTRIAL REHABILITATION AS WELL AS FOR DIRECT RELIEF.

HE DESCRIBED AUSTRIA'S NUTRITIONAL CONDITION AS BETTER THAN WHEN HE INSPECTED THE COUNTRY A YEAR AGO ON ANOTHER SURVEY.

"THE PRESENT FOOD LEVELS APPEAR ADEQUATE TO PREVENT ANY DISASTER BUT MUST BE REGARDED AS 'EMERGENCY MAINTENANCE' WHICH CANNOT BE CONTINUED OVER YEARS."

AUSTRIAN ECONOMY REQUIRES THE IMPORT OF MACHINERY, COAL AND CERTAIN RAW MATERIALS IN ORDER TO MANUFACTURE BOTH FOR CONSUMPTION AND FOR EXPORT, HOOVER SAID.

"SHE ALREADY HAS DEVELOPED SOME EXPORTS," HE ADDED. "THE AUSTRIAN GOVERNMENT HAS SET UP A SORT OF POOL INTO WHICH FOREIGN EXCHANGE FROM THESE EXPORTS AND OTHERWISE IS DEPOSITED AND FROM WHICH PAYMENTS ARE MADE FOR INDUSTRIAL IMPORTS. THE UNITED NATIONS ESTIMATED HER EXPORTS AND OTHER FOREIGN EXCHANGE SOURCES FOR THE YEAR 1947 AT ABOUT $125,000,000.

"IT IS MY BELIEF THAT, AT THIS RATE, IF THE AGRICULTURAL AND FOOD NECESSITIES CAN BE PROVIDED WITHOUT PRESENT DRAIN ON THESE EXCHANGE RESOURCES, AUSTRIA CAN MANAGE HER OWN INDUSTRIAL IMPORT PROGRAM, AS WELL AS CAN BE EXPECTED WITH THE LIMITATIONS OF THE TIMES, WITHOUT CALLING FOR AID FROM TAXPAYERS OF OTHER NATIONS IN THIS FIELD."

MAR 1947

A175

THE EX-PRESIDENT, REFERRING TO THE QUADRUPARTITE, COMMISSION OF AMERICAN, BRITISH, RUSSIAN AND FRENCH REPRESENTATIVES AUSTRIA PENDING A PEACE TREATY, SAID THE ORIGINAL INTENTION WAS THAT THERE SHOULD BE ECONOMIC UNITY OF THE FOUR ZONES.

HE SAID THE INTENT HAD NOT BEEN CARRIED OUT "AND FULL USE OF AUSTRIAN RESOURCES IS NOT BEING BROUGHT INTO PLAY, THE RESULT OF WHICH INCREASES THE BURDEN UPON OUR TAXPAYERS."

HOOVER PLACED GREATEST BLAME FOR THE LACK OF UNITY UPON THE RUSSIANS WHO, HE SAID, UNDER THEIR INTERPRETATION OF THE POTSDAM DECLARATION, HAVE REQUISITIONED LARGE AREAS OF FERTILE LAND AND A GREAT NUMBER OF INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

THE POTSDAM AGREEMENT PROVIDED THAT THE FOUR OCCUPYING NATIONS SEIZE AS GERMAN REPARATIONS ANY GERMAN ASSETS IN THEIR RESPECTIVE ZONES.

BUT THE AUSTRIANS CLAIM, SAID HOOVER, THAT MANY OF THE RUSSIAN SEIZURES WERE NOT ACTUALLY GERMAN ASSETS.

"DISREGARDING QUESTIONS OF LEGALITY UPON WHICH I AM NOT PASSING JUDGMENT, IF THE PRODUCE FROM THESE LANDS WERE RELEASED TO AUSTRIA, TOGETHER WITH RELAXATION OF OTHER REQUISITIONS, IT WOULD DECREASE THE FOOD IMPORTS BY AT LEAST 70,000 TONS PER ANNUM.

"MANY OF THE REQUISITIONED INDUSTRIAL PLANTS," HE DECLARED, "ARE USED OTHERWISE THAN TO SUPPORT AUSTRIAN ECONOMY OR EXPORTS."

MODERATION OF THE LOAD ON THE AUSTRIAN FOOD SUPPLY COULD BE OBTAINED ALSO BY RUSSIAN REDUCTION OF ITS OCCUPATION ARMY TO THE "MINOR LEVELS" OF THE OTHER POWERS, HOOVER SAID, ADDING:

3024-8385

"IN ANY EVENT, THE LOAD UPON THE TAXPAYERS OF OTHER NATIONS DURING THE INTERREGNUM IS GREATLY INCREASED, BOTH FOR FOOD IMPORTS AND THE DIMINISHED EXPORTS WITH WHICH TO PAY FOR IT."

THERE CAN BE LITTLE HOPE THAT AUSTRIA CAN RECOVER SELF-SUPPORT FOR MANY YEARS IF THE REQUISITIONED ASSETS ARE TO BE REMOVED OR OPERATED FOR OTHER THAN AUSTRIAN ECONOMY OR BY OTHER THAN AUSTRIANS THEMSELVES, HOOVER SAID.

"ON THE OTHER HAND, IF AUSTRIA'S LAND AND INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT WERE ENTIRELY FREED BY A PEACE TREATY AND THE BURDEN OF FOREIGN ARMIES REMOVED, WE MIGHT REASONABLY EXPECT HER TO BEGIN TO CONTRIBUTE TO THE COST OF FOOD IMPORTS BY THE LATTER PART OF 1948 AND TO BECOME SELF-SUPPORTING IN TWO OR THREE YEARS THEREAFTER.

A176

"OTHERWISE," THE REPORT SAID, "SHE IS LIKELY AGAIN TO BE THE POORHOUSE OF EUROPE FOR YEARS TO COME AND HER PEOPLE CONSTANTLY BE DEPENDENT FOR LIFE UPON FOREIGN AID."

MAR 1947

AUSTRIA'S OFFICIAL FOOD RATION GENERALLY PARALLELS THAT OF GERMANY, INSOFAR AS CALORIES ARE CONCERNED, THE REPORT SAID, BUT THE CONDITION OF ITS PEOPLE IS GENERALLY BETTER, THE RATION IS BETTER BALANCED AND THERE ARE LARGER AMOUNTS OF SUPPLEMENTAL FOODS.

ASSERTING THAT THE U.N. RELIEF PLAN ESTIMATED A HIGHER FOOD LEVEL THAN HE THOUGHT POSSIBLE OR NECESSARY DURING THE PRESENT EMERGENCY, HOOVER REPORTED:

"WHILE THE PROGRAM RECOMMENDED BY THE UNITED NATIONS IS ADMIRABLE AND DESIRABLE, I HAVE FELT IT NECESSARY, IN VIEW OF WORLD SUPPLIES AND THE DRAIN UPON THE AMERICAN TAXPAYER, TO MAKE ESTIMATES ONLY FOR FOOD, MEDICINES AND AGRICULTURAL SUPPLIES, AND UPON MORE LIMITED LEVELS OF CALORIC INTAKE."

HE SAID CONTROL OF AMERICAN SUPPLIES PRESENTLY CONTRIBUTED TO AUSTRIAN RELIEF SHOULD BE PLACED IN THE HANDS OF THE AMERICAN ARMY COMMAND SO THAT THEY COULD BE COORDINATED WITH THE SUPPLIES FOR GERMANY AND THEIR DISTRIBUTION SUPERVISED BY ARMY AGENTS. AUSTIN WAS EXPECTED TO SKETCH THE AMERICAN POSITION ON THE BOMB FROM ITS BEGINNINGS, WITH EMPHASIS ON A WILLINGNESS TO SHARE ATOMIC SECRETS WITH THE WORLD UPON DRAFTING OF PROPER SAFEGUARDS.

SIR ALEXANDER CADOGAN OF GREAT BRITAIN ALSO WILL TAKE THE FLOOR TO CHALLENGE STATEMENTS BY ANDREI A. GROMYKO, DEPUTY SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER AND COUNCIL DELEGATE, ON THE BACKGROUND OF THE VETO.

WITH THE FORMALITY OF A REPLY OVER, AUSTIN WILL RENEW HIS REQUEST THAT THE CONTROVERSIAL ATOMIC REPORT BE REFERRED BACK TO THE ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION, AMERICAN SOURCES SAID.

A SURVEY OF DELEGATES INDICATED THAT THE UNITED STATES WOULD WIN ON THIS POINT. THE ONLY OPPOSITION WAS EXPECTED TO COME FROM RUSSIA, AND POSSIBLY POLAND. BUT ONLY A MAJORITY VOTE IS NECESSARY TO REFER THE REPORT BACK TO THE ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION, WHERE NEW EFFORTS WILL BE MADE TO CONCILIATE THE AMERICAN AND RUSSIAN VIEWS.

A16

A BRITISH SPOKESMAN, MEANWHILE, DESCRIBED CADOGAN AS BEING DISTURBED OVER GROMYKO'S "HISTORY OF THE VETO" AND ESPECIALLY THE DIRECT QUOTATION OF A STATEMENT PURPORTEDLY MADE AT YALTA BY FORMER PRIME MINISTER WINSTON CHURCHILL.

THIS SPOKESMAN LABELED GROMYKO'S ACTION A BREACH OF AN AGREEMENT REGARDING SECRECY OF THE BIG THREE MEETINGS.

DELEGATES EXPECTED BRITAIN TO FILE THE PALESTINE CASE WITH THE UNITED NATIONS ALMOST MOMENTARILY. THE EXACT TIME OF FILING AND THE WORDING OF THE DOCUMENT REPORTEDLY AWAITED INSTRUCTIONS FROM LONDON AND FROM FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN IN MOSCOW.

BRITAIN HAD HELD OFF PRESENTING THE CASE WHILE SECRETARY GENERAL TRYGVE LIE ATTEMPTED TO FEEL OUT THE BIG FIVE ON A PROPOSAL TO SET UP A COMMISSION OF INQUIRY TO HANDLE THE HOLY LAND PROBLEM.

THE UNITED STATES BROUGHT THE ISSUE TO A HEAD LAST FRIDAY NIGHT BY INFORMING GREAT BRITAIN SHE WOULD HAVE TO BRING UP THE CASE FORMALLY BEFORE WASHINGTON COULD TAKE A STAND ON ANY U.N. PROCEDURE FOR HANDLING IT.

A VOTE ON THE AMERICAN TRUSTEESHIP PLAN FOR THE JAPANESE-MANDATE ISLANDS WAS EXPECTED WEDNESDAY WHEN THE COUNCIL RESUMES DISCUSSION OF THIS ISSUE.

THE CHIEF OPPOSITION HAS COME FROM AUSTRALIA, WHICH HAS PROPOSED THAT A COMMITTEE OF "INTERESTED NATIONS"--INCLUDING NEW ZEALAND AND INDIA--BE ESTABLISHED TO REVIEW THE AMERICAN PLAN. THE U.S. DELEGATION HAS VOICED STRONG OPPOSITION TO THIS PROCEDURE AND IT APPEARED THAT THE COUNCIL WOULD DEFEAT THE PROPOSAL AND ACCEPT THE AMERICAN PLAN AT ONCE.

THE WESTERN SAMOAN PETITION FOR COMPLETE SELF-GOVERNMENT WAS IN THE HANDS OF THE MEMBERS OF THE TRUSTEESHIP COUNCIL WHICH WILL HOLD ITS FIRST SESSION MARCH 26.

THE PETITION ALSO ASKS THAT STEPS BE TAKEN TO UNITE WESTERN SAMOA WITH EASTERN SAMOA, WHICH HAS BEEN A PROTECTORATE OF THE UNITED STATES FOR NEARLY 50 YEARS.

THE SAMOAN DEMAND FOR SELF-GOVERNMENT DID NOT COME AS A SURPRISE. SIR CARL BERENDSEN, NEW ZEALAND DELEGATE TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, SAID LAST FALL THE WESTERN SAMOANS WANTED SELF-GOVERNMENT, BUT THE NEW ZEALAND GOVERNMENT FELT THE NATIVES WERE NOT SUFFICIENTLY DEVELOPED POLITICALLY TO RUN THEIR OWN AFFAIRS.

THE PROPOSAL FOR A UNION OF EASTERN AND WESTERN SAMOA, HOWEVER, HAD NOT PREVIOUSLY BEEN INDICATED. THIS RAISES AN EXTREMELY COMPLEX ISSUE BECAUSE EASTERN SAMOA IS NOT UNDER THE U.N. TRUSTEESHIP SYSTEM.

THESE ISLANDS WERE PLACED UNDER A UNITED STATES PROTECTORATE BY AN ANGLO-GERMAN AGREEMENT IN 1899. ANY CHANGE IN THE STATUS OF EASTERN SAMOA, THEREFORE, WOULD HAVE TO BE INITIATED BY THE UNITED STATES.

Russia Injects China Issue Into Opening Session Of Big 4 Moscow Conference

U.S. STALLS ACTION ON UNEXPECTED SOVIET PROPOSAL

Marshall Counters with Own Surprise Suggestion to Discuss Troops Cut.

PROGRESS IS MADE

Ministers Agree to Liquidate Militaristic German State of Prussia.

GALLAGHER

MOSCOW, March 10—(AP) Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in a surprise move tonight injected the enormously complicated China question into the opening session of the four-power foreign ministers conference on Austria and Germany.

U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall blocked an immediate vote on Molotov's proposal to place China on the agenda. Marshall then countered with a diplomatic surprise of his own, suggesting that the conference discuss limitation of allied troops in occupied countries of Europe.

Raises Chinese Question

The Russian diplomat, who presided over the opening session of the momentous meeting, said China should be discussed in the light of the Moscow conference of 1945, at which the United States, Britain and Russia agreed to a policy of non-intervention in Chinese affairs.

Marshall replied he had no fundamental objection to such a discussion, but wanted to think it over at least until tomorrow.

Molotov said that he, too, would like time to think over Marshall's proposal about limitation of allied occupation troops, before agreeing to place it on the agenda.

Should both subjects be scheduled for discussion, the scope of the already complex program would be widened enormously.

The opening session of the conference, held while the Soviet capital was engulfed in a heavy snowstorm, moved with surprising speed and many expressions of good will.

The ministers, seated around a table in the white and gold room of the aviation industry house on the Leningrad Highway, went about their work in a businesslike fashion. There was none of the acid comment which occasionally has characterized previous Big Four meetings.

To Liquidate Prussianism

Besides discussing the China and occupation army proposals, the ministers also:

1. Agreed to liquidate permanently the militaristic German state of Prussia. This action, already carried out in effect, was recommended by the allied control council for Germany and the deputy foreign ministers.

2. Agreed on a six-point agenda as outlined at their last meeting, held in New York.

3. Deferred until tomorrow a request by the inter-allied reparations agency, representing a score of western countries, to be heard on any matters affecting reparations.

4. Approved proposals that the deputy foreign ministers resume work on Austrian and German peace treaty procedures. The deputies will meet in closed sessions here tomorrow morning.

5. Agreed to discuss a report on the financial situation of Trieste.

The three western delegations all were puzzled why the Russians brought up the Chinese question, when it was certain the conference was going to need all its skill to handle items already on the agenda.

Inside Picture of Events

Persons attending the session gave this inside picture of developments:

After an exchange of courtesy speeches, Molotov took the chair on the suggestion of Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain. Several relatively minor points were disposed of with little argument. Bevin then pointed out that the deputy foreign ministers were "half way" through the Austrian treaty draft and should continue the work.

There was no objection, although the Russians previously had insisted that the German treaty should come first.

The ministers instructed their deputies to pick out the main points of disagreement in a 350-page report by the Allied Control commission, and to bring the points before the conference as soon as possible.

The canny Soviet minister then tossed his surprise package. He said that the foreign ministers of Britain, the United States and Russia had decided in 1945 that allied forces should be withdrawn from China at the earliest possible moment. He said the three powers should discuss how these matters are being fulfilled by the three concerned. He added that in his opinion the Chinese situation showed "little improvement."

Marshall Makes Move

Marshall, attending his first important conference as secretary of state, asked for time to think it over, and quickly pointed out that if China were to be discussed, China should be represented.

Molotov did not agree that China should be present. He said it was a question of "action taken" by the Big Three in carrying out pledges, and that China was not at the 1945 conference.

Marshall said he would give his answer tomorrow. In an almost parallel manner to Molotov, he presented his proposal.

He recalled that in New York his predecessor, James F. Byrnes, had suggested limiting the size of occupation troops and that Molotov had replied he would consider the question at Moscow.

It was Molotov's turn to say he would have to "think it over" before giving an answer tomorrow.

The ministers agreed to follow the agenda adopted in New York, which includes German and Austrian treaty questions; a 40-year pact to guarantee demilitarization of Germany, as originally proposed by Byrnes; and the international coal situation.

Britain and Russia exchange information on conditions in China. The situation there, he said, had not improved since December, 1945, at which time the Foreign Ministers of the United States, Britain and Russia had agreed on the need for a unified, strong China, and the United States and Russia had undertaken to remove their troops from China as soon as possible.

An immediate decision on today's request was blocked by Secretary of State Marshall, who said he wanted until tomorrow to think it over.

[A Soviet communique, broadcast by the Moscow radio and picked up by the Associated Press in London, made no reference to a German peace treaty, said that an Austrian treaty was on the agenda and quoted Molotov as saying that the Big Four conference in Moscow faced a task that was not easy though it possessed a "reliable basis for joint work."]

Prussia Is Liquidated.

Marshall, on the other hand, brought in a request on behalf of the United States that the conference discuss the progressive withdrawal of troops from the occupied areas of Europe.

In addition, the Foreign Ministers today formally approved the liquidation of Prussia as a German State, received reports from the financial commission on Trieste and agreed that the deputy foreign ministers should meet simultaneously in Moscow to discuss German and Austrian problems.

The permanent liquidation of Prussia, already carried out in effect, had been recommended by the Allied Control Council in Berlin.

Marshall's proposal that the council take up the question of a progressive limitation of occupation forces in Europe was temporarily blocked when Moltov said he wanted until tomorrow to think this over.

By general agreement action was delayed on the proposal of the Inter-Allied Reparations Agency that it be heard on anything having to do with reparations.

Marshall Reiterates Aims.

Marshall gave a new push to the American proposal for a four-Power alliance against Germany, but was assured of only Britain's support as the Big Four began their momentous session with little ceremony as an almost blinding snowstorm swirled over this capital of All the Russias.

Georges Bidault, the Foreign Minister of France, was reported to be tentatively agreeing to support the four-Power pact sponsored by the United States only if it is made part of a broad pattern to keep Germany impotent. He insisted that the other parts must include political separation of the Ruhr from Germany, a weak central government and a low level of industrial production.

Marshall States Aims.

Marshall told reporters earlier that he was going to press for the German disarmament and demilitarization treaty originally proposed by former Secretary of State Byrnes. Foreign Secretary Bevin is known to favor the Byrnes plan strongly.

At his first news conference in the Russian capital, Marshall also reaffirmed his stand on the Potsdam agreement as the basic policy for Germany. He said he had indicated to the French authorities during his stay in Paris the importance of a treaty to render Germany helpless for at least forty years.

Marshall declined to speculate on the probable length of the Moscow meeting. Authoritative informants said, however, that Marshall is prepared to stay here as long as may be necessary to make real progress—assuming that the first two or three weeks prove that progress is possible.

Marshall also declined to say what he considered the most important items to be taken up at the conference, declaring: "I have already said that I take my text from the agreements of the Potsdam Conference and from Mr. Byrnes's Stuttgart speech."

[The three-Power Potsdam conference of 1945 laid down political and economic principles on Germany. Former Secretary of State Byrnes said at Stuttgart on September 6, last, that the United States favors the "early establishment of a provisional German government for Germany . . . not handpicked by other governments," and that Germany's provisional eastern boundary fixed at Potsdam—assigning much former German territory to Poland—should not be regarded as final.]

Daily U. S. Communiques.

Asked whether he would urge that the Austrian treaty receive at the conference priority over the German treaty, Marshall replied that the present agenda was unfrozen and the order of business yet to be determined.

He said that the Americans would follow the same press policy as at past conferences, with Michael McDermott and Charles E. Bohlen of the State Department reporting daily on the sessions.

Only American correspondents were allowed at Marshall's news conference, which was held at the Moskva Hotel.

France in Different Role.

Later this afternoon, in an outline of his country's position, a French official spokesman said that the German question was so vital that France could not act as the a negotiator between the Russians on one side and the British and the Americans on the other, but must present a concrete program of her own. "During the Paris conference, when France's vital issues were not at stake," the informant said, "we could afford to suggest compromises and act as negotiators. But in the German questions we have our own interests which must come first."

Some French proposals may serve as a bridge between the East and the West, but others

Marshall Raises Point of Troop Reduction in Occupied Areas of Europe— Prussia Is Liquidated.

HIGHTOWER

Moscow, March 10 (A. P.).—The Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, presiding, unexpectedly injected the Chinese political situation into the initial round of discussions as the Big Four Council of Foreign Ministers met in snow-mantled Moscow today to consider peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

Molotov introduced the subject by asking that the United States, may be at odds with both, he said. He declared that the French would remain aloof on discussions of the economic unity of Germany "until we see whether the gulf between the East and the West" was going to widen or diminish.

30 24 — 8389

This evening the Ministers drove over snow-covered streets on their way to the conference hall, the House of the Soviet Aviation Industry, two miles from the Kremlin. A handful of curious Russians saw them. Marshall was the first to arrive, reaching the building about fifteen minutes before the session was scheduled to open at 5 P. M. (9 A. M., New York time). Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith accompanied him.

The next in was Bidault of France, with the Soviet Foreign Minister, V. M. Molotov, and his deputy, A. Y. Vishinsky, arrived together. They apparently were the only ones recognized by the spectators, who broke into a wave of handclapping. Molotov nodded curtly. The last to arrive was Bevin. He passed almost unnoticed between the few policemen on hand to keep back crowds that were not there.

Among other arrivals were F. T. Gousev and Gen. Mark W. Clark, the Russian and American deputies for Austria. The presence of Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Soviet administrator for Germany, was a surprise to the other delegations. The commanders-in-chief of the other countries were left on the job in Germany.

From the absence of ceremony it was apparent that the Russians wanted to impress upon every one the "businesslike" character of the conference. The only decorations outside the building were two sets of small flags of the United States, Britain, France and Russia bunched on each side of the door. The scene contrasted sharply with the pageantry and color of Paris and New York, where earlier meetings of the Big Four were held.

German Pact Not Mentioned.

London, March 10 (A. P.).—The Moscow radio, in a communique telling of the opening of the Foreign Ministers council today, omitted reference to proposed German peace treaty but said that "the preparation of the draft peace treaty with Austria" was on the agenda. In reference to the Reich it said only that "a number of most important questions concerning Germany" were to be decided.

This lent support to the view expressed in other countries that the foreign ministers could probably not complete action at the current session on peace with Germany.

The Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov told the conference that the four countries faced a task that was not easy, but said that they had a "reliable basis for joint work," it was stated.

Molotov mentioned "the historic decisions" adopted at Yalta and Potsdam, and added: "Our deputies in London and the Control Council in Germany, charged with preparation of the German and Austrian questions, have done great and useful work and have presented for our discussion the necessary details and recommendations."

Meanwhile today a Moscow commentator declared that "America's finest people oppose the activities of the reactionaries who are sowing suspicion, apprehension and hatred in the post-war world." This moderate comment only a few hours before the opening of the Big Four conference was in sharp contrast to Russian broadcasts of the last several weeks which have harshly attacked American foreign policy and charged the United States with imperialism, Fascism and capitalistic aggression — chiefly in regard to the occupation of Germany.

"It would be unjust and wrong to overlook the fact that, along with the intensification of activity on the part of reactionary elements which propagate the theory of the domination of American monopoly, there is growing resistance to this activity from progressive bodies in the United States," the commentator said in an English-language broadcast.

Soviet Radio Assails Allies

London, March 10 (AP)—Russia's radio propagandists reached the anvil chorus stage today in criticisms of American and British occupation policies as the Foreign Ministers Conference opened in Moscow.

"The tendency of the United States and Great Britain to depart from the Potsdam decisions" of 1945 was the recurrent theme.

The Moscow periodical New Times, in an article broadcast by Moscow radio, hammered hardest at the "unilateral" economic merger of the British and American zones of Germany.

Another New Times article, on Austria, said British and American control commission representatives had supported an Austrian nationalization law "directed against the legitimate rights of the Soviet Union to German assets in the eastern part of Austria."

CRIPPS REQUESTS MORE SACRIFICES

British Stake Economic Future On Socialist Planning

London, March 10 (AP)—The Government staked Britain's economic future tonight on Socialist planning with capitalistic industry and called for greater sacrifice on the home front to restore the nation's lifeline of trade.

Sir Stafford Cripps, chief of export trade, reviewed the decline of his nation's fortunes and sketched the broad outline of a system which he described as democratic, economic planning.

His speech, opening a three-day debate in the House of Commons on Britain's economic plight, was the first chapter in the Labor Government's reply to Conservative Leader Winston Churchill's cry for a government-toppling vote of "no confidence."

Asks Cut In Use Of Tobacco

Sir Stafford even laid hold of Churchill's oratorical phrases to tell the people they must mine more coal, produce more food, go without home comforts to export at least 25 per cent of their manufactures and cut down their record consumption of Virginia tobacco.

"We must go even further," he declared. "It is the national duty of those engaged in distribution to make every possible economy in the employment of man and womanpower which might be used in productive industry. I am sure they will recognize that and will shoulder their responsibility."

Increased Output Requested

"Any question of increases in wages and profits," he added, "must be accompanied by a corresponding increase in production. The nation cannot afford increases in wage levels and shorter hours of work unless the change can be shown to increase output per man hour."

Describing the debate as perhaps the most important in the history of Parliament, Sir Stafford declared:

"For the first time in its long democratic history, it has to pass in review the economic condition of the country and the steps which should be taken. . . .

Lyttelton Sees Greater Danger

"Democratic planning toward this end is something to which we must feel our way with care. We must not be driven along the path . . . of compulsion and direction or into the jungle of chaotic failure which luxuriated in the miseries and unplanned laissez faire atmosphere of the period between the wars."

Oliver Lyttelton, conservative president of the Board of Trade in 1945 and former Minister of War Production, complained that Sir Stafford underestimated the dangers confronting Britain.

"These are times for sane, wide-eyed recognition of our dangers," he declared. "This is a time for ruthless and clear criticism. Without that, we shall not be able to recognize our mistakes and set a new course."

ATTLEE CABINET FACING TEST VOTE

London, March 10 (A. P.).—Prime Minister Attlee confidently faced the sharpest test of his 20-month old Laborite government today as the House of Commons opened a three-day debate on Britain's economic crisis. Conservative critics, aiming their principal fire at the coal shortage that stopped the wheels of a great section of British industry last month, planned to bring their debate to a climax on Wednesday by seeking a vote of No Confidence to overthrow the cabinet.

Ernest Jay, political correspondent of the (Laborite) London Daily Herald, said the debate "is regarded as the most important parliamentary occasion since the general election."

Sir Stafford Cripps, starting the discussion, said that Britain was spending too many dollars for tobacco, but added that the Government had rejected rationing of smokes because a black market in tobacco would be hard to suppress. Sir Stafford, president of the Board of Trade, said that efforts would be made to supplant some supplies of Virginia—favorite of British smokers—with more tobacco from the Empire. He announced a 10 per cent cut in passenger train service effective May 1 and said tighter restrictions on domestic use of coal, gas and electricity might be necessary. The Government will set up a joint planning staff "on the line that was so successfully developed during the war," he said.

British Deport Thirteen Former Polish Soldiers

London, March 10 (AP)—Thirteen Poles left Britain under military escort today for Osnabrueck, Germany, where they are to become "Germans."

A War Office spokesman said the Poles, once members of Lieut. Gen. Wladyslaw Anders's army, would be demobilized in Germany because they refused to return to Poland or to join the British-planned Polish resettlement corps.

They were the first of a group of 200 Polish soldiers who have been warned to stand by for transfer to Germany, the spokesman said. Once released from the army they will be regarded as part of the German community.

On their release, the spokesman said, each Pole will receive about £10 ($40) and a civilian outfit.

Boy in G. I. Uniform Tells British Police He Served Three Years in U. S. Unit as Mascot.

Newhaven, England, March 10 (A. P.).—An 11-year-old boy who gave his name as Richard Lawrence, dressed in a beriboned G. I. uniform, told detectives today he "joined" a United States Army unit as a mascot at the age of eight and spent the last three years traveling over Europe.

Brought here from Paris, Richard was being cared for at a Sussex Public Assistance Home while police sought his mother. He said his father was dead.

Smoking a cigarette, Richard said he ran away from school three years ago, was "adopted" by a United States Army engineering unit and soon after D-Day was smuggled in a duffle bag aboard a plane bound for France.

Richard said he went with "my unit" through the battle zone and on into Germany during the occupation. When the unit returned to the United States, he wandered about Germany and France until picked up in Paris by military police.

Scotland Yard checked a London address where the boy said he had lived, but found he was unknown there.

Theaters and Brokers Join in Tax-Prices Protest

BRUSSELS, March 10 (AP).—Retail shops, theaters and cafes throughout Belgium were closed today in what the Shopkeepers Association called "a calm protest against the Belgian taxation system and the recent price-cutting measure."

Brokers joined the protest against the government financial and economic policy, and no stock exchange prices were registered. Department stores and official buildings remained opened but were guarded by police forces. Newspapers appeared normally.

[Belgian prices have been reduced by an arbitrary percentage in a government effort to maintain the stability of the franc.]

Rome, March 10 (AP)—The Italian newspaper Voce Dell Africa said today in a dispatch from Nairobi that the British were transferring Palestinian "terrorists" from camps in Eritrea southward in Africa to a new camp at Gilgil, Kenya.

Army's Quick Move To Recall Money Stuns Hoarders

Frankfurt, March 10 (AP)—The sudden action today of the United States Army in recalling outstanding military scrip dealt a devastating blow to black marketeers, counterfeiters and non-Americans who had been illegally hoarding the army currency in the hope the United States would redeem it in dollars.

The action was taken simultaneously in occupied Germany and Japan. A Tokyo dispatch said $60,000,000 worth of scrip was turned in by the 6 P.M. deadline in compliance with a top-secret War Department order.

[General MacArthur's headquarters said there had been no counterfeiting in Japan, but that some disillusioned Japanese had bought the scrip in the belief it was valuable. New military currency will be distributed to troops in Japan later.]

Collections Began At 5 A.M.

Army units throughout the United States Occupation Zone of Germany began collecting scrip at 5 A.M. and all had to be turned in by this afternoon.

The unexpected recall created consternation among some Germans who had illegally gained possession of the scrip. In Nuernberg certain civilians offered soldiers as much as $50 to $75 in scrip for a carton of cigarettes, chocolate, soap or coffee.

Gen. Joseph T. McNarney warned that army authorities would "take due notice of excessive amounts of scrip" turned in by soldiers and added that the recall was "the surest way of forestalling successful counterfeit operations."

Issued Last September

The military commander gave official recognition to the fact that many Germans have acquired scrip. He cited unsettled world economic conditions as the reason why many civilians hoarded the military payment certificates.

The scrip was issued last September in a surprise action—similar to today's order—to replace Allied military marks, which had been used since the invasion of Germany. It is the only legal tender in military installations throughout the European theater.

Bogus $5 and $10 scrip bills began appearing over a month ago in France and Germany. Nine persons, including three American army officers, have been arrested on charges of passing counterfeit bills.

Order Affects Japan.

Tokyo, March 10 (A. P.).—An immediate, worldwide conversion of all United States occupation scrip was ordered today to block counterfeiting and illegal possession by non-Americans.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said there had been no counterfeiting here but disillusioned Japanese had bought some scrip in the belief it was valuable. Military currency is legal tender only for American military personnel, their dependents and War Department employees for purchases at United States Army or Navy stores in occupied countries.

Headquarters said $60,000,000 worth of scrip was turned in by the 6 P. M. deadline. New military currency—the fifth United States issue in Japan—will be given out later but for the time being not an American legally has as much as a dime in his pocket. Only pennies were exempt from the conversion order.

The order—top secret—came from the War Department. To make certain that the news did not leak out and thus permit illegal possessors to trade it to G. I.'s, all communications between Japan and all foreign countries were blacked out several hours.

All post exchanges, commissairies, post offices, service stations, theaters and snack bars were closed.

Wac Found Slain in Germany

NUERNBERG, March 10 (AP).—Evelyn William Hickey, a member of the American Women's Army corps, was found shot to death in her billet here yesterday, military officials reported. The nature of the shooting was not disclosed. The body was found by Technical Sergeant Lawrence Hickey, to whom she was married last October.

6,287,000 Germany Parcels

BERLIN, March 10 (AP).—American citizens sent Germans more than 2,500,000 gift packages by parcel post in January and February, postal officials of the American Military Government reported today. This brought 6,287,000 the parcels received since the service was instituted. The parcels of food, clothing and other relief needs average ten pounds.

Concern On Russia

JACK QUINN

Budapest, March 10 (AP)—Premier Ferenc Nagy was reported today to be fearful that the recent American note protesting Soviet interference in Hungarian affairs would only irk the Communists and lead them to increase their demands against his majority Smallholders party.

A Hungarian source quoted Nagy as saying he was afraid the note had "stirred up such political passions that it will aggravate the situation so far as the political crisis is concerned."

British And Americans Concur

Nagy declared that the note "cannot be deemed very fortunate" and deplored that Hungary "has become a buffer between the East and the West," the informant added.

The American note, presented to Soviet Lieut. Gen. V. P. Sviridov, had suggested that a committee of Allied and Hungarian officials investigate a group of Hungarian politicians accused of plotting against the Hungarian Government. The British concurred with the American proposal.

Sviridov, Soviet commander in Hungary, rejected the suggestion on the grounds that it would constitute "interference" in internal affairs of the country.

Editorial Comment Withheld

Nagy was said to have made his comments to Hungarian newsmen of his own party before the Russian reply was made public.

Both the British and Americans protested also against apparent Soviet interference in the arrest of Bela Kovacs, a professed anti-Communist, by Russian military authorities. Sviridov replied that Kovacs was arrested for "crimes against the Soviet forces" and that the arrest did not constitute Soviet interference in Hungarian affairs.

Yesterday's newspaper, printed both the Russian and American notes in full, but withheld editorial comment. Last Friday a Hungarian official accused Sviridov of ordering suppression of the American note by the Hungarian press. Sviridov denied the charge.

VIENNA, March 10 (AP).—Former Austrian Foreign Minister Guido Schmidt was accused at his treason trial today of offering on the eve of the Nazi annexation of Austria in 1938 to form a Cabinet "acceptable to the Nazis" with himself as Chancellor. U. N. May Back Patrols Along Greek Frontier

Inquiry Commission Drafts Plan for Consideration by the Security Council

L. S. CHAKALES

SALONIKA, Greece, March 10 (AP).—A plan calling for United Nations sponsorship of patrols to maintain the integrity of the Greek border is being developed for inclusion in the final report of the United Nations Balkan investigating commission to the Security Council, informed sources said today.

The proposal, which eventually may be termed an "American plan," will be related to the possibility of American economic aid to Greece, the informants said.

The Greek government has charged repeatedly that Leftist guerrillas now battling Greek troops have been harbored by Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria.

A six-nation subcommittee of the United Nations commission left this morning for the Albanian frontier to investigate border incidents. The group is headed by John D. L. Hood, of Australia, and includes representatives of China, France, the United States, Russia and Great Britain.

Population Shift Seen

Informed sources also speculated that the commission might recommend population exchanges involving about 50,000 Slavs now living in northern Greece, near the Yugoslav and Albanian borders. A Greek government source said that such a proposal would be "welcomed" at Athens.

Alexis Kyrou Greek liaison officer, told the commission today the most of the Slavs had collaborated with the Germans and Bulgarians during the war-time occupation of Greece.

Josip Djerje, Yugoslav liaison officer, accused the British Vice-Consul at Phlorina, Greece, of encouraging Macedonians to revolt against the Greek government because he wanted to provoke Greek reprisals on the "unfortunate Macedonians." The statement was immediately challenged by British representatives, who identified the consul as Johan Hill.

The treaty provides immediate mutual military assistance if either country is attacked. Neither country will conclude or participate in any alliance directed against the other, the pact provides.

Formosa Under Martial Law As China Sends New Troops

MICKS

Nanking, March 10 (AP)—The Chinese Government clapped martial law on Formosa and ordered a reinforced division of troops to that troubled island today as an angry Formosan delegation arrived in Nanking with charges that authorities had killed 3,000 to 4,000 persons in a wholesale massacre.

China lost Formosa to Japan in 1895 and regained it after the Japanese surrender in 1945. The island is nearly 14,000 square miles in area.

Disorders began February 28, when pro-Government reports said 500 persons were killed in riotous demands for independence. Unconfirmed reports said rioting was resumed Sunday with greater violence.

The Formosan delegation which came to Nanking told a press conference that the 6,000,000 native inhabitants "have sworn to achieve self-government and depose Governor Chen Yi for their own self-preservation and to safeguard liberty."

Blames Communists

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was said by reliable informants to have told a conference of high Government officials that he blamed "Formosans with Communist inclinations and those who served with the Japanese expeditionary forces in the Pacific for fomenting the trouble."

Chiang was quoted as saying he would consider any demands within the constitution but would reject any others.

It was announced that Chiang had sent Gen. Liu Yu-ching to Formosa in his personal plane and that Liu's 21st Division with seven additional brigades had taken ship from Shanghai for the island some 100 miles off the southeast coast of China.

Reliable sources said he also ordered Pai Chung-hsi, National Defense Minister, to go to Formosa in a day or two, along with a number of high-ranking Kuomintang and military officials.

Appointment Reported

These included Gen. Wu Tien-chen, who was reported last week, without confirmation, to have been appointed governor, succeeding Chen Yi, Chiang's personal appointee.

The Formosan delegation has ready a 32-point list of demands. These included self-government and the right to elect their own governor and magistrates; severe punishment of Chen Yi and soldiers accused of shooting down natives; full provincial status for Formosa, and abolition of the present system of Government-operated monopolies in many commodities.

Indicating that these demands had been rejected in advance, the official Chinese Central News Agency said martial law had been declared, "all illegal civil bodies" disbanded, and public meetings and parades forbidden.

Pro-Government sources and the Formosans agreed that the Government's monopoly system was at the root of the trouble.

The Formosans said the rioting of February 28 began when agents of the government cigarette monopoly killed two peddlers being searched for illegal cigarettes.

This, they said in a written statement, touched off the "wholesale massacre" of 3,000 to 4,000 persons in a government action "which put to shame even the Japanese cruelty."

The Government's central news agency asserted that the Formosan "committee for settlement of the February 28 incident," apparently was in open rebellion against the government and was "forming an administrative bureau of 30 representatives from seventeen cities and towns in Formosa."

TSINGTAO CONTINUES ITS HUNT FOR REDS

NANKING, March 10 (AP)—Tsingtao, Shantung port, has barred its gates to 10,000 civil war refugees. The police have screened 6,000 residents in a hunt for Communist spies. The city is a goal of a strong Communist drive in Shantung Province. Government reinforcements were rushed to the front.

The Chinese press said 60,000 Communists attacked Kiaohsien, only twenty-seven miles from Tsingtao, but were repulsed.

Dispatches from Manchuria said Government troops had pushed beyond their Sungari River bridgehead near Taolaichao and were fighting at Wukoshu, eighty miles northeast of Changchun.

The withdrawal of United States forces in China continued. Eight planes carrying ninety-four enlisted men, formerly of Truce Executive Headquarters, and their dependents were scheduled to leave Peiping today for Shanghai, where the group is to board a transport for home.

TOJO IN HOSPITAL

TOKYO March 10—(AP) The International War Crimes tribunal cut short its session today when the principal defendant, former Premier Hideki Tojo, was taken to a U. S. Army hospital for treatment of a fever.

The short court session was enlivened by another clash between S. William Webb, the presiding justice, and defense counsel.

Webb refused to let Tojo's attorney, Dr. Ichiro Kiyose, recall a witness who already had been examined and cross-examined at great length. A majority of the 11 judges, however, voted to recall the witness and let Defense Attorney Sam A. Roberts of New York question him further.

The tribunal president, Sir William Webb, sustained a prosecution objection that contended that the Emperor's attitude had no bearing on war crimes charges against the twenty-six Japanese leaders on trial. Kumachi Yamamoto, former Vice Minister of Asiatic Affairs, was the defense witness who was interrupted.

The Emperor, he testified, told Premier Hideki Tojo in 1942 that "there are certain points Japan must be aware of in regard to people of those (Japanese-controlled) countries. . . ." Here he was stopped.

GET LEGAL AID FOR U. S. CREW HELD AT HAIFA

Shipping Officials Arrange to Defend Men Seized in Refugee Running.

TWO CORRESPONDENTS TAKEN

Several From New York Among Group—Week End Death Toll Reaches Ten.

C. L. DAVIDSON

Jerusalem, March 10 (A. P.).—A Haifa legal firm was asked by a New York shipping company today to defend twenty men, mostly American seamen, charged with "aiding and abetting illegal immigration" into Palestine.

The seamen, members of the crew of the refugee ship Abril which was taken into custody by the British Saturday, were haled before a magistrate's court in Haifa and ordered detained for trial in two weeks.

Authorities here said the ship had sailed from New York to Europe, picked up 600 Jews without immigration certificates at Le Havre, and attempted unsuccessfully to run the British blockade to Palestine. The Jewish refugees later were deported to detention camps on Cyprus.

Two of the Americans said they were news correspondents. They were Wallace Litwin of 17 East Eighth street, New York, who said he represented the North American Newspaper Alliance, and Albert L. Hirshkoff of 2047 57th street, Brooklyn, N. Y., who did not specify his affiliation.

Other New Yorkers Held.

Others held included Shepherd Rivkin of New York city, Louis Markovich of San Francisco, Haakon Lillyby, 827 16th street, Brooklyn; Ervin Sorenson, 883 56th street, Brooklyn; Edward R. Styrak, Mount Clemens, Mich.; Henry Mandel of the Bronx; Jack Winkler of Milwaukee, Walter Greaves, Walter Cushenberry, Robert Nicolai, Louis Bretschneider, Robert Livithan, Louis Binder, Norman Luce, Yeno Berkovicz, Harvey Schnatz and David Guttman.

Also detained were two French citizens, Henrietta Goldenberg, 18, of Paris, and Jack Meyer, correspondent for the Paris Presse.

It was learned that Lillyby and Sorenson were Norwegians who have taken out their first American citizenship papers.

A British military announcement today meanwhile disclosed that the week end death toll from gunfire and bomb blasts had grown to ten. This announcement said that one British soldier had been killed and six others wounded in a gun and grenade attack on an Army installation at Hadera, between Tel Aviv and Haifa, at 8 o'clock last night. Twenty Jews in the area were questioned, it added, and one was detained.

Ship New York Owned.

The American League for a Free Palestine, Inc., said in New York last night that the Abril was a 205-foot, 800-ton motorship that in transit had been renamed the Ben Hecht. The announcement also said the vessel belonged to the Tyre Shipping Company, Inc., of New York; had a crew of twenty-five volunteers, mostly United States citizens, and had left Europe with "over 900 Hebrew repatriates aboard."

League spokesmen said that Livithan, who lives at 3510 14th avenue, Brooklyn, was the captain of the ship. The league also listed Cushenberry's address as Mayfield, Ky.; Nicolai's as Midlothian, Ill.; and Schnatz as Indianapolis, Ind.

The league said that its crew list also included the names of James Heggie, 62 Clymer street, Brooklyn; Harry Herschkowitz, 530 East 11th street, New York, and David Kaplan, 606 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn.

The Ben Hecht, said the league, was built as a yacht in Germany in 1930, passed through a few changes of ownership and during the war was used by the United States Navy in the coastal service, being sold to the current owner last year.

Wallace Litwin was described as "a free-lance writer who made arrangements with us last fall to send stories concerning the immigration into Palestine," Peter Cellers, editor of the North American Newspaper Alliance said at the syndicate's offices, 247 West 43d street. He added that as yet Litwin had not filed any stories.

HEAVY EXPLOSIONS SHAKE JERUSALEM

Armed British Troops March Into Security Areas

Jerusalem, March 10 (AP)—The explosion of land mines and hand grenades shattered the silence in the northeast section of Jerusalem tonight and squads of armed British troops, accompanied by armored police cars, marched into the city's security areas.

Although no general alert was sounded for the troops, soldiers began to move in substantial numbers as soon as the first explosion, heard across the city and sounding like a grenade, occurred at 10 P.M. (3 P.M., E.S.T.). The blast was followed by a few rounds of rifle fire, apparently from the direction of the zone under military rule. DAVIDSON

Three Heavier Blasts

About 45 minutes later three heavier blasts sounded in the same direction. An official source said the first explosion occurred in the Jewish Mea Shearim section of Jerusalem.

An official army statement said troops searched the Mea Shearim area but were unable to discover the locale of the explosions. The statement said, however, terrorists might not have been responsible for the blasts.

Earlier, unconfirmed reports said one Jew was killed during the evening while attempting to break the curfew in the Mea Shearim section, which like Tel Aviv is in the area covered by martial law. This would bring to eleven the toll from week-end violence.

A few hours before the blasts occurred, Irgun Zvai Leumi and the Stern Gang, Jewish extremist groups, plastered pamphlets on the walls of Tel Aviv appealing to Jews to "fight and suffer" with the underground in its war against the British.

Seamen's Defense Planned

Meanwhile, a magistrate's court ordered twenty seamen, mostly Americans, held for two weeks pending trial on charges of "aiding and abetting illegal immigration" into the Holy Land. They were crewmen on the refugee ship Abril, which was intercepted by the British Saturday while trying to bring 600 would-be immigrants through the British blockade.

A legal firm in Haifa was asked by a New York shipping company owning the vessel to defend the seamen when they come to trial in fourteen days.

Palestine authorities said the ship had sailed from New York to Le Havre, where it picked up 600 Jews lacking immigration certificates. The Jews were taken off when the ship was intercepted and sent to the British detention camp on Cyprus.

Two of the 20 claimed they were American newspaper correspondents. They were Wallace Litwin, of New York, who said he represented the North American Newspaper Alliance, and Albert L. Hirshkoff, Brooklyn, who did not give his employer.

Ship's Captain Listed

Others held included Shephard Rivkin, Haakon Lillyby, Ervin Sorenson, Henry Mandel, all of New York city; Louis Markovich, San Francisco; Edward R. Styrak, Mount Clemens, Mich.; Jack Winkler, Milwaukee, Wis.; Walter Greaves, Walter Cushenberry, Robert Nicolai, Louis Brettschneider, Roverl Livithan, Louis Binder, Norman Luce, Yeno Berkovicz, Hannah Herschkovitz, Harvey Schnatz and David Guttman, addresses not listed.

The American League for a Free Palestine in New York said Livithan, Brooklyn, was the ship's captain. They gave Cushenberry's address as Mayfield, Ky., Nicolai from Midlothian, Ill., and Schnatz from Indianapolis.

Two French Citizens Held

The league said the ship was owned by the Tyre Shipping Company, Inc.

[The ship was renamed the Ben Hecht, for American playwright, the league added.]

Henrietta Goldenberg, 18, of Paris, and Jack Meyers, correspondent for the Paris Presse, both French citizens, also were detained.

British military authorities said today that one British soldier was killed and six others wounded in a gun and grenade attack on an army installation last night at Hadera, between Tel Aviv and Haifa. Authorities questioned twenty Jews in the area and detained one.

Brig. R. G. C. Poole, commander of the 3rd Brigade of the 1st Infantry Division, escaped unhurt today when his car was blown up by a road mines 3 miles north of Tel Aviv, army informants said.

BARBER TRIES TO KILL ROXAS

Grenade Hurler Blames Filipino Leader For Hardships

SPENCER DAVIS

Manila, Tuesday, March 11 (AP)—An unrepentant, 50-year-old Manila barber told today how he had drawn a hand grenade from a bag of peanuts and hurled it at President Manuel A. Roxas last night in a vain assassination attempt. Taken later to meet his intended victim, he reportedly told Roxas he would do it again if he could.

A Filipino photographer, the chief of the presidential palace guards, and five others were wounded by flying fragments, but the President was unhurt.

Police identified the barber as Julio Guillen Y. Cuerpo. They permitted newsmen to interview him this morning, and Guillen demonstrated how he had secreted the grenade and found a seat ten yards from the platform where Philippines notables were clustered.

Wobbling Chair Spoils Aim

"When I had almost finished eating peanuts," he said, "I decided to throw the grenade. Unfortunately, my chair wobbled and my aim was not so accurate." He said he blamed Roxas for current economic hardships in the islands.

He made the statement to newsmen in the presence of police, some of whom declared he was linked with Central Luzon's Leftist agrarian uprising. This he denied, asserting only that "I am the way I like to be."

The grenade was thrown as Roxas concluded a speech urging adoption of a controversial constitutional amendment granting parity to American investors. Balloting on this issue was under way this morning with no further violence reported.

Crime Re-Enacted

Jose Zulueta, Secretary of the Interior, ordered all available military police to supplement Manila's civil police force during today's balloting, however, and similar orders to the 27,000 military police scattered throughout the provinces were expected. Earlier, it had been announced that military police would remain in their barracks to avoid any charge of interference with the voting.

Police took Guillen to the Plaza Miranda to re-enact the crime. Later they took him to Malacanan Palace to meet President Roxas.

Newsmen were barred from the latter scene, but it was learned that Roxas asked "why did you do this thing?" and that Guillen said he felt the President had failed to carry out his promises and was responsible for the country's economic ills.

The barber told Roxas bluntly that he was not sorry, one source reported, and that he would try again if he got an opportunity.

50,000 In Crowd

The attack occurred on a platform in front of ancient Quiapo Church in Plaza Miranda, Manila's central transportation terminal, which was jammed with an audience of 50,000 persons.

A fast kick by Jose Avelino, presiding officer of the Philippines Senate, was credited officially with saving the group of notables on the platform, including Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo and Roxas's wife, son and daughter.

Emilio Magalang, Filipino press photographer who suffered wounds in the back and side, was the most seriously hurt of the seven men hit.

Romulo Describes Incident

Romulo, this country's representative for the United Nations, gave this terse description of the incident:

President Roxas had just finished speaking and turned toward his seat when Romulo stepped up to congratulate him. The time was 10.40 P.M. (9.40 A.M. E.S.T.).

Suddenly an accurately thrown grenade bounced on the platform. A spokesman at the presidential palace said Avelino promptly kicked it just before it exploded.

It struck the back of the photographer, who was only ten feet from the President and was taking a picture of Roxas and Romulo.

Police Chief Shields Roxas

"I thought the explosion was a firecracker until I saw blood on the photographer's back," said Romulo.

He rushed to aid the fallen cameraman while Brig. Gen. Mariano Castaneda, chief of military police, shielded Roxas.

Escorted by police, President Roxas and his family quickly retired to Malacanan Palace, the official residence, where it was said that none had suffered any injury but that Mrs. Roxas and her daughter, Ruby, were considerably shaken.

NEW TROUBLE GRIPS PUNJAB

WALTER H. WILSON

Number Of Dead In Week-Long Fighting Put At 550

Lahore, India, March 10 (AP)—Violence flared anew today in the Punjab after a terror-filled week in which at least 550 persons were killed. A high provincial official said a "critical" situation was expected tomorrow, designated as "anti-Pakistan day" by Sikhs and Hindus.

Heavily armed Indian troops and police enforced peace in southern portions of this province and in the large cities, but fighting between Moslems and Sikh-Hindu allies continued in the northwest, particularly in Cambellpur and Rawalpindi.

While official estimates placed the number of dead in the week-long fighting at 550, unofficial tallies indicated the total might be double or triple that figure.

Much Trouble Expected

The Punjab official, expressing concern over the possibility of additional bloodshed tomorrow, added that "we expect trouble and nothing but trouble from now on until June, 1948, so far as the Punjab is concerned." June of next year is the date fixed by the British for their withdrawal from India.

"Anti-Pakistan day," is a direct challenge by the Hindu-Sikh allies to demands by the Moslems for an independent Moslem state, which would include the Punjab and other parts of India. The Moslems have a majority of about 56 per cent in this northwestern province.

Asked what he would do if central and eastern Junjab "blew up" tomorrow, the official replied, "we would have to let it blow up."

"We want more army reinforcements throughout the Punjab," he continued. "But these wih not arrive in time for anti-Pakistan day."

Airborne troops who were rushed yesterday to Multan, 195 miles southwest of here, reported approximately 200 persons had been killed there and twenty others had been slain in flareups nearby.

today to have resulted from efforts of the Kurdish forces of Mullah Mustafa, Sheikh of Barzani, to filter back into Iraq, from which they fled after a 1945 revolt.

Tribesmen under Mullah Mustafa, who failed to agree with the Iranian government or to obtain an Iraqi government pardon, were reliably reported as being squeezed across the Iraqi and Turkish frontiers by pressure of the Iranian army and Iranian Kurds.

Reliable sources said that Mustafa was trying to defend a small triangular area of Iran, Iraq and Turkey and that wives and children in his tribe were being sent in small numbers across the Iraqi boundary to live with friendly Iraqi Kurds.

LINE TO SUE DUTCH FOR SHIP SEIZURE

MAR 1947

Batavia, March 10 (A. P.).—James W. Ryan, general counsel for the Isbrandstein Company of New York, said he had notified Nethelands East Indies authorities today that he would file a claim for $10,000,000 damages through the United States Government unless they restored all cargo of the Liberty Ship Martin Behrman within twenty-four hours and allowed the ship to sail.

Ryan reported he left a copy of the written notification at the office of Hubertus J. van Mook, acting Governor-General of the N. E. I., and served a second copy on a civil police inspector in charge of Dutch armed guards aboard the ship.

The vessel, operated by the Isbrandtsen Company, loaded rubber and other commodities from Republican Java at Cheribon and then the Dutch ordered her to Batavia harbor and began to have her unloaded on the ground that the cargo rightfully belonged to Dutch whose estates were in Indonesian Republican hands.

Surrendered Japanese personnel today carried on as Java coolies left off the task of unloading the Behrman. By noon today, 300 tons of the 6,100-ton cargo, which includes sugar and cinchona (quinine bark), had been unloaded.

The United States crew still was refusing to make the ship's cranes available for unloading.

Bermuda Gets Assurance It Is Not Up for Sale

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 10 (AP).—Bermuda's House of Assembly was assured by the British government today that neither Bermuda nor other "British colonies and dependencies in the Western Hemisphere" would be transferred to United States ownership.

Assembly members said last week they had heard rumors that this island colony would be sold to the United States, and asked Governor Sir Ralph Leatham to seek British government assurance that such negotiations were not under way.

Leatham sent the Assembly today a message he had received from British Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech Jones which declared that "you may say quite emphatically that His Majesty's government does not contemplate any transfer of the sovereignty of British colonies and dependencies in the Western Hemisphere."

Aleman Plans To Start On U.S. Visit April 28

Mexico City, March 10 (AP)—President Miguel Aleman will leave the night of April 28 for the United States to repay President Truman's visit to Mexico. He will travel in his personal Government plane El Mexicano.

Government sources said President Truman would meet President Aleman at the airport. Normally, visiting presidents are met in Washington by the Secretary of State. Later President Aleman will call at the White House.

Tentatively, President Aleman will be accompanied by Jaime Torres Bodet, Secretary of Foreign Affairs; Antonio Ruiz Galindo, Secretary of National Economy; Ramon Beteta, Secretary of the Treasury; Agustin Garcia Lopez, Secretary of Communications, and Nazario Ortiz Garza, Secretary of Agriculture.

AFL CHARGE DENIED BY ARGENTINE LEADER

BUENOS AIRES, March 10 (AP)—Aurelio Fernandez, secretary general of the Argentine General Labor Confederation, described today as "full of untruth" a report by the American Federation of Labor charging the administration of President Juan Perón with using organized labor as a "political instrument."

Señor Fernandez said the Argentine confederation was preparing a document that would refute "point by point" the AFL report, made public yesterday after a delegation of nine AFL and independent railway union officers had spent three weeks in Argentina at the invitation of the confederation and the Perón Government.

"The Argentine working class knows perfectly well the motive of the report, since by it the AFL is seeking to orientate and direct the labor movement in this country," Señor Fernandez charged.

An editorial in the pro-Government newspaper Democracia accused the AFL of "trying to foment unrest in America against Argentina." It charged that the report was prepared "under the influence" of Spruille Braden, Assistant Secretary of State and former Ambassador to Argentina. No other Buenos Aires newspapers commented on the report.

A. F. L. UNIT BARS ARGENTINE UNIONS

MAR 1947

Washington, March 10 (A. P.).—The International Labor Committee of the American Federation of Labor turned thumbs down today on collaborating with Argentina's labor movement because, the A. F. of L. group said, it has become a "political arm" of the Peron Government.

The A. F. of L. had considered asking Argentina to join in forming an inter-American federation of labor until a delegation returned from a visit to Buenos Aires said it was "thoroughly disgusted" at what it had seen.

"No collaboration is possible with the Argentine Confederation of Labor as at present constituted, because it is not a free instrument of the workers but has become a political arm of the Government," the A. F. of L. international committee said in a week-end statement.

The committee acted on a report made by a group of A. F. of L. and railroad union officials on their return last month from a three-week visit. The delegates said they were received with open arms, but that President Juan Péron himself soon "objected strenuously to the idea that the purpose of our mission was to investigate the labor movement or any other matter."

Buenos Aires, Argentina, March 10 (A. P.).—The pro-Government newspaper Democracia denounced today the American Federation of Labor report charging that the Peron administration used organized labor as a "political instrument."

"Its authors are trying to foment unrest in America against Argentina," Democracia said in a first page editorial. "The report showed a lack of knowledge of our problems and badly repaid our hospitality."

Democracia asserted that the A. F. of L. report was prepared "under the influence" of Assistant Secretary of State Spruille Braden, former United States Ambassador to Argentina.

No other Buenos Aires newspapers commented on the report.

Evatt, Australia is to permit American aircraft to use the airdrome.

Singapore, March 10 (A. P.).—Seven Japanese officers, including two lieutenant-generals, went to trial before a British court today on charges of participating in the massacre of Chinese civilians during the occupation of Singapore. Those on trial included Lieut.-Gen. Nishimura Takuma, commander of the Imperial Guards Division, and Lieut.-Gen. Kawamure Sabure, commander of Japanese Military Police in Singapore.

Boxcar Priority Lifted By Canada

MAR 1947

Ottawa, March 10 (AP)—The Canadian Transport Department announced today withdrawal of the Federal Government priority order holding boxcars for shipment of export grains and domestic feeds.

Rescinding of the order, issued February 14, returned to the railways control over the apportionment of freight cars to industries and agriculture.

The decontrol measure took effect late last week, but was not announced until today. The department has retained the privilege to "advise" the railways on suitable apportionment of their equipment when necessary.

VANDENBERG GIVES WARNING ON GREEK ASSISTANCE ISSUE

May Set Policy U. S. Will Have to Pursue Around World, He Declares.

TRUMAN TO TELL PLANS

Will Explain Balkan Program in Message to Congress Tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, March 10—(AP) Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) declared tonight that any loan to Greece may establish an American policy "which may have to be pursued all around the world."

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee told reporters after a conference of Senate Republicans he hopes that President Truman, in his message to Congress Wednesday, will "consider the (international) problem as a whole."

Vandenberg said he hopes the President, scheduled to tell Congress about the critical situation in the Mediterranean, will "give Congress and the country the benefit of the total implications that are involved."

Silent on Turkey Aid Report

The Michigan senator declined to comment on reports that Mr. Truman may ask Congress to approve a $150,000,000 loan for Turkey to bolster her economic structure as well as a $200,000,000 loan to King George's government in Greece.

"So far as the Greek loan is concerned," Vandenberg said, "I simply indicated my opinion (to Republican colleagues) that it is not an isolated phase but may prove to be symbolic of general policy which may have to be pursued all around the world inasmuch as the same fundamentals are involved in so many situations."

Mr. Truman will address a joint session of Congress, at 1 p. m., (E.S.T.) Wednesday.

Colleagues said after a secret White House conference of 13 legislative leaders with President Truman earlier in the day, that Vandenberg had raised there the question of American policy toward China.

It was his contention, they said, that the United States was showing some inconsistency in not supporting the Chiang Kai-shek government in its controversy with Communists, while preparing to support the present Greek regime which is opposed by Communists also.

Vandenberg told reporters he did not feel at liberty to discuss with his Republican colleagues the information President Truman passed along to the legislators at today's meeting.

MAR 1947

30.24 — 8393

He announced, however, that the Republicans will meet again after Mr. Truman delivers his message to Congress to canvass the international situation.

Not a Party Issue

Vandenberg insisted, however, that the Republicans would take no party stand on this question. He added:

"This transcends politics and is a question of national policy of the highest and most important degree. It requires consultation on the basis of American welfare."

Senator Capehart (R-Ind.), told reporters he was "prepared to insist" upon "full disclosure of the international situation."

While Capehart said he could not speak for "all the Republicans," he felt the party shared his demand for full information "for the American people."

President to Tell Plans

President Truman will outline "the whole situation," including plans for Greece and perhaps Turkey.

His message to the joint session (senate and house together) at 1 p. m. (EST) Wednesday will be the first public announcement of administration policy in the Mediterranean and Balkans since the British gave notice they must retrench.

For Greece, the president is expected to recommend a $250,000,000 loan to bolster the government and surplus American arms and military supplies now in Germany to help Greek troops fight Communist-trained guerillas. Greece has asked for U. S. help.

For Turkey, which has not similarly requested aid, Mr. Truman may propose an offer of a loan if needed. One legislator said a possible $150,000,000 loan has been mentioned, which could be used in part to buy surplus American military goods now in Europe.

Some house members predicted the president will ask for authority to provide financial and military support also for Italy.

May Send U. S. Officers

One, who was not at the conference, said he understood authority would be sought to send American officers to train Greek, Turkish and Italian troops.

Hoover's Report On Austria

Washington, March 10 (AP)—Herbert Hoover recommended today that an estimated $155,000,000 be spent for Austrian relief during the next fifteen months but said the country probably could be self-supporting by 1950 or 1951 if its land and equipment were freed by a peace treaty and foreign troops removed from its soil.

The former President said his estimate was based on supplying Austria with food, medicine and agricultural supplies only. He estimated that the proposed United Nations program—$148,000,000 for the remainder of 1947—would cost about $248,000,000 if continued over the fifteen-month period.

He said he proposed the lower figure because of "short world supplies" but declared that it would provide "a food level that while austere is, I believe, sufficient to maintain health and vigor."

Sends Report To Truman

Hoover's proposal was made in a formal report to President Truman after investigating central Europe's relief needs. A similar report on Germany was submitted two weeks ago.

The United Nations has under consideration a $610,000,000 fund for relief to Austria and other countries for the remainder of 1947 with the United States, as recommended by the State Department, contributing 57 per cent. The program calls for industrial rehabilitation as well as for direct relief.

He described Austria's nutritional condition as better than when he inspected the country a year ago on another survey.

"The present food levels appear adequate to prevent any disaster but must be regarded as 'emergency maintenance' which cannot be continued over years."

Says Imports Are Needed

Austrian economy requires the import of machinery, coal and certain raw materials in order to manufacture both for consumption and for export, Hoover said.

"She already has developed some exports," he added. "The Austrian Government has set up a sort of pool into which foreign exchange from these exports and otherwise is deposited and from which payments are made for industrial imports. The United Nations estimated her exports and other foreign exchange sources for the year 1947 at about $125,000,000.

"It is my belief that, at this rate, if the agricultural and food necessities can be provided without present drain on these exchange resources, Austria can manage her own industrial import program, as well as can be expected with the limitations of the times, without calling for aid from taxpayers of other nations in this field."

Lack Of Unity Cited

The ex-President, referring to the quadrupartite commission of American, British, Russian and French representatives in Austria pending a peace treaty, said the original intention was that there should be economic unity of the four zones.

He said the intent had not been carried out "and full use of Austrian resources is not being brought into play, the result of which increases the burden upon our taxpayers."

Hoover placed greatest blame for the lack of unity upon the Russians who, he said, under their interpretation of the Potsdam declaration, have requisitioned large areas of fertile land and a great number of industrial plants.

The Potsdam agreement provided that the four occupying nations seize as German reparations any German assets in their respective zones.

But the Austrians claim, said Hoover, that many of the Russian seizures were not actually German assets.

Plan Would Cut Food Imports

"Describing questions of legality upon which I am not passing judgment, if the produce from these land were released to Austria, together with relaxation of other requisitions, it would decrease the food imports by a least 70,000 tons per annum.

"Many of the requisitioned industrial plants," he declared, "are used otherwise than to support Austrian economy or exports."

Moderation of the load on the Austrian food supply could be obtained also by Russian reduction of its occupation army to the "minor levels" of the other powers, Hoover said, adding:

"In any event, the load upon the taxpayers of other nations during the interregnum is greatly increased, both for food imports and the diminished exports with which to pay for it."

Opposes Removal Of Assets

There can be little hope that Austria can recover self-support for many years if the requisitioned assets are to be removed or operated for other than Austrian economy or by other than Austrians themselves, Hoover said.

"On the other hand, if Austria's land and industrial equipment were entirely freed by a peace treaty and the burden of foreign armies removed, we might reasonably expect her to begin to contribute to the cost of food imports by the latter part of 1948 and to become self-supporting in two or three years thereafter.

"Otherwise," the report said, "she is likely again to be the poorhouse of Europe for years to come and her people constantly be dependent for life upon foreign aid."

Austria's official food ration generally parallels that of Germany, in so far as calories are concerned, the report said, but the condition of its people is generally better, the ration is better balanced and there are larger amounts of supplemental foods.

Mr. Hoover said control of American supplies contributed to Austrian relief should be placed in the hands of the American Army command so that they could be co-ordinated with the supplies for Germany and their distribution supervised by army agents. This type of control also would enable America to adjust its relief activities to that of other nations, the report declared.

Hoover's Report on Austria

Following is the complete text of the report issued yesterday by Herbert Hoover on Austrian agriculture and food requirements and the economic reorganization of that country:

INTRODUCTION

It is impossible to make clear the economic and relief problems of Austria without a paragraph on her history.

By the Treaty of Versailles in 1919 Austria was reduced from an empire to a small state of between six and seven million population, overweighted by the large city of Vienna with its 1,500,000 people.

Being left with too little agriculture to feed herself and too little industry to buy food through export of goods, the deficits between her imports and exports from 1919 to 1931 were met largely by foreign charity and "loans" from institutions and governments, including the United States. She finally crashed into bankruptcy in 1931, setting the fire of financial panic which swept Europe and finally the whole world.

After 1932 the country, rid of accumulated debt, made slow but substantial progress, and by 1938 seemed to have reached stability and self-support. At that time she was forcibly annexed by Hitler. After annexation, the Germans stripped the country of the bank reserves, confiscated many industrial establishments and large farm estates.

The Allied armies invaded the country in April and May, 1945, dividing it into four separate zones for military government under the French, American, British and Russian Armies.

An election held in November, 1945, resulted in the establishment of a constitution and a parliamentary government, which government is, however, subject ultimately to the direction of a control commission representing the four allied powers.

The people being exhausted of food supplies, relief measures were carried initially by the American and British military authorities. This lasted about twelve months until April 1, 1946, when U. N. R. R. A. undertook the work. U. N. R. R. A. (whose funds were 98 per cent American and British Commonwealth) is now winding up its service. The remainder of the fiscal year 1946-'47 will fall upon some new organization of relief. Such aid will certainly need to be carried on for the fiscal year 1947-'48 and probably considerably longer before recovery of Austrian industry enables her to exchange goods for her necessary food imports.

WAR DESTRUCTION

Aside from the vitality of the state drain by the Germans, there was considerable damage from the war. Fortunately, there was less destruction to manufacturing industry than in most combat areas. The railways suffered considerably, but have been generally restored. The largest damage was to housing and to public and important cultural buildings.

In the city of Vienna, which suffered most, some 15,000 buildings were completely destroyed out of 65,000 damaged. Expressed in apartment units, more than 110,000, or 21 per cent, of the city's shelter was made uninhabitable with consequent dreadful overcrowding and thousands living in the rubble.

AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION

Austrian agriculture never did supply more than 70 per cent of her needs, the balance being imported. Due to the lack of fertilizers and agricultural machinery the harvest of 1946 was about 60 per cent of normal. Thus, between the normal deficiency in production and the low yields the present volume of needed imports is very large.

FOOD DISTRIBUTION

The 7,000,000 population, from a food-rationing point of view, can be classified as follows:

"Self suppliers"	1,200,000
Partial "self-suppliers"	700,000
Expectant and nursing mothers	90,000
Children, 1 to 3 years	330,000
Children, 3 to 6 years	370,000
Children, 6 to 12 years	620,000
"Normal consumers"	2,100,000
"Employees"	600,000
Moderately heavy workers	800,000
Heavy workers	400,000

There is some duplication in these numbers due to "partial self-suppliers." There are some 550,000 displaced persons in Austria, 450,000 of whom are included above and 100,000 of whom are provided for from non-Austrian sources.

The ration is at present 1,550 calories for "normal consumers" with priorities in dairy products and special foods for the mothers' group and children up to twelve years. There are varied supplements in meats, fats and breadstuffs for the different "workers'" groups.

Examination of the nutritional situation of these groups showed that their condition was fairly good. There was no consequential famine edema. The weak spots were the lack of universal school feeding of children and more effective aid for indigent "normal consumers." Therefore, more systematic school feeding is necessary, and further provision should be made for the indigent.

The nutritional condition is better than when I examined the situation a year ago. Although the official ration generally parallels that of Germany, in so far as calories are concerned the condition of the people is distinctly better in Austria.

Compared to Germany the ration is better balanced, especially in the children's group, and there is a larger amount of supplemental food outside the ration. This arises from the larger amounts of unrationed food (such as vegetables except potatoes), larger black-market supplies, a certain amount of child-feeding by foreign voluntary agencies and the very large number of food packages sent to friends and relatives from abroad. Altogether it is estimated that these supplements to the rationing system would represent an addition of at least 350 calories per diem if evenly distributed, bringing the "normal consumers'" ration up to 1,000 calories.

The present food levels appear adequate to prevent any disaster, but must be regarded as "emergency maintenance" which cannot be continued over years.

PROPOSED ORGANIZATION OF CONTINUED RELIEF

The United Nations has proposed a fund of $610,000,000 for relief to certain countries of which Austria is one. The United States contribution, recommended by our State Department, is $350,000,000, or 57 per cent. The fund is presumed to cover only the period from the imminent end of U. N. R. R. A. to the end of 1947—about nine months. The United Nations estimates contemplated a higher food level than that which I have felt possible or necessary during the emergency, and they include certain industrial reconstruction aids in addition to food, medicine and such agricultural supplies as seed, fertilizers and insecticides. While the program recommended by the United Nations is admirable and desirable, I have felt it necessary, in view of world supplies and the drains upon the American taxpayer, to make estimates only for food, medicines and agricultural supplies, and upon more limited levels of caloric intake.

The relief program can be divided into two periods: (A) from the end of U. N. R. R. A. to the end of fiscal year 1947, and (B) for the fiscal year 1947-'48.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE REMAINDER OF THE FISCAL YEAR 1946-1947

The program necessary for the period after U. N. R. R. A. winds up—until July 1, 1947—is difficult to estimate until final amounts of U. N. R. R. A. supplies are known. However, the requirements of food and medicine beyond the U. N. R. R. A. program are roughly estimated at about $30,000,000 to July 1, I have made no estimates for fertilizers or seed for the 1947 crop beyond the U. N. R. R. A. supplies, as no more could arrive in time.

This sum will need to be provided either from Army deficit appropriations or from the newly proposed $350,000,000 fund. Whatever the source, the control of the distribution of American supplies should be placed in the hands of the American Army Command in Europe. The reason is that these supplies should be co-ordinated with the supplies from Germany, as both should be procured in common and shipped through the Port of Bremen and over German railways. Moreover, Army agents can not only supervise distribution, but can also adjust our activities in relief to that of other nations contributing to Austria.

FISCAL YEAR 1947-1948

As relief must continue at least until the end of the fiscal year 1947-'48, I have felt it better to face the fact now rather than renewed appropriations later.

The program for the fiscal year 1947-'48 will depend somewhat upon the crop of 1947, which cannot as yet be determined. All estimates should be revised at that time. My preliminary estimate of requirements is:

Products	Tons
Cereals	330,000
Meats	5,600
Fats	35,000
Pulses	114,000
Sugar	9,000
Seeds	60,000
Fertilizers	150,000
Medicines	$5,000,000

MAR 1947

The total cost of such a program is estimated at about $125,000,000.

FINANCE

Thus the estimated cost of this program from the end of U. N. R. R. A. until July 1, 1948, or about fifteen months, is about $155,000,000. I have recommended to the Congress certain conditions to be attached to any American contribution.

What amounts the other nations may contribute to Austrian relief have not yet been determined. The British have made a grant of 10,000,000 pounds sterling to Austria, but I understand only a minor part can be used for dollar purchases. If the whole $610,000,000 fund be subscribed as recommended by the United Nations, then the 57 per cent of the cost to the American taxpayer would be about $86,000,000. If other nations fail to respond, it may be necessary to lower the level of relief.

The estimates for Austria under the $610,000,000 United Nations program are about $148,000,000 for nine months only, but relief will need to go on at least until July 1, 1948. If it were continued six months more at this same rate, it would entail a further sum of about $100,000,000, or a total of about $248,000,000, as contrasted with $155,000,000 I have estimated.

As said, the lower costs that I propose are due to short world supplies and a food level that while autsere is I believe sufficient to maintain health and vigor. Further, the $610,000,000 program includes support for industrial rehabilitation which I discuss later.

NECESSARY STEPS TO END THE LOAD ON THE AMERICAN TAPAYER

The problem of how soon Austria can become self-supporting by exports with which to buy her own food is of first interest to the American taxpayer. No report on Austria that does not face this situation is worth preparation. So long as such a balanced economy cannot be created (unless we wish to see terrible starvation) a large part of the deficit will fall upon the taxpayers in the United States and other nations. And this at a time when the whole world is struggling with huge problems of recovery.

There can be no real solution until there is a peace treaty which entirely frees Austrian ecenomy to produce and export.

However, two alternative situations must be considered:

First, the interregnum between now and a peace treaty.

Second, the economic basis of a treaty under which Austria may regain self-support.

THE INTERREGNUM

Austrian economy, even in the interregnum before peace, requires the import of machinery, coal, certain raw materials, such as textiles, leather and metals, in order to manufacture both for consumption goods and for export. She already has developed some exports. The Austrian government has set up a sort of pool into which foreign exchange from these exports and otherwise is deposited and from which payments are made for industrial imports. The United Nations estimated her exports and other foreign-exchange sources for the year 1947 at about $125,000,000. It is my belief that, at this rate, if the agricultural and food necessities can be provided without present drain on these exchange resources, Austria can manage her own industrial-import program, as well as can be expected with the limitations of the times, without calling for aid from the taxpayers of other nations in this field.

There is no way to estimate how long it will be before a constructive treaty shall be concluded. However, there are certain co-operative steps between the occupying powers that could be taken during the interregnum which would decrease needed food imports and increase exports so as to contribute to payment for food.

As I have said, pending peace, the Austrian government is subject to a quadrupartite commission of American, British, Russian and French representatives, and the country is separated into four military zones. The original intention was that there should be economic unity of the zones. That has not been fully carried out, and full use of Austrian resources is not being brought into play, the result of which increases the burden upon our taxpayers.

The greatest difficulty in co-operation is with the Russian zone. Under the Potsdam Declaration, each of the four nations was to have as German reparations any German assets in its Austrian zone. Under these provisions each military government requisitioned such property. A very large segment of Austrian economy is under such requisition. Our American requisitions amounted to some 200 enterprises, but these have been assigned to the Austrian government to operate in trust pending some settlement of the whole question. The other governments have been urged similarly to assign such ownership so as to increase Austrian productivity, self-support and recovery.

Under the Russian interpretation of the Potsdam Declaration, they have not only requisitioned a large amount of fertile land, but a great number of industrial plants. The Austrians claim that a large part of them were not in reality German assets. Disregarding questions of legality upon which I am not passing judgment, if the produce from these lands were released to Austria, together with relaxation of other requisitions, I would decrease the food imports by at least 70,000 tons per annum. Many of the requisitioned industrial plants are used otherwise than to support Austrian economy or exports. Another way to moderate this load on Austrian food supply would be the reduction of Russian armies to the minor levels of the other powers. In any even, the load upon the taxpayers of other nations during the interregnum is greatly increased, both for food imports and the diminished exports with which to pay for it.

AUSTRIAN ECONOMY IN PEACE

The Allies, in the Moscow Declaration of Nov. 1, 1943, declared the annexation of Austria "null and void," "shall be liberated from German domination," "re-established a free and independent." Thus classed as a "liberated state," it has been presumed that Austria will be free of reparations.

It can be said at once, however, that if the requisitioned assets are to be removed or operated for other than Austrian economy or by other than the Austrians themselves, there can be little hope that Austria can recover self-support for many, many years.

On the other hand, if Austria's land and industrial equipment were entirely freed by a peace treaty and the burden of foreign armies removed, we might reasonably expect her to begin to contribute to the cost of food imports by the latter part of 1948 and to become self-supporting in two or three years thereafter. Otherwise, she is likely again to be the poor-house of Europe for years to come and her people constantly be dependent for life upon foreign aid.

The Austrian people are making a brave fight to re-establish the principles of Western civilization. Their officials are able and effective. They should enlist our sympathy, our support and all the influence we can summon in her reconstruction.

Nimitz Agrees To Statehood For Hawaiians

MAR 1947

Says Islands' People Gave U.S. Their Whole-Hearted Co-operation During War

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP).—Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, chief of naval operations, said today he could see "no objection from a military or naval standpoint to the Hawaiian Islands achieving statehood."

"Before World War II," Admiral Nimitz told the House Public Lands Committee, "I entertained some doubt as to the loyalty of American citizens of Japanese ancestry in the event of war with Japan. From my observations during World War II, I no longer have that doubt.

"During my service as commander-in-chief of the Pacific Ocean area (December, 1941, to November, 1945, in Hawaii), I had an opportunity to observe the people of the Hawaiian Islands, and I have great admiration and appreciation of the whole-hearted co-operation they gave to the war effort," he said.

Representative Fred L. Crawford, Republican, of Michigan, asked what was the necessity of martial law in the islands.

"The situation in December, 1941, was a crucial one," Admiral Nimitz replied, "and required every safeguard that could be instituted to advance security. Hindsight might indicate that it was not necessary."

Admiral Nimitz said the secrecy of the Japanese high command in planning the Pearl Harbor attack was so strict that "I don't think the Japanese Consul-General in Honolulu had any idea of the nature of the attack and the time it was to come."

Admiral Nimitz said his statement con ained only his "personal views." The Navy Department has told the committee it has no objection to enactment of legislation being considered by the group to make Hawaii the forty-ninth state.

General Charles B. Herron, retired, Army commander in Hawaii from 1937 to 1941, testified that "civilian leadership was thoroughly patriotic" during his three years there and "the military was not obstructed in any way."

Four House members who introduced Hawaiian statehood bills testified in support of admitting the territory to the Union; Representative Walter H. Judd, Republican, of Minnesota; Representative Robert Hale, Republican, of Maine; Representative Mike Mansfield, Democrat, of Montana, and Representative Dean P. Taylor, Republican, of New York.

Governor Ingram M. Stainback, of Hawaii, here to testify in behalf of statehood for the territory, paid a call today on President Truman.

Committee Approves Lilienthal by 8 to 1

MAR 1947

Senator Bricker Registers the Only Vote Against Confirmation—Four Others Approved for Atomic Commission.

Washington, March 10 (A. P.).—The Senate Atomic Energy Committee voted 8 to 1 today for confirmation of the nomination of David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The committee also approved the nominations of W. W. Waymack, L. L. Strauss, Dr. Robert Bacher and Sumner T. Pike as members of the commission, and Carroll Wilson as general manager.

Senator Bricker (R.-Ohio) cast the only vote against Lilienthal. His Ohio colleague, Senator Taft, chairman of the Republican Policy Committee, already had declared against the former chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Committee Roll Call.

The roll call on the Lilienthal nomination was:

FOR CONFIRMATION—Hickenlooper (R.-Iowa), Vandenberg (R.-Mich.), Millikin (R.-Col.), Knowland (R.-Cal.), Johnson (D.-Col.), McMahon (D.-Conn.), Russell (D.-Ga.) and Connally (D.-Tex.)

AGAINST CONFIRMATION—Bricker (R.-Ohio).

Senators Connally and Vandenberg, who were attending a White House conference, voted by proxy.

All the names now go to the Senate floor for consideration.

Connally was recorded only on the Lilienthal nomination. Senator Hickenlooper, chairman of the committee, said the Texas Senator explained that he did not know enough about the other nominees to cast a vote on them.

Bacher, Strauss and Waymack were approved by a vote of 8 to 0, with Connally abstaining.

Pike and Wilson, 6 to 2.

Pike and Wilson were approved by a vote of 6 to 2, with Connally not voting and Bricker and Johnson opposing confirmation.

Hickenlooper formally reported the committee action to the Senate, but there was no immediate debate. Taft, however, told reporters he hoped the Senate could begin consideration of the nominations on Wednesday.

Hickenlooper said in a statement that he had voted for Lilienthal because he believed he was acting in "the immediate best interests of our atomic energy program and of the United States."

He said there was no evidence that Lilienthal is either a Communist, friendly to Communism or a "fellow traveler."

Bricker, however, told reporters that "radicals or ultra-liberals are working in and about the atomic energy project."

MAR 1947

3024 - 8395

Lilienthal and Wilson, he asserted, are "either incompetent or unwilling to keep out of the organization those with records that would cause distrust and fear on the part of the people of our country.

He further told reporters that while he didn't think Lilienthal was a Communist, there was "no question" that he was sympathetic to Communists, "or he wouldn't have had them around."

Earlier Senator Wherry (R.-Neb.), Republican whip, forecast a delay in Senate action on the nominations. He told a reporter that he has made no allowances in the legislative schedule for floor debate on the appointments until some legislation is out of the way.

The Senate is debating a proposed constitutional amendment setting a two-term limit on the presidency.

Hickenlooper said the printed record of the five-week hearings will be available Thursday. The nominations have been before the committee since January 20, but hearings did not start until January 27.

A bitter floor fight on the Lilienthal nomination appeared inevitable as Senator McKellar (D.-Tenn.), long a political foe of the former TVA chief, promised "the damnedest fight the Senate ever saw."

Most Senators appeared to believe that debate might run for three weeks because both opponents and proponents will seek to convince many members who remain undecided how to vote."

BRICKER CITES MAR FBI RECORDS

Looks at Loyalty of Some Atom Board Workers.

Washington, March 10 (A. P.).—Senator Bricker (R.-Ohio) said today that records of the Federal Bureau of Investigation raise a "serious question" concerning the loyalty of some employees of the Atomic Energy Commission appointed by David Lilienthal and General Manager Carroll Wilson.

Bricker made the statement to reporters after the Senate Atomic Committee's vote favoring the nomination of Lilienthal as commission chairman. The Ohioan cast the only vote against Lilienthal, who like Wilson, has been serving with the commission on an interim appointment.

"The records of the FBI which were finally made available to the committee and then only in the last two days of the hearing, reveal that some of the top appointments already made by Mr. Lilienthal and . . . Wilson, are subject to serious question as to their loyalty to our form of government," Bricker said.

Bricker said he had been advised this morning that the commission has taken action of some sort with respect to two high officials whose loyalty, he said, had been opened to question by the FBI report. He said he did not know just what that action was.

He said that abstracts of the FBI investigations would be inserted in the committee's official record of the hearings.

Bricker declared that members of the Commission should have "the implicit confidence of the people of the United States." He called Lilienthal, a former chief of the Tennessee Valley Authority, "a controversial figure" with loyal friends and bitter enemies.

"He has been active in what might be called liberal—and some designate it radical—movements in this country," he said.

"Hard to Get Along With."

"At times he has found it impossible to get along with those with whom he has been associated, as was shown in the testimony of Mr. A. E. Morgan."

(Morgan was succeeded as TVA chairman by Lilienthal.)

"There is no doubt that there were Communist activities among the employees of TVA. This activity, according to testimony, was carried on partly by youngsters who were sort of playing at being Communists. But they were drawn into it by an active organization working in and about TVA.

"Mr. Lilienthal testified he did not know about this activity. He should have known about it. It was his job to kno

The testimony should have alerted Mr. Lilienthal and his associates with regard to radicals and unusual types of people who are not thoroughgoing Americans."

A different view was expressed in another statement by Committee Chairman Hickenlooper (R.-Iowa) who voted for Lilienthal's nomination, he said:

'An Able Executive.'

"There is no evidence that indicates that Mr. Lilienthal is either a communist, friendly to Communism or that he is a so-called 'fellow traveler.'

"The small number of communists or communist sympathizers shown to have been employed in minor capacities in TVA at one time, probably could be duplicated in any large employment operation in the country and could easily be a matter that, at the time, might not come directly to the attention of the top executives.

"The record does disclose that Mr. Lilienthal is an able and vigorous executive. It also discloses, in my opinion, that he is a dominant character with great administrative ability. There is no evidence in the record that he is anything but personally honest."

Senator Wants Report On 100 U.S. 'Prisoners'

Washington, March 10 (AP)—Senator Brooks (R., Ill.) proposed in the Senate today that the Foreign Relations Committee obtain a "complete report" on the alleged detention of 100 American citizens in Polish prisons on political charges.

Brooks offered a resolution citing a report by Arthur Bliss Lane, American Ambassador to Poland, that he was denied an opportunity to confer with the prisoners, with one exception.

DEMOCRATS BATTLE LIMIT ON PRESIDENCY

WASHINGTON, March 10—(AP) Senator Hatch (D-NM) charged the Republicans today with "trying to legislate against the late Franklin D. Roosevelt" with a proposed constitutional amendment to set a nine-year limit on presidents.

"The Republican party is still looking backwards," he declared in the second day's Senate debate on the measure.

Shortly after Hatch spoke, Republican leaders recessed the Senate until Wednesday, announcing they hoped to work out some sort of an acceptable compromise in the meantime. Democrat after Democrat had taken the floor to criticize the measure and to support a proposed modification which would have the effect of letting President Truman have two more terms, rather than one, if the voters chose.

The only decision reached today was by a 63 to 20 vote to have state legislatures, rather than conventions, ratify the proposed change in the constitution.

SIX WOULD FORCE ARBITRATION USE MAR 1947

Witnesses Say It Is Most Practical Strike Solution

Washington, March 10 (AP)—The House Labor Committee heard five congressmen and a Harvard professor recommend compulsory arbitration today as the "most practical and fairest" way of stopping big strikes.

They said they would welcome a better answer, but that no one has offered any other effective idea.

And, said Representative Hale (R., Maine), the people demanded in the last election that "work indispensable to a modern society must go forward."

Others Appearing

Appearing with him were Representatives Clifford Case (R., N.J.), Herter (R., Mass.), Heselton (R., Mass.) and Auchincloss (R., N.J.). With them was Sumner Schlichter, head of the Harvard labor relations center.

They suggested creating a group of arbitrators picked by management and labor. If other methods of settling a dispute failed, and if the President decided that an emergency threatened public health and safety, then both sides would be compelled to lay their case before a board of three arbitrators. And both sides would be compelled to abide by the decision.

Only disputes involving interstate commerce would be handled this way. State and local authorities would have to try to settle the others.

Called "Only Alternative"

Auchincloss noted that spokesmen for both business and labor have "expressed horror at the thought of compulsory arbitration." But he said it seems to be the only alternative to "public disaster."

He and the others argued that if management and unions are so opposed to compulsory arbitration, then they will do their best to settle things between themselves without being forced to arbitrate.

Herter said that Government seizure of coal mines or other property in a strike "merely shifts the emphasis from one leg to the other without solving anything."

President's Action Noted

Schlichter recalled that in five of eight major railroad disputes in the last ten years and in a steel strike last year, the President stepped in as a personal arbitrator. A presidential decision is close to a command, he said, and therefore close to compulsory arbitration.

"I cannot think of a worse form of compulsory arbitration," he added. "The problem is how to prevent it, how to get away from it, how to reduce the proportion of cases in which it occurs and how to safeguard it and keep it nonpolitical when it does occur."

Schlichter suggested some changes for a bill proposed by the five congressmen. But, he said, it would encourage collective bargaining and voluntary arbitration and protect the public in case both of those fail.

Yugoslavia Must Prove 'Need' to Get U. S. Grain

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP).—The State Department said today Yugoslavia must present "clear evidence that a real need now exists" before getting authority to buy grain from the United States.

The Yugoslav government, the department said in a statement, recently ask the Charge d'Affaires at Belgrade, John Cabot, to recommend to the International Emergency Food Council an allocation of grain to Yugoslavia. (The International Food Council, of which the United States is a member, makes recommendations to member governments regarding food allocations).

The department noted, however, that Yugoslavia shipped grain to Romania last fall just prior to elections in that Soviet-dominated country. Shipments also have been made to Albania in the Soviet sphere.

Lost Hesse Testimony Ordered Taken Again

Washington, March 10 (AP)—An eight-man courtmartial board today overruled a defense motion for acquittal on the ground that part of the record is missing in the trial of Col. Jack W. Durant for conspiracy in the $1,500,000 Hesse crown jewel theft.

The court ordered testimony, given February 12, repeated in order to replace, as nearly as possible, part of the trial record now lost.

The record was unwittingly destroyed when an as yet unidentified army colonel in the Army's vast Pentagon Building headquarters walked off with the court stenographer's recording machine and stripped it of notes, destroying them.

15 MILLION HOMES IN 10 YEARS IS AIM OF HOUSING BILL

WASHINGTON, March 10—(AP) A long-range housing bill designed to encourage construction of 15,000,000 city and rural homes in the next 10 years was introduced today by Senators Taft (R-Ohio), Wagner (D-NY) and Ellender (D-La).

Calling for a permanent national housing commission, the announced goal of the measure is "decent homes and a suitable living environment for every American family."

The target for the first years after enactment is 5,000,000 new homes.

Provisions of Measure

Coordinating existing housing agencies under the new commission, the bill authorizes a federal housing authority, a federal home loan bank administration and a federal public housing authority.

It sets forth these policies:

1. Private enterprise in the construction industry would be encouraged to serve as large a part of the total housing need as possible.

2. Government assistance would be utilized, wherever feasible, to enable private enterprise to meet a greater share of the total need.

3. Provision of federal financial aid to clear slums and provide public low-rent housing. Such aid would be available only for areas which "demonstrate that their needs cannot fully be met through reliance solely on private enterprise and upon local and state revenues."

The bill also provides special assistance on mortgage insurance for low-income families. It also is designed to encourage private builders to construct rental housing for moderate income families.

Local public housing agencies would be required to give preference to families of servicemen and veterans in selecting tenants.

Administration of loans for construction of rural homes would be under the Secretary of Agriculture.

A similar bill was passed last year by the Senate, but was shelved in the House.

FBI SCANS RECORDS OF ARAB AGENCY

WASHINGTON, March 10—(AP) Officials of the Arab Office, an agency supported by seven Arab governments, said today records at their headquarters here were examined for several hours during the day by two FBI agents.

Cecil Hourani, secretary of the office said that he raised no objections as "we have nothing to hide." The Arab Office headquarters are located in the fashionable Wardman Park Hotel.

The two men, an assistant said had credentials of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and said they had search warrants. They examined papers and files from mid morning until 5 p.m., removed nothing and said they would return tomorrow, reporters were told.

The Arab Office publishes information about the Near East and has opposed Jewish immigration into Palestine. A registration statement filed with the Justice Department said the agency was sponsored by the governments of Egypt, Iraq, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Syria, TransJordan and the Yeman.

A Department of Justice official said that under the law which requires registration of persons or groups representing a foreign nation, the FBI has the right to inspect the records of any person or group so registered.

Ives Bill Would Let In War Orphans

Washington, March 10 (A. P.).—Legislation to permit the immigration of war orphans into the United States was introduced in the Senate today by Senator Ives (R.-N. Y.).

The benefits would apply only to youths under 14 who would be adopted by a United States citizen. Ives estimated that a little more than 6,200 orphan children wish to come to America from the American zone of Germany.

'A' BOMB OUTPUT RISE IS ADVOCATED

Boston, March 10 (A. P.).—John M. Hancock, general manager of the United States delegation to the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, said today that the United States should continue manufacturing as many atomic bombs "as the country can produce."

Hancock, in a speech at a Boston Chamber of Commerce luncheon, said: "The United States plan (for atomic energy) is surely a realistic approach to the hard facts of the problem."

He explained that the United States plan calls for the creation of an Atomic Energy Commission to be set up by the Assembly of the United Nations for the purpose of recommending a treaty to deal with the problems raised by the discovery of atomic energy.

Asserting that treaties are as yet no guaranty of peace, Hancock declared that "it is best for the United States to go ahead with the manufacture of as many bombs as the country can produce. It is a hard philosophy, but its safer than war itself.

"The suggestion of merely stopping the manufacture of bombs is a thoroughly impractical one," he said, "unless it were accompanied by the stopping of the manufacturing of the fissionable materials themselves and the disposal of all in existence."

Haupt's Friend Excluded

CHICAGO, March 10 (AP).—Mrs. Elli Friedericke Mathilde Louis Donath, forty-nine, who the government said had been friendly with Herbert Haupt, executed Nazi saboteur, was denied United States citizenship today. Federal Judge John P. Barnes said she had not demonstrated she was attached to the principles of the Constitution. Irving Freedman, naturalization attorney, told the court Mrs. Donath was interned as a dangerous alien during the war and that she also was friendly to William Wernecke, convicted of draft evasion by posing as a Lutheran minister. Her husband, Otto, was naturalized in 1937.

ATOMIC PLAN SENT BACK TO COMMISSION

Gromyko Joins In Vote After Austin Rejects Russian Proposal

Lake Success, N.Y., March 10 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council by unanimous vote tonight sent the whole complicated atomic energy control question back to the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission after the United States flatly rejected Russia's detailed atomic plan.

The Security Council thus closed its books for the time being on one of its most controversial subjects and directed the atomic commission to prepare a treaty on atomic control.

It called for a report before the next meeting of the General Assembly in September.

Gromyko Loses Fight

Andrei A. Gromyko, Russian delegate who had fired bitter broadsides at the United States plan for atomic control, lost a stubborn fight to whittle down a United States resolution sending the issue back to the commission. He then voted with the other ten delegates in a rare display of unanimity on the Security Council.

The Council adjourned at 6.52 P.M. until 3 P.M. Wednesday.

The United States in its complete rejection of the detailed Russian plans said that they were not constructive, might even lead to war and lacked the minimum security needs this country has demanded.

"They do not provide for an international system of control of atomic energy at all," Warren R. Austin, chief United States delegate, told the United Nations Security Council in a dramatic session before a crowded chamber.

Called Incentive To Distrust

"They provide for a system which at best would give no security and at worst would be a constant incentive to distrust and war," he said.

Austin, with considerable spirit, denied allegations by Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate, that this country is seeking to keep a world monopoly on atomic energy.

Austin capped his 20-minute speech with an assertion that the United States made clear that it welcomed all constructive suggestions but felt the Soviet proposals "do not . . . contain constructive suggestions."

"While proclaiming themselves international and while alleging a certain security against atomic warfare, they do not satisfy any of the conditions which are minimal and essential for such security," Austin said.

Term Speech "Negative"

Alexandre Parodi, of France, and Dr. Quo Tai-chi, of China, expressed disappointment over the "negative character" of Gromyko's 78-minute speech last Wednesday in which the Russian charged that the United States proposals for an international authority controlling atomic matters everywhere was an attack on the independence of other countries.

Fernand van Langenhove, of Belgium, lined his country up with the United States plan officially for the first time since Belgium took a seat on the Security Council January 1. Dr. Eduardo Zuleta Angel, of Colombia, and Paul Hasluck, of Australia, also supported the United States.

Austin worked during the week end on his reply to Gromyko, writing it himself in longhand after considerable research. He began his counterattack by presenting a revised resolution which would send the whole atomic problem back to the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission for another attempt to draft a treaty or convention.

This resolution called for a second atomic commission report before the General Assembly meets next September. The first report, now before the Council, was based mainly on the United States plan for control, which envisioned an atomic development authority with full power over atomic matters everywhere and no veto on atomic punishments.

Gromyko's atomic proposals call for a convention outlawing atomic bombs now and another convention, to be worked out as rapidly as possible, setting up controls operating within the framework of the Security Council, where the five great powers hold the veto.

Points To Six U.S. Moves

Austin met Gromyko's charges of monopoly with six instances in which the United States has taken the initiative or has participated in moves designed to share the atomic secrets with the world and asked:

"Does this sound like a policy of development of a cartel or international monopoly?"

Austin said the United States did not desire to impose its will in atomic matters on other countries and pointed out that nine other nations joined the United States in approving the commission's report while Russia and Poland did not vote.

Shipping Parley Ordered

The United Nations Economic and Social Council instructed Trygve Lie, secretary general to call an international shipping conference to consider the desirability of creating a world shipping organization.

The Economic and Social Council voted to ask the conference to consider unfair trade practices in shipping and to make the prevention of such practices one of the functions of any world organization which might be established.

United Nations headquarters was informed today that Albania had rejected final efforts of the United Nations press division to obtain an Albanian entry visa for L. S. Chakales, chief of the Associated Press bureau in Athens.

The regime of Col. Gen. Enver Hoxha had complained against dispatches Chakales filed from Albania in December, 1945, on the single-party election staged by a "national democratic front" to set up the Albanian Peoples Republic headed by Hoxha.

Austin Resolution and Speech

From the Herald Tribune Bureau

LAKE SUCCESS, L. I., March 10.—Following are the complete texts of the revised resolution on atomic energy introduced by Warren R. Austin, United States representative, in the United Nations Security Council here today, and of Mr. Austin's speech in support of the resolution:

The Resolution

The Security Council, having received and considered the first report of the Atomic Energy Commission dated 31 Dec. 1946, together with its letter of transmittal of the same date,

Recognizes that any agreement expressed by the members of the council to the separate portions of the report is preliminary since final acceptance of any part by any nation is conditioned upon its acceptance of all parts of the control plan in its final form;

Transmits the record of its consideration of the first report of the Atomic Energy Commission to the commission;

Urges the Atomic Energy Commission, in accordance with the General Assembly resolutions of 24th Jan. and 14th Dec. 1946, to continue its inquiry into all phases of the problem of the international control of atomic energy and to develop as promptly as possible the specific proposals called for by Section 5 of the General Assembly resolution of 24th Jan. 1946, and by the resolution of the General Assembly of Dec. 14, 1946, and in due course to prepare and submit to the Security Council a draft treaty or treaties or convention or conventions incorporating its ultimate proosals;

Requests the Atomic Energy Commission to submit a second report to the Security Council before the next session of the General Assembly.

Mr. Austin's Speech

The pending resolution of the United States — with certain amendments — ought to be adopted. Its adoption would execute the part of that recommendation of the General Assembly, of Dec. 14 last, reading "that the Security Council expedite consideration of the reports which the Atomic Energy Commission will make to the Security Council and that it facilitate the work of that commission, and also that the Security Council expedite consideration of a draft convention or conventions for the creation of an international system of control and inspection, these conventions to include prohibition of atomic and all other major weapons adaptable now and in the future to mass destruction and the control of atomic energy to the extent necessary to insure its use only for peaceful purposes.

Adoption of the pending resolution is necessary to enable the Atomic Energy Commission to effectively perform that part of the same resolution of the General Assembly which was addressed directly to the Atomic Energy Commission, viz.:

"Then General Assembly urges the expeditious fulfillment by the Atomic Energy Commission of its terms of reference as set forth in Section 5 of the General Assembly resolution of 24 Jan. 1946."

That Section 5 is the unanimous repudiation by fifty-four nations of all the defamation and innuendo that has occurred here in debates. Recurrence to the fundamental bases of that section will hold us fast to the actual motives and objectives of all members of the United Nations, namely:

The abolition of war;

The establishment of collective security and peace;

The improvement of better living for all.

Section 5 reads:

"Terms of Reference of the Commission"

"The commission shall proceed with the utmost despatch and inquire into all phases of the problem, and make such recommendations from time to time with respect to them as it finds possible. In particular, the commission shall make specific proposals:

(a) "For extending between all nations the exchange of basic scientific information for peaceful ends;

(b) "For control of atomic energy to the extent necessary to insure its use only for peaceful purposes;

(c) "For the elimination from national armaments of atomic weapons and of all other major weapons adaptable to mass destruction;

(d) "For effective safeguards by way of inspection and other means to protect complying states against the hazards of violations and evasions.

"The work of the commission should proceed by separate stages, the successful completion of each of which will develop the necessary confidence of the world before the next stage is undertaken."

Mr. President, the origin and sponsorship of that section springs from the spirit of every nation and people who were members of the United Nations at the time of its inspired adoption. As we review its history let us be re-dedicated to its benevolent and grand purpose and speedily advance its consummation.

After the act of Chapultepec, after the United Nations Charter, the news of a most awful hazard to security burst upon civilization. Immediately commenced the effort which we are now engaged in to overcome the hazard and to harness this energy for the cause of peace.

On Aug 6, 1945, the President of the United States announced "sixteen hours ago an American airplane dropped a bomb on Hiroshima, an important Japanese army base." He concluded: "I shall recommend that the Congress of the United States consider promptly the establishment of an appropriate commission to control the production and the use of atomic power within the United States. I shall give further consideration and make further recommendations to the Congress as to how atomic power can become a powerful and forceful influence toward the maintenance of world peace."

President Sends Message

Within two months, on Oct. 3, 1945, President Truman delivered a message to Congress containing the following altruistic declaration;:

"In international relations, as in domestic affairs, the release of atomic energy constitutes a new force too revolutionary to consider in the framework of old ideas."

Permit me to pause long enough to comment, 'And probably to be governed by the Act of Chapultepec or the Charter of the United Nations."

He continued:

"We can no longer rely on the slow progress of time to develop a program of control among nations. Civilization demands that we shall reach at the earliest possible date a satisfactory arrangement for the control of this discovery in order that it may become a powerful and forceful influence toward the maintenance of world peace instead of an instrument of destruction."

In the President's Navy Day address, Oct. 27, 1945, he also reaffirmed our motives and our purpose, thus:

"We must find the answer to the problems created by the release of atomic energy—as we must find the answers to the many other problems of peace—in partnership with all the peoples of the United Nations. We shall pursue that course with all the wisdom, patience and determination that the God of peace can bestow upon a people who are trying to follow His path."

In less than one month thereafter it was the United States that took the initiative in bringing about the three - nation agreed declaration on atomic energy at Washington, Nov. 15, 1945. The President of the United States, the Prime Minister of the United Kingdom and the Prime Minister of Canada issued a declaration which contained provisions later adopted by the General Assembly at London including Section 5. The following part of that declaration speaks to us today with probative emphasis:

"We are, however, prepared to share, on a reciprocal basis with others of the United Nations, detailed information concerning the practical industrial application of atomic energy just as soon as effective enforceable safeguards against its use for destructive purposes can be devised."

Policy Is U. S. Law

Today this policy, which is utterly incompatible with a United States monopoly, is the law of the United States, Section 10 (A) 1 and 2 of the atomic energy act of 1946 which I read and make a part of this important record:

"Sec. 10 (A) Policy—It shall be the policy of the commission to control the dissemination of restricted data in such a manner as to assure the common defense and security. Consistent with such policy, the commission shall be guided by the following principles:

"(1) That until Congress declares by joint resolution that effective and enforceable international safeguards against the use of atomic energy for destructive purposes have been established, there shall be no exchange of information with other nations with respect to the use of atomic energy for industrial purposes; and

"(2) That the dissemination of scientific and technical information relating to atomic energy should be permitted and encouraged so as to provide that free interchange of ideas and criticisms which is essential to scientific progress."

Well, I ask, does this sound like a policy of development of a cartel or international monopoly?

Note the following wellspring of duty of the Atomic Energy Commission under Section 5 because it is an act of the Soviet Union as well as of the other four permanent members of this Security Council.

At the meeting which took place in Moscow from Dec. 16 to Dec. 26, 1945, of the Ministers of Foreign Affairs of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, the United States of America and the United Kingdom, agreement was reached to recommend to the General Assembly of the United Nations the establishment of the Atomic Energy Commission. They invited the other permanent members to join them in assuming the initiative in sponsoring the resolution creating and fixing the terms of reference of the Atomic Energy Commission. Those terms are precisely the same Section 5 that we are now considering, and Mr. Molotov's name is subscribed to it.

Followed by Assembly Act

Then followed the act of the General Assembly, Jan. 24, 1946, which I have quoted and which the General Assembly on Dec. 14 urged "the expeditious fulfillment" by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The United States attaches great importance to the remarks of the representattive of the Soviet Union on the control of atomic energy so far as they may affect that fulfillment.

The objections of the Soviet government to the commission report to the Security Council deal not only with the difficult question of the certainty of sanctions, not only with the difficult question of the sequence of steps by which international control may be established, not only with the reliance which may be placed on a purely conventional approach to the prohibition of atomic weapons. They deny the necessity, if security is to be achieved, for an international co-operative development in the field of atomic energy. They go to the very root of the problem. They attack the proposed international agency on the ground that it would be a United States monopoly.

The United States takes the position that it is precisely the opposite.

What the majority of the Security Council and Atomic Energy Commission seek is effective international control by a genuinely international co-operative development of atomic energy to which all nations would contribute their skills and their knowledge without secrecy, and in which all nations would share the benefits on an equitable basis.

Our purpose is to assure that each nation can safely realize these tremendous benefits for itself without danger to its national security or the security of its own economic and social system.

The alternative is a control which would be neither international nor effective—a control which would permit or encourage national rivalries. Because the United States believes that national rivalries would create secrecy, suspicion and finally preparation for the horrors of atomic war, it has proposed to turn over in due course all its knowledge, its facilities and its scientific skills to an international agency under necessary safeguards. Only when specific proposals have been presented can the United States or any other nation assess the sacrifices which would have to be made in order to obtain the benefits of such an international agency. Specific proposals—the words repeated three different times in the fundamental papers that created the Atomic Energy Commission and gave it its instructions—must be developed in the Atomic Energy Commission which was created for that purpose.

The United States does not desire to impose its will, in questions of atomic energy, on other countries. The report itself proves the opposite. Ten countries united therein to forestall an atomic weapons race. The prohibition of atomic weapons in advance of a system of effective enforceable safeguards would not fulfill the mandate of the General Assembly adopted unanimously, or prevent an atomic weapons race.

My government has made it clear that we welcome all constructive suggestions which might advance the solution of our common problem and fulfill the mandate of the General Assembly resolution. The proposals put forward by the Soviet government do not in our view contain constructive suggestions. While proclaiming themselves international, and while alleging a certain security against atomic warfare, they do not satisfy any of the conditions which are minimal and essential for such security. They do not provide for an international system of control of atomic energy at all. They provide for a system which at best would give no security, and at worst would be a constant incentive to distrust and war.

Now, the question is, do we adopt the pending resolution to facilitate the work of the atomic energy commission or do we decline to carry out the recommendation of the General Assembly?

We will not know that the work of the commission has or has not proceeded to any stage of completion if we fail to facilitate its making of specific proposals. No specific proposals have yet been made.

The work on specific proposals according to Section 5 may develop more agreement than indicated by the vote of 10 to 0 on the first report. The specific proposals may not excite such opposition as to defeat the purpose we have all hitherto declared.

In any event we may know through its next report, required by this resolution as amended, whether we can advance toward the abolition of war, the establishment of collective security, and the development of better living for all. We may by then know whether we can through treaty lay the foundations of international law to govern a system of international control of atomic energy.

Hecht To Seek Ships To Repatriate Jews

New York, March 10 (AP)—Ben Hecht, author and cochairman of the repatriation supervisory board of the American League for a Free Palestine, said today in commenting on the British boarding of the motorship Ben Hecht last Saturday off Palestine, that he would seek new ships to repatriate Jews.

He said in a statement on the boarding of the motorship and arrest of 20 of its crew:

"The British can capture ships to their heart's content, but there are many more where they came from.

"I have gone to work to write another play to raise more funds to buy ships to repatriate more Hebrews. This news will spur me on to write even more plays."

Arrests On Ben Hecht Called A "Test Case"

New York, March 10 (AP)—Fowler V. Harper, Yale University law professor, said today the arrest of American crew members of the refugee ship Ben Hecht by British authorities provided "a test case" of the entire British policy regarding immigration into Palestine.

Harper, vice chairman of the American League for a Free Palestine, said at a news conference:

"This will be a test case in a sense that a British court will decide whether Mr. Bevins's foreign policy or international law is paramount."

He added the organizations hoped the case "will establish the illegality of the British regulations in a British court under international law."

A new York law firm has been engaged and State Department intervention in the case now was being sought, Harper said.

LONDON, MARCH 10-(AP)-SIR STAFFORD CRIPPS SAID TODAY BRITAIN WAS SPENDING TOO MANY DOLLARS FOR TOBACCO, BUT ADDED THE GOVERNMENT HAD REJECTED RATIONING OF SMOKES BECAUSE A BLACK MARKET IN TOBACCO WOULD BE HARD TO SUPPRESS.

SIR STAFFORD, PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF TRADE, OPENED A THREE-DAY HOUSE OF COMMONS DEBATE ON BRITISH ECONOMY WHICH WILL BE CLIMAXED BY A CONSERVATIVE EFFORT TO CENSURE THE GOVERNMENT WITH A VOTE OF NO CONFIDENCE. PRIME MINISTER ATTLEE APPEARED CERTAIN OF RIDING OUT THE STORM AS THE DEBATE BEGAN.

CRIPPS SAID EFFORTS WOULD BE MADE TO SUPPLANT SOME SUPPLIES OF VIRGINIA--FAVORITE OF BRITISH SMOKERS--WITH MORE TOBACCO FROM THE EMPIRE. HE ANNOUNCED A 10 PER CENT CUT IN PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE EFFECTIVE MAY 1 AND SAID TIGHTER RESTRICTIONS ON DOMESTIC USE OF COAL, GAS AND ELECTRICITY MIGHT BE NECESSARY. THE GOVERNMENT WILL SET UP A JOINT PLANNING STAFF "ON THE LINE THAT WAS SO SUCCESSFULLY DEVELOPED DURING THE WAR," HE SAID.

SILVER

LONDON, MARCH 10-(AP)-SILVER BULLION DEALERS SAID TODAY INDIAN BUYING OF SILVER HAD STOPPED AS THE RESULT OF "REPORTS" THAT THE RESERVE BANK OF INDIA HAD REFUSED TO ISSUE IMPORT LICENSES FOR THE METAL.

(IN BOMBAY, THE EXCHANGE CONTROLLER OF THE RESERVE BANK OF INDIA WAS QUOTED AS VERIFYING REPORTS THAT IMPORTS OF BULLION TO INDIA HAD BEEN PROHIBITED).

ONE LONDON DEALER SAID: "I THINK IT HAS COME BECAUSE THE LARGE INDIAN STERLING BALANCES IN LONDON HAVE BEEN RUNNING DOWN TOO FAST AND THIS WOULD LOWER INDIA'S BARGAINING POWER WITH GREAT BRITAIN."

GREAT BRITAIN MADE LARGE PURCHASES OF MATERIALS IN INDIA DURING THE WAR, IN RETURN FOR WHICH SHE CREDITED INDIAN ACCOUNTS WITH STERLING BALANCES IN LONDON AMOUNTING TO MORE THAN $4,000,000,000. DURING RECENT MONTHS THESE BALANCES HAVE SHRUNK APPRECIABLY, BANKING CIRCLES SAY.

INDIA, WHICH IS INDUSTRALIZING ITSELF, WOULD LIKE EITHER BRITISH MACHINERY IN EXCHANGE FOR THE STERLING, OR OTHER CURRENCIES--SUCH AS DOLLARS--WITH WHICH TO BUY GOODS.

MAR 1947

UNDER THE INTERNATIONAL CURRENCY AGREEMENT STERLING WILL NOT BE EXCHANGABLE FOR DOLLARS UNTIL JULY 15. MEANWHILE, FINANCIAL EXPERTS SAY THE LARGE STERLING BALANCES PROVIDE INDIA WITH "BARGAINING-POWER" IN RELATION TO GREAT BRITAIN.

SILVER BROKERS SAID INDIAN BUYERS HAD BEEN "BIG PURCHASERS" OF SILVER IN LONDON FOR THE PAST SIX MONTHS, EXPLAINING THE METAL WAS MUCH IN DEMAND IN INDIA WHERE IT IS TRADITIONALLY HOARDED BY BOTH RICH AND POOR. THEY HAVE BEEN PAYING FOR IT WITH THEIR LONDON STERLING BALANCES, HE ADDED.

BOTH INDIAN AND "ARBITRAGE" DEALING IN SILVER IN LONDON HAS NOW COME TO A COMPLETE STANDSTILL, ANOTHER BROKER SAID.

"RIGHT NOW SILVER FOR ESSENTIAL INDUSTRIAL PURPOSES FOR USE IN THE UNITED KINGDOM IS THE ONLY SILVER BEING SOLD," HE SAID. THIS SILVER FOR IMMEDIATE DELIVERY IS CURRENTLY QUOTED AT 52 PENCE (88 CENTS).

SILVER FOR DELIVERY IN TWO MONTHS IS QUOTED AT 51 1/2 PENCE (86 1/2 CENTS).

LONDON SILVER PRICES, THEY SAID, HAVE TAKEN THEIR CUE DURING THE PAST MONTH FROM PRICES IN NEW YORK.

PARIS, MARCH 10-(AP)-TOP-RANK GOVERNMENT, MANAGEMENT AND LABOR FIGURES WERE DEADLOCKED AGAIN TODAY IN THEIR EFFORTS TO SETTLE THE FRENCH CAPITAL'S NEWSPAPER STRIKE, NOW ENDING ITS THIRD WEEK.

SPOKESMEN FOR THE PRESSROOM WORKERS, FOLLOWING A CONFERENCE WITH PREMIER PAUL RAMADIER, DECLARED THEY COULD NOT ACCEPT CONDITIONS PROPOSED BY THE GOVERNMENT FOR A RETURN TO WORK.

RAMADIER, MANAGEMENT AND LABOR LEADERS AGREED, HOWEVER, ON NEW WORKING CONDITIONS FOR LINOTYPE OPERATORS AND MOST OTHER NEWSPAPER EMPLOYES, INCLUDING A 17 PERCENT INCREASE IN WAGE RATES IN RETURN FOR A LONGER WORKING WEEK, SEVEN DAYS OF PUBLICATION INSTEAD OF SIX.

RAMADIER AND OTHER GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS YESTERDAY VETOED A MANAGEMENT-LABOR AGREEMENT FOR PRESSROOM WORKERS AS CONTRARY TO THE GOVERNMENT'S PROGRAM TO CUT PRICES AND LIVING COSTS.

TODAY THEY THREATENED TO CUT OFF THE SUPPLY OF NEWSPRINT TO ANY NEWSPAPER WHICH ATTEMPTED TO DEFY THIS RULING. PRESSROOM WORKERS' REPRESENTATIVES AND MANAGEMENT SPOKESMEN SCHEDULED ANOTHER MEETING FOR LATE THIS AFTERNOON.

RAMADIER PREVIOUSLY ASSERTED THE GOVERNMENT, WHICH CONTROLS WAGES AND PRICES, WOULD NOT SANCTION ANY SALARY INCREASES WHICH FORCED AN INCREASE IN PRICES. WAGE BOOSTS, HE SAID, MUST BE ACCOMPANIED BY A CORRESPONDING INCREASE IN SERVICES RENDERED.

BERLIN, MARCH 10-(AP)-FROM THE END OF THE WAR THROUGH 1946, AMERICAN TEXPAYERS CONTRIBUTED NEARLY $500,000,000 WORTH OF FOOD AND OTHER SUPPLIES FOR GERMANY, AMERICAN MILITARY GOVERNMENT SOURCES ESTIMATED TODAY.

THE FOOD BILL ALONE OF GERMANS AND DISPLACED PERSONS FROM AUG.1, 1945, TO DEC.31, 1946, AMOUNTED TO $395,461,000, ACCORDING TO THE LATEST MILITARY GOVERNOR'S REPORT ISSUED BY GEN.JOSEPH T. MCNARNEY.

IN ADDITION, ARMY STOCKS AND DIRECT IMPORTS HAVE PROVIDED MILLIONS OF TONS OF OTHER SUPPLIES, RANGING FROM PILLS TO PETROLEUM, WHICH ACCOUNTANTS ESTIMATE TO HAVE COST ANOTHER $65,000,000.

THE COST OF THESE SUPPLIES--DISTRIBUTED UNDER WHAT IS CALLED THE "DISEASE AND UNREST FORMULA"--IS CHARGEABLE TO THE GERMAN ECONOMY AND REPAYMENT ULTIMATELY WILL BE SOUGHT OUT OF THE PROCEEDS OF GERMAN EXPORTS.

ABOUT $20,000,000 WORTH OF U.S.RAW COTTON HAS BEEN IMPORTED UNDER A SELF-LIQUIDATING PLAN WHEREBY TEXTILE EXPORTS WILL MAKE REPAYMENT. HOWEVER, FORTY PERCENT OF THESE FINISHED TEXTILES REMAIN FOR THE GERMAN ECONOMY.

THE U.S.RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION HAS ARRANGED TO GRANT $7,750,000 COMMODITY CREDITS TO HELP REVIVE INDUSTRY IN WESTERN GERMANY.

IN ADDITION, THERE HAS BEEN A TREMENDOUS VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTION

BY AMERICAN CITIZENS TO INDIVIDUAL GERMANS IN THE FORM OF PARCEL POST GIFT RELIEF PACKAGES AND CARE FOOD PACKAGES.

UP TO FEB.28 AMERICANS HAD SENT 6,287,000 GIFT PARCELS INTO ALL ZONES OF GERMANY CONTAINING APPROXIMATELY 63,000,000 POUNDS OF FOOD, CLOTHING AND OTHER RELIEF ARTICLES. POST OFFICIALS ESTIMATED THESE PACKAGES WERE WORTH CONSERVATIVELY $3.50 EACH, WHICH WOULD AMOUNT TO A CASH CONTRIBUTION OF MORE THAN $22,000,000.

THE FOOD DISTRIBUTED TO GERMAN CIVILIANS AND DISPLACED PERSONS CONTAINED 800 SEPARATE ITEMS, BUT THE GREATEST TONNAGE WAS IN GRAINS.

THE OTHER SUPPLIES, ACCORDING TO MILITARY GOVERNMENT ACCOUNTANTS STRUGGLING WITH A TREMENDOUS PRICING AND BOOKKEEPING JOB, INCLUDE 2,400 SEPARATE ITEMS.

THESE INCLUDE MOTOR VEHICLES ESTIMATED AT $16,000,000, ABOUT $13,000,000 WORTH OF SEED AND AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS AND EVEN COMPLETE HOSPITALS.

BERLIN, MARCH 10-(AP)-ALTHOUGH THEY SEE RUSSIAN OCCUPATION TROOPS EVER LESS IN EVIDENCE, EASTERN ZONE GERMANS ANXIOUSLY WATCHED OPENING OF THE MOSCOW CONFERENCE TODAY WITH A GROWING FEAR THAT ITS RESULTS MIGHT PERMANENTLY SPLIT THEM FROM THE REST OF GERMANY.

THEY CLAIMED THAT THE RUSSIAN ATTITUDE, AS EXEMPLIFIED IN PROPAGANDA TOWARDS THEMSELVES, HAS CHANGED SHARPLY IN RECENT MONTHS, THAT FEWER FIGHTING TROOPS NOW ARE TO BE SEEN IN EASTERN GERMANY, THAT THE ADMINISTRATIVE UNITS WHICH REMAIN SEEM MORE THINLY SPREAD.

BUT AT THE SAME TIME, GERMAN TRUCK DRIVERS BRING TALES OF BIGGER CONCENTRATIONS INSIDE POLAND.

"THE RUSSIANS TELL US FLATLY THAT IT IS THEY ALONE WHO WANT TO SEE THE UNIFICATION OF GERMANY AND THAT THE AMERICANS AND BRITISH OPPOSE IT," ONE GERMAN PROFESSIONAL MAN SAID.

THE BELIEF OF MANY GERMANS IN THE EAST THAT THEY WILL BE PERMANENTLY SPLIT FROM THE REST OF GERMANY IS BASED MAINLY ON THE DEGREE OF SOCIALIZATION ALREADY ACHIEVED IN TWO YEARS IN THE EAST.

IF GERMANY IS TO BE UNIFIED AT ALL, THEN IT MUST BE ALONG THE LINES ALREADY FOLLOWED IN THE EAST, THEY BELIEVE, SINCE IT WOULD BE IMPOSSIBLE TO THROW THE WHOLE SOCIALIZATION PROGRAM AS ALREADY DEVELOPED INTO SUDDEN REVERSE.

"ALREADY GERMANS IN THE WESTERN OCCUPATION ZONES ARE SHOWING A TENDENCY TO WRITE US OFF AS LOST," SAID ONE GERMAN FROM THE EAST.

"THINGS HAVE GONE TOO FAR FOR US GERMANS OF THE EAST TO LIVE AGAIN IN ONE STATE WITH OUR BROTHERS OF THE WEST. EITHER THE WEST BECOMES SOCIALIZED, AS WELL, OR GERMANY IS SPLIT IN TWO FOR EVER."

MOSCO W, March 10----Fourth Lead Russian----Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov unexpectedly injected the political situation in China into the opening session of the Foreign Ministers Council today, asking that the U.S., Britain abd Russia exchange information on conditions there.

An immediate decision was blocked by Secy of State Marshall, who said he wanted to think over the request overnight.

Molotov asserted the situation in China has not improved since 1945.

AT THAT TIME THE FOREIGN MINISTERS OF THE UNITED STATES, BRITAIN AND RUSSIA AGREED ON THE NEED FOR A UNIFIED, STRONG CHINA AND THE UNITED STATES AND RUSSIA AGREED TO REMOVE THEIR TROOPS FROM CHINA AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

THERE HAD BEEN NO PREVIOUS INDICATION THAT RUSSIA WANTED TO TALK ABOUT CHINA AT THE CURRENT SESSION, WHICH WAS CALLED TO TAKE UP THE GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN SITUATIONS, BUT THE FOREIGN MINISTERS FREQUENTLY RUN THE [redacted] GAMUT IN THEIR MEETINGS.

THIS IS THE FIRST FOREIGN MINISTERS' SESSION ATTENDED BY MARSHALL AS SECRETARY OF STATE. THE [redacted] OPENED TODAY IN THE HALL OF SOVIET AVIATION, TWO MILES FROM THE SNOW-MANTLED KREMLIN. [redacted] LASTED ABOUT AN HOUR AND A HALF.

MOLOTOV ARGUED THAT THE SITUATION HAD NOT IMPROVED SINCE 1945 AND THAT HE BELIEVED THE POWERS OUGHT TO EXCHANGE INFORMATION ON HOW THE AGREEMENT HAD BEEN EXECUTED. HE SAID THE MATTER WAS MERELY FOR INFORMATION AND NOT FOR DECISION.

AMERICAN CONFEREES WERE REPORTED NOT CLEAR ON WHAT MOLOTOV WAS GETTING AT. MARSHALL BLOCKED IMMEDIATE APPROVAL ON THE GROUNDS THAT IF CHINA WAS TO BE DISCUSSED, THEN CHINA--WHICH IS A MEMBER OF THE COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS--SHOULD BE PRESENT. HE SAID, HOWEVER, HE MIGHT AGREE TO AN INFORMAL EXCHANGE OF DATA ON THE SITUATION AMONG THE BIG THREE.

MAR 1947

THE FOREIGN SECRETARIES GATHERED AT 5 P.M. (9 A.M., EASTERN STANDARD TIME), BUT THEIR SESSION DID NOT GET UNDERWAY UNTIL PHOTOGRAPHERS HAD COMPLETED TAKING PICTURES OF THE GROUP, AT 5:38.

"AND NOW WE WILL GET TO WORK," SAID MOLOTOV.

THE ROOM IN WHICH THE MEETING WAS HELD HAS LIGHT CREAM COLORED

WALLS WITH GOLD TRIMMINGS. CRYSTAL CHANDELIERS HANG OVER THE HUGE ROUND TABLE WHICH IS COVERED WITH WHITE CLOTH AND SURROUNDED BY 24 CHAIRS. THE TABLE WAS PREPARED AHEAD WITH SCRATCH PADS, RED AND BLACK PENCILS AND TWO KINDS OF RUSSIAN CIGARETTES AT THE PLACES OF EACH MINISTER.

A LARGE POCKET WATCH HAD BEEN PLACED AT MOLOTOV'S PLACE.

THE GENERAL IMPRESSION OF THE ROOM WAS THAT OF SIMPLICITY. THE DRAPES WERE OF GOLD BROCADE AND THE SILK CURTAINS WERE RUFFLED. THE FLOOR WAS CARPETED WITH A GOLD COLORED RUG.

OFFICIALS PRESENT AT THE MEETING SAID ITS MOST POSITIVE ACTION WAS FINAL APPROVAL BY REPRESENTATIVES OF THE FOUR POWERS ON PERMANENT LIQUIDATION OF THE GERMAN STATE OF PRUSSIA. THIS ACTION, ALREADY CARRIED OUT IN EFFECT, HAD BEEN RECOMMENDED BY THE ALLIED CONTROL COUNCIL IN BERLIN.

SECRETARY OF STATE MARSHALL ENTERED THE MEETING READY TO PRESS THE UNITED STATES PROPOSAL FOR A FOUR-POWER ALLIANCE AGAINST GERMANY. ON THAT HE WAS ASSURED OF THE SUPPORT OF ONLY BRITAIN'S SECRETARY ERNEST BT
ERNEST BEVIN.

MAR 1947

ANOTHER DECISION OF THE MEETING WAS TO RECEIVE REPORTS FROM THE FINANCIAL COMMISSION ON TRIESTE.

AT THE SUGGESTION OF BEVIN, THE COUNCIL AGREED THAT THE AUSTRIAN TREATY DEPUTIES WOULD CONTINUE THEIR WORK HERE SIMULTANEOUSLY WITH THE COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS.

A PROPOSAL BY FRANCE'S GEORGES BIDAULT, THAT THE GERMAN DEPUTIES ON PEACE TREATY PROCEDURES ALSO GET TO WORK AT ONCE, WAS LIKEWISE APPROVED.

BOTH GROUPS OF DEPUTIES WILL MEET SECRETLY TOMORROW.

IN ADDITION TO THE PROPOSAL TO PLACE CHINA ON THE AGENDA, TWO OTHER ITEMS WERE PUT FORWARD, BUT PASSED OVER UNTIL TOMORROW:

FIRST, MARSHALL SUGGESTED THAT THE COUNCIL TAKE UP THE PROPOSITION OF FORMER SECRETARY JAMES F. BYRNES FOR THE PROGRESSIVE LIMITATION OF OCCUPATION FORCES IN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES. MOLOTOV SAID HE NEEDED A DAY TO THINK THIS OVER.

SECOND, THE INTER-ALLIED REPARATIONS AGENCY ASKED TO BE HEARD ON ANYTHING TO DO WITH REPARATIONS. ACTION ON THIS WAS DELAYED BY GENERAL AGREEMENT.

MAR

THE MEETING BEGAN WITH A QUICK AGREEMENT ON THE SIX-POINT AGENDA OUTLINED IN THE PRIOR COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS IN NEW YORK AFTER MOLOTOV WELCOMED THE OTHER THREE SECRETARIES AND BEVIN, BIDAULT AND MARSHALL REPLIED. THE MAIN SURPRISE CAME WITH MOLOTOV'S COMPLETELY UNEXPECTED PROPOSAL ON CHINA.

THIRD LEAD FOREIGN MINISTERS
BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

MOSCOW, MARCH 10-(AP)-SECRETARY OF STATE MARSHALL GAVE A NEW PUSH TODAY TO THE UNITED STATES PROPOSAL FOR A FOUR-POWER ALLIANCE AGAINST GERMANY, BUT HE WAS ASSURED THE SUPPORT OF ONLY BRITAIN'S ERNEST BEVIN AS THE FOREIGN MINISTERS COUNCIL MET IN SNOW-MANTLED MOSCOW TO CONSIDER PEACE TREATIES FOR GERMANY AND AUSTRIA.

THE MINISTERS OPENED THE MOMENTOUS SESSION WITH LITTLE CEREMONY AS A SNOWSTORM SWIRLED OVER THIS CAPITAL OF THE RUSSIAS.

FOREIGN MINISTER GEORGES BIDAULT OF FRANCE WAS REPORTED TO BE TENTATIVELY AGREEING TO SUPPORT THE FOUR-POWER PACT SPONSORED BY THE UNITED STATES ONLY IF IT WAS PART OF A BROAD PATTERN TO KEEP GERMANY IMPOTENT. HE INSISTED THAT THE OTHER PARTS MUST INCLUDE POLITICAL SEPARATION OF THE RUHR FROM GERMANY, A CENTRAL GOVERNMENT AND A LOW LEVEL OF INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION.

MARSHALL TOLD CORRESPONDENTS HE WAS GOING TO PRESS FOR THE GERMAN DISARMAMENT AND DEMILITARIZATION TREATY ORIGINALLY PROPOSED BY JAMES F.BYRNES, HIS PREDECESSOR. BEVIN IS KNOWN TO FAVOR THE BYRNES PLAN STRONGLY.

MARSHALL DISCLOSED THAT HE HAD STRESSED THE IMPORTANCE OF THE PACT IN HIS STOPOVER AT PARIS, BUT FRENCH SOURCES SAID FRANCE WOULD BE ABLE TO AGREE TO THE PROPOSAL ONLY ON THE CONDITIONS MENTIONED.

THE SECRETARY OF STATE DECLINED TO SPECULATE ON THE LENGTH OF THE MOSCOW MEETING. AUTHORITATIVE INFORMANTS SAID, HOWEVER, THAT MARSHALL WAS PREPARED TO STAY HERE AS LONG AS NECESSARY TO MAKE REAL PROGRESS--ASSUMING THE FIRST TWO OR THREE WEEKS PROVE PROGRESS IS POSSIBLE.

MAR

WITH MOLOTOV CHAIRMAN OF THE OPENING SESSION, MARSHALL SAT ON HIS LEFT, BEVIN ON HIS RIGHT AND BIDAULT OPPOSITE. EACH HAD FIVE ADVISORS SEATED ON EITHER SIDE. WITH MARSHALL WERE CHARLES BOHLEN, ROBERT MURPHY, BENJAMIN COHEN, CLARK AND SMITH.

PHOTOGRAPHERS WERE GIVEN A FEW MINUTES BEFORE THE CONFERENCE OPENED TO MAKE PICTURES. RUSSIAN AUTHORITIES ALLOWED EACH DELEGATION OO HAVE FOUR REPORTERS OR PHOTOGRAPHERS

OPENED TO MAKE PICTURES. RUSSIAN AUTHORITIES ALLOWED EACH DELEGATION TO HAVE FOUR REPORTERS OR PHOTOGRAPHERS IN THE ROOM. AMERICAN PHOTOGRAPHERS REPORTED SUBSEQUENTLY THAT MORE THAN 12 RUSSIANS WERE SEEN MAKING PICTURES.

IN AN OUTLINE OF THE FRENCH POSITION, A FRENCH OFFICIAL SOURCE SAID THE GERMAN QUESTION WAS SO VITAL THAT FRANCE COULD NOT ACT AS A NEGOTIATOR BETWEEN THE RUSSIANS ON ONE SIDE AND THE BRITISH AND THE AMERICANS ON THE OTHER, BUT MUST PRESENT A CONCRETE PROGRAM OF HER OWN.

"DURING THE PARIS CONFERENCE (OVER THE TREATIES OF AXIS SATELLITES) WHEN FRANCE'S VITAL ISSUES WERE NOT AT STAKE," THE INFORMANT SAID, "WE COULD AFFORD TO SUGGEST COMPROMISES AND ACT AS NEGOTIATORS. BUT IN THE GERMAN QUESTIONS WE HAVE OUR OWN INTERESTS WHICH MUST COME FIRST."

SOME FRENCH PROPOSALS MAY SERVE AS A BRIDGE BETWEEN THE EAST AND THE WEST, BUT OTHERS MAY BE AT ODDS WITH BOTH, HE SAID. HE SAID THE FRENCH WOULD REMAIN ALOOF ON DISCUSSIONS OF THE ECONOMIC UNITY OF GERMANY "UNTIL WE SEE WHETHER THE GULF BETWEEN THE EAST AND THE WEST" WAS GOING TO WIDEN OR DIMINISH.

FROM THE ABSENCE OF CEREMONY IT WAS APPARENT THAT THE RUSSIANS WANTED TO IMPRESS UPON EVERYONE THE "BUSINESSLIKE" CHARACTER OF THE CONFERENCE.

THE ONLY DECORATIONS OUTSIDE THE BUILDING WERE TWO SETS OF SMALL FLAGS OF THE UNITED STATES, BRITAIN, FRANCE AND RUSSIA BUNCHED ON EACH SIDE OF THE DOOR.

30.24.8403

THE SCENE CONTRASTED SHARPLY WITH THE PAGEANTRY AND COLOR OF PARIS AND NEW YORK, WHERE EARLIER MEETINGS OF THE FOREIGN MINISTERS WERE HELD.

AMONG THE ARRIVALS WERE F.T.GOUSEV AND GEN.MARK W.CLARK RUSSIAN AND AMERICAN DEPUTIES FOR AUSTRIA. THE PRESENCE OF MARSHAL VASSILY D.SOKOLOVSKY, SOVIET ADMINISTRATOR OF GERMANY, WAS A SURPRISE TO THE OTHER DELEGATIONS. THE COMMANDERS IN CHIEF OF THE OTHER COUNTRIES IN GERMANY WERE LEFT ON THE JOB THERE.

MOSCOW, MARCH 10-(AP)-SEVERAL BRITISH AND FRENCH CORRESPONDENTS GOT A BRIEF, FIRST-HAND LOOK AT THE OPENING OF THE FOREIGN MINISTERS' CONFERENCE TODAY BECAUSE OF THE LACK OF BRITISH AND FRENCH PHOTOGRAPHERS.

AN AMERICAN PRESS OFFICER OBTAINED RUSSIAN CONSENT TO SEND IN FOUR U.S. PHOTOGRAPHERS FOR THE OPENING, WITH PRIVILEGES SIMILAR TO THOSE GRANTED TO THE FRENCH AND BRITISH. THE RUSSIANS WOULD NOT PERMIT AMERICAN REPORTERS TO ATTEND, IN ADDITION TO THE FOUR PHOTOGRAPHERS.

AS THE MEETING OPENED, ALL PHOTOGRAPHERS HAD TO LEAVE DURING THE SEATING OF THE DELEGATIONS AND THE SPEECHES OF WELCOME, BUT THE REPORTERS WHO HAD NO CAMERAS (NOT IDENTIFIED IN THE CONFUSION) REMAINED FOR 15 MINUTES.

THREE MINUTES AFTER THE PRELIMINARIES WERE COMPLETED, THE PHOTOGRAPHERS WERE READMITTED AND TOOK PICTURES. THEN ALL PHOTOGRAPHERS AND CORRESPONDENTS WERE REQUIRED TO LEAVE BEFORE THE CONFERENCE GOT DOWN TO SERIOUS WORK.

THE AMERICAN PHOTOGRAPHERS REPORTED THAT, WHILE THEY WERE LIMITED TO FOUR, MORE THAN A DOZEN RUSSIAN CAMERAMEN WERE PRESENT.

MOSCOW, MARCH 10-(AP)-THE SOVIET RADIO, FACED FOR THE FIRST TIME BY A FOREIGN PRESS AND RADIO NOT WORKING UNDER CENSORSHIP, HAS HAD TO START REPORTING IN THE STRICT SENSE OF THE WORD.

BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN FORTUNATELY DID NOT COME DRESSED LIKE MOST OF HIS DELEGATION, BUT APPEARED IN A DARK, CONSERVATIVELY CUT OVERCOAT AND HOMBURG HAT -- CONFORMING TO THE GENERAL RUSSIAN IDEA OF WHAT A BRITISH DIPLOMAT LOOKS LIKE.

MANY IN THE BRITISH DELEGATION AND IN THE BRITISH CORRESPONDENTS' GROUP -- ACCUSTOMED TO CLOSE RATIONING AT HOME -- ALSO HAVE ATTRACTED ATTENTION OF RUSSIAN WAITERS BY THE HEARTY APPETITES WITH WHICH THEY ATTACK THE GENEROUS FARE OFFERED BY MOSCOW HOTELS.

SAID ONE WAITER IN THE HOTEL MOSKVA:

MINISTERS SEPARATE (300)
BY JOHN M.HIGHTOWER

MOSCOW, TUESDAY, MARCH 11-(AP)-THE POSSIBILITY THAT THE RUSSIANS ARE MANEUVERING TO SEEK JOINT AMERICAN, BRITISH AND RUSSIAN INTERVENTION IN CHINA WAS SEEN TODAY IN A WAVE OF SPECULATION OVER SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER V.M.MOLOTOV'S SENSATIONAL PROPOSAL TO PLACE THE CHINESE SITUATION ON THE FOUR POWER FOREIGN MINISTERS AGENDA.

WHATEVER WAS THE AIM OF HIS MOVE, MOLOTOV APPEARED HEADING FOR AN ULTIMATE, IF NOT IMMEDIATE CLASH WITH U.S. SECRETARY OF STATE GEORGE C.MARSHALL ON THE CHINA ISSUE, IN ADDITION TO DIFFERENCES OVER THE GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN PEACE TREATIES.

MARSHALL'S POLICY, AFTER 13 MONTHS OF FAILURE TO PRODUCE PEACE BETWEEN NATIONALIST AND COMMUNIST FORCES IN CHINA, CURRENTLY IS "HANDS OFF" AND GIVE GENERALISSIMO CHIANG KAI-SHEK AND CHINESE LIBERALS A CHANCE TO WORK OUT THEIR OWN SALVATION.

THE LAST THING THE AMERICANS AND THE BRITISH WISH, OBVIOUSLY, IS AN ACTIVE SOVIET CAMPAIGN IN THAT AREA OF THE WORLD COMPARABLE TO THE SITUATION NOW EXISTING IN MUCH OF EUROPE.

OTHERWISE, THE MINISTERS' CONFERENCE APPEARED TO BE OFF TO A GOOD START WITH QUICK AGREEMENT ON THE AGENDA AND A DECISION TO LET THE MINISTERS' DEPUTIES OF THE GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN SECTIONS PROCEED WITH THE TREATY WORK.

THE BRITISH AND AMERICANS WERE ESPECIALLY PLEASED AT THE SUCCESS OF THEIR EFFORT TO GIVE THE AUSTRIAN PACT EQUAL TREATMENT WITH THE GERMAN TREATY.

MARSHALL PROMISED HE WOULD ANSWER TODAY MOLOTOV'S PROPOSAL ON CHINA, AND MOLOTOV AGREED TO RESPOND TO THE AMERICAN'S REQUEST TO PUT ON THE AGENDA A PROPOSAL FOR THE REDUCTION OF OCCUPATION FORCES IN FORMER ENEMY COUNTRIES. THE SITUATION COULD PRODUCE SOME ELEMENT OF BARGAINING, ALTHOUGH THE UNITED STATES' POSITION ON CHINA WAS LIKELY TO BE FIRM.

THE THREE MAIN QUESTIONS RAISED BY MOLOTOV'S CHINA ACTION WERE:

1. WAS IT A MOVE FOR JOINT INTERVENTION IN CHINA?

2. WAS IT AN ATTEMPT TO EMBARRASS THE UNITED STATES OVER AMERICAN FAILURES IN CHINA, IN VIEW OF RUSSIA'S FREQUENT ATTACKS ON AMERICAN ACTION THERE?

3. WAS IT AIMED AT PRODUCING A NEW BIG POWER AGREEMENT ON CHINA?

THE AGREEMENT REACHED BY THE UNITED STATES, GREAT BRITAIN AND RUSSIA IN 1945 IN MOSCOW ON WHICH MOLOTOV BASED HIS PROPOSAL TODAY SPECIFIED THAT THE THREE "REAFFIRMED THEIR ADHERENCE TO THE POLICY OF NON-INTERFERENCE IN THE INTERNAL AFFAIRS OF CHINA."

THAT SECTION WAS THE KEY TO THE WHOLE AGREEMENT, WHICH ALSO PROMISED SOVIET AND AMERICAN TROOP WITHDRAWALS FROM CHINA.

MARSHALL HAS TAKEN THE VIEW THAT IF THERE IS ANY CHINESE DISCUSSION HERE OTHER THAN A VERY INFORMAL ONE AMONG HIMSELF, MOLOTOV AND BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN, THEN CHINA OUGHT TO BE REPRESENTED.

MOLOTOV OPPOSED THIS VIEW. WHILE MARSHALL IS STILL CONSIDERING HIS ANSWER TO MOLOTOV, HIS CLOSEST ADVISORS SAW LITTLE POSSIBILITY HE WOULD GO ALL THE WAY WITH THE RUSSIAN MINISTER.

PRIOR TO THE CONFERENCE, MARSHALL TOLD NEWSMEN HE WOULD PRESS FOR AN AGREEMENT ON BYRNES' 40-YEAR DEMILITARIZATION OF GERMANY, WHICH HAS THE SUPPORT OF BEVIN.

MARSHALL DECLINED TO SAY WHAT HE CONSIDERED THE MOST IMPORTANT QUESTIONS CONFRONTING THE BIG FOUR, BUT DECLARED "I TAKE MY TEXT FROM AGREEMENTS OF THE POTSDAM CONFERENCE AND FROM MR.BYRNES' STUTTGART SPEECH."

NANKING, MARCH 10-(AP)-THE CHINESE GOVERNMENT'S OFFICIAL CENTRAL NEWS AGENCY SAID TODAY MARTIAL LAW HAS BEEN REESTABLISHED TO PREVENT REBELLION IN FORMOSA AS CHIANG KAI-SHEK DECLARED HIS INTENTION TO MAINTAIN ORDER IN THAT NEWEST OF CHINA'S HOT SPOTS.

CHIANG BLAMED "FORMOSANS WITH COMMUNIST INCLINATIONS AND THOSE WHO SERVED WITH JAPANESE EXPEDITIONARY FORCES IN THE PACIFIC" FOR FOMENTING UNREST IN THE ISLAND. MAR 1947

SOURCES CLOSE TO CHIANG SAID THE GENERALISSIMO, IN A WEEKLY MEMORIAL SERVICE ATTENDED BY HIGH GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, DECLARED HIS INTENTION TO MAINTAIN ORDER IN FORMOSA. THEY REPORTED HE SAID HE WOULD CONSIDER FORMOSANS' DEMANDS WITHIN LIMITS OF THE CONSTITUTION.

THE FORMOSAN DELEGATION TOLD A PRESS RECEPTION: "6,000,000 FORMOSANS HAVE SWORN TO ACHIEVE THEIR AIM OF SELF-GOVERNMENT AND TO DISPOSSESS CHEN YI FROM THE GOVERNORSHIP FOR OUR SELF PRESERVATION AND SAFEGUARDING OUR PRECIOUS LIBERTY."

THE GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCED LAST WEEK THAT CHEN, PERSONALLY APPOINTED BY CHIANG, HAD BEEN REPLACED.

A GOVERNMENT SPOKESMAN ANNOUNCED THAT CHIANG HAD DISPATCHED GEN.LIU YU-CHING, COMMANDER OF THE 21ST REORGANIZED DIVISION, AND A HIGH STAFF OFFICER OF THE MINISTRY OF NATIONAL DEFENSE TO FORMOSA IN THE PRESIDENTIAL PLANE. LIU'S TROOPS ARE SHIPPING TO FORMOSA FROM SHANGHAI.

THE FORMOSAN DELEGATION SAID IT WOULD PRESENT 32 DEMANDS TO THE CHINESE GOVERNMENT, INCLUDING:

1-IMMEDIATE SELF GOVERNMENT.

2-SEVERE PUNISHMENT FOR CHEN AND THE CHINESE SOLDIERS WHO FIRED ON FORMOSANS DURING THE FEB.28 RIOT. CHEN WAS ACCUSED IN A WRITTEN STATEMENT OF "COPYING JAPANESE METHODS IN RULING FORMOSA," INTERFERING WITH JUSTICE AND VIOLATING FREEDOM OF THE PRESS.

7-ABOLISH GOVERNMENT MONOPOLIES.

MAR 1947

4-RECOMPENSE VICTIMS OF THE RIOTING AND GUARANTEE AGAINST SIMILAR INCIDENTS.

THE DELEGATION SAID PREVIOUS APPEALS TO NANKING HAD PROVED FUTILE.

NANKING, MARCH 10-(AP)-CHIANG KAI-SHEK, ALREADY SORELY TROUBLED BY CIVIL WAR AND A NATIONAL ECONOMIC CRISIS, TODAY DECLARED HIS INTENTION TO MAINTAIN ORDER IN FORMOSA, WHERE AN UPRISING AGAINST HIS ADMINISTRATOR TOOK 500 LIVES.

FOREIGN OBSERVERS PREDICTED ARMED SUPPRESSION OF THE DISORDERS WOULD BE UNAVOIDABLE IF THE SITUATION WORSENED. THE FORMOSANS, WHO PASSED FROM 50 YEARS OF DOMINATION BY JAPAN TO CHINESE ADMINISTRATION AT WAR'S END, CHARGED MALADMINISTRATION BY CHIANG'S PERSONAL APPOINTEE, CHEN YI. CHIANG REPPLACED THE ADMINISTRATOR, BUT THE PROTESTS CONTINUED.

INFORMED SOURCES SAID CHIANG TODAY TOLD A MEETING OF HIS GOVERNMENT THAT HE WOULD CONSIDER FORMOSANS' DEMANDS WITHIN LIMITS OF THE CONSTITUTION.

CHINESE PRESS DISPATCHES SAID THE FORMOSANS, CONTINUING TO RESIST CHINESE RULE, QUIETLY HAD TAKEN OVER TWO DISTRICT GOVERNMENTS. UNCONFIRMED REPORTS SAID THE DISORDERS FLARED ANEW YESTERDAY WITH GREAT VIOLENCE. THERE WERE NO DETAILS.

INFORMED SOURCES HERE SAID THE DISORDERS INDICATED THE FORMOSANS' DISCONTENT EXCEEDED MERE DISSATISFACTION WITH THE GOVERNMENT'S ECONOMIC MEASURES AND ADMINISTRATIVE POLICIES. THEY SAID IMPORTANT OFFICIALS HAD BEEN SENT TO INVESTIGATE. OTHER SOURCES SAID ONE CHINESE DIVISION AND SEVEN BRIGADES HAD BEEN STARTED FOR THE ISLAND.

MEANTIME, TSINGTAO BARRED ITS GATES TO 10,000 CIVIL WAR REFUGEES AND POLICE SCREENED 6,000 URBAN RESIDENTS IN A HUNT FOR COMMUNIST SPIES. THE CITY IS THE GOAL OF A STRONG COMMUNIST DRIVE IN SHANTUNG PROVINCE. GOVERNMENT REINFORCEMENTS WERE RUSHED TO THE FRONT.

THE CHINESE PRESS SAID 60,000 COMMUNISTS ATTACKED KIAOHSIEN, ONLY 27 MILES FROM TSINGTAO, BUT WERE REPULSED.

THE U.S. NAVAL COMMAND AT TSINGTAO SHOWED NO ALARN, HOWEVER, AND ADM.CHARLES M.COOKE,JR., COMMANDER OF THE WESTERN PACIFIC FLEET, SAID HIS FORCES WERE TAKING NO SPECIAL PRECAUTIONS.

DISPATCHES FROM MANCHURIA SAID GOVERNMENT TROOPS PUSHED BEYOND THEIR SUNGARI RIVER BRIDGEHEAD NEAR TAOLAICHAO AND WERE FIGHTING AT WUKESHU, 80 MILES NORTHEAST OF CHANGCHUN.

IN YENAN, CHOU EN-LAI, THE NO.2 CHINESE COMMUNIST, TOLD FOREIGN CORRESPONDENTS THAT AMERICAN POLICY IN CHINA HAS GONE "FROM BAD TO WORSE." HE DECLARED THAT UNITED STATES SUPPORT ALONE WAS KEEPING CHIANG KAI-SHEK'S GOVERNMENT IN POWER, AND THAT AMERICAN WITHHOLDING OF A CONDITIONALLY PROMISED $500,000,000 LOAN TO CHIANG UNTIL CHINESE UNITY COULD BE ACHIEVED WAS ONLY A PRETENSE. OTHER AID, SAID CHOU, WILL EXCEED THE AMOUNT OF THE WITHHELD LOAN.

MEANWHILE, WITHDRAWAL OF U.S. FORCES IN CHINA -- WHOSE PRESENCE THE COMMUNISTS HAD PROTESTED FOR SO LONG -- CONTINUED. EIGHT PLANES CARRYING 94 ENLISTED MEN, FORMERLY OF TRUCE HEADQUARTERS, AND THEIR DEPENDENTS WERE SCHEDULED TO LEAVE PEIPING TODAY FOR SHANGHAI, WHERE THE GROUP IS TO BOARD A TRANSPORT FOR HOME.

PEIPING,TUESDAY,MARCH 11-(AP)-AN AMERICAN WOMAN CONFINED BY COMMUNISTS FOR 70 DAYS IN SINGTAI, NORTH CHINA--BUT NOT ILL-TREATED--WAS AMONG 23 MISSIONARIES EVACUATED TO PEIPING TODAY BY THREE U.S. ARMY PLANES. SHE WAS MRS.LILLIAN JENNESS, CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

THE GROUP WAS BROUGHT BY AIR FROM SHIHKIACHWANG (SHIHCHIACHUANG), 170 MILES SOUTHWEST OF PEIPING AND ABOUT 70 MILES NORTH OF SINGTAI, STILL HELD BY COMMUNISTS. THE MAJORITY WERE ROMAN CATHOLICS, HEADED BY POLISH BISHOP IGNACIOUS DRAUSE.

BISHOP DRAUSE TOLD CORRESPONDENTS THAT HE AND 13 POLISH AND CHINESE PRIESTS AND NUNS WERE PUNISHED BY BEATINGS AND FACE-SLAPPINGS AT "MASS TRIALS" IN SINGTAI LAST DECEMBER.

MRS.JENNESS SAID SHE ALSO WAS ACCUSED OF VARIOUS "CRIMES" BY COMMUNISTS, BUT THAT SHE SUFFERED NO ILL TREATMENT AND WAS GUARANTEED THE PROTECTION OF THE COMMUNIST GOVERNMENT IF SHE HAD CHOSEN TO REMAIN. SHE HAD BEEN A MISSIONARY IN SINGTAI 30 YEARS.

THE 51-YEAR-OLD, GRAY-BEARDED BISHOP DRAUSE TOLD THIS STORY:

CATHOLICS HAD BEEN FORCED TO APPEAR ON CHARGES OF COLLABORATING WITH JAPANESE, WITH FAILING TO CARE FOR POOR AT THE MISSION HOSPITAL, WITH CUTTING OUT HEARTS AND EYES OF LIVING PATIENTS, AND SIMILAR ACCUSATIONS. ALL WERE DENIED, BUT THE CATHOLICS WERE BEATEN WITH STICKS, STONES AND ROPES.

"I HAD A FEELING THE COMMUNISTS FELT THE CATHOLIC CHURCH WAS A RIVAL IN MORAL INFLUENCE OVER THE PEOPLE," THE BISHOP OBSERVED.

TWO SISTERS SUFFERED BLACK EYES AND BROKEN NOSES FROM THE BEATINGS. THE BISHOP AND FATHER CASIMIR SKOWYRA WERE THE LAST TO BE RELEASED FROM CONFINEMENT; THEY WERE CARRIED PART WAY TO SHIHKIACHWANG ON FEB. 20, AND FREED.

SKOWYRA, HE RELATED, HAD BEEN HUNG BY HIS THUMBS FOR A HALF-HOUR AS HIS CAPTORS SOUGHT TO FIND HIDDEN MISSION FUNDS.

HE DECLINED TO SAY IN ANSWER TO A QUESTION WHETHER FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER GEORGES BIDAULT, WHOM HE SAW FOR 45 MINUTES THIS MORNING, AND BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN, WHOM HE SAW YESTERDAY, HAD PROMISED THEIR SUPPORT.

BOTH BIDAULT AND BEVIN VISITED MARSHALL AT SPASSO HOUSE, HOME OF THE U.S. AMBASSADOR. THE FRENCH AND BRITISH LEADERS ALSO HAVE VISITED SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER V.M. MOLOTOV.

MARSHALL SAID HE EXPECTED TO SEE MOLOTOV PRIOR TO THE OPENING OF THE CONFERENCE THIS AFTERNOON.

FOUR TANKERS, NINE DESTROYERS AND A SUBMARINE OF THE NAVY'S FIRST TASK FLEET, PLAYING THE PART OF AN AGGRESSOR, ALSO WERE RATED AS SUNK BY THE SURPRISE ONSLAUGHT OF ISLAND-BASED AIR POWER COMMANDED BY CAPT. PAUL H.RAMSEY OF SPRINGFIELD, OHIO.

DEFENSIVE RECONNAISSANCE PLANES HAD THE FLEET UNDER OBSERVATION AT DAWN AND REPORTED WHEN THE FIRST OF THE CARRIERS' TWO WAVES OF 106 PLANES STARTED TAKING TO THE AIR TO "RAID PEARL HARBOR."

AT 7 A.M., NINE TORPEDO PLANES FOUND THE CARRIERS AND OTHER SHIPS, WHILE DEFENSIVE FIGHTERS ENGAGED THE AGGRESSOR'S AIRBORNE PLANES IN "BATTLE."

COL.R.A.GRISENDORF, COMMANDING THE SEVENTH FIGHTER WING, WHO COORDINATED THE AIR COVER, SAID ALL INCOMING ENEMY PLANE GROUPS WERE INTERCEPTED BEFORE REACHING OAHU AND WERE "THOROUGHLY CHEWED UP."

TIME FROM THE TAKEOFF AT LAOAG, NORTHERN LUZON, TO ACTUAL LANDING AT YONTAN FIELD, OKINAWA, WAS 1 HOUR, 41 MINUTES FOR THE FIRST GROUP OF FOUR PLANES AND 1 HOUR, 44 MINUTES FOR THE SECOND.

THIRTEENTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS SAID THIS WAS BETTER THAN THE 1 HOUR, 40-MINUTE FLIGHT OF FOUR P-80S JAN.24, SINCE THAT FLIGHT WAS TIMED WHEN IT ARRIVED OVER THE FIELD RATHER THAN WHEN IT LANDED.

LEADING TODAY'S FLIGHTS WERE COL.HOMER A.BOUSHEY OF BURLINGAME, CALIF., AND MAJ.WILLIAM S.HARRELL OF CANBY, MINN., WHO ALSO LED THE JANUARY JAUNT.

COL.HOMER A.BOUSHEY, BURLINGAME,CALIF., COMMANDED TODAY'S FASTER FLIGHT AND MAJ.WILLIAM S.HARRELL, CANBY,MINN., LED THE OTHER. BOTH ALSO PARTICIPATED IN THE JAN.24 FLIGHT.

MANILA, MARCH 10-(AP)-GOVERNMENT ORATORS HEADED FOR THE ROSTRUM TONIGHT FOR THEIR FINAL, ELECTION-EVE APPEALS FOR FILIPINO APPROVAL OF EQUAL RIGHTS FOR AMERICAN INVESTORS. THE LAST-DITCH OPPOSITION OPENLY CHARGED THAT GENERAL MACARTHUR'S WARTIME RETURN WAS "THREE AND A HALF YEARS LATE," AND THAT THE NEW REPUBLIC OWES AMERICA NO SPECIAL CONSIDERATION.

PRESIDENT MANUEL A.ROXAS HAS STAKED HIS POLITICAL CAREER UPON A VOTE OF APPROVAL AND IS CONFIDENT OF AN OVERWHELMING VICTORY.

THE ISSUE IS IN THE FORM OF A CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT GRANTING AMERICANS EQUALITY OF BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES WITH FILIPINOS FOR 28 YEARS. APPROVAL BY FILIPINO VOTERS WOULD MAKE AVAILABLE $620,000,000 (M) IN AMERICAN FUNDS FOR REHABILITATION AND PAYMENT OF WAR-DAMAGE

CLAIMS. SOME 3,116,000 ARE ELIGIBLE TO VOTE.

ROXAS' PRINCIPAL OPPONENT AS THE CAMPAIGN DREW TO ITS CLOSE WAS DR. JOSE P.LAUREL, WAR-TIME PUPPET PRESIDENT CHARGED WITH COLLABORATION.

LAUREL CONTENDED THAT AMERICAN AID TO THE PHILIPPINES WAS A MORAL OBLIGATION AND SHOULD NOT DEPEND UPON APPROVAL OF CONCESSIONS FOR U.S. INVESTORS. HE CITED PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S COMMENT THAT GENERAL WAINWRIGHT, WHO SURRENDERED AT CORREGIDOR, WAS THE VICTIM OF "AMERICAN UNPREPAREDNESS", AND RECALLED GENERAL MACARTHUR'S STATEMENT AS LIBERATION FORCES REACHED SANTO TOMAS PRISON CAMP: "I MAY BE LATE, BUT I HAVE RETURNED."

SAID LAUREL: "HE WAS LATE -- THREE AND A HALF YEARS LATE."

LAUREL PROPOSED SEEKING FINANCIAL AID FROM THE INTERNATIONAL BANK OF RECONSTRUCTION AND DEVELOPMENT.

ROXAS CAMPAIGNED VIGOROUSLY FROM ISLAND TO ISLAND FOR THE PARITY AMENDMENT, DECLARING THAT WITHOUT ITS ACCOMPANYING PROVISIONS FOR FREE TRADE, RHABILITATION FUNDS AND STABILIZATION OF THE PESO, THE NEW REPUBLIC WOULD BE DOOMED TO ECONOMIC CHAOS.

NEGOTIATIONS FOR THE LEASE OF MILITARY BASES IN THE ISLANDS FOR 99 YEARS, TO THE U.S. ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE, MEANWHILE WERE VIRTUALLY COMPLETED BUT REMAINED IN ABEYANCE UNTIL AFTER THE ELECTION.

NIGHT LEAD FOREIGN

BY WILLIAM R.SPEAR

WASHINGTON,MARCH 10-(AP)-PRESIDENT TRUMAN WILL TELL A JOINT SESSION OF CONGRESS WEDNESDAY EXACTLY WHAT HE PROPOSES THE UNITED STATES SHOULD DO IN THE MIDDLE EAST, WHERE COMMUNISM SEEKS TO EXPAND.

HE WILL OUTLINE "THE WHOLE SITUATION," INCLUDING PLANS FOR AID TO GREECE AND PERHAPS TURKEY.

30.24-8409

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE HISTORIC ADDRESS WERE MADE TODAY AS MR.TRUMAN GAVE KEY REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS OF CONGRESS, IN SECRET, A FINAL BRIEFING IN ADVANCE TO ENLIST THEIR SUPPORT.

HIS MESSAGE TO THE JOINT SESSION (SENATE AND HOUSE TOGETHER) AT 1 P.M.(EST) WEDNESDAY WILL BE THE FIRST PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT OF ADMINISTRATION POLICY IN THE MEDITERRANEAN AND BALKANS SINCE THE BRITISH GAVE NOTICE THEY MUST RETRENCH.

FOR GREECE, THE PRESIDENT IS EXPECTED TO RECOMMEND A $250,000,000 LOAN TO BOLSTER THE GOVERNMENT AND SURPLUS AMERICAN ARMS AND MILITARY SUPPLIES NOW IN GERMANY TO HELP GREEK TROOPS FIGHT COMMUNIST-TRAINED GUERILLAS. GREECE HAS ASKED FOR U.S.HELP.

FOR TURKEY, WHICH HAS NOT SIMILARLY REQUESTED AID, MR.TRUMAN MAY PROPOSE AN OFFER OF A LOAN IF NEEDED. ONE LEGISLATOR SAID A POSSIBLE $100,000,000 LOAN HAS BEEN MENTIONED, WHICH COULD BE USED IN PART TO BUY SURPLUS AMERICAN MILITARY GOODS NOW IN EUROPE.

SOME HOUSE MEMBERS PREDICTED THE PRESIDENT WILL ASK FOR AUTHORITY TO PROVIDE FINANCIAL AND MILITARY SUPPORT ALSO FOR ITALY.

ONE, WHO WAS NOT AT THE CONFERENCE, SAID HE UNDERSTOOD AUTHORITY WOULD BE SOUGHT TO SEND AMERICAN OFFICERS TO TRAIN GREEK, TURKISH AND ITALIAN TROOPS.

CONGRESS, BY ITS ACTION ON THE RECOMMENDATIONS, CAN TELL THE ADMINISTRATION WHETHER TO GO AHEAD ALL-OUT, PARTIALLY, OR NOT AT ALL.

THE DEBATE, IN ITS IMPACT ON THE FUTURE, MAY RANK IN IMPORTANCE WITH THAT ON THE NEUTRALITY ACT AND LEND-LEASE BEFORE AMERICAN ENTRY INTO WORLD WAR II. IT STARTED ACTUALLY LAST WEEK, ON THE BASIS OF WHAT HAD BECOME KNOWN ON THE ADMINISTRATION POLICY, AND CONTINUED TODAY.

A205WX

SAMPLES FROM THE HOUSE:

REP.MERROW (R-NH) - "BY GIVING AID TO GREECE AND TURKEY WE WILL HELP GUARANTEE THE SECURITY OF THE UNITED STATES. GREEK COMMUNISTS, TRAINED IN YUGOSLAVIA AND OTHER BALKAN STATES, TAKE THEIR ORDERS FROM MOSCOW. IF WE DO NOT ASSIST GREECE THEY WILL SEIZE CONTROL OF THE NATION. IF THIS IS ALLOWED TO HAPPEN, SOVIET INFLUENCE WILL RISE RAPIDLY IN TURKEY AND IN THE MIDDLE EAST. THERE MUST BE NO DIPLOMATIC APPEASEMENT."

REP.HOFFMAN (R-MICH) - "LET'S TAKE CARE OF THE VETERANS OF THE LAST WAR BEFORE WE GET INTO ANOTHER WAR AND CREATE ANOTHER CROP OF VETERANS, BY INTERFERING IN TURKEY AND OTHER PLACES."

MR.TRUMAN WAS SAID TO HAVE EMPHASIZED TO THE CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS THAT HE AND HIS ADMINISTRATION SEE THE PROSPECTIVE AMERICAN MOVE IN GREECE AS SERVING WORLD PEACE AND THE UNITED STATES PRIMARILY, AND BRITAIN ONLY SECONDARILY.

THE WORD THAT "THE WHOLE SITUATION" WILL BE COVERED IN THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS CAME FROM SENATOR VANDENBERG (R-MICH), CHAIRMAN OF THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE, AFTER THE WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE LASTING AN HOUR AND 20 MINUTES.

"THE PRESIDENT HAS DISCUSSED WITH US IN GREAT CANDOR THE SITUATION INVOLVED IN CONNECTION WITH THE PROPOSED GREEK LOAN," VANDENBERG TOLD NEWSMEN. "HE WILL COME TO CONGRESS WEDNESDAY TO A JOINT SESSION OF THE HOUSE AND SENATE TO DISCUSS THE WHOLE SITUATION."

THE ANNOUNCEMENT FROM CHARLES G.ROSS, PRESIDENTIAL SECRETARY, WAS: "THE PRESIDENT IS GOING BEFORE A JOINT SESSION AT 1 P.M. WEDNESDAY. HE WILL ADDRESS THE JOINT SESSION ON THE SITUATION IN THE NEAR EAST."

PROSPECTIVE COMMUNIST EXPANSION IN THE WHOLE MEDITERRANEAN AREA IS TIED UP WITH THE GREEK SITUATION. FOR THAT REASON THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS WILL NOT BE CONFINED TO GREEK AID ALONE.

FOR THAT REASON, TOO, SOME CONGRESSMEN IN ADVANCE COMMENTS URGED THAT MR.TRUMAN DISCUSS THE WHOLE STORY.

SENATOR MCMAHON (D-CONN) TOLD A REPORTER HE WILL NOT BE PREPARED TO PASS UPON A GREEK LOAN "UNTIL WE KNOW WHAT OUR OVERALL COMMITMENTS ARE GOING TO BE."

A206WX

SENATOR WHERRY (R-NEB), THE REPUBLICAN WHIP, COMMENTED THAT "THIS IS A POLITICAL LOAN AND CONGRESS SHOULD KNOW THE WHOLE PICTURE."

SENATOR TAFT (R-OHIO), ONE OF THOSE WHO CONFERRED AT THE WHITE HOUSE, SAID THAT GREECE HAS DRAWN ONLY $10,000,000 OF AN EARLIER $25,000,000 LOAN AND THAT "THIS NEW LOAN IS A SUDDEN CHANGE OF FRONT."

SENATOR MAYBANK (D-SC) SAID HE IS "AFRAID A $250,000,000 LOAN IS ONLY A STARTER. WE ALL KNOW IF WE GO IN THERE, MUCH HIGHER STAKES ARE LIKELY TO BE NEEDED."

THE ADMINISTRATION'S POLICY OF HELPING FRIENDLY NATIONS TO THE EXCLUSION OF THOSE NOT-SO-FRIENDLY HAD A CONCRETE APPLICATION IN THE BALKANS TODAY.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT COLD-SHOULDERED A REQUEST FROM YUGOSLAVIA TO BUY AMERICAN GRAIN UNLESS THE TITO GOVERNMENT CAN SHOW "CLEAR EVIDENCE THAT A REAL NEED NOW EXISTS." OFFICIALS NOTED THAT YUGOSLAVIA WAS ABLE TO SHIP GRAIN TO ROMANIA LAST FALL JUST BEFORE NATIONAL ELECTIONS THERE WHICH SUPPORTED COMMUNIST CANDIDATES.

PALM SPRINGS,CALIF.,MARCH 10-(AP)-KOREA, SAYS DR. GRACE SONG LINE, COULD EASILY BECOME THE SPRINGBOARD FOR RUSSIAN EXPLOITATION OF THE FAR EAST, MUCH IN THE SAME MANNER AS JAPAN USED KOREAN RESOURCES AND FACILITIES DURING THE LAST WAR.

DR. LINE, 40-YEAR-OLD KOREAN-BORN FACULTY MEMBER OF MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE, VACATIONING AT HER WINTER HOME HERE, DECLARED IN AN INTERVIEW THAT HER HOMELAND AND ALL OF ASIA ARE IN JEOPARDY IF THE U. LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 10-(AP)-UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS WAS INFORMED TODAY THAT ALBANIA HAD REJECTED FINAL EFFORTS OF THE U.N. PRESS DIVISION TO OBTAIN AN ALBANIAN ENTRY VISA FOR L.S. CHAKALES, CHIEF OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BUREAU IN ATHENS.

CHAKALES, ONE OF MORE THAN A DOZEN CORRESPONDENTS ACCOMPANYING THE U.N. SECURITY COUNCIL'S BALKAN INQUIRY COMMISSION, WAS TOLD BY AN ALBANIAN REPRESENTATIVE IN GREECE SATURDAY THAT IF PERMISSION FOR HIS ENTRY DID NOT COME THROUGH FROM TIRANA WITHIN 24 HOURS HE WOULD BE FINALLY BARRED.

THE ALBANIAN LIAISON OFFICER WITH THE COMMISSION REPORTED ON SUNDAY THAT PERMISSION HAD NOT BEEN RECEIVED.

THE REGIME OF COL.-GEN.ENVER HOXHA HAD COMPLAINED AGAINST DISPATCHES CHAKALES FILED FROM ALBANIA IN DECEMBER, 1945, ON THE SINGLE-PARTY ELECTION STAGED BY A "NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC FRONT" TO SET UP THE ALBANIAN PEOPLES REPUBLIC HEADED BY HOXHA.

CHAKALES, AN AMERICAN-BORN CITIZEN OF THE UNITED STATES, AT THAT TIME REPORTED THE ACTIVITIES OF THE OPPOSITION, WHICH HAD BEEN DRIVEN UNDERGROUND, AS WELL AS THE ELECTION RETURNS.

THE REFUSAL OF ENTRY FOR CHAKALES INTO ALBANIA WAS CONFIRMED IN A CABLE FROM STANLEY RYAN, U.N. PRESS OFFICER WITH THE INVESTIGATING COMMISSION. CHAKALES HAS BEEN GRANTED PERMISSION TO ENTER YUGOSLAVIA AND BULGARIA, AND HAS ACCOMPANIED THE COMMISSION ON ITS TOURS IN GREECE. THE SCOPE OF INQUIRY RISING FROM A GREEK COMPLAINT TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL INCLUDES THE GREEK, ALBANIAN, BULGARIAN AND YUGOSLAV FRONTIER AREAS.

THE HOXHA GOVERNMENT, SUPPORTED BY SOVIET RUSSIA, WAS DENIED MEMBERSHIP IN THE UNITED NATIONS LATE LAST SUMMER WHEN IT FAILED TO MUSTER A MAJORITY VOTE OF APPROVAL IN THE SECURITY COUNCIL.

NIGHT LEAD U.N.

BY FRANCIS W.CARPENTER

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 10-(AP)-THE UNITED STATES TURNED DOWN COMPLETELY TODAY SOVIET RUSSIA'S PROPOSALS FOR ATOMIC CONTROL, DECLARING THEY WERE NOT CONSTRUCTIVE, MIGHT EVEN LEAD TO WAR AND LACKED THE MINIMUM SECURITY NEEDS THIS COUNTRY HAS DEMANDED.

"THEY DO NOT PROVIDE FOR AN INTERNATIONAL SYSTEM OF CONTROL OF ATOMIC ENERGY AT ALL," WARREN R.AUSTIN, CHIEF U.S. DELEGATE, TOLD THE UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL IN A DRAMATIC SESSION BEFORE A CROWDED CHAMBER.

"THEY PROVIDE FOR A SYSTEM WHICH AT BEST WOULD GIVE NO SECURITY AND AT WORST WOULD BE A CONSTANT INCENTIVE TO DISTRUST AND WAR," HE SAID.

AUSTIN, WITH CONSIDERABLE SPIRIT, DENIED ALLEGATIONS BY SOVIET DELEGATE ANDREI A.GROMYKO THAT THIS COUNTRY IS SEEKING TO KEEP A WORLD MONOPOLY ON ATOMIC ENERGY.

AUSTIN CAPPED HIS 20-MINUTE SPEECH WITH AN ASSERTION THAT THE UNITED STATES MADE CLEAR THAT IT WELCOMED ALL CONSTRUCTIVE SUGGESTIONS BUT FELT THE SOVIET PROPOSALS "DO NOT XXX CONTAIN CONSTRUCTIVE SUGGESTIONS."

"WHILE PROCLAIMING THEMSELVES INTERNATIONAL AND WHILE ALLEGING A CERTAIN SECURITY AGAINST ATOMIC WARFARE, THEY DO NOT SATISFY ANY OF THE CONDITIONS WHICH ARE MINIMAL AND ESSENTIAL FOR SUCH SECURITY," AUSTIN SAID.

ALEXANDRE PARODI OF FRANCE AND DR. QUO TAI-CHI OF CHINA EXPRESSED DISAPPOINTMENT OVER THE "NEGATIVE CHARACTER" OF GROMYKO'S 78-MINUTE SPEECH LAST WEDNESDAY IN WHICH THE RUSSIAN CHARGED THAT THE UNITED STATES PROPOSALS FOR AN INTERNATIONAL AUTHORITY CONTROLLING ATOMIC MATTERS EVERYWHERE WAS AN ATTACK ON THE INDEPENDENCE OF OTHER COUNTRIES.

FERNAND VAN LANGENHOVE OF BELGIUM LINED HIS COUNTRY UP WITH THE UNITED STATES PLAN OFFICIALLY FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE BELGIUM TOOK A SEAT ON THE SECURITY COUNCIL JAN. 1. DR. EDUARDO ZULETA ANGEL OF COLOMBIA AND PAUL HASLUCK OF AUSTRALIA ALSO SUPPORTED THE UNITED STATES.

AUSTIN WORKED DURING THE WEEKEND ON HIS REPLY TO GROMYKO, WRITING IT HIMSELF IN LONG-HAND AFTER CONSIDERABLE RESEARCH. HE BEGAN HIS COUNTER-ATTACK BY PRESENTING A REVISED RESOLUTION WHICH WOULD SEND THE WHOLE ATOMIC PROBLEM BACK TO THE U.N. ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION FOR ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO DRAFT A TREATY OR CONVENTION.

A32UN

THIS RESOLUTION CALLED FOR A SECOND ATOMIC COMMISSION REPORT BEFORE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY MEETS NEXT SEPTEMBER. THE FIRST REPORT, NOW BEFORE THE COUNCIL, WAS BASED MAINLY ON THE UNITED STATES PLAN FOR CONTROL, WHICH ENVISIONED AN ATOMIC DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY WITH FULL POWER OVER ATOMIC MATTERS EVERYWHERE AND NO VETO ON ATOMIC PUNISHMENTS.

30.24-8411

GROMYKO'S ATOMIC PROPOSALS CALL FOR A CONVENTION OUTLAWING ATOMIC BOMBS NOW AND ANOTHER CONVENTION, TO BE WORKED OUT AS RAPIDLY AS POSSIBLE, SETTING UP CONTROLS OPERATING WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF THE SECURITY COUNCIL, WHERE THE FIVE GREAT POWERS HOLD THE VETO.

AUSTIN MET GROMYKO'S CHARGES OF MONOPOLY WITH SIX INSTANCES IN WHICH THE UNITED STATES HAS TAKEN THE INITIATIVE OR HAS PARTICIPATED IN MOVES DESIGNED TO SHARE THE ATOMIC SECRETS WITH THE WORLD AND ASKED:

"DOES THIS SOUND LIKE A POLICY OF DEVELOPMENT OF A CARTEL OR INTERNATIONAL MONOPOLY?"

"THE OBJECTIONS OF THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT TO THE COMMISSION REPORT (OF DEC. 31, WHICH CONTAINED THE UNITED STATES PLAN AS A BASE) TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL DEAL NOT ONLY WITH THE DIFFICULT QUESTION OF THE CERTAINTY OF SANCTIONS, NOT ONLY WITH THE DIFFICULT QUESTION OF THE SEQUENCE OF STEPS BY WHICH INTERNATIONAL CONTROL MAY BE ESTABLISHED, NOT ONLY WITH THE RELIANCE WHICH MAY BE PLACED ON A PURELY CONVENTIONAL APPROACH TO THE PROHIBITION OF ATOMIC WEAPONS," AUSTIN SAID. "THEY DENY THE NECESSITY, IF SECURITY IS TO BE ACHIEVED, FOR AN INTERNATIONAL COOPERATIVE DEVELOPMENT IN THE FIELD OF ATOMIC ENERGY. THEY GO TO THE VERY ROOT OF THE PROBLEM. THEY ATTACK THE PROPOSED INTERNATIONAL AGENCY ON THE GROUND THAT IT WOULD BE A UNITED STATES MONOPOLY.

Molotov Withdraws Proposed Addition To Big 4 Agenda

MAR 1947

JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Moscow, March 11 (AP)—The United States, France and Britain today blocked, at least temporarily, Soviet Russia's proposal to place a discussion of China on the agenda of the four-power Council of Foreign Ministers.

A conference spokesman said the three Western powers pressed, during a session of more than three hours, and finally won the point that nothing should be done concerning the Soviet proposal without China's being represented here.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had asked that the United States, Britain and Russia exchange information on China, saying the situation had not improved since the Foreign Ministers' meeting in Moscow in December, 1945.

[China's Foreign Minister, Wang Shih-chieh, meanwhile issued a formal statement in Nanking announcing that his nation "will not in any manner agree to the inclusion of its problems" in the agenda.]

Asked Informal Parley

In an attempt to save his proposal, Molotov suggested that the ministers meet informally and then put out a communiqué since this question was of such "great importance to public opinion."

Bevin opposed issuing any communique on the subject. He said his country was willing only to exchange information on it.

Bevin added that he doubted the propriety of Molotov's suggestion under the circumstances. Both Marshall and Bidault supported Bevin's stand.

Bevin said that even the present discussion of China around the conference table "must be embarrassing to China" and he asked Molotov outright to withdraw the proposal.

Molotov Agrees

Molotov then agreed to go on to the next subject.

An official spokesman said that it appeared that the Foreign Ministers might exchange information on an informal basis, but added that nothing official would be done without China being represented at the conference table.

Marshall, chairman of today's conference, then renewed his proposal of yesterday that the conference put on the agenda the question of limiting occupation troops in Europe.

Asks More Time

Molotov, as yesterday, requested more time to consider the proposal. The question was "held in suspense."

The Ministers decided to hear a report of the inter-Allied reparations mission, which Molotov suggested be included on the agenda. Bevin, however, suggested that it be considered with the whole question of reparations and this was adopted.

The four then took up the Allied Control Council's report on Germany, dealing first with demilitarization.

"9,000 In U.S. Zone"

Molotov opened this discussion by repeating many charges made by Soviet newspapers during the last few months to the effect that the Western powers had failed to demilitarize their zones and were keeping German troops in military formations, contrary to the Potsdam Agreement.

The Russain Foreign Minister asserted that the British had 81,350 of the German armed forces in formation in their zone and that the Americans had 9,000.

"Except in obvious cases, the elimination of the war potential in the West has barely started," Molotov said.

NEW RIFT DEVELOPS

Debate on Demilitarization of German Zones Brings Accusations.

WFS CALLAGHER

MOSCOW, March 11 — (AP) Secretary of State George C. Marshall won his first diplomatic triumph in the foreign ministers council tonight when the United States, Britain and France put up a solid front and blocked a Russian proposal to place the complex China question on the agenda.

A conference official said the three western representatives, opposing a suggestion by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, insisted that China must be present if Chinese affairs were discussed in the council, and Molotov finally withdrew his proposal.

Split Over Germany Issue

The four foreign ministers then split wide open when they tackled the first and least controversial problem of Germany, the question of demilitarization, informants disclosed.

Molotov hurled a broadside of accusations that the western nations had failed to demilitarize their occupation zones, and were keeping German troops in military formations, contrary to the Potsdam agreement.

Repeating many accusations which have appeared in the Russian press during the last few months, Molotov asserted that "except in obvious cases the elimination of the war potential in the west has hardly started."

Ernest Bevin, British foreign secretary, answered Molotov bluntly that the charges were "unjustified," and said they reminded him of "an old lady watching a parade in which one man was out of step and then observed they are all out of step except Johnnie."

3024 — 8413

Bevin Drops Bombshell

Bevin then let loose a diplomatic bombshell of his own, saying that while the ministers were on the subject of demilitarization "it might be useful" to know the number of prisoners of war held outside Germany," the informant said.

"Then we will be able to see the situation as a whole, inside and outside of Germany," Bevin was quoted as adding.

Russia never has revealed how many prisoners of war she is holding in her homeland. All previous questions on this subject have been rebuffed.

After handing the Russian minister his initial defeat on the China question, the western representatives then blocked, at least for the time being, another Soviet proposal that the "Big Four" ministers discuss China informally and issue a communique on the subject.

Molotov insisted that such a communique should be put out since the question was of such "great importance to public opinion."

Bevin said he would think over the communique suggestion, but that he did not believe it was proper under the circumstances. Marshall and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France supported Bevin.

Would Exchange Information

Marshall issued a formal statement saying that he would be "pleased" to exchange information with Molotov and Bevin on the subject of China, and Bevin indicated that his country was willing to do likewise.

Marshall's statement said a three-power declaration on China made in December, 1945 "was not a decision of the council of foreign ministers, but of the foreign secretaries of the Soviet Union, the United Kingdom and the United States."

"The Moscow declaration confined itself to a statement of attitude of the three powers regarding China, particularly the attitude of two of the powers (Russia and the United States) in respect to their troops in China," the statement continued. "I shall be pleased to exchange with Mr. Molotov and Mr. Bevin while I am in Moscow—but not at the conference of foreign ministers—information concerning any provisions of the Moscow declaration."

Marshall added that he believed it would be "impossible" to place the Chinese question on the agenda "without China, as a member of the council, being present and participating in the determination of the agenda as well as in any subsequent discussion."

Bevin, asking Molotov to withdraw his proposal, said that even the present discussion of China around the conference table "must be embarrassing" to the Chinese.

(China's foreign minister Wang Shih-chieh issued a formal statement in Nanking that his country would not "agree to inclusion of its problems in the agenda of the foreign ministers conference.")

Marshall Presides

Marshall presided over today's meeting—the second in the Moscow conference to decide the future of Germany and Austria.

Switching the discussion away from China, the United States diplomat reiterated his request of yesterday that the question of limiting occupation troops in Europe be placed on the agenda.

Molotov, who asked yesterday for 24 hours to consider the proposal, requested still further delay, and Marshall ruled the matter "held in suspense," the informant said.

On Bevin's suggestion, the ministers agreed to include, along with the whole question of reparations, a report by the inter-allied reparations mission in Brussels. Then they started consideration of the demilitarization section of a 700-page report on Germany by the four-power allied control council.

Marshall Issues Communique.

Tonight Marshall issued the following communique:

"The Three-Power declaration regarding China, made at Moscow in December, 1945, was not a decision of the Council of Foreign Ministers, but of the Foreign Secretaries of the Soviet Union, the United Kingdom and the United States. It would be improper, in my opinion, to put upon the agenda of the council any item concerning China without China, as a member of the council, being present and participating in determination of the agenda, as well as in any subsequent discussion."

"The Moscow declaration confined itself to a statement of the attitude of the three Powers regarding China, particularly the attitude of two of the Powers in respect to their troops in China. I shall be pleased to exchange with Mr. Molotov and Mr. Bevin, while I am in Moscow, but not in the Council of Foreign Ministers, information concerning any provisions of the Moscow declaration."

Marshall also issued the following text of a resolution on demilitarization which he placed before the council:

"The Council of Foreign Ministers notes the report of the Allied Control Authority on demilitarization and the substantial progress made in this field in all four zones. It directs that the Allied Control Authority proceed without delay to complete the demilitarization, in accordance with the decisions of the Berlin Conference and agreements of the Allied Control Authority, for its further action."

Deputies Resume Sessions.

Meanwhile today the Deputy Foreign Ministers also resumed their separate meetings, and at the insistence of the American representative, Gen. Mark Clark, those assigned to Austrian questions set up a special committee to handle a French compromise proposal on the disposition of German assets in Austria. The deputies, taking up their work where they had left off in London, met in what was described as an amiable frame of mind.

Also today Izvestia, the Soviet Government newspaper, declared that the political situation in China has deteriorated considerably during the last year," and that Molotov's proposal reflected the Soviet Government's "solicitude for keeping international pledges which serve the interests of international peace and security." Aside from this there was no broad comment in the Moscow press on the opening of the Big Four conference.

It appeared certain, however, that the Soviet Union was determined to put the United States on a spot for its role in China and to let the chips fall where they may so far as they may cause personal embarrassment to Marshall for his part in attempting to end the Chinese war.

There are some here who feel the Russian move with regard to China was only a prelude, setting the stage for Russian proposals relating to Germany.

Washington, March 11 (A. P.).—Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, the Chinese Ambassador to the United States, said today that "it is inconceivable that any discussion of matters directly affecting China" should be taken up at the Moscow conference without Chinese representation.

Two Versions On Marshall

Moscow, March 11 (AP)—Russian and United States versions of what Secretary of State George C. Marshall actually said with regard to Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's China proposal yesterday were at variance today.

United States sources said he blocked action and asked time to think the matter over before answering Molotov's suggestion that the Chinese question be added to the conference agenda.

The official Russian version published today said: "The chief of the United States delegation, Marshall, agreed the question should be discussed during the sessions of the Council of Foreign Ministers in Moscow. However, he asked to be given time in order to think over the procedure for investigating this question."

China Opposes Soviet U.N. Proposal

HAROLD K. MILKS

Nanking, March 11 (AP)—China announced today it "will not in any manner agree to inclusion of its problems in the agenda of the Foreign Ministers Conference" at Moscow.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov made such a proposal yesterday.

Wang Shih-chien, China's Foreign Minister, today issued a formal statement that China had not been officially notified of Molotov's suggestion, and added:

"It cannot be overstressed that internal problems of any state represented in the Council of Foreign Ministers do not lie within the scope of deliberations by the Council, nor can such problems be allowed to form the subject of agreement among other members of the Council."

Stress Nonrepresentation

Other Chinese Foreign Office officals declared:

"We do not intend to be bound by action taken by a meeting wherein we are not represented. The Foreign Ministers are amply informed of China's position on this matter.

"We have complete faith that the conference will respect our views and understand our request that China be fully represented before any decisions are reached."

Meanwhile, the Peiping Municipal Council and the Suiyuan Provincial Council asked the Nanking Government to oppose the Russian proposed discussion.

In Shanghai, streets were placarded with posters proclaiming: "China's sovereignty must be maintained." "Foreign troops must withdraw from China." "Any kind of international conference should not interfere in China's internal affairs."

Internally, this was the Chinese situation:

Pai Chung-hsi, Minister for National Defense, told a Formosan delegation the Government sent troops to Formosa "not to suppress Formosans but for purposes of national defense."

New reports that China is preparing to take over Dairen, the Russian-occupied port, Saturday appeared in the Peiping press.

Gen. Chen Cheng, chief of staff, called a conference at Tsingtao of all Government military commanders in the eastern Shantung sector.

Late reports said the Communists were assaulting Kiaohsien, 50 miles east of Tsingtao, and were hammering at railway stations between the two cities.

Massacre Charged

Chen Pi-Cheng, chief of the Formosan delegation which came to Nanking to demand self-government, said Pai promised to abolish discriminatory measures against Formosans.

The delegation said 3,000 to 4,000 Formosans were "massacred" in a February 28 uprising in which they charged maladministration.

The Formosans flew to Shanghai today, en route home, without seeing Chiang Kai-shek. Pai said he expected to visit Formosa soon.

The new Dairen rumors appeared in Hsin Min Pao and Hsin Sheng Pao, the latter owned by Gen. Tu Li-ming, commander of Government troops in Manchuria.

The Kuomintang (Government party) paper in Tientsin, the Republican Daily News, reported that both Dairen and Chinchow would be taken over Saturday. It said Gen. Hsiung Shih-hui, director of Chiang's Manchurian headquarters, had delivered official take-over instructions to Hwang Kwang-to, municipal chief secretary of Dairen.

CHINA SHARPLY PROTESTS REDS' BIG 4 PROPOSAL

NANKING, March 11. — (AP) China's government, grappling with Formosan unrest and a smouldering civil war, served notice today that inasmuch as China was not invited to the Moscow conference she wants her problems left alone.

Foreign Minister Wang Shih-Chieh issued a statement referring to the "Moscow conference of four foreign ministers." He said that any extension of the Moscow agenda beyond Austria and Germany to take in China must be preceded by consultation and agreement "between the five foreign ministers."

Reds Make Proposal

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov made the proposal at Moscow to include China's problems in the agenda.

Wang said China's condition for any such extension of the agenda "has received the support of Great Britain, France and the United States and in a reply from the Soviet government no objection was raised."

(Sounding a similar note in Washington, the Chinese ambassador to the United States, Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo said Molotov's move was "strange and surprising"; that China fails to understand why she was not invited to Moscow; and that China insists "her wishes first be consulted.")

China's Reaction Swift

Reaction to Molotov's move was swift in Shanghai. The news reached Shanghai at 4 a. m. Shanghai Time (3 p. m. Monday Eastern Standard Time). Two and a half hours later, early morning risers reported seeing posters reading:

"China's sovereignty must be maintained."

"Foreign troops must withdraw from China."

"Any kind of international conference should not interfere in China's internal affairs."

"Oppose foreign intervention."

A Formosan delegation, which asserted that more than 3,000 Formosans were "massacred" Feb. 28 in a revolt against Chinese maladministration, started back home today without seeing Premier Chiang Kai-shek but with a promise from the national defense minister that discrimination in Formosa would cease.

DP's High On Big Four Agenda, Moscow Says

London, March 11 (AP)—The Moscow radio said today the deputies of the four-power Council of Foreign Ministers had agreed to a Soviet proposal to place the future of displaced persons high on the agenda of the Moscow conference.

The broadcast said the Russian proposal was supported by the French deputy and then was adopted after "some discussion."

The German section of the deputies' council agreed also to a preliminary general discussion of the report on territorial changes within zones, submitted by the Allied Control Council for Germany, the broadcast said. This also was a Soviet proposal, the broadcast added, and was backed by France and the United States.

Roster Of Deputies

The radio said the deputies had begun their second day of sessions in Moscow at 10 A.M. (2 A.M., E.S.T.).

The broadcast said Deputies Andrei Y. Vishinsky, of Russia; Robert D. Murphy, of the United States; Maurice Couve de Murville, of France, and Edmond L. Hall-Patch of Great Britain, had opened the German treaty talks.

Those discussing the Austrian treaty, the radio said, were Feodor T. Gousev, of Russia; Gen. Mark W. Clark, of the United States; Viscount Hood, of Great Britain, and Jacques Paris, of France.

Gousev Presides

The German deputies, the broadcast said, were "charged with preparing for the current session of the Council (of Foreign Ministers) a proposal on the order of discussing questions contained in the report of the Allied Control Council for Germany."

The Austrian deputies, the radio said, citing a communiqué, had discussed the "order for the discussion of political, economic and military articles of the treaty with Austria." Gousev presided at this session.

Deputies working on Austrian questions set up a special committee at the insistence of Clark to handle a French compromise proposal on the disposition of German assets in Austria.

Germany Proposals

The deputies, taking up work where they left off in London, met in what one source said, was "an amiable frame of mind."

The communiqué said Vishinsky proposed, at the German section, that the deputies recommend to their chiefs that the following questions be discussed in the following order:

1. Demilitarization of Germany.
2. De-Nazification and democratization of Germany.
3. Economic principles, "bearing in mind that under this head also all questions connected with the political, economic and financial situation of Germany under the administration of the four powers shall be discussed."
4. Reparations.
5. Formation of central administrative organs as well as the question of the form and size of the provisional political organization of Germany.

The Soviet delegation, the communiqué added, also recommended the inclusion of a discussion of the displaced-persons problem.

Call Reich Parliament?

Stuttgart, March 11 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy United States Military Governor, held out the prospect for a parliament for all Germany, "in the not-too-distant future."

Clay told the American zone's newly created "advisory parliament."

"I am sure that as an 'advisory parliament' you will point the way to a parliament for Germany in the not-too-distant future.

"As you conduct yourselves, you will speed the day of an elected parliament for all of Germany."

The zone's advisory parliament formally began its functions today. Comprised of 24 representatives of the four American zone states, it will guide and advise the Council of State, which administers uniform laws for the zone.

Laborite Attack On Labor Regime

London, March 11 (AP)—A Laborite member of the House of Commons, joining an attack on the Labor Government by Liberal and Conservative members, drew cheers from his own party ranks tonight when he demanded that Great Britain reduce its armed forces to aid the nation's serious economic crisis.

"If we had a courageous Minister of Defense," Leonard Callaghan shouted, looking squarely at that Cabinet member, A. V. Alexander, "he would go to the Cabinet and advise that while there were risks, they should reduce the armed forces in order to get more men back into civilian life."

As Laborite critics cheered, a Conservative member shouted, "Well, then, vote against the Government."

Draws Line On Revolt

Indicating he was carrying his "revolt" no further, Callaghan replied, "We shall sustain the Government with our votes and criticize them with our speeches."

Liberal and Conservative leaders attacked the Government sharply for pressing ahead with state ownership plans for major industries at a time when the nation was so harried economically.

Their complaints followed an announcement by Labor Minister George Isaacs, that great Britain must recruit nearly 800,000 more workers during the next nine months to bolster undermanned factory staffs.

Tory Predicts Election

The criticism was similar to that of W. S. Morrison, a Conservative member of the House of Commons, who told a meeting of the Constitutional Club in London that "confusion and congestion at present in parliamentary affairs exceeded anything in living memory."

"My conclusion," Morrison declared, "is that we should be ready in the autumn for an election"—a prediction of the labor Government's downfall.

Clement Davies, a leader of the small Liberal party which has sided frequently with the Labor majority, accused the Government of forsaking administration for legislation and following the "road to ruin and bankruptcy."

Confidence Vote Sought

His criticism was echoed by Sir John Anderson at the mid-point of a three-day debate on Great Britain's economic plight. Administration leaders will seek a vote of approval tomorrow night of their economic recovery policy. Also, tomorrow, Winston Churchill will press for a vote of "no confidence."

Anderson said "the Government will never succeed in convincing the public of the need for a tremendous united effort so long as they are engaged on this apparently incompatible task of putting through a series of great nationalization schemes."

Isaacs, detailing the nation's need for more workers, said the manpower shortage was the fundamental cause of the current crisis.

Britain Protests to Bulgaria

U. S. Reported Joining Attack on Sofia Treatment of Diplomats

LONDON, March 11 (AP).—The British Press Association said tonight that Great Britain had sent a vigorous protest to Bulgaria over what was described as "high-handed and discourteous action" against foreign missions in Sofia by government officials enforcing a new currency act.

The agency said it understood that several other countries, including the United States, also had protested. The protests, it said, accused Bulgarian police of physical assaults on the French Minister at Sofia, and charged Bulgarian authorities with an "outrageous" demand to examine the accounts of the British mission.

Pope Asks National Right Curb

Calls on Powers to Limit Sovereignty—Stresses Duty to Insure Peace.

GUPTILL
McKNIGHT

World Copyright, 1947, by the Associated Press.

Vatican City, March 11.—On the eve of the eighth anniversary of his coronation, Pope Pius XII told the Associated Press today that nations must surrender some of their sovereign rights if a just and lasting peace is to be achieved.

The development of destructive atomic weapons and the total war they threaten, should persuade the leaders of the nations, he said, of their obligation to reach agreements insuring peace. In the last year—the first full year of the Pope's reign in which there was no declared warfare—there has been no marked improvement in the world's outlook for peace, he declared.

The Pontiff was obviously preoccupied over the prospects for the success of the Big Four Council of Foreign Ministers, which opened in Moscow yesterday. He nodded assent to the comment that the circumstances of yesterday's session did not augur well for solid achievements in the shaping of peace.

Bright and Cheerful.

The Pope, who ten days ago celebrated his seventy-first birthday and the eighth anniversary of his election as Pope, tomorrow will commemorate at thanksgiving services in the famous Sistine Chapel ,the anniversary of his ascending the Throne of St. Peter. Today he received two A. P. correspondents in his red and gold library and talked with them freely on the problems facing the world and the church.

In the same library he had received the same correspondents just over a year ago, at the end of the brilliant consistories at which thirty-two new cardinals were created—perhaps the crowning event of his reign. At that earlier audience the Pope had shown the strain of consistory week and the ravages of a cold. But today he was bright, cheerful, animated, obviously much better in health.

The ankle he twisted last week strolling in the Vatican gardens—he confessed he was reading as he walked—was entirely well, he said, though he had resisted his doctor's efforts to put him to bed and had kept on with his eighteen-hour working day. There was too much to be done for him to rest, the Pope said.

Last year—with the ending of the great war that began in the first year of his reign—the Pope had shown concern that the ideal of "peace with justice," which he had long insisted on, would not be realized. He had enunciated this ideal of the start of his pontificate, and had urged it upon the world in many other wartime and post-war pronouncements. Today he gave his interviewers to understand that the events of the past year had not greatly raised his hopes.

At last year's audience, it was stipulated that he could not be quoted. Today the Pontiff who has set aside so many other precedents hampering his ministry in the modern world laid aside one more nad gave the correspondents permission to record his answers to their questions, though not as direct quotations.

No Marked Improvement.

The Pope was asked whether the events of the last year had tended to dissipate the world's feeling of uncertainty and anxiety over the prospects for a just and lasting peace. Despite the indefatigable diligence and determined efforts made by certain statesmen and some progress for the moment along one or another particular line, he replied, the events of the last year do not add up to a marked improvement in the world's outlook for a just and lasting peace.

Moreover, the Pope said, he is afraid that this unfortunate condition will continue so long as the peace of Europe and of the world is considered solely under the light of what each State demands for its own individual security, and in the existing precarious circumstances one is allowed to increase its strategic positions and confront its neighbor with accomplished facts. As yet, positive, constructive ideas have not entered into the building up of world peace, he said, adding his hope that the United Nations may soon be placed in the position effectively to assume guaranties for the security of all.

Asks Religious Freedom.

The Pontiff was asked what, in the present period of relative and perhaps temporary tranquillity after the preoccupations imposed upon him in war years, were his aspirations for the continued advancement of the church and for the greater well-being of mankind.

The Holy See, he said in reply, is the center of the Universal Church. The end for which Christ established that church is the ultimate goal of all that the Pope does, hopes and prays for. That end is in the spiritual order; it is supernatural. It is to bring the knowledge of Christ to all men and to communicate to their souls the grace of salvation which Christ purchased for them on the Cross of Golgotha. To attain that end, he said, the church requires freedom of action in every region of the world, and one must be constantly intent on defending and protecting that freedom.

At the present moment, however, he continued his efforts are directed chiefly toward vindicating the freedom of the Holy See, of bishops and of Catholic associations of Christian charity and, indeed, of all Catholics throughout the world, to come to the assistance of those in need: to provide them with food and clothing, to arrange for the homeless, wandering millions, and for the orderly emigration to some country where, with proper safeguards to their religious and social needs, they may begin anew the life of an honorable Christian family, that essentially vital cell of human society.

Most Solemn Duty.

The Pope was asked to comment upon his efforts to make the church responsive to the increasingly complex character of modern civilization.

The church is made up of men, and men are commonly of the age in which they live, he replied. Hence the church necessarily must have an alert interest in each age in which her members live. And she will always do her best to make it possible and increasingly desirable for them to be efficient, eminent, influential children of their age and environment, provided their loyalty to God and his church is in no wise weakened.

If opposition between the church and the modern world is becoming more and more stressed in certain quarters, he continued, it is because there are leaders and groups in power today who aim deliberately at giving the modern world a character and policy of conduct that are anti-Christian, even anti-God. The world has already tasted the bitter fruit of power divorced from belief in God and respect for His law. Take away belief in God, and what is there to support the concept of objective law or to insure the inviolability of covenants freely accepted?

Hence, the Pope said, he deemed it a most solemn duty of his office to hinder, in season and out of season, any loosening of the bonds that unite human civilization with the fundamental principles of Christianity.

Curtailing Rights.

The correspondents remarked that the world was gravely concerned over the threat to civilization implicit in the uninhibited use of highly destructive weapons developed recently, and asked for his comment upon the ethical conditions involved in the use of such weapons.

In replying, the pontiff pointed out that the question touched only one element of a general problem. The development of modern weapons of war is bound to go forward with the constant developments being made in the technical field, he said, and just as surely is bound also to lead to total war—that is, a war in which the distinction between combatants and non-combatants is very quickly robbed of all meaning. What this promised to the civilized world has been amply and sadly demonstrated in the recent war.

Most certainly herein, he said, is found an added argument, if such were needed, to persuade the leaders of nations that in conscience they are obliged to reach agreements that will insure to the world a peace for which they in honor may assume responsibility and all peoples may find bearable, even though those agreements mean the curtailing to some degree of their several sovereign rights.

Pope Hopes For Lasting Peace

By CHARLES H. GUPTILL AND JOHN P. McKNIGHT

Vatican City, March 11 (AP)—Pope Pius XII, completing the eighth year of reign in a tempestuous world, said today he was hopeful the world would achieve a just and lasting peace but the price might be agreements which would curtail to some degree the sovereign rights of nations.

The Pontiff commented in a private audience that positive, constructive ideas have not as yet entered the building of peace, but he expressed the hope that the United Nations organization might be placed in a position effectively to guarantee the security of all.

Vigorous Personality

The interview was given in the red-and-gold library in which he talked a little more than a year ago after the consistories in which he created 32 new cardinals.

Last year he had seemed weary from the long ceremonies. Today, at 71—he celebrated his birthday and the eighth anniversary of his election ten days ago—the vigor of his personality was more than ever in contrast to the frailty of his body. Tomorrow is the anniversary of his coronation.

Clad in white robes and skull cap and seated behind his golden desk, he readily replied to the correspondents' questions in English. He smiled often, his eyes twinkling behind their rimless spectacles. He spoke jokingly of the twisted ankle—which he suffered when strolling in the Vatican gardens last week while reading.

Unprecedented Tragedies

But his lean face clouded and his voice was touched with sadness when his visitors remarked upon the unprecedented world tragedies which beset the first eight years of his reign.

Nor did he conceal his preoccupation when the current Moscow conference and the difficulties facing it were mentioned. He nodded assent that the beginning of the conference did not augur well for solid achievements.

Pope Pius many times has shown readiness to disregard precedent in his endeavor to make the practices of the church more responsive to modern conditions.

Sets Aside Precedent

Today he set aside another precedent in granting the correspondents permission to report his answers to their questions although not in direct quotation.

The Pope was asked whether events of the last year had tended to dissipate the world's feeling of uncertainty and anxiety over prospects for a just and lasting peace.

Despite the indefatigable diligence and determined efforts made by certain statesmen and some progress for the moment along one or another particular line, he replied, the events of the last year do not add up to a marked improvement in the world's outlook for a just and lasting peace.

Expects It To Continue

Moreover, the Pope said, he is afraid that this unfortunate condition will continue so long as the peace of Europe and of the world is considered solely under the light of what each state demands for its own individual security, and in the existing precarious circumstances one is allowed to increase its strategic positions and present its neighbor with accomplished facts.

The Pontiff was asked what, in the present period of relative and perhaps temporary tranquility, were his aspirations for the continued advancement of the Church and for the greater well being of mankind.

In Spiritual Order

The Holy See, he said, is the center of the Universal Church. The end for which Christ established that Church is the ultimate goal of all that the Pope does, hopes and prays for. That end is in the spiritual order, is supernatural. It is to bring the knowledge of Christ to all men and to communicate to their souls the grace of salvation which Christ purchased for them on the Cross of Golgotha.

To attain that end, he said, the Church requires freedom of action in every region of the world, and one must be constantly intent on defending and protecting that freedom.

Orderly Emigration

At the present moment, he continued, his efforts are directed chiefly toward vindicating the freedom of the Holy See, of bishops and of Catholic associations of Christian charity and indeed of all Catholics throughout the world, to come to the assistance of those in need, to provide them with food and clothing, to arrange for the homeless, wandering millions and orderly emigration to some country where with proper safeguards to their religious and social needs they may begin anew the life of an honorable Christian family, that essentially vital cell of human society.

The Pope was asked to comment upon his efforts to make the Church responsive to the increasingly complex character of modern civilization.

Alert Interest In Age

The Church is made up of men, and men are commonly of the age in which they live, he replied. Hence the Church necessarily must have an alert interest in each age in which her members live. And she will always do her best to make it possible and increasingly desirable for them to be efficient, eminent, influential children of their age and environment, provided their loyalty to God and his Church is in no wise weakened.

If opposition between the Church and the modern world is becoming more and more stressed in certain quarters, he continued, it is because there are leaders and groups in power today who aim deliberately at giving the modern world a character and policy of conduct that are anti-Christian, even anti-God.

The world has already tasted the bitter fruit of power divorced from belief in God and respect for his law. Take away belief in God, and what is there to support the concept of objective law or to insure the inviolability of covenants freely accepted? he asked.

Hence, the Pope said, he deemed it a most solemn duty of his office to hinder in season and out of season any loosening of the bonds that unite human civilization with the fundamental principles of Christianity.

The correspondents remarked that the world was gravely concerned over the threat to civilization implicit in the uninhibited use of highly destructive weapons developed recently, and asked for his comment upon the ethical conditions involved in the use of such weapons.

One Element Of Problem

In reply, the Pontiff pointed out that the question touched only one element of a general problem.

The development of modern weapons of war is bound to go forward with the constant development being made in the technical field, he said, and just as surely is bound also to lead to total war—that is, a war in which the distinction between combatants and noncombatants is very quickly robbed of all meaning. What this promised to the civilized world has been amply and sadly demonstrated in the recent war.

Most certainly herein, he said, is found an added argument, if such were needed, to persuade the leaders of nations that in conscience they are obliged to reach agreements that will insure to the world a peace for which they in honor may assume responsibility and all peoples may find bearable, even though those agreements mean the curtailing to some degree of their several sovereign rights.

KICKS, PUNCHES FLY IN FRENCH ASSEMBLY

PARIS, March 11 — (AP) Kicks and punches flew between Rightist and Communist members of the French National Assemly today at a stormy session devoted to the discussion of the Viet-Namese rebellion against French rule in Indochina.

The ill feeling started when Pierre Andre, a Rightist, accused Communist leader Maurice Thorez from the floor of tacitly supporting the Viet-Nam revolt and, in 1933, of advocating Germany unity.

Following a recess, Andre arose again and complained to the assembly that a Communist deputy named Garcia assaulted him in a chamber lobby "by blows and kicks." The Communists received the complaints by whistling and banging the tops of their desks.

Then, after presiding officer Edouard Herriot dismissed the chamber for the day, opposing deputies carried their quarrel into the cloakrooms and lobbies where several small fights broke out.

Four Reds Quit Belgian Cabinet

Brussels, March 11 (A. P.).—The four Communist Ministers in Premier Camille Huysmans's left-wing coalition Government resigned today. The disagreement between the Communists and the other Cabinet members was reported to center around the question of ceiling prices for coal and steel.

Those who resigned were Health Minister Albert Marteaux, Food Minister Edgard Lalmand, Public Works Minister Jean Borremans and Reconstruction Minister Jean Terfve.

Premier Huysmans is a Socialist.

Left-Wing Government In Belgium To Resign

Brussels, March 11 (AP)—Premier Camille Huysmans, Socialist, will present his Government's resignation to Prince Regent Charles tomorrow, it was announced tonight.

The Premier's decision to terminate the Left-Wing coalition Government came after a special Cabinet meeting at which four Communist ministers resigned to protest Government increases in coal and steel price ceilings.

Reich Units Okay Restitution Law For U.S. Zone

RICHARD O'REGAN

Stuttgart, Germany, March 11 (AP)—The German Council of States of the United States-occupied zone approved today a law which will restore up to $125,000,000 worth of properties to persons whose possessions were confiscated during the Nazi regime.

The measure required a full year to draft and must have final approval of the United States Military Government before it is promulgated.

The Germans announced they believed the law should be extended throughout Germany and that it did not leave enough discretion to restitution courts.

15,000 Jews To Benefit

More than 15,000 Jews in the American zone of Germany, who now see strangers running their business, will benefit. So will hundreds of refugees who fled Hitler Germany to escape racial, religious and political terrorism.

Property of dozens of persecuted or dissolved church, trade-union and co-operative organizations and Germans whose possessions were seized for their activity in the July 20, 1944, bomb plot against Hitler will be restored under the law.

Holders Must Report

Heavy prison sentences will be meted out under the law to Germans failing to report possession of property that was not theirs before the Nazi regime.

The restitution law gives the chance of a new start in life only to persons whose former property existed in what is now the American zone of Germany. But the heads of the four United States zone states are expected to make an appeal shortly to France, Britain and Russia to make the law effective throughout the former Third Reich.

Favored in principle by all German political parties in the United States zone as a chance for a democratic Germany to right Nazi wrongs, the draft of the law long has been tossed back and forth between the German Council of States, United States Military Government and the State Department in Washington.

Law Reaches Back To 1933

With possible minor revisions before it is put into effect following final American approval, the law puts the onus of restitutions upon the present or former possessors of confiscated property. Additionally it makes it hard for Germans who knew the property was seized to cause injury to groups which "were to be excluded from the economic and cultural life of Germany or the Nazi party."

Under the law, all persons "wrongfully deprived" of their property between January 30, 1933, and V-E Day will get it back—or—an adequate substitute."

The measure states that restitution will be carried out as fast as possible "even though the interests of other persons who had no knowledge of the wrongful taking must be subordinated."

The property, or its substitute, will be turned over to the former owner or "his successor in interest" at its pre-Hitler value.

Cash Liability Limited

Broadly, the law ensures the return of all business enterprises or participation in them, real estate, shares and partnerships. Cash money, however, only will be repaid "if the person liable to restitution knew at the time he acquired the money that it had been obtained by way of confiscation."

Personal items, such as jewelry, religious objects and items of unusual artistic or scientific value, also have to be restored under the law.

Postwar successor organizations may make claim for restitution for religious associations, corporations at public law, foundations and similar institutions dissolved by the Nazis.

Sets Dec. 31, 1948, Deadline

Every claim, the law states, must be submitted to the restitution agencies before December 31, 1948.

If a person against whom a claim is made does not answer within two months "the restitution agency shall issue an order directing the return of the confiscated property."

Possessors of property "obtained through threat" may be liable to damages for the destruction or deterioration of confiscated property, along with all profits collected.

5 Years For Not Reporting

Where no threat was involved, the possessor may not be liable for deterioration if he shows he was careful and he will be allowed to deduct management costs.

Five-year prison terms are provided in the law for present property owners who fail to report any property they suspect was confiscated, who make false statements or who try to destroy or cart away any property of a Nazi victim.

The law rules out automatically any attempt to plead that confiscation was in order during Hitler's regime.

PROPERTY TO BE RESTORED TO NAZI REGIME VICTIMS

O'REGAN

STUTTGART, March 11 — (AP) The German council of states approved today a law restoring $125,000,000 worth of property in the American zone to victims of Nazi persecution including 15,000 Jews.

A new start in life was given hundreds of other refugees and victims of Nazi persecution whose homes, businesses, lands, securities, art treasures and personal possessions were confiscated under Hitler's government between Jan. 30, 1933 and V-E day. Dozens of dissolved church, trade union and co-operative organizations, as well as persons whose possessions were seized for activity in the Hitler bomb plot of 1944, also will be able to reclaim their property under the new law.

Urge Action In Other Zones

The chiefs of the three states in the American zone, who passed the law for approval of the American military government, also urged that a similar measure be adopted in the zones of Britain, France and Russia.

"The one-zone validity of the law gives rise to much anxiety," their resolution said, "particularly since cases often will extend into several zones. A just ruling on restitution x x x can be accomplished only if the same law applies in all zones."

American authorities said the question of restitution of property was now under discussion by a committee of the Allied Control Council in Berlin.

In process of enactment for more than a year, the new law sets up a series of restitution courts, and provides heavy penalties for Germans failing to report possession of property not theirs before the Nazis came to power.

To Speed Return

The measure provides that the victims of persecution for racial, political and religious reasons will get back their property, or an adequate substitute for it, as quickly as possible "even though the interests of other persons who had no knowlege of the wrongful taking must be subordinated."

Persons who obtained property "through an immoral transaction or as a result of threat" also are liable to damages for destruction or deterioration of the property while in their possession, along with all profits collected during that time.

The property may be returned to the former owner's "successor in interest" or post-war successor organizations, associations and corporations.

Claims for restitution must be filed with the restitution agencies before Dec. 31, 1948.

Americans In Germany Get Rules For Conduct

Nuernberg, March 11 (AP)—A new drive to police the conduct of Americans working in Germany has been started by Maj. Gen. Ernest N. Harmon, tactical troop commander.

From Heidelbger, General Harmon issued instructions that civilian men employed by the War Department refrain from:

1. Excessive drinking.
2. "Fraternizing with known Nazis."
3. "Maintaining mistresses."
4. Sloppy dress.
5. Engaging in black market activities.
6. Going a.w.o.l.

The circular was distributed today among hundreds of civilian workers assigned to Nuernberg.

German Curious: Now He's Facing Threat Of Noose

Nuernberg, Germany, March 11 (AP)—Curiosity got the best of Wilhelm Burgher.

So today he is a defendant in jeopardy of the hangman's noose instead of peddling insurance in Nuernberg.

Burgher, a leader in the concentration camp business administration, had been a free man living under an alias until yesterday.

He read in the Nuernberger Nachrichten that his old pal Oswald Pohl, Himmler's hatchet man, and seventeen others were to be arraigned before a United States court for crimes against humanity.

Burgher wangled a pass to the courtroom. And there he sat among the spectators while the SS prison camp organization was excoriated.

Two of the defendants, gazing over the courtroom, recognized Burgher. They told lawyers they would not speak while he was there free.

Burgher scurried from the court but was traced through his pass and arrested.

Sentenced for Nazi Activity

BERLIN, March 11 (AP)—Carl Born, leader of the so-called German Freedom Party, has been sentenced to twelve years' imprisonment by an Allied Military Court on a charge of participating in political activities tending to undermine the authority of the military government, to glorify militarism and to establish a Nazi-like regime. Birtish authorities announced today. Ten other members of the party, which had its headquarters in Schleswig-Holstein, were sentenced to terms ranging up to six years.

D. P.s Protest Reds in Baltic

HERFORD, Germany, March 11 (AP).—Displaced persons quietly boycotted the mess halls in their camps throughout the British zone today, an United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration official said, in a demonstration against Russian annexation of the Baltic states of Estonia, Lithuania and Latvia.

German Shutdown Reported Easing

Berlin, March 11 (A. P.).—Germany's industrial shutdown, enforced by power shortages and the prolonged freezing of water transportation, is beginning to ease and reactivation of industry in the western zone is expected by April 1, Col. Lawrence Wilkinson, deputy chief of the Economics Division, American Military Government, said today.

He estimated that the winter shutdown had set the economy of the British and American zones back about sixty days and virtually stopped the export-import program promoted to revive German economy and help pay for imports of food and other essential commodities.

Germans to Pray for Big 4

BERLIN, March 11 (AP)—Heads of the Protestant and Catholic churches today designated next Sunday as a day of special prayers in all German churches for the success of the Foreign Ministers' conference in Moscow. In addition, "prayers for the peace" are to be said at all services throughout the duration of the conference.

Son Of Executed Nazi Tries To Flee To U.S.

Munich, Germany, March 11 (AP).—Ten-year-old Michael Frank ran away from home because his schoolmates taunted him for being the son of the executed Nazi leader, Hans Frank, the boy's mother revealed tonight.

Mrs. Frank said the police notified her that the boy was found in Hamburg where he had hoped to board a ship bound for the United States.

U.N. Probe Meets "Markos" Today

Salonika, Greece, March 11 (AP)—The United Nations commission investigating Balkan border incidents prepared tonight to leave at dawn for a secret rendezvous with the self-styled commander of Greece's powerful guerrilla forces, "General Markos," in the mountains of Macedonia.

Liaison representatives of Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria will accompany the commission's inquiry team to the "Markos" meeting place.

Greeks Open Major Drive On Guerrillas

Athens, March 11 (AP)—Press reports from northern Greece said today that Government troops had launched large-scale military operations against guerrilla bands about 50 miles west of Lamia, driving them from a half dozen villages and inflicting heavy casualties on the irregulars.

Eyewitnesses arriving in Lamia were quoted as saying they had counted the bodies of at least 130 guerrillas in the captured villages.

The press report said the guerrillas were avoiding battle wherever possible and were hastily retreating, leaving behind munitions and supplies.

JEWS EXTEND SETTLEMENTS

By C. L. Goodwin

South African Veterans Set Up Lake Huleh Quarters

Jerusalem, March 11 (AP)—A handful of South African Jewish ex-service men established temporary living quarters in the Lake Huleh district of the headwaters of the River Jordan today, in another move to increase the number of Jewish communities in Palestine.

After marking out their new settlement, the war veterans posted sentries while they started breaking ground.

The extreme Leftist Jewish youth organization Hashomer Hatbair also plans to form a new settlement tomorrow on the historic plains of Sharon.

American To Be Deported

The Palestine Government issued orders to deport as soon as possible an American free lance newspaper man and two French citizens who arrived Saturday aboard the ship Abril (Ben Hecht), along with 600 Jewish refugees without immigration certificates.

The three were Albert L. Hirschkoff, who gave his home as Brooklyn; Henrietta Goldenberg, 17, a French Jewess, and Jacques Meyer, representative of the Paris Presse.

In Haifa, where twenty American seamen from the Abril are awaiting trial for bringing the refugees to the Holy Land, rumors persisted that another ship carrying uncertified Jews was in the eastern Mediterranean. A Jewish source said the "summer season is just opening."

Scattered Explosions

Scattered explosions and gunfire sounded during the night in Jerusalem, and army officials said two "unloaded" explosions heard in the Mia Shearim martial-law section of the city "might have been flash bombs."

Guard posts were reinforced through the city, and guards at the British security zone warned British citizens "you leave the zone at your own risk. We are expecting trouble in town today."

Jews Shipped To Camps

London, March 11 (AP)—Dispatches from Nairobi, Kenya, said today that Britain is moving some of the Jews arrested in Palestine on charges of terrorism into that African colony from their detention camps in Eritrea.

Official Whitehall sources said the Palestine Stern Gang possibly had spread its underground organization into Eritrea as part of a plan to help Jews escape from the camps in Eritrea and that probably was the main reason behind the decision to transfer the prisoners from the former Italian colony.

200 Arrive At Mombasa

The Nairobi dispatches said 200 Jews arrived at the port of Mombasa on the transport Empire Heywood. Amid extraordinary precautions of secrecy and under heavy guard, the prisoners were transferred to a train to take them to camp.

Construction of detention camps in Kenya has been going on for sometime, but official sources had been instructed to remain silent about details. Palestine police denied reports last Friday that terrorist suspects were being rounded up under martial law in the Holy Land and were being flown to Kenya.

Blasts, Firing Heard in Night In Jerusalem

Explosions, Machine Guns Are Reported in Vicinity of British Security Zone

JERUSALEM, Wednesday, March 12 (AP).—A series of explosions were heard in Jerusalem at 4:18 a. m. today (9:18 p. m. Eastern standard time, Tuesday), sirens walled and the northeastern part of the city was illuminated by flares.

Newsmen counted four blasts and a steady patter of machine-gun fire. A few minutes later two small explosions, probably grenades or land mines, were heard. The blasts seemed to be in or near the Mea Shearim military law zone.

A resident of the northern part of Jerusalem said the blasts were "in or near the Syrian Orphanage," now used as a miltiary depot. It is located in the British security zone—the smallest of the four in Jerusalem—and joins the miltiary law zone on the eastern border.

PALESTINE BARS BROOKLYN MAN

Orders Writer on Refugee Ship Deported.

Jerusalem, March 11 (A. P.).—An American free lance newspaper man and two French citizens, who arrived Saturday on a ship with 600 Jewish refugees without immigration certificates, were ordered deported on the first available ship by the Palestine Government today.

The three were Albert L. Hirschkoff, who gave his address as 2047 57th street, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Henrietta Goldenberg, 17 years old, a French Jewess, and Jacques Meyer, representative of the Paris Presse. They arrived aboard the Abril (Ben Hecht).

Seamen Taken to Acre Jail.

The twenty American seamen from the Abril who were arraigned before a magistrate's court in Haifa yesterday and charged with violating Palestine immigration laws by bringing uncertified immigrants to Palestine, were transferred today under heavy guard by police and British airborne troops from Haifa jail to a prison fortress across the bay at Ace.

Additional addresses for Americans held announced today were Shephard Rifkin, 48 West Eighth street, New York; Jack Winkler, Milwaukee; Walter Greaves, Saylesville, R. I.; Louis Bretschneider, 1451 52d street, Brooklyn, N. Y.; David Guttman, 3343 Sedgwick avenue, Bronx, N. Y.; Louis Binder, 60 Hester street, New York; Yeno Berkovitz, 625 Wales avenue, Bronx, N. Y.

Stern Gang Claims London Blast Credit

Paris, March 11 (A. P.).—The Fighters for the Freedom of Israel (the Stern gang) asserted today that its members attacked and destroyed the British Colonial Club in London, which was wrecked by an explosion last Friday.

A Scotland Yard spokesman in London, however, said: "There is no evidence that the blast was caused by a bomb and none whatever to indicate the Stern gang was involved." The (British) Press Association attributed the damage to a boiler explosion. Six persons were injured.

Gruner's Appeal Is Challenged

London, March 11 (AP)—The Palestine Government challenged today before the Privy Council, the highest tribunal in the British Empire, the right of Frank Gruner, of New York, to appeal the death sentence of his nephew, Dov Bela Gruner, doomed on a charge of terrorism in the Holy Land.

The Privy Council's judicial committee gave attorneys until March 25 to determine Frank Gruner's right to appear in Palestine counts on behalf of his nephew, indicating that, if such rights were upheld, he could likewise appear before the Privy Council.

No Execution Day Set

Dov Bela Gruner was condemned by Palestine authorities for participating in an attack on a police station. The date of his execution has not been sent.

The attorney for the Jerusalem superintendent of prisons contended that the uncle was a citizen of the United States and a resident of New York and that his only interest in the Palestine courts was that he had a nephew who had become a Palestine citizen. The attorney also contended that Frank Gruner had arranged for a lawyer to represent him, a citizen of a foreign country who had never been in Palestine and who has no connection with the matter he was seeking to raise.

Counsel Asks More Time

Gruner's attorney said the challenge had not been raised in the lower courts and that an answer would have to be obtained in Palestine. He asked time to obtain the information, pointing out that the Palestine atorneys concerned were in Tel Aviv and that strict censorship was delaying communications. The lawyer said he was unable to telephone attorneys in Tel Aviv yesterday.

His contention was that Frank Gruner was a close relative of the condemned man and, therefore, was interested in whether he was executed.

China Again Held Ready To Take Dairen Control

NANKING, March 11 (AP).—Civil war fronts in North China and Manchuria generally were quiet today. General Chen Cheng, chief of staff, called an extraordinary conference at Tsingtao of all government military commanders in the eastern Shantung sector. Late reports said that the Communists were assaulting Kiaohsien, fifty miles east of Tsingtao, and were hammering at railway stations between the two cities.

New reports that China is preparing to take over Dairen, the Russian occupied port, on Saturday appeared in the Peiping newspapers "Hsin Min Pao" and "Hsin Sheng Pao," the latter owned by General Tu Li-ming, commander of government troops in Manchuria. Neither paper gave its source. The Sino-Russian treaty of August, 1945, stipulated that Dairen should be returned to China, but negotiations have delayed actual transfer.

The Kuomintang paper in Tientsin, "The Republican Daily News," reported in a Mukden dispatch that both Dairen and Chinhow would be taken over on Saturday by the Chinese government.

Turkish Reasons For Loan

MAR 1947

EDWIN B. GREENWALD

Istanbul, Turkey, March 11 (AP)—Turkey must have American financial credit if she is to maintain a fully mobilized army as a bulwark against possible Russian expansion southward, well-informed sources said tonight.

On the eve of President Truman's address to a joint session of the United States Congress in which he is expected to recommend credit of $150,000,000 to Turkey, one Government spokesman told newsmen:

"A weak Turkey could only invite trouble, It would be more far sighted and much less costly in the long run to help her today than have to try to rescue her on some later day."

Depicited As Vanguard

The Turks say they stand as the vanguard of western democracies in this part of the world, but that the cost of keeping nearly 1,000,000 men under arms is draining Turkey's fiscal resources to the point where her economic structure is in grave jeopardy.

Turkey must have credits, the informant said, to develop an industrial, economic structure which necessarily has been abandoned, and to outfit troops with modern equipment.

Turkey has been fully mobilized for seven years and today more than 60 per cent of the total national income goes toward maintenance of the army.

A majority of the troops, which admittedly are not well equipped, stand guard along the eastern frontier with Russia and through eastern Thrace, where Turkey joins Bulgaria. The Turks are the only neighbor along the Russian border to consistently and emphatically refuse all Soviet demands which the Turks consider tending toward penetration.

The most recent example was Turkey's almost curt refusal of demands that Russia share in the defense of the Dardanelles and that administration of that waterway be limited solely to Black Sea powers.

Development Abandoned

While maintaining her army Turkey has abandoned plans for development of her industry which obviously must grow if the nation is to have what the government considers to be a "decent economic order."

Analyzing the reasons why the United States should grant credit, the influential newspaper Cumheriyet said:

"Turkey at the moment plays the role of a dam in front of Russian imperialism. . . . Similarly to England, America equally admits and supports Turkey's policy which consists of checking the Soviet torrent. It follows that these two powers must not only help Turkey in the political domain but also in economic assistance. Since England is unable, America then must give this assistance."

Egypt Premier to Ask U. N. to End British Pact

CAIRO, March 11 (AP).—Premier Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashi Pasha told the Egyptian Senate today that he would demand before the United Nations Security Council abolition of the 1936 British-Egyptian treaty.

He said he no longer was "implementing or observing the treaty."

He added that the Egyptian government wants to take over administration of the Sudan from Britain in order to give it to the Sudanese, "who will have to rule themselves."

When a Senator objected to Sudanese self-government and demanded that the Sudan be merged with Egypt and given parliamentary representation, the Premier replied: "Perhaps one day."

The Anglo-Egyptian treaty revision talks have been snarled on the Sudanese issue. The British have demanded that the Sudanese be permitted to decide whether they wanted independence or union with Egypt. Egypt has asked an end to the British-Egyptian condominium in the Sudan and prompt evacuation of British troops.

Parity Victory Conceded By Roxas Foe

SPENCER DAVIS

Manila, March 11 (AP)—Filipino voters, after a campaign climaxed by an attempt to kill President Manuel Roxas with a hand grenade, rolled up such a favorable margin today in favor of granting Americans equal trading rights that one of the greatest foes of parity conceded the proposal had won.

In Manila, where Roxas's last campaign speech for the proposal ended in the grenade incident, official returns from 273 of the city's 530 precincts gave 22,990 votes for parity and 8,098 opposed.

Iloilo, the home town of Senator Tomas Confesor who bitterly opposed parity, voted 42,840 in favor and 21,180 against. That result prompted Confesor to concede that the constitutional amendment had been ratified.

Grenade Claims One Life

Simeon Varela, 30, died late tonight in Philippine General Hospital of wounds suffered during the hand-grenade attack on Roxas by a Manila barber. The barber, on being arrested, said he would do it again if he had the chance.

A photographer also was wounded by the blast bust is recovering.

Voting was light, with less than half of Manila's 142,000 and the islands' 3,116,000 registered voters casting ballots.

Roxas Votes At Home

President Roxas, unperturbed by last night's assassination attempt, voted this morning at the family home, which was heavily guarded by security and Manila police armed with carbines and tommy guns. Roxas campaigned through the islands for parity.

At Zamboanga, Mindanao, a leprosarium voted unanimously, 86 to 0, for parity and another at San Lazaro here gave it a 103-to-3 margin.

The election apparently passed quietly. Military police throughout the islands had been alerted because of the assassination attempt, but remained in their barracks.

Osmena Does Not Vote

Former President Sergio Osmena, defeated for re-election by Roxas and a silent opponent of parity, did not vote. Thousands of his adherents followed his example.

In central Luzon, seat of the Hukabalahap agrarian reform movement, there was an unexpectedly heavy early ballot, chiefly among villagers.

Voting was light in Bagulo, a district which would be affected greatly by American participation in gold mining. It was reported favoring the amendment.

FILIPINOS VOTE 3-1 TO GIVE U.S. TRADING RIGHTS

DAVIS

MANILA, Wednesday, March 12—(AP) Filipinos voted by an overwhelming margin yesterday to sacrifice some economic independence for the next 27 years in return for millions of American rehabilitation dollars.

Supporting President Manuel Roxas, at whom a would-be assassin threw a hand grenade as the campaign ended, they approved by a margin of about three to one a constitutional amendment to give the United States equal trading rights until 1974.

Vote Is Light

But opponents saw in the heavy stay-away vote a form of "silent rebuke." Only an estimated 40 per cent of 3,000,000 persons registered voted, with such men as former president Sergio Osmena abstaining. A Roxas administration follower observed, however, that voter apathy is "always evident in a landslide."

The election day was orderly in war-ravaged Manila with the only arrest reported that of a young man who poured ink into one ballot box.

Last night, a bystander, Simeon Varela, 30, died of wounds suffered when a hand grenade exploded on the platform where Roxas made his closing campaign speech in Manila. A photographer also was injured. A Manila barber, in custody, told police he tossed the grenade because he blamed Roxas for the commonwealth's economic plight and was not sorry he did it.

The gold mining center of Baguio, which would be markedly affected by any American exploitation of natural resources, gave parity a five-to-one margin.

Approval of parity means free trade for leading Filipino exports for the next eight years as well as full payment of more than $620,000,000 in rehabilitation funds from the United States. Filipino opponents had struck hard at the insistence of American congressmen, in framing the trade acts, for written constitutional guarantees before making the funds available.

Approval also means that the peso will be pegged to the dollar at the present two-to-one rate until expiration of the trade agreement in 1974.

Philippines to Sign U. S. Base Treaty

Manila, March 11 (A. P.).—A treaty leasing the United States Army, Navy and air bases in the Philippines for ninety-nine years will be signed Friday, Vice-President Elpidio Quirino announced today. Details have not been announced, but leaks during treaty negotiations indicate American bases will be reduced from seventy-odd to few more than twenty, of which fewer than twelve will be Class A sites.

FLEET IS AT PEARL HARBOR

Iowa Heads Long Parade of 38 Warships Carrying 15,000

HONOLULU, March 11 (AP)—Led by the mighty Battleship Iowa, the Pacific Fleet steamed into Pearl Harbor today to give Hawaii the greatest display of sea power since the end of the war.

A long parade of thirty-eight warships of the First Task Fleet began entering the harbor at midmorning. Honolulu prepared to give the 15,000 men a rousing welcome with a week of special festivities.

Behind the Iowa came the Carriers Princeton, Tarawa and Boxer. Strung out behind them for miles were other ships of the fleet, which ended the first post-war maneuvers yesterday.

The 15,000 men will be given shore leave but top-ranking officers will hold critiques Thursday and Friday on the war games which were climaxed by an "attack" on Pearl Harbor.

'Anti-Pakistan Day' Proves Fairly Quiet

Lahore, India, March 11 (AP)—The observance of "Anti-Pakistan Day" passed off more peacefully than had been expected today in Punjab province, although continued looting and burning of villages and scattered incidents in the larger cities were reported.

Sikhs and Hindus had sponsored the "Anti-Pakistan Day" to oppose the demands of the Moslems for an independent Moslem state of Pakistan. At least 550 persons have been killed during the last week in communal strife that a British officer described as "close to civil war."

New Cargo-Seizure Protest Made

Batavia, Java, March 11 (AP)—James W. Ryan, counsel for the Isbrandtsen Company of New York, said today that he had cabled General MacArthur, protesting against the action of Dutch authorities in using surrendered Japanese personnel to unload the disputed cargo of the American Liberty ship Martin Behrman.

The Japanese took over the work yesterday after native coolies had refused to continue unloading the ship, which is chartered by the Isbrandtsen company from the United States Maritime Commission.

Ryan said yesterday he would file a claim for $10,000,000 damages through the United States Government unless the Dutch restored the Behrman's cargo within 24 hours and allowed her to sail.

The Dutch contend that the Behrman's cargo, loaded at the republican-controlled port of Cheribon, represents the produce of Dutch estates unlawfully seized by Indonesians.

AFL REPORT ATTACKED BY ARGENTINE LABOR

BUENOS AIRES, March 11 (AP)—The General Confederation of Commercial Employes issued a formal statement today describing as "aggressive" and "imperialistic" a report by the American Federation of Labor charging President Juan Perón's administration with using organized labor as "a political instrument."

The statement asserted that the AFL report obviously had been dictated by Spruille Braden, former United States Ambassador to Buenos Aires, with the object of misinforming the world about what is going on in Argentina.

The confederation conceded that the Argentine unions have close ties with the Government, but declared that there is nothing new or strange about this and added: "Moreover, we are the Government itself."

The AFL report was made public Sunday after a delegation of nine AFL and independent railway union officers had spent three weeks in Argentina at the invitation of Argentine labor officials and the Perón Government.

The Argentine General Labor Confederation, with which the commercial employes are affiliated, also attacked the AFL report and said a statement would be issued later answering it "point by point."

The Communists, through their official newspaper Ahora, called the AFL report "calumnious, humiliating and offensive for Argentine workers" and asserted it was part of "an imperialistic plan to divide and conquer South American labor."

The Democratic La Nacion and the Catholic El Pueblo published the text of the AFL report.

Mexico to Get U. S. Warships

MEXICO CITY, March 11 (AP)—The Navy Department reported today that it would acquire fourteen warships from the United States during the year—eight destroyers, two torpedo boats, two transports and two cruisers.

BAN ON REDS URGED BY SCHWELLENBACH

Tells House Labor Group 'Party in U. S. Should Be Excluded From Any Public Activity'

MAR 1947

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 11—Lewis B. Schwellenbach, Secretary of Labor, and Representative Fred A. Hartley, Republican, of New Jersey, chairman of the House Labor Committee, agreed today that the Communist party in America should be outlawed.

Mr. Hartley told reporters he will introduce a bill to do so.

"See what I started," the Secretary grinned approvingly.

Representative Gerald W. Landis, Republican, of Indiana, raised the question, in a committee hearing on proposed labor law changes, of ousting Communists from offices in labor unions.

Mr. Schwellenbach, in the witness chair, said that "doesn't go far enough" and asked:

"Why should we recognize the Communist party in the United States? Why should they be able to elect people to public office and, theoretically, elect members of Congress?"

Records show that the Communist party in the 1946 election had two candidates for the United States Senate—in Indiana and Virginia; seven candidates for the House of Representatives—four in New Jersey, two in Michigan and one in Connecticut; and one for Governor in New Jersey.

Mr. Schwellenbach told Mr. Landis that he agreed with him "theoretically" that employers should have the right to "fire Communists or subversive individuals."

The trouble is in proving anyone is a Communist, he said. The Labor Department has had difficulty pinning people down as Communists, he said, although it has discharged six persons.

"One of the first things a Communist learns," he said, "is to deny he is one."

Mr. Schwellenbach later went into more detail for the committee, saying:

"I think Communists should be excluded from any type of public activity, including the right to run for office, to sit in Chambers of Commerce or to hold office in trade unions.

"They have advocated the overthrow of our Government and they should not be allowed to have any part in Government."

Mr. Schwellenbach conceded that there are some Communists in some labor organizations and "if you have 3 per cent of union members Communist, they usually dominate it."

The Secretary related that Communists defeated him when he ran for Governor of Washington "and tried to beat me for the Senate."

Mr. Schwellenbach found fault with most of the bills before the committee. Some of them, he said, would promote rather than curb industrial strife at a time when free play of collective bargaining promises that strikes will be "drastically reduced."

He warned against legislating out of existence closed shop provisions in existing labor-management contracts. These require an employer to hire only union help.

"If Congress wants to start out deliberately to create industrial strife for a period of about six months, it could choose no better course than this," the Secretary said.

When Mr. Landis asked Mr. Schwellenbach's views on mass picketing, the Secretary said he has "no sympathy" with it, and added that he has stopped more of it than possibly anybody in the United States by refusing to send mediators into a plant where mass picketing was in effect.

Paul M. Herzog, chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, in a statement prepared for the committee, backed up Mr. Schwellenbach in saying wholesale changes in the Wagner Act will lead to industrial strife. The Wagner Act guarantees employes the right to bargain collectively.

Scored by Party Official

Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the Communist party in the United States, said last night in New York that Secretary Schwellenbach, in advocating that the Communist party be outlawed in America, "openly joined forces with the ultra-reactionary GOP and its Parnell-Thomas-Rankin un-American Committee."

"The American people, the followers of the late President Roosevelt, and especially the labor movement, were shocked at the demand of Secretary Schwellenbach that the Communist party be outlawed," a statement he issued read in part.

Dashiell Hammett, president of the Civil Rights Congress of New York, asserted:

"Secretary Schwellenbach's proposal for outlawing the Communist party is a direct assault on American democracy, our American tradition of civil rights and liberties, and of electoral freedom."

Schwellenbach Urges Outlawing Communists

MAR 1947

Hartley Promises Introduction of Bill to Exclude Red Party Members From Elective Posts.

Washington, March 11 (A. P.).—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach today advocated outlawing the Communist party in the United States and Representative Hartley (R.-N. J.) promised to introduce legislation to that end.

Hartley, chairman of the House Labor Committee, told newsmen he will introduce the legislation because "communism is a menace to everything I hold dear." His committee, holding hearings on proposed changes in labor-management laws, has heard various witnesses say Communist influences exist in the labor union movement. While the committee is concerned primarily with that phase of Communist activity, Hartley said it would be unfair to introduc elegislation "pointing to communism and labor unions alone."

He said he will have to find out whether a constitutional amendment would be required to wipe out the Communist party but he hoped it could be done by a simple act of Congress.

Believes Purges Inadequate.

Schwellenbach told the committee that firing communists from positions of leadership in unions "doesn't go far enough."

"Why should we recognize the Communist party in the United States?" the Secretary asked. "Why should they be able to elect people to public office and, theoretically, elect members of Congress?"

The Secretary appeared to discuss an assortment of bills to change the labor laws. He predicted that strikes will be "drastically curbed" this year but said some of the proposals before the committee might promote industrial "chaos and strife" instead.

"What's wrong with giving employers the right to fire Communists or subversive individuals," Representative Landis (R.-Ind.) remarked.

"Theoretically," Schwellenbach said, "I agree with you entirely."

Difficulties With Reds.

He recited difficulties he said the Government has in pinning down Communist charges against its own workers, even when the FBI presents a case to the department involved. He said six persons have been discharged by the Labor Department, but that it is almost impossible to learn when a man is a Communist.

"One of the first things a Communist learns," he said, "is to deny he is one. Now when the United States Government can't find out — —."

The Secretary said he doesn't see why unions should be singled out to expel Communists when it is possible for the party to elect members to Congress.

[Records show that the Communist party in the 1946 election had two candidates for the United States Senate—in Indiana and Virginia; seven candidates for the House of Representatives—four in New Jersey, two in Michigan and one in Connecticut; and one for Governor in New Jersey.]

When Landis asked Schwellenbach's views on mass picketing, the Secretary said he has "no sympathy" with it. He said he has stopped more of it than possibly anybody in the United States by refusing to send mediators into a plant where mass picketing was in effect.

"But we have no authority to stop it," he said. "I wish local authorities would have a little bit of authority to do it."

In another statement prepared for the committee, Paul M. Herzog, chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, said Congress may get "mounting industrial strife" rather than greater industrial peace if it tempers with the Wagner act. That is the law guaranteeing workers the right to bargain collectively.

Both Government labor experts were on the witness list at hearings on a pile of bills proposing broad changes in labor laws. Both took repeated pot-shots at the proposals and called for emphasis on around-the-table bargaining to curb industrial unrest.

Condemns Closed Shop Ban.

"There is every reason to believe," Schwellenbach said, "that if labor and management are given a reasonable opportunity to work out their problems between themselves, we will not have a repetition of the tensions and disputes of the last quarter of 1945 or the first three-quarters of 1946." But some of the bills before the committee, he said, would bring about "complete atrophy" in collective bargaining.

And there would be "industrial chaos" for months, he continued, if Congress ordered immediate outlawing of the closed shop and other forms of "union security." The closed shop requires employers to hire none but union members.

If Congress should decide to enact such legislation, he said, it ought to be confined to new contracts between labor and management. He contended that if closed shop provisions in existing contracts should be canceled by law unions would say the entire contracts were reopened.

As for compulsory arbitration of labor disputes, the secretary said, experience has shown it has failed to achieve industrial tranquility.

In his statement, Herzog told the committee:

"Collective bargaining is the road to industrial peace, and, more important even, to continued democracy. It provides the best hope, the last best hope perhaps, of maintaining a system of free enterprise."

In troubled times, he said, industrial peace is on a precarious basis.

"The balance that we seem likely to achieve," he continued, "would be seriously disturbed by enactment of the proposals now presented to you, with a consequent danger of mounting industrial strife—more bitter because workingmen would feel themselves deprived of the protection of rights inalienably theirs."

Russian Envoy to U.S. Is Recalled for Parley

Novikov Leaves Tomorrow by Plane for Moscow: No Details Given.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(AP) Russian Ambassador Nikolai V. Novikov has been recalled to Moscow for consultations and will fly from New York Thursday.

Notice of the trip was delivered to the State Department yesterday in a note from the embassy.

No Details Given

No details were given in the communication beyond the fact that the journey is for consultations and that the embassy will be left in charge of Kin. Tsarap, charge d'affaires, during Novikov's absence.

Telephone calls to the embassy elicited no information.

A person there who identified himself as the ambassador's secretary said he did not have "the exact information" and could not get it tonight. He said he could not get in touch with Novikov who was resting.

American diplomatic officials said they could only presume that the ambasador was being called to Moscow to lend his advice in connection with the foreign ministers' conference in the Soviet capital.

There was no information in American diplomatic quarters as to how long Novikov would be away. Officials presumed, however, that he will return.

In New York, Scandinavian Airlines announced tonight that Novikov, was expected to fly to Copenhagen, enroute to Moscow, Thursday aboard the airliner "Olav Viking."

The plane is scheduled to leave La Guardia Field at 10:15 a. m.

Novikov, will continue on to Stockholm, where he will make a connection for Moscow on Saturday, Scandinavian Airlines said.

Comes as Surprise

The information that Novikov is going home came as a surprise to many State Department officials.

It was pointed out that ambassadors often are called in for consultation by their chiefs when big issues are under discussion with the country to which they are accredited. Such a situation is presented by the foreign ministers conference now going on in Moscow.

Little was known among diplomats here about Tsarap, who will be charge d'affaires. His name does not even appear in the State Department's February "Blue Book," latest diplomatic directory. The list of Soviet embassy personnel in that publication takes up more than four pages.

SENATOR ASKS TRUMAN BARE SECRET PACTS

Jenner Wants President to Reveal 'True Situation' in Speech Tomorrow.

GRECO-TURKISH LOANS EYED

Tension Over Russia Displayed in House Debate About Army-Navy Funds.

MAR 1947

Washington, March 11 (A. P.).—A demand that the administration lay bare any wartime "secret commitments which might cause us to lose the peace" was voiced today by Senator Jenner (R.-Ind.).

In a statement he called on President Truman to give Congress the "true situation" in his address tomorrow to a joint session of the Senate and House.

Congressmen expect that Mr. Truman will ask for a $250,000,000 loan to support the Greek Government, now tottering before Communist opposition. And perhaps a $150,000,000 loan to Turkey. The White House said today that the President's speech at 1 P. M. will require about twenty minutes to deliver.

With some legislators viewing the general problem as one of whether the United States will use its economic resources to try to halt Soviet expansion of influence, most were asking one question.

This is: Would loans to Greece and Turkey be the end of it or would this policy call for shouldering more and more worldwide obligations?

Tension Shown in House.

The tension over the whole situation broke out in House debate.

Representative Toole (D.-N. Y.) told his colleagues: "It is impossible to get tough with Russia or any other nation, and to have a strong diplomatic policy, unless we have a strong Army and Navy."

O'Toole argued against cutting Army and Navy funds in the current G. O. P. drive to clip Government spending.

Representative Bender (R.-Ohio) declared that Republicans are not to blame for present international difficulties, but that these problems stem from "secret agreements secretly arrived at" during the war when "spheres of influence were carved out."

Representative Rankin (D.-

30. 24-8419

Miss.) said: "We are being asked to challenge Communism. We should begin at home.' He said some Government departments should be "fumigated" to drive out "Communist elements."

CONGRESS HEARS TRUMAN TODAY

MAR 1947

President to Give Views on U. S. Role in Stemming Communism.

WASHINGTON, March 11—(AP) President Truman will address a joint session of congress tomorrow—and the nation—in a policy statement which may set far-reaching new standards for American diplomacy around the world.

The issue is: What the United States should do to stem the tide of Communism abroad.

The President's speech, starting at 1 p.m. (EST), will be broadcast by the major networks and also televised.

To Give Views on Greece

Described in advance by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) as transcending party politics in importance, the Chief Executive's talk is expected to center chiefly on the situation in Greece and the Near East.

Vandenberg said, however, that the problems involved "may prove to be symbolic of a general policy which may have to be pursued around the world."

On Capitol Hill, the general belief was that Mr. Truman will recommend a loan of $250,000,000 for Greece and $150,000,000 for Turkey both as a means of bolstering their home economies and indirectly as a barrier against the westward surge of Communism.

The Greek government, harrassed by leftist guerrillas, has appealed for United States aid, now that Britain, herself facing a grave crisis at home, is withdrawing help from the Hellenic kingdom.

While congressmen generally waited on edge and withheld comment until they hear from the President, Vandenberg indicated the broad scope of the difficulties ahead when he told reporters that "the same fundamentals are involved in so many situations."

U. S. PLANS NEW HUNGARY MOVE

WASHINGTON, March 11—(AP) Dean Acheson, acting secretary of state, said today the United States plans a further step in its complaints of Russian interference in Hungary, despite a Soviet countercharge that this country is the real meddler there.

It probably will be taken in a day or two, he told a news conference, without giving any hints as to its form.

The Hungarian political crisis threatens the overturn of almost the only remaining eastern European government which the United States regards as freely elected.

Reds Bring Crisis to Head

The crisis was brought to a head when Soviet occupation troops arrested Bela Kovacs, a leader of the majority party in parliament.

A stiff American protest followed. It said that this and Russian support given Communist and other leftist groups trying to oust the small-holder party majority constituted "unjustified interference". The protest was rejected outright in a Soviet reply which the State Department made public today.

Lt. Gen. V. P. Sviridov, Soviet occupation commander, asserted that majority party members were admittedly involved in a plot against the postwar Hungarian state. He termed the U. S. protest "open intervention" and "rude violation" of the rights of the Hungarian peoples court.

In arresting Kovacs, Sviridov continued, the Soviet occupation authorities were exercising a right to "defend their armed forces." Kovacs was accused of fomenting terror groups and of espionage against the Red army.

The Russian commander replied as acting chairman of the Allied Control Commission, on which the United States and Great Britain are represented. The U.S. protest went also to Moscow and London.

Turning down the U. S. proposal for a joint inquiry into the whole political turmoil, Sviridov said an investigation already had been completed by the Hungarian authorities.

Acheson was asked for comment on a dispatch quoting Prime Minister Ferenc Nagy of Hungary as terming the American protest "unfortunate", but declined.

FBI'S ARAB INQUIRY AROUSES ACHESON

Washington, March 11 (A. P.).—Acting Secretary Acheson said today that the State Department is inquiring into circumstances of the FBI's examination of papers of the Arab Office.

Indicating that the department was surprised by the FBI action, he told a news conference that the Arab Office had not taken it up with the department, but that the incident was reported by department officials.

Cecil Hourani, secretary of the office, which is supported by seven Arab governments, said that two FBI men were in the agency's headquarters from midmorning until 5 P. M. yesterday and on leaving said that they would return for further examination of the records.

Hourani said he made no objection, as "we have nothing to hide."

The Arab Office, which publishes information about the Near East, has opposed Jewish immigration into Palestine and plans to partition the country into separate Jewish and Arab states.

There was no FBI comment, but a Department of Justice spokesman said that under a law requiring registration of persons or groups representing a foreign nation,

Senate as soon as possible," Vandenberg said after the unanimous committee action at a closed door session.

$73,000,000 Wanter

One restriction would limit the United States contributions to IRO during the fiscal year that begins July 1 to $75,000,000, or about 40 per cent of the total. Vandenberg said the State Department planned to ask Congress for not more than $73,000,000.

The second would make it "very clear" that no change is made in the immigration laws of the United States or in any other laws, agreements or treaties, Vandenberg said.

During public hearings on the Vandenberg-Connally bill, several senators expressed fear that participation in Iro might bypass or circumvent the immigration quota laws.

Sees Gates Opened

Senators Hickenlooper (R., Iowa and Wiley (R., Wis.) suggested that the President or some other officia might agree to open this country' gates to as many as a half-millio of the war victims.

Bu Vandenberg and Connall assured fellow law-makers this was not intended.

Iro is expected to centralize the refugee work now being handled b yoccupying armie sof the United States, Britain, France, and other United Nations as well as UNRRA, which is scheduled to expire by July 1.

Senate Committee In Favor Of U.S. Aiding Refugee Work

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Senators Vandenberg (R., Mich.) and Connally (D., Tex.) teamed up today to win unanimous support from the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for United States participation in the International Refugee Organization.

IRO is the "temporary service" agency set up by the United Nations to handle the job of feeding, clothing, sheltering, and eventually finding permanent homes for more than 1,000,000 refugees and displaced persons left in European war zones.

Chairman Vandenberg said the committee inserted two restrictions in the bill he and Connally sponsored, but added these would not cause difficulty.

HOOVER REPORT POSES QUESTION ON AUSTRIAN AID

Former President Asserts Relief Must Continue to July 1, 1948.

SO HE ASKS $155,000,000

But Bloom Says House Prefers Taking Short-range View and Renewing Grants.

Washington, March 11 (A. P.).—The question of whether Congress wants a long or short range foreign relief program was raised today by a report from Herbert Hoover urging that $155,000,000 be spent in Austria during the next fifteen months.

The former President said that relief in Austria must continue at least until July 1, 1948, and "I have felt it better to face the fact now" rather than propose "renewed appropriations later."

But Representative Bloom (D.-N. Y.), top Democrat of the House Foreign Relations Committee, told a reporter he believes that the group will prefer to take a new look at foreign relief later "and make a supplemental appropriation then if necessary."

Hoover explained in his report to President Truman that his proposal would provide Austria with less aid than a United Nation program contemplates, but said that he has in mind "world supplies and the drains upon the American taxpayer."

Include Reconstruction.

The U. N.'s estimates provide more food than his, Hoover said, and include some help for industrial reconstruction.

The U. N. proposal would involve spending $148,000,000 in Austria for the rest of 1947 and, if extended for fifteen months, would cost $248,000,000, or $93,000,000 more than Hoover recommended.

The U. N. outlay would come from a fund of $610,000,000, of which the United States has been asked to contribute $350,000,000.

Hoover said the program he recommended would provide "a food level that, while austere, is, I believe, sufficient to maintain health and vigor."

He added:

'Admirable and Desirable.'

"While the program recommended by the United Nations is admirable and desirable, I have felt it necessary, in view of world supplies and the drains upon the American taxpayer, to make estimates only for food, medicines and agricultural supplies, and upon more limited levels of caloric intake."

He described Austria's nutritional condition as somewhat improved over last year and said that "the present food levels appear adequate to prevent any disaster, but must be regarded as 'emergency maintenance' which cannot be continued over years."

The original intention was that there should be economic unity in the American, British, French and Russian zones in Austria.

Hoover reported that this has not been carried out "and full use of Austrian resources is not being brought into play, the result of which increases the burden upon our taxpayers."

MAR 1947

Russians Seize Plants

One difficulty, he said, is that the Russians "have not only requisitioned a large amount of fertile land, but a great number of industrial plants."

Hoover said "if the produce from these lands were released to Austria, together with relaxation of other requisitions, it would decrease the food imports by at least 70,000 tons per month."

"Another way to moderate this load on the Austrian food supply," he said, "would be the reduction of Russian armies to the minor levels of the other Powers."

Hoover estimated that by 1950 or 1951 Austria probably could become self-supporting if its lands and equipment are freed by a peace treaty and foreign troops are removed.

North Dakota, and George A. Wilson, Republican, of Iowa, brought Mr. Lilienthal's known Senate supporters to forty, as against eighteen who have said they will vote against him. A majority of the present Senate membership is forty-eight.

Debate is expected to open tomorrow, probably after dinner, in the first regularly scheduled night session of the year.

Senator Robert A. Taft, Republican, of Ohio, head of the Senate Republican policy committee, has suggested that the Senate alternate debate between the nomination and the bill to outlaw portal-pay claims. The proposal failed to attract much support.

Even Senator Kenneth S. Wherry, of Nebraska, the Republican whip, said he would oppose any such attempt to shift legislative gears twice a day.

Senator Wherry personally favors voting him down. He was one of the first Republican Senate leaders to announce against Mr. Lilienthal's confirmation—a move in which he was joined by Senator Taft, the majority leader Senator Wallace H. White, of Maine, and Senator Styles Bridges, Republican, of New Hampshire, chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

Most Senators think the Lilienthal debate will go on for two or three weeks.

Lilienthal Gets Votes of Four More Senators

Total for Him Is Now 40; Debate Is Due to Start Tonight, Last 2 Weeks

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP).—Four more Senators—two Democrats and two Republicans—announced today they will vote for confirmation of David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

The announcements, by Senators Walter F. George, Democrat, of Georgia; J. Howard McGrath, Democrat, of Rhode Island; Milton R. Young, Republican, of

Turkey Joins World Bank

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP).—Turkey, for which President Truman may ask a $150,000,000 loan from Congress tomorrow, became the forty-first member of the World Bank and World Fund today. Only members may apply for a loan from the $8,000,000,000 bank which is expected to begin lending operations in the near future. Most major nations, with the notable exception of Russia and Australia, are members. Greece, for which the President may ask a $250,000,000 loan, is a charter member but has not asked for a loan.

Army Conditions Criticized

Letter From Soldier's Mother About Korea Read in House

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP).—Representative Evan Howell, Republican, of Illinois, told the House today of what he called "deplorable and wholly unnecessary" Army conditions in Korea. He read letters from an unnamed Springfield, Ill., mother and her eighteen-year-old son, who is in Korea, describing the youth's trip across the Pacific and current shortages of supplies.

The son has asked for soap and towels, the mother wrote, adding, "I am just sick thinking of our boys over there suffering from cold, hunger and most of all—filth." Another son served four years in the Army during the war, she said.

"I believe the War Department should be held responsible, and that steps should be taken immediately to correct and eliminate such evils," Representative Howell told the House. "The war is over, and there is no valid excuse for the continuation of conditions such as have been described here."

U. S. Broadcasts on Parley

'Voice of America" to Have Daily Reports on Moscow Talks

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP).—The State Department announced today that the government short-wave transmitter "Voice of America" will broadcast daily reports on the Moscow conference in twenty-five languages. The broadcasts are intended to reach all parts of the world.

"Voice of America" is operated by the Department's Office of International Information and Cultural Affairs.

The announcement said the newscasts of the conference will be based on direct reports from the government's own correspondent in the Russian capital. Editorial comment from American newspapers will also be broadcast.

Hawaii's Governor Insists Statehood Be Voted Now

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP).—Governor Ingram M. Stainback of Hawaii told the House Public Lands Committee today "the time has come" when the status of territorial government for Hawaii can no longer be endured.

He spoke in favor of legislation being considered by the committee to make Hawaii the forty-ninth state. He said statehood for Hawaii "has been brewing for more than a century," and added: "A territorial government is a transitory one, tolerable for a reasonable period, but to be endured no longer than is necessary to show that the people of the territory are capable of self-government."

"Hawaii meets the customary economic requirements for statehood." (He said the value of real property in Hawaii is more than $500,000,000, more than that of any state, except Oklahoma, at the time of its admission to the union.)

"Our percentage of citizenship population has increased to 85 per cent; the Caucasian population has increased until it equals that of Japanese descent.

"Citizens of every race, and every color, served in all the services, Army, Navy, Marine Corps, in the merchant marine, and in war work of every kind and description. . . .

"With modern means of transportation and communication, our geographic position is no deterrent to statehood."

B-36 Lifts Heaviest Load Ever From Earth

Washington, March 11 (AP)—The Army Air Forces disclosed today that its six-engine B-36 bomber has carried the heaviest load ever lifted from the earth by an airplane, 278,000 pounds.

This is virtually double the weight of the B-29 Superfortress.

The 278,000-pound lift by the Consolidated-Vultee B-36 was the fifth of a series of tests with heavy loads, starting at 200,000 pounds.

VOTE IN HOUSE ENDS THE OPA

MAR 1947

Bill Ends Rent Control Unless Renewed.

Washington, March 11 (A. P.).—Compromise legislation liquidating the Office of Price Administration next June 30 passed the House today by a vote of 341 to 49. The OPA liquidation provision is part of a $179,645,668 deficiency appropriation bill which the Senate and the House had passed previously in different form. It now goes back to the Senate.

The legislation cancels $2,000,000 of current OPA funds and provides $7,051,752 for the agency to pay terminal leave compensation to its employees and close up shop.

The House originally refused to provide any new funds and voted to cancel $9,000,000 in available cash. The Senate had voted for almost $8,000,000 in new money while not cancelling any of the available funds.

Representative Taber (R.-N. Y.), chairman of the Appropriations Committee, told the House the OPA money provided in the compromise would be sufficient to carry the agency through to June 30 "if they have honest administration, which they have not had so far."

End of Rent Controls.

Taber acknowledged, in reply to Democratic questioning, that the action means the end of rent controls unless Congress renews them beyond their current expiration date, June 30. Legislation to do that is under consideration.

Democrats led by Representative Glen D. Johnson of Oklahoma, contended that the bill means also the end of the Government-financed school lunch program on March 31 because it fails to provide needed additional funds.

Representative Keefe (R.-Wis.) countered that the States are fully able to maintain and finance a school lunch program.

In addition to providing the new funds, the legislation cancels $699,461,151 in appropriations previously made for various agencies. President Truman had requested the cancellation.

Truman Will Fly To Florida, Report

Miami, Fla., March 11 (AP)—The Miami Herald said tonight that President Truman is due to arrive in Key West about 6.45 P.M. tomorrow after a nonstop flight from Washington in his plane, the Sacred Cow.

The Herald published a dispatch by its Key West correspondent which said the announcement of the President's visit was made by Capt. Henry Cooper, USN, commander of the naval base at Key West.

According to plans, the President will leave Washington immediately after delivering his twenty-minute speech to Congress at 1 P.M.

U.S. Rockets Soon To Excel Best Used By Nazis

Albuquerque, N.M., March 11 (AP). Improving on German knowledge which introduced the world to rocket warfare, the Army says its guided-missile research is well along toward developing American rockets calculated to be "far superior" to any employed by the Nazis.

The progress report came from Lieut. Col. Harold R. Turner, ordnance specialist who has directed experiments the past year at the White Sands (N.M.) Proving Ground.

Refinements Sought

Tests have centered about learning the secrets of the Germans' V-2 and seeking refinements in accuracy and range.

At the same time, Turner disclosed yesterday, military men and scientists have been firing as many as five American-built rockets for every V-2 sent into the New Mexico skies—one up to 114 miles. So far, all have been smaller than the 14½-ton V-2.

The point has been reached, Turner said, that by June the Ordnance Department proposes to quit using V-2's reassembled from captured German parts and switch over to projectiles designed in this country.

150-Ton One Not Ready

It is not ready yet, however, to start shooting a projected 150-ton super-rocket, for which plans were made public early in 1946. Some parts of the giant missile probably will be tested soon.

The White Sands commandant spoke before the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association, some of whose members are protesting at being denied the use of approximately 3,500 square miles of former grazing lands.

Explaining that the site was handpicked as unexcelled for climate and uninhabited expanse, Turner told the stockmen his range has been cramped for some time.

STAFF OF U.N. PROTESTS PAY

Secretary General Points To Assembly Budget Cut

Lake Success, N.Y., March 11 (AP). Trygve Lie, Secretary General, told a mass meeting of nearly 2,000 United Nations staff members today that he could not meet their demands for immediate pay increases because of a reduced budget.

Lie addressed the workers after they had protested against "inadequate salaries" and the United Nations administration's decision to halt $7 per diem allowances to non-New Yorkers as of next Saturday.

Declaring that he had fought "alone" and in vain to prevent the budget slashes by the General Assembly last fall, Lie appealed for a halt to "corridor rumors about the Secretary General."

"I Am Not A Tyrant"

"I am not a tyrant," he shouted. "We have 55 employers. If you attack me you will never succeed."

The 55-nation Assembly reduced the budget from $30,000,000 to $27,000,000.

Lie took the floor in a crowded section of the United Nations headquarters immediately after the Association for the Staff of the United Nations, an employé organization, made three "minimum" demands—that he immediately increase pay in the lower brackets, revise the geenral scale upward within 90 days, and revise allowances upward within 90 days.

Denies Breaking Promise

Lie said that with permission of his advisory committee, representing the 55 nations, he might be able soon to bolster pay in the $2,100 to $3,100 salary brackets.

He flatly denied breaking any promises to the staff, declaring that all unfulfilled pledges had been turned down by the Assembly.

A staff member then demanded an explanation of a reported 500 dismissals, and complained about the lack of contracts for the workers.

Lie replied sharply that the Assembly had told him to cut the staff "30 per cent." He said France and Belgium had objected specifically to the large number of Americans on the staff and that most of the dismissals would be in the lower brackets which are predominantly Americans.

FIRST LEAD COMMONS DEBATE YESTERDAY
BY TOM WILLIAMS
LONDON, MARCH 11-(AP)-LABOR MINISTER GEORGE ISAACS TOLD THE HOUSE OF COMMONS TODAY THAT BRITAIN WOULD NEED NEARLY 800,000 NEW WORKERS THIS YEAR TO DIG THE NATION'S COAL AND REBUILD HER FOREIGN TRADE.
ISAACS OPENED THE SECOND DAY OF A THREE-DAY DEBATE ON BRITAIN'S ECONOMIC POSITION. THE DEBATE WILL END TOMORROW NIGHT WITH CONSERVATIVE LEADER WINSTON CHURCHILL PRESSING FOR A VOTE OF "NO CONFIDENCE" IN THE LABOR GOVERNMENT'S ECONOMIC PLANNING PROGRAM.
ISAACS SAID AT LEAST 100,000 MORE WORKERS MUST BE RECRUITED FOR THE NATIONALIZED COAL MINING INDUSTRY DURING 1947, 534,000 PUT TO WORK MANUFACTURING FOR EXPORT AND AN ADDITIONAL 154,000 PUT INTO TEXTILE MILLS.
ISAACS SAID THE GOVERNMENT PLANNED TO DRAIN OFF ABLE MANPOWER FROM THE NATION'S ORGANIZED GAMBLING INDUSTRY "BY AGREEMENT AND COOPERATION."
SIR STAFFORD CRIPPS, OPENING THE DEBATE YESTERDAY AN COOPERATION."
SIR STAFFORD CRIPPS, OPENING THE DEBATE YESTERDAY ANNOUNCED THE COMING CREATION OF AN INTER-DEPARTMENT PLANNING BOARD TO DEAL WITH ECONOMIC MATTERS.
IN ANOTHER ACTION BEARING ON THE LABOR GOVERNMENT'S PROBLEMS, W.S. MORRISON, CONSERVATIVE MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT AND A CABINET MEMBER IN BOTH THE CHAMBERLAIN AND CHURCHILL GOVERNMENTS, CALLED ON HIS PARTY TO "BE READY IN THE AUTUMN FOR AN ELECTION."

30.24-8421

IN OPENING THE DEBATE, WHICH WILL BE CLIMAXED TOMORROW WHEN OPPOSITION FORCES SEEK TO PUT THROUGH A "NO CONFIDENCE" VOTE AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT, CRIPPS SAID AN INTER-DEPARTMENTAL PLANNING BOARD WOULD BE CREATED TO GUIDE INDUSTRIAL RECOVERY.

THIS NEW GROUP, UNDER A CHIEF NOT YET NAMED, WOULD WORK ALONG THE LINES OF A WARTIME JOINT PRODUCTION STAFF, THE BOARD OF TRADE PRESIDENT SAID. HE ADDED THAT WAGES WOULD CONTINUE UNCONTROLLED AS A MATTER TO BE SETTLED BETWEEN WORKERS AND EMPLOYERS.

CRIPPS DECLARED THAT ALTHOUGH THE GOVERNMENT COULD NOT FORCE WORKERS INTO PLANTS AGAINST THEIR WILL, IT PLANNED TO GUIDE PRODUCTION BY MEANS OF CONTROL OF RAW MATERIALS, CAPITAL INVESTMENT AND TAXATION.

FORECASTING CONTINUED AUSTERITY FOR BRITISH CONSUMERS, HE SAID THAT 25 PERCENT OF BRITISH-MADE GOODS WOULD BE EARMARKED FOR EXPORT. PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICES WILL BE REDUCED 10 PERCENT ON JUNE 1, HE SAID, AND QUEUES WILL CONTINUE TO FORM AT RETAIL STORES BECAUSE STAFFS OF DISTRIBUTIVE TRADES CANNOT BE AUGMENTED AT THE EXPENSE OF UNDERMANNED ESSENTIAL INDUSTRIES.

OLIVER LYTTLETON, CRIPPS' CONSERVATIVE PREDECESSOR AS BOARD OF TRADE PRESIDENT, LAUNCHED THE OPPOSITION ATTACK WITH THE DECLARATION THAT THE GOVERNMENT WAS ATTEMPTING TO COMBAT A THREAT OF NATIONAL BANKRUPTCY WITH AN "OVER-ELABORATE MECHANISM OF PLANNING AND NO PLAN," THAT A CHEAP MONEY POLICY WAS BEING CARRIED TO EXCESS AND THAT AN ECONOMIC PLAN WITHOUT A FINANCIAL PLAN WAS NONSENSICAL.

THE CRUCIAL COMMONS DEBATE IS BEING GIVEN WIDE PUBLICITY IN THE BRITISH PRESS, OVERSHADOWING SPACE DEVOTED TO THE FOREIGN MINISTER'S MEETING AT MOSCOW.

BOTH CONSERVATIVE AND LIBERAL PAPERS TODAY GENERALLY VIEWED THE GOVERNMENT PROPOSALS AS FALLING SHORT OF MEETING THE ECONOMIC EMERGENCY WHILE THE LABORITE DAILY HERALD PLEADED FOR THE "UTMOST SPEED IN PERFECTING THE ORGANIZATION BY WHICH THE TARGETS WILL BE ACHIEVED."

THE CHIPS FALL WHERE THEY MAY CONCERNING ANY PERSONAL EMBARRASSMENT TO U.S.SECRETARY OF STATE GEORGE C.MARSHALL FOR HIS PART IN ATTEMPTING TO END CHINESE WARFARE.

EDITORIAL COMMENT IN THE GOVERNMENT NEWSPAPER IZVESTIA, HAILING SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER V.M.MOLOTOV'S PROPOSAL TO PLACE THE CHINESE PROBLEM ON THE FOUR-POWER FOREIGN MINISTERS' COUNCIL AGENDA AS TIMELY, INDICATED THAT THE RUSSIANS BELIEVE THE UNITED STATES DID NOT KEEP ITS WORD ON TROOP WITHDRAWAL AND NON-INTERFERENCE IN THE INTERNAL AFFAIRS OF CHINA.

THE RUSSIANS CONTEND ALSO, OF COURSE, THAT THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN HAVE NOT KEPT THEIR WORD CONCERNING THE POTSDAM DECISIONS.

IZVESTIA SAID OUTRIGHT THAT THERE NOW WAS AN URGENT NECESSITY TO CHECK ON HOW THE DECISIONS TAKEN BY THE THREE-POWER FOREIGN MINISTERS MEETING IN MOSCOW IN DECEMBER, 1945, WERE BEING CARRIED OUT.

ALTHOUGH MOLOTOV'S ACTION AT THE OUTSET OF THIS CURRENT CONFERENCE WAS A DIPLOMATIC BOMBSHELL, THE SOVIET PRESS IS NOT HERALDING IT AS ANY GREAT ISSUE OR ANY MAJOR STROKE OF DIPLOMACY.

IZVESTIA'S MAIN FRONT-PAGE EDITORIAL WAS DEVOTED TO THINGS WHOLLY FOREIGN TO THE CONFERENCE, AND THE EDITORIAL REFERENCE TO THE CHINESE SITUATION APPEARED ON THE BACK PAGE, SIGNED BY "E.M.," WHO MIGHT BE ANYONE.

MOLOTOV AND HIS DEPUTY, A.Y.VISHINSKY, WHO CAN APPRECIATE A NEAT DIPLOMATIC MANEUVER AS WELL AS EXECUTE ONE, PROBABLY WERE IMPRESSED BY THE QUICK WAY IN WHICH MARSHALL BROUGHT ONE OFF WHEN HE REFERRED TO TROOPS IN EUROPE. THE RESULT WAS NOT A HEAD-ON CLASH, BUT RATHER A DISPLAY OF DELICATE DIPLOMATIC FENCING.

THE RUSSIANS HAVE EXPRESSED CONSIDERABLE CONCERN OVER THE CONTINUED PRESENCE OF AMERICAN TROOPS IN CHINA WITH THE ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL ROLE BEING PLAYED THERE BY THE AMERICANS.

THERE ARE SOME HERE WHO FEEL THE RUSSIAN MOVE WITH REGARD TO CHINA IS BUT A PRELUDE, SETTING THE STAGE FOR RUSSIAN PROPOSALS FOR GERMANY AND FOR SUBSEQUENT ACTIONS THE RUSSIANS MAY TAKE IN LINE WITH WHAT THEY FEEL WOULD BE CONCESSIONS ON THE GERMAN QUESTION.

CHINA SEPARATE

BY JOHN M.HIGHTOWER

MOSCOW,MARCH 11-(AP)-SECRETARY OF STATE GEORGE C.MARSHALL EASED HIMSELF OFF SOMEWHAT OF A SPOT TODAY WHEN, WITH AN ASSIST FROM ERNEST BEVIN AND GEORGES BIDAULT, HE SUCCEEDED IN FRUSTRATING A RUSSIAN MOVE TO BRING UP CHINA IN THE COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS.

UNDER THE COMBINED PRESSURE OF AMERICAN, BRITISH AND FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTERS, SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER V.M.MOLOTOV WITHDREW HIS PROPOSAL OF YESTERDAY TO PUT CHINA ON THE AGENDA.

MOLOTOV THEN SUGGESTED THAT THE UNITED STATES, BRITAIN AND THE SOVIET UNION EXCHANGE INFORMATION OUTSIDE THE COUNCIL AND ISSUE A COMMUNIQUE, BUT EVEN THIS PROCEDURE EVIDENTLY WAS UNSATISFACTORY TO BEVIN AND MARSHALL.

BEVIN REFUSED COMMITMENT TO A COMMUNIQUE AND RESPONSIBLE OFFICIALS

REPORTED THAT MARSHALL WAS UNWILLING ALSO TO DO ANYTHING MORE THAN EXCHANGE INFORMATION WITH MOLOTOV AND BEVIN.

MOLOTOV'S ORIGINAL MANEUVER HAS POSED A DILEMMA FOR MARSHALL, SINCE THE PRESENT AMERICAN POLICY IS AIMED AT LETTING THE CHINESE ALONE WITHOUT OUTSIDE PRESSURES. MARSHALL HOPES THAT CHIANG KAI-SHEK AND CHINESE LIBERALS WILL WORK OUT THEIR OWN DESTINY.

MARSHALL HANDLED THE INCIDENT AGAINST A BACKGROUND OF 13 MONTHS EXPERIENCE IN CHINA AND AFTER INFORMING THE CHINESE HE OPPOSED ANY DISCUSSIONS HERE IN WHICH THEY DID NOT PARTICIPATE.

MARSHALL WAS CHAIRMAN OF TODAY'S SESSION OF THE COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS, AND BEVIN TACKLED THE SUBJECT AT VIRTUALLY THE START OF THE MEETING.

WHETHER OR NOT THE BRITISH, AMERICANS AND FRENCH CONFERRED PRIOR TO THE MEETING, BEVIN TOOK THE SAME LINE AS MARSHALL. THE AMERICAN SECRETARY FOLLOWED HIM, TELLING MOLOTOV THE MATTER WAS NOT FOR THE COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS IN THE ABSENCE OF CHINA.

BEVIN SAID HE DID NOT OBJECT TO GIVING INFORMATION INFORMALLY IN THE MANNER OF THE 1945 BIG THREE TALKS IN MOSCOW, ON WHICH MOLOTOV BASED HIS DEMAND FOR A NEW EXCHANGE OF VIEWS.

THE BRITISH SECRETARY ARGUED THAT EVEN THE PRESENT DISCUSSIONS WERE "EMBARRASSING TO CHINA" AND ASKED MOLOTOV TO WITHDRAW HIS PROPOSITION.

THE BRITISH SUPPORT OF THE AMERICAN POSITION WAS ABOUT AS EXPECTED BUT THE AMERICANS PRESUMABLY WERE PLEASED THAT THE FRENCH TOOK THE SAME STAND ON THE ISSUE, WHICH INVOLVED NO DIRECT FRENCH INTERESTS, IN VIEW OF THE POTENTIAL COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN FRENCH POLITICS.

B14 Q

MAR 1947

BIDAULT SAID THE QUESTION AFFECTED CHINA AS A MEMBER OF THE COUNCIL AND THAT HE COULD NOT SEE HOW THE MATTER COULD BE DISCUSSED ANNQYS

AND THAT HE COULD NOT SEE HOW THE MATTER COULD BE DISCUSSED WITHOUT CHINA'S CONSENT.

MOLOTOV REITERATED HIS POSITION OF YESTERDAY THAT A DISCUSSION OF CHINA SHOULD GO ON THE AGENDA.

WHEN THE OTHERS HAD SPOKEN, MARSHALL READ A PREPARED STATEMENT SAYING IT WAS "IMPROPER," IN HIS OPINION, TO PUT ON THE AGENDA "ANY ITEM CONCERNING CHINA WITHOUT CHINA, A MEMBER OF THE COUNCIL, BEING PRESENT AND PARTICIPATING IN DETERMINATION OF THE AGENDA AS WELL AS ANY SUBSEQUENT DISCUSSIONS."

MOLOTOV SAID HE WANTED TO EXPLAIN THAT HE HAD HAD IN MIND ONLY AN EXCHANGE OF INFORMATION AND THAT HE COULD NOT SEE WHY RUSSIA, BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES COULD NOT REPORT TO ALL THE FOUR POWERS MEETING HERE. IN VIEW OF THE GENERAL ATTITUDE, HE SAID, HE WOULD NOT INSIST UPON INCLUDING CHINA ON THE AGENDA.

SUPPORTING HIS ARGUMENT FOR A COMMUNIQUE, MOLOTOV SAID THERE WAS GREAT PUBLIC INTEREST IN CHINA.

MARSHALL'S HANDLING OF THE CHINA MATTER WAS TYPICAL OF HIS WORK HERE SO FAR. HE SAID LITTLE AND THAT WAS WRITTEN OUT BEFOREHAND. IT WAS EVIDENT THAT HE WAS PROCEEDING WITH EXTREME CAUTION.

FOREIGN MINISTERS
BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

MOSCOW, MARCH 12-(AP)-A DETERMINED AMERICAN EFFORT TO WIN SOVIET APPROVAL FOR EARLY ECONOMIC UNIFICATION OF GERMANY WAS DEVELOPING IN THE FOREIGN MINISTERS' COUNCIL TODAY WITH AN IMPLIED WARNING THAT IF THE RUSSIANS FAIL TO GO ALONG THEY WILL GET LESS INDUSTRIAL PLANTS FOR REPARATIONS.

THE TREND OF U.S. POLICY, WHICH CLOSELY PARALLELED THAT OF THE BRITISH, BECAME APPARENT AS THE COUNCIL BEGAN PROBING THE ENORMOUSLY COMPLICATED PROBLEM OF GERMANY, WITH THE EASTERN AND WESTERN POWERS BADLY SPLIT AT THE OUTSET.

FOREIGN MINISTER V. M. MOLOTOV OF RUSSIA LAUNCHED AN IMMEDIATE ATTACK ON THE AMERICAN AND BRITISH CONDUCT OF THE WESTERN ZONES OF OCCUPATION IN GERMANY WHEN DETAILED DISCUSSIONS BEGAN LAST NIGHT, ASSERTING FLATLY THAT DEMILITARIZATION AND DESTRUCTION OF THE GERMAN WAR POTENTIAL--MEANING HEAVY INDUSTRY--WAS UNSATISFACTORY IN THOSE ZONES.

FOREIGN MINISTER GEORGES BIDAULT OF FRANCE LIMITED HIMSELF TO A STATEMENT STRESSING HIS COUNTRY'S SPECIAL INTEREST IN RENDERING GERMANY PERMANENTLY POWERLESS AND FOREIGN SECRETARY ERNEST BEVIN OF BRITAIN SAID HE THOUGHT DEMILITARIZATION HAD REALLY GONE AHEAD VERY WELL.

SECRETARY OF STATE GEORGE C. MARSHALL, IN THE LENGTHIEST STATEMENT, SAID HE CONSIDERED THE REPORT ON DEMILITARIZATION FROM THE ALLIED CONTROL COUNCIL SATISFACTORY, BUT AGREED WITH MOLOTOV THAT UNSATISFACTORY PROGRESS HAD BEEN MADE IN THE DESTRUCTION OF THE GERMAN WAR POTENTIAL IN HEAVY INDUSTRY.

MARSHALL ADDED, HOWEVER, THAT REMOVAL OF HEAVY INDUSTRIAL PLANTS AS REPARATIONS IN LINE WITH DECISIONS AGREED UPON AT POTSDAM COULD BE COMPLETED ONLY WHEN THE FOUR ZONES OF OCCUPIED GERMANY WERE UNIFIED ECONOMICALLY. IF GERMANY'S ECONOMIC DISUNITY IS CONTINUED, MARSHALL DECLARED, IT WILL BE NECESSARY TO HAVE A HIGHER LEVEL OF INDUSTRY THAN IF THERE IS ECONOMIC UNITY.

A10

MAR 1947

SO FAR AS THE UNITED STATES WAS CONCERNED, THIS APPEARED TO LEAVE MOLOTOV MAINLY THE CHOICE OF COMING AROUND TO SOME KIND OF AN ECONOMIC SYSTEM WHICH WOULD ALLOW A MORE BALANCED GERMAN ECONOMY THROUGHOUT THE EAST AND WEST ZONES OF GERMANY, OR OF FACING UP TO THE IMPLICATION THAT THE AMERICANS AND THE BRITISH ARE UNWILLING TO DISMANTLE FOR REPARATIONS AS MANY PLANTS AS OTHERWISE PLANNED.

THE EXTENT OF THE SPLIT BETWEEN EAST AND WEST ON THIS SUBJECT WAS EPITOMIZED IN PROPOSALS OFFERED BY MOLOTOV AND MARSHALL. THE RUSSIAN URGED THE FORMULATION OF SPECIFIC PLANS, WITH STRICT TIME LIMITS, FOR RUSHING DEMILITARIZATION AND DESTRUCTION OF THE WAR POTENTIAL, WHILE THE AMERICAN PROPOSED A TERSE RESOLUTION TO RECOGNIZE THAT "SUBSTANTIAL PROGRESS" HAD BEEN MADE ON DEMILITARIZATION AND URGING COMPLETION OF THE JOB ALONG ESTABLISHED LINES.

IT WAS A CONTINUATION OF THE SPLIT BY WHICH MARSHALL, WITH FRENCH AND BRITISH BACKING, BLOCKED A RUSSIAN PROPOSAL TO INJECT THE KNOTTY CHINESE QUESTION INTO THE CONFERENCE AGENDA YESTERDAY. ALL THREE INSISTED THAT CHINA WOULD HAVE TO BE REPRESENTED IF CHINA WERE

30.24-8425

DISCUSSED AND MOLOTOV FINALLY WITHDREW THE SUGGESTION.

STILL ON THE COUNCIL'S "HELD IN SUSPENSE" FILE WAS MARSHALL'S OPENING DAY PROPOSAL THAT THE LIMITATION OF OCCUPATION TROOPS IN EUROPE BE PLACED ON THE AGENDA. MOLOTOV ASKED FOR MORE TIME MONDAY AND YESTERDAY AND MARSHALL DID NOT PRESS IT.

BEVIN TOSSED IN A DIPLOMATIC BOMBSHELL OF HIS OWN YESTERDAY DURING THE CAUSTIC DISCUSSION OF THE DEMILITARIZATION QUESTION, SUGGESTING THAT "IT MIGHT BE USEFUL" TO KNOW THE NUMBER OF PRISONERS OF WAR HELD OUTSIDE GERMANY.

RUSSIA HAS REBUFFED ALL PREVIOUS QUESTIONS ON THIS SUBJECT AND NEVER HAS DISCLOSED HOW MANY GERMAN PRISONERS ARE BEING HELD INSIDE RUSSIA. THERE WAS NO IMMEDIATE INDICATION AS TO WHETHER BEVIN INTENDED TO PRESS THE QUESTION TO A FINAL CONCLUSION.

MK258AES

MAR 1947

IT WAS AT THIS POINT THAT MOLOTOV LEVELED HIS ACCUSATIONS THAT THE WESTERN POWERS HAD FAILED TO DEMILITARIZE THEIR ZONES.

THE SOVIET DIPLOMAT DECLARED THAT THE BRITISH HAD 81,350 MEMBERS OF THE GERMAN ARMED FORCES IN FORMATION IN THE BRITISH ZONE, AND THAT THE AMERICANS HAD 9,000, THE CONFERENCE SOURCE SAID.

MOLOTOV SAID THAT ONLY THREE OF 1,554 WAR FACTORIES LISTED FOR REPARATIONS IN THE WESTERN ZONES HAD BEEN REMOVED COMPLETELY UP TO JAN.1 OF THIS YEAR, AND THAT ONLY 37 HAD BEEN PARTIALLY REMOVED. HE ALSO QUOTED "THE BRITISH COMMAND REPORT" AS INDICATING THAT ONLY SEVEN PERCENT OF THE TANK, ARTILLERY AND OTHER ARMS FACTORIES IN THE BRITISH ZONE HAD BEEN DESTROYED UP TO JAN.1.

IN THE SOVIET ZONE, MOLOTOV CONTINUED, 676 OF 733 WAR PLANTS LISTED FOR REPARATIONS HAD BEEN REMOVED.

BEVIN, REFERRING TO CHARGES ABOUT MEMBERS OF THE GERMAN ARMED FORCES IN THE BRITISH ZONE, SAID "THEY WILL BE DISSOLVED WHEN THE TASK IS COMPLETED, WHICH IS THE REMOVING OF MINES ON LAND AND SEA."

"THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT HAS NO INTENTION OF USING BRITISH PERSONNEL EITHER IN SHIPS OR ON LAND TO CLEAR AWAY MINES," HE WAS QUOTED AS SAYING. "GERMANS WILL BE USED UNTIL THE JOB IS COMPLETED."

MOLOTOV REPORTEDLY REPLIED THAT NO ONE COULD OBJECT TO USING GERMANS FOR SUCH WORK, BUT THAT HE FOUND IT HARD TO UNDERSTAND WHY THE BRITISH HAD SO MANY MINES IN THEIR ZONE, WHEN THERE WAS VIRTUALLY NONE IN THE OTHER ZONES.

ALTHOUGH NONE OF THE MINISTERS APPARENTLY LOST HIS TEMPER, TENSION WAS REPORTED TO HAVE INCREASED CONSIDERABLY SINCE YESTERDAY, AND EXCHANGES FLEW SO FAST THAT MARSHALL MADE A PLEA FOR UNITY AMONG THE BIG FOUR.

MOLOTOV WAS SAID TO HAVE OFFERED THE FOLLOWING PROPOSALS ON DEMILITARIZATION:

1. THAT THE FOREIGN MINISTERS INSTRUCT THE ALLIED CONTROL COUNCIL IN BERLIN TO DRAW UP PLANS TO ELIMINATE GERMAN WAR INDUSTRIES COMPLETELY, NOT LATER THAN THE END OF 1948.

2. DESTRUCTION OF GERMAN WAR MATERIALS AND ARMY AND NAVY INSTALLATIONS BE COMPLETED BY THE END OF 1949.

3. ALL GERMAN MILITARY UNITS BE DISBANDED AND LIQUIDATED BY JUNE, 1947.

4. ALL NON-GERMAN NATIONAL UNITS BE DISBANDED AND REPATRIATED BY JUNE, 1947. (HE REFERRED TO POLISH AND YUGOSLAV GUARDS IN GERMANY, IN PARTICULAR.)

MARSHALL FOLLOWED MOLOTOV AND CONFINED HIMSELF TO A FORMAL STATEMENT. HE SAID THE UNITED STATES VIEWED THE CONTROL COUNCIL REPORT ON DISARMAMENT AS GENERALLY SATISFACTORY, AND THAT WAR MATERIALS HAD BEEN DESTROYED, ARMIES DISBANDED AND WAR PLANTS LARGELY LIQUIDATED. IN THE FIELD OF HEAVY INDUSTRY, PROGRESS HAD NOT BEEN SO SATISFACTORY, HE ADDED.

WITHOUT REFERRING TO RUSSIA BY NAME, HE POINTEDLY DECLARED THAT THE REMOVAL OF PLANTS COULD BE COMPLETED ONLY WHEN THE ECONOMIC UNITY DEMANDED BY THE POTSDAM AGREEMENT BECAME A REALITY.

MARSHALL PROPOSED THAT THE MINISTERS NOTIFY THE ALLIED CONTROL COUNCIL OF THE PROGRESS NOTED IN ALL FOUR ZONES, AND DIRECT THE COUNCIL TO PROCEED RAPIDLY IN COMPLETING DEMILITARIZATION IN CONFORMANCE WITH THE POTSDAM AGREEMENT.

THE SECRETARY, IN CLOSING THE THREE AND A HALF HOUR MEETING, URGED THE MINISTERS NOT TO LOSE SIGHT OF FUNDAMENTALS, AND SAID THAT IN ORDER TO KEEP GERMANY DISARMED THE ONLY ESSENTIAL CONDITION WAS THAT THE ALLIES MUST REMAIN UNITED. HE ADDED THAT THE AMERICAN DELEGATION, CONSEQUENTLY, HOPED THAT THERE WOULD NOT BE ANY DISSENTION AMONG THE MINISTERS OVER WHAT MUST BE REGARDED AS DETAILS OF PROCEDURE CONCERNING FINAL STEPS IN THE DEMILITARIZATION OF GERMANY.

WILL WIPE OUT THE POSSIBILITY OF WAR BY THE GERMANS. THEY ARE REALLY AWFUL PEOPLE WHEN YOU PUT THEM ON THE END OF A GUN. I HOPE YOU ALL UNDERSTAND THIS. I BELIEVE THE RUSSIANS DO."

SINGAPORE, MARCH 11-(AP)-THE BRITISH PROSECUTION PRESENTED EVIDENCE TODAY IN THE TRIAL OF SEVEN JAPANESE OFFICERS CHARGED WITH RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE MASSACRE OF 5,300 CHINESE IN SINGAPORE IN FEBRUARY, 1942, SHOWING THAT THE VICTIMS ACTUALLY WERE SELECTED BY LOCAL AND SUBORDINATE OFFICERS.

THE PROSECUTION ACKNOWLEDGED AT THE OUTSET THAT THE GENERAL ORDER FOR CONCENTRATION AND EXECUTION OF "UNDESIRABLE ELEMENTS" ANONG THE CHINESE POPULATION WAS ISSUED BY THE LATE LT.GEN.TOMOYUKI YAMASHITA. UNDER PROSECUTION QUESTIONING, MIMORU SHINOZAKI TESTIFIED THERE WERE NO DEFINED INSTRUCTIONS OR STANDARDS FOR JUDGING GUILT IN INTERROGATIONS OF THE CHINESE BY KEMPETAI (JAPANESE THOUGHT POLICE). SHINOZAKI, REGARDED AS A SYMPATHETIC WELFARE OFFICER DURING THE JAPANESE OCCUPATION, TESTIFIED THAT ROMAN CATHOLIC BISHOP DEVALS OF MALACCA APPEALED TO HIM TO AID IN RELEASING WOMEN AND CHILDREN HELD IN THE CHINESE CONCENTRATION AREA AND THAT MANY WERE RELEASED.

THE SEVEN DEFENDANTS INCLUDED TWO LIEUTENANT GENERALS OF THE JAPANESE ARMY AND FIVE KEMPETAI OFFICERS.

NIGHT LEAD FORMOSA (250)

BY HAROLD K.MILKS

MAR 1947

NANKING,MARCH 11-(AP)-FORMOSA WAS A HOT SPOT TONIGHT.

COMPETENT OBSERVERS HERE SAID THE RECENT UPRISING OVER CHINESE ADMINISTRATION IS FAR FROM SETTLED. A SLIGHT MOVE MIGHT TOUCH OFF BITTER, ARMED REBELLION.

GUNFIRE IS HEARD FREQUENTLY IN THE STREETS OF TAINAN, REPORTEDLY A "DEAD CITY." SHOPS ARE CLOSED. RESIDENTS, REPORTS HERE SAY, FEAR TO LEAVE THEIR HOMES EVEN TO GET FOOD BECAUSE OF RECURRING CLASHES BETWEEN FORMOSAN BANDS AND CHINESE TROOPS OF GOVERNOR GENERAL CHEN YI.

WITH THE ARRIVAL OF 12,000 REGULAR CHINESE TROOPS FROM SHANGHAI, THE GOVERNOR GENERAL HAS ORDERED RIGID MARTIAL LAW AND ORDERED DISSOLUTION OF CERTAIN "ILLEGAL ORGANIZATIONS."

DEFENSE MINISTER GEN. PAI CHUNG-HSI, ONE OF PREMIER CHIANG KAI-SHEK'S ACE TROUBLE SHOOTERS IS MAKING READY TO FLY TO FOMORA.

HE IS EXPECTED TO PRESENT DEFINITE PROMISES OF REFORM TO ANGRY FORMOSANS WHO DEMAND THE OUSTER OF WHAT THEY CALL CHEN YI'S "CARPETBAG GOVERNMENT." PAI REFUSED A REQUEST TO PERMIT FOREIGN NEWS CORRESPONDENTS TO ACCOMPANY HIM TO TAINAN.

LITTLE INFORMATION IS REACHING NANKING EXCEPT FROM TAINAN WHERE AN ESTIMATED 400 PERSONS HAVE BEEN KILLED AND SEVERAL HUNDRED WOUNDED IN STREET FIGHTING SINCE FEB. 28. A FORMOSAN DELEGATION WHICH CAME TO NANKING TO CONFER WITH PAI PLACED THE TOTAL "MASSACRED" AT IN EXCESS OF 3,000.

SOURCES FAMILIAR WITH THE SITUATION SAID THE GOVERNMENT SHOW OF STRENGTH WITH A FULL ARMY DIVISION AND A NAVAL DESTROYER MIGHT PROVOKE THE NATIVES TO EVEN GREATER VIOLENCE AGAINST THE UNPOPULAR ADMINISTRATION OF CHEN YI.

THE U.S. EMBASSY IN NANKING SAID THERE WERE NO PRESENT PLANS FOR EVACUATING AMERICANS FROM FORMOSA.

SHANGHAI,WEDNESDAY,MARCH 12-(AP)-RUSSIA'S PROPOSAL TO PLACE CHINA ON THE AGENDA OF THE MOSCOW CONFERENCE DREW ANGRY COMMENT TODAY FROM SEVERAL NEWSPAPERS WHICH CALLED IT AN INSULT TO THIS COUNTRY.

"WE ARE GRATEFUL FOR THE WORLD'S CONCERN ABOUT CHINA'S CIVIL STRIFE," SAID THE PRO-GOVERNMENT SIN WAN PAO, "BUT CONCERN AND INTERVENTION ARE TWO DIFFERENT THINGS."

THE NEWSPAPER SAID THE GOVERNMENT WOULD "NOT BE BOUND BY ANY DECISIONS OR INTERVENTION TAKEN WITHOUT ITS CONSENT."

THE SHUN PAO, CONTROLLED BY CHIANG KAI-SHEK'S KUOMINTANG PARTY, DECLARED THE RUSSIAN PROPOSAL "HAS NOT ONLY AROUSED INDIGNATION IN CHINA" BUT IN THE REST OF THE WORLD AND "WE PROTEST AGAINST" THE "INSULT TO OUR COUNTRY."

NANKING, MARCH 12-(AP)-INFORMED QUARTERS SAID TODAY THAT CHIANG KAI-SHEK'S KUOMINTANG PARTY WOULD MOVE SHORTLY TO OUTLAW THE COMMUNISTS AS A POLITICAL PARTY AND TREAT THEM AS OPEN REBELS.

THEY REPORTED THAT A RESOLUTION WOULD BE SUBMITTED AT THE FORTHCOMING PLENARY SESSION OF THE KUOMINTANG'S CENTRAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE CALLING FOR AN ULTIMATUM TO THE COMMUNISTS TO WITHDRAW TO CERTAIN AREAS.

REJECTION OF THIS ULTIMATUM, THEY ADDED, WOULD BE FOLLOWED BY A GOVERNMENT PROCLAMATION OUTLAWING THE COMMUNIST PARTY AND BY A "PUNITIVE CAMPAIGN TO QUELL THE COMMUNIST REBELLION."

COMMITTEE MEMBERS WHO FAVOR THE RESOLUTION SAID ITS ADOPTION WOULD STIMULATE MORALE OF GOVERNMENT TROOPS, WHO DO NOT REALIZE THEY ARE FIGHTING TO PUT DOWN A REBELLION AGAINST THE STATE.

OPINION WAS DIVIDED AMONG OBSERVERS, HOWEVER, AS TO WHETHER THE PROCLAMATION WOULD BE APPROVED BECAUSE OF POSSIBLE INTERNATIONAL REPERCUSSIONS.

TOKYO, MARCH 11-(AP)-GENERAL MACARTHUR TODAY ANNOUNCED A NEW 50 YEN TO $1 EXCHANGE RATE FOR U.S. MILITARY PERSONNEL AND AMERICAN WAR DEPARTMENT EMPLOYES IN JAPAN AND KOREA.

NEW MILITARY CURRENCY, BASED ON THAT RATE, WILL BE ISSUED AT MIDNIGHT TO COMPLETE CONVERSION OF THE OLD 15 YEN TO $1 SCRIP CALLED IN SUNDAY IN A SURPRISE, TOP SECRET MOVE ORDERED BY THE WAR DEPARTMENT FOR U.S. OCCUPATION TROOPS THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.

MACARTHUR HAD SOUGHT WAR DEPARTMENT APPROVAL FOR THE NEW RATE FOR SOME TIME TO BRING THE EXCHANGE MORE NEARLY IN LINE WITH VALUES IN JAPAN. THE ACTUAL PURCHASING VALUE OF THE YEN IS ONLY ABOUT 100 TO $1. THE YEN STILL IS LOSING PURCHASING VALUE AS INFLATION CONTINUES.

THE NEW SCRIP RATE WILL PARTIALLY EASE MONEY TROUBLES OF SOUVENIR HUNTING YANKS. HIGH RANKING AMERICAN OFFICERS PRIVATELY HAVE SAID GIS TOOK THEIR CIGARETS AND CANDY TO THE WELL PAYING BLACK MARKET BECAUSE OF THE UNFAVORABLE EXCHANGE RATE.

THE NEW RATE WILL NOT BE A CURE ALL, HOWEVER. JAPANESE STOREKEEPERS SET THEIR PRICES TO YANKS ON THE WAR BORN THEORY THAT ALL AMERICANS ARE RICH. SOUVENIR PRICES ARE EXPECTED TO RISE. THE BLACK MARKET MONEY RATE PROBABLY ALSO WILL JUMP FOR THOSE WHO HAVE DOLLARS.

THE ABRUPT CHANGE IN THE EXCHANGE RATE MEANS BANK BALANCES OF AMERICAN NEWS AGENCIES AND A FEW OTHER ORGANIZATIONS LEGALLY DOING BUSINESS IN JAPAN WILL BE LESS THAN ONE THIRD THEIR FORMER VALUE. ALL HAVE LARGE ACCUMULATIONS OF YEN, ACQUIRED AT THE 15-TO-$1 RATE. THEY ARE FORBIDDEN TO CONVERT THEM INTO DOLLARS OR TO INVEST THEM IN JAPAN.

FINANCIAL OFFICIALS AT MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS SAID THE EXCHANGE RATE DOES NOT AFFECT THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT TO GOVERNMENT TRADING WHEREBY JAPAN SELLS A FEW ARTICLES TO THE UNITED STATES AND IMPORTS NECESSITIED.

HOWEVER, THE NEW RATE MAY BE THE PRELUDE TO LIMITED PRIVATE TRADE. FISCAL AUTHORITIES HAVE ACKNOWLEDGED THAT PRIVATE BUYERS WOULD NOT BE INTERESTED IN THE OLD 15 TO $1 RATE.

MAR 1947

THE MILITARY RATE HAS LITTLE EFFECT ON JAPAN'S ECONOMY. AMERICAN USE OF THE YEN IS LIMITED TO BUYING SOUVENIRS AND OCCASIONAL PAYMENTS TO SERVANTS AND SIMILAR EXPENSES.

MANILA, MARCH 11-(AP)-UNPERTURBED BY LAST NIGHT'S ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT WHICH HE SHRUGGED OFF AS "THE WORK OF AN AMATEUR," PRESIDENT MANUEL A.ROXAS THIS MORNING CAST HIS BALLOT IN FAVOR OF EQUAL RIGHTS FOR AMERICAN INVESTORS IN THE PHILIPPINES.

HIS POLLING PLACE, AT THE OLD ROXAS FAMILY HOME, WAS HEAVILY GUARDED BY PRESIDENTIAL PALACE SECURITY GUARDS ARMED WITH CARBINES AND TOMMYGUNS AS WELL AS BY MANILA POLICE.

DRESSED IN IMMACULATE WHITE, WITH A SPRIG OF FLAMING BOUGAINVILLEA IN HIS LAPEL AND SWINGING A THIN MALACCA CANE, THE SMILING PRESIDENT WAITED HIS TURN AT THE POLLS. CHATTING WITH NEWSMEN, HE TERMED THE WOULDBE ASSASSIN AN AMATEUR, WHO DIDN'T WAIT LONG ENOUGH AFTER PULLING THE PIN OF HIS AMERICAN-MADE GRENADE.

ROXAS SAID HE WAS LIGHTING A CIGARET WHEN THE GRENADE BOUNCED ON THE SPEAKERS' PLATFORM A FEW FEET AWAY. HE FIRST REALIZED HE WAS IN DANGER, HE RELATED, WHEN BRIG.GEN.MARIANO CASTANEDA AND SENATE PRESIDENT JOSE AVELINO KICKED THE GRENADE INTO AN AISLE AND SHOUTED "DUCK!"

ROXAS PUSHED HIS WIFE INTO A CHAIR WHILE CASTANEDA, THE MILITARY POLICE PROVOST MARSHAL, AND AVELINO SHIELDED THEM FROM THE BLAST.

"IT'S ALL PART OF THE GAME, I SUPPOSE," THE PRESIDENT SAID WITH A WRY SMILE.

BEFORE VOTING, ROXAS CALLED AT NORTH HOSPITAL WHERE PHOTOGRAPHER EMILIO MAGALANG, WOUNDED BY THE GRENADE, WAS REPORTED OUT OF DANGER.

A MANILA BARBER WHO RELATED FREELY AND IN PRECISE DETAIL HOW HE HAS THROWN THE GRENADE WAS HELD IN BILIBID PRISON. MANILA POLICE SAID HE WAS "A CRANK," RATHER THAN A MEMBER OF ANY ANTI-ADMINISTRATION CONSPIRACY.

THE BARBER, IDENTIFIED BY POLICE AS JULIO GUILLEN Y CUERPO, 50, READILY TOLD OFFICERS AND NEWSMEN HE HAD HIDDEN THE GRENADE IN A BAG OF PEANUTS AND HAD THROWN IT AT ROXAS BUT "UNFORTUNATELY, MY CHAIR WOBBLED AND MY AIR WAS NOT SO ACCURATE."

TAKEN LATER TO THE PALACE WHERE PRESIDENT ROXAS HIMSELF CONFRONTED HIM, THE BARBER WAS REPORTED UNREPENTENT. ONE SOURCE SAID HE TOLD THE PRESIDENT HE'D DO IT AGAIN IF HE COULD AND THAT HE BLAMED THE COUNTRY'S ECONOMIC ILLS UPON THE ROXAS ADMINISTRATION.

HIS GRENADE INJURED PHOTOGRAPHER MAGALANG, COL.JOSE TANDO OF THE PRESIDENTIAL PALACE GUARDS, AND FIVE OTHERS. IT WAS THROWN TO THE SPEAKERS PLATFORM AS ROXAS CONCLUDED AN APPEAL TO THE CROWD OF 50,000 TO SUPPORT THE PARITY AMENDMENT.

A VOTE OF ABOUT HALF THE 3,116,000 REGISTRATION WAS EXPECTED IN TODAY'S ELECTION.

(WX) ABOARD USS TACONIC IN THE CARIBBEAN, MARCH 11-(AP)-WE'VE TAKEN A TERRIFIC WALLOPING TODAY. BY ALL RIGHTS WE SHOULD BE FLOUNDERING AROUND IN THE SEA AMONG THE BARRACUDA.

WE WERE "BOMBED" BY TWO FIGHTERS PLANES LAST NIGHT AND SUBMARINES, SNEAKING THROUGH OUR ESCORT SCREEN, "TORPEDOED" US THIS MORNING AND AGAIN THIS AFTERNOON.

THE THEORETICAL EFFECT IS HEIGHTENED BY THE FACT THAT THIS IS THE TASK FORCE FLAGSHIP IN CURRENT WAR GAMES, A BEEHIVE OF COMMUNICATIONS ACTIVITIES; AND THE BRIDGE IS CRAMMED WITH A VERITABLE GALAXY OF STARS AND GOLD BRAID.

THE OFFICERS ARE NOT UNDULY CONCERNED OVER THE "SINKING" OF THE SHIP. MAR 1947

"SOMEBODY MADE A MISTAKE, OF COURSE," SAID ONE STAFF MEMBER, "BUT IF WE DIDN'T MAKE MISTAKES, THERE WOULDN'T BE ANY POINT IN HAVING THE TRAINING CRUISES."

THE TASK FORCE IS CARRYING ON THROUGH THE SECOND DAY OF AN AERIAL ATTACK AND BOMBARDMENT AGAINST CULEBRA ISLAND, UNDISMAYED BY THE FACT THAT ITS FLAGSHIP IS THEORETICALLY RESTING ON THE BOTTOM. ONE MORE DAY OF SOFTENING UP, AND WE'LL MAKE AN AMPHIBIOUS ASSAULT ON THE IMAGINARY ENEMY'S BEACH, THE FINAL EVENT IN THE ATLANTIC TASK FLEET'S ANNUAL MANEUVERS.

ONE CURIOUS THING ABOUT THIS SHIP AND THE TASK FORCES IS THAT LAND-LUBBERS ARE HOLDING DOWN SOME OF THE MOST IMPORTANT NAVAL JOBS. FOR TRAINING IN JOINT ARMY-NAVY OPERATIONS, A NUMBER OF ARMY OFFICERS WERE ASSIGNED NINE OR TEN MONTHS AGO TO THE COMMANDER AMPHIBIOUS FORCE, U.S.ATLANTIC FLEET, WHO IS REAR ADMIRAL R.O.DAVIS, THE LEADER OF THIS JOINT EXPEDITIONARY FORCE.

FOREIGN MAR 1947

BY ALEX H.SINGLETON

WASHINGTON, MARCH 12-(AP)-AT A GRAVE AND UNEASY MOMENT IN WORLD AFFAIRS--ACCENTUATED BY RUSSIA'S SUDDEN RECALL OF HER AMBASSADOR FOR "CONSULTATIONS"--PRESIDENT TRUMAN CARRIES TO CONGRESS PERSONALLY TODAY HIS PLANS AND HOPES FOR BULWARKING DEMOCRACY AGAINST COMMUNISM IN GREECE AND TURKEY.

A HISTORY-SHAPING REVISION OF TRADITIONAL AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY PLAINLY WAS IN THE MAKING AS THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE PREPARED TO ADDRESS A JOINT SESSION OF THE HOUSE AND SENATE AT 1 P.M., (EST), FOR A REVIEW OF DIPLOMATIC DEVELOPMENTS IN SOUTHERN EUROPE WIDELY DESCRIBED AS OF SELDOM-PARALLELED SERIOUSNESS.

MR.TRUMAN'S INTIMATES SAID HIS MESSAGE WOULD BE "FRANK AND CANDID" IN DEALING WITH THE MEDITERRANEAN SITUATION WHICH HAS BEEN INTENSIFIED BY IMPOVERISHED BRITAIN'S DECISION TO CAST OFF HER COMMITMENTS IN AN AREA THAT HAS BECOME THE ARENA FOR A SHOWDOWN STRUGGLE BETWEEN WESTERN DEMOCRACY AND RUSSIAN COMMUNISM.

WHILE THERE WAS NOTHING ON THE SURFACE TO INDICATE THAT TOMORROW'S SCHEDULED DEPARTURE FOR HOME OF SOVIET AMBASSADOR NIKOLAI V.NOVIKOV HAD ANY DIRECT BEARING ON THE ISSUE, THERE APPEARED LITTLE DOUBT BUT THAT THIS COUNTRY'S NEWLY-FORMING POLICY WILL BULK LARGE IN HIS REPORT TO THE KREMLIN.

WORD OF THE DIPLOMAT'S IMPENDING DEPARTURE CAME WITH DRAMATIC SUDDENNESS. A NOTE FROM THE RUSSIAN EMBASSY SIMPLY ADVISED THE STATE DEPARTMENT THAT NOVIKOV WILL LEAVE THURSDAY AND THAT CHARGE D'AFFAIRES S.K. TSARAPKIN WILL BE IN CHARGE DURING HIS ABSENCE.

THE EMBASSY ITSELF WAS SILENT.

EVEN IN ADVANCE OF MR.TRUMAN'S APPERANCE, MANY LAWMAKERS SOUGHT TO WEIGH THE POTENTIAL IMPACT OF THE PRESIDENT'S ANTICIPATED RECOMMENDATIONS ON WORLD AFFAIRS IN GENERAL AND ON DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH RUSSIA IN PARTICULAR.

SPECIFICALLY MR.TRUMAN'S RECOMMENDATIONS WERE EXPECTED TO SEEK:

1. A TOTAL OF $250,000,000 IN AID FOR GREECE. THIS WOULD BE DESIGNED TO STRENGTHEN THE GREEK GOVERNMENT'S ARMY FOR AN ALL OUT CAMPAIGN TO END CIVIL WARFARE, AND TO FINANCE GREECE'S INDUSTRIAL AND ECONOMIC REHABILITATION.

2. A TOTAL OF $150,000,000 IN CREDITS FOR NEIGHBORING TURKEY TO EASE THE BURDEN SHE HAS BORNE IN THUS FAR RESISTING RUSSIAN DEMANDS FOR A DIRECT SHARE IN THE CONTROL OF THE STRATEGIC DARDANELLES.

3. A CONGRESSIONAL PLEDGE--BACKED UP BY DIRECT INTERVENTION IN THOSE TWO COUNTRIES--THAT THE UNITED STATES WILL USE ITS PRESTIGE, MATERIAL AND MONEY TO PREVENT WELL-ORGANIZED COMMUNISTIC MINORITIES

FROM CAPITALIZING ON WAR WEARINESS AND HUNGER AND SEIZING CONTROL OF TRADITIONALLY DEMOCRATIC LANDS.

A3WX

MAR 1947

THE IMPLICATIONS OF SUCH A PROGRAM WERE PLAIN.

IT WOULD MEAN A DEPARTURE FROM TRADITIONAL UNITED STATES POLICY OF NON-INTERVENTION DURING PEACETIME IN THE INTERNAL AFFAIRS OF A FOREIGN COUNTRY, ASIDE FROM RELIEF AID AND INSISTENCE UPON FREE ELECTIONS.

IT WOULD ESTABLISH A PRECEDENT FOR SIMILAR ACTION ELSEWHERE IN THE TROUBLED WORLD--A POINT WHICH MEMBERS OF CONGRESS HAVE BEEN QUICK TO NOTE IN CONSIDERING THE POSSIBILITY OF EVEN FURTHER BRITISH RETRENCHMENTS.

IT COULD FORCE A DETERMINATION--PERHAPS BY THE UNITED STATES ALONE, PERHAPS BY THE WESTERN POWERS ACTING COLLECTIVELY--ON WHERE TO CONCENTRATE THEIR EFFORTS WITHIN THE LIMITATIONS OF RESOURCES.

IT SEEMED SURE TO PROVOKE A BITTER DEBATE WITHIN THE UNITED NATIONS OVER AN AMERICAN DECISION TO ACT INDEPENDENTLY.

AND IT APPEARED INEVITABLE THAT, IN COMING WEEKS, THE MOVE WILL PRECIPITATE HISTORIC CONGRESSIONAL DEBATE AND DECISIONS WHICH WILL AFFECT DIRECTLY THE NATION'S ECONOMY AT HOME AS WELL AS ITS FORTUNES ABROAD.

TALKING WITH NEWSMEN IN ADVANCE OF MR.TRUMAN'S APPERANCE, REP. EATON (R-NJ), CHAIRMAN OF THE HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE, CALLED UPON THE GOVERNMENT AND THE PEOPLE "TO TAKE A SQUARE LOOK AT THE WORLD SITUATION AND THE CHOICE WHICH MUST BE MADE BETWEEN A WORLD CIVILIZATION BASED UPON SLAVERY OR A WORLD SITUATION BASED UPON FREEDOM."

"IF AMERICANS WISH TO CONTINUE TO LIVE AS FREE MEN IN A FREE WORLD," EATON SAID, "WE'VE GOT TO ASSUME AND DISCHARGE RESPONSIBILITIES THAT ADHERE IN OUR STRENGTH." HE SPOKE AGAINST THE BACKGROUND OF TWO SECRET CONGRESSIONAL CONFERENCES AT WHICH THE PRESIDENT OUTLINED THE PROBLEMS.

BUT REP. MUNDT (R-SD), A MEMBER OF THE COMMITTEE, SAID HE WILL ASK THE STATE DEPARTMENT'S FIRST WITNESS WHEN ANY BILLS COME UP FOR HEARING TO PRODUCE AT ONCE "THE COMPLETE TEXTS OF THE YALTA, TEHRAN, CAIRO AND POTSDAM AGREEMENTS." HE SAID THEY NEVER HAVE BEEN SUPPLIED CONGRESS.

"THEY ASK US TO BUY A MULTI-BILLION DOLLAR FOREIGN POLICY WITHOUT TELLING US WHAT STEPS THEY'VE TAKEN ALREADY," MUNDT COMPLAINED. HE SAID HIS SECOND QUESTION WOULD BE: "WHAT ARE THE ARGUMENTS FOR DOING IN GREECE WHAT WE HAVE DECIDED TO DESIST FROM DOING IN CHINA? BOTH HAVE THE SAME AGGRESSIVE NATION AS A NEIGHBOR."

REP. COLMER (D-MISS), ALSO A COMMITTEE MEMBER, DECLARED THE SITUATION "MUST BE DEALT WITH AS A WORLD PROBLEM, NOT ON A PIECEMEAL BASIS. WE'VE GOT TO STICK OUR HEAD ALL THE WAY OUT, OR WITHDRAW INTO OUR SHELL."

A4WX

SAYING THAT THE UNITED STATES MUST DEAL "OPENLY AND FRANKLY" WITH THE SOVIET UNION, COLMER SAID "I DON'T THINK RUSSIA WANTS WAR ANY MORE THAN WE DO, BUT SHE HAS BEEN TRYING TO GRAB OFF ALL SHE CAN BY DIPLOMATIC WARFARE, TAKING ADVANTAGE OF OUR DESIRE FOR PEACE."

DEMOCRATIC WHIP MCCORMACK OF MASSACHUSETTS, COMMENTING THAT "THE PARAMOUNT INTERST WE SHOULD ALL HAVE IS THE NATIONAL INTEREST OF OUR COUNTRY," DECLARED: "IT IS DISTINCTLY IN THE NATIONAL INTEREST TO RENDER HELP TO GREECE AND TURKEY AND TO HELP ANY OTHER COUNTRY THAT WILL STOP THE SPREAD OF ATHEISTIC COMMUNISM." HE, TOO, SAT IN ON THE WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE.

REP. CANNON (D-MO), RANKING MINORITY MEMBER OF THE HOUSE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE, SAID THE ISSUE "INVOLVES ONE OF THE MOST MOMENTOUS DIPLOMATIC DECISIONS IN THE HISTORY OF THE WORLD."

AND FROM REP. GOODWIN (R-MASS), CAME THE OPINION: "I THINK WE ARE GOING TO DO IT, BUT I THINK IT MARKS THE BEGINNING OF GOING IN TO WHERE WE CAN'T GET OUT."

WASHINGTON,MARCH 11-(AP)-SENATORS VANDENBERG (R-MICH) AND CONNALLY (D-TEX) TEAMED UP TODAY TO WIN UNANIMOUS SUPPORT FROM THE SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE FOR UNITED STATES PARTICIPATION IN THE INTERNATIONAL REFUGEE ORGANIZATION.

IRO IS THE "TEMPORARY SERVICE" AGENCY SET UP BY THE UNITED NATIONS TO HANDLE THE JOB OF FEEDING, CLOTHING, SHELTERING AND EVENTUALLY FINDING PERMANENT HOMES FOR MORE THAN 1,000,000 REFUGEES AND DISPLACED PERSONS LEFT IN EUROPEAN WAR ZONES.

CHAIRMAN VANDENBERG (R-MICH) SAID THE COMMITTEE INSERTED TWO RESTRICTIONS IN THE BILL HE AND CONNALLY SPONSORED BUT ADDED THESE WOULD NOT CAUSE DIFFICULTY.

"WE WILL BRING THIS UP IN THE SENATE AS SOON AS POSSIBLE," VANDENBERG TOLD REPORTERS AFTER THE UNANIMOUS COMMITTEE ACTION AT A CLOSED-DOOR SESSION.

ONE RESTRICTION WOULD LIMIT THE UNITED STATES CONTRIBUTIONS TO IRO DURING THE FISCAL YEAR THAT BEGINS JULY 1 TO $75,000,000, OR ABOUT 40 PER CENT OF THE TOTAL. VANDENBERG SAID THE STATE DEPARTMENT PLANNED TO ASK CONGRESS FOR NOT MORE THAN $73,000,000.

T

PLANNED TO ASK CONGRESS FOR NOT MORE THAN $73,000,000.

THE SECOND WOULD MAKE IT "VERY CLEAR" THAT NO CHANGE IS MADE IN THE IMMIGRATION LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES OR IN ANY OTHER LAWS, AGREEMENTS OR TREATIES, VANDENBERG SAID.

DURING PUBLIC HEARINGS ON THE VANDENBERG-CONNALLY BILL, SEVERAL SENATORS EXPRESSED FEAR THAT PARTICIPATION IN IRO MIGHT BYPASS OR CIRCUMVENT THE IMMIGRATION QUOTA LAWS.

SENATORS HICKENLOOPER (R-IOWA) AND WILEY (R-WIS) SUGGESTED THAT THE PRESIDENT OR SOME OTHER OFFICIAL MIGHT AGREE TO OPEN THIS COUNTRY'S GATES TO AS MANY AS A HALF MILLION OF THE WAR VICTIMS.

BUT VANDENBERG AND CONNALLY ASSURED FELLOW LAW-MAKERS THIS WAS NOT INTENDED.

IRO IS EXPECTED TO CENTRALIZE THE REFUGEE WORK NOW BEING HANDLED BY OCCUPYING ARMIES OF THE UNITED STATES, ENGLAND, FRANCE AND OTHER UNITED NATIONS AS WELL AS UNRRA, WHICH IS SCHEDULED TO EXPIRE BY JULY 1.

JEWELS

WASHINGTON, MARCH 11-(AP)-DEFENSE ATTORNEYS ASKED TODAY FOR THE RECALL OF PRINCESS SOPHIA OF GREECE AS A WITNESS IN COL. JACK DURANT'S MILITARY TRIAL FOR THEFT OF THE HESSE CROWN JEWELS.

THE REQUEST WAS MADE AFTER MAJ. JOSEPH ROBINSON, TRIAL PROSECUTOR, ANNOUNCED HE IS ABOUT READY TO WIND UP THE ARMY'S CASE AGAINST THE 38-YEAR-OLD AIR FORCE OFFICER. DURANT IS CHARGED WITH STEALING THE MULTI MILLION DOLLAR HESSE GEMS FROM A GERMAN CASTLE, FORMERLY USED AS AN ARMY REST CAMP.

VAPT. GLENN V.BRUMBAUGH, DEFENSE COUNSEL, TOLD THE COURT HE WANTED TO FURTHER CROSS EXAMINE PRINCESS SOPHIA, A MEMBER OF THE HESSE FAMILY BY MARRIAGE.

BRUMBAUGH SAID THE PRINCESS, NOW IN EUROPE, APPEARED AS A WITNESS BEFORE THE TRIAL WAS SHIFTED FROM GERMANY TO THIS COUNTRY. HE CONTENDED THERE WAS AN UNDERSTANDING THAT SHE COULD BE RECALLED LATER.

THE MILITARY COURT ADJOURNED FOR THE DAY AFTER A QUARTER-HOUR SESSION WITHOUT RULING ON THE DEFENSE PLEA. IF GRANTED, THE TRIAL PRESUMABLY WOULD HAVE TO BE MOVED AGAIN TO EUROPE TO GET THE PRINCESS' TESTIMONY, THEN BE RETURNED HERE FOR TESTIMONY OF AMERICAN DEFENSE WITNESSES.

ROBINSON OPPOSED RECALLING THE PRINCESS, SAYING THAT DEFENSE HAD HAD FULL OPPORTUNITY TO CROSS EXAMINE HER AND NOW IS ONLY ATTEMPTING TO "STALL" THE PROCEEDINGS.

(170) WASHINGTON,MARCH 11-(AP)-SAVA N.KOSANOVIC, YUGOSLAV AMBASSADOR TO THE UNITED STATES, TOOK ISSUE TODAY WITH STATE DEPARTMENT REPORTS THAT "THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT HAS REPEATEDLY AND PUBLICLY STATED ITS SUPPLIES OF FOOD ARE ADEQUATE TO MEET ESSENTIAL DEMANDS UNTIL THE NEXT HARVEST."

THE DEPARTMENT HAS RULED THAT YUGOSLAVIA MUST PRESENT "CLEAR EVIDENCE THAT A REAL NEED NOW EXISTS" BEFORE GETTING AUTHORITY TO BUY GRAIN FROM THIS COUNTRY.

KOSANOVIC SAID IN A STATEMENT THAT ON FEB.13 HE PRESENTED A MEMORANDUM TO UNDERSECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON "EXPRESSING OUR GRAVE CONCERN OVER THE FOOD SITUATION IN YUGOSLAVIA."

THE AMBASSADOR SAID THE UNRRA MISSION IN YUGOSLAVIA HAD MADE IT CLEAR "AT ALL TIMES, IN CAREFULLY DOCUMENTED FINDINGS, THAT THE FOOD SITUATION IN YUGOSLAVIA AFTER TWO CONSECUTIVE YEARS OF DROUGHT IS CRITICAL."

HE ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THE BELGRADE NEWSPAPER POLITIKA PUBLISHED AN ARTICLE ON JAN.25 STATING THAT THE FOOD SITUATION WAS "NOT ONE OF EXTREME CRISIS," BUT DECLARED THAT THE NEWSPAPER ACTED "IN AN EFFORT TO AVOID UNDUE PUBLIC ALARM."

U.N.

BY CHARLES A. GRUMICH

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 11-(AP)-THE MAIN ISSUES IN THE AMERICAN PLAN FOR WORLD ATOMIC CONTROL WERE BACK TODAY WHERE THEY STARTED NINE MONTHS AGO, WITH RUSSIA AND THE UNITED STATES STILL LOCKED IN DISAGREEMENT.

THE PROBLEM WAS RETURNED TO THE UNITED NATIONS ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION LAST NIGHT BY THE SECURITY COUNCIL, WHICH ASKED THE COMMISSION TO CONTINUE SEARCHING ALL PHASES OF THE QUESTION AND, "IN DUE COURSE," BEGIN DRAFTING "ULTIMATE PROPOSALS."

THESE PROPOSALS WOULD HAVE TO BRIDGE THE VITAL AREAS OF DISAGREEMENT BETWEEN THE TWO GREAT POWERS WHICH BECAME APPARENT ALMOST AS SOON AS BERNARD M. BARUCH LAID THE AMERICAN NO-VETO PLAN BEFORE THE COMMISSION LAST JUNE 14.

THE ATOMIC PROBLEM WAS REFERRED BACK TO THE COMMISSION WHEN, WITH A RARE DISPLAY OF UNANIMITY UNMARRED EVEN BY ABSTENTIONS, THE COUNCIL DECIDED THAT THERE HAD BEEN NO AGREEMENT BETWEEN RUSSIA AND THE MAJORITY-BACKED UNITED STATES ON HOW TO UNIVERSALIZE ATOMIC ENERGY WITHOUT MENACING PEACE.

THE COUNCIL RETURNED THE "PROGRESS REPORT" THE COMMISSION HAD APPROVED LAST DECEMBER BY A 10-0 VOTE, WITH RUSSIA AND POLAND ABSTAINING, AND WITH IT SENT A RECORD OF THE COUNCIL'S DEBATES ON ATOMICS AND AN ADDED REQUEST FOR A SECOND INTERIM REPORT BEFORE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY MEETS IN NEW YORK NEXT SEPTEMBER.

SOVIET DELEGATE ANDREI A. GROMYKO, WHO HOLDS THE ATOMIC COMMISSION CHAIRMANSHIP FOR THE CURRENT MONTH UNDER ALPHABETIC ROTATION OF THE GAVEL AMONG THE 12 MEMBER NATIONS, SAID HE WAS UNDECIDED WHEN HE WOULD CALL A FORMAL MEETING TO RECEIVE THE COUNCIL'S RESOLUTION.

THE UNITED STATES HAS A NEW DEPUTY DELEGATE, FREDERICK OSBORN OF NEW YORK, ANTHROPOLOGIST AND FORMER ARMY MAJOR GENERAL, READY FOR THE RENEWAL OF THE ATOMIC DISCUSSIONS IN THE COMMISSION.

WARREN R. AUSTIN, CHIEF AMERICAN DELEGATE, INITIATED THE MOVE TO SEND THE ATOMIC REPORT BACK TO THE COMMISSION IN THE FACE OF UNCOMPROMISING RUSSIAN OPPOSITION TO WAIVING THE BIG POWER VETO ON ATOMIC VIOLATIONS AND PUNISHMENTS.

AUSTIN'S MOVE WAS BEGUN BEFORE GROMYKO LAST WEDNESDAY WIDENED THE AREA OF DISAGREEMENT IN A 78-MINUTE SPEECH ATTACKING UNRESTRICTED INSPECTIONS WHICH MIGHT VIOLATE NATIONAL SOVEREIGNTY AND CHARGING THAT AMERICAN ATOMIC POLICY WAS DIRECTED AGAINST THE INDEPENDENCE OF OTHER COUNTRIES.

more

30. 24- 8433

AUSTIN YESTERDAY DENIED GROMYKO'S ADDED CHARGE THAT THE UNITED STATES INTENDED TO KEEP A MONOPOLY ON ATOMIC ENERGY AND SHARPLY CHALLENGED THE RUSSIAN COUNTER-PLANS FOR ATOMICS.

"THEY DO NOT PROVIDE FOR AN INTERNATIONAL SYSTEM OF CONTROL OF ATOMIC ENERGY AT ALL," AUSTIN SAID. "THEY PROVIDE FOR A SYSTEM WHICH AT BEST WOULD GIVE NO SECURITY, AND AT WORST WOULD BE A CONSTANT INCENTIVE TO DISTRUST AND WAR."

THE SOVIET PLAN OFFERED SOON AFTER BARUCH'S ORIGINAL PROPOSALS WERE MADE WOULD KEEP MAJOR POWER VETO CONTROL OVER ATOMICS IN THE SECURITY COUNCIL, WOULD ABOLISH THE ATOM BOMB FIRST AND THEN SET UP A CONTROL AGENCY WITH POWERS ON A RESTRICTED SCALE FOR MANAGEMENT AND INSPECTIONS AGAINST ABUSES.

THE UNITED STATES, LIKEWISE UNYIELDING BUT WITH MAJORITY SUPPORT FOR ITS PLAN, INSISTS ON DISCARDING THE VETO ON ATOMIC MATTERS ONLY, AND THEN WOULD GRADUALLY RELEASE THE ATOMIC SECRETS APACE WITH THE EFFECTIVE SETTING-UP OF A WORLD-WIDE ATOMIC DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY WHICH WOULD SAFEGUARD AND CONTROL THE ATOM.

"BECAUSE THE UNITED STATES BELIEVES THAT NATIONAL RIVALRIES WOULD CREATE SECRECY, SUSPICION AND FINALLY PREPARATION FOR THE HORRORS OF ATOMIC WAR," AUSTIN SAID YESTERDAY, "IT HAS PROPOSED TO TURN OVER IN DUE COURSE ALL ITS KNOWLEDGE, ITS FACILITIES AND ITS SCIENTIFIC SKILLS TO AN INTERNATIONAL AGENCY UNDER NECESSARY SAFEGUARDS."

BELGIUM AND COLOMBIA, WHICH JOINED THE COUNCIL LAST JAN.1, MADE KNOWN THEIR APPROVAL OF THE AMERICAN PLAN FOR THE FIRST TIME, ASSURING THE UNITED STATES A MAJORITY BACKING OF AT LEAST NINE MEMBERS OF THE 12-NATION ATOMIC COMMISSION AND EIGHT OF THE 11 IN THE SECURITY COUNCIL.

CHINA AND FRANCE REITERATED THEIR ENDORSEMENT OF THE AMERICAN PRINCIPLES, AND ALEXANDRE PARODI OF FRANCE TOLD THE COUNCIL HE CONSIDERED GROMYKO'S ATOMIC "MONOPOLY" CHARGE AGAINST THE UNITED STATES WAS A REFLECTION ON THE TEN MEMBERS OF THE ATOMIC COMMISSION WHO APPROVED ITS REPORT LAST DECEMBER.

U.N. - PALESTINE (400)

MAR 1947

BY LARRY HAUCK

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., MARCH 11-(AP)-UNITED NATIONS OFFICIALS PRIVATELY FEAR THAT INTRODUCTION OF THE EXPLOSIVE PALESTINE PROBLEM HERE WILL BRING A SERIES OF UNPRECEDENTED HEADACHES TO THE YOUNG PEACE AGENCY.

NEVER BEFORE HAS THE U.N. BEEN CALLED UPON TO HANDLE A QUESTION CUTTING SUCH A WIDE PATH ACROSS RELIGIOUS, RACIAL AND NATIONAL LINES.

QUESTIONS STRICTLY BETWEEN GOVERNMENTS HAVE TURNED UP MANY PROCEDURAL PROBLEMS, BUT MOST OF THESE COULD BE SOLVED WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF U.N. RULES AND REGULATIONS. PALESTINE BRINGS NEW MAJOR ISSUES SUCH AS THESE:

1--WHO WILL SPEAK FOR THE JEWS? THERE IS NO JEWISH GOVERNMENT AND ONLY SOVEREIGN NATIONS MAY ARGUE OFFICIALLY IN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, SECURITY COUNCIL OR TRUSTEESHIP COUNCIL. THIS ISSUE IS POINTED UP BY THE FACT THAT THE ARABS WILL HAVE A GALAXY OF SPOKESMEN THROUGH THE PRESENCE OF FIVE ARAB STATES IN THE ASSEMBLY AND ONE EACH IN THE SECURITY AND TRUSTEESHIP COUNCILS.

2--WHAT STATES SHALL BE DECLARED "NEUTRAL?" THIS PROBLEM CAME TO THE FRONT EARLY THROUGH A SUGGESTION FOR A SPECIAL COMMISSION OF THE BIG FIVE AND SMALL "NEUTRAL" STATES TO STUDY THE WHOLE CONTROVERSY. THE ARABS IMMEDIATELY CONTENDED THAT THEY WERE AS "NEUTRAL" AS THE UNITED STATES OR GREAT BRITAIN, WHICH WOULD HAVE SEATS ON THE BODY.

IN REGARD TO THE FIRST QUESTION, THE JEWS APPARENTLY CAN TAKE ONE OF TWO COURSES--EITHER GET SOME COUNTRY TO SPONSOR THEIR STATEMENTS TO MAKE THEM ACCEPTABLE OFFICIALLY OR CIRCULATE DIRECTLY TO DELEGATES THROUGH A LIST OF HOME ADDRESSES.

UNDER CURRENT REGULATIONS ANY MEMBER GOVERNMENT MAY USE THE FACILITIES OF THE U.N. TO CIRCULATE STATEMENTS WITH THE SOLE STIPULATION THAT SUCH DATA MUST DEAL WITH AN ISSUE BEING CONSIDERED BY THE WORLD AGENCY. THUS ANY MEMBER OF THE ARAB LEAGUE HAS THE RIGHT TO CALL UPON THE U.N. TO PASS OUT AS MUCH MATERIAL AS DESIRED ON AN OFFICIAL BASIS.

MAR 1947

B10 (S E C G)

AT PRESENT THERE ARE 18 JEWISH GROUPS REGISTERED WITH THE U.N. AS NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS. THIS BRINGS THEM PERMANENT SPECTATOR SEATS FOR MEETINGS, ACCESS TO OFFICIAL DOCUMENTS AND THE RIGHT TO ATTEND SPECIAL BACKGROUND CONFERENCES HELD BY THE U.N. ITSELF.

THE GROUPS HAVE NO RIGHT, HOWEVER, TO CIRCULATE DOCUMENTS TO DELEGATES AND TO THE ASSEMBLY AND COUNCILS THROUGH OFFICIAL CHANNELS. THE ORGANIZATIONS MAY FORWARD SUCH COMPLAINTS, RESOLUTIONS, AND SUGGESTIONS TO SECRETARY-GENERAL TRYGVE LIE, WHO MAY LIST THEM IN MEMORANDA TO THE 55 NATIONS. OFFICIAL PUBLICATION CAN FOLLOW ONLY AT THE SPECIFIC REQUEST OF A GOVERNMENT.

THE JEWISH AGENCY FOR PALESTINE AND THE WORLD JEWISH CONGRESS HAVE BEEN RECOMMENDED FOR CATEGORY B RIGHTS AS NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS IN THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL. THIS WOULD GIVE LITTLE ADDITIONAL RIGHTS EXCEPT THAT OF BEING INVITED BY THE COUNCIL TO CONSULT ON ISSUES AFFECTING THEM DIRECTLY.

HOWEVER, EVEN THIS PRIVILEGE WOULD NOT EXTEND TO THE ASSEMBLY OR OTHER TWO COUNCILS, ONE OF WHICH APPARENTLY WILL DEAL WITH THE WHOLE ISSUE OF THE HOLY LAND.

BESIDES THE JEWISH AGENCY AND THE WORLD CONGRESS, THE ORGANIZATIONS REGISTERED WITH THE U.N. INCLUDE:

AMERICAN JEWISH CONGRESS, AMERICAN LEAGUE FOR A FREE PALESTINE, B'NAI BRITH, HADASSAH, JEWISH LABOR COMMITTEE, JEWISH WAR VETERANS OF THE UNITED STATES, NATIONAL COUNCIL OF JEWISH WOMEN, AGUDAS ISRAEL WORLD ORGANIZATION, AGUDATH ISRAEL YOUTH COUNCIL OF AMERICA, AMERICAN COUNCIL FOR JUDAISM, AMERICAN JEWISH COMMITTEE, AMERICAN JEWISH CONFERENCE, NATIONAL JEWISH WELFARE BOARD, UNION OF SEPHARDIC CONGREGATIONS, CANADIAN JEWISH CONGRESS, AND COOPERATIVE COUNCIL OF JEWISH AGENCIES.

A SPOKESMAN FOR THE AMERICAN DELEGATION EXPRESSED BELIEF THAT NO SERIOUS OBSTACLE STOOD IN THE WAY OF FINAL ACTION.

THE ONLY DIFFICULTIES WERE TWO MODIFICATIONS PROPOSED BY GREAT BRITAIN AND ONE BY THE SOVIET UNION BUT INFORMED QUARTERS EXPRESSED BELIEF NEITHER WOULD PRESS HIS VIEW TO THE POINT OF INVOKING THE BIG POWER VETO.

THE TWO BRITISH AMENDMENTS PROPOSE:

1. THAT ALL MEMBERS OF THE U.N. BE GIVEN THE SAME COMMERCIAL RIGHTS AS THE UNITED STATES IN THE ISLANDS, WHICH INCLUDE THE MARSHALLS, MARIANAS AND CAROLINES.

2. THAT THE UNITED STATES BE REQUIRED TO GIVE NOTICE BEFORE IT EXERCISES ITS RIGHT TO CLOSE ANY OF THE ISLAND AREAS FOR SECURITY REASONS.

THE SOVIET AMENDMENT PROVIDES THAT THE SECURITY COUNCIL WOULD HAVE AUTHORITY TO AMEND OR TERMINATE THE TRUSTEESHIP AGREEMENT UNDER WHICH THE ISLANDS WILL BE ADMINISTERED.

THIS PROVISION WOULD BE SUBSTITUTED FOR THE U.S. PROPOSAL THAT NO CHANGES WOULD BE MADE WITHOUT APPROVAL OF THE UNITED STATES.

FINAL ACTION WAS POSTPONED LAST WEEK PRIMARILY BECAUSE AUSTRALIAN DELEGATE PAUL HASLUCK INSISTED THAT INDIA, NEW ZEALAND AND OTHER PACIFIC STATES NOT ON THE SECURITY COUNCIL SHOULD BE GIVEN AN OPPORTUNITY TO EXPRRESS THEIR VIEWS ON THE U.S. PROPOSAL.

AN AMERICAN SPOKESMAN SAID TODAY NONE OF THESE STATES HAD TAKEN ADVANTAGE OF THE OPPORTUNITY TO SUBMIT ANY COMMENT AND THAT, AS A RESULT, IT WAS ASSUMED THEY HAD NO OBJECTIONS.

NEW YORK, MARCH 11-(AP)-SERGE RUBINSTEIN, INTERNATIONAL FINANCIER BEING TRIED ON DRAFT EVASION CHARGES, WAS CALLED A "YELLOW SLACKER" BY A COURTROOM SPECTATOR TODAY WHO LAUNCHED A TIRADE OF ABUSE AT THE RUSSIAN-BORN BUSINESSMAN BEFORE THE SPECTATOR COULD BE EJECTED FROM THE CHAMBER.

RUBINSTEIN WAS SEATED AT THE COUNSEL TABLE AFTER THE FEDERAL COURT HAD RECESSED WHEN AN UNIDENTIFIED MAN, WEARING A DISCHARGE BUTTON, RUSHED TOWARD THE RAILING AND SHOUTED:

"YOU AND YOUR MILLIONS AND YOUR LAWYERS WHO DEFEND YOU. YOU'LL WALK OUT OF HERE FREE!"

A MOMENT LATER, HE WAS CAUGHT IN A KNOT OF SPECTATORS AND TAKEN IN CHARGE BY COURT ATTENDANTS. AS HE STRUGGLED WITH THE BAILIFFS, HE SHOUTED AGAIN: "I'LL KILL YOU MYSELF!"

RUBINSTEIN BLANCHED AS THE OUTBURST BEGAN, THEN FLUSHED AS THE TIRADE, SPRINKLED WITH PROFANITY AND OBSCENITY, CONTINUED.

THE 38-YEAR-OLD FINANCIER AND HIS ATTORNEY REMAINED IN THE COURTROOM UNTIL THE MAN WAS ESCORTED FROM THE BUILDING AND RELEASED.

RUBINSTEIN AND TWO OTHER DEFENDANTS ARE ON TRIAL ON CHARGES OF FALSIFYING THE FORMER'S DRAFT STATUS BY ATTESTING THAT HIS BUSINESS ACTIVITIES WERE NECESSARY TO THE WAR EFFORT AND HIS RELATIVES WERE DEPENDENT UPON HIS INCOME FOR SUPPORT.

THE CO-DEFENDANTS ARE JAMES C.HART, FORMER PRESIDENT OF THE TAYLOR-CRAFT AVIATION CORPROATION, AND ALLEN FOSTER, FORMER DIRECTOR OF THE PANHANDLE PRODUCING AND REFINING CORPORATION.

THE TRIAL NOW IS IN ITS SECOND WEEK.

(ADVANCE)...LONDON, (MARCH 8-(AP)-GREAT BRITAIN'S FEBRUARY COAL AND POWER CRISIS LEFT THE NATION AT LEAST £75,000,000 ($300,000,000 OUT OF POCKET.

THIS FIGURE INCLUDES A POSITIVE LOSS OF $200,000,000--AN ESTIMATE WHICH A GOVERNMENT ECONOMIST SAID WAS "PROBABLY LOW"--PLUS $100,000,000 IN ESTIMATED LOSSES TO INDUSTRIES FOR WHICH FIGURES ARE NOT YET AVAILABLE.

THE LOSSES COVER ONLY THE STORM-SWEPT THREE WEEKS BEGINNING FEB. 8 DURING WHICH BRITISH INDUSTRY WAS FORCED TO SHUT DOWN BECAUSE OF SHORTAGES OF COAL AND POWER. THE INDUSTRIAL COST OF THIS WEEK'S MARCH BLIZZARD HAS NOT BEEN CALCULATED.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE KNOWN MAJOR FEBRUARY LOSSES:

MOTOR OUTPUT--$78,000,000.

WAGES--$67,000,000.

MACHINE TOOLS AND MACHINERY--$38,000,000.

ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT--$22,000,000.

STEEL INGOT PRODUCTION--$8,000,000.

COTTON TEXTILES--$8,000,000.

MAR 1947

LOSSES IN SUCH INDUSTRIES AS RAILROADS, FURNITURE, POTTERY, FOOD PRODUCTION AND CUTLERY CANNOT BE ASSESSED FOR SEVERAL MONTHS, GOVERNMENT EXPERTS SAID.

IT WAS EXPLAINED THAT FROM THE TIME A MOTOR CAR OR MACHINE TOOL ROLLS OFF THE PRODUCTION LINE TO THE DAY IT SHOWS UP IN EXPORT FIGURES SEVERAL MONTHS OFTEN ELAPSE. THE LONG-DRAWN OUT EFFECT OF THE CRISIS MAY RESULT IN A LOSS OF ALL TYPES OF EXPORTS OF MORE THAN $200,000,000.

EVERY DAY OF LOST PRODUCTION MEANS BRITAIN WILL HAVE THAT MUCH TOUGHER A JOB TO KEEP HER PLACE IN THE STRUGGLE FOR WORLD MARKETS. BRITISH MOTOR MAKERS NOW ARE TAKING NOTE OF REPORTS THAT RECENTLY FOR EVERY BRITISH MOTOR CAR IMPORTED BY SOUTH AFRICA, FOUR AMERICAN CARS HAVE BEEN IMPORTED.

GOVERNMENT EXPERTS STRESS THAT INDUSTRY CANNOT GET BACK ON ITS FEET BY ANY PROCESS SO SIMPLE AS THROWING A SWITCH.

STEEL MEN THINK THE CLIMB-BACK WILL BE SLOW.

"IT WILL BE A NUMBER OF WEEKS BEFORE WE GET BACK TO FULL-TILT OUTPUT," A LEADER IN THAT FIELD SAID. "AT THE TIME OF THE SHUTDOWN A NUMBER OF FURNANCES WERE PUT INTO REPAIR. THIS WILL PAY OFF IN THE LONG RUN BUT IT'S BOUND TO MAKE THE COMEBACK SLOW. WHAT WE'D LIKE IS STEEL FROM THE UNITED STATES BUT VERY LITTLE IS COMING IN. WE MIGHT GET SOME BY SUMMER OR LATE AUTUMN."

BUILDING--ANOTHER OF BRITAIN'S POST-WAR PROBLEMS--HAS TAKEN A BAD BUMP IN THE CRISIS. LATEST GOVERNMENT ESTIMATES INDICATE THAT THE BUILDING PROGRAM HAS BEEN RETARDED BY SOME 40,000 HOUSES.

THEY LOOK FOR QUICK REBOUNDS IN WHAT THEY CALL THE "SIMPLE" INDUSTRIES--LIKE LIGHT ENGINEERING, TEXTILES AND FURNITURE MAKING.

THE "COMPLEX" ONES--THOSE CALLING FOR A SMOOTH FLOW OF POWER AND NEEDING THE RIGHT PARTS IN THE RIGHT PLACES AT THE RIGHT TIME--WILL FIND THE SLEDDING ROUGH AND JERKY. PROBABLE LAGGARDS INCLUDE MOTORS, ENGINEERING PRODUCTS AND CHEMICALS.

A SPOKESMAN FOR ONE OF BRITAIN'S BIGGEST MOTOR MAKERS PUT IT THIS WAY:

MAR 1947

"WE ARE LIVING ON THE EDGE OF A SHUT-DOWN. THOUGH IT'S EASY ENOUGH TO CALCULATE THE RECENT LOSSES THERE'S NO WAY TO TELL HOW DEEP THE LONG-TERM LOSSES WILL BE. ONE OF OUR BIGGEST PROBLEMS WILL BE TO GET PARTS--GLASS, WHEELS, ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT--FROM PLANTS WHICH ALSO HAD TO SHUT DOWN."

COAL OUTPUT--THE KEYSTONE IN THE NATION'S RECOVERY EFFORTS--HAS BEEN AN EXCEPTION TO DECLINES IN OTHER INDUSTRIES. LATEST FIGURES SHOWED A RISING TREND.

IN THE WEEK ENDED FEB.22 OUTPUT WAS 4,000,000 TONS. NEVERTHELESS NATIONAL COAL BOARD OFFICIALS REMAIN WORRIED. CONSUMPTION, THEY POINT OUT, IS RUNNING SLIGHTLY AHEAD OF PRODUCTION AND STOCKS ARE PERILOUSLY LOW.

AROUND THE TREASURY AND OTHER PLACES WHERE HIGH POLICY IS MADE BROWS ARE FURROWED OVER WHAT GOVERNMENT MEN FRANKLY CALL "THE INFLATION PROBLEM."

BRIEFLY THE PROBLEM IS THAT IN RELATION TO THE AMOUNT OF GOO

BRITAIN'S SHELVES THERE IS TOO MUCH LOOSE MONEY LYING AROUND--MOSTLY FROM WAR SAVINGS AND OVERTIME EARNED IN WAR PLANTS.

HOLDERS OF THIS MONEY ARE ITCHING TO EXCHANGE IT FOR RADIOS, CARS, HOUSES, BUT THE PRODUCTION DIP HAS CUT INTO SUPPLIES AND WIDENED THE GAP BETWEEN THE SUPPLY OF MONEY AND THE SUPPLY OF GOODS. ON THE ONE HAND IS A SMALL PILE OF GOODS. ON THE OTHER A BIG PILE OF MONEY. THE DANGER, THEY SAY, IS THAT THE LARGE SUPPLY OF MONEY MAY START VIGOROUS BIDDING FOR THE SMALL SUPPLY OF GOODS AND SWEEP PRICES HIGHER.

TRUMAN ACTS TO SPRAG COMMUNISM

Requests $400 Million for Greece, Turkey

Vandenberg Calls For Quick Action

Balkan Nations Need Money, Military Aid, Congress Told

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP).—In a historic turning point of American foreign policy, President Truman called on the nation today to devote money, materials and military skill to halt the world march of Communism.

Addressing a joint session of Congress, the President specifically requested $400 million to aid Greece and Turkey, hard-pressed Mediterranean bulwarks against the totalitarian tide.

A great, heart-searching debate began immediately on Capitol Hill. Some Congress members expressed fear of eventual war with Russia, others spoke sadly of the blow to attempts at domestic economy.

But from influential Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.), presiding officer of the Senate and Chairman of its foreign relations committee, came this statement:

"We cannot fail to back up the President at such an hour—even though many critical details remain to be settled in consultation with Congress."

Vandenberg called a session of the Foreign Relations Committee for tomorrow to hear Dean Acheson, acting Secretary of State, on details of the President's program.

In response to reporters' queries as to how soon a congressional decision might be expected, Vandenberg said Congress should be able "to do what the President wants by March 31."

But he called for the development of a "total policy" which would avoid imperialism, "primarily consult American welfare" and "keep faith with the pledges to the charter of the United Nations."

"It is very essential," he said, "that our foreign policy be put in gear all around the world so that it achieves the same results everywhere."

In later afternoon a group of Republicans on the House Foreign Affairs Committee went into a private conference. Asked what they discussed they said:

"The general world situation."

Word that budget plans had been "knocked askew" by the President's program came from Senator Bridges (R., N. H.), chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee.. He said the new $400 million request would have to be taken into consideration by legislators trying to cut Mr. Truman's $37½ billion budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The development threw a further hurdle in the path of the drive, being pushed by some Republicans, for a 20 per cent cut in income taxes.

Mr. Truman, in his speech, served notice that he would not hesitate to ask for more than $400 million if necessary "to help free peoples to maintain their free institutions and their national integrity against aggressive movements that seek to impose upon them totalitarian regimes."

He said:

"If we falter in our leadership, we may endanger the peace of the world—and we shall surely endanger the welfare of our own nation."

Before his taut-faced, tense and anxious audience, he laid a request for:

1. Permission to spend $400 million in Greece and Turkey for the period ending June 30, 1948.

2. The right to send civilian personnel and military men to the two countries to assist in reconstruction and to supervise use of the aid.

3. Legislation giving the administration scope in making the "speediest and most effective use" of the funds in terms of "needed commodities, supplies and equipment."

4. Authority to provide for the instruction and training of "selected" Greek and Turkish personnel. In the absence of more specific information, this could mean military training in the United States such as was provided during the war for British aviators.

The nation's lawmakers, as they followed the President's words, reflected his grave mood. Only thrice did they punctuate the address with applause—once when he served notice that the aid must be "supervised," again when he lashed out at "totalitarian regimes," a third when he said the alternative to direct aid "is much more serious."

The immediate reaction of the members of Congress can be spelled out in few words—anxious but serious. They pondered the impact of his requests upon their long cherished hopes for peacetime economies, tax cuts and debt reductions.

White House aides were reported to have drafted bills breaking down the $400 million request into two sums—$250 million for Greece and the balance for Turkey.

As he dealt in detail with the plight of Greece and Turkey in their efforts to maintain their independence, Mr. Truman spoke in mild tones of sympathy.

But his voice hardened as he struck out at "aggressive" totalitarianism.

Not once did Mr. Truman refer to Russia by name. But his meaning was obvious.

He said that the United States has made "frequent protests against coercion and intimidation, in violation of the Yalta Agreement, in Poland, Romania and Bulgaria."

These are countries which, since war's end, have fallen within the spheres of Russian influence—examples of what Mr. Truman, by his move today, would seek to prevent.

And he added: "I must also state that in a number of other countries there have been similar developments." He did not identify them.

He did, however, refer to Yugoslavia, which under Marshal (Tito) Broz—protege of Premier Stalin—is working in close collaboration with Russia.

"The very existence of the Greek state," he said, "is today threatened by the terrorist activities of several thousand armed men, led by Communists, who defy the Government's authority at a number of points, particularly along its northern borders."

"A commission appointed by the United Nations Security Council is at present investigating disturbed conditions in northern Greece and alleged border violations along the frontier between Greece on the one hand and Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia on the other."

It was against this background that Mr. Truman, facing perhaps his most important assignment since taking over the Presidency, hammered out, point by point, the difficulties and decisions confronting this nation since impoverished Britain served notice of her intention of casting off commitments in the Southern Mediterranean.

Succinctly, he summed up the situation in widely spaced paragraphs in his 2,500 word address.

Reaffirming America's goal of "lasting freedom and independence" for all nations, he asserted:

"Totalitarian regimes imposed upon free peoples, by direct or indirect aggression, undermine the foundations of international peace and hence the security of the United States."

Truman's Message to Congress

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP).—The complete text of President Truman's message to Congress today on the Mediterranean situation follows:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, members of the Congress of the United States:

The gravity of the situation which confronts the world today necessitates my appearance before a joint session of the Congress.

The foreign policy and the national security of this country are involved.

One aspect of the present situation, which I wish to present to you at this time for your consideration and decision, concerns Greece and Turkey.

The United States has received from the Greek government an urgent appeal for financial and economic assistance. Preliminary reports from the American economic mission now in Greece and reports from the American Ambassador in Greece corroborate the statement of the Greek government that assistance is imperative if Greece is to survive as a free nation.

I do not believe that the American people and the Congress wish to turn a deaf ear to the appeal of the Greek government.

Greece is not a rich country. Lack of sufficient natural resources has always forced the Greek people to work hard to make both ends meet. Since 1940 this industrious and peace-loving country has suffered invasion, four years of cruel enemy occupation and bitter internal strife.

When forces of liberation entered Greece they found that the retreating Germans had destroyed virtually all the railways, roads, port facilities, communications and merchant marine. More than a thousand villages had been burned. Eighty-five per cent of the children were tubercular. Livestock, poultry and draft animals had almost disappeared. Inflation had wiped out practically all savings.

Political Chaos Created

As a result of these tragic conditions, a militant minority, exploiting human want and misery, was able to create political chaos which, until now, has made economic recovery impossible.

Greece is today without funds to finance the importation of those goods which are essential to bare subsistence. Under these circumstances the people of Greece cannot make progress in solving their problems of reconstruction. Greece is in desperate need of financial and economic assistance to enable it to resume purchases of food, clothing, fuel and seeds. These are indispensable for the subsistence of its people and are obtainable only from abroad. Greece must have help to import the goods necessary to restore internal order and security so essential for economic and political recovery.

The Greek government has also asked for the assistance of experienced American administrators, economists and technicians to insure that the financial and other aid given to Greece shall be used effectively in creating a stable and self-sustaining economy and in improving its public administration.

The very existence of the Greek state is today threatened by the terrorist activities of several thousand armed men, led by Communists, who defy the government's authority at a number of points, particularly along the northern boundaries. A commission appointed by the United Nations Security Council is at present investigating disturbed conditions in northern Greece on the one hand and Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia on the other.

Army Poorly Equipped

Meanwhile, the Greek government is unable to cope with the situation. The Greek army is small and poorly equipped. It needs supplies and equipment if it is to restore the authority of the government throughout Greek territory.

Greece must have assistance if it is to become a self-supporting and self-respecting democracy.

The United States must supply that assistance. We have already extended to Greece certain types of relief and economic aid but these are inadequate.

There is no other country to which democratic Greece can turn.

No other nation is willing and able to provide the necessary support for a democratic Greek government.

The British government, which has been helping Greece, can give no further financial or economic aid after March 31. Great Britain finds itself under the necessity of reducing or liquidating its commitments in several parts of the world, including Greece.

We have considered how the United Nations might assist in this crisis. But the situation is an urgent one requiring immediate action, and the United Nations and its related organizations are not in a position to extend help of the kind that is required.

It is important to note that the Greek government has asked for our aid in utilizing effectively the financial and other assistance we may give to Greece, and in improving its public administration. It is of the utmost importance that we supervise the use of any funds made available to Greece, in such a manner that each dollar spent will count toward making Greece self-supporting, and will help to build an economy in which a healthy democracy can flourish.

Government Not Perfect

No government is perfect. One of the chief virtues of a democracy, however, is that its defects are always visible and under democratic processes can be pointed out and corrected. The government of Greece is not perfect. Nevertheless it represents 80 per cent of the members of the Greek Parliament who were chosen in an election last year. Foreign observers, including 692 Americans, considered this election to be a fair expression of the views of the Greek people.

The Greek government has been operating in an atmosphere of chaos and extremism. It has made mistakes. The extension of aid by this country does not mean that the United States condones everything that the Greek government has done or will do. We have condemned in the past, and we condemn now, extremist measures of the Right or the Left. We have in the past advised tolerance, and we advise tolerance now.

Greece's neighbor, Turkey, also deserves our attention.

The future of Turkey as an independent and economically sound state is clearly no less important to the freedom-loving people of the world than the future of Greece. The circumstances in which Turkey finds itself today are considerably different from those of Greece. Turkey has been spared the disasters that have beset Greece. And during the war the United States and Great Britain furnished Turkey with material aid. Nevertheless, Turkey now needs our support.

Since the war, Turkey has sought financial assistance from Great Britain and the United States for the purpose of effecting that modernization necessary for the maintenance of its national integrity.

That integrity is essential to the preservation of order in the Middle East.

The British government has informed us that, owing to its own difficulties, it can no longer extend financial or economic aid to Turkey.

As in the case of Greece, if Turkey is to have the assistance it needs, the United States must supply it. We are the only country able to provide that help.

Aware of Implications

I am fully aware of the broad implications involved if the United States extends assistance to Greece and Turkey, and I shall discuss these implications with you at this time.

One of the primary objectives of the foreign policy of the United States is the creation of conditions in which we and other nations will be able to work out a way of life free from coercion. This was a fundamental issue in the war with Germany and Japan. Our victory was won over countries which sought to impose their will, and their way of life, upon other nations.

To insure the peaceful development of nations, free from coercion, the United States has taken a leading part in establishing the United Nations. The United Nations is designed to make possible lasting freedom and independence for all its members. We shall not realize our objectives, however, unless we are willing to help free people to maintain their free institutions and their national integrity against aggressive movements that seek to impose upon them totalitarian regimes. This is no more than a frank recognition that totalitarian regimes imposed on free peoples, by direct or indirect aggression, undermine the foundations of international peace and hence the security of the United States.

The peoples of a number of countries of the world have recently had totalitarian regimes forced upon them against their will. The government of the United States has made frequent protests against coercion and intimidation, in violation of the Yalta agreement, in Poland, Rumania and Bulgaria. I must also state that in a number of other countries there have been similar developments.

Alternative Ways of Life

At the present moment in world history nearly every nation must choose between alternative ways of life. The choice is too often not a free one.

One way of life is based upon the will of the majority, and is distinguished by free institutions, representative government, free elections, guaranties of individual liberty, freedom of speech and religion and freedom from political oppression.

The second way of life is based upon the will of a minority forcibly imposed upon the majority. It relies upon terror and oppression, a controlled press and radio, fixed elections and the suppression of personal freedoms.

I believe that it must be the policy of the United States to support peoples who are resisting attempted subjugation by armed minorities or by outside pressures.

I believe that we must assist free peoples to work out their own destinies in their own way.

I believe that our help should be primarily through economic and financial aid which is essential to economic stability and orderly political processes.

The world is not static, and the status quo is not sacred. But we cannot allow changes in the status quo in violation of the charter of the United Nations by such methods as coercion, or by such subterfuges as political infiltration. In helping free and independent nations to maintain their freedom, the United States will be giving effect to the principles of the charter of the United Nations.

Greece's Survival Vital

It is necessary only to glance at a map to realize that the survival and integrity of the Greek nation are of grave importance in a much wider situation. If Greece should fall under the control of an armed minority, the effect upon its neighbor, Turkey, would be immediate and serious. Confusion and disorder might well spread throughout the entire Middle East.

Moreover, the disappearance of Greece as an independent state would have a profound effect upon those countries in Europe whose peoples are struggling against great difficulties to maintain their freedoms and their independence while they repair the damages of war.

It would be an unspeakable tragedy if these countries, which have struggled so long against overwhelming odds, should lose that victory for which they sacrificed so much. Collapse of free institutions and loss of independence would be disastrous not only for them but for the world. Discouragement and possibly failure would quickly be the lot of neighboring peoples striving to maintain their freedom and independence.

Should we fail to aid Greece and Turkey in this fateful hour, the effect will be far-reaching to the West as well as to the East.

We must take immediate and resolute action.

I therefore ask the Congress to provide authority for assistance to Greece and Turkey in the amount of $400,000,000 for the period ending June 30, 1948. In requesting these funds, I have taken into consideration the maximum amount of relief assistance which would be furnished to Greece out of the $350,000,000 which I recently requested that the Congress authorize for the prevention of starvation and suffering in countries devastated by the war.

In addition to funds, I ask the Congress to authorize the detail of American civilian and military personnel to Greece and Turkey, at the request of those countries, to assist in the tasks of reconstruction, and for the purpose of supervising the use of such financial and material assistance as may be furnished. I recommend that authority also be provided for the instruction and training of selected Greek and Turkish personnel.

Asks Early Use of Funds

Finally, I ask that the Congress provide authority which will permit the speediest and most effective use, in terms of needed commodities, supplies and equipment, of such funds as may be authorized.

If further funds, or further authority, should be needed for purposes indicated in this message, I shall not hesitate to bring the situation before the Congress. On this subject the executive and legislative branches of the government must work together.

This is a serious course upon which we embark.

I would not recommend it except that the alternative is much more serious.

The United States contributed $341,000,000,000 toward winning World War II. This is an investment in world freedom and world peace.

The assistance that I am recommending for Greece and Turkey amounts to little more than one-tenth of 1 per cent of this investment. It is only common sense that we should safeguard this investment and make sure that it was not in vain.

The seeds of totalitarian regimes are nurtured by misery and want. They spread and grow in the evil soil of poverty and strife. They reach their full growth when the hope of a people for a better life has died.

We must keep that hope alive.

The free peoples of the world look to us for support in maintaining their freedoms.

If we falter in our leadership, we may endanger the peace of the world—and we shall surely endanger the welfare of our own nation.

Great responsibilities have been placed upon us by the swift movement of events.

I am confident that the Congress will face these responsibilities squarely.

Truman's Reasons

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP).—Here, in brief, are the reasons for aiding Greece and Turkey as outlined today by President Truman:

1. A primary objective of U. S. policy is creation of conditions in which all nations can live free of coercion.

2. The existence of the Greek state is threatened by Communist-led terrorism. Turkey also needs help.

3. Britain no longer is able to help. The United Nations is not in position to move with needed speed.

4. It is, therefore, up to the U. S. A.

Truman's Speech Radioed To Russia

Washington, March 12 (AP)—United States shortwave transmitters beamed to the Russians today the full text of President Truman's address to Congress.

The "Voice of America" also blanketed the world with the complete speech in 25 languages.

But listeners in Greece and Turkey, for whom Mr. Truman requested help, will hear the speech only in English. The department said the "Voice of America" does not broadcast in the languages of those countries.

MOSCOW EXPECTED TO ATTACK SPEECH

Charge Of Truman Interference Predicted In Capital

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, March 12 (AP)—It is to be expected that President Truman's request for $400,000,000 to aid Greece and Turkey will be branded here as United States interference in the internal affairs of other nations.

Mr. Truman's message has not yet been published by the Soviet press or broadcast for the home radio. But Soviet writers and officials doubtless will repeat previous charges of dollar diplomacy.

Serious Concern Forecast

Russians unquestionably will take a serious view of the American President's proposal. It can be said that no single action by the United States in many months, perhaps years, has caused such concern among the Russians as this one will. It is sure to be regarded as aimed at Russia.

The Russian people, it is to be expected, will be amazed by the President's appraisal of today's situation as grave. They will not be surprised, however, by the proposal for aid to Greece and Turkey, for they have been accusing the United States of such intentions in other countries for a long time. Nevertheless, the President's statement is bound to cause disappointment among the Russian people.

Greeks Like It—But Not Communists

ATHENS, March 12 (AP).—President Truman's eagerly awaited speech on financial aid to Greece was received here with the most profound satisfaction everywhere except in Communist circles.

Every radio in Athens was tuned in to hear the President's address to Congress, and a feeling of renewed confidence in the Greek future as an independent eastern Mediterranean outpost of democracy was already apparent.

This promised financial and moral assistance, coupled with its obvious motives of preserving Greece and Turkey from Communist dictatorship and Slav intervention in domestic affairs, is, political sources said, a most welcome milestone along Greece's rocky road to political and economic recovery.

Voicing the government's views, Minister of the Interior George Papandreou told newsmen that "we wish to express the profound gratitude of the nation for the most significant words of President Truman and for his expression of concern for the independence, freedom and welfare of the Greek people.

"We feel sure that the policy which the President of the great American republic is inaugurating will be a valuable contribution to world peace and restoration of normal conditions in this disturbed area of the eastern Mediterranean. After President Truman's message Greece's hope of future security is reinforced."

A noted Greek historian who asked not to be quoted by name said that "for 150 years we have been accustomed to consider Great Britain as the power which guaranteed peace and security of the Eastern Mediterranean. This function now seems to have passed into the hands of the United States. The Middle East is entering a new historic era."

30.24-8439

Foreign Minister Constantin Tsaldaris sent the following message to President Truman:

"With a feeling of true relief, the Greeks heard your momentous message to the American people and Congress. At this historic hour I recollect with profound emotion our personal contact in December last and the assurances which you were kind enough to give when on Greece's behalf I laid before you her great problem.

"Those assurances of yours are now becoming reality. And the Greek people, who had been so sorely tried, can confidently look forward to a better future which they are entitled to. At the start of this new epoch of my country, we anticipate with equal optimism a development in international relations through the policy which you are inaugurating by your inspired message.

"I venture to forecast that like that historic Lend-Lease Act which marked the starting point toward final victory, so your today's message will prove equally decisive in winning the peace and democracy."

Welcomed In London

London, March 12 (AP)—The Foreign Office welcomed tonight President Truman's proposal to send military and economic aid to Greece.

The Foreign Office also confirmed reports that Britain has waived repayment by Greece of a debt amounting to some "millions" of pounds.

A spokesman said Sir Clifford Norton, British Ambassador in Athens, informed the Greek Government of the British decision "within the past day or two."

The debt—estimated at between three million and four million pounds ($12,000,000 to $16,000,000)—was incurred for foodstuffs and other goods delivered to liberated Greece before UNRRA began operations there.

Welcoming Truman's "generous offer," Government quarters also expressed "great appreciation" for the President's "wise recognition of wider issues involved in the present Greek situation."

Truman's stand against imposition of minority governments in Europe, they said, did not conflict in any way with Britain's views expressed in recent notes to Communist-dominated Poland, Romania and Bulgaria.

The New York Times said in its editorial that "this was a speech comparable with President Roosevelt's famous 'quarantine' speech against aggressors, a speech made under analagous circumstances in 1937. But President Truman was more blunt, and he called unmistakably for action which will launch the United States on a new and positive foreign policy of world-wide responsibility for the maintenance of peace and order. . . .

"We believe that there can be no doubt that the American people can stand behind this warning."

Urges "Adequate Conditions"

The Chicago Sun commented that "the President's request should not be granted without adequate conditions which assure that we are really helping a free and democratic Greece and not a fascist Greece. * * * if the Greek Government really represents its people why is it now in peril of collapse unless rescued by us?

"For two years the rightists have been ruling by persecution of the people and with the unstinted aid of British armed night. . . . The American people did not fight the war for that kind of imperialism and they will not support such a policy which, if applied to Greece, must logically be applied clear around the world."

The Chicago Tribune declared that "Mr. Truman made as cold a war speech yesterday against Russia as any President has ever made except on the occasion of going before Congress to ask for a declaration of war. . . . The outcome will inevitably be war. It probably will not come this year or next year but the issue is already drawn. . . .

Two Systems In Opposition

"Two worlds and two systems are in opposition. In the nature of things as Mr. Truman has shaped that nature, they must in the end come to grips. . . . Congress must cease being a catspaw for this movement and think of America's interest first, even exclusively."

The St. Louis Post Dispatch declared that "the struggle for world power between the United States and Soviet Russia was brought completely into the open by President Truman . . .

"Congress may ponder and debate but the President's address has committed the nation to all-out diplomatic action just as a declaration of shooting war must necessarily follow when the President asks for it."

Viewed As Down Payment

The Los Angeles Times said "the $400,000,000 would not be a purchase price: It would be a down payment, the first premium on an insurance policy which would operate by blocking Russian expansion at all key points. This is what the American people must understand, for it is from this point that they must make their decision."

The Memphis Commercial Appeal said "fully aware that President Truman is right when he says the course he proposes is serious, we think he is also right when he says the alternative is more serious."

The Omaha World-Herald commented that "the opinion may be ventured that Mr. Truman's is the most breath-taking statement ever made in time of peace by any American president or statesman. In addition, the most admonitory, indeed the most defiant, challenge of the policy and conduct of another great power—the last great power on earth beside our own.

Challenge Termed Belated

"Breath-taking is the challenge as it comes now, belatedly. And breathlessly the people of America and of all the world will await reactions and developments."

The Atlanta Constitution said that "we must choose between not as much economy as we had anticipated, or letting the Communist political aggression have a free field in which to play. We must choose between assisting Greece and Turkey . . . or of allowing the slow flood of communism, which thrives on political chaos and national hunger and insecurity, to have its free way, unimpeded by dams of democratic feeling and strength."

Likened To 1938 And 1939

The Buffalo Courier Express said that "if Congress heeds Mr. Truman's statesmanlike advice there may be no World War III—or at least it will not originate in the region where the danger of war is greatest right now.

"If American public opinion had been ready to support in 1938 and 1939 a declaration of policy such as was placed before Congress yesterday, President Roosevelt might have been able to head off World War II. His successor had the support of a public opinion which had been aroused by that tragedy of the last decade and enlightened by a realization of America's opportunity for world leadership."

The Jacksonville (Fla.) Times Union declared that "President Truman himself pointed to the gravity of the issues involved in his proposal. Congress, too, will recognize them, and the debate that follows will serve to clarify America's postwar foreign policy, something that has been needed throughout the Truman administration."

The Oregon Journal commented, "Russia is not given cause of war by American effort to save the majority government in Greece and Turkey from imposition of the will of armed minorities. The further hope will then be the attainment of a United Nations ideal—democratic self-determination."

"Fighting Fire With Fire"

The situation, said the Oregonian, "Resolves itself into a matter of fighting fire with fire." The newspaper added:

"The heartbreaking part of this is that the United States still is too ineffectual to protect, economically or militarily, a small nation being absorbed or dominated by a large nation. It is a question of accepting the lesser of two evils. That choice, we think, will be to help Greece and Turkey to withstand the pressure from the east."

Asserting that "either America or Soviet Russia will step into Greece in place of Britain," the Philadelphia Inquirer said:

"Americans should avoid the misconception that Mr. Truman's proposals are 'playing a British game.' The United States is not called upon to support commitments of the British Empire indiscriminately all around the world and will not do so. But we are called upon in our own interests to lead the hosts of human freedom and democratic government."

World Future Considered

A signed editorial by Publisher Frank Gannett in the Rochester (N.Y.) Democrat And Chronicle said "it was the declaration of a foreign policy that may, if carried out, decide not only our future but the future of the whole world. It might conceivably mean ultimately war with the Soviets . . . For my part I believe we must check teh spread of communish and the totalitarian government that aggressively has been fostering it."

The Portland (Maine) Press Herald said Mr. Truman ". . . has given the politburo in Moscow what plainly is an ultimatum—that the United States will not willingly permit the taking over of Greece and Turkey by Russia. Mr. Truman has talked strongly and well. Let the Congress back him to the limit."

Editorial Views On Message

New York, March 12 (AP)—Editorial comment in some of the nations newspapers on the President's message to Congress follows:

Congress Awaits Plan To Thwart Reds In Near East

MAR 1947

Washington, March 12 (AP)—At a grave moment in world diplomatic affairs, President Truman lays before Congress today his plans for bolstering Greece and Turkey against encroaching communism—even as Russia ordered home her Ambassadors to the United States and Britain.

Moscow's recall of Nikolai V. Novikov, Soviet Ambassador in Washington, and Georgi Zarubin, its diplomatic chief in London, for "consultations" remained officially unexplained.

But it served to heighten the tension gripping Washington as Congress awaited the Chief Executive's address before a joint session of the House and Senate.

Two Explanations Offered

Lacking such an explanation, the move could be explained by a possible desire on the part of Premier Stalin for a first-hand report on the Anglo-American attitude in the light of Britain's decision to cast off some of her long-standing commitments in the Mediterranean area.

Or it could have stemmed from a need for Novikov's and Zarubin's advice at the current Moscow meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers.

A history-shaping revision of traditional American foreign policy appeared plainly in the making.

Mr. Truman's intimates said his message would be "frank and candid" on the Mediterranean situation, intensified by impoverished Britain's decision to cast off her commitments in this arena for a showdown struggle between Western democracy and Russian communism.

Note From Russ Embassy

While nothing openly indicated that tomorrow's scheduled departure of Soviet Ambassador Novikov had any direct bearing on the issue, this country's newly forming policy was seen bulking large in his report to the Kremlin.

Word of the departure came in a note from the Russian Embassy to the State Department. Charge d'Affaires S. K. Tsarapkin will be in charge during his absence.

Many lawmakers meanwhile sought to weigh the potential impact of the President's expected recommendations.

Credits And Pledge

Specifically, Mr. Truman's recommendations were seen as:

1. A total of $250,000,000 in aid for Greece, to strengthen the Greek Government's army for an all-out campaign to end civil warfare, and to finance Greece's industrial and economic rehabilitation.

2. A total of $150,000,000 in credits for neighboring Turkey, which has thus far resisted Russian demands for a share in controlling the Dardanelles.

3. A Congressional pledge—backed up by direct intervention in those two countries—that the United States will use its prestige, material and money to prevent well-organized communistic minorities from capitalizing on war weariness and hunger and seizing control of traditionally democratic lands.

Possible Consequences

The implications of such a program were plain.

It would mean a departure from the tradition of peacetime nonintervention in the internal affairs of a foreign country, aside from relief aid and insistence upon free elections.

It would establish a precedent or similar action elsewhere.

It could force a determination, by the United States or the Western powers collectively, on where to concentrate their efforts within the limitations of resources.

It seemed sure to provoke a bitter debate within the United Nations.

And it appeared inevitable that the move would precipitate historic congressional debate and decisions directly affecting domestic economy as well as fortunes abroad.

Truman's Step By-Passes U. N.; Veto Is Recalled

He Cites Need for Action; Vandenberg Bids U. S. Spur U. N. Police Force

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP).—President Truman all but by-passed the United Nations today in calling for quick United States action to protect independent nations from totalitarian aggression.

"We have considered how the United Nations might assist in this crisis," he said. "But the situation is an urgent one requiring immediate action, and the United Nations and its related organizations are not in a position to extend help of the kind that is required."

Some members of Congress said U. N. prestige and usefulness suffered a damaging blow. Representative Thomas L. Owens, Republican, of Illinois, went so far as to tell reporters: "The United Nations died today."

But others said that Mr. Truman is trying to attain the very principles for which the United Nations was founded.

"As I understand the speech," Senator Wayne Morse, Republican, of Oregon, said on the Senate floor, "the President was talking about the objectives of the San Francisco (United Nations) Charter and whether they become realities. Unless these become realities the chances for peace in the world are nil."

Senator Harley M. Kilgore, Democrat, of West Virginia, asked Senator Morse whether by his references to the U. N. Charter he meant "removal of spheres of influence" and an end to the domination of "weaker nations" for commercial and political exploitation.

Senotor Morse agreed.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg,

Republican, of Michigan, in a statement, urged that the United States proceed "as fast as possible" within the United Nations, but added that it is not practical to extend relief to hard-pressed nations through that organization because it has no funds for the purpose. Neither, he said, has it concluded any agreements with member nations for military support of its policies. He said the United States ought to insist on steps to that end being taken at once.

Mr. Truman, in his speech, made no direct mention of Russia. Neither was there any mention of the fact that Russia has a veto power in the United Nations which could stall off indefinitely any such program as Mr. Truman asked.

The United States Congress can act much quicker. But a big question is just how speedily it will act. The tone of informal comments indicated that the debate may last for weeks, at least.

pact to destroy major German warships. He accused Russia of failing also to live up to an agreement to treat Germany as an economic unit, and of failing to report the number of German prisoners of war held outside of Germany. And he demanded that Russia account for what she has moved out of eastern Germany.

Marshall Backs Bevin.

Molotov agreed under Bevin's challenge—which Secretary of State Marshall supported—to give the Foreign Ministers data on the number of German prisoners held in Russia, and conceded that Russia had been tardy in carrying out the Potsdam commitment to destroy certain German naval vessels relegated to her for that purpose. He also promised to fix a date soon for the destruction of the warships.

His promise of data on the war prisoners stipulated that the United States, Britain and France likewise report on their prisoners. Bevin and Marshall agreed, and the French Foreign Minister, Georges Bidault, raised no objection. Bidault, the chairman of the day, stayed largely out of the discussions.

The session was taken up almost exclusively by the Bevin-Molotov debate which was carried on generally in a friendly atmosphere though the exchanges were sometimes sharp, informed persons said.

Agree on Peace Potential.

Evidently stung by Molotov's charges last night that Britain was keeping German armed forces in her zone and was failing down on demilitarization, Bevin answered these accusations by point, and then made his own accusations. He declared that the question of the German prisoners in Russia cause him a great deal of concern. "It has been rmeported that their number runs into many millions," he was quoted as saying. "I should live to refer to reports that a number of them have been induced to serve with the Soviet armed forces."

Bevin said he had been seeking information for several months about the destruction of German capital ships, aircraft carriers, submarines and other vessels and had received only a "vague reply." He demanded also a full accounting of industrial removals from the Soviet zone to Germany, saying that this was an "essential piece of information" for further studying the future level of German industry.

Notably Bevin won Molotov's agreement that the German people must be left what Bevin called an "adequate peace potential."

No Tension Noted.

The session, which began at 4 P. M. and lasted until 7:15 P. M. (11:15 A. M., New York time), did not reflect any greater tension in the diplomatic situation created by President Truman's strong speech in Washington asking Congress for $400,000,000 military advice and material for Greece and Turkey.

There seemed no doubt, however, that the development of a much tougher American policy toward Russia will influence future sessions. Every indication here was that Marshall is attempting to conduct American diplomacy on the basis of the real power of the United States.

Meanwhile, today the Deputy Foreign Ministers continued work on the Austrian treaty, which many expect to see completed in Moscow. The deputies appeared to be at odds on minor points. On one of the major ones—the question of German assets in Austria—a special committee was examining a French proposal today.

Sterner U. S. Policy Seen.

Behind the American drive for economic unification of the Reich was an implied warning that if the Russians failed to go along, they would get fewer industrial plants for reparations. This trend in American policy, closely parallel to the British, became apparent as the Council began probing the complex problem of Germany, with the eastern and western Powers badly split at the outset.

On the other hand Marshall was reliably stated to be developing a much sterner policy toward Russia all along the line and well-posted diplomats here looked to President Truman's message in Washington today to effectively reinforce Marshall's position.

Some diplomats said that the President's action was timed to coincide with Marshall's presence here, so as to tell the Russians in effect that if they want to do business on that basis, now is the time to get to work—otherwise the outlook may be gloomy.

MAR 1947

Molotov Backs Down Under Bevin's Attack

Soviet Agrees to Report on War Prisoners in Russia and to Fix the Date for Destroying German Warships.

HIGHTOWER

Moscow, March 12 (A. P.).—The Russian Foreign Minister, V. M. Molotov, surprisingly conciliatory, made concessions tonight in the face of a determined attack by the British Foreign Minister, Ernest Bevin, just as the news of President Truman's speech on aid to Greece and Turkey was received in this capital.

It was not believed that the softening of Molotov's position was a result of the President's outspoken remarks on the affairs of the eastern Mediterranean. However, the Russian Ambassadors to Washington and London have been recalled to Moscow, and this was taken here as an indication that the Russians knew the content of the Truman address.

Addressing the third daily session of the Big Four Council of Foreign Ministers, Bevin accused Russia of failure to live up to her agreement under the Potsdam

Reich Economic Unity Listed As Marshall Aim

Moscow, March 12 (AP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall was reported determined to win Soviet approval for the early economic unification of Germany as the third session of the four-power Foreign Ministers Council opened today. HIGHTOWER

At the same time, British Foreign Secretary Bevin was expected to counter Russian charges against the British zone's demilitarization program with a demand that the Russians reveal the status of their German prisoners of war.

Authoritative sources said Bevin would ask a series of questions on what the Russians were doing with their prisoners, believed to total about 3,000,000. The Russians thus far have shunted aside all questions on the subject.

Or Else, Fewer Plants

Behind the American drive for economic unification was an implied warning that if the Russians failed to go along, they would get fewer industrial plants for reparations. This trend in American policy closely paralleled that of the British, and became apparent as the ministers began probing the complex problem of Germany with the Eastern and Western powers split at the outset.

Bevin's advisers worked until the early hours of the morning to prepare what was described by one of them as a "stinging reply" to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's charges against the Western powers yesterday. Bevin himself briefed the envoys of New Zealand, Australia, South Africa and Canada this morning on the developments.

The meeting today opened at 4 P.M. (8 A.M., E.S.T.).

Austrian Deputies At Work

Deputies of the Foreign Ministers, meanwhile, worked on the Austrian treaty, which many expect will be completed at Moscow. The deputies appeared snarled on minor points, but on one of the major ones, German assets in Austria, a special committee will examine a French proposal today.

Molotov launched an immediate attack on the American and British conduct of the western zones of occupation in Germany when detailed discussions began last night, asserting flatly that demilitarization and the destruction of the German war potential, meaning heavy industry, was unsatisfactory in those zones.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France limited himself to a statement stressing his country's special interest in rendering Germany permanently powerless, and Bevin said he thought demilitarization had really gone ahead very well.

Would Need Heavy Industry

Marshall, in the lengthiest statement, said he considered the report on demilitarization from the Allied Control Council satisfactory, but agreed with Molotov that unsatisfactory progress had been made in the destruction of the German war potential in heavy industry.

Marshall added, however, that the removal of heavy industrial plants as reparations in line with decisions agreed upon at Potsdam could be completed only when the four zones of occupied Germany were unified economically. If Germany's economic disunity is continued, Marshall declared, it will be necessary to have a higher level of industry than if there is economic unity.

Contrasting Proposals

So far as the United States was concerned, this appeared to leave Molotov the choice of an economic system that would better balance German economy throughout all zones or of an American and British unwillingness to dismantle as many plants as otherwise planned.

The extent of the split between East and West on this subject was epitomized in proposals offered by Molotov and Marshall. The Russian urged the formulation of specific plans, with strict time limits, for rushing demilitarization and the destruction of the war potential, while the American proposed a terse resolution to recognize that "substantial progress" had been made on demilitarization and to urge completion of the job along established lines.

Molotov Reply Awaited

It was a continuation of the split in which Marshall, with French and British backing, yesterday blocked a Russian proposal to add the knotty Chinese question to the conference agenda. All three insisted that China be represented, if discussed, and Molotov finally withdrew the suggestion.

Still on the Council's "held-in-suspense" file was Marshall's opening-day proposal that the limitation of occupation troops in Europe be placed on the agenda. Molotov asked for more time Monday and yesterday, and Marshall did not press it.

Moscow Calls Ambassador to London Home

Zarubin's Recall Follows Novikov's; Envoy in Paris Expected to Leave

LONDON, March 12 (AP).—Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin was recalled to Moscow today for consultations in connection with the Council of Foreign Ministers meeting, the Soviet Embassy announced. The disclosure was contained in one brief sentence and there was no elaboration.

Earlier, Soviet Ambassador Nikolai V. Novikov had been recalled from his post at Washington, and the Russian Embassy in Paris announced that Soviet Ambassador Alexandre E. Bogomolov may leave his post there for Moscow "in a few days."

There was no official explanation of the departure of the ambassadors except the general diplomatic phrase that they would "consult with their government." Unofficial Soviet sources here said the envoys were wanted in Moscow "for consultations in connection with the foreign ministers' conference."

Speculation on Cause

There seemed little doubt, however, that the Soviet action was closely connected with one or both of the day's history-making events—the foreign ministers' conference in Moscow and the declaration of the new United States policy in the eastern Mediterranean by President Truman.

It was noted, however, that neither Novikov nor Zarubin is an expert on German or Austrian affairs, the only question so far on the foreign ministers' agenda. Consequently there was speculation that their trip may relate to Mediterranean affairs.

British Foreign Office sources, who said they had not been informed in advance of Zarubin's departure, had no explanation of the action. These sources said, however, that it was "not unusual" for a diplomat to leave the country to which he was accredited in the absence of the foreign minister (Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin is in Moscow).

Zarubin was traveling by ship and train, it was noted, and apparently in no special hurry, although Novikov was making the longer journey from Washington by plane.

No Moscow Explanation

MOSCOW, March 12 (AP).—There was no official Russian explanation today of the return of the Soviet ambassadors from Washington and London.

American correspondents who have lived in Russia for several years pointed out that since the foreign secretaries of Britain and the United States were in Moscow, it might only be natural for the ambassadors to those countries to be summoned home. On the other hand, the return of the ambassadors was taken as an indication in some quarters that the Russians knew that President Truman's speech was in the offing.

Sky Clears (Literally) As Big 4 Meet 3d Day

MOSCOW, March 12 (AP).—Clear skies and a temperature of 5 degrees above zero (Fahrenheit) greeted the Big Four Foreign Ministers today as they began the third day of their conference here.

It was the first clear day since the sessions opened. On Monday there was a heavy snowfall and Tuesday intermittent snow flurries and cutting winds.

Moscow Papers Devoid Of Editorials on Big 4

MOSCOW, March 12 (AP).—Russian press and radio coverage of the Foreign Ministers' conference today was limited to straight factual accounts of yesterday's session, devoid of editorial comment. Only one Moscow paper—"Pravda"—printed any pictures.

The Moscow Radio's home service gave an unusually complete report of the sessions, which was repeated several times last night and this morning.

TO SEE STALIN

MOSCOW, March 12 (AP).—A British source said tonight that Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin definitely expected to see Generalissimo Stalin sometime during the period the foreign ministers are meeting here.

Finns To Discuss Transport With Russ

Moscow, March 12 (AP)—A Finnish delegation, headed by the Minister of Transport, arrived in Moscow today to discuss what Finnish sources said was a question of transport through Porkkala Peninsula, west of Helsinki.

[Under the treaty of peace, Finland granted Russia a 50-year lease on the Porkkala Peninsula to establish a naval base.]

The delegation was met by K. V. Novikov, of the Soviet Foreign Office; F. Molochov, chief of protocol and Finnish Minister Cay Sundstrem.

ATTLEE UNDER BITTER ATTACK BY CHURCHILL

Labor Regime Accused of 'Crime Against British State and People.'

MAR 1947

NO CONFIDENCE VOTE URGED

Wartime Chief Says Rivals Put Party First—Sees Bread and Fuel Crises Avoidable.

London, March 12 (A. P.).—Conservative leader Winston Churchill charged the Attlee Labor Government today with "a crime against the British State and people" and accused its Socialist leaders of placing party interests above those of the Government.

"Before they nationalized our industries, they should have nationalized themselves," Churchill declared. "They should have set the country before party and shown that they were Britons first and Socialists only second."

The wartime Prime Minister made his most concerted attack on the Government in demanding a vote of no confidence which he will pursue in the House of Commons tonight, at the end of a three-day debate on the Government's economic recovery program.

Attlee will speak tonight, asking Commons for approval of both long and short range planning to recoup British fortunes expended during the war.

To Reassume War Powers.

An informant close to the Labor government said that the Attlee administration intended to reassume wartime powers shortly to empower a new production chief to take measures to realize production goals recently fixed by a Government White Paper. Under the plan, the Government could contact for its own needs and the needs also of private industry and allocate essential equipment to any firm inside or outside Britain.

Churchill declared that the Government has "divided this nation in its hour of serious need in a different way from which it has ever been divided in the many party conflicts I have witnessed in the past.

"In less than two years, our country has fallen from its proud and glorious position in the world to the plight in which it lies today," he said. "There is no need for a bread shortage and there was no need for a breakdown in coal. These shortages were merely marginal and could have been provided against by foresight and prudence.

"The British people today are undernourished."

Government benches shouted "Nonsense."

Churchill reiterated that the Conservatives do not desire a coalition, adding: "We do not grudge the ministers their offices."

Can't Do Both.

"One thing appeared to me to be perfectly clear," Churchill declared. "The Government cannot save the country and carry on class warfare and the Socialist program of nationalization at the same time."

Churchill pleaded: "Let us put up a fight for John Bull's food, anyhow. To run him down as low as this is a scandal."

He accused the minister of fuel and power, Emanuel Shinwell, of "total lack of foresight."

If only 5,000,000 of the 9,000,000 tons of coal exported had been saved for home use, he added, there would have been no need for the industrial power blackout last month.

Because of its policies, "the Government had no right to appeal to the spirit of Dunkirk," he said, adding: "The forty-five million people who live in these islands cannot bear everything upon their threadbare shoulders. We cannot be the blood donors to every part of the world."

ATTLEE RULE IS SUPPORTED IN COMMONS

Churchill's 'No Confidence' Motion Voted Down, 374 To 198

WILLIAMS

London, March 12 (AP)—An overwhelming Labor majority in the House of Commons smothered Winston Churchill's "no confidence" motion against the Government, 374 to 198, tonight after a three-day debate on economic affairs of the nation.

1947

The vote was taken after a bitter attack by Churchill, Conservative leader, who accused the Attlee Government of "a crime against the British state and people" and of sacrificing the nation's prosperity for "a Socialist dream or nightmare."

As the debate was winding up the Government was disclosed to be writing a new four-year plan and preparing to assume wartime powers to wage a campaign of economic recovery.

White Paper Approved

The Labor majority then approved, 371 to 204, the Government's White Paper plan for recovery for 1947.

Tonight marked the second time within the twenty months of Socialist rule that the Labor party majority had decisively beaten back an attempt to overthrow Prime Minister Attlee's Government.

On November 27, 1945, four months after the present Government took office, a Churchill-sponsored vote of censure lost by a 381-to-197 vote.

The nine Liberal party members of the House of Commons, who had submitted a milder motion of criticism than that made by Churchill, abstained tonight from voting on Chuchill's motion, but they added their meager strength in opposition to the White Paper.

Laborites Cheer

After each victorious vote the Laborites cheered. Attlee's supporters gave him an ovation as the smiling Prime Minister ambled from the chamber.

Closing the Government's appeal for support after a three-day debate on economic affairs, Attlee made this sally at Churchill:

"We all enjoy hearing him (Churchill) do his stuff but I do not think he contributed very much to the serious side of the debate."

The Prime Minister added mockingly that Churchill "is always the patriot who is superior to party."

Attlee said the debate revealed a "larger measure of agreement than might have been expected" on the country's economic plight and measures to recover from it.

Economic Prime Minister

A source close to the British Cabinet said a new production chief, a sort of economic prime minister, already had been selected to direct the nation's battle for economic recovery during the next two or three years.

A new White Paper, supplementing the recent White Paper outlining an economic plan for 1947, is being prepared which will give a four-year plan, he said.

The name of the new production chief, an industrialist with wide planning and administrative experience who had a major job in the war, will be announced next week, it was said. He will have wide powers to allocate contracts for last night that wartime power might be reassumed to divert manpower. He said 800,000 new workers were needed this year and that the Government planned to take manpower from the organized gambling industry, now estimated to employ 360,000 to 435,000 persons.

[illegible] essential equipment to any firm inside or outside Britain to re-equip British industry, take measures for realization of the Government's production targets and direct the output of smaller industries into channels where it is most needed.

The name of the new production chief, who will be a sort of economic prime minister, will be announced next week. He already has been chosen, and is said to be an industrialist with wide experience in Government administration. During the war, he was associated with the ministries of production and supply.

Four-Year Plan

The informant said a four-year national recovery plan was being drafted by the Government's economic planning comission. A national publicity campaign will call upon the people for a united effort.

Debate Reveals Revolt

British May Restore War Laws In Crisis

MAR 1947

London, March 12 (AP)—A source close to the British Cabinet said today the Government intends to reassume special wartime powers to wage its battle for industrial recovery during the next two or three years.

The informant said the powers would enable the nation's new production chief to take measures deemed necessary to realize production goals set in the Government's recent White Paper. The production chief would be given power to allocate contracts for essential equipment to any firm inside or outside Great Britain which could do the job.

The source said the Government would not hesitate to contract for both its own needs and the needs of private enterprise, wherever goods could be produced.

Resources Survey

Resources of small industries will be examined immediately so their output may be directed into channels serving the country's greatest needs.

George Isaacs, Minister of Labor, indicated in the House of Commons

The extent of the revolt of some 160 Labor "back benchers"—rank and file MP's—who oppose Attlee's armed-forces policy, was shown during the debate last evening when Leonard Callaghan, Welsh Laborite, charged that the maintenance of big military forces during the grave manpower shortage were "crippling Britain's economic recovery."

When a Conservative member shouted, "Well, then vote against the Government," Callaghan responded:

"We shall sustain the Government with our votes and criticize them with our speeches."

Conservatives Doubtful

Not even Churchill's Conservatives expected the "no-confidence" vote to pass in the face of the Government's majority of nearly 200 members.

They have used the three-day debate on the 1947 economic policies to charge the Government with failing to anticipate a drastic coal-shortage crisis and have demanded a halt to nationalization of industry during the recovery drive.

Liner Expected To Take Britons To Australia

London, March 12 (AP)—The Australian High Commissioner's office said today an official announcement would be made in Canberra "in a few days" on negotiations to charter the 44,786-ton liner Aquitania to carry British emigrants to the dominion.

Upward of 200,000 Britons have registered for new homes "Down Under" in a special plan scheduled to go into operation March 31, a spokesman said, and a vanguard of about 400 building workers already has made the journey.

Fisticuffs Develop In French Assembly

Paris, March 12 (A. P.).—Assertions by Deputy Pierre Andre (Rightist) that the Communist leader, Maurice Thorez, had supported the Viet-Nam revolt in Indo-China and favored German unity in 1933, provoked an uproar in the National Assembly and led to fisticuffs yesterday.

After a recess, Andre complained to the Assembly that a Communist Deputy named Garcia had assaulted him in a lobby by blows and kicks. Andre's remarks were greeted with jeers from the Communist benches. Later, when the session ended, the two factions began squabbling in the cloakrooms and lobbies, and several fights developed.

French Army To Have 474,000

Paris, March 12 (AP)—The French National Assembly's finance committee, studying the military budget for the first three months of 1947, approved appropriations today for a standing army of 474,000 men for duty in France and overseas territories. This would include 82,000 for strife-torn Indo-China where French army units would be reinforced by 18,000 men.

To Ask if Italo-U. S. Peace Is Possible

Rome, March 12 (A. P.).—A member of an Italian economic mission which is to leave soon for the United States said today that one of its objectives would be to learn whether a treaty of friendship between Italy and the United States is possible. The mission will be headed by Ivan Matteo Lombardo, a prominent member of the pro-Communist wing of the Italian Socialist party.

An Italian economic mission headed by Dr. Donato Menichella, director of the Bank of Italy, is now in London.

Regent Releases Belgian Cabinet

Brussels, March 12 (AP)—Prince Charles, regent of Belgium, accepted today the resignation of Premier Camille Huysmans and his left-wing coalition Cabinet, which has been in office since August 2.

The four Communist members of the Huysmans Cabinet resigned yesterday in a dispute over boosting the price of coal. The Premier, a Socialist, decided last night that he would be unable to continue in power without Communist support.

The Government decided last month to raise the price of coal, but the Communists fought any increases in the prices of products such as steel, which were affected by the hike in coal prices. The Communists quit after the other members of the Cabinet had refused to cut back the coal prices.

The coalition Cabinet was made up of six Socialists, six Liberals, four Communists and three Technicians without party affiliation. Huysman organized it after a 24-day political crisis during which Belgium was without a Cabinet.

Danish Leader Declares Greenland Isn't for Sale

COPENHAGEN, March 12 (AP).—Denmark does not want to sell Greenland and is not willing to negotiate with any nation on such a sale, Foreign Minister Gustav Rasmussen said today.

Speaking in Parliament, he repudiated recent reports that Denmark was negotiating with the United States on the sale of Greenland.

He said the United States had never offered to buy it, and added: "On behalf of the Danish government I establish that Denmark is not willing to negotiate on the sale of Greenland. It will not be sold to any nation."

Osweicim Official Caught by Yanks

Nuernberg, March 12 (A. P.).—Gerhard Haarer, deputy commissioner of infamous Osweicim concentration camp, where 3,000,000 victims were gassed or cremated by the Nazis, has been arrested by Americans after a search of a year and a half. He has been turned over to the office of Brig.-Gen. Telford Taylor, chief United States war crimes prosecutor, it was learned today.

Giese Quits Board Of Top Nazis' Jail

Berlin, March 12 (A. P.).—Major Walter C. Giese, United States member of the four-Power board of governors which administers Spandau Prison, where the major Nazi war criminals sentenced at Nuernberg will serve their terms, said today that he was leaving his post and accepting discharge from the Army.

Giese, 53 years old, who is now in the Army on a sixty-day extension of duty, said he had decided to accept redeployment and would report to Bremerhaven for embarkation to the United States on March 21. He will re-enter the postal service in Cleveland.

Capt. Henry H. Frank of 110-31 73d Road, Forest Hills, Queens, who has been serving under Giese as chief warden, has been named to succeed him temporarily as acting governor.

Maurer, Nazi Camp Official, Is Captured

Nuernberg, Germany, March 12 (AP)—Gerhard Maurer, deputy commander of Osweicim concentration camp, where 3,000,000 victims were gassed or cremated by the Nazis, has been arrested by Americans after a search of a year and a half.

He has been turned over to the office of Brig. Gen. Telford Taylor, chief United States war crimes prosecutor, it was learned today. Maurer was deputy to Rudolph Hoess, commander of Oswiecim, who told the international military tribunal he presided over at least 2,500,000 deaths.

Hoess has been turned over to the Poles for trial. Oswiecim was established in occupied Poland as the biggest death chamber of all under the regime of Nazi Governor Hans Frank, who was hanged with ten other top Nazis last fall.

70 Ex-Nazis Ousted From Reich Courts

Wiesbaden, March 12 (A. P.).—The American Military Government announced today that seventy members of German de-Nazification courts in the State of Hesse had been exposed as former Nazis themselves and removed from their posts.

The reported removals occurred at intervals in the period since August 2, 1946 the announcement said.

PREMIER NAGY UPHELD

Budapest, March 12 (A. P.).—Premier Ferenc Nagy today offered his resignation when 120 members of his Small Holders party accused him of subservience to the minority left-wing bloc, but was still in office tonight after receiving a vote of confidence. The objection of the 120 members was that Nagy, at a four-party conference last night, agreed among other things to ask the resignation of three Small Holder ministers and expel from the Small Holders party five members of Parliament who have incurred left-wing disfavor.

In a speech this afternoon—following his offer to resign—Nagy told nearly 200 members of the Small Holders party gathered in Parliament that either the party agreed to Leftist demands or the country would be "driven to catastrophe."

Arpad Szakasits, Deputy Premier and Social Democrat leader, today called the recent American note protesting against Russian action in Hungary "an unfortunate intervention."

"We know," he said, "it was meant with good intentions, but the road to hell is paved with good intentions."

U.N. Probe Group Reported Barred

Athens, March 12 (AP)—A report from Phlorina in northern Greece to the press office said today that Yugoslav authorities had refused entry into Yugoslav territory of an investigating team of the United Nations Balkan inquiry commission on the grounds that they had received no instructions from their Government.

The team was to visit the village of Draga, about a mile inside Yugoslav territory. This village has been described as a center from which guerrillas raid Greece.

Kept waiting for nearly two hours, the team eventually was forced to abandon its proposed visit.

The team chairman, the report said, asked Yugoslav authorities whether they realized the gravity of their refusal to allow the team to enter Yugoslavia.

Dispatches from Kozane said that another United Nations investigating team, going westward into the Macedonian mountains for a "secret" meeting with the self-described commander in chief of the Greek guerrilla forces, "General Markos," was greeted with wild enthusiasm in villages and towns.

In Verria, Boy and Girl Scouts lined the road leading into the community. A delegation representing the team visited the cemetery where a monument has been erected in honor of 275 persons of Verria allegedly slain by Communist guerrillas in the last two years.

Bulgar Border Rejects Courier

Istanbul, March 12 (AP)—An American diplomatic courier was turned back from the Bulgarian border at the same moment a Polish diplomat from Tehran was permitted to proceed, it was learned today amid increasing speculation over just what is developing within the "restricted" Bulgar frontier.

Usually reliable informants here said they had heard that severe restrictions recently had been clamped on an area 15 kilometers (about 9 miles) deep around Bulgaria's frontiers and that all movements had been sharply curtailed.

A dependable source said the American courier arrived at the frontier post of Svilengrad early this week on a train with a man identified as Ludwik S. Bartel, whose card listed him as councilor of the Polish legation at Tehran.

At the end of a series of telephone calls to Sofia the Pole, who was accompanied by his wife and child, was permitted to go on, but border control authorities told the American they had been instructed to refuse hmi entry despite the fact that he had been granted a visa the previous day.

"There is a terrific crisis—I can't say more," a border guard was quoted as saying.

The courier protested violently but the Bulgars stood firm and the American returned to Istanbul and departed tonight for Cairo.

NEW CHINA RED PUSH REPORTED

200,000 Said To Be On Move Toward Changchun

Peiping, March 12 (AP)—Two hundred thousand Chinese Communist troops were reported by the Government's Central News Agency today to be on the move in Manchuria back toward the capital city of Changchun.

Just a week ago, the Government's commander in chief in Manchuria, Gen. Tu Li-ming, had claimed such a crushing defeat of 140,000 Communists that he said he could chase the retreating Reds and take Harbin in ten days if so ordered.

Today Central news said that the Communists had turned about on a 133 mile front 80 miles north of Changchun and had recrossed the Sungari River to the south bank. One Peiping newspaper said seven Communist divisions had reached the south side.

Party Ban Expected

In Nanking, informed quarters said that Premier Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang (Government party) would move shortly to have the Government outlaw the Communist political party and treat the Communists as open rebels. Because of possible international repercussions, there was divided opinion as to whether such a move would be approved.

Russia's attempt at Moscow's Conference of Foreign Ministers to have China's problems added to the agenda drew a warning today from Nanking's Central Daily News "that the Chinese people cannot overlook attempted interference in Chinese politics by foreigners."

Fresh reports stirred today concerned with Russian control of Dairen. A pro-Government newspaper at Tientsin said Soviet authorities had notified the Government formally to take over at that Manchurian port but Nanking officials said there have been no developments on Dairen.

Unrest On Formosa

China also had a problem in the unrest of Formosans against the Chinese administration of that island. The Minister of Information insisted the "incident will soon be closed," but Chinese garrison headquarters suggested a tense situation with a proclamation that possession of unlicensed firearms on Formosa is punishable by death, unless these are surrendered.

The United States, meanwhile, cut its last link in China with the Communists with the arrival of three American liaison officers by plane from Yenan, Communist capital.

Reports reached here today that two United States military attachés, who were seized by the Communists March 1 during the drive on Changchun, were on their way to Harbin and would be released immediately on orders of the Communist commander in chief.

Soviet Reported Giving Up Dairen

Tientsin, March 12 (AP)—The pro-government Republican Daily News reported today from Mukden that Soviet authorities had sent formal notification to the Chinese Government to take over immediately in Dairen.

[At Nanking, however, Vice Minister of Foreign Affairs Liu Chieh said there had been no developments on Dairen. He added that the ultimate disposition had been settled but no definite date had been fixed for the transfer.]

Even if the Russians should withdraw from the city, Chinese reports indicate that the Government would have a stiff time in taking over the city, since Chinese Communist forces have cordoned off the Kwangtung peninsula with a line between Nationalist-held Pulantien and Dairen.

Reds Report Victory In Sungari Fighting

Peiping, March 12 (AP)—A Chinese Communist counterattack was reported today to have stopped Government forces driving toward Harbin, turning them back to the south banks of the Sungari River.

The Government's official Central News admitted that Red forces had turned about on a 133-mile front, and about 80 miles north of Changchun had crossed the river and pushed to Palanshantsu, an important base on the south bank.

The independent Shih Shieh Jih Pao said seven Communist divisions crossed the river. Other reports said about 200,000 Red troops were involved.

[In Nanking, Misister of Information Peng Hsueh pei, commenting on Communist assertions that the civil war was nation wide, declared that military operations actually involved but six or seven of the country's 36 provinces.]

Americans To Be Released

Meanwhile, two American military attaches, seized by Chinese Communists near Changchun March 1, today were reported en route to Harbin to be released immediately by order of Chu Teh, commander in chief of Communist armies.

This information about Major A. B. Rigg and Capt. J. W. Collins was given by Communist Chief of Staff Yeh Chien-ying to Col. John K. Sells, of Lompoc, Cal., yesterday, just before Sells and two other officers of an American liaison group left Yenan for Nanking.

The Americans were advised that Gen. Lin Piao, commander of Communist armies in Manchuria, had been instrucuted to return Rigg and Collins to Nationalist lines immediately upon their arrival at Harbin. The Yenan and Harbin radios will broadcast their departure from Harbin, route of travel and expected arrival time at Nationalist lines.

FORMOSA REPORTED CALM

But Nanking Declines to Help Newsmen Visit Island

NANKING, March 12 (AP)—Chinese Minister of Information Peng Hsueh-pei told foreign newsmen today that the situation on Formosa, scene of recent rioting, was "rapidly being stabilized" and that the "incident will soon be closed."

He refused to assist the newsmen in reaching the island on the ground that the Government was "too busy to look after them." He said the island was not closed to correspondents "if you can get there."

Despite Mr. Peng's assurance of tranquility, it was announced here that the garrison headquarters at Taihoku, the island's capital, had issued a proclamation warning that the possession of unlicensed firearms would be punishable by death.

Chiang To Act Soon On Reds' Status

Nanking, March 12 (AP)—Informed quarters said today that Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang party would move shortly to outlaw the Communists as a political party and treat them as open rebels.

They reported that a resolution would be submitted at the forthcoming plenary session of the Kuomintang's Central Executive Committee calling for an ultimatum to the Communists to withdraw to certain areas.

Rejection of this ultimatum, they added, would be followed by a Government proclamation outlawing the Communist party and by a "punitive campaign to quell the Communist rebellion."

Committee members who favor the resolution said its adoption would stimulate morale of Government troops, who do not realize they are fighting to put down a rebellion against the state.

Opinion was divided among observers, however, as to whether the proclamation would be approved because of possible international repercussions.
